Expect to Open New Johnston Bakery on Lewiston Next Week

The latest and most outstanding achievement of the H. A. Johnston Kleen Bakeries is expected to be open to the public Saturday of next week, when the uniquely decorated, California-type bakery on Lewiston avenue is scheduled to be completed.

Designed by Hartman, architect, the new building is copied direct from the style of building which is popular on the Pacific coast. It provides a large, roomy, sanitary bakery in the rear, where all of Johnston's products will be baked, and three stores on Lewiston avenue. The building has been erected at the corner of Goodwill street on the site of the 130 year old Glass home-stead, which was purchased and razed last year. The store immediately at the corner will be occupied by Johnston's. Schaefer Brothers will establish another high grade meat and vegetable market in the remaining two stores, the same day bakery opens.

In the window of the new store there is now a sanitary certificate which the Board of Health presented to Mr. Johnston with an expression of pleasure at being able to recommend the highly sanitary condition of the new bakery.

The decorative scheme of the bakery, in which the baked goods will be sold, and the bakeshop, itself, represent a remarkable advance in the history of the Kleen Bakeries. The walls of the bakery are finished with Craftex in autumn colors and the atmosphere of high quality for which the bakery is noted, is considerably enhanced by a number of niches and arches known as California circles which have been cut into the walls. The electrical fixtures are of Spanish design.

All on Wheels

Out in the bakery everything except the giant oven, which incidentally is capable of turning out 4,000 loaves of bread per day, has been placed on wheels. The bakery is equipped with the most up-to-date machinery and has been laid out in such a way that its capacity will be five times that of the old shop on the opposite corner, now to be discontinued. A receiving room, shipping room, and garage have been provided in the rear of the shop.

Responsible for this latest achievement is Herbert A. Johnston who less than fifteen years ago opened the first of the three Tenth Ward bakeries which now bear his name. From an extremely modest beginning, Mr. Johnston, constantly adhering to a high standard seldom surpassed by any merchant, now reaches new heights in the development of his system.

Starts at 27

In 1911, Mr. Johnston, then 27 years old, made his first venture in business for himself, starting a small grocery store at 369 Driving Park avenue. At that time the lower end of the Tenth Ward was sparsely settled and the young groceryman, doing his own delivering, could watch his store for customers while making deliveries as far away as Lake View Park. He observes that it was possible to get a glimpse of Augustine street from his place of business. His first delivery boy took out the groceries on roller skates, but after a few months, when business was prospering, Mr. Johnston was able to buy a two wheel cart, "a beautiful thing" with rubber wheels. In two years' time, the grocery store, one of the cleanest and neatest in the city, had developed into a sizeable affair, boasting two additional clerks, a driver and both automobile and horse-and-wagon delivery.

However, Mr. Johnston noticed a growing demand for a fine bakery and from the experience which he had acquired sensed the fact that the bakery business was more readily adaptable to the cash and carry system and was therefore more desirable from a business point of view. As a result in 1914 he sold out his grocery business and rented the room for his first bakery in the Schulz building at 827 Dewey avenue, which he still maintains. At the outset, he set up his oven in the rear of the

Democratic Women

In Card Party Fri.

The Women's Democratic Club of the Tenth Ward will hold a card party tomorrow evening, October 26, at the headquarters of the club, 298 Driving Park avenue. Card games will be played, including bridge, five hundred, pedro and pinochle and there will be a prize for each table. The public is invited.

BUSINESS MEN RE-ORGANIZING DEWEY ASS'N

Re-organization of the Dewey Avenue Business Men's Association and the extension of the membership scope to the entire length of the avenue were the principal accomplishments of a group of business men who gathered on October 15 at the Hall Sales and Service Station. Earl Baynes of Bauman & Baynes was named as new head of the organization to succeed John Schmanke, retiring president.

Other officers elected include Joseph Hertzberg of Crown Service Station as vice-president, Robert Hall, secretary, and John Goodmore, treasurer. An executive committee of five, proposed to aid the work in the various sections, was named and includes, Clyde Martin, H. F. Doell, Jacob Kenner, John Schmanke and one other to be named from the section of Lewiston and Dewey.

The first official act of the re-organized body was to hear a report of the treasurer and to vote that all money be placed under the account of the re-organized association. Plans were discussed for a uniform decoration scheme and also for a special feature for Christmas which were referred to a committee for a report at the next meeting. The committee includes George Rogers, John Schmanke, A. J. Tucker, Geo. Bauman and Mat Barry.

A drive for membership was also inaugurated, a small annual fee was set and it was decided to give each member a certificate to be displayed in his store as a record of membership.

The date for the next meeting has been set for Tuesday, November 13. The gathering will be in the form of a bowling party at the Rochester Turn Verein Hall on North Clinton street.

Bauman and Baynes

Features Basy Bread

A demonstration of Basy Bread, latest reducing means, is scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday, Oct. 26th and 27th, at Bauman & Baynes Market at Dewey and Driving Park avenues.

It is claimed for this newest of remedies that it is a safe, easy way to regain normal weight and that thousands have proved its efficacy. It is said to be made entirely without fat, lard, butter, milk, sugar or molasses and is guaranteed to contain no drugs or harmful ingredients. Three slices a day is said to be sufficient to help reduce weight in "Nature's way." It is claimed to be the only satisfactory reducing bread on the market today.

Tenth Registration Totals Over 16,000

Registration figures, recently published showed that the Tenth Ward made a gain of nearly 3,000 voters as compared to the figures for 1924. In 1924, the last presidential year, there was a total registration of 13,600, whereas this year with interest in the national election at a high pitch 16,527 qualified.

The two heaviest districts of the ward were the 10th and 21st. Both were classified among the largest districts of the city, registering between 800 and 1,000.

More than 1,000 film "extras" were used in the mob scenes of Thomas Meighan's latest starring vehicle, entitled "The Racket," sensational melodrama of the underworld now showing at the Riviera Theatre. Fri-Sat. Oct. 26-27.

The mob scenes, which also required the services of upwards of 300 technicians, including electricians and directorial staff, were among the largest and most exciting ever screened.

"The Racket," acclaimed the most lavish and spectacular underworld thriller ever filmed, is Thomas Meighan's latest starring vehicle, and is said to be his greatest picture.

In "The Racket" Meighan is presented in the colorful role of a Metropolitan police captain. In the star's own words, uttered at Hollywood when the picture was completed:

"I honestly believe I have the greatest picture, and the finest screen characterization in years. This is just the story, and the type of role I had been searching for."

According to the popular star, he has waited nearly a year for the proper vehicle, and in "The Racket" Meighan returns to his many fans, after months of absence.

LEWISTON AVE. OPENS SATURDAY; ENDS LONG PERIOD OF ECLIPSE

After a long period of almost total eclipse, Lewiston avenue is now preparing itself to come back into its own. The first encouraging word was the statement this week by J. C. Roach of Roach-Thompson, contractors laying the street pavement, that the avenue will be open from one end to the other Saturday of this week for through traffic.

The use of quick-drying cement has already enabled the contractors to throw open Lewiston from Dewey avenue to Lake avenue and now the complete re-establishment of the thorough fare awaits only the finishing touches on the road near the railroad tracks. The final stretches of curbing are being laid on the north side of the street and two ten-foot strips of concrete are receiving finishing touches, to allow traffic to move both ways. Work on the south side will be rushed through to the earliest possible completion.

The work of laying the concrete was started by the contractors on July 24 and 100 days were allowed for its completion. Since starting the work, Roach-Thompson has been subject to many unavoidable delays, but have won the praises of Lewiston merchants by holding to schedule as well as by the manner in which they have worked. A letter of appreciation to Roach-Thompson to be found in another column of this paper, expresses the feelings of the business men.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN HOLD HOOVER PARTY

Tenth Ward Republican Women were hosts to about 150 guests last week in a "Hoover" party. Addresses were delivered by Judge Fred K. L. Dutcher and Charles E. Bostwick and the guests took part in singing Hoover campaign songs lead by Robert Shurtz of Birr street.

The Republican's Women's committee were attired in Hoover aprons and head bands and after serving their guests a light luncheon, presented them with a "Hoover full dinner pail." A demonstration of the voting machine and its operation for the benefit of new voters was also given. In connection with the demonstration, it was announced that the machine will be at the Republican headquarters at 333 Driving Park avenue until Election Day, and that any Tenth Warder desiring instruction in its operation will be welcome.

This victory placed Jefferson at the top of the league with its nearest rival Washington, 3 points behind them.

Jefferson set back Tech High Friday at Edgerton Park 1 to 0. Jefferson's goal was scored in the final quarter of the game when Pilarascia from Jefferson scored the only counter of the game.

Lewiston an ideal entrance to Rochester as well as an asset to propertyholders. In consideration of the heavy traffic to which the new pavement will be subjected, the concrete is nine inches thick. The original estimate on the cost of paving and curbing was $171,546.08, but it is as yet impossible to forecast the final cost.

In addition to the new pavement Lewiston avenue now has new storm water and sanitary sewers. The section west of the subway which is midway between Lake and Dewey avenues needed only a sanitary sewer at an estimated cost of $73,853.50. The section between the subway and Lake avenue has both sanitary and storm water sewer, estimated at $39,800.50.

Long a Detriment.

Long considered a detriment both to the immediate section and to the city of Rochester, Lewiston avenue after two years of construction work finally begins to emerge from its chaotic state and now bids fair to become a distinct asset. Business men of the section have been considerably encouraged and now hope to re-establish contacts with customers, who quite naturally have been driven elsewhere by the condition of the street. Lewiston avenue, however, is determined to get back into its stride without further delay.

A street dance, proposed by many including the Lower Tenth Ward Improvement Association, will probably be held over until Spring. The lateness of the season has caused the formal opening exercises to be set over until after the winter season.

Business Men Send Note In Appreciation of Lewiston Work

The following letter recently was sent by the Lake and Ridge Business Men's Association, expressing their appreciation of the manner in which Roach-Thompson, Inc., handled the Lewiston avenue improvement.

Gentlemen:

The Lake and Ridge Business Men's Association wish to take this opportunity to express to your firm our appreciation for the excellent job you did on the paving of Lewiston Avenue from Lake to Dewey Avenues.

We are delighted to have this job done as it means much to the business of our community in having the road open to traffic.

The way you people co-operated with us and the many little courtesies you extended, also the fine appearance with which you left the street when finished has pleased us all very much.

Opens First Branch

In 1920, the reputation of the Kleen Bakeries had spread to other sections of the ward and Mr. Johnston was quick to seize the opportunity, purchasing the block at 1505 Lake avenue and establishing his first branch there. In addition to providing another store to be managed, the block represented considerable of an investment, including as it does eight apartments and six stores. In 1923 a second branch at 1300 Dewey avenue was started, subsequently to be sold to Hushard and Christie, who now sell Johnston baked goods. As the volume of baked goods sold each week began to mount, there came a need for larger ovens and more room and, in 1924, Mr. Johnston bought out the entire equipment of the Doughnut Shop at 398 Lewiston avenue, thinking that this plant would give him ample room. To meet the demands of his trade, however, he found it necessary to make his latest purchase and to build a bakery of his own.

Mr. Johnston says he is happy to be a 100 per cent Tenth Warder. He says, the people of this section are very considerate as well as appreciative of "cleanliness and quality," the motto of the Kleen Bakeries. His 18 business assistants, some of whom have been with him since he started, also are highly praised by Mr. Johnston.

Although he has been continuously busy, Mr. Johnston has found ample opportunity for recreation. He takes a vacation winter and summer and plans to spend from 12 to 14 weeks of each year vacationing in some manner. In addition to his beautiful home on Maplewood Park boulevard, he has a summer home on Loon Lake, Canada, and is a member of many out-of-doors clubs. His main hobbies are fishing, hunting and golf. At present he is vice-president of the Ridgmont Golf Club and a member of the following clubs among others: Rochester Rod and Gun Club, Community Gun Club, Adirondacks Porcupine Club and Rochester Ad Club. He is also a member of the American Bakers' Association.

TENTH WARD COURIER

Published Every Thursday

"Serving the TENTH Exclusively"

Vol. I.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., NOVEMBER 8, 1928

No. 14

The Courier Becomes Weekly

Answering a considerable demand from our readers as well as from many of our advertisers, THE COURIER, with this issue, becomes a weekly newspaper and will appear henceforth each Thursday at the homes of Tenth Ward residents. As in the past, the paper will be distributed free of charge to readers. If you miss any issue, a call to Glenwood 2585 will bring it to you.

The first edition of THE COURIER appeared on May 24 of this year. The current issue is the fourteenth to be published. Since its establishment the paper has enjoyed a steady growth, as may be noted by a glance at its news and advertising columns, and we confidently believe it has found a genuine place in the life of the community. As a weekly we are sure that it will establish itself even more strongly as the news center of the Tenth Ward.

The change, of course, will in no way affect the policies of THE COURIER. The opportunities for community service, we feel will be greater. The space available for news will also increase and as a consequence we will seek further co-operation in the gathering of news. Our correspondents have been a tremendous help up to the present time and their efforts have resulted in a newsy community publication.

The greatest service that our reader public can do for the weekly is to mention THE COURIER when making purchases from Tenth Ward merchants, especially those business houses advertising in the columns of the paper. We ask this co-operation not merely for ourselves, but also for the business men who are expending their funds to make this paper a success.

Democrats Promise To Continue Socials

The Women's Democratic Club of the Tenth Ward held a successful card party, Friday evening, October 26th, at the headquarters on Driving Park avenue. There was a large attendance and many new members were welcomed into the organization. Bridge, five hundred and pedro were played, a prize being awarded at each table.

The officers of the club take this opportunity to thank the members and their friends for their loyal support during the recent campaign. They also wish to announce that this is a permanent organization and that regardless of the outcome of the election, the meetings will continue through the Winter.

About 200 people attended a Democratic rally, Friday evening, November 2d, at No. 7 School. Mr. Geo. Roach presided and introduced the speakers who included Mrs. Malone, from Bath, Geo. S. Van-Schaick, a former resident of the Tenth Ward, Chas. E. Stanton, defeated candidate for congress in the 39th District and Milton E. Gibbs. Mr. Thomas E. Moran was chairman of arrangements.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lake and Ridge Business Men's Association will be held next Monday, November 12th, at the restaurant of John Lang on Lake avenue. General business of the association and a program for the season will be discussed.

Although the regular meeting night for the association has been set as the first Monday of each month, this gathering has been called a week later than usual due to elections this week.

A committee which has been making inquiries as to means of decoration for the coming holiday season will make its report at the meeting. It is also expected that there will be several new members to add to the roster, Monday night.

When Buying, Mention THE COURIER

ARCHEOLOGIST TO LECTURE AT KAY TERRACE CHURCH

An interesting series of lectures will be inaugurated tonight at the Christadelphian Church on Kay terrace when John W. Lea, well-known archeologist and student of the Bible will deliver the first of three illustrated talks. Mr. Lea will give a second lecture tomorrow evening and the final lecture Saturday of this week, accompanying his discussion each evening with a collection of stereoptical slides. The lectures are free to the public.

Mr. Lea is the author of "The Book of Books" published about four years ago, which has created wide spread interest. He has also had considerable experience in field work in archeology, having been a member of the party which uncovered the Altar of Joseph. He is a member of the University of Pennsylvania Museum staff and takes a prominent part in the work of the Oriental Society. At present he is on his way to Chicago to speak before several research societies, among them the society of the University of Chicago.

His subjects will be as follows: tonight, "Historical Evidences of the Truth of the Bible Story"; tomorrow, "Six Years' Digging at Abraham's Birthplace, Ur of the Chaldees"; Saturday, "Six Years' Digging at Bethshan in Palestine." Mr. Lea will also speak, Sunday, at the church services in the morning on "Our High Calling," and in the evening on "World Peace—How and When It Will Come."

Captain Florence Decker, of Troop 53, had as a recent guest, Miss Eva Pegueen, leader of a girl scout troop of Randolph, N. Y.

COMMENT & CRITICISM

By the Editor

With a weekly newspaper to chronicle its happenings, the Tenth finds itself in a better position to express itself. Have you, Mr. Reader, any pet grievances that you would like to air? If you have, let's hear about them and we'll gladly publish your communication with or without your name. Discussion is the sign of life.

The Tenth went comfortably Republican, Tuesday, even though the Democrats did show surprising strength. Organization work on the part of both parties was reflected somewhat in the results, although it is apparent that a good many picked the man as against the party. Hoover piled up a plurality of about 2,500, running about as well as the average Republican candidate.

Franklin Roosevelt ran ahead of the rest of the Democratic ticket with the exception of Charles Stanton, by coming very nearly within 1,000 votes of Albert Ottinger. Stanton gained considerably by the ticket-splitting here and garnered a plurality of 136 over State Senator James L. Whitley. MacFarlane was close behind, trailing Whitley by only 61 votes.

Voters were out early and the congestion at the polls was especially noticeable here. The unusual amount of smoke raised during the campaign evidently was carried over into the Tenth. In at least one instance there was a spirited dispute at the polls in regard to the eligibility of a voter.

The recent action of the merchants in the vicinity of Dewey and Driving Park avenues in denying themselves the privilege of parking their cars in front of their places of business in order to avoid congestion is to be commended. The corner is a bad one and will continue to be until the city takes steps to widen the intersection.

With elections over, we may now safely presume that everyone is going to dig in—no matter what his business—Christmas is coming. The head of the home as well as the head of the business house will now settle down. Family heads will now entertain suggestions for gifts for the relatives and friends—and promptly they'll give up and resolve that never again will they give presents at Christmas time.

James McManus, of Avis street, a member of Hose 24 on Lewiston avenue, is confined to his home by an injured foot, sustained while responding to a fire alarm.

Riviera Will Run Talking Movies

Announcement is made by W. E. Belcher, manager of the Riviera Theater at Lake avenue and Flower City park, that he has closed negotiations whereby all the latest talking and sound pictures will be presented, second run.

This, Mr. Belcher says, puts the Riviera in a class by itself, as it will be the only theater between New York and Buffalo running second run talking pictures in a neighborhood theater. Thousands of dollars have been spent, he says, to equip the house with both Vitaphone and Movietone sound projection equipment.

He says that, among others, the following attractions have been booked for early presentation: "The Street Angel," "Wings," "The Singing Fool," "Lights of New York," "The Terror," "Tenderloin," "Lion and the Mouse," "Women They Talk About," "State Street Sadie," "Four Sons," "Glorious Betsy," "Mother Knows Best." Manager Belcher also promises that the Riviera patrons will see the best of the talking comedies and news reels.

H. A. Johnston, of Maplewood Park boulevard, and C. L. Eppinger, of Lewiston avenue, left yesterday morning with a party of several others to hunt in the Adirondacks. They expect to return early next week.

Mrs. Arthur Wilson, of Magee avenue, entertained the members of the Northwest Card Club Wednesday at her home. The club, composed of twelve members meets regularly, to play five hundred.

DEWEY AVE. BUSINESS MEN WILL BOWL TUES.

Members and prospective members of the newly re-organized Dewey Avenue Business Men's Association will meet in the first event of the season next Tuesday evening, November 13th, in a bowling party. The party is scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock at the Turn Verein Hall on North Clinton street.

Notification of the bowling party and an invitation to be present will be sent out in the mails this week by Secretary Robert V. Hall to all business men of Dewey avenue, who are now eligible for membership. It is hoped that all prospective members will be reached, but in case of any possible oversight Secretary Hall wishes to make it clear that all business men of Dewey avenue are invited to join the association and to attend the party.

A number of the members have been signing up new members since the re-organization meeting last month and it is expected that a good report will be turned in next Tuesday. The committee making the survey of possible Christmas decorations will also make its report at the bowling party.

Mrs. P. T. Luitwieler, of Clay avenue entertained the members of the Hub Sunshine Circle at her home yesterday. The club which is composed of seventeen members meets weekly and alternately holds a business session and a card party. The Hub Circle is affiliated with the International Sunshine Circle and is organized for charitable work.

Mrs. C. Elmer Meade, of Mason street, is convalescing from a recent illness.

"STREET ANGEL" AT RIVIERA, POPULAR MOVIETONE TREAT

Music, it has been said, can tame the savage beast. It can do more than that; it can blend into all soft and hard shadings of drama; it can skip lightly over the mysterious border which separates laughter from tears. Music, via Fox Movietone, accompanies the Fox picture, "Street Angel," which opened last night and continues tonight, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8-9-10, at the Riviera Theater. It is entrancing.

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, the principals, have already shown they can tour the land of make-believe with millions to follow them. They did it in "Seventh Heaven," directed by Frank Borzage, the man who also made this picture. Now they do it again with the same restraint, the same youthful charm.

Photographically the picture is a masterpiece. It is done with new light and shadow and haze effects. Some critics have called it "arty," but it is a kind of art which enhances the drama. Like the music, it seems natural and necessary in the telling of the story.

Naples furnishes the background. Angela faces the desperate necessity of getting money to buy medicine for her dying mother. On the street she attempts to steal it from a man whom she has approached. She escapes when sentenced to prison and is sheltered by a small traveling circus. Later she becomes a performer. In this role she meets Gino, a young painter. They are about to be married when the police recognize her and take her away without his knowledge.

In these scenes Miss Gaynor proves herself a real artist. There is no hysteria, no struggle—just a restrained effort to gulp back the tears and whistle a few notes of "O Sole Mio" in farewell. The combination of beautiful photography, effective acting and music is almost hypnotic.

"Street Angel!" ranks with the finest pictures of the year. Miss Gaynor, young Farrell and Director Borzage have carved for themselves a new niche in the screen's Hall of Fame.

Bluch Landolf, famous Hippodrome Clown, who will entertain the circus fans at the Big Indoor Circus sponsored by Damascus Temple, to be held at the Armory, Thanksgiving Week, Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

Employer: "Are you a clock-watcher?"

Applicant: "No, sir, I'm a whistle listener."

"Why are they so friendly? I thought they were divorced."

"It was a companionate divorce."

One today is worth two tomorrows.—B. Franklin.

BILLY BAUER SETS

RECORD WITH 641

MILE TOWING JOB

As the culmination of an automobile accident about three weeks ago involving Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hetzler, of Santee street, Billy Bauer made his longest trip by tow-car recently. Billy drove practically the entire distance of 641 miles, the round trip to Schroon Lake, himself, in a driving time of 33 hours and brought back the badly wrecked heavy sedan of Mr. Hetzler for repair.

The accident occurred when Mr. and Mrs. Hetzler with another couple were on the final leg of a vacation trip which had taken them through New England and the Adirondacks and also to Montreal. Their car, traveling at a moderate rate of speed tipped over when forced off the road by another car, and it is believed that the fact that the body of the car was metal was the only thing that saved the occupants of the car from serious injury. The automobile, practically new, before the accident, was left at Schroon Lake and the Hetzler party came home by train, nursing minor injuries.

On the way to bring back the wrecked car Billy Bauer encountered rain and slippery pavements and was called upon to help two cars from ditches, righted a truck turned over on its side and extinguished flames which threatened to destroy a pleasure car. Bill, who modestly admits that he was somewhat of a Good Samaritan on the trip, left with a helper at 8:00 a. m., October 18 and was back at his Dewey avenue station, October 20, at 9:30 a. m.

Seeking Relief For

Traffic Congestion

Twenty business men at the corner of Dewey and Driving Park avenues, realizing the congestion at that corner have taken steps to remedy the situation by signing a common agreement to refrain from parking their cars on the street at the point of intersection. Traffic at the corner has become increasingly heavy and has led to considerable confusion.

The agreement reads as follows: "We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to do all we can to relieve parking congestion on Dewey avenue between Lexington avenue and Seyle terrace and on Driving Park avenue between Dewey and Broezeel street by not parking our own or permitting employees to park cars in front of business places; also to limit time of parking trucks on these streets. It is also suggested that salesmen be requested to park around the corner."

BOARD OF DIRECTORS IN CONSOLATION MEET

The Board of Directors of the Crown Service Station at Dewey and Clay Aves. held their first annual reception and clambake in the blue room of the station Saturday, Oct. thirteenth. The room was very tastefully decorated, using an original Chinese motif. Mr. G. L. Flannery, president of the board, presided as toastmaster and short talks were given by other members of the board, including Mr. James P. Martin, honorary president, who spoke on "Checkers as an aid to insomnia" Mr. Clarence Bleyler, political correspondent, who spoke on, "The Problem in Queens" and Joseph and Arthur Hertzberg, resident managers of the institution, who thanked the members of the board for their co-operation and assured them of another year of continued undivided dividends.

On the evening of November Sixth, Messrs Joseph and Arthur Hertzberg, managers, offered a special consolation get-together for the purpose of giving the board of directors a chance to be in on the political death of the party defeated. Except for minor disturbances, as the result of the election gradually became almost certain, the meeting of the "privileged 30" was highly successful and illuminating.

20 BIG CIRCUS ACTS ON ANNUAL SHRINE CARNIVAL PROGRAM

Twenty of the principal acts from the world's greatest summer circuses, mostly from Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's, are on the program of the big Shrine Indoor Circus to be held at the Armory, Rochester, at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m. daily during the week of November 28th, under the auspices of Damascus Temple.

Fred Bradna, who has been equestrian director of Ringling Brothers for a great many years, will direct the performances.

Some of the big stellar attractions are: Bob Eugene Troupe, comedy aerial bar performers; Silbon Sisters, the human butterflies; Miss Edna's trained dogs and ponies; Capt. Tiebro's educated seals; Robinson's elephants, the greatest elephant act in the world; Rieffenbach Sisters, athletes on horseback; the Picchiani Troupe, acrobatic marvels; and many, many others. Of course, there are the usual galaxy of mirth-provoking clowns, including Billy Denaro and Paul Chesty whose burlesque prize-fighting antics have made millions laugh.

Every Shriner in this vicinity has tickets to sell at 50c each for adults and 25c for children. Bleachers will be set up capable of seating a total of 75,000 circus fans during the week; and a record crowd is anticipated. The entire public is invited to attend the Shrine Indoor Circus, which is the greatest indoor circus on the road.

A BANKER'S SUCCESS MAXIMS

1. Eliminate from your vocabulary the word "perfunctory."
2. Think—exercise your brain as you do your muscles.
3. Use and cultivate your imagination.
4. Be neighborly. You cannot lift yourself by downing others.
5. Work hard. It won't hurt you.
6. Take an active interest in public affairs.
7. Meet your fellowman frankly and fairly. You don't have to go through business armed to the teeth.
8. Be patient, courteous, and conciliatory.

The above are eight of the ten maxims, which the eminent banker, Otto H. Kahn, says he has given to many young men. Men and women of any age and position in life might do far worse than study them, and put them into practise.—Selected from Daily Princetonian.

Boss—Well, how many orders did you get yesterday?

Salesman—I got two orders in one place.

Boss—That's fine. What were they?

Salesman—One was to get out and the other was to stay out.

Dewey Business Men Suffer From Bowling

An epidemic of stiff muscles and sore limbs swept Dewey avenue this week as the direct result of strenuous exercise last Tuesday evening at the Rochester Turn Verein, where about 35 business men of the avenue indulged in a bowling match. Old timers coming back, youngsters breaking in and veterans out of practice were in attendance, but despite this fact there were some fair scores attained.

After bowling and partaking of a lunch, the business men settled down to a short business meeting. Several new members were admitted to the association. It was decided to allow each of the merchants to decorate for the holidays individually, rather than to have one large community project for the coming season. Incidentally it was also decided to hold more bowling parties.

Now That That's Over With

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on past events, personalities and legends of the old territory which is now the Tenth Ward.

When Colonel Rochester moved here to reside in 1818 there was a man's work to do. He had invested heavily in Dansville, building a grist mill, a saw mill, a wool carding plant and a paper mill. When he arrived here the widely scattered occupants of the small cleared spaces on both sides of the river adjoining the main falls had no name for their hamlet—one clearing was called Fallstown; another King's Landing and another Hanford's Landing.

The first permanent settler of the land within the city limits is believed to have been Jeremiah Olmstead, who bought two acres of land near the present junction of Lake and Phelps avenues, from a man named Farwell, who occupied the place in 1797. In 1807 Chas. Harford built a grist mill in State street near Lyell avenue. About 1811 Henry Skinner, of Geneseo, bought a quarter acre lot from Col. Rochester for $200 and built a log cabin with a slab roof on the site of Powers Block. The cabin became the home of Hamlet Scramton, who came here from Durham, Conn., in May, 1812. His son, Hamlet D. Scramton, later became one of the city's early mayors.

Rumor of British Invasion

One of the earliest pictures of Lake avenue available is that given by the late Edwin Scramton, a descendant of the original Hamlet Scramton who wrote for the Rochester Historical Society an account of his expedition from the Village of Rochester on May 14, 1814, to Charlotte, where he had heard that an invasion of British naval militia was impending.

Scramton, who started out with several others from the village, recalled that the party found it necessary to strike down to the river bank when Mumford (now Andrews street) was reached, the road not being cut out between Mumford and Brown streets.

The ravine which may still be traced on the east side of Lake avenue near Lorimer street was then a deep gash overgrown with vines and underbrush, beneath which ran a stream fed by a spring near the east side of the road. The ravine was known as Gage's Hollow or Hartford's Hollow, taking its name from two settlers who had occupied a log cabin on the east side of the road and on the south side of the hollow. In 1814 this cabin was the home of Chas. Harford, an Englishman.

Beyond this hollow a thick grove of oaks and chestnuts lined the road. Through this the boys hurried until they arrived at Deep Hollow which still crosses Lake avenue between Glenwood and Lexington avenues. At that time a shabby wooden bridge crossed the chasm and it had been made still more insecure by the village militiamen, who had loosened the planks, built a breastwork of earth at the south end and planted two four-pound cannon at either side of the road. North of the bridge there were again thick woods until the Ridge road was reached. There stood a sawmill on the northeast corner of the intersection. On the opposite corner was a shop conducted by a man named Luke Duggins. At Hanford's Landing stood a frame building bearing the legend, "Frederick Hanford, Cash paid for wheat." A dugway led down to the landing on the river bank.

Intrigues Children

From the time when Edwin Scramton and his mates peered fearfully into the depths of Deep Hollow, that tangled ravine has intrigued the fancy of the children in its neighborhood. Before it was used for drainage purposes its wooded slopes, thick with wild flowers, were the scene of many a picnic and excursion. Mint and water cress grew thickly at the edges of the shallow crystal-pure stream which flowed through it, and

Vitaphone Passes Severe Test While Filming "Tenderloin"

AT RIVIERA THUR.-FRI.-SAT.

One of the greatest tests to which Vitaphone has been put came in the filming of Dolores Costello's new picture, "Tenderloin," which is one of the big novelties promised the public by Warner Bros. The test given the instrument in its early days by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra of 110 men was as nothing compared to that given it in the filming of one scene in the new thriller. With the huge symphonic orchestra the sounds flowed rhythmically. There was uniformity. But there was no uniformity in this one scene in "Tenderloin."

Here was a young girl suspected of being the member of a bandit gang undergoing the grilling of the "third degree" by the police. Questions were being thrown at her from every angle. Questions came on top of questions with an occasional tempestuous shout of denunciation. There were voices on voices and cries on cries the object of it all becoming momentarily more nervous.

As one of the crucial scenes in the picture this one illustrating the "third degree" was rehearsed and

DEWEY REFORMED STARTS DRIVE FOR REMODELING FUND

Special services will be held at the Dewey Avenue Reformed Church at Dewey and Flower City park for the purpose of inaugurating a drive to raise funds for a proposed remodeling and possible addition to the present building. It is hoped to raise $3000, Sunday, in money and pledges toward a fund of $15,000 which it is estimated will be required. If sufficient funds are pledged, it is the tentative plan of the church to build a new auditorium on the adjoining lot and to remodel the present church for use as a Sunday school.

Dr. William F. Long, of Philadelphia, Pa., field secretary of the Home Mission Board of the Reformed Church in the United States, will be the speaker at both morning and evening services. The evening service will begin at 7:30. A choir of about fifteen high school girls will furnish the music.

GAUPMAN-LEE

Miss Ethel M. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Lee, of 182 Fulton avenue, and Edward J. Gaupman were married, Saturday afternoon, November 10th, at 4:00 p. m. at the Grace Methodist Church, by the pastor, Dr. S. S. Davies. A reception followed at the Alexandra. They left for a trip to Detroit and will be at home on their return at 29 Jackson street.

The lawyers had been badgering all the witnesses about being absolutely accurate, and especially an old truckman who grew tired of it. They kept cautioning him to give a precise answer to every question and not talk about what he might think the question meant. Finally they asked, "You drive a wagon?" "No, sir, I do not." "Why, sir, did you not tell my learned friend so this moment?" "No, sir, I did not," answered the witness. "Now, sir, I put it to you on your oath. Do you drive a wagon?" "No sir." "What is your occupation, then?" "I drive a horse."

Dictated but not Read

"Now, Miss Blogg," boomed Jasper M. Whurtle, president of the Whurtle Jewelry Company, to his new stenographer, "I want you to understand that when I dictate a letter I want it written as dictated, and not the way you think it should be. Understand?"

"Yes, sir," said Miss Blogg meekly.

"I fired three stenogs for revising my letters, see?"

"Yes, sir."

"All right—take a letter."

The next morning Mr. O. J. Squizz, of the Squizz Silver Polish Company, received the following:

Dear Mr. Squizz, hmmm:

Historical Background of the Tenth Ward

birds and small wild animals found a shelter there.
The hollow was not without its legend. It was said that relatives of Austin Squires, the first murderer hung in Rochester, on Nov. 29, 1838, obtained possession of his body and conveyed it to Deep Hollow, where they buried it secretly by torchlight. There was also a tale of a miser who occupied a cabin on the brink of the hollow and of strange figures seen fitting through the ravine.
The old building now used as a branch of the Rochester Public Library at Lake avenue and Maplewood terrace is said to have been built as early as 1815 to accommodate travelers over the Ridge road. Workmen reconstructing the building in 1926 were amazed at the thickness of the partitions and at the general stability of the old structure. Originally the hotel was heated by great fireplaces which were uncovered by the workmen. The hotel and adjoining property was acquired by the city as an approach to a future bridge to be built over the Genesee River at that point and was turned over to the Public Library as a branch building.

A Modern Will

The following is an excerpt from the will of a rich jeweler which has recently been probated in New York State:
To my son, I leave the pleasure of earning a living. For thirty-five years he has thought that the pleasure was all mine. He was mistaken.
To my daughter, I leave $100,000. She will need it. The only good piece of business her husband ever did was to marry her.
To my valet, I leave the clothes that he has been stealing from me regularly for the last ten years. Also my fur coat that he wore last winter when I was in Palm Beach.

To my chauffeur, I leave my cars. He almost ruined them and I want him to have the satisfaction of finishing the job.
To my partner, I leave the suggestion that he take some other clever man in with him at once if he expects to do any business.
Percival—I fear our honeymoon will take every cent I've got.
Movie actress—Oh, well. A honeymoon comes only about once every two or three years.
Ideas are like plants, they require fertile soil, air and sunlight if they are to have a healthy growth.

If you would know just what people say of you behind your back, listen to what they say of others.
Customer: "I want a pair of speck-rimmed hornicles—I mean spornrimmed hēctacles—confound—I mean heck-rimmed spornacles."
Jeweler: "I know what you mean, sir. Mr. Perkes, show this gentleman a pair of rim-sporned hēctacles."
Purchaser—"What is the charge for this battery?"
European Garageman—"One and one-half volts."
Purchaser—"Well, how much is that in American money?"

English Tourist: "Pardon, sir, but what do you do with all that corn?"
American Farmer: "Well, we eat what we can, and what we can't we can."
Englishman's Wife: "What did he say, John?"
Englishman "He said, they ate what they could, and what they couldn't they could."
Breathless Hunter: "Say, boy, did you see a fox run by here?"
Boy: "Yes, sir."
Hunter: "How long ago?"
Boy: "It'll be a year next Christmas."

Tenth Ward Concerns Take Part in Construction

The well-arranged new building of the H. A. Johnston Kleen Bakeries on Lewiston avenue is a real contribution to the architectural accomplishments of the Tenth Ward. It is interesting to note that Mr. Johnston picked out Tenth Ward business concerns to do a considerable share of the work and to supply many of the materials for him. The finished product is certainly a credit to the builders both as to materials and workmanship.

George P. Hartman of Ridgeway avenue made up the specifications for the new structure and superintended its construction. Mr. Hartman was guided by the plan and layout of similar buildings on the Pacific Coast.

Wall Galbraith, Inc., of Norman street, dealers in builders' supplies, furnished the lime, cement and concrete block used in the construction of walls and floors.

Keystone Builders' Supply Company of Palm street supplied the plaster materials and the face brick which so attractively sets off the exterior of the building.

Cinder block from the Rochester Cinder Block

Corporation was also used in the walls of the new building.

Plumbing fixtures and heating equipment were installed by Meitzler and Heiden of Broezeel street.

H. Walker of Velox street, painter and interior decorator, applied the attractive and unique Craftex finish on the walls.

The electrical fixtures of Spanish design are the work of E. L. Farnsworth, electrical contractor of E. Main street.

Imperial floors made by the Imperial Floor Company of Halstead street, were laid by that company in the stores.

BARNES CONSIDERING POSSIBILITY OF RUNNING CARS IN SUBWAY

As a part of the plan of operation that is gradually being developed through the efforts of the city and the New York State Railways, it appears as a possibility that some of the Dewey avenue street cars may be run on a part time schedule through the subway.

Numerous inquiries have been directed to the office of this paper asking when the New York State Railways intends to make use of the ramp recently constructed just below Emerson street and connecting the surface street car tracks with the subway.

Announcement from Charles W. Barnes, commissioner of street railways in Rochester, is to the effect that the ramp has been built with an eye to the future as have similar ramps on Monroe avenue and at Lyell avenue. However, Commissioner Barnes gives some hope to the car riders of the section by stating that a close check of the use of the present subway cars is being made with the idea of assuring any warranted expansion of the service. However, as he says, there must be shown a definite need for further service as well as an indication that people will patronize it, if there is to be any extension of subway service.

No Unprofitable Extensions

"We are anxious to render the highest type of service to the street riders of Dewey avenue as well to all other lines in the city," Commissioner Barnes remarked. "But of course the street car company cannot add any unprofitable extensions to its service, inasmuch as the car patrons themselves, under the service-at-cost agreement, are compelled to pay the cost."

Commissioner Barnes assured the reporter for this paper that he certainly could see the possibility of saving time to riders from the upper end of Dewey avenue, with some of the cars traveling by way of the subway from Emerson street to the center of the city. He also indicated that should the present subway use prove satisfactory that some plan may be evolved to speed up the Dewey avenue service.

BRUCE ASKS FOR HELP IN FINDING HIS DOG

"Teddy," Bruce Slattery's seven months' old Sheperd-poodle dog made his first excursion into the world last Monday and has not been seen since, with the result that Bruce, who himself is just seven years of age is feeling very badly.

Bruce called up a Courier correspondent and asked for help in finding his little pet. The dog is described as resembling a fuzzy, black bear and his young owner says he is a playful and friendly little pup. "Teddy" has no collar. A reward is offered for the dog if returned to Bruce's home at 245 Augustine street.

COMMENT CRITICISM

By the Editor

An apparently well-founded rumor has it that two prominent chain store merchants are negotiating for the lease of property at the corner of Driving Park and Dewey avenues. Representatives of both companies are said to have made attractive offers for sites which have long been considered very valuable from a strategical business point of view.

Another item of interest is that a third large chain store has been negotiating for a lease on a building and the control of a business further down on Dewey avenue. Any announcement, however, as to who the parties are would be most certainly premature, although there are several business men of the Tenth Ward who are conversant with the facts. But the point is that big business is looking to the Tenth, the same as it has been casting around on the east side of town and one of these days it will strike out just as suddenly. This section is rich in possibilities (4,000 families between Driving Park and Lewiston avenues) and the surrounding territory is laid out in such a way that business is certain to come to the Tenth and big business knows it.

The Tenth Ward from all indications will be quite a show place around the holidays. Both the Lake avenue and Dewey avenue business men through their associations are planning a uniform decoration of stores with attractive wreaths and strings of holly, well lighted. There is no better way of saying "Merry Christmas."

Democratic Women In Monthly Card Party

The Tenth Ward Women's Democratic Club had its regular monthly meeting of the month on Friday evening, November 16th, at the headquarters, 298 Driving Park avenue. After a short business meeting the evening was given up to cards, bridge, 500 and pedro, was cards, bridge 500 and pedro, and there was a prize for each table.

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

Were is not for the fact that the people who come after us need to be informed of facts which are now universally known there would be no necessity for recording in these pages that the people of Rochester have for many years given indubitable evidence that they entertain a lively regard for the trotting horse and the sport of racing.

All of the horses and most of the men have long since departed but a few veterans remain who recall the days when the Rochester Driving Park was known to horse fanciers all over the United States as offering one of the finest trotting tracks in the country.

The Rochester Driving Park was established by the Western New York Agricultural and Mechanics Driving Park Association which was organized on February 1st, 1873, with the following officers: President, Geo. J. Whitney; Vice President, Patrick Barry; Secretary, John R. Garrettsee. The association secured 68 acres of the Holmes & Mason tract on McCracken street, the name of which was at once changed to Driving Park avenue, thereby obliterating from the city map the name of one of the oldest families in this region.

Full Mile Track

The track was an excellent one, a full mile, and the grounds were spacious with creditable buildings, appropriate to the purpose, and unusually ample, for the grand stand alone would cover and seat 10,000 persons, the cost of the whole affair being nearly $70,000.

It was on this track that "Maud S" broke her own record on August 11, 1881, by trotting a mile in 2:10³/₄, thus setting a championship record which brought her world fame and caused her purchase for the Vanderbilt stables.

Driving Park avenue was a busy street in the days when the circuit races were in progress. The horse cars discharged their passengers at the Lake avenue corner and from there the racing fans made their way on foot, the pavements often becoming so congested that the pedestrians were forced to take to the dusty unpaved roadway. Many came in big carry-alls accompanied by "Nigger Pete" who was a familiar figure at all the races as he polished the shoes and whisked his broom over the high top hats of the elite.

Hotel Now Stores

Boyd's Hotel, the building at the corner of Lake and Driving Park avenues, is still standing, but its glory of old has departed. Instead of being the Mecca of horsemen, who swapped yarns about "Goldsmith Maid," "Maud S," and other famous horses, it now houses a number of stores and the horse sheds in the rear, which in the old days were always filled and overflowing with horses and "buggies" have been remodeled to serve as a garage and gas station.

Besides its use for the yearly races, the Driving Park was utilized for the annual Western New York State Fair and the big inner circle was used by every circus which came to town.

Stage Sham Battle

Twenty years after the Civil War one of the many plans proposed for obtaining funds for the erection of a monument to the soldiers of the Union was to enact a sham battle. On Sept. 15, 1885, under direction of General John A. Reynolds, as Chief Marshal, the battle took place on the grounds of the Driving Park. The weather was fine, although a little rain fell during the maneuvers which were observed by 20,000 spectators and which gave them a most realistic picture of an actual battle. Infantry, artillery and cavalry were engaged and nothing but bloodshed was wanting to complete a series of events that go to make the pomp and circumstance of man-destroying war. The engagement opened in the afternoon with Union forces under command of Col. S. S. Eddy and the Confederates under command of Col. James S. Graham. Thirty thousand rounds of ammunition were fired by the infantry and the artillery also burned a great deal of powder.

Lake, Ridge Business

Men Plan Decoration

Uniform Christmas decorations will be the feature of the stores in the neighborhood of Lake and Lewiston avenues during the coming season as a result of the action taken by the Lake and Ridge Business Men's Association at its regular monthly meeting on November 15. The next meeting of the association will take the form of a bowling party, being arranged by Dr. C. W. Oster and will be held next Monday, December 3, at Rocks Bowling Alleys on Lake avenue.

The decision to make the decorations uniform came as the result of the recommendations of a special committee appointed at the October meeting to investigate the possibilities of creating a distinctive Christmas effect. Since the last meeting, the committee composed of R. D. Ward and Frank Wegman, has received orders from nearly every business house in the section covered by the association membership. The decorations will consist of strings of holly with large wreaths, lighted with electric bulbs. Each wreath will be decorated in the center with a large red star.

Formal endorsement of the Capper-Kelly bill, relating to price cutting of standard articles, was voted by the association and the association president, Charles P. Coster, dispatched a letter to Congressman Meyer Jacobstein to that effect. The bill which will be considered in the coming session of Congress is designed to aid the manufacturer in fixing a minimum re-sale price to prevent indiscriminate price-cutting.

Poor Dora, she is so dumb that she thinks a house of correction is where the proof readers work.

Builder Opens New Office on Lake Ave.

In order to centralize his activities and to establish a convenient location for his customers, H. E. Woods, well-known Tenth Ward builder has opened an office in the Wagg building at the corner of Lake and Lewiston avenues.

Mr. Woods who has been actively engaged in the building business for more than ten years, has lately confined his efforts to the Tenth Ward and especially to the new homes and the block which he is erecting on the Fillmore tract. He has also had experience in financing homes, which he says is a big factor today in the building trade. The proximity of his new office to the tract on Dewey avenue makes it a real convenience to his customers, Mr. Woods feels. There will be a representative at the office during the day to meet those desiring information on building and financing homes.

First All-Talking
Photoplay Drives
Them Thrill-Mad

("Lights of New York" comes to Riviera today, tomorrow and Wednesday, November 26th, 27th, and 28th.)

Tingling of the spine like that which thrilled those who witnessed their first motion picture, is promised those who attend the showing of "Lights of New York," the first film drama to contain spoken dialogue throughout.

Vitaphone—through the Warners who brought the first speaking motion picture to the world less than two years ago—now presents for the first time the initial venture in a startling feature length production with all-talking scenes.

An original story by Hugh Herbert and Murray Roth, "Lights of New York," depicts the drama in the lives of those who inhabit that colorful section of New York City known as the "Roaring Forties," and especially of two small town lovers who are caught in the maelstrom of crime. Each character speaks every line in the entire seven reels of this Vitaphone production under the direction of Bryan Foy, pioneer Vitaphone director and supervisor for Warner Bros.

Helene Costello and Cullen Landis play the leading parts in "Lights of New York," while Mary Carr, Gladys Brockwell, Wheeler Oakman, Eugene Pallette, Tom McGuire, Tom Dugan, Harry Downing, Guy D'Ennery, Walter Percival, Jere Delaney and Robert Elliott complete the supporting cast.

Dewey Ave. Reformed Church Starts Drive

The Dewey Avenue Reformed Church, Dewey Avenue at Flower City Park, in one of the best attended services of recent years, Sunday morning, successfully launched its $15,000.00 drive for a remodeled church. Three thousand dollars, in cash and pledges, pledges payable on or before February 1st, was the goal set for the day. Of this amount $2400 was realized during the morning. By evening the total had mounted to $3500 and the committee in charge was confident that the goal would be reached before the end of the week.

Dr. Wm. F. DeLong, of Philadelphia, Field Secretary of the denomination's Home-Mission Board, was the speaker for both morning and evening services. Dr. Orlo Price, Secretary of the Rochester Federation of Churches, was present at the morning service.

"Lake" Cars Now
Read "Kodak Park"

As the result of considerable demand on the part of Twenty-third Warders, street cars running on Lake avenue will now be known as "Lake" and "Kodak Park" cars. Those running only as far as the loop just below Lewiston avenue will bear the sign "Kodak Park" and the "Charlotte" on the cars running to the lake will be changed to "Lake."

The changes will be put into effect as soon as the signs on the cars can be repainted, according to announcement of Charles R. Barnes, commissioner of railways.

J. Reid Opens New Market On Dewey

A fully equipped, up-to-date meat market opened at Dewey avenue and Stone road by J. Reid, owner of the Lewiston Market on Lewiston avenue, attracted a record crowd on its first day of business, December 17th. Mr. Reid who has started a highly sanitary market was pleased by the reception given his new establishment. This fast-growing community, he feels is an ideal business spot.

The new market is known as the Barnard Sanitary Market. It occupies one of five stores in the corner block which is owned by Mr. Reid.

NO DELAYS ON NEW RIDGE RD. BRIDGE---STORY

Latest developments in the proposed new Ridge road bridge, indicate that there is some hope in the City Council of interesting the state in the project to the extent of bearing part of the cost. A proposal was introduced by Councilman Nelson A. Milne to this effect at the last meeting of the Council.

In the meantime, the city is proceeding on its program of planning as provided by the recent appropriation of $50,000. A new bridge at Smith street, possible re-enforcement of the Driving Park avenue bridge and a new structure at the Ridge road are included in the ambitious program which the city will undertake to complete within the next two years. Preliminary work will be started on the three projects in the order named above.

City Manager Stephen B. Story expects shortly to appoint the engineers to work on the plans for the Ridge road bridge. At present a structure composed partly of steel and partly of concrete seems to have gained considerable favor among local authorities and it also appears to be their determination that the bridge will be an architectural accomplishment for the city. It is expected that at least $1,000,000 will be spent for this bridge and it is the desire of the city management that the bridge be laid out with all possible forethought.

Mr. Story in a letter to the Lake and Ridge Business Men's Association, which was replying to a request for information sent by the business men, stated that there would be no unnecessary delay and that the city was cognizant of the importance of the need of the new bridge especially to the Tenth Ward and Lake avenue. Two years' time, or two and one-half years at the utmost should see the new bridge ready for traffic, according to Mr. Story. The Council appears to be ready to pass an ordinance as soon as the plans have been prepared and a measure appropriating funds presented.

MR AND MRS. SHAPCOTT IN GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Several of the guests, who were present at the marriage 50 years ago of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Shapcott, of 43 Tacoma street, were among those in attendance at the Golden Wedding Anniversary of that couple, celebrated on Thanksgiving Day. Fifty relatives and friends were present at the celebration which was held at the home of the couple. Mr. Shapcott is employed at the Shur-On Optical Company.

Pass Ordinance For Lake Avenue

An ordinance for the new asphalt pavement on Lake avenue between Winchester street and the B. R. & P. tracks was passed by the City Council at its November 26 meeting. The ordinance calls for a 36 foot highway at an estimated cost of $226,000 with a sidewalk on the east side of the road. It ends a long series of conferences and attempts to compromise between the city and the cemeteries on Lake avenue.

Ten thirty-sixth of the improvement will be paid by the city at large and the section fronting on the cemetery will be divided equally between the city and the cemetery associations. The sewer, it is expected will be laid this Winter, so that concrete may be poured as early as possible in the Spring. It is hoped to have the road completed by July 1st.

Tenth Warders Take Part In Two Plays

A number of Tenth Warders were included in the cast of two short plays presented by the dramatic group of the Catholic Women's Club last Saturday evening. The plays given were, "The Trysting place," and "A Voice Over the wire."

Tenth Warders included in the cast were Miss Sylvia Furlong, of Birr street; Miss Josephine Halbleib, of Seneca parkway; Charles Keller, of Maryland street; Robert Miller, of Augustine street and Sylvester Gartland, of Bryan street. Further productions in the future are planned by the group.

The Christmas Spirit

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

No. 3 Hanford's Landing

Hanford's Landing on the west side of the Genesee River, below the lower falls and at the head of navigation on the river was formerly in Greece but is now incorporated in the City of Rochester. It has been known by various names, Genesee Landing and King's Landing being the ones most frequently mentioned in the early histories and records.

According to a very early account, situated as it was at the beginning of the western half of the Ridge Road it was thronged with Indian camps. There are legends of an immense earth work crowning the river bluff before the white settlers came, but all trace of it, if it ever existed has disappeared, although scores of relics have been discovered in this region.

Rivalry Develops

Starting with a handful of settlers, only four families in the beginning, the settlement grew until it became the great shipping point for Rochester flour, and the rivalry between the east and west sides of the river was intense.

Oliver Phelps, having in some way recovered one-half of the 20,000 acre tract which he had sold to Hunt and others in 1790, interested his towns people of Suffolk, Conn., in his western speculations and some of them determined to become actual settlers in the new country.

Settle in 1796

In 1796 Gideon King, Zadock Granger and others of the old town immigrated to this wilderness and made a careful examination of the river on both sides from Allan's Mills to the mouth of the Genesee. The beauty of the scenery induced them to purchase land and make a location on the river bank on the west side about four miles south of the lake at a spot where the depth of the water would allow the passage of boats, and where there was a smooth plateau only slightly above the surface of the river and sheltered from the west winds by the high bluff in its rear. A natural declivity close by also invited the construction of a road to the upper level. In other words it seemed the one spot on the river for a permanent landing for lake vessels when trade and commerce should be drawn to the Genesee by growth of population.

Three thousand acres at this spot were conveyed to King and as much more to Granger and then they returned to Connecticut. Their sons came on with their families at the end of the year (1796) arriving in mid-winter, making cabins of their covered sleighs until the new log huts were ready for occupancy.

In the Spring of 1797 Gideon King returned to his new home, built a large house for himself and his family on the road leading from the present Lake avenue to the landing, graded the bank of the river and began the construction of a

By the Editor

Members of the City Council have interested themselves in seeking an appropriation from the state to lighten the burden of the new Ridge road bridge. They argue that inasmuch as the bridge will connect two state highways, the East and West Ridges, that the state should pay part of the improvement cost. And it seems to us that such an adjustment would be fair.

But the main difficulty is in swinging the state around to this point of view. As one prominent observer has said, ever since authorities started talking about the bridge—and that was some years ago—this proposal has been raised. But there is only slight hope and apparently no precedent.

And while speaking of the new bridge which now seems to be nearer reality than it has ever been before, it might be a good suggestion to think about street names. Someone has suggested that instead of calling the present West Ridge by the name of Lewiston avenue after it enters the city bounds it would be logical to forget the latter name and to have the bridge connect Ridge Road East with Ridge road west.

The whirl of pre-holiday bazaars and sales is upon us. Toylands throughout the Tenth Ward as well as the rest of the world are open. Red and green is the prevailing color motif and wreaths, Christmas trees and greens of all sorts are appearing everywhere. Yes it's less than three weeks to Christmas.

After moving about through the stores of the Tenth Ward during the past week, one wonders why there are so many of us that hesitate about doing more Christmas shopping right here at home with our neighboring business men. Certainly one sees as many gifts suggestions here as anywhere in the city and at no higher, often lower, prices than elsewhere. Why is it that we persist in getting into the rush and turmoil of the down town districts for so many little things that can be found within a stone's throw of our homes?

There will come a day when trips to the center of the city for purchases will be an event rather than a practise. Business is becoming rapidly de-centralized in every large city, and Rochester is no exception.

Stromberg-Carlson Gives Kenny Agency

Award of a Stromberg-Carlson Radio agency to Gerald C. Kenny, Tenth Ward furniture store, was recently announced by the local manufacturing company. The selection of the Lake avenue furniture store as a retail link in the Stromberg-Carlson chain is considered as a considerable honor, inasmuch as Kenny's was picked from a number of applicants for the franchise and is now one of two stores located out of the down-town district selling this make of machine.

Mr. Kenny is enthusiastic over the reception of the Stromberg-Carlson on the part of his customers and is now showing a complete line of the various models. Delivery on the part of the Stromberg-Carlson Company, especially to local dealers is prompt, according to Mr. Kenny, but he urges those who expect to buy a set for Christmas to get their orders in early.

TWIN ROLE FALLS TO CONRAD NAGEL

For the first time in his career, despite his many years in motion pictures, Conrad Nagel is playing a twin-brother role.

Few players who have been prominent in pictures for any duration of time escape such a portrayal which seems equally as inevitable as that, some time in their careers, they be selected to play both father and son in a single picture. Hence Nagel's debut in a twin role promises to be interesting and doubly so since the two roles in this instance differ greatly.

Nagel's two-part role is in "State Street Sadie," his current production for Warner Brothers with Myrna Loy playing opposite him. The picture is a sensational melodrama, a spectacular version of Chicago underworld life, directed by Archie Mayo, and the star is seen as a business-man and in a secondary characterization as a crook. William Russel, Pat Hartigan and George Stone are also in the cast. Melville Crossman did the story and E. T. Lowe, Jr., the scenario. "State Street Sadie" is now showing at the Riviera Theater, today, Friday, and Saturday, December 6, 7, 8.

Church of Redeemer Supper December 13

One of the big features at the Church of Redeemer during the pre-holiday season will be the clam chowder supper and bazaar which is scheduled for next Thursday evening at the parish house of the church. The ladies of the congregation, noted for their suppers, will prepare the meal. In addition there will be many useful articles on sale, which the committee asserts are suitable for Christmas gifts.

Rev. William L. Dowler, pastor of the church, and the committee in charge, extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend. Motion pictures will be shown by Volley Pettinger.

Miss Garner To Give Recital on Dec. 15

Miss Ruth Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garner, of Seneca parkway, will give a recital in the ballroom of the Columbus Club, Saturday evening, Dec. 15th, at 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of the Irondequoit Chapter of the D. A. R.

Miss Garner will be remembered for her "front porch" debut during the late Summer when she sang before several thousand guests from the porch of her home in Seneca parkway. A number of persons who were unable to attend the performance have requested a repetition and Miss Garner will repeat her front porch program in content and setting as nearly as possible from the Columbus stage.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN MEET IN CARD PARTY

The Women's Democratic Club of the Tenth Ward held its meeting for December, last evening at the headquarters, 298 Driving Park avenue. The business meeting was followed by the usual card party.

The president of the club takes this opportunity to thank all the ladies who gave their services in the recent election.

The date of the January meeting will be announced later in the Courier.

Mr. Frank Haugh and Mr. and Mrs. Waite and daughter, Marguerite, of Clyde, N. Y., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cooke, of Maryland street, last week.

Son: "What is a taxidermist?"

Son: "Well, what is a taxidriver?"
Father: "He skins humans."

"I want an economical, comfortable machine," demanded the prospective purchaser, "and I don't want to pay more than two hundred for it."

"Ah, yes," assented the auto salesman, "what you want is a four-door enclosed bicycle."

Cop: "Hey! Can't you see the light? What are you waiting for?"
Driver: "We just had a fight and I'm seeing red."

Policeman: "How did the accident happen?"

Motorist: "My wife fell asleep in the back seat."

Driver (arrested for speeding): "But, officer, I'm a prohibition agent."

Officer: "Ignorance is no excuse."

"Where did the car hit him?" asked the coroner.

"At the junction of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae," replied the medical witness.

And the burly foreman rose from his seat. "Man and boy, I've lived in these parts for fifty years," he protested, ponderously, "an' I never heard of the place."

dock upon the lower plateau. He died the following year. Upon the monument erected in 1830 and still standing over his remains in the old burying ground near the site of his home are these words, "The Genesee fever was mortal to most heads of families in 1798 and, prevented further settlement until about 1815."

Wiped out by Fever

This little hamlet, the dock below and cluster of families on the bank above, was generally known as King's Landing until 1809 when, all the original settlers who had survived the incessant attacks of fever and plague, the Genesee fever as it was commonly called, moved away.

Seven Hanford brothers from Rome, N. Y., then came to the place, bought a large part of the land, built several warehouses near the dock and erected on the bank above, the Steamboat Hotel, also known as Hanford's Tavern, a well known stopping place for many years for travelers by the Ridge road. These improvements gave to the place the name of Hanford's Landing, an appellation that remained long after the second set of settlers had passed away and every evidence of human occupation had been obliterated.

"One Respectable Man"

In those early days it stood apart from its nearer neighbors as may be judged from the following statement from the journal of John Maude, an observant Englishman,

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 46 are a very busy troop working on merit badges for the December Court of Awards, rehearsing for a Christmas play and dressing dolls for the children of the mountaineers.

WILL STUDY BIBLE

Rev. John Betlem will begin a series of Sunday afternoon Bible studies at the Rochester Gospel Center, corner Court street and South avenue, next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. He will take up the study of the Book to the Galatians.

who came through this part of the country in 1800 and stopped at Alton's mills.

"As Col. Fish, the miller had not those accommodations which I expected, not even a stable, I was obliged to proceed to Mr. King's at Genesee landing where I got a good breakfast of wild pigeons, etc. Mr. King is the only respectable settler in this town."

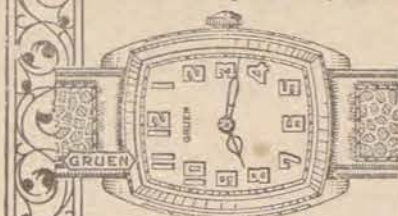

PARENT-TEACHERS WILL HOLD CHRISTMAS SALE

The Parent-Teachers Association of Otis School, No. 30, will have its annual Christmas Sale, tomorrow, Friday. Home baked goods will be on sale as well as useful and fancy articles and there will be a grab bag for the children. Luncheon will be served. Mrs. J. Martin is general chairman of the sale.

American soldiers and sailors used the old Hanford Tavern as a rendezvous during the war of 1812. The tavern, torn down in 1883, was built at the corner of Hanford's Landing Road and the Boulevard in 1809 by Abram Hanford, an emigrant from Connecticut. The journal which DeWitt Clinton kept while on an exploring tour with other canal commissioners in 1810, says: "We dined and slept at Hanford's Tavern, who is also a merchant and carries on a considerable trade with Canada."

LIBERTY ENGAGES FEATURE ORGANIST
Edward C. May, concert and feature organist of the Schine Theater Circuit, has been secured by Mr. John Schultz, manager of the Liberty Theater, located on Driving Park avenue near Dewey. Mr. May is one of the best known organists in this part of the country, having opened some fifteen theaters during the past two years and also has broadcasted over the radio. Among the new organs he opened in Rochester are the State, Liberty, Grand, Staley, Empress and Arnett theaters.

Edward C. May

In addition to his theater work, Mr. May conducts a most modern and complete music studio located at 272 Lakeview park. He teaches both piano and organ. Several local and many out of town theaters have secured pianists and organists from his class of pupils. He is also official demonstrator for a well known organ company for whom he has drawn the specifications for several organs now in use.

The theater public remembers this young organist as the first soloist to successfully introduce "Song Slides" and novelties in Rochester. Some time ago he discontinued this form of solo and has introduced a new and distinct type of novelty with the aid of Vitaphone. His method is to build an interesting solo with the use of records of world famous singers on the Vitaphone.

WAVE OF CHRISTMAS SPIRIT SWEEPS OVER TENTH WARD

Decorations that add much to the holiday spirit of Christmas made their appearances during the last few days throughout the Tenth Ward. The wreaths and roping, combined with a considerable display of lighting effects, supplies an atmosphere which is especially necessary due to the lack of snow and the generally warm temperatures that have prevailed for the past few days.

One of the outstanding sections of the ward is that at the corner of Lake and Lewiston avenues. The merchants through their association, the Lake-Ridge Business Men's Association, have banded together and purchased uniform decorations, which have already attracted considerable attention. Nearly all of the stores in this section have been decorated by Ward-Thompkins, electricians, and Wegman Bros., who have furnished the greens. A center wreath circling a large red star, with streams of roping on either side, all fitted with lights for night illumination, give the corner a distinctive appearance.

Dewey avenue merchants have also decorated their store fronts beautifully with holiday trimming. Many of the business places have also spent considerable time and money in creating the Christmas atmosphere within the store with suitable decorations.

Offers Many Suggestions

Christmas stock has stepped into the foreground by unanimous consent and everywhere throughout the Tenth an array of Christmas gift suggestions is being shown that is surpassed in no other section of the city. With parking downtown at a premium, local residents are finding it more and more convenient to shop in the neighborhood stores, which despite their somewhat limited show space, are proving their ability to supply the Christmas needs. The holiday spirit is more evident here because there is a certain element of friendliness and neighborliness that makes shopping a pleasure.

TENTH WARDERS INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

In an automobile upset that claimed one life, Benjamin F. Nellis, of 691 Emerson street, and Mrs. John Wake, of 49 Tacoma street, received injuries. Mr. Nellis, according to latest reports, is still in critical condition in the Arnold Gregory Memorial Hospital at Albion. Mrs. Wake received only slight injuries.

Mrs. James McKee, of 58 Warner street, died Monday as the result of injuries received, when her car overturned at Holley last Friday night. Two other men injured in the wreck also escaped with slight injuries.

EYER'S HAS SPARTONS READY FOR DELIVERY

Eyer's, located at the corner of Driving Park and Lake avenues, announce that they are in a position to make delivery on the Sparton radio, models 79 to 89, for which they are local agents. Eyer's, pioneer Sparton dealers of Monroe County, advise those who would like to get sets for Christmas to order now.

Mrs. Lloyd A. Jones, of Birr street, entertained at luncheon and bridge on Friday.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Otis School, No. 30, is to have a meeting at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Refreshments will be served.

COMMENT CRITICISM

By the Editor

Present traffic conditions at the corner of Driving Park and Dewey avenues emphasize the needs of the proposed street widening at this point. The Automobile Club of Rochester fostered the improvement of the corner in its advertising campaign last Summer, but nothing seems to have come of the publicity.

There is no time like the present to take action. The property on both sides of the street, needed for the widening, is available and the need is certainly most evident. Instead of allowing the matter to drag on as so many public improvements do why not make a definite move toward relieving the congestion at this particular corner? An ordinance, prepared in a few days' time, will start the ball rolling. Dewey avenue will benefit immeasurably when this awkward turn is widened out.

Vociferous condemnation of the manner in which downtown traffic is being handled comes from the business men of the downtown area. Complaints are numerous, but there apparently is no real solution to the problem.

Commissioner of Public Safety George J. Nier is bending every effort to solve the terrific problem which the automobile is creating, but the business men forget that Rochester is pitted against the same problem that nearly every other large city in this country is called upon to face. The automobile has not only taken a tremendous amount of money from American pockets, but it has also upset retail business practices. Right and left turns on Main street will never solve the problem, the thing is more deep-rooted. Business is bound to become decentralized unless General Motors, Henry Ford, Walter Chrysler and others cease to enthuse the public with new, sensational models every year.

New Fox Picture Has Heart Appeal

"Four Sons," Fox's screen version of Miss I. A. R. Wylie's story, "Grandma Bernle Learns Her Letters," holds the screen at the Liberty Theater. "Four Sons" is entitled to its classification as a masterpiece. It is crowded with all the elements that go toward making up superb screen entertainment.

It tells of a mother's abiding faith in her four sons and in the world. Their home, happy at first, is clouded with the coming of the war. The old mother is torn between her sons in the German army and her one son in the American army. With the exception of one scene on the battlefield, in which brother fights brother, the war itself is not projected into the story, except as an off-screen background. Rather, it is the tale of a mother the sons leave behind, her struggles and her heartaches, told with honesty and simplicity and at all times with the utmost dramatic effect.

REV. BETLEM TO SPEAK

Rev. John Betlem will give a series of Bible studies from the book of Galatians each Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at the Rochester Gospel Center, 134 South avenue and Court street. The Gospel Center is an undenominational organization for the teaching of the Bible.

Courier Classified Produces Lost Pin

"Lost—Small bar pin, near Lake-view park and Dewey. Call Glen, 6127-W. Reward."

This classified ad in the last issue of the Courier produced results. Edward Meek, of 145 Bryan street, was the finder, who returned the bar pin and collected the reward.

Mr. Meek picked up the bar pin recently, but deemed it of little value until he noticed the ad in the Courier. Although the pin was only of nominal value it had especial value to its owner as a keepsake.

Fire Causes $900 Damage On Dewey

Traffic was practically at a standstill Tuesday on Dewey avenue while firemen fought a fire in the home of Dr. F. R. Lewis at 902 Dewey. A fire which started in the cellar burned its way through the partitions to the ground floor and caused damage estimated at $900 by Battalion Chief Fletcher. Firemen fought the blaze for more than an hour before it was finally conquered.

The fire was discovered by the laundress who was working in the cellar at the time. It was started by a gas stove, but the manner in which it got underway is not yet determined.

LIBERTY ORGANIZES POPULAR SONG CLUB

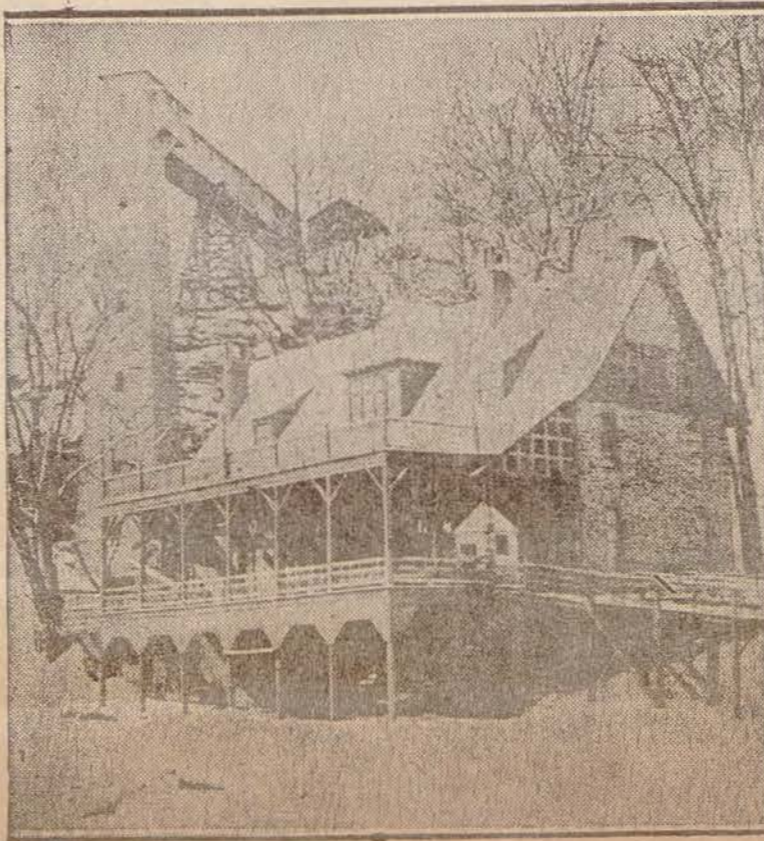

A new feature inaugurated at the Liberty Theater last week is the Liberty Organ Club, a popular song club, under the direction of Edward C. May, theater organist. Patrons of the theater are invited to submit suggestions for a regular organ concert given by Mr. May and each evening, the most popular pieces will be played by the organist and the names of those suggesting the piece will be thrown on the screen.

Mr. May has introduced a series of organ numbers with accompanying word slides, which are shown on the screen simultaneously with his playing. The feature has met with immediate approval of the Liberty patrons and accordingly the club was planned. The four most popular pieces, as shown by the requests of patrons, will be played each evening, on the large Wurlitzer organ, said to be one of the most outstanding in the city.

In addition the Liberty management hopes to arrange a number of dramatic productions and musical programs by local talent. Tenth Ward high schools, churches and dramatic clubs will be requested to take part in the programs. The management wishes to announce, through this paper, that the large roomy stage is at the disposal of local organizations for afternoon or evening presentations at no cost whatever.

Mrs. Edwin Hart, of Magee avenue, was hostess last week at luncheon to the Emily Barrett Circle of Lake Avenue Baptist Church. Mrs. Lyle S. Meader, of Magee avenue, and Mrs. F. Stevenson, of Frank street, assisted Mrs. Hart.

STREET CAR REPORT TO HAVE NO EFFECT ON SUBWAY SURVEY

The raise in street car fares to ten cents, necessitated by the deficit incurred during the past year and the deficit itself will have no influence upon the subway survey which is being conducted by the New York State Railways. Commissioner of Railways Barnes made this clear when questioned regarding the report that subway operation had not shown an encouraging increase.

One of the objects of the survey is to determine the advisability of routing some of the Dewey avenue cars through the subway and it was feared by many that the rather unfavorable report would lessen the possibility of any further extension of street car service.

"That report," Mr. Barnes said, "covers only the first eight months of subway operation, up to August. Since that time there has been a gradual increase in the subway traffic, which has been encouraging. We are now concentrating all of our efforts in taking care of the Christmas rush, but immediately after the holidays will again take up the subway survey."

Billy Bauer Pulls Wrecked Sedan 100 Feet Up River Bank

Billy Bauer, Dewey avenue garage man, who is always being called on for some unusual service, had one of the most unique experiences of his career about two weeks ago and the story has just come to light. It all concerns a run away automobile.

A lady on Gorsline street after a Christmas shopping tour, left her car parked in front of her home with wheels turned into the curb, supposedly safely located and then applied the emergency brake. However, the road at the point where the car was left is on a gradual slope toward Maplewood park. The emergency brake for some reason failed to hold, the wheels were straightened by the curb and the car, much to the horror of its owner, started down the street. Gathering momentum, the car, a heavy sedan, smashed its way through a fence and plunged 100 feet down the river bank to the edge of the river.

The police and Billy Bauer arrived on the scene a few moments later. Captain MacDonald of the Fifth precinct, who was one of the police present, incidentally lost six cigars to Billy on a wager that the car could not be extricated before impending darkness. But, Billy, undaunted, received permission from the park authorities to cut down four trees, attached a line 100 feet down the bank and proceeded to draw the sedan from its resting place within two hours' time. The car was badly dented, but it was believed could be repaired.

The engagement of Miss Adele MacMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry MacMillan, of Linnet street, to Harley Moyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moyer, of Woodland park, has been announced.

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

No. 4 The Glen House

Did you ever take your best girl for a moonlight excursion down the lower river and out on Lake Ontario, starting from the dock in front of the Glen House on the river bank, just below the lower falls?

The Glen House was in those days a swagger place, the favorite resort for sweethearts when bustles, beer and shoe-box picnics were the last word in dress, drinking and outdoor diversion. It stood just down stream from Driving Park avenue bridge and had a large wooden elevator ascending the river bank which carried the guests down from and up to the street level. It was built in 1870 by Woodworth, Ellwanger and Barry on property which they had purchased from Dr. Kelsey, the object being to stimulate traffic on the Lake avenue car line and boom the property of the Maplewood Park Association. Excellent meals were served in the big dining room and there were nightly dances during the summer on the big veranda facing the river. It was the starting place for boating parties and for the steamers which ran to Charlotte. Below on the river bank, St. Lawrence skiffs were moored to the docks, all rigged with chair backs, where gentle ladies could loll as their escorts whiskers blowing in the breeze, rowed them about. Or if a longer jaunt seemed desirable there was the J. D. Scott, an old side-wheeler churning its path down the river, at that time a sylvan stream, unpolluted by acid and sewage, passed the little red brick lighthouse that stood at the mouth, into the harbor, between the wooden piers and out into the moonlight of Lake Ontario.

Elevator Develops Quake
The hydraulic elevator was one of the wonders of Rochester in its day, but was very temperamental in its behavior. Its eccentricities became so alarming toward the last that timid persons preferred to make their way panting up the hundreds of steps built in the side of the river bank rather than trust themselves to its irrefragable ways. A present resident of the Tenth Ward reminds us that its unreliability was not always due to faulty mechanism but frequently faulty manipulation by small boys. One prank they delighted in was to reach in the openings and grab the rope, thereby suspending the elevator and its passengers in mid-air and giving them a frightful jolt—when they let go and scampered off into the nearby woods. A final escapade in which it dropped half the length of the elevator shaft and bounced back again while carrying a load of school children resulted in its being closed.

TENTH WARD CLUB WILL HAVE SANTA CLAUS FOR KIDDIES

The Tenth Ward Republican Women held their December business meeting, Thursday evening, December 6th. It was decided to hold a Christmas party for the children of pre-school age, in the ward, on Friday afternoon, December 21st at four o'clock at the club rooms, 333 Driving Park avenue. Mrs. Stell's girl scouts will be in charge of the program.

Santa Claus will be there to distribute good things to the kiddies. Any one having a small son, daughter or neighbor, who would like to attend is asked to notify Mrs. Jennie Stell, Mrs. Bertha A. Bush, Mrs. Grace O. Smith, Mrs. Lena M. Cooke, Mrs. Gertrude Dorschel or their Republican committeeman. Last year over one hundred children were entertained and the committee finds it necessary to know about how many to arrange for. The mothers of the children will be welcome also.

MISS CHRISTMAN LEAVES FOR POSITION IN OHIO

Miss Ruth Christman, deaconess of the Dewey Avenue Reformed Church, resigned her position to take up similar work with the First Reformed Church in Canton, Ohio. Her resignation was received with great regret. Her friends outside of the church, as well as those connected with the church, unite in wishing her a happy success.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stell, Jr., of Flower City park, are the proud parents of a baby girl weighing 7 1-2 pounds.

Destroyed by Fire

On May 4, 1894, the building was destroyed by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Valley, who were then in charge of the building escaped, but Mrs. Valley's mother was overcome by smoke and perished in the flames. Great difficulty was experienced by the firemen in fighting the fire owing to the steep descent to the building. A hose was finally dropped down the shaft of the elevator but flames had gained such headway that by morning only the stone pillars and outer walls of the Glen House remained.

Miss Elizabeth Coughlin, of Rainier street, entertained her Five Hundred Club last Wednesday evening. Prizes were awarded and refreshments served.

Rufe Johnson's pet hound disappeared. Rufe put the following advertisement in the paper: "Lost or Run Away: One liver colored bird called Jim. Will show signs of hydrofobby in about three days." The dog came home the following day.

It is better to fall down on the job than to lie down on it. Try; there's no disgrace in failure when you've done your best.

Is There a Santa Claus?

(The editorial below is printed by request. It appeared in the New York Sun of September 21, 1897, and was written by Frank P. Church. It has been re-printed year after year throughout the country and is commonly regarded as expressing the spirit of Christmas as well as that spirit has ever been portrayed.)

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun.

Dear Editor—I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun, it's so." Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon
115 W. 95th St.

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there was no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance, to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which our childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart a baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man nor even the strongest strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view the picture of supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God, he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia— nay, ten thousand years from now— he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

PALMER-MILLER

The marriage of Miss Ivy Jane Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of Brighton, and George M. Palmer, son of Charles Palmer, of Dewey avenue, took place November 10th at 5 o'clock at the home of the Rev. Dr. Clinton Wunder.

The bride wore a dress of brown crepe and tan lace, with a brown velvet hat, and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Mae Miller, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a green satin dress and green hat and a corsage of pink chrysanthemums. Elliott Palmer, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Local Musician Writes

Book on New Course

Edward C. May, Lake View park, well known local organist and piano instructor has compiled what he terms the "American Music Course." This new course or rather set of five books, while based upon the study of pianoforte is so written that it is said to be of equal value to students studying any musical instrument or voice.

During the past ten years, Mr. May has held positions as piano instructor for the Board of Education, organ soloist, radio artist, theater orchestra leader, professional accompanist and theater organist. His "American Music Course" is compiled from the experiences and requirements gathered from these positions. Realizing the points which require the most stress and those which prove the most difficult for the average student, he has created exercises and selected studies to meet these needs in a progressive and interesting manner.

Arrangements are being completed with a music company to publish this set of text books. Mr. May's method presents to the young student an interesting comparison of piano study to the days of the week. "There are," he states, "only seven days to memorize and seven notes to learn on the piano."

Continuing, he likens the seven original notes used in different pitches to the weeks of the month. The four seasons of the year are used to represent the four clefs found in music. Another point which is given special treatment is the study of scales. Mr. May disputes the advisability of spending a long period on the C, F or G major scales before going thru the entire cycle of scales. His method is to stress from the very beginning the reasons and formation of both major and minor scales and as soon as the student grasps the fundamentals of major scales, for example, he teaches them all major scales at once. In this manner he claims a student does not of course become as proficient in the simple keys as quickly but gains a general knowledge of all keys, their relation to one another and the fear of 5, 6 and 7 sharps and flats is entirely eliminated from the very earliest stages. A similar system is employed in the teaching of chords, etc. Mr. May states that as soon as this set of text books are placed on the market, he intends to complete a book for the use of training professional musicians for public appearance, in theater and concert work as well as radio performance.

OF DEEPEST WORTH

These are the things I prize
And hold of deepest worth;
Light of the sapphire skies,
Peace of the silent hills,
Shelter of forest, comfort of grass,
Shadow of clouds that swiftly pass,
And after the showers
The smell of flowers,
And of the good brown earth,—
And best of all along the way,
Friendship and mirth.

A Joyous Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year From the Tenth Ward Courier and its Advertisers

Santa Opens His 10th Ward Headquarters at Schmanke's

Jolly old Santa Claus, following a custom of years standing, will make his annual appearance today at the Schmanke Boot Shoppe and be present right up until Christmas Eve. Santa, it is said, spends a great deal of his time up-town these days, but he always manages to find a few days in which to come down here and meet his little Tenth Ward friends.

Mr. Schmanke, who has kindly allowed the grand old man a corner in his store window, has made it possible for Santa to pay his yearly visit and to take the orders to be filled on Christmas Eve. The shoe man has built a fine chimney for old St. Nick, with ample room for the little gifts that he passes out as tokens of his regard for the youngsters. The bewhiskered old gentlemen, garbed in typical red, makes a picturesque and heart-warming scene in the Schmanke window.

Over 1500 young people of the Tenth Ward, ranging in age from one to seven years, last year crowded their way into the store to see Santa with their own eyes, to give him a few orders and to receive one of the little tokens of remembrance for which he is justly famous. They come in steady streams—some with mother, sister or brother to escort them, others, big enough to take care of themselves—all hurry to place their orders. And, as a matter of fact, this year plans are being made to take care of even more than 1500, so that no youngsters of this section need worry about being overlooked.

It is declared to be great fun to talk to Santa at Schmanke's. The chimney is elevated just a little ways off the floor and one must climb the little ladder to get up as close to Mr. Claus as one dares. Santa, time after time, listens to "I want this," and "I want that," spoken mostly in low, hesitant and just a little bit scared or perhaps awed voices. He makes a few mental notes, inquires into as many details as time will allow

Youth Exposes His Own Hoax To Police

A hoax that had residents of the neighborhood of Glendale park and Lake avenue on edge for a short time was exposed by police of the Lyell avenue station in the arrest of Raymond McKinney on a charge of vagrancy. McKinney in a self-tyled "philosophical mood" left an old sweater and an overcoat beside an abandoned well at the foot of Glendale park together with a note indicating a suicide.

McKinney, himself, solved the mystery when he telephoned police that he had left the clothing and the note and then proceeded to the Lyell avenue station where he told his story to Captain McDonald and was booked on the vagrancy charge. A plea of not guilty gained McKinney an adjournment in City Court until next Monday. McKinney says he has no home, although he is said to be employed by a Driving Park avenue lunchroom.

the busy old man, and then makes the children's hearts skip a beat as he reaches down into his bag and picks out one gift a piece, just for them.

There is no need of getting the children into the traffic jams of downtown Rochester—just to see Santa Claus. The children's orders will receive careful attention, according to Mr. Schmanke, who has been in almost constant communication with Saint Nicholas for some time. The Schmanke Boot Shoppe is located at Dewey and Ridgeway avenues.

Dr. Lee, Well-Known Tenth Warder Passes

Passing of Dr. Thomas L. Lee, Sr., of 191 Kislingsbury street, last week removed one of the Tenth Ward's best known figures. Despite his 80 years, Dr. Lee was active up to the time of his death. During the summer months he paid a visit to his birthplace in Ohio.

Dr. Lee was born in Poland, Ohio, and attended Ohio Wesleyan University. He is survived by his widow, Etta; three sons, Earl P., Thomas L., Jr., and Richard M. Lee, all of Rochester, and a daughter, Florence A. Lee, of Los Angeles. There are eight grandchildren. The funeral was held from the residence Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment was made at Riverside Cemetery.

Unusual Honor Given Alameda St. Couple

The unusual honor of husband and wife being named to the two highest positions in a local organization and its auxiliary was recently accorded to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Marcille, of 248 Alameda street. Mr. Marcille was named as commander of the L. Boardman Smith Camp, United Spanish-American War Veterans and his wife, Stella A. Marcille was elected to the leadership of the Betsy Ross Auxiliary. Both will be installed on January 2d.

Mr. Marcille served in Company A, 3d New York State Voluntary Infantry under Captain Henry B. Henderson during the Spanish-American War. Both he and Mrs. Marcille are well known in this section.

MONTGOMERY WARD CONSIDERING TWO LAKE AVE. SITES?

A rumor that is believed to be well founded has circulated about town that Montgomery-Ward, Chicago mail order house is to follow in the footsteps of Sears-Roebuck and locate in Rochester. The rumor is especially interesting to Tenth Warders inasmuch as "This Week in Rochester" prints a report that two of the branches which this company expects to open will be located on Lake avenue, one at Lewiston and one at Driving Park avenue.

Although nothing definite has been brought to light regarding the pany, investigation in local real estate offices has disclosed that one or more real estate concerns have been carrying on negotiations in behalf of Montgomery-Ward.

According to the rumor, it is the plan of the mail order house to establish a large department store and several branches, concentrating its efforts on the west side of town. Inasmuch as the two houses, Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery-Ward, are said to follow each other's lead, particular credence is given the rumor.

Du Rocher Marks Up World's Sales Record

Establishment of a new world's record for the sale of machines manufactured by the Tood Protectograph Co. was accomplished last week by Charles Du Rocher, of 99 Parkdale terrace. Mr. Du Rocher sold 31 machines within a period of a week's time, thereby winning the Todd championship and a gold award of $100. The previous record of 29 sales was held by Chris Poff, of Philadelphia.

A dinner in celebration of the record-breaking performance is being planned by Walter Ward, Rochester sales manager to which all New York State Protectograph salesmen and officials of the company will be invited.

BUETTNER-BECKER

The marriage of Mrs. Amelia I. Becker, of Clay avenue, to John Buettner, of Longacre road, took place last Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carl N. Conrad.

The attendants were Miss Bertha Steamer and John Steamer.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served, covers being laid for fifteen guests at the bride's table.

Following a motor trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Buettner will reside at 135 Longacre road.

at Christmastide

In selecting the Radio which YOU will present, make sure it has in fullest measure the attribute more important than all the rest—TONE.

Just as a world-famous Stradivarius or Cremona violin produces an exquisiteness of tone no others can reproduce, so a Stromberg-Carlson has a tone not found in any other make of radio.

This glorious tone quality, the result of scientific design, generous use of material, care in structure, makes the Stromberg-Carlson pre-eminently the radio which expresses the spirit of Christmas.

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

Christmas Customs

There is very little available information about Christmas customs in the pioneer days of Rochester. Our forefathers of that early day were too busy in their struggle for existence in a new country, subduing the forests, planting and fostering the infant industries and fashioning the beginnings of this great city, to have either time or inclination for the lighter, less

And again, coming as they did from New England, they brought with them naturally and unavoidably, prejudices and habits of thought inherited from a Puritan ancestry whose canons were very strictly drawn in matters of entertainment and celebrations. Those who might fear personal recollection of the early customs have long since passed away, and the sole source of information left, is the files of the newspapers.

Christmas Advertisements

The local press reflected the popular sentiment of the community, but its space was very limited and a thorough study reveals little mention of Christmas as a holiday—an occasional advertisement in small type is found describing Christmas' and New Year's presents which usually consisted of a list of books, of a sentimental or religious nature or an "assortment of Yankee notions too numerous to mention."

Another enterprising host boasts of the skill of his chef in easy verse but makes no mention of the cost involved.

The following advertisement is taken from the Rochester Daily Advertiser, issue of Saturday, December 24, 1827:

"ARCADE BILL OF FARE

For Monday—Christmas Day

Ye turkeys, ducks, ye fowls and fishes
When ye'r dead ye'll make good dishes

That smiling guests will call delicious
Who feast on Christmas Day.

Then round the coops and barn yard scour
Lay in the butter, beef and flour

Then give your cooks and bakers power
To try their skill that day.

Then round the festive board attend
Windsmen, children, social friend

With cheerful mirth and echos blend
Untainted with alloy.

Let gobbling boasters fear and dread
The slaughtering pen where young are fed

To make a roast when they are dead
For those who shun the light.

Friends we now shall make a feast
And have our tables spread at least

With ven'son from the rarest beast
That runs by day or night.

Then all who dine with me this day
May pass their jokes for Wirt or Clay

But JACKSON is the man we say
Who can withstand the fight."

Christmas Editorial

In these days of extravagance and commercialized giving it is hard for us to imagine such scenes of family life as are pictured in the following Editorial on "Christmas" and published in the Gazette, Dec. 26, 1820:

"The expressions of goodwill; kind greetings of friends; the magic of the social circle; the hospitable board, where the sire, like the venerable oak amid a forest of saplings, is surrounded by an animating group of children and grandchildren, throwing about the evening of his days, the sunbeam of his youth and warming his aged bosom with tender expressions of love and respect; the little children, their eyes sparkling with hope and their faces covered with smiles of happiness, striving which shall first salute you with 'I wish you a Merry Christmas'; the small presents, tokens of love which are interchanged among them; the thoughtless gaiety of the crowd and the sober realities of the day; all make this holiday indescribably interesting, carrying the mind rapidly along from subjects gay to grave, from the solemnities of the redemption of man to the bustling routine of life, where laugh and frolic make up half the scene."

About the middle of the 19th Century there was a large influx of immigration from the rebellious and revolutionary peoples of Europe, and it was this cosmopolitan population which caused the customs of so many nationalities to meet and gradually blend into a common usage.

Santa Claus Origin

The original Santa Claus is believed to have been St. Nicholas, a bishop in the year 300 A. D. He was famous for his kindness to children. It is said that one night, wishing to help a nobleman who was so poor that he had no money for his daughter's dowry, the good bishop looked in at the old man's window and saw him asleep by the fire. He then climbed on the roof and dropped a gold piece down the chimney, thinking that it would fall upon the hearth. But it fell instead in one of the gentleman's stockings, which his daughter had hung up to dry beside the fire. This started the custom of hanging stockings over the fireplace and the legend of Santa coming down the chimney.

Many countries claim the honor of giving the Christmas tree to the world—a very old legend declares that it is the gift of St. Winfried, missionary to Germany in the 8th Century. Men worshipped Thor in those days, and held the oak sacred, sacrificing human beings beneath the spreading branches at festival times. St. Winfried came among them on Christmas night when a great crowd was gathered beneath the "thunder oak" as the mightiest oak of the forest was called. A little boy was about to be sacrificed to great Thor when Winfried sprang to his rescue, and to prove that the pagan god had no power the Christian missionary began to cut down the ancient tree.

First Tree Cut

As the bright blade of his ax circled above his head says the legend, "and the flakes of wood flew from the deepening gash in the body of the tree, a whirling wind passed over the forest. It gripped the oak from its foundations. Backward it fell like a tower, groaning as it split asunder in four pieces. But just behind it and unharmed by the ruin stood a young fir tree pointing a green spire toward the stars.

"Winfried let the ax drop and turned to speak to the people.

"Here is the living tree," he said. "See how it points to the sky. Call it the tree of the Christ Child. Take it up and carry it to the chieftains' hall. Gather about it, not in the Automobile owners of the Tenth Ward may now obtain licenses for their cars at Hose 20, Dewey avenue at Bryan street. The firehouse has been named as one of the sub-stations by the Automobile License Bureau to facilitate the issuance of the plates. The new arrangement will save many hours of waiting in line for automobile drivers, but they are urged to take advantage of the offer immediately so as not to precipitate a rush locally which would be difficult to handle.

Third of Dr. Beaven

Books In Bookstores

"Fireside Talks with the Family Circle," the third book to be written by Dr. A. W. Beaven, pastor of the Lake Avenue Baptist Church, made its appearance for the first time in Rochester book stores this week. It is published by the Judson Press of Philadelphia.

Three years ago Dr. Beaven published "The Fine Art of Living Together." Last year he brought out his second book, "Putting the Church on a Full-time Basis." Dr. Beaven's booklet, "Life's Eastern Window," has just reached its fourth edition.

The latest book by the Lake avenue minister attempts to provide practical suggestions to Christian parents in training their children in cultural and spiritual matters.

Among the topics discussed in the book are the use of stories, books, pictures and music in the home. Dr. Beaven discusses also the use of table talk as a means for educational and moral training. Extensive consideration is given to the use of Sunday and the relation which the family training has to preparation for citizenship.

Dr. Beaven is now preparing a manuscript for the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. His next book will be published under the title, "Youth, Sex and Christian Idealism." It will make its appeal particularly to youth.
