Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

Fourth of July

With the discontinuance this year of the Tenth Ward community celebration, a delightful and enjoyable custom which has prevailed for 21 consecutive years, will be omitted.

The elaborate ceremonies held at Edgerton and Maplewood Parks, attended as they were by thousands of people from all parts of the city who came to enjoy the martial music of many bands, the outdoor sports and refreshments, followed in the evening by a gorgeous display of fireworks, offer an interesting contrast to the dignified and sober exercises indulged in by our grandfathers, for whom the approach of the great national holiday was pregnant with a sacred meaning—a day on which they journeyed forth from their homes, with joy in their hearts and a feeling of gratitude to those loyal and sterling characters who, seeing the approach of foreign despotism, resisted it and established their national independence.

Oratory and Toasts.

In the Rochester Gazette of 1820 we find the following account of the activities of the day:

"The 44th anniversary of American Independence was celebrated by the inhabitants of this village by the usual demonstrations of hilarity and joy. Party dissensions were forgotten—all moved by the same impulse and actuated by the same principle—proclaimed the era of good feelings and united in offering their annual oblations to the shrine of Liberty. A procession was formed at Dr. Ensworth's which proceeded to the church escorted by a band of music, where after the usual exercises, an oration was delivered by A. Samson, Esq., which was received with great satisfaction and applause. The assemblage again formed in procession, returned to Dr. Ensworth's where an excellent dinner was served up, Col. N. Rochester presiding, assisted by Dr. Matthew Brown, Jr., as vice-president. After the cloth was removed, the following toasts were drunk:

"The day we celebrate—may the principles which enstamped its sacredness be remembered and revered and may they harmonise the American people.

The first American Congress—Its proceedings are an imperishable monument of material glory.

The convention of 1787—but for its wisdom the American States would have suffered the protracted weakness of colonies and have sunk into anarchy and insignificance.

The Union of the States—the basis of our national prosperity.

The New Smith Street Bridge

Up to the present time all indications point to an early start on the construction of a new bridge across the Genesee River at Smith Street. Appropriations have been made by the City Council and negotiations are under way for the purchase of necessary land. The new Ridge Road bridge, the dream of the ages, and the improvement of Driving Park Avenue's span are to follow and not to precede.

Regardless of the patient waiting of Lake Avenue business men and Tenth Warders in general the promise of a connecting link between the East and West sides of the river is still to be fulfilled. Driving Park Avenue bridge, also apparently on the schedule for a later date, continues to be crowded to capacity at the peak hours and at times creates an empassé that even the fire trucks of the Driving Park Avenue firehouse would find difficult to penetrate if the necessity ever arose.

The point of this discussion is not to be interpreted as anything but a candid statement of fact as we see it.

It is commonly recognized that there is need for more adequate means of crossing the Genesee River. Smith Street span undoubtedly must be rebuilt, Driving Park Avenue must be improved as much as engineers are able to improve it with its present foundations and the new Ridge Road bridge is an urgent need for the tremendous number of residents on both sides of the river between Stutson Street and Driving Park Avenue.

Moreover, it seems only logical, that with the situation confronting them today city engineers should be moved to switch around and put the horse in front of the cart. If the new Ridge Road bridge is actually coming the question may rightfully be put, why not build this artery for traffic first and thus add another transriver means before shutting off completely for a year and a half one of the heavily-traveled bridges? Smith Street will be closed for that length of time, it is estimated, and the traffic of necessity will go somewhere to cross; consequently Driving Park Avenue's load is bound to be increased and who will say that at the rush hours of the day this Tenth Ward span is able to care for its present traffic demands, much less a heavier load.

It has become inevitable with the rapid advent of the automobile that Driving Park bridge is outgrown. No one can be held to blame because the bridge fails to provide at all times a traffic lane for fire apparatus. There is only room for two lines of vehicles and, while a traffic policeman at either side of the bridge might help to speed up things, with this condition existing certainly it is foolish to believe that for another year and a half or more Driving Park Avenue bridge will be able to care for a single additional automobile at the rush hours.

Other bridges of Rochester either because of this limitation or because of their remoteness from the affected area will hardly be satisfactory outlets for much of the Smith Street traffic, especially that portion of it bound for the northern end of the city.

We are told quite openly that the Ridge Road bridge is coming, but no inkling of the day at which we may expect it has trickled out of the engineering offices. Now that another river crossing is needily so badly to accommodate the outgrown present means, we suggest that it will be a more satisfactory solution if the horse be unhitched and brought around to the front of the wagon, or in other words that both Smith Street and Driving Park Avenue be held in abeyance for urgently needed relief in the form of a new structure at Lewiston Avenue.

COMMISSIONER NIER IS TO BE TENTH WARDER

Commissioner of Public Safety, Geo. J. Nier, will shortly become a resident of the Tenth Ward. He has purchased the house formerly owned by Thomas Judge at the corner of Augustine and Pierpont Sts. and expects to move in shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGraw of Magee avenue, and Miss Evelyn Gardner, have returned to their home after spending two weeks at Cottonwood, on Conesus Lake.

Mrs. R. Lee and Miss Clare Lee, of Fulton Avenue, accompanied by Harvey Lockwood spent a few days last week on a motor trip to Gettysburg and other southern points.

Tenth Ward Courier Appears Earlier Due To Coming Holiday

With the Fourth of July coming Thursday, the Tenth Ward Courier has been compelled to change its publication date this week from Thursday to Tuesday. The next issue will appear as regularly scheduled on Thursday, July 18.

News for the Courier may be sent to the following correspondents: Mrs. William H. Stell, 121 Flower City Park, Glen. 5280-M; Mrs. W. A. Schild, Glen. 2214-J; Mrs. Frank L. Wadman, 14 Mayflower street, Glen. 1674-W; Mrs. Herbert McArthur, 24 Bardin street, Glen. 4765-J; Claribel Lawton; 9 Rainier street.

COMMENT CRITICISM

By the Editor

The grand and glorious birthday comes again. But alas, except for Podunk and interurban points hither and yon, the customary oratorical reverberations are rapidly becoming a matter of history. Now fireworks are inevitably following in the wake of the eloquent tongue and we hurriedly ask what it's all about. A safe and sane Fourth according to some is the direct antecedent of attainment of the highest pinnacle of human wisdom. Of course there are others who miss the fun and if reminded that it was dangerous, extoll the danger as the essential element of a glorious celebration befitting the Declaration of Independence.

At any rate we will all miss the afternoon of play at Maplewood Park and we, together with thousands of others will especially feel the loss of the pyrotechnic display at Edgerton Park in the evening. Last year the display was greater and more brilliant than ever and helped in some measure to appease the desire of American youth, and perhaps middle and old age too, to create a little excitement.

If you expect to "bootleg" a few two inches or perchance a cap pistol, look out for the cop. Commissioner of Safety George J. Nier gave his cops strict instruction to enforce the law which says that private fireworks displays are taboo. Now the best thing to do, if you must have your display, is to leave town and not return until you have shot off your last cracker, otherwise it may cost you an additional $50 donation toward the Police Pension Fund.

The job which the Maplewood "Y" together with other city branches finished up last week is to be commended. Within a week's time the directors there took a group of boys and trained them to swim. They took the boys in hand immediately following the close of school and by so doing they un-

BUSINESS MEN OF DEWEY TO MEET TUESDAY

Dewey Avenue business men will meet, Tuesday, July 9th, to discuss the proposed widening and re-surfacing of Dewey Avenue and also to take up plans for the annual picnic. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the show room of Hall's Sales and Service at 1850 Dewey Avenue.

Earl E. Baynes in calling the meeting announced that it would be one of the most important meetings of the year and urged all business men of the avenue to be present. The introduction of a resolution for the paying and widening of Dewey Avenue by Councilman Nelson A. Milne has created considerable interest especially among the business men and President Baynes has several important aspects of the proposed improvement to bring before them.

The annual picnic is also a subject of interest, continuing as it does a custom inaugurated several years ago. Last year the business men had one of the most successful picnics they have ever had. The committee was under the general chairmanship of John Schmanke and George Ester. The picnic, held at Island Cottage, was preceded by a parade which formed at the corner of Dewey and Ridgeway Avenues. Over 300 participated in a large program of sports at the lakeside resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bragg of Bardin street, entertained the Sunshine Pinochle Club Tuesday, June 25th. Prize winners were Geo. Holtz, Edward Gueriot, Mrs. Mildred Thompson, Mrs. Anna Gtieriot and Mrs. Holtz. About 25 attended the outing of the club at Troutberg Sunday.

doubtedly saved lives, perhaps many of them. Ability to swim is almost as essential as ability to walk and the time to learn is in boyhood days. This kind of work needs carrying on.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN DISTRIBUTING 2500 TICKETS FOR PICNIC

Plans are well on the way for the Republican Women's Club picnic to be held at Ontario Beach Park July 31. The committee is looking forward to a record breaking attendance and are distributing 2,500 tickets among the club members.

The sporting committee headed by Mr. Taylor of the Arnett Y. M. C. A., Mrs. Gertrude Dorshel in charge of the adults and Mrs. Carrie Jinks in charge of the children, have planned an interesting program of games and races.

Mrs. Lena Cook noted for her ability at serving appetizing food to a large crowd is again heading the supper committee.

The ticket committee, headed by Mrs. Jennie Stell, asks the public to cooperate by purchasing tickets at an early date from any of the club members, as there will be no tickets sold on the grounds.

Ordinance For Land Purchase Introduced

Acquisition of the piece of land on the southeast corner of Dewey and Lewiston Avenues is provided for in an ordinance introduced into the City Council Monday evening by Councilman Nelson A. Milne. The ordinance authorizes city officials to negotiate for the purchase of the land.

This corner has been the source of agitation for some time. At present it is occupied by a frame structure which is being used as a fruit store. Apparently if the city purchases the land, the principal purpose will be to remove the building on the grounds that it tends to make this a blind corner.

THANKS PATRONS FOR WELCOME TO DEWEY AVE.

The recently opened Dewey Fruit and Vegetable Market at 831 Dewey Avenue, reports a brisk opening week. The proprietor, Mr. G. Haggart, of Glenwood Avenue, hereby takes the opportunity of thanking the community for the support accorded him.

Mr. Haggart is carrying fresh fruits and vegetables and will also stock a line of canned goods.

Humor

The patter of tiny feet was heard at the head of the stairs. Mrs. Kinderby raised her head, warning the members of the bridge club to be silent.

"Hush," she said softly, "the children are going to deliver their good-night message. It always gives me a feeling of reverence to hear them. Listen!"

There was a moment of tense silence, then:
"Mother," came the message in a shrill whisper. "Willie found a bedbug."

"Surely, Miranda, you're not going to marry again when the Lord just took Joe?"

"Yas'am, I shuah is," replied Miranda, "as long as de Lawd takes 'em, so is I."

Landlord: "Do you have any children?"

Tenant: "No, I'm not married."

Landlord: "Do you have any pets, dogs, cats, birds?"

Tenant: "No, not a one. But before I sign up for the place, I want to tell you one thing which may disturb you. I strop my own razor."

A Good Likeness after All

New York is laughing over the story of an artist who got even with a prominent millionaire who, after having sat for a crayon drawing of himself, was so dissatisfied with the result that he refused to pay for it.

"It does not bear the slightest resemblance to me," he said, "and I will not take it." The artist protested, but to no avail.

"All right, sir," he remarked finally: "if it is not at all like you, of course I can't reasonably expect to get paid for it." After the gentleman had left, the artist added to the portrait a magnificent pair of ass' ears, and exhibited it to the gaze of the curious public. It had not long been so exposed when the gentleman broke into the artist's studio in a towering rage, and finding threats availed him nothing, at last offered to buy it as a considerable advance over the original price.

"It was not strange that you failed to recognize your resemblance to the picture at first," said the artist, determined to be revenged for the slight upon his work. "But I knew you would notice the likeness as soon as I added those ears."

"Does your father keep the Ten Commandments?" asked the Sunday school teacher.

"I'm not sure," replied the young daughter, "but I'm afraid it's all he can do to keep up with the traffic regulation."

"Central, what is the rate to Chicago?"

"It costs 75 cents to talk three minutes."

"Well, do you have a reduced rate for just listening? I want to call my wife."

BUCKLIN—WARREN

The marriage of Miss Margaret May Warren, daughter of Mrs. Roy Tracy Warren of Corwin road, and John William Bucklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bucklin of Birr Street, took place yesterday at the Parsells Avenue Baptist Church. Rev. Frederick G. Reynolds performed the ceremony.

The sanctuary of the church was decorated with palms and baskets of spring flowers. Four seven-branch candelabra stood on either side of the prie-dieu. Music was furnished by the church organist, Alexander Hay.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, wore white chiffon made with an uneven hem-line and long, tight sleeves. Her tulle veil was arranged with a cap of rose-point lace and was trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white orchids, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Miss Ruth M. Warren was maid of honor and wore pink chiffon and tulle with slippers to match, and carried pink roses, snapdragons and blue larkspur tied with pink ribbon. The bridesmaids were the Misses Jane Chapman, Clara Husted, Frances Channell and Marcella Parke. They were gowned alike in green chiffon and tulle, like that of the maid, with green slippers. They carried old-fashioned bouquets tied with green ribbon. Leo J. McCormick acted as best man. The ushers were John Scott, Milton Armstrong, Stuart Crittenden and Roy Warren, brother of the bride.

FERRIS—DE VISSER

Miss Lucille T. DeVisser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. De Visser of Augustine street, and Newell A. Ferris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Ferris of Birr street, were married on June 22, at 4:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Clarence A. Barbour performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore shell pink chiffon and carried pinkroses and gypsophila. Judson B. Glen was best man.

After the ceremony, luncheon was served to 20 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferris left on a motor trip to Virginia. They will live at 401 Ridgeway avenue after July 15.

Ruth Garner Will Sing In Park Band Concerts

Clarity of voice together with high quality of tone have lead to the selection of Miss Ruth Garner, of Seneca Parkway, as soloist with the Park Band. Miss Garner made her first appearance on a band concert program, Sunday night, at Genesee Valley Park and was accorded a fine reception by her audience.

Miss Garner will be remembered for her novel front porch debut last fall at her home on Seneca Parkway. The unusual excellence of Miss Garner's voice at that time brought her many favorable comments from local critics. Since her debut Miss Garner appeared locally in concert last December.

Geo. Cannon Pupils
Give Piano Recital

The piano pupils of George A. Cannon, of Flower City Park, gave a very enjoyable recital in the Memorial Presbyterian Church, last Friday evening.

The following pupils took part in the program: Janet Poole, Ruth Pannetiz, Reta Dwyer, Paul Bahr, Doris Ernisee, Wilma Zwemer, Ruth Burgomaster, Verna Allen, Robert Poole, Ralph De Vries, Mortimer French, Wilma Abel, Eleanor Wiederholt, Ruth Cannon, Marion Ernisee, June Knitt, Margaret Kasiske, Anna Remitto, Ruth Hertzberg, Mildred Wakefield and Evelyn Anderson.

BLOOMER—BADER

Miss Ruth O. Bader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. VanHouten of Albemarle Street, and Clarence William Bloomer, son of Mrs. Augusta Bloomer of Hermitage road, Irondequoit, were married on June 15 in the rectory of St. Michael's Church. The Rev. Theodore Winterroth performed the ceremony.

The attendants were Mrs. Norma Wood, sister of the bride, and Herbert Bloomer, brother of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at West Manor. Mr. and Mrs. Bloomer will tour the New England States, Quebec, and Montreal. After July 15 they will live in Wildemere Drive, Irondequoit.

News of the Churches

Grace M. E.—During the summer months the Sunday school of the church is meeting two hours earlier. The summer schedule starting at 10 in the morning instead of 12 is now in effect. The evening services have been discontinued until September.

Rev. Dr. Sylvanus S. Davies, pastor, is at Silver Lake this week as discussion leader of the group of Epworth Leaguers. He will be there each day. All of the Rochester and Corning young people of the Epworth League will be in attendance.

The Shephard Class is holding its annual picnic today at Ontario Beach Park. Mrs. J. C. Ross and her committee have worked out a fine program for afternoon and evening.

The Women's Missionary Society elected the following officers for the ensuing year at its final meeting:

President, Mrs. Ormond Roblin; Vice President, Mrs. R. W. Kimball and Mrs. H. H. Stillman; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Wendell Butterfield; Corresponding Secretaries, Mrs. Lee Heit and Mrs. W. N. Montague; Treasurers, Mrs. Harry Goodland and Mrs. Jay Alexander; Secretary of Stewardship, Mrs. J. C. Ross; Secretary of Supplies, Mrs. J. E. Cole; Superintendents of Children's Work, Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. F. A. Bigelow, Mrs. George Harpel.

Ships On Liner To Train For Football

Shipping on a trans-Atlantic liner as one of the "hands" is the manner chosen by John Dorschel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dorschel of Curlew Street, in which to train for next year's Notre Dame football eleven. John is accompanied on his cruise by Charles Erdle, also a Rochester boy.

Immediately after completing his second year at the Indiana college, John made his way to New York with his chum. After two weeks at the New York docks they finally landed a job on the S. S. Exchange which left on a cruise to the Mediterranean countries. Just what type of work they are doing was not ascertained.

The prime purpose of the two youths in shipping with the Exchange is to condition themselves for the coming football season. John earned a position on his freshman team and last year was a substitute on the varsity eleven. He hopes to make a regular berth in the Fall and undoubtedly figures that some hard work will give him the necessary strength to compete with the hundred or more who share his ambition to win the insignia of Notre Dame.

Miss Agnes M. Smith, of Pullman Avenue, was graduated from the Academic Course at Nazareth Academy on June 24th.

The Misses Marcella and Merlee Naylor, Ruth Maxwell and Dorothy Demerath spent last week at Sodus.

Mrs. Albert H. Motley, of Lake Avenue, is passing a week in Cape Cod, Mass.

Schmeling-Paulino Battle At Riviera

Official pictures of the Schmeling-Paulino fight have been secured for showing next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Riviera Theatre. This is the first boxing match which has ever been shown on the talkie screen and which can be both seen and heard. It was a battle that attracted attention everywhere because it was figured to have a considerable bearing in determining the next world's heavy-weight champion.

Coupled with this unusual attraction will be "The Desert Song," an all talking and singing production that has proved a box-office favorite in its first showings throughout the country. The feature show for July Fourth and the day preceding, Wednesday, is "The Voice of the City." A special matinee will be held on the Fourth.

Barbers Will Close
Wednesdays At Noon

Beginning Wednesday, July 10, all barbers of Dewey and Driving Park avenues will be closed Wednesday afternoons at one o'clock throughout this month and August. The agreement to close, it is reported, was signed 100 per cent by the barbers of these two streets. They ask for the cooperation of the public in order that the same service may be continued as in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hellman of Dewey avenue, have gone to Peterborough, Canada, to attend the old home week celebration there.

Will Give Free Dress Wednesday At Liberty

The first of a number of dresses that will be given away free at the Liberty Theater will be offered, Wednesday, July 3d, as a prize to the holder of the lucky ticket. The drawing will be made for the dress, which comes from the Claire's Dress Shop on Driving Park Avenue, from the stage of the Liberty. The winner will be allowed to make her own selection and will be fitted at the dress shop.

The feature show at the Liberty Tuesday and Wednesday, July 2 and 3, will be Janet Gaynor in "Sunrise."

Drama, spectacle and unequalled camera effects are the outstanding features promised in "Sunrise," Fox special dealing with the contrast between fact city life and rural virtue.

F. W. Murnau, who was brought from Europe by William Fox in order to direct this picture, selected an original theme by Herman Sudermann on which to build the plot, but the director's embellishments in the way of scenery, action and photography bring him as much credit for the production as is due the noted author.

Also on the bill will be "The Man from Headquarters."

Thursday and Friday there will be one of the best double bills of the year with Conrad Nagel in "Red Wine," and "The Canary Murder Case." "Shopworn Angel," featuring Nancy Carroll and Gary Cooper is the show for Sunday and Monday, July 7 and 8th.

Ledlie Jewelry Again

Visited By Burglar

For the second time since he has moved into his present location J. O. Ledlie, jeweler at 817 Dewey avenue, was broken into by burglars. The thief or thieves this time used a padded brick, breaking in the show window and stealing jewelry on display to the extent of about $250, according to an estimate by Mr. Ledlie. The theft, it is believed, took place about 5:30 Friday morning. No clue has as yet been found.

Richard Montague, of Augustine Street, is at the Boy Scout Camp again this summer as counselor.

our independence and the advocate of our union, he is truly the father of his country.

"The Erie Canal—Opening an intercourse between the interior and extreme parts of the U. S., it will assimilate conflicting interests, impart energy and give durability to the national compact.

The American Navy—In its infancy it grappled and wounded the British Lion; in its manhood may it wield the trident of the ocean and establish an equitable system of international maritime law."

Change Noticeable.

Thus with dignified simplicity those loyal villagers of a century ago paid homage to the birth of a nation.

As we look thro the files of the daily papers of those times we find the spirit changing from year to year, the keynote of the celebrations gradually giving away from the sublime and serious type.

The exercises take on a holiday air, the festivities become more elaborate with a tendency toward gorgeous display until in recent years the real import of our greatest national holiday is completely submerged in a spirit of commercialized patriotism.

The Daily Democrat of July 6, 1836, shows this growing tendency in its account of the celebrations.

No sooner had the chime of midnight died away than the cracking of firearms and glad huzzas of our embryo patriots commenced. These demonstrations continued with spirited hilarity until the morning gun announced new sources of amusement.

At sunrise fire companies with their beautiful engines and appropriate uniforms congregated at State and Buffalo streets, and displayed the powers of their several machines and their own skill by sundry dexterous evolutions, not the less admired because not directed against the ravages of the fiery element. During this excitement merry peals of church bells were heard amid the soul-stirring thunderings of a national salute. This was the gayest hour of the day.

Fireworks In Evening.

At 12 o'clock the procession formed and marched to the church where there was a program of prayer and orations. Warham Whitney was the orator of the day. It is interesting to note that the reading of the Declaration of Independence was always a part of the exercises. After these ceremonies there was an elaborate dinner at a hotel followed by several toasts, the following one of which responded to by a guest would not be inappropriate today.

"The Good Old Times—when men were politicians on principle; went to church for devotion; dressed to be comfortable; and drank when they were thirsty."

In evening there was a display of fireworks in Brown Square, which commenced at sundown by the firing of one-half pound and pound rockets. At half past eight a display of eight Bengal lights illuminated the whole surrounding place to indicate that the fixed pieces were about to start.

Excursion on "Traveller."

First on the program was a Roman Candle Pyramid; Thunder wheel with revolvers; Malta Cross; Star of Independence with five pointed star illuminations and hexagon wheel. The display was concluded with a grand Liberty piece forming a Temple bearing the inscription "Liberty" and "1776" in letters and figures of fire, ending with a flight of rockets and feu de joie in honor of the day.

Aside from those exercises which were designed for martial effect and to produce a sort of heroic patriotism there was nothing which afforded so much pleasure as the lake excursions of the "Traveller." A canny advertisement announced that "at 8:30 that superb steamboat Traveller will leave the R. R. wharf for an excursion on the lake. The trip will be delightful and will appeal to all who enjoy a pleasant sail and wish to enjoy the luxury of romantic scenery and a fine lake breeze." After sailing for 3 hours on Ontario so the paper tells us,

The class was conducted from Monday to Friday of last week with nine groups of 25 boys each. Each group was instructed daily for a half hour period.

The entry list for the miscellaneous tournament is now open and will close, July 8th. The tournament will start July 13th. The challenge roster which continues throughout the summer is also now being formulated.

The summer swimming schedule now in operation is as follows: Grammar boys, Tuesday and Thursday at 2:30; Saturday at 9:30. Employed class B, Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights at 7:30. Employed class A, Tuesday and Thursday nights at 7:30; Saturday afternoon, 1:00 to 9:30.

July Fourth will be a half-holiday for staff members at the "Y." The building will be open in the morning from 9 to 12, but will be closed for the remainder of the day. It is also announced that there will be no church league games, Thursday, the next contests being scheduled for July 11th. The young American baseball league will continue the battles between the six league teams, Saturday afternoon, for the championship.

Mrs. Callahan Leaving To Join Husband In Cal.

Mrs. William A. Callahan, formerly of Augustine Street, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sizer, on Clay Avenue. She will leave shortly with her son, who has returned from Peddie Institute where he is a student, for Hollywood, California, to join Mr. Callahan.

Mr. Callahan was formerly connected in an executive capacity with the Eastman Theater, previous to its purchase by the Public interests. At present he holds a high position in the west coast organization of the Fox chain of theaters. As assistant superintendent he is in direct charge of the entire Pacific coast chain and has spent considerable of his time traveling around the circuit.

Born and raised in the Glenwood Avenue section, Mr. Callahan is well known to Tenth Warders. Up until the last year or two he had always resided here and he leaves many friends who wish him success.

the good patriots landed and repaired themselves to the Oratorio to join the brilliant audience which had assembled to hear the sweet music rendered by the local talent—thus bringing to a fitting close the gay festivities of the day.

The Declaration of Independence

What a jolt the world got 153 years ago when the American Colonies united to declare their Independence! A home owned nation? Home owned industries? Home development? Such ideals were new and startling to an old world. Today America is the biggest success the world has ever known. Those colonists of 153 years ago discovered the truth—the success of a nation depends upon the happiness of its people.

Our Declaration of Independence

We wanted to give you better values—lower prices—better service. But we wanted to retain our home owned identity. The I. G. A. was the answer—an organization whose ideal is the American Ideal of home ownership. Our store belongs to this town. But just as our 48 states are united, we are united with thousands of other home owning grocers in the I. G. A. Now we give you the benefits of the I. G. A. nation wide buying and merchandising powers—good, wholesome foods at budget beating prices.

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

First Gubernatorial Canal Trip

Last week, Governor Roosevelt, setting forth from Albany with the idea of becoming state-minded, journeyed down the Barge Canal, making frequent stops at the towns and villages through which he passed and finally came to port at the Rochester Terminal where he remained over night.

The fine harbor, the new subway in the bed of the old Erie Canal and its superimposed street, presented to the Governor a very different aspect from that which greeted Governor De Witt Clinton, when the "Seneca Chief," a canal boat drawn by four gray horses brought him on his triumphal journey over the canal and through the first Rochester aqueduct, over one hundred years ago.

The first shovelsful of earth in the excavation of the Erie Canal were turned on July 4, 1817, at Rome, N. Y., by De Witt Clinton and Joshua Hathaway. On the same day Rochesterians held ceremonies marking the inauguration of the undertaking but work at this point was not begun until sometime later. Among the engineers who had part in the building of the canal were Benjamin White, James Geddes, C. White, David Thomas, David Bates, John B. Jervis, Nathan S. Roberts, Valentine Gill and Isaac Briggs. Roberts, Gill and Briggs later became residents of this city.

Open in 1825.

Some sections of the canal were opened to navigation in 1819 and on October 29, 1822 the first boatload of Rochester flour left Hills Basin for Little Falls. The first boatload of flour to cross the Rochester aqueduct is said to have been shipped from the warehouse of Daniel P. Parker of this city. The canal traffic in flour steadily increased and in the first ten days of navigation in 1823, two years before the final completion of the waterway, 10,000 barrels of flour were shipped from this city to Albany.

On October 24, 1825, the guard gates at Lockport were opened and water flowed into the canal so that transportation was possible over the entire length. Guns had been placed along the canal from Buffalo to Albany and thence along the Hudson river to New York City. At the moment that Governor Clinton started from Buffalo on Oct. 26 the first of these guns was fired, then as the sound reached the next gun, that too was fired, so that the reverberation was carried eastward until the final gun at New York City sounded just one hour and twenty minutes later.

October 27, the day on which the "Seneca Chief" was to arrive in Rochester, dawned chill and gray, with drizzling rain, but at two o'clock eight companies of militia turned out and the banks of the canal were lined with townspeople. A local committee headed by Jesse Hawley had gone to Buffalo and

RIVIERA INSTALLING AIR-COOLING SYSTEM

Installation of a huge air cooling and ventilating system, similar to those in use in all the larger theaters of the country, is underway at the Riviera Theater. When completed it will be possible to keep the theater at any desired temperature, and provides among other things an air-washing process whereby the air before being circulated in the auditorium is passed through cold water.

The system being installed at the Riviera is the same as at Roxy's Theater in New York and the new million dollar Grauman's Chinese Theater in Los Angeles. William E. Belcher, manager, has finally obtained the air cooling mechanism after a long period of negotiation with the home office of the Schine theaters, owners of the Riviera.

Three freight cars were required to ship the necessary equipment to Rochester and workmen are busy continuously rushing the job to completion. When installed, it will rank the Riviera with all the first-run houses of the country, according to Mr. Belcher.

Committeemen Meet To Plan Campaign

Among the first signs of awakening interest in the coming elections was the meeting of the Republican ward and county committeemen last Friday evening at the Republican headquarters on Driving Park Avenue. The meeting was principally for organization and the discussion of plans for the coming campaign.

Local leaders talked to the group of men and women on party organization and stressed the importance of petitions for councilman. The workers were urged to see that the voters of the Tenth Ward wait for the "regular" petitions for councilmen and not to sign others. Another meeting is scheduled for tomorrow evening at the same place.

BROTHERHOOD WILL HOLD LAWN SOCIAL THURSDAY, JULY 25

The spacious lawn of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Dewey avenue between Knickerbocker avenue and Avis street will be the scene of a gay festival next Thursday evening, July 25. The Brotherhood of the church will hold its lawn social and sausage roast at that time.

In addition to ice cream and cake and sausages, candy and cigars will be sold in special booths. A program of games is being arranged by the committee in charge and a six-piece orchestra will furnish music. Miss Ruth L. Green of Bryan street, violinist, will be soloist.

Rev. Williams Long Dowler, pastor, announces that the new church building will be open for inspection during the evening. All residents of the neighborhood are invited and may purchase tickets at the social.

Walter G. Barnett heads the committee which has been working hard to make the social an elaborate affair. Assisting him are Carl H. Knitt, C. Storandt, Grover A. Cliequennoi and Volney A. Pettinger.

FORMER ROCHESTERIAN TO PREACH AT CENTER

Rev. Frank A. Hunger, pastor of the Spring Street Presbyterian Church of New York city, will be the speaker at the Rochester Gospel Center, 134 South avenue, during the month of July, each Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

Rev. Hunger is a former Rochesterian and received his early education in the Rochester schools. After completing his Seminary work he was called to the Spring Street Church where he has been pastor for the past two years.

Four Tenth Ward Boys With Jamboree Troop

Included in the party of 47 Boy Scouts who embarked on the night boat for Montreal last night at Summerville on the way to the World Jamboree in England are four Tenth Ward Scouts. They are Charles and William Bragg, of Troop 81, and George Seel, Troop 112, of Seneca Parkway, and Frederick S. Miller, Troop 16, of Lake Avenue. William Bragg, better known as "Bill" is an assistant patrol leader.

Charles Bragg, who was made an eagle scout at the pre-Jamboree camp held during the week of July 14, has consented to keep a day-by-day diary of the trip for The Courier and to let the readers know how the Rochester troop fares in England and on its tour through continental Europe.

The opportunity to travel abroad under such auspices as these boys will enjoy is an unusual one and to say that the scouts were happy at the time of departure is putting it mildly. All four Tenth Ward boys are in different patrols, but that will make it more interesting, according to their own opinions. The Rochester troop will represent the United States in signalling, each of the patrols demonstrating a different system.

Give Dinner In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Newton

Members of the board of governors of the Ridgemont Golf Club and their wives joined in a farewell dinner on July 8 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Newton, of Electric Avenue, who sailed, July 13th, on a two months' trip to England. Mr. Newton, who is president of the club, was presented with a golf bag and purse on behalf of the board by Frederick J. Mix.

Mr. and Mrs. Mix have taken their automobile and expect to motor about England and Scotland.

Deweys To Play at Marshall Field, Sun.

The Deweys will meet some strong semi-pro team at the John Marshall diamond Sunday. "Ray" Schutt, steam ball artist, will do the hurling, with "Butch" Kelly behind the plate. The rest of the team will be made up of the following players: W. Hynes, 1b.; Dietz, 2b.; Witzel, s.s.; "Bernie" Hynes, 3b.; Cole, Auberger, Morse, Burke, Johnson, outfield.

Mr. Kannan will do the umpiring. All members of the team are asked to report for the game at 2:15 sharp. Games are wanted with teams in the semi-pro class. Call Glen. 2610-W or write B. Hynes, 149 Knickerbocker avenue.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN PREPARING FOR ANNUAL PICNIC ON JULY 31

Ticket sales for the annual picnic of the Tenth Ward Republican Women are reported to be unusually brisk and a record for this yearly field day is anticipated by Mrs. William H. Stell, chairman of the ticket committee. The outing will be held on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, July 31, at Ontario Beach Park as in the past.

A crowd numbering close to 2500 is expected and as in previous years this number will include many of the prominent residents of this section as well as a number of political figures of note in this and other wards. The women entertain ladies, men and children at their annual outing in a gala field day. Included on the program are a large number of sports events and a picnic supper.

Mrs. Catherine Schlegel is general chairman of the outing this year and promises that with the serving committee doubled this year there will be no long waits in line for food. The Park Band has been secured to furnish music.

TENTH WARD DOLLAR DAYS TOMORROW AND SATURDAY; MANY BUYS

A number of Tenth Ward stores are featuring dollar days tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday. They are offering as on past dollar days unusual bargains to the residents of this section. The opportunity to make large savings on these days has been demonstrated in previous dollar day sales and local people will find it to their advantage to get out and shop.

Whereas housewives have always been attracted to downtown stores on dollar days, many have found that the bargains to be had in their own community are just as worthwhile. In addition, Tenth Ward Dollar Days save the inconvenience and discomfort of downtown shopping and at the same time buyers are assured that each item offered is selected from regular stock and is not bought especially for the sale.

Boom Saunders For Special County Judge

Rumors around the Tenth Ward continued to be heard to the effect that Richard L. Saunders will be advanced as the candidate for special county judge this Fall to succeed Judge Henry D. Shedd, present incumbent. Mr. Saunders is at present assemblyman, but his friends say he is not adverse to the judgeship which pays $10,000 yearly.

As yet political leaders are keeping their own counsel and it is not definitely established as to whether or not Mr. Saunders has actually replaced Judge Shedd as the favorite of the ticket-makers. At any rate, it is said that some of the local Republicans do not regard the present judge as a highly active member of the organization, whereas it is pointed out that Mr. Saunders has been a hard worker and that his training as a lawyer fits him for the judgeship.

Vacationists Warned

As To Summer Danger

Safety should be included among vacation plans, is the warning being broadcast by the Safety Council of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, which has received from the Chicago office of the National Safety Council instructions as to how vacation accidents may be avoided. With the Fourth of July passed the National Safety Council expects that many fatalities will result from outdoor sports and trips, unless precautions are taken during the ensuing vacation period.

Boating and swimming are the vacation activities in which most accidents occur, the National Safety Council believes. Following are the suggested instructions given for proper conduct in boats and in swimming:

In getting into a rowboat, canoe, or small motorboat, step in the center, and, if necessary, steady yourself with a hand on each side. Sit in the middle of the seat. Never change seats except at the dock or the shore.

Learn to row and paddle as early as you can, and learn the ways of the boat you are going to use.

Never "fool" in a boat, and refuse to go out with anyone who does.

Learn to Swim

If you cannot swim, do not go out in a canoe except with an elder person who is a strong swimmer. Do not take persons out with you who cannot swim. It is a responsibility you have no right to assume.

Learn ways of righting an overturned boat, methods of lifesaving and resuscitation.

Be sure to learn how to swim this Summer. Keep out of water that is over your head until you can swim.

No matter how skillful a diver you are, make sure before you dive that the water is deep enough and that there are no rocks to strike against. Learn to dive with your eyes open.

Watch Currents

Find out all you can about a new bathing place before you go in.

When bathing in heavy surf, look out for currents running out, and keep away from piers and bulkheads. Sometimes old mines or quarries have filled up with water and made ponds. These are likely to be dangerous, for they go sheer down at the side with no preliminary slope. Remember, in taking risks you endanger not only your own life, but the life of the person who may go to your rescue. Many brave persons have lost their lives trying to rescue others.

Learn to swim well first and then practise to qualify as a lifesaver. Wait at least an hour after eating before you go into the water. Waiting two hours is much safer.

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian—The eleventh annual Vacation Church School was started July 1, with a registration of 59 boys and girls. While it is not the largest registration in the history of North Church Vacation Schools, it compares favorably with the registration in other schools in the city this year.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Miller is principal of the school, as she has been since 1919, the year of the first school in North Church, with the exception of the 1924 School, when she was in New York at Biblical Seminary.

This year the teaching staff consists of Miss Mildred Ferguson, director of the Kindergarten; Miss Anna C. Fiedler, superintendent of the Primary Department; Miss Ethel Robinson, superintendent of the Junior Department. Miss Ferguson is assisted by Helen Edwards, Ruth Rogers and Pluma Swain. Miss Fiedler's helpers are Miss Dorothea Adams, pianist; Miss Harriet Miller, in charge of handiwork; the Misses Isabel Bates, Frances Meulendyke, Mildred Palmer, Edith Shulenburg, Eileen Smith, Louise Stone, Hazel Yule, and Ellen Yule. In the Junior Department Miss Mildred Stebbins is pianist and general assistant.

A summer Christmas tree is being planned and the children will contribute gifts to decorate the tree. The gifts will later be sent to the North Church Missionary, Rev. John D. Henry, of New Mexico.

The Vacation School Exhibit will be held on Thursday evening, July 25th at 7:45 o'clock when the boys and girls will share with their parents and friends some of the happy times they have enjoyed during the four weeks of the school. Every one is invited to come.

The pastor, Rev. William Graham Kennedy, D. D., is spending a few days at Skaneateles Lake and will return to preach on Sunday, July 21st.

Grace M. E. Church — Sunday school session at 10:00 a. m. and church service at 11:00 a. m. Dr. Davies will preach at this service. The special music will include a quartet/number, "Open Thou Mine Eyes" by Bailey and a duet, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" sung by the Misses Mildred Dean and Grace Waite.

Moths in Mohair

A beautiful mohair suite is soon devastated when moths get busy. The larvae cut into the cloth and the nap falls off, exposing the loom and the only way to remedy the situation is to exterminate the moths before they have done damage that cannot be repaired.

Delano Furniture Company is making a specialty of moth extermination and has a guaranteed method that has proved its efficiency. This company calls for the furniture to be cleaned of moths and in a few days' time returns it, as it was in its original state. Numerous patrons have enlisted the aid of the Delano Company in saving valuable upholstery and have been entirely satisfied by the clean, speedy manner in which the larvae have been completely exterminated without the slightest damage to the furniture.

The Delano Company is located at 481 Lyell avenue. A call over the phone to Glenwood 5457 will bring the moth doctor to your home. Prices are reasonable. Work is guaranteed. Call them now before the moths have damaged your furniture beyond repair.—adv.

John O'Donnell and Thomas Tandylyn, of Truck 8, and Clayton Sullivan and Harry Hall, of Hose 20, left Tuesday on a month's vacation.

Historical Background
Of The Tenth Ward

accompanied Governor Clinton on his way to Rochester. At the entrance to Child's Basin at the west end of the aqueduct, the "Seneca Chief" was met by the "Lion of the West" on which were several Rochesterians.

"Noah's Ark" Follows.

An elaborate dialogue of greeting and reply passed between the two parties and Governor Clinton and his staff were then taken to the old First Presbyterian Church on the site of the present City Hall, where the speeches of welcome and comment on the event were made by the Rev. Joseph Penny and Timothy Childs. The party was then entertained at dinner at Christopher's hotel on Carroll Street, now State street.

Following the "Seneca Chief" was another canal boat which was familiarly called the "Noah's Ark", since it carried a cargo of birds, animals and fish from the Lake Erie country, which were to be released when the boat arrived at New York City.

The agitation for an inland waterway through New York State goes back to 1773 when Christopher Colles lectured in New York City on "Inland Lock Navigation." In 1807 plans for the canal were under discussion and Jesse Hawley of this city subsequently wrote several papers for the Genesee Messenger under the name of "Hercules" urging the building of a canal from the Hudson River to Lake Erie. Myron Holley, later of Rochester, was made a canal commissioner in 1816. In 1810 the New York State Legislature appointed a commission which made a survey of a proposed route. At that time the surveying party found only a swamp on the present site of Rochester, while at Buffalo, there were 40 houses, some taverns and the Niagara County Court House.

Quarry at Bull's Head.

Old maps of Rochester show differing proposed routes for the canal and at one time it was proposed to swing it far to the north of the route finally chosen. The first aqueduct built at Rochester was 40 feet wide with a draft of 4 feet and was completed Oct. 7, 1823 at a cost of $63,000. The second aqueduct was completed in 1835 at a cost of $600,000 and at the same time the canal was widened.

The stone for the first aqueduct was quarried on the present site of St. Mary's Hospital, then known as Bull's Head. It is said that portions of this stone found its way into the walls which were built around the Western House of Refuge which was erected 10 years after the first aqueduct was demolished. If this is true the same stone may now be seen in the walls of the Art Building at Edgerton Park, for this building was erected from the material salvaged when the high walls around the grounds of the school were razed.

One of the flourishing enterprises which came into being with the opening of the canal was the general store located conveniently close to its banks, preferably near a lock and carrying an unlimited supply of goods of all kinds and conditions. It sold food for both horse and man; horseshoes, clothing, tow ropes, pike poles, tobacco and strong drink. The canal boat would slip into the lock, a boy from the store, known as a "runner" would go aboard, take the order, and return to the store to have it filled. The entire transaction, including the delivery of the purchased goods, took place while the boat was in the lock.

Families Live on Board.

The canal boats were drawn by mules and horses owned by lines that contracted for the towing privilege, each team doing a trick of 12 miles. Later the practice of each canal boat carrying its own teams became common and shortly afterwards the companies organized to tow the boats were dissolved.

The canal captains in the old days were domestic fellows, who took their wives aboard with them. Frequently when the boats were laid up for the winter, the families would remain aboard. Dances and

A shady joke,
She doesn't neck;
She doesn't smoke.
She doesn't swear;
She never flirts.
She doesn't wear
Those shortened skirts.
She doesn't dance,
She doesn't sing.
And sheiks in pants
Don't mean a thing.
She doesn't use
The beauty salves,
But won't refuse
To show her calves.
You ask her name?
Well, that's a wow—
She's not a dame.
She's just a COW.

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

The Genesee River

The mouth of the river as we see it to-day, with its piers and light-house, its sandy beaches on either side, and municipal park, bears little resemblance to the wide marshy channels, forming a swampy bay, through which the Senecas used to glide in their elm bark canoes.

The "Little Seneca" river as it was known to the Indians, ran through the forest primeval and bold indeed was the invader who followed its windings into the interior from the lake, while the Senecas were lords of the domain.

Tramping along the old trail from Hanford's Landing to the falls we can easily imagine it as it was in La Salle's day a mere 24 inches wide, beaten down hard into the sod and following as it does today the windings of the river. As we look out upon the shining ribbon of the gentle current, it takes but a little imagining to people it now with swiftly moving canoes, gleaming red shoulders and flashing paddles. It was a stream beloved by the Indian as it was also his stronghold.

Legend Connected With Cliff

The summit of the hill over which Lake Avenue passes (Burke's hill) was once the site of a large Indian town and all the slope and low ground east of that place to the river and north to Hanford's Landing was used for camping purposes. There were numerous springs along this hillside and the Indians obtained flint from a quarry on the edge of the bluff. Little heaps of flint chips, half finished and broken arrow-heads and other weapons of stone were found in the woods of that locality by the early settlers.

There is a legend connected with a cliff near the lower falls. It is said that a pale-faced stranger paddled up the river one summer's day long years ago. He came alone, directly to an Indian camp on the river's edge and remained with the tribe. In time, his native country and his people were forgotten in the happiness of loving and being loved by a beautiful forest maiden. They were married in the Indian fashion and the days passed away like moments in their lodge "near the singing cataract." One day a strange canoe filled with white men came up the Genesee in search of the pale-faced wanderer who proved to be an exiled chieftain (nobleman) of France. His friends came to carry him back to honor and fortune, but his heart was in the wildwoods and he refused to go. Then they sought to compel him, but clasp his Indian wife in his arms, the exile rushed to the brink of a great cliff where the rock rose straight up above the water and springing far out over

BUSINESS MEN OF LAKE, RIDGE ASS'N TO PICNIC AUG. 21

Tickets are expected to go on sale today for the first picnic of the Lake & Ridge Business Men's Association. The tickets will come in a specially prepared "smileage book" originated especially for the outing.

Preparations for the affair are nearing completion. The date has been set for Wednesday, August 21, and the site selected is the new county park, known as Ellison Park, just outside the eastern limits of the city. George Hartman heads the picnic committee with Charles P. Coster, president of the association, as sub-chairman. Others on the committee are James Vanglis, D. Ward, J. Boyle and Harvey Johnson.

Mr. Johnson heads the dinner committee, which will precede the picnic to the park and have the dinner ready when the business men and their friends arrive. It is planned to serve the dinner at 2 o'clock.

Present plans call for the closing of stores by members at 1 o'clock. All are requested to be in the lineup of cars on Owen Street, ready to start promptly at 1:30. The plan is for the entire party to proceed to the county park in a body.

A sports committee headed by Mr. Boyle is arranging a program of events for men, women and children to be held throughout the afternoon. The business men are donating a number of prizes, individually, to be awarded to the winners. Quoits and baseball are also among the sports features.

The picnic will not be restricted to business men alone, according to the committee. Any interested resident may purchase a ticket and may bring his wife and family.

Henry Kondolf, of New York City, was the guest last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bechtold, of Seneca Parkway, at their summer home at Shore Acres.

Dr. and Mrs. Sylvanus S. Davies of Mason street, are spending the month of August on vacation near Rochester and vicinity.

Assisting Miss Jorolemon in the program arrangement were the following teachers: Miss Butler, Miss Vreeland, Miss Beatrice Jorolemon, Miss Helen Laushey and Miss Meader.

TENTH REPUBLICAN WOMEN DRAW 3500 TO ANNUAL OUTING

Two score ladies, working diligently, systematically and efficiently dished out at least 2500 helpings of beans, potatoes, fish, ice cream, cake, etc., yesterday afternoon in record time. They were the members of the supper committee of the annual Tenth Ward Republican Women's outing at Ontario Beach park and it was quite generally agreed that the huge task of feeding so many hungry people in the short time allotted was admirably accomplished by the ladies.

The perfect summer weather swelled the attendance and whereas preparations had been made for only 2,000, it was estimated that there was another thousand who made the trip to the beach, but only half of whom were fed. The total attendance, including men, women and children during the afternoon and evening was easily 3,500.

With a larger serving committee on hand this year, it was possible to form five lines of supper seekers and everyone was served promptly.

Among those present were William B. Zimmer, deputy attorney-general of the state, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Saunders, Congressman Whitley and Mrs. Whitley, Judges Henry Dean Shedd and Arthur Wilder; Councilmen Milne and Guzzetta, and Miss Mary Fahy and Miss Marrietta Allen, clerk and assistant-clerk, respectively, of Surrogate Court.

Will Repair Driving Park Avenue Bridge

Driving Park Avenue bridge will be closed to traffic within the next few days, for necessary repairs, according to Commissioner Baker of the Department of Public Works. The bridge will be closed to traffic for a period of about two weeks while the surface planks are being replaced.

The public works department is awaiting a shipment of lumber which has been ordered, and work will be started as soon as this material arrives. Commissioner Baker promises that the job will be rushed and that the department expects to work sixteen hours a day on the re-planking.

TO HOLD POSTPONED SOCIAL TONIGHT AT REDEEMER CHURCH

Rainy weather forced the postponement of the lawn social and sausage roast of the Brotherhood of the Church of the Redeemer on Dewey Avenue which was scheduled for last Thursday evening on the lawn of the church located between Knickerbocker Avenue and Avis Street.

In addition to ice cream and cake and sausages, candy and cigars will be sold in special booths. A program of games has been arranged by the committee in charge and a six-piece orchestra will furnish music. Miss Ruth L. Green, of Bryan Street, violinist, will be soloist.

Rev. William Long Dowler, pastor, announces that the new church building will be open for inspection during the evening. All residents of the neighborhood are invited and may purchase tickets at the social.

Walter G. Barnett heads the committee. Assisting him are Carl H. Knitt, Wm. C. Storandt, Grover A. Cliquetnooi and Volney A. Pettinger.

H. A. Johnston To Try Fishing For Salmon

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Johnston, of Maplewood Avenue, will leave Saturday for their summer home at Birch Lodge, Kawartha Lake, Canada. They will be gone until after Labor Day.

Salmon fishing is exceptionally good in this region, according to Mr. Johnston, who has just received word of several good catches from his Canadian guide. Salmon caught

DEWEY'S BUSINESS MEN TO PLAY BALL WED. AT MAPLEWOOD

Weary of watching others indulge in the national pastime and anxious to get their own hands into the game, business men of Dewey Avenue have decided to have a few games of baseball themselves. Consequently they have arranged the first of a proposed series of contests for next Wednesday afternoon, August 7th, at lower Maplewood Park.

Judging from the brand of baseball displayed in the recent game with the business men of Lyell Avenue, the veterans of Dewey Avenue are still good for a few more games. As a matter of fact, it was in this game that the business men discovered ability they had never known of previously. Hence the anxiety to get into the game rather than to occupy a seat in the bleachers.

Although some of the veterans were even confident enough to demand that the contests be played with the regulation major league hard ball, wiser heads saw instantly the havoc that might result. Therefore it has been resolved to use the indoor ball and bat.

Two teams are rapidly taking shape and rivalry of the keen variety should be noticeable next Wednesday afternoon. The men in the Driving Park section are gathering together such well known and experienced diamond stars as Frank Rubadou, Earl Baynes, Elmer Schubert, George Bauman, Roy Rathke, DeMallie and Winter-both or both, "Ty Cobb" Martin, "Doc" Strassner, Herbert Schulz, Charlie Bantel and others. They will represent the "North."

The boys in "Grey" or otherwise the "South," are being rounded together under the guiding hands of John Schmanke and Jib DeVisser. They have already signed up Milt Rose, Mack Lundgard, Harry Peters, Cy Cramer, George Rogers, and George Ester and are out looking for a few more recruits before the opening day rolls around.

The picnic this year has been definitely canceled. At the meeting held for organizing a committee, it was decided that the baseball contests be substituted for the outing and that an affair, possibly a clambake be staged early in September.

In that section, he says, range from 7 to 15 pounds. Mr. Johnston, who owns the H. A. Johnston Kleen Bakeries, has a seven-room log cabin on the lake which he visits each Summer.

The Civic Orchestra

The appointment of Edward L. Miner to take charge of the funds of the Civic orchestra is greeted with applause by local papers and we also feel that the choice is a happy one. However, we have fears that seem to be disregarded or at least not considered by others.

In the first place there is going to be a gentle let-down of many of the musicians whose contracts will terminate this week at the Eastman Theatre. Many of the instrumentalists who for a number of years played with the orchestra and who have homes established here have been out of work since last May inasmuch as they had no contracts. Others brought in from out-of-town asked for and received contracts last fall, but these expire August 1. Hence the largest theater orchestra in the country is quite likely to be entirely dismembered this week.

Now it is also quite likely that many of these musicians have been offered contracts for the coming year to play in the Civic orchestra, but they will be wary of one-year contracts. They do not know what is likely to happen within the next year and more pointedly they are not sure that a campaign for funds will terminate successfully as it did this year. Hence offers elsewhere will draw many acceptances unless someone can produce some inducement such as assured continuity of the Civic orchestra, to make the future more certain.

The Ridge Road Bridge

According to a recent announcement in a local newspaper, Frank P. McKibbin, consulting engineer, will be retained by the city to make plans for the new Ridge road bridge and the work will be started in the Spring of next year. This story evidently means that the most pressing need of the north side of Rochester will be taken care of, but it also definitely establishes the fact that Smith street bridge will be given the preference. The replacement of the Smith street structure, despite the fact that it seems to many an error in judgment, will come first and then city-officials will turn their attention to the new bridge.

No one doubts the fact that the present administration is sincere about carrying out the oft-repeated promise to build a Ridge road bridge; but we do feel that there is reasonable doubt that the work will actually be under way in the Spring. We also feel very strongly, as we have stated previously, that the problem of conveying traffic across the river will be a serious one as soon as Smith street bridge is closed.

If there is any genuine desire for the Ridge road bridge, and we believe there is, now is the time for the various organizations of the Tenth Ward to come together and to let the city administration know about it. Let the heads of such strong community organizations as the Dewey and Lake-Ridge Business Men's Associations and the Lower Tenth Ward Improvement Association, all non-political groups working for the advancement of the Tenth Ward, get together and demonstrate that the Tenth Ward is ready to fight for improvement—be it a bridge or any other project.

Work on the installation of a ventilating system in the Riviera Theatre is progressing and is expected to be completed within the next week. There has been a temporary hold-up in the work awaiting special steel girders, being made by the F. L. Hughes Co.

Engineers from New York City are working night and day to complete the installation. For hoisting some of the girders and equipment up to the roof of the theater, it was necessary to procure the services of a tractor crane.

Tells of Conditions

Now In Nicaragua

Some indication of the conditions prevailing in Nicaragua are contained in communication received by Joseph A. Bush, of Maryland Street, from his son, Jos. A. Bush, Jr., who is stationed at San Albino, near the Honduras border with the United States Marines.

Private Bush writes that he is stationed in a mining camp and his principle job is to patrol and be on the lookout for outbreaks on the part of bandits, who, he says, are still active. Insects and heat make the job a rather trying experience, but he says that he is enjoying the novelty of the situation. He flew by airplane to his present station over 180 miles of jungle, swamps and mountains.

In order to patrol efficiently, he writes that it is necessary for the guards to cut their way through the underbrush on patrol duty. There are only about 75 natives in San Albino and they have a genuine fear of the bandits. However, he relates that it is hard to tell a bandit from a native and the Marines are not sure but that some of the docile inhabitants may also work at the business of banditry.

The outlaws are cowardly at heart, he says, for they will not stand and fight. Their method is sniping and after they have fired they turn and run. Twenty Marines can route 100 bandits whose morale is inferior to that of animals.

Funeral Services For

Mrs. Bush Tomorrow

Mrs. Mary Abbie Bush, 80, of 719 Dewey Avenue, widow of the late George B. Bush, died Tuesday at her home. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the residence and burial will take place in Pittsfield, Mass.

Although advanced in years, Mrs. Bush always lead an active life. Besides being interested in many civic affairs, she traveled considerably, visiting her son, Martin H. Bush, in Needham, Mass., each Summer. Her late husband was well-known in business circles, having been a partner in the dry goods firm of Bush & Bull located for many years on State Street.

Among three sons surviving Mrs. Bush is Joseph H. Bush, of Maryland Street, secretary of the school census board and also secretary of the Tenth Ward Republican Club. Another son, Arthur, also makes his home at the Dewey Avenue address. Mrs. Bush also leaves a granddaughter, Mrs. Marion H. Pritchard; one grandson, Joseph A. Bush, of the United States Marine Corps, at Nicaragua; and one great-granddaughter, Barbara M. Pritchard.

Private Bush, who enlisted about a year ago, expects to be stationed in Nicaragua for two more years. Communications, he says, are welcome.

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian. On Thursday, July 25th, the eleventh annual Vacation Church School, sponsored by the Church, held its closing program. Selections of Scripture were recited by the three departments of the school and musical numbers were given by them to illustrate the type of work done in the different departments.

The junior department sang "The Heavens Are Declaring" by Beethoven as part of their contribution to the general program. As an example of the handwork done in the school, a dramatization was given by representatives of all the departments entitled "How Their Dream Came True."

The dramatization portrayed children of New Mexico waiting for the visit of Rev. John D. Henry, the missionary assisted by North Presbyterian Sunday School. As they waited, they sat by the roadside and fell asleep. While they slept, children from the North Church Vacation School appeared and offered them gifts; but vanished as the children from New Mexico awoke to find they had been dreaming. The Spirit of Friendliness, impersonated by Grace Jameson, then appeared and asked the whole school to help make the dream come true by contributing Christmas gifts to be sent to New Mexico, so that "Mr. Henry may help to make Christmas in New Mexico as merry as ours will be."

As Christmas hymns were played, a little pine tree which was part of the stage setting, was decorated with Christmas tree trimmings contributed by the children and other gifts were arranged around the tree; the dramatization closed with the singing of "O Holy Child of Bethlehem, descend to us we pray" by the entire congregation.

Besides Grace Jameson, the children who had a part in the dramatization were John Swain, Dorothy Dinehart, Marjorie Dinehart, Winifred Bradbury, Erma Dugan, Floyd Dugan, Phyllis Johnston, Catherine Johnston, Virginia Dugan, Ethel Jones, Ronald Westfall, Robert Ambrose, Marian Jameson.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Miller, principal, was assisted in the work of the school by Miss Anna C. Fiedler, Miss Mildred Clare, Miss Harriet C. Miller, Miss Dorothea Adams, and a large group of young people from the Loyalty Circle, Westminster Guild, in the primary department; Miss Mildred Ferguson, Miss Helen Edwards, Miss Ruth Rogers and Pluma Swain in the kindergarten; and Miss Ethel Robinson and Miss Mildred Stebbins, in the Junior Department.

In the death of George C. Cross, who died on July 25th, as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident on Saturday, July 20th, North Church suffered a severe loss. For many years Mr. Cross has been the church treasurer and a member of the board of trustees.

In speaking of him at the morning service on Sunday, Dr. William Graham Keinedy, pastor of the church, said: "The life of Mr. Cross has been to all an example of what the life of a quiet, loyal person may mean. Coming to the church a young man, he was one of the charter members, he gave many years of faithful service. It is ours to try to fill his place by something of the same quiet loyalty in ourselves and by inspiring it in our younger men so that he may still live on in the church to which he so generously gave himself."

KOENIG—DAVISON

Miss Mary F. Davison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Davison, of Maplewood Avenue, and Claremont J. Koenig, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Otto Koenig, of Seneca Parkway, were married July 22 at the summer home of the bride's parents in Hilton. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father. Music was furnished by Miss Doris Davison and Gus Clements.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served.

Prenuptial events were given by Miss Helen Hincer, Miss Clare Thomas, Miss Elizabeth Sullivan, Miss Grace Madden, Mrs. Herbert Davison, Miss Dolores Barron and Miss Grace Madden.

Mr. and Mrs. Koenig will live in New Haven, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Grady are living at 176 Steko Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Smith returned last week end from Canada where they spent a number of weeks.

the precipice, the two were crushed and mangled on the rocks below. Tradition has failed to preserve the names of the white brave and his dusky bride or to identify the place of their death. The brief description of the locality answers equally well to the bluff opposite the old Glen House or the dell at Handford's Landing. At this point the bank rises very sheer and a stone can be cast from the top of the cliff to the water's edge of the landing below.

First Boat Built Here

From the landing a path ran along the water at the base of the bluff, up the river to the lower falls at the spot now called Buell's Landing and directly opposite Brewer's Dock. A path led up the face of the jutting rocks reaching the table land in the vicinity of the flint quarry and natives crossing the river often climbed this steep path in preference to the longer route by the lower landing.

The first white settlers in this vicinity (Gideon King and others) widened the path leading up the great sloping bank from the old Indian landing north to a wagon road.

In 1798 Eli Granger laid the keel of the "Jemima," a schooner of 40 tons and the first American vessel built on the Genesee. Some say the first built near Lake Ontario.

At the foot of this road the landing, then called King's, later Handford, became the lake port and there the steamer Ontario first touched the river when she commenced her trips in 1817. From the landing a second path curved up the little promontory on the north side of the dell and extended around the edge of the cliff to the old fort. From that place it ran up the creek to the main or ridge trail which it crossed at some distance west of the present boulevard. Continuing along the north bank of the creek to the farm of Samuel Truesdale where a giant skeleton was unearthed in 1878, it turned west along the mountain ridge, running straight to a spring on the farm of George H. Lee. Indians came up this creek and camped in Mr. Truesdale's chestnut grove until 1853.

Bears and Muskrats

The fame of the beauty of the Genesee River, its falls and picturesque gorge preceded by many years that of its extensive hydraulic power. The fame of its fevers and rattlesnakes was possibly in advance of either. Rattlesnakes, fever and ague gave it a very unattractive individuality in spite of its abundance of deer and other game. The beaver, forever associated with Father Hennepin's brief visit in 1679 was nearly extinct when the Senecas gave up their hunting grounds. But there were bears, otters, muskrats and minks; wild ducks and geese; and not a few wild cats and panthers. In fact so bad was its reputation for human habitation that many years later when help was requested from the legislature for a bridge across the Genesee the reply was "What for? Bears and muskrats?"

Although there were many who held a reasonable fear of the dangerous and unhealthful conditions of this great wilderness, the more venturesome pioneers of the day, lured by tales of great waterfalls and scenic grandeur, made historic visits to the banks of the Genesee; Charlevoix, who in 1721 describes the river as "very narrow and of little depth at its entrance into the lake and a sailing boat of any pretensions whatever could not enter the Genesee save when the wind was right;" La Salle, who made a map of the river from the falls to the lake, together with nearby ponds; and in 1797 Louis Philippe, accompanied by a courtly gentleman of high degree, who endured the perilous ride from Canandaigua to see the wonderful cataracts of which they had heard so much.

William E. Burns, of Augustine Street, is spending a two weeks' vacation at Grand View Beach.

Captain Long, of Engine 10, is returning today from a two weeks' fishing trip.

MEYERS—PICKETT

The marriage of Miss Viola H. Pickett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pickett, of Glenwood Avenue, and Harry E. Meyers, son of Mrs. Newton Andrews, of Driving Park Avenue, took place July 20th, at 4 o'clock at the rectory of the Grace Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. S. Davies.

The bride wore white georgette with a picture hat and slippers to match. She carried bride's roses, lilies of the valley and gypsophila. The matron of honor, Mrs. Edward Donner, wore yellow georgette with a picture hat to match and a corsage of roses and gypsophila. The best man was Edward Donner.

After the ceremony a wedding shower was served at Odenbach's.

Prenuptial events included a shower by Mrs. Harmon MacDonald, of Driving Park Avenue; a personal shower by Mrs. Cleveland Hall, of Belknap Street; a variety shower by Mrs. Louis Pickett.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyers will live in Rochester.

STEPHENS—BEEMAN

The marriage of Miss Anna Beeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Beeman, of California Dr., to Donald M. Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Church, of Dewey Avenue, took place recently in the Lake Avenue Baptist Church. The Rev. Dr. A. W. Beaven performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends of the couple.

Miss Agnes Harrington was the bride's only attendant and Paul Stephens, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride wore a gown of ivory white satin and her tulle veil was made in band fashion and trimmed with orange blossoms. White roses and lilies of the valley formed her bouquet. Miss Harrington wore yellow chiffon with picture hat to match and carried yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception took place at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Out of town guests were Mrs. Charles Shultz, Mrs. Fred Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. George Garrison, of Berwick, Pa., and Sherman Beeman, of Canandaigua.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens left by motor for Philadelphia, Easton and Berwick, Pa.

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

Rochester's First Settler

When Rochester was a wilderness occupied by Indians and wild animals, William Hinchey settled where later the village of Charlotte came into existence. Since the city has annexed the village the honor of being the first settler in Rochester falls to this pioneer.

William Hinchey was the hardy adventurous type. He made the trip from Brookfield, Massachusetts, with his family of seven girls and one boy in the winter of 1789-90. He brought with him two yoke of oxen, twelve hogs and some horses. The journey was slow and fraught with hardship, taking about eight months, including time spent at Tioga Point, N. Y., where the family stopped to give the beasts a rest. When he reached Canandaigua some of the settlers there were building the first log house, and asked him to stay a short time and help them complete it.

The rest of the adventurers undertook the remainder of the journey under the leadership of the son, William, who although only about 20 years of age was familiar with the wilderness. He made one mistake however, which added to their journey and caused some inconvenience. Instead of crossing the ford above the falls, he continued to travel on the east side down to the lake. There he saw his mistake, and it was necessary for the party to retrace its steps, because the place where the father desired to settle was on the west side of the river.

Loses Trail

On the pilgrimage Mrs. Hinchey had an experience which she probably did not soon forget. With her two youngest children secured to her body she was leading the way on horseback following the blazes on the trees. In the afternoon she rode briskly, leaving the oxen and the slowly moving members behind while she went in search of a place where they might spend the night. The snow was deep and she missed the trail which was a blind one at best. Darkness was falling over the country which was covered with trees and underbrush as well as snowdrifts.

One's mind turns to the thought of what a mother of the present generation would do under such conditions. Mrs. Hinchey was a pioneer mother, with a fearless heart and patient under difficulties. She was unable to find the trail as she was without a compass, and her horse was nearly exhausted. However she plodded on and at length was rewarded with the sight of a light dimly shining in the distance, where she found the rest of

REYNOLDS BOWLING HALL ON THURSTON TO OPEN SEPT. 15

Eight perfect tournament alleys, erected under the specifications of the American Bowling Congress will be added to the city's recreation centers next month with the completing of the Reynolds Bowling Hall on Thurston road. The alleys, laid out on one floor under the personal supervision of Frank J. Reynolds, owner of the hall, will be opened officially on September 15, in the rear of 374 Thurston road.

The alleys have been arranged in spacious quarters and there will be ample room for spectators. In addition there will be a large dining room for clubs and parties. The erection of these alleys will make available one of the finest bowling alleys in the city, equipped with Kaw alleys.

Many reservations have already been made by clubs and leagues, but there are several open dates, according to Mr. Reynolds, and those wishing to set aside dates are asked to call him at Genesee 3650.

Mr. Reynolds plans also to arrange for ladies' bowling parties in the afternoons. The sport is rapidly growing in popularity with the ladies and it is Mr. Reynolds' aim to encourage further participation in this healthful exercise. He also plans to offer the usual prizes for high score.

CLEVELAND MINISTER PREACHES AT NORTH PRESBYTERIAN SUN.

On Sunday, August 11, the pulpit of North Church was supplied by the Rev. Frank W. Weston, D.D., of Geneva, N. Y.

On August 18, Rev. Louis F. Ruf, D.D., of Cleveland, Ohio, will preach, and on August 25th, the Rev. F. L. McCauley, of Cohoes, N. Y.

The pastor, Rev. William Graham Kennedy, D.D., and Mrs. Kennedy, with their daughter, Joan, are spending the month of August at Lake View House, Cobourg, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of Perinton street, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rogers of Robin street, will leave next week on a two weeks' trip by motor, through the New England states.

COMMENT CRITICISM

By the Editor

The sponsoring by the Rochester Federation of Women's Clubs of the move to create a half-holiday on Wednesdays throughout the year for those employed in markets, groceries, bakeries and delicatessen shops is an encouraging sign to the writer. A full week's work with only Sunday to break the monotony of a continuous grind six days a week is too much for the human machine.

Numerous merchants have tried to inaugurate the custom during the summer months, but meeting with only partial cooperation are rapidly being forced to give up the half-holiday. Manufacturers long ago have realized the necessity of an extra-half-holiday and many are now giving their employees a full day besides Sunday, due to the successful results attained.

Work at the same old job week in and week out throughout the year and you lose much of the vitality that is so necessary to success today. To break away from the grind and then to come back and dig in with an entirely different point of view, refreshed and renewed, is living, whereas a continuous, never-leave-off spirit leads to nothing more than an existence.

Considerable of the blame for the present trend backward to a six-day week is laid at the door of the chain-store systems. They have eliminated the mid-week half holiday and have practically forced independents to follow their lead. If they are interested in creating a fine morale in their organizations and instilling loyalty in their employees they will halt the backward march by resuming half-holidays. It has been said that business is likely to be lost for the day, if not permanently if any one particular merchant closes his store on Wednesday afternoon and this is quite apt to be true. But, on the other hand, if every store were to close, we are quite sure the housewife would be only too pleased to do her shopping on Wednesday morning and then there would be no loss to any one. Furthermore the merchant himself and his employees would make re-embursement for their half-holiday in extra energy and initiative which in substance is equivalent to a monetary return.

The federation proposes to appoint committees to call on all the food stores of the city and also will work among the women to create a sentiment for the half-holiday. It is the opportunity which many, perhaps all merchants, have been awaiting. United action alone will bring the desired results.

NORTH REPELLED BY SOUTH DEWEY; PLAY LYELL AVENUE WED.

The northern forces under the war like leadership of John Schmanke nearly wrought havoc a week ago at Lower Maplewood Park when they engaged in combat with the southern forces of George Bauman and as a matter of fact might completely have annihilated their friendly enemies had they not suddenly remembered that ancient proverb about chivalry, valor or what will you.

At any rate the tempest in a teapot was all over the ball game between the two extreme of Dewey Avenue as represented by the business men. It seems that a certain Pettinger who threw a baseball so fast that Cy Martin, Roy Rathke and Wes Cunningham, husky though they be, refused to step up to the plate and take their turns at bat for fear of pneumonia, was hurling for the northerners. But after a couple of innings in which each southerner took his turn at walloping a lot of air three times, Captain Schmanke relented and called in Mack Lundgard from first base.

Then the Bauman outfit started to work and before the end of the game had corralled 17 runs or enough to win by a margin of six more or less earned runs. It was an unusually interesting game, with both old-timers and youngsters figuring in the combat. Among those who starred were George Rogers, Milt Rose, the Hertzberg brothers, Bert Wallace, and "Doc" Strassner, who was the winning pitcher. Incidentally Harry Peters arrived just in time to umpire a second pick-up

WOMEN TO DISCUSS

WED. HALF-HOLIDAY

AT GARDEN PARTY

One of the features of the first annual garden party of the Rochester Federation of Women's Clubs, which is to be held today at the Phelps Apartments, 358 Lake Avenue, will be a talk on half-holidays the year-round for those who are employed in groceries, markets, bakeries and delicatessen stores by Mrs. L. H. Jacobs.

The Federation at a meeting of the Executive Board recently took a stand in favor of the half-holiday and a resolution to that effect was passed by the board. It is the plan of the women's clubs to take an active part in inaugurating a year-round half-holiday in food stores throughout the city.

The garden party will be held during the afternoon, beginning at 2:30. Hots, salads, coffee, ice cream and cake and other foods will be served. In the evening the Harmony Girls will play from 7 until 10. Mrs. Helen Curtis Smith will be soloist, accompanied by Miss Alice Wysard. William Boothby will speak in the evening.

Mrs. Nellie German will be hostess, assisted by the following officers of the Federation: Mrs. Minnie E. Henrix, president; Mrs. Ward K. Angevine, Mrs. William Green and Mrs. Gilbert Lewis, vice-presidents; Mrs. Clarence Hedges, recording secretary; Mrs. John McIntyre, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Nellie Taylor, auditor, and Mrs. Edythe Hoeft, Mrs. Anna Elliott, Mrs. Wm. Banteleon, Mrs. Nellie Russ, Mrs. M. Rickard, Mrs. Jennie Lord, Mrs. Helen Curtis Smith and Miss Grace Bradfield, directors.

Mrs. Hendrix extends a cordial invitation to all residents of The Vicinity to be present. Admission is free.

SMILEAGE BOOK IS OFFICIAL GUIDE TO LAKE, RIDGE PICNIC

"Smile a smile, and while you smile, another smiles and soon there's miles and miles of smiles, and life is worth living because you smiled at the Lake and Ridge Men's Association picnic."

The above quotation appears in a little panel on the front page of the "Smileage Book," a publication especially concocted for the first outing of the business men and their helpers and friends to be held next Wednesday afternoon, August 21, at Ellison park. The publication was compiled, written and published by Charles P. Coster, president of the association and vice-skipper of the picnic committee.

In lieu of a ticket each person purchasing the right to one reservation at the dinner table to be set up and provisioned by Harvey Johnson and his committee is being given one of these "smileage books." The dinner ticket is incorporated in the book and is perforated to allow its presentation at the table.

Besides all this the little book is a guide to all the activities of the afternoon. It lists a number of "Do's" and "Don't's," among which is an admonition not to be late as the automobile parade is scheduled to leave Owen street at 1:30 P. M. Turning over another page, one observes that a most mysterious personage will be brought to light on the picnic grounds. He will be no other than the most popular person at the picnic. A perforated voting coupon is also included for this purpose.

Under the head of sports one is informed that indoor baseball, tag-of-war and quoits will comprise a part of the program. Then there are five races for the boys and girls and an event half dozen for the men and women, mostly of the humorous variety, judging by the titles.

The inside pages are brought to a finale with a poetical version of a happy youngster who has spent a busy day at the business men's picnic. It is said to be from the pen of the varsity president although there was no definite confirmation.

Bringing up the van of the book is a list of the various business men who just at present are planning all the details and functioning as the general committee under Chairman George Hartman. It includes besides Mr. Coster, F. H. Doell, association vice-president; Gerald C. Kenny, secretary; C. E. Marsh, treasurer, and privates R. D. Ward, Harvey Johnson, Jimmy Vonglis and Tommy Boyle.

game with Bob Hall on the sidelines cheering the efforts of his neighboring business men.

Although further hostilities have been demanded and will be staged, the Dewey Avenue Business Men are preparing an all-star line-up for next Wednesday afternoon, August 21st, when they are scheduled to have tea with the Lyell Avenue Business Men and they are concentrating all their efforts to round out a nine that will avenge the defeat served up by the Dutchtown aggregation a few weeks ago at Island Cottage. The game next Wednesday will be called at 3 o'clock at Lower Maplewood.

the family with the stock. When the pioneers reached the site of their choice they lived with Indian Allen for a while, but as Allen was always under the influence of liquor and was very dissagreeable the family soon left his place to live in a hut which they put together with branches of trees covered with anything they could find to keep the cold out.

Has Thrilling Adventure

William Hinchler built his home on the spot where the old brick lighthouse stands. He purchased one-eighth of the township west of the Genesee River, 627 acres, at 2 shillings and 6 pence an acre, but his first title was poor and he had to pay the same amount again. In his home the seven daughters married pioneer husbands and settled in Monroe County.

Hair breadth escapes and thrilling adventures do not always scare one to death nor have they a tendency to shorten one's life. One of the Hinchler girls had an experience that could not occur in these days. Late in the afternoon she had gone to the pasture which was a considerable distance from the house to drive some cows in for milking. When she was rounding them up and heading them in the right direction she was attacked by wolves. Her only place of safety was a tree which she climbed without delay and in this position, with the wolves howling at her from below, she spent the night. The wolves seemed determined to devour her and it was not until late the next morning that she was able to safely descend. Whatever effect this experience had upon her it certainly did not shorten her life for she lived to be 100 years old.

Indians Helpful

Among the Indians the family had friends as well as enemies. One day a friendly Indian came to the Hinchler home to see the father. His contortions and vocal efforts meant little to Mr. Hinchler, but Mrs. Hinchler understood him and said he wanted the pioneer to accompany him. Putting on his hat and coat, Mr. Hinchler went down the river where the Indian had beached his canoe. After motioning to Mr. Hinchler to get in they went to a spot on the shore of the lake where a boat loaded with flour had been stranded. No one was about and the boat apparently had been abandoned. The Indian rolled two barrels of flour into the canoe, one for himself and the other for his companion. Friends of that kind would be desirable today.

On an occasion when one of the red skins was in the Hinchler home, he noticed the cakes which had been recently removed from the oven were cracked on the top. He said his squaw did not bake cakes like that. Mrs. Hinchler asked him what she did to prevent cracking. He put three fingers to his mouth and wet them and then made a movement as if to smooth off the top of the cakes. Of course this was before the days of sanitary laws. All they wanted was results, and this method did the work.

Served in Revolution

Mr. Hinchler was a soldier in the revolution and took part in Shay's rebellion. He died in 1817, 76 years of age. At the Municipal Museum the headstone which was placed on his grave may be seen, bearing the inscription:

"Death is a debt to nature due, Which I have paid and so must you."

One of the descendants of this pioneer family, Hannah Hinchler, married Donald McKenzie, and the couple settled in Mumford and later bought the farm where the fish hatcheries now are located in Caldonia. Donald McKenzie was born in Bal Dru, Scotland, and had been in New York City but a short time before he took part in an event in American history. When walking in a street in the city he noticed a large procession passing and a number of people falling into line. He followed the example of the others. Later he was informed that it had been the funeral procession of Alexander Hamilton who had been killed by Aaron Burr in a duel.

After coming to this section Mr. McKenzie went to Charlotte to attend a dance. While there he saw some British boats approaching the shore, and he immediately sent a messenger to call out the militia to be ready for service in case the Britishers tried to land. The boats approached the shore and fired two cannon balls, which lodged in the hill, and then turned out again, satisfied that they had given the villagers a scare. After the Scotchman was sure they would not return or try another shot he went to the hill and dug out the cannon balls. One of these it is said he used in his woolen business to grind indigo.

GEOLOGIST TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN HUDSON BAY REGION

Word has been received from James Wishart by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wishart of Rand street. Mr. Wishart is with a geological party in Ungavaland in the Hudson Bay region this summer.

After leaving Seven Islands, Quebec, the base camp, the party had an all day trip by plane. In his letter Mr. Wishart said his party proceeded 20 miles further north the following day and established camp on a lake not found on maps of this region. There was a full moon and they named the lake Moon Lake.

The country is very rough and hills rise about 800 feet above the lake which is 800 feet above sea level. There are snow fields on many of the hills and at the edge of the snow they find violets, dandelions, dwarf buttercups and small pink flowers which Mr. Wishart says he has never seen before.

There are also some shrubs from 3 to 5 feet tall growing near the lake. Trees are found one-half mile from the lake but they are never more than 30 feet high. One tree was cut and they counted 119 growth rings on it although the tree was just 20 feet.

RUTH CHAPTER TO HOLD GARDEN PARTY, TUESDAY

Ruth Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will have a garden party at the home of Elizabeth Heinrich of Lake Avenue on Tuesday, August 27th, in the afternoon and evening. A noodle supper will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock. Cards will be played during the afternoon and evening.

The land near the lake is covered with moss and a short wirey grass which makes fairly easy walking but in some places the moss is siliceous and cuts through the shoes in a very short time. The slate and exposed rocks are sharp as knife blades.

There is so much iron ore in the region that the dust, flowing over the rocks, has changed the color of the snow to pink instead of white and the moss is often a lavender color. Although there is not much wild game there are some partridges and signs of moose and he says the lakes are full of fish.

All supplies are brought in by plane. On August first he expected to change camp and move further north where, although it will be much colder, he hoped the black flies, which are particularly bothersome, will be scarcer.

HUMOR

A woman went to a plumber's to buy a sink. On being told the price, she said: "O I can get it much cheaper at Tokum's."

The master said, "All right, go there and get it."

Whereupon the bargain hunter replied, "I've been there, and he didn't have that kind."

"Well," said the master, "when I haven't any of that kind I sell them at that price too."

"We do it better in England. We don't say 'Hello' at the 'phone as you do here."

"What do you say in England?"

"We say, 'Are you there?' If you're not there, there's no use carrying on, what?"

"So you're making ice with your gas now," said the irate customer to the gas company's man. "Well, I always knew there was no heat in your old gas, but I didn't think you could make ice with it."

New Yorkers killed one another in a stampede at a ball game to get out of the rain. How people in that town must hate water.

One of the distressing exigencies of life, for a humorist, is glancing through an early edition of an American almanac and coming on a joke he wrote yesterday.

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

Fort Bender

Fort Bender, Rochester's only fort and one which links the city directly with the war of 1812, was located near the point where Lake avenue crosses what was once called "Deep Hollow" at Glenwood avenue.

Five years ago, workmen excavating in front of the John Werner Machine Works Building in Lake avenue, uncovered a heavy wall, well under the surface of the ground. There was no record of any building having occupied the site. Further, the wall was built without mortar and apparently the stone had been brought from the river gorge some distance to the east. Investigations were made by various sources and the consensus of opinion was that this wall might be the foundation of the long lost fort.

However uncertain some of the facts of the now historic fort, its building was an episode of the stirring days when Charlotte was threatened by attack from the British fleet scouring Lake Ontario under the command of Admiral Geo.

Prepare for British

It was early May, 1814. A fort was hastily built on the rise of ground later occupied by the old Stutson house. Two thicknesses of ship's timbers were laid up, manure from nearby stables was filled in between the timbers. This done, an eighteen pounder wheel had been hauled by a long string of ox teams through the forests from Canandaigua was mounted. It pointed down the trail which led from the village wharf at the river front.

Meanwhile the settlers back in Rochesterville some seven miles to the south, began warlike preparations. Under the leadership of Hastings R. Bender, pioneer settler who came from Vermont to hang out his shingle almost as soon as there was a clearing in the forest, a handful of men advanced to Deep Hollow. There the trail crossed the ravine on a rude bridge. It was a strategic point commanding the bridge approach and at the same time covering the defile through the ravine to the river. Here an embankment was thrown up and upon a substantial foundation was placed a tiny four-pounder which was expected to give good account of the fort, should the dreaded attack develop. This was Fort Bender.

Sound Alarm

Previous to all this a company of militia had been raised by Major Isaac Stone. All told there were 50 men, 33 from Rochesterville and 17 from the settlements outside. There was no lack of officers. Francis

Back To School

After an all-too-short recess during which the fine Summer days have "flown" as on wings, school bells will resound next Tuesday throughout the Tenth Ward as well as other sections of the city and state, and ball games, swimming, boating, tennis, golf and just plain fun will cast aside for 191 days of solid study. For the first few days, the back-to-school movement will be somewhat trying for some of the youngsters, but they will soon adjust themselves to the task of preparing for their future careers, and perhaps it will soon be fun too.

And incidentally mothers are faced with the almost heroic task of getting the children's wardrobes in shape for the opening school day. Perhaps it will require a goodly share of Dad's pay envelope for new dresses, suits, shoes, stockings and school supplies as well as numerous sundry articles, but the youngsters need good outfits to get into their proper stride at school and Dad will deny them nothing necessary to their success if he can help it.

Vacationists are beginning to arrive home from lakeside resorts and summer homes in anticipation of the opening of school and it is a certainty that within the next few days Tenth Ward business houses will be kept busy supplying the needs of the junior Americans. Store windows are observing the approach of school days with appropriate displays and the business men are ready to meet the demand.

So next Tuesday morning, bright and early, they'll start the parade back to school, whether it be public or parochial and the hilarious "no more pencils, no more books" will be superseded by "good morning, dear teacher."

There are doubtless a good many of us—some a few, some many years removed from school age—who would be only too happy to be trodding the old paths back to the study rooms, for school days are almost universally linked up with the happiest reminiscences of our lives. There may be a lot of fun outside of school, but there are always some tender memories which in after days we look back upon with pleasant associations and genuine yearnings for another session in the old schoolhouse. Like many good things, school requires a little distance of time and space to be properly appreciated. If the youngsters would only feel a little more as we do, next Tuesday would be a red letter day on the calendar.

"The Trial of Mary Dugan" At Riviera

Actors who walk up and down, feverishly talking to themselves; directors with sleeves rolled up, frantically poring over "sides" of dialogue, and song writers here and there "Um-ta-ta-ing" some new theme number—these were the strange sights seen at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios during the filming of "The Trial of Mary Dugan," Bayard Veiller's all-talking picture playing at the Riviera Theater, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Screen actors, learning from stage players, have adopted the habit of walking up and down reciting their lines to themselves to memorize them, and directors, too, are busy memorizing lines for practice—as more talking pictures are coming.

Norma Shearer, Lewis Stone, H. B. Warner and Raymond Hackett, juvenile lead of the stage version of the play, head the cast in the picture version. An actual stage rehearsal was carried on, and not a camera was turned or microphone adjusted until the players were letter perfect in lines and action.

Amateur Movie Club Finishes Fourth Show

The Flower City Amateur Movie Club has completed its fourth production, "Inherited Money," written by Frank J. Buehlman and William N. Cushing, and prepared especially for the Investor's Protective Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

The play is designed to serve as a warning to investors against the professional stock tipster. The story deals with the experiences of two brothers, George and Frank Hubbard who inherit some money. Frank follows the counsel to the Investor's Protective Bureau and profits by their advice, while George is trying to get rich quick on the stock tipster's advice, loses all he has.

The story is packed full of action from start to finish and will be shown every day at the Rochester Exposition. Direction of the play is being handled by Frank J. Buehlman and Mrs. Rowland Potter. The leading roles are played by Cleo Loehner, Bernard Heatherley, Marion Cushing, Helen Kimpal and Howard French.

Meetings of the club are conducted every first and third Thursday of the month, at the Maplewood Y. M. C. A. on Driving Park avenue. All interested in the production of amateur movies and all Cine-Kodak owners are cordially invited. The officers of the club are: president, Frank J. Buehlman; vice-president, Mrs. Rowland Potter; secretary, William N. Cushing; treasurer, Mrs. Frank J. Buehlman; supervisor, Rowland Potter.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and family of Lexington avenue, have returned after a week's vacation at Bawden House and Kew Beach, Toronto, Canada.

Mr. T. J. Sullivan and family of Buffalo, are spending the week with Mr. Sullivan's mother on Dewey avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Donohoe of Raines park, are leaving next week for Philadelphia.

ROGERS EXPLAINS DEMOCRATIC "O. K." OF ADLER, FLYNN

An explanation of the stand taken by a group of Tenth Ward Democrats in the endorsement of Councilmen Adler and Flynn is given in a statement by George F. Rogers, who has been named president of the newly formed local Democratic Club. It is as follows:

"The endorsement of Messrs. Flynn and Adler by the Democratic Club of the Tenth Ward, was brought about by the following means:

"Mr. Arthur J. O'Neill offered a resolution at the regular meeting of the Tenth Ward County Committee meeting held August 7th on Driving Park Avenue to endorse Messrs. Flynn, Adler and Goodwin. It was seconded by Mr. Timothy Downs. The question was put by the Chairman, Mr. Edgar Truesdale. After being discussed pro and con, it was voted to lay the matter on the table until after primaries.

"There was a meeting called by the Vice President of the Democratic Club, Mr. John Conway, to be held on Driving Park Avenue, August 12th, 1929.

"Mr. Arthur J. O'Neill again offered a resolution endorsing Mr. Adler and Mr. Flynn, and it was seconded by Mr. Conway; the President, Mr. Edgar Truesdale, put the question and Mr. Andrew Sophie, an enrolled Republican, rose to point of order and stated that the Club was purely a social club and that no politics could be discussed on the floor and amended the resolution that lay on the table which was seconded by Mr. Thomas Moran, who read a set of by-laws dated December 6th, 1928, which read that the club was purely a social club

REPUBLICANS NAME HESSELINK, THISTLE FOR WARD OFFICES

Morgan Thistle, 531 Dewey Avenue, has been nominated to succeed himself as constable. Richard L. Saunders, 194 Selye Terrace, is likewise named again for assemblyman from the Fourth District.

Among the other candidates on the Republican ticket are for Special County Judge, Henry D. Shedd, 1073 Lake Avenue (present incumbent) and for School Commissioner, James W. Gray, 483 Birr Street; Councilman Joseph L. Guzzetta, 598 Seneca Parkway, has been named on the regular Republican slate for councilman-at-large.

and not a Democratic club or a Smith and Robinson club.

"The Democrats present then called for a vote on the question of whether the Club was a Democratic club or a social club. Mr. Andrew Sophie made a motion, seconded by Mr. Thomas Moran and Mr. Kelly that the Club be considered a social club with politics barred. The president put the motion and it was carried.

"The Democrats present then left the meeting and adjourned to 1456 Dewey Avenue and formed a Democratic Club of the Tenth Ward and elected George F. Rogers, president; Dr. Milne, vice president; John Conway, secretary; A. J. O'Neill, treasurer. Eleven members present all voted to endorse Messrs. Adler and Flynn for councilmen in view of their bi-partisan stand in the Council."

HUMOR

"Do you think your son will make a good business man?"

"I danno. He's a rotten golfer."

Stranger: "So you are the post-master, storekeeper, justice of the peace, and constable of this town?"

Native: "Yassir! You might say I'm the Mussolini of Buckeye Corner."

He: "My ancestors came over in the Mayflower."

She: "It's lucky for you they did, for the immigration laws are much stricter now."

Hobo: "Lady, I don't know where my next meal is coming from."

Lady of the House: "Well, this is no information bureau."

Husband: "I say, if the worst comes to the worst I suppose we can go and live with your parents."

Wife: "Not a chance. They're ready living with their parents."

"Were you personally conducted on your tour?"

"Yes, my wife went along."—Life.

He was rather absent minded, and his wife tied a piece of cotton round his finger to remind him to get his hair cut. On his way home he noticed the cotton and entered his barber's shop.

"Yes, sir?" said the barber, a puzzled note in his voice.

"Eh? Oh, yes, cut my hair, please," commanded the absent minded one.

"Certainly, sir," replied the barber, "if you wish it, but you won't mind my mentioning the fact that I cut it at lunch time today, will you?"—Weekly Scotsman.

"My beau," little Elsie said, "is going to be an admiral."

"Indeed!" the visitor replied indulgently. "A cadet at the naval academy now, I presume?"

"Oh, he hasn't got that far yet, but he's had an anchor tattooed on his arm."

"This morning," said the teacher of an early Sunday school class, "the subject of the lesson is Ruth, the gleaner. Who can tell me anything about Ruth?"

A small boy raised his hand. "Well, Willie, what do you know about Ruth?" said the teacher encouragingly.

And Willie piped out in a shrill, little voice: "He cleaned up 60 home runs last season."

Immanuel, the Brave Toreador: "Ah, senorita, tonight I will steal beneath your balcony and sing you a sweet serenade."

Consuello, the Beautiful Senorita: "Do, and I will drop you a flower." Immanuel: "Ah, in a moment of mad love?" Consuello: "No, in a pot."

"I see the hotel at this resort advertises a beautiful gorge."

"What of it?" "I wonder if that means a ravine or a lot to eat."

Mr. James P. Martin of Dewey avenue returned Sunday from Atlantic City where he spent two weeks.

Mr. Douglas Jack of Clay avenue, is leaving tomorrow by motor for Montreal, where he will spend the week end.

Mr. Arthur Hertzberg of Clay avenue, will leave Labor day for Buffalo from where he will start on a cruise of the Great Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Renner and son, Edwin, of Electric avenue, have returned from an extended motor trip, during which they visited friends in California. Stops were made at points of interest along the way and they were especially impressed with the Grand Canyon and Yellowstone Park, which Mrs. Renner declares, surpasses any other section she has seen in its natural rugged beauty and wild animal life. They were gone eight weeks during which they travelled nine thousand miles.

Miss Lois M. Heuer, of Avis street, is visiting with her uncle and aunt, Professor and Mrs. C. A. Elwood of Columbus, Mo.

KIESEL-COOMBS

The marriage of Miss Lucille Coombs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coombs, of Eastman Avenue, and Herbert Kiesel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kiesel, of New York, took place on Saturday, August 17th, at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert Plehn. The church was decorated with palms, pink gladioli and delphinium. Miss Ruth Leistman sang, "O Promise Me."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, wore white satin in bouffant style. Her veil of tulle was edged with rose point lace and was arranged in cap fashion and held in place with orange blossoms. Miss Edith Coombs, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink roses and gypsophila. The bridesmaids were Miss Gertrude Muenster and Miss Catherine Nugent. They wore blue and orchid taffeta, respectively, and carried butterfly roses. Harry Muenster acted as best man and the ushers were Eldon Franks and Gordon Kick.

After the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to 30 guests at Blarney Stone Inn, followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Nicholas Kiesel, George Kiesel, Mrs. Frank Lomitz and Miss Celia Kerner, all of New York City; Eldon McCormick Franks, of Toronto, Canada.

Prenuptial events were given by Mrs. Jacob DeWeerd, Miss Edith Coombs, Miss Kay Conner, Miss Gertrude Muenster and Miss Catherine Nugent.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiesel left on a three months' motor trip to Yellowstone National Park and the West Coast. After their return they will live in Buffalo.

BERRY-CHASE

One of the season's pretty weddings took place on Saturday, August 17, in Lewiston Avenue Methodist Church, when Miss Anna L. Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chase of Augustine street, and Thomas F. Berry, son of Mrs. Florence Berry of Eastman avenue, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. H. Chase, grandfather of the bride, assisted by the Rev. W. O. Taylor.

The church was simply decorated with gladioli, palms and ferns. Tall seven-branched candles lined the center aisles. The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a period gown of white satin and her tulle veil was arranged in cap fashion and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies.

She was attended by Mrs. Emery Burdett as matron of honor in a gown of green taffeta in the bouffant mode. Mrs. Burdett carried a bouquet of tea roses. The bridesmaids were Mrs. L. W. Chase, Mrs. Harry Ross, and Mrs. George Denny.

They wore gowns of pink blue and yellow taffeta respectively and carried tea roses.

Little Mary Catherine Anderson was flower girl and Burton Harness was best man while Henry Burdett and John Berry served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, seventy guests attended a wedding reception at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Berry left on a trip to Canada and the New England States, and on their return will reside in this city.

BROOKS-PORSCHET

The marriage of Miss Helen Gladys Porschet, of Augustine Street, daughter of the Late Fred Porschet, to J. Ovid Brooks, of Miami, Fla., and Cleveland, took place Saturday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stanley F. Gutelius, pastor of the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Attendants were Miss Ruth Stehler, of Barrington Street, and Edward S. Hoffman, of Hazelwood Terrace.

A wedding dinner at the Sagamore followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will reside in Cleveland, Ohio.

Historical Background
Of The Tenth Ward

Brown and Elisha Ely were commissioned captains.

This was about the situation when late in the afternoon of May 14 the British fleet of 13 vessels hove in sight off Charlotte and anchored outside the harbor. A courier on horseback in true Paul Revere style, galloped to the village and gave the alarm.

Major Isaac Stone and his troop of Rochesterville Dragoons set out in a pouring rain, stopping at Fort Bender long enough to loosen the planks of the bridge which it commanded, and proceeded to the lake. In event of pursuit by the British, the bridge could be hastily ripped up and dropped into the gorge.

Fool British

Unlike Macbeth who bade his soldiers carry in their arms large branches of trees in order that their approach be unnoticed by the enemy, our stalwart henchmen, marched and counter-marched through the woods opening in the lake shore, hoping to deceive the attacking British into thinking that a huge formidable army was lying in ambush.

The ruse succeeded for after sending a few shots into Charlotte village the British sailed away and the four-pound cannon at Deep Gulley never fired a shot. Gradually the remains of Fort Bender disappeared so completely that there has been much speculation as to its exact site—with the recent discovery of the wall, the facts now seem established.

CLINTON N. HOWARD SPEAKS SUNDAY AT LAKE AVE. BAPTIST

Clinton N. Howard will be the speaker at both morning and evening services Sunday at Lake Avenue Baptist Church. In the morning he will speak on "Back to the Bible," and in the evening on "The Conflict of the Ages."

On the following Sunday, September 8, Rev. A. W. Beaven, D. D., will deliver his farewell sermon and the following day he and Mrs. Beaven will be given a reception. Installation of Rev. Whitney S. K. Yeaple as pastor will take place on September 15.

The Dorcas Circle outing is being held today at Ontario Beach Park, Grounds No. 1.

Large Gathering At Lake, Ridge Outing

There were plenty of smiles at the first annual picnic of the Lake and Ridge Business Men's Association held last Wednesday afternoon at Ellison park. It was estimated that there were about forty cars in the line at the corner of Lake and Owen street when George Hartman, chairman of the outing committee, issued the command to proceed to the county park, and about three hundred took part in the activities of the afternoon.

Two hundred men, women and children were seated at the dinner tables arranged by Harvey Johnson and his committee. The sports program took up the attention of the picnickers until about 5:30 when hot, ice cream and cake were served. The single men defeated the married men for cigars.

A Jewish actor friend who says that the stock market has driven many of his race mad, would have you believe that at the synagogue the other Saturday he overheard the chap next to him pray: "Please God, take care of my wife, her health should be better, and mine son, Abie, shouldn't be such a dunce in school, and mine dutter, Rosie, shouldn't keep such late hours, and give it a push to General Motors."

Little Johnny: "Look't this rhinoceros."

Little Willie: "That ain't no rhinoceros. That's a hippopotamus. Can't you see it ain't got no radiator cap?"

POCONO CLUB BAKE
TO BE HELD SEPT. 8

Rain or shine the Pocono Club, composed of a group of about 25 Tenth Warders, will gather together with about 250 of their friends for their annual clambake Sunday afternoon, September 8, in the cooling atmosphere of Hetzler Bros. Ice Co., at 801 Driving Park avenue. Included on the committee arranging the bake are Leo Hetzler, Frank Saumbly and Roy Rathke.

To the initiated the Pocono clambake is just another Fall gathering, but Mr. Hetzler promises that this is something different and that there will be plenty of fun as well as a share of good food for every participant. The bake will start at 1 o'clock, but the committee expects that it will be five before the final course is served.

DEWEY LOSES TO
LYELL BY 1 RUN;
PLANS CLAMBAKE

With runs scoring in such rapid succession that scorekeeping required the services of an adding machine, it was finally figured out that Dewey avenue's gallant business men had dropped the second game in a series with Lyell avenue yesterday afternoon. The game was played at Happy Don's Park.

Despite the fact that Earl Baynes made a half dozen hits, three or four of which were homers and that "Doc" Dancy made a number of sensational catches, Lyell avenue was on top by one run at the finish. Line-ups were as follows:

DEWEY AVE. LYELL AVE.
Baynes, 2b. Kitzel, p.
Rathke, 1b. Hammil, c. f.
Bauman, c. Camelio, 2b.
Hertzberg, s. s. Ralph, r. f.
Strassner, p. Shatzel, 1b.
Mount, 3b. Beckler, s. s.
A. Strassner, c. f. V. Ehmann, 1. f.
Ehmann, r. f. Miller, 3b.
Danehy, l. f. McKecknie, c.

The business men are now planning a clambake to be held about the middle of September. A committee consisting of Robert Hall, George Ester, John Schmanke, James DeVisser, Frank Rubadour and Earl Baynes will meet to arrange the details next Tuesday noon at Bauman and Baynes Market. Further announcement will appear in the next issue.

"You want my driver's license, sir? All right, I have it here." And then the driver handed out some notes on home-made beer, some tickets from a pawn shop, a movie stub or two, a fishing license from last year, a bill, an I. O. U., some postage stamps, a rain check, a letter he should mail, a business card, a poker chip, a notice of a sell, a grocery list, a rubber band, a snapshot of some friends, a tag left from a tag day, but—here the sad tale ends!

"Please send me the amount of your bill," wrote the garageman to the motorist who was chronically slow with the cash.
"Certainly," answered the slow guy, "it is $136.72."

SIMPSON DISCUSSES CAMPAIGN ISSUES IN SPEECH TO WORKERS

Glenn W. Simpson, only independent candidate for councilman in the primaries next Tuesday, outlined the platform on which he will seek nomination as one of the ten to go into the November election in a speech last week at the Valley Appliance Company to workers.

A change in the dates for payment of taxes, the Smith Street bridge and non-partisanship were the principle subjects of his talk. Mr. Simpson, who at present is president of Simpson-Walker Lens, Inc., was formerly a tool worker and has a large acquaintance among factory workers from whom he hopes to secure many votes.

Mr. Simpson stated that he believe that the clause in the new charter relating to the payment of taxes in January and June works a hardship on both worker and business men alike; that the average house owner has enough burdens to shoulder "without crowding additional bills upon him at that time."

He went on to say, "In the fall and winter there are coal bills to meet, days are shorter which result in larger electric bills, days are colder and both children and grown ups require new overcoats and other wearing apparel all of which cost money. Then too it is holiday time when grocery and meat bills are higher and then there is the additional expenditures for Christmas, all coming at a time when employment is lower due to factories closing at the holiday season. And immediately after holiday season comes County taxes to say nothing of new license plates for the automobile and interest on mortgages. What is true of the house-owner and worker is true of the man who owns real estate. He is asked to pay his taxes in January on property, the rent for which he cannot collect so far in advance. In other words if taxes were paid later in the year property owners could collect rents from tenants and thus have sufficient funds to pay taxes when they became due.

"The business man also suffers in a large way from paying taxes in January. Heretofore January has always been a good month for retail business but most merchants will be frank to tell you that last January the decrease in retail sales was very noticeable. People who are paying holiday bills, county taxes, mortgage payments and interest, coal bills and city taxes all at one time, have no funds with which to make purchases, so naturally the retailer suffers. While I realize that the date for payment of taxes is fixed by the new charter, if elected, I will take proper action and attempt to bring about a change that will make taxes payable in May as heretofore but only in part with

BUSTER BROWN TO VISIT ROCHESTER

John Schmanke will play host to a large number of Tenth Ward youngsters on October 9th, when Buster Brown (himself) and his dog "Tige" will make their appearance at the Riviera Theater. In addition a Buster Brown comedy will be shown on the screen and there will be prizes of every description.

Further information about Buster Brown's visit to Rochester will be contained in the next issue of this paper. The only additional information divulged at present is that tickets will be given away free at Schmanke's on and after September 23d.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN TO MEET TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the Tenth Ward Republican Women will be held at the club rooms on Driving park avenue tonight at 8 o'clock. Reports of the picnic will be heard at this time and plans for the weekly open-house will be discussed. Every member is urged to be present and to bring a friend.

Joseph Hogan, candidate for councilman and U. S. Marshal Joseph Fritsch will be speakers.

GAUCH-ARNESSEN

The marriage of Miss Margaret Arnesen, daughter of Mrs. D. Arnesen, of Owen Street, and J. Elmer Gauch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gauch, of Masseth Street, took place September 3d, in the Trinity Lutheran Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. C. Erbes. A dinner was served for the immediate families. After an eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Gauch will be at home at 45 Holcroft Rd. second payment at a later date.

Another issue he discussed was the erection of a steel bridge over the river at Smith Street. Mr. Simpson asked the present Councilmen why they selected a steel bridge in preference to a concrete bridge, when by erecting a steel bridge eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000.00) will leave Rochester to help pay workers in other cities where a concrete bridge would use the labor of hundreds of Rochester men for months, men who need work, and thus keep the taxpayers' dollars in Rochester where they would help both worker and merchant alike?

He also stressed the point that the purpose and intent of the new Charter was to eliminate party rule and bossism in conducting the affairs of the city. He pointed out the fact that those who voted for the new charter should vote for an independent candidate who seeks the endorsement of nobody but the voters, if they wish the charter to function as it should.

"FLYING FOOL" WITH WM. BOYD, RIVIERA SHOW FOR FRI.-SAT.

Rising to a tremendous climax that will make most fans gasp, "The Flying Fool," Pathe's all-talking air drama starring William Boyd, is said to be one of the most thrilling and entertaining pictures produced this season. Although the story has an aviation background and though it reaches a great dramatic crescendo with a scene in the air it is not entirely an air story. It is a human drama, which combines pathos and comedy, played by a cast of capable actors and moulded into fine entertainment.

In his role of the "Flying Fool," Mr. Boyd is seen as a devil-may-care stunt flyer whose weakness is women. They have been his chief diversion since the days in France when he was an American ace, but he has never fallen in love. His motto is "find 'em, fool 'em, and forget 'em!" This he proceeds to do with amazing success until he decides to "save" his brother from what he believes is a designing cabaret singer. It is at this point that complications set in and Bill finds that for once he is not master of the situation. The climax of the story is tremendous and must be seen to be appreciated.

Boyd is said to be excellent as the heart-breaker dare-devil. Marie Prevost is as captivating and convincing as ever as the cabaret girl, a type of role that suits her personality perfectly.

Tom O'Brien, playing a blustering, bullying aviator who gets licked plenty for his trouble, demonstrates that he is master of this type of role. Russell Gleason has a fine character part. Others in the cast of "The Flying Fool" which will be shown at the Riviera theatre tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday only are Dan Wolheim, Kate Bruce and Dorothy Ward Tay Garnett directed.

Mrs. Alice Lord, of Magee Avenue, has returned from a six weeks' visit to Detroit, Flint, Richmond and Birmingham, Mich.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Just another of the many accidents occurred at the corner of Flower City Park and Lake Avenue at about 9:30 Tuesday evening. Coming home from a meeting I stopped to visit a neighbor when we heard the familiar sound of a crash. Reaching the corner we found two cars had met and were effectually put out of commission.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Ehle, electrical engineer and contractor, of 21 Turpin Street, had spent the evening with Mrs. Ehle's sister, Mrs. George Stiffler, of 135 Flower City Park, and were on their way home. As usual the traffic was very heavy on Lake Avenue and after waiting a long time one car of the line of cars on Lake Avenue stopped to let them pass when Mr. Earl Sandmeyer, of 704 Post Avenue, who was driving a Ford coupe, cut out of line and crashed into Mr. Ehle's car who was driving a sedan. Fortunately for Mr. Sandmeyer's companion his coupe was equipped with unbreakable glass windshield. There was a mark the shape of his companion's head in it. Mr. Ehle received a cut in his head and a broken finger while Mrs. Ehle's hand was cut and she suffered injuries of the chest. Both drivers were taken to the police station for investigation.

Commissioner Nier was presented with a petition some time ago by the people of that vicinity for restoration of signal lights. They were promised some action on his part. It seems the survey was taken but nothing further developed and the people are getting very uneasy under present conditions.

How long and how many more accidents must occur to arouse the officials to action? The question is must we wait until some one is killed? This accident was viewed by three officers, but there was no report of it in the morning paper. Why not?

MRS. WILLIAM H. STELL

TENTH WARD BABIES WIN PRIZES AT EXPO.

Tenth Ward babies were very much in evidence at the baby parade at Edgerton Park Tuesday, September 3. The fifty dollar prize was awarded to young Robert Steffen of 40 Locust street, his number (281) being the lucky number drawn.

Other winners were as follows: First Division: Jack and Kenny Bryant, 107 Driving Park avenue, first; Elizabeth Jean Stell, 83 Flower City park, second. Third Division: Geraldine Marce Pierson, 1160 Dewey avenue, fourth.

Young Master Osborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Osborn of 838 Ridgeway avenue, who only has six months to his credit, but nevertheless looked the part of a real boxer attired in a pair of trunks and boxing gloves, attracted a great deal of attention, especially from the police officers. His float represented a boxing ring with the young boxer seated in the center. But the intense heat and the long wait for the parade proved too much for his tender age and as a consequence he was flat on his back sound asleep as he passed the judge's reviewing stand. It looked very much as if he had suffered a real knockout. There were many more Tenth Ward babies, all of them cleverly attired, who received either a stuffed dog or doll.

STANTON AND FLYNN SPEAKERS AT LOCAL CITY MANAGER CLUB

A meeting of the Tenth Ward Non-Partisan City Manager League was held Tuesday, September 10, 1929, at the rooms over the Liberty Theater on Driving Park Avenue. A large number of interested persons were present and plans for the primary election were made. Mr. Charles Stanton and Mr. Edward P. Flynn, City Manager candidates for councilmen were present and addressed the meeting.

Officers of the organization are George Roche, president; Addison Fillmore, treasurer and Norman A. O'Brien, secretary. The executive

ROCHESTER, N. Y., SEPTEMBER 26, 1929

No. 10

Historical Background of The Tenth Ward

By JOAN LYNN SCHILD

No. 22 Lake View Park

Situated on a knoll on the north side of Lake View park, is a large brick mansion, now occupied by the Sisters of St. Joseph, one of the few remaining landmarks in the Tenth Ward. A residence of simple elegance and great dignity, typical of the best architecture of our pioneer days, it bears mute tribute to the memory of the builder, Lindley Murray Moore.

Lindley Moore was born in Nova Scotia of English parents, whose ancestors came from England at an early epoch in its history and settled in New Jersey, where he spent much of his early life. After completing his education he became a resident of Rahway, New Jersey, and later of New York and Long Island. He was a man of scholarly attainments and devoted his life to educational work, establishing a school of his own first in Flushing and later in Westchester, N. Y. The school was continued there until he came to Rochester in 1830.

Married Abbie Mott

His wife was Abbie Mott, daughter of Adam Mott. The Motts were of French descent and soon after the Edict of Nantes representatives of the family crossed the Atlantic to the new world. Thus was founded the distinguished Mott family of New York and Long Island. They were Quaker people and as the sect is opposed to war, the Motts took no part in colonial battles nor those of the Revolution. However James Mott, grandfather of Abbie Mott, enjoyed the confidence of both the colonial and British armies and had passes from General Washington and from Lord Howe to go through the lines.

On the other hand, Samuel Moore, Lindley's father, was a loyalist, and had to flee for his personal safety, losing much of his property during our struggles for freedom.

With his wife and five children, Mr. Moore embarked on a sloop and sailed up the Hudson River to Albany, making the rest of the voyage to Rochester via the old Erie Canal. He bought a farm of 170 acres, paying $30 an acre and there he built his first Rochester home. It was a crude affair of logs but some time later was destroyed by fire and he erected the more pretentious two-story residence of brick. As it was built on a knoll he called it Pomona Hill. He lived there for five years and then sold

Flower City Park and Lake Ave.

Two more accidents at the corner of Lake avenue and Flower City park during the last two weeks indicate that there is a substantial basis to the claim of residents of the neighborhood that the corner is a dangerous one and that the removal of signal lights was an unwise move.

The question of where to install signal lights and where not to install them is certainly a question requiring much consideration and the problem at its best is no easy one to solve. There are two points of view to be considered, that of the motorist and also that of the pedestrian. Quite naturally with the rapid development of vehicular traffic—a comparatively new problem—we are prone to overlook the claims of the pedestrian to safety. Most of us are on both sides of the fence; when we drive, we dislike any impediment to traffic; but then when we join the walking class for a short period of time, we get the other point of view and we readily see why the pedestrian must be taken into account.

Now Commissioner of Public Safety George J. Nier apparently in this case is giving the motorist the benefit of the doubt. He has installed red and green signals at Seneca parkway and also at Lewiston avenue, where most certainly they are needed to care for traffic adequately; the former corner, however, is chosen principally to break the speed of motorists mid-way between Driving Park and Lewiston avenues. But the commissioner says a survey demonstrates no urgent need of lights at Flower City park and inasmuch as they would constitute a hindrance to traffic, they were removed.

With the toll of accidents gradually mounting, despite the fact that this may seem to some a minor question, we see in it a possibility of grave consequences. The original installation of lights at Flower City park and Lake avenue, was directly due to two deaths at the corner in motor accidents. With the lights removed there have been a number of accidents which the presence of signals, it seems fair to say, would have obviated.

Whether or not the Commissioner's survey took into consideration the exceedingly heavy vehicular and pedestrian traffic at night due to the presence of the Riviera Theatre at the corner, we do not know. Whether or not the survey, conducted in the summer months when school was out, took account of the large number of school children who must daily cross Lake avenue at this point, we also are uninformed.

At any rate facts and the trend of events indicate more fully than figures and rules of thumb, the best solution to any problem. In this case the evidence indicates that there is considerable merit in the petition signed by nearly every resident of the immediate neighborhood and that the lights should be restored. And if Commissioner Nier as a public servant will attempt to do the greatest good for the greatest number, he will order lights at Flower City park and Lake avenue again.

"THE SHAKEDOWN"

AT RIVIERA FRI.

Despite the fact that talking and synchronized motion pictures have become, in a short space of time, the most popular form of theatrical entertainment, very few persons really know how they are made. William Wyler, director of Universal's Sound Production, "The Shakedown," opening at the Riviera Theatre, Friday and Saturday, tells the system used in making Universal's "talkers."

"Contrary to popular belief, the action and the sound are not recorded at the same time in making Movietone pictures," explained Wyler. "Although the picture synchronizes perfectly, the sound appears a brief second before the dialogue."

"While the sound is recorded on the same film as the action, the dialogue is picked up on the film about six inches below the photographed action."

"A most natural question would be to ask why the film could synchronize with the sound recorded before the action is shown. That is explained by the fact that motion pictures are projected at the rate of ninety feet a minute. By the time the sound is picked up, amplified and broadcast through the loud speakers, the film has moved to the correct scene so that the action and dialogue synchronize perfectly."

"The Shakedown," which is Wyler's first sound picture, has an excellent cast. James Murray and Barbara Kent are in the leading roles and Wheeler Oakman, George Kotsanaros, little Jack Hanlon and Harry Gribbon are included among the featured.

DECKER—SHENTON

The marriage of Miss Mary Ethel Shenton and Clarence M. Decker took place at the Columbia avenue church September 14. The Rev. Miller, pastor, a cousin of the groom, performed the ceremony. Miss Hertel, John Shenton and Mr. and Mrs. Goring were attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Decker will reside in Syracuse after October 12th.

Mrs. Decker was given a shower at the home of her mother on Ambrose street Saturday evening. A luncheon was served to 30 guests. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

BUSINESS MEN EAT

AND PLAY AT BAKE

About 50 business men of Dewey avenue enjoyed a full afternoon of fun yesterday afternoon, besides disposing of one of the best clam-bakes of the season. The bake, run by the Ester brothers for the Dewey Avenue Business Men's Association, was held at the Eyer farm on Ridgeway avenue.

Beginning at about 2 o'clock, the business men and their friends put in a full afternoon, spending about two hours at the dinner table and the rest of the time playing baseball and quots. The dinner was a full course affair with all the trimmings and will probably stand out as the best affair to date of the association.

Included among the committee members, who assisted the Ester brothers and Earl E. Baynes, president of the association, in staging the affair, were several prominent business men, including Robert V. Hall, John H. Schmanke, C. W. Donaghue and Frank Rubadou. N. Wingerden of the Courier staff assisted in ticket distribution. The next event on the association program will be a bowling match, the date of which will be announced later.

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian—Rally Day will be observed Sunday in the Sunday School. The departments of the school will unite in a program entitled "Be Ye Transformed" which will be given at ten o'clock in the church auditorium. All the departments of children's and young peoples' work will be represented in the program, at which the minister, Rev. William Graham Kennedy, D. D., will preside. The music will be directed by King Kellogg, director of the church choir, and Miss Mildred Stebbins will be the accompanist. The offering will be divided between the educational work in North Church and the Board of Christian Education.

The Womens' Society met on Thursday, September 19, for a luncheon, preceding their regular meeting. Over fifty women were present at the meeting and the general program for all branches of womens' work was presented by committee chairmen. Mrs. George E. Mabee led the devotions and spoke of the plan for the spiritual side of the work, giving a report of Training Institute held for the leaders of Rochester Presbytery earlier in the week at Central Church. Mrs. A. C. Hetherlin, president of the Society, spoke of the business plans for the coming year; and Mrs. Anna M. Nicholson, chairman of the program committee, outlined the program content for the meetings to come.

An encouraging report of the work at the tent conducted by the Society at the Rochester Exposition was given by the treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Armstrong. As part of the business plans for the coming year, the society plans to cater for dinner meetings outside the church and shall be glad to hear from societies, lodges or other organizations who need to have that kind of work done. Their prices will be reasonable and their service efficient.

Deweys End Season

Defeating Gilman's

The following are the players that made up the Deweys: Kelly, Schutt, Seneca, W. Hynes, Dietz, Elliot, B. Hynes, Auberger, Cole, Witzel, Johnson, Bennett, and Lockwood.

It is expected that the Deweys will seek the sponsorship of the business men this year for a basket ball team. The following are prospects for the team: Morris of Kodak Park team, Cole and Johnson of the Greece Town team, Bernie Hynes

JAMES GARIN TAKES

OVER I. G. A. STORE

The I. G. A. grocery store at Dewey and Electric avenues changed hands recently and is now owned by James H. Garin, who was formerly connected with the United Cigar Stores. Mr. Garin, who has had considerable experience in the retail business world is a staunch believer in the principles of the Independent Grocers' Alliance, which explains his recent acquisition of the Dewey avenue store from H. H. Bosworth.

Mr. Garin was well-known 20 years ago as the manager of the Blue Label ball team which produced several stars of the big leagues in subsequent years. The team at that time was one of the outstanding nines of the city, attracting record crowds to Reid's Field, where the games were played. Among the men who played on the team, which later was known as the Maltops, were Heinie Groh, Bernie Boland and George Mogridge.

and Fuzz Burke of Aquinas, Dietz of R. B. I., Elliot of Alabama University, Lee of Charlotte High and McKenna of the Greece Gilmans.

Letters To The Editor

"To the Editor, Tenth Ward Courier: In your issue of August 29th, 1929, George Rogers, in attempting to explain the Democratic O. K. of Adler and Flynn, makes it appear that I, Andrew H. Sophie, an enrolled Republican, prevented the endorsement of Adler and Flynn in a Tenth Ward Democratic Club of which Mr. Truesdale was President and John Conway was Vice-President.

"If this were true, Mr. Rogers would certainly be complimenting me on my ability for force and persuasion, that I, one Republican, could stand on the floor of a so-called Democratic Organization and defeat the efforts of its President, Mr. Truesdale and its Vice-President, John Conway, and nine other prominent Democratic leaders of the Tenth Ward.

"Mr. Rogers was not present at the eventful meeting of August 12th at the Club headquarters on Driving Park avenue. Therefore, I cannot address him in this matter as he is only acting as a mouthpiece for the real active element in this so-called Tenth Ward Democratic Club. The active element, so far as our Club meeting was concerned, was Mr. Truesdale, John Conway and Arthur O'Neil. So they should have properly informed Mr. Rogers as to the real reason behind their efforts before he made his statement to the press. It is apparent and beyond contradiction that Arthur O'Neil was defeated in his endorsement plan at the meeting of the County Committee of the Ward. Not being satisfied with this defeat, he with aid of John Conway sought to use this little Social Club on Driving Park Avenue to further their cause.

"This little Club on Driving Park avenue had always enjoyed peaceful assemblage until Conway, Truesdale and O'Neil tried to use it to further their cause therein, and up to August 12th, 1929, neither Truesdale nor Conway, although they were officers, had determined whether or not the Club was political or social or if it had a name. Therefore, as long as there was a question about the status of the Club, I offered a resolution that the body declare itself a Social Club and that politics be barred from its deliberations. The motion was seconded by Mr. Kelly and carried.

"Again Mr. Conway persisted in his efforts and Mr. O'Neil offer his endorsement resolution and it was voted down as the body could not vote on a political question after the above resolution. And let it be thoroughly understood that this little Club did not put itself on record as being either for or against the endorsement of Mr. Adler or Mr. Flynn.

"After this defeat Mr. Conway declared himself through with the Club; resigned as Vice-President; also, Mr. Truesdale. So they called a conference of their friends outside the Club and proceeded down Dewey Avenue, held a meeting, organized what they called the 'Tenth Ward Democratic Club,' elected themselves officers and sent the results of their meeting to the press. And, according to the 'Tenth Ward Courier' of August 29th, they endorsed Mr. Flynn and Mr. Adler for their Bi-Partisan stand in the Council. It would appear to me that these Councilmen couldn't consider this endorsement very complimentary as both of these men have, I believe, considered themselves Non-Partisan instead of Bi-Partisan. ANDREW H. SOPHIE."

Historical Background
Of The Tenth Ward

it to Freeman Clarke and moved to Elizabeth Street.

Taught in High School

Always interested in the civic and educational activities of the city, Mr. Moore was a teacher in the first Rochester High School which was founded in 1827 and which occupied the site where the Unitarian Church now stands. He also was president of the Anti-Slavery Society in 1838. In his old age he made his home with his son, Dr. Edward Mott Moore.

After Mr. Moore went to Elizabeth Street to live the house on Lake View Park had many owners. Freeman Clarke in 1856 sold it to Dr. Biegler who used it as a sanatorium for hydropathic treatments. There still remain vestiges of the old cistern used by the doctor to get water for his patients. From Biegler it passed to E. H. Pottle who occupied it until about 1885 when he sold to William H. Briggs. When Mr. Briggs moved into it it was the only house on Lake View Park. In 1920 it was purchased for the Sisters of St. Joseph, who are now occupying it.

RIVIERA FEATURES

"MASQUERADE" SUN.

When a novel, first published twenty years ago, is in such popular demand that the plates from which it was originally printed have been worn out and replaced five times, and it still finds a ready sale, it must have superlative quality.

Such a story is "The Brass Bowl" by Louis Joseph Vance, from which "Masquerade," latest Fox Movietone all talking picture, has been adapted. The total sale of the book is well into the millions. It's Vance's best known work.

In adapting "Masquerade" Frederick Hazlitt Brennan and Malcolm Stuart Boylan were obliged to modernize the novel. But in the main it is the same story, although greatly enhanced by being presented in the talking medium.

"Masquerade," which came to the Riviera Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday is said to have presented unusual problems in recording for the audible screen, due to the fact that Alan Birmingham, co-featured with Leila Hyams, was called upon to enact a dual role. He portrays Dan Maitland, wealthy young New York bachelor, and also Dan Anisty, notorious society bandit.

LEARY—GEHRKE

The marriage of Miss Katherine Margaret Gehrke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry Gehrke of Elmendorf avenue, and Harold Heger Leary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Leary of Seneca Parkway, took place Saturday at 12 o'clock noon at the Brick Presbyterian Church. Rev. Justin W. Nixon, D. D., performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore old ivory satin in princess style. Her veil of tulle was made in cardinal cape effect and was edged with real duchess lace, fastened to a cap of the same lace, trimmed with seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Sylvia M. Leary, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and wore English green transparent velvet with hat and slippers to match. She carried a bouquet of cream-colored cactus dahlias.

The bridesmaids were Miss Inez M. Quinn, Miss Charlotte S. Van Alstine, Miss Carolyn O. White and Mrs. James A. Cameron. They were gowned alike in Madeira transparent velvet with felt hats and slippers to match, and carried bronze-colored cactus dahlias. Louis Bryant Freeman acted as best man. The ushers were James A. Cameron A. Winston Hosig of Fostoria, O., Erwin Schoeffel of Messina and Arthur D. Gross of Boston.

After the ceremony, an informal reception was held in the Mary Runsey Shaw room of the church, followed by a dinner for the bridal party and immediate families at the Rochester Club. The bride's table for 23 was decorated with garden flowers and green candies.

Mr. and Mrs. Leary left on a motor trip to Camp Chimo on Lake Timagimi, Canada. After Nov. 15, they will live at 109 Redwood street.
