Historical Background of the City of Rochester

The First Wedding

One hundred and eighteen years ago the land upon which this city now stands was a primeval forest. And all this western section of which the Genesee River is the center, an empire in area, was a dense wilderness with here and there a log hut, the abode of a settler who had started a clearing that in time would be his farm. West of the Genesee, upon no more than one percent of it, had any attempt at settlement been made, and much of the remainder had not yet been explored by White men.

The whole territory was practically in a state of nature, the abode of wild beasts, and men almost as wild, subdued but not tamed, and at this time liable at any moment to be seduced by the British into seeking vengeance against the intruders upon their one-time hunting grounds. Bears were quite neighborly and wolves were so numerous that by law a bounty was paid for their heads and in building, care had to be taken to make the house wolf-proof. Children at play had to be expert in killing rattlesnakes. War was on with Great Britain; hard times were over the whole country and the little settlement later destined to become Rochesterville, money was so scarce it couldn't be the source of much evil.

No Legal Organization

More disheartening than all these was the malaria arising from the ground newly opened to the sun, resulting in fever and ague and other diseases incident to that condition. All but the rough necessities had to come from the far East and the cost of moving a ton of freight from Albany to Rochester was one hundred dollars. Sugar could be got from the forest, but salt, a greater necessity, must be hauled from Onandaga with ox teams.

For the first five years this settlement, though acting as a little commonwealth, had no legal establishment. No village organization nor authority, yet the conduct of each seems to have conformed to the will of all. Possibly they remembered their New England ancestors, who, when they went out and founded the Colony of Connecticut, soberly announced that the law of God would govern the colony until they had leisure to prepare some.

As the village grew the thought of the people soon became directed to the need of a public school and a public meeting was held in Jehiel Barnard's tailor shop, when it was decided to build a free public school. We must understand that this school was public only in the sense that it was built by voluntary contributions of all the people, and free in that the door was open to all alike. It was not free from charge. The cost of conducting it was met by the parents paying in proportion to the number of children each sent to school. Those who had no child or sent none escaped the expense.

Bachelors Must Pay

As the settlers were at that time inviting mechanics and laborers into the settlement for the building of raceways and mills there might be some children whose parents, however willing, were unable to meet the expense. To provide for this emergency it is said Jehiel Barnard made a motion that the eight bachelors of the settlement should each pay the cost of maintaining one child in school. The motion was carried and the bachelors made it unanimous by establishing eight free scholarships; probably the first established in the Genesee Country.

The building was completed and the school opened in the Spring of 1814. Jehiel Barnard was the first tailor in the settlement and his shop was the public meeting place of the citizens. In the absence of churches the first religious exercises were held there, the Episcopal service being read by some one of the residents, and the singing led by Miss Delia Scramton, the pioneer young lady of the settlement, who came here to occupy with her parents the first house that was going to be built.

First Marriage Ceremony

Barnard in donating his shop for these exercises may not have seen in advance all the possibilities, but he certainly improved his opportunity. He wooed and won the leader of the choir. They were married, October 8, 1815, in the log house which then stood where Powers Block now stands. It was the first wedding in the settlement and revoked the first of those eight scholarships. And, like other undertakings of the pioneers, it was not to be accomplished without overcoming difficulties.

There was no minister in the settlement. One was found in Victor, Rev. Reuben Parmele, who was duly engaged to perform the ceremony, but, when he learned the marriage was to take place on Sunday, he refused to proceed, giving a different

SLEET STORMS AND ANNOYANCES ALMOST ELIMINATE DECORATIONS

The recent sleet storms and a growing dislike of the large gatherings occasioned by the elaborate lawn and porch displays which have heretofore characterized the holiday season in the Tenth Ward as well as in other parts of the city, have almost eliminated this time-honored custom, a survey reveals. With only a few displays scattered throughout the section, visitors have been disappointed in a pilgrimage which for the past few years had become a regular affair.

The unusual weather conditions this year, which ruined an alarming percentage of city trees when boughs, heavily laden with ice, were snapped from the trunks, also administered a heavy coating of ice on porches, roofs and bushes. Wiring under these conditions was hazardous and many felt that an appropriate display was hardly possible.

However, even if weather conditions had been suitable, it is apparent that many residents had taken their resolve some time ago to forego the usual decoration. As one resident stated, crowds attracted to the more uniquely decorated homes, proved objectionable. Car swere parking in front of his home at all hours, he said, and the privacy of his home to which he was accustomed was taken away from him. Whether or not the custom has been broken permanently will remain for another Christmas to determine.

Harlem Hendricks of Eastman avenue and Ellsworth Gaylord of Electric avenue were home for the holidays from East Greenwich Academy, East Greenwich, L. I.

Miss Elizabeth Clark of Seneca parkway entertained at bridge and dancing at her home on New Year's Eve.

Business Men To Bowl Tues. Night

Dewey avenue's business men will endeavor to start the new year with some real records on the bowling alleys next week. The first match of 1930 will be held next Tuesday evening, January 7, at the Church of All Saints, St. Paul boulevard. Stop 9 1-2.

Chairman Roy Rathke is particularly anxious to have a full attendance inasmuch as an engagement with the Lyell pinpickers is scheduled a little later this month and he is looking for the best Dewey avenue has to offer.

R. B. I. STARTS NEW TERM NEXT MONDAY

Among those Rochester institutions looking forward to further progress and development in 1930 is the Rochester Business Institute. Ernest W. Veigel, Jr., general manager of the R. B. I. reports an additional registration of 100 students, who are entering for the new term beginning Jan. 6.

Students now enrolled in the school represent practically every city in New York State. About sixty surrounding and distant towns, cities in other states, near and far and three students enrolled from foreign countries. Altogether the day and evening school registration numbers approximately 1200 men and women.

The outstanding course in the R. B. I. is the Business Administration course, the department that was inaugurated by Dr. Meyer Jacobstein, president, last September and that has raised the school to the status of a commercial college. Other new courses attract those seeking cultural expression as well as practical training. Among these are the series of lectures in Public Speaking given by Dr. Raymon Kistler, an orator of note and pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church. This course begins in the Evening School Tuesday evening, Jan. 14.

The R. B. I. has several bulletins describing these new courses. These may be obtained by phoning or writing the school. The School also maintains a vocational guidance department whereby trained men give advice to those who have not decided what course to take to prepare for a successful business career.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Josephine L. Hagarman wishes to thank her friends and neighbors who so kindly offered their cars and expressed sincere sympathy in so many kind and thoughtful ways during her recent bereavement.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN RESUME ACTIVITIES

Regular monthly business meeting of the Tenth Ward Republican Women will be held Thursday evening, Jan. 9, at 8 o'clock at the club rooms, 333 Driving Park avenue. Arrangements are being made by Mrs. Carrie Jinks first vice-chairman of the club, to have a good speaker.

All members are urged to be present and to bring a friend. Mrs. Jennie Stell, chairman, will preside. The regular weekly Wednesday afternoon open house will be resumed January 8.

Dolores Swanton Wins

Brewer's Wrist Watch

An Elgin wrist watch which has been viewed by numerous patrons of Brewer's Dry Good Store during the past few weeks is now the property of Miss Dolores M. Swanton of 391 Magee avenue. Miss Swanton had the key that opened the lock and hence was awarded the prize.

FRED PERRON OPENS

DEWEY BARBER SHOP

A new barber shop in the lower end of Dewey avenue was opened last week by F. J. Perron, in the new building at 2061 Dewey, opposite Winchester street. Mr. Perron, who for the past two years has been working with Clyde Martin at his barber shop on Dewey at Driving Park avenue, has equipped his shop with all modern fixtures. Genial Fred will be pleased to meet his many friends in the section which he is serving.

JAPANESE TO SPEAK

AT NORTH PRESBYTERIAN

Miss Chieko Utsumi of Tokio, Japan, will be the guest of Miss Elizabeth Clark of Seneca Parkway for New Year's week. She will address the North Presbyterian Sunday School on Sunday, January 5th.

Miss Utsumi was graduated from college in Japan before coming to America and at present is pursuing a post-graduate course in Hygiene at Wellesley College.

GUERIN-KNOPE

Miss Gertrude M. Knope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Knope of Dewey avenue, and Chester R. Guerin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Guerin of Flower City Park, were married on Christmas Day at the Dewey Avenue Reformed Church. Rev. Frank B. Hunger performed the ceremony. Music was furnished by Harry Friedman and Paul Sargeant.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The attendants were Miss Florence Knope, sister of the bride and Everett Cole, Henry Freeman and Hugh Turner acted as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Guerin left on a trip to New York, Philadelphia and Hornell. They will be at home after Jan. 10 at 1093 Dewey avenue.

Women employes of William F. Zahndt and Son gave a luncheon last week at Odenbach's for Miss Anne Reh of Lexington avenue, who is leaving this week on a western trip.

Second Lieutenant Franklin H. Dewey 3d, Chemical Warfare Reserve, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Graduate School of Chemical Engineering spent the holidays at his home in Alameda street.

NEW BOOKS ADDED

TO LAKE LIBRARY

A number of new books in the fields of fiction, biography and drama are included now on the book shelves of the Lake Avenue Branch Library. They include the following:

Byrne, Donn. "The Field of Honor."—A romance of European history from Trafalgar to Waterloo. The last novel of the popular Irish author.

Gale, Zona. "Borgia."—A character study of a self centered girl who sees in herself the cause of the evil that befalls persons whose lives touch hers. The lack of sincerity in the central character and her self-centered attitude are matched by an artificiality of style in the telling of the story.

Neff, W. F. "Lone Voyagers."—A thoughtful picture of life in a mid-western state university, and of the limitations which such a life imposes on men of genuine scholarship.

Richardson, H. H. "Ultima Thule."—Portrays the mental and physical decline of Richard Mahoney, struggling for a living in the bare Australian bush. Tragic, depressing to some, but a masterpiece.

Sayers, D. L., ed. "The Omnibus of Crime."—An anthology of the best detective and mystery stories, with a critical discussion of types and standards of this peculiarly modern literary form.

Webb, M. G. (M). "The House in Domer Forest."—A sombre novel of English rural life, characterized by the author's passion for the earth and its beauty.

Williamson, Henry. "The Beautiful Years."—A study of a shrinking, sensitive boy arrayed against his uncomprehending father. Like The Pathway, a later volume, vivid with the sympathetic treatment of Nature.

Wallace, Edgar. "People."—The autobiography of the popular author of mystery stories. As exciting as his novels.

De Kruif, Paul. "Seven Iron Men."—The Merritt family, the discoverers of iron in Minnesota, are described against a background of American history and industry.

Rawson, M. N. "Country Auction."—Reminiscences of New England life as it is recalled by the auction of various curiosities of a typical New England home.

Maitland, L. J. "Knights of the Air."—A great flyer writes the history of flights and flyers from the first venture of the Wright brothers to the trans continental, trans-oceanic, and round-the-world flights of the past few years.

Gostling, F. (M). "The Lure of the Riviera."—A pleasant, informal description of a region included in almost every European tour.

Henderson, H. W. "Cathedrals of France."—A practical guide as well as a spur to the imagination. Gives in picturesque style the historic background of the French cathedrals.

3 Couples Celebrate Long Married Spans

An outbreak of wedding anniversaries dating back 50 years or more within the past week has brought the spotlight of city newspapers forcibly to the Tenth Ward. No less than three couples have been featured, together with photographs, since Christmas day on the city pages.

The first to celebrate and the oldest in point of years of married life were Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey C. Vredenburg of 103 Levington avenue, who on Christmas day passed their sixtieth year of married life. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray of 40 Malvern street, celebrated their golden anniversary on New Year's eve as did Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomson of 1043 Dewey avenue.

Beginning with this issue this column is thrown open to our readers and we shall print here short contributions which we feel will be of general interest to antiquelovers. If you have tucked away in your attic some unusual piece of antique furniture or china, or household utensils which tell of the customs of other days,—in fact anything genuinely old and interesting, write us about it.

The first of the contributions from our readers follows, and is a good example of the type of article we hope to receive for this column. I am sure that many of you will find interesting material about which you can tell us, and we shall be like neighbors stepping into each others' houses to inspect quaint treasures of long ago which have come to us to cherish. It is strange that in all the rush and bustle of modern life these delicate articles have such a hold on the public interest. All day we hurry about on important business, but when we have leisure we are glad to stop and get acquainted with these small faded articles which are full of associations—some historic, some sentimental, but all interesting.

English Recipes

A MANUSCRIPT cook book that served two generations is apt to be looked upon as having done its duty. But even a cookbook, by virtue of great age and of special charm and interest, is found among those rarities which occasionally come under the auctioneer's hammer. Such seems to have been the fate of one discovered by M— recently in an old bookshop. The volume bears the following autograph: 'Catherine Taylor, her Book, 1743.'

THE long life span of this particular cookbook has been due no doubt, to its strong English back. It is an octavo containing eighty-eight pages of handmade paper, bound in wooden boards a quarter of an inch thick, over which is stretched a cover of pigskin parchment. It is handsewn with stout linen thread, and is further secured by three parchment bands laced in the boards. The book is much yellowed with age. But come, let us have a peep inside!

EVIDENTLY Catherine's friends and relatives contributed to this toothsome volume, all writing in the delicate, legible, and painstaking style of the eighteenth century. There is nothing to show definitely the book's origin but indications are that it was brought from England to one of the northern colonies.

THE recipes are distinctly English: wines, meats, puddings, and pastries forming the chief subject headings. Vegetables are not mentioned. The first half-dozen pages contain recipes for making wine—'Orange, White Elder Flower, Raspberry, (very Good) and Cowslip.' Following these are directions for making 'An Extraordinary Plumb Cake' which requires, among other things, sixteen eggs, a pound each of 'Candyed Orange, Lemon and Citron Peel or more if you desire it very rich.'

There are enough puddings to serve all the children in Pudding-Lane. This 'Nursery Pudding' would be quite to their liking:—

Take a White Loaf pare ye Crust off, Slice it & put to it a half Pd of Butter unmelted, a Quarter of a Pd of sugar, a little Nutmex Pour on a Pint of Milk Scalding hot cover it & Let it stand two hours.

Four Wiggs Recipes

NO less than four recipes are given for 'Wiggs,' a favorite cake, no doubt, in the Taylor household. According to Wright's English Dialect Dictionary, wiggs were a kind of tea-cake made long in shape, or small oblong rolls, baked with butter and currants, or caraway seeds. In another quaint volume, dated 1874 there is reference to the wig-woman of Grantham:—

FIVE and twenty years ago all Grantham juveniles knew 'Mrs. B——, the wig-woman,' who sold the most delicious pennyworths of indigestion I can now call to mind.—I remember her being excessively indignant with a servant of our family who called her, as I believe everybody else did, the 'wig-woman.'

AT one time wiggs or wigs were as popular in England as ice-cream cones are to-day in America. They were the subject of a famous rhyme:—

Tom, Tom, the baker's son,
Stole a wig and away he run;
The wig was eat, and Tom was beat,
And Tom went roaring down the street.

THAT Miss Taylor was anxious to please the eye as well as the palate of her guests is evidenced by 'A dish for ye Middle of Ye Table,' made of a codling, egg-whites, sugar, and cream, which turned out to be a great white frothy heap. To this may be added 'a little perfume if you like!'

THERE are many meat dishes requiring much time, labor, and patience, to say nothing of expense. But two hundred years ago there was plenty of time to bake, to boil, and to beat. Furthermore, 'economy' and 'High cost of living' were unknown quantities in the Taylor kitchen.

"My bean," little Elsie said, "is going to be an admiral."
"Indeed!" the visitor replied indulgently. "A cadet at the naval academy now, I presume?"
"Oh, he hasn't got that far yet, but he's had an anchor tattooed on his arm."

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian. January 5—12 will be observed as the week of Prayer, according to a custom for many years. There will be meetings each week night except Saturday night and two special vesper services, one on January 5, a communion service; one on January 12th, a special service for young people, in which the young people themselves will have a part. Those who will assist the minister in leading the meetings during the week are Mrs. Anna M. Nicholson, Miss Anna C. Fiedler, B. H. Clement, Dr. I. T. Clark, H. R. Kingsley, Thomas Neilson and E. F. Davison. On Wednesday evening, Rev. Charles W. Abel, a missionary from New Guinea, will tell of his interesting field.

On Monday, January 13, the regular monthly meeting of the Friendship Circle will be held in the Parish House. Gertrude Frank will present for discussion the work done at the Allison-James School in New Mexico. Supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. to members of the Friendship Circle and the Loyalty Circle.

The North Stars,—the North Presbyterian Basketball team, have begun an interesting season. They have won two games out of three in the Inter-church league. Clarence E. Chittenden is manager of the team and James McConnachie, captain.

Members of Loyalty Circle went to the Presbyterian Home on Monday to present a play, "Just a Little Mistake," and to distribute candy to the residents of the Home. Miss Ethel Robinson is the leader of the Group.

Friendship Circle held an outdoor hike on Monday for those members who were brave enough to go; they cooked their lunch over a charcoal fire and a "good time was had by all."

Grace M. E. The week of Prayer will be observed next week in all the Methodist churches of the city. The following ministers of the city will be speakers at Grace church: Monday, Dr. S. J. Clarkson, pastor; Tuesday, Dr. R. S. Cushman; Wednesday, Dr. W. W. McKee; Thursday, Rev. L. B. Henry; Friday, Dr. H. Scott. All services commence at 7:45.

Next Sunday morning the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered after a short meditation by the minister. New members will be received.

The Ladies' Aid, under the leadership of Mrs. Montague, is arranging for a friendly visit to all members of the church. The visitation will begin Sunday, Jan. 12, and continue for a week.

excuse, however, which did not deceive the pioneer. This was quite a predicament. Every young woman a wedding. What they said to the knows it is unlucky to postpone minister is not a matter of record. But in pioneer fashion they wasted no time in repining. They called on their friend, John Mastick, the village magistrate, who performed the ceremony and kissed the bride.

The wedding party was held the following evening and was a society affair. The first families all attended. Ira West, the first merchant of the settlement, provided the wine, to carry out a bargain with Barnard, that whichever of them married first the other would provide this necessary delicacy. The music was furnished by a left-handed fiddler from the "Deep Hollow" and as it was announced that evening that West's marriage to Miss Eliza Stone was soon to follow, the free scholarships were doomed to extinction.

REPUBLICANS MEET TONIGHT AND PLAN FOR ANNUAL DANCE

Ward and county committeemen and a group of workers of the Tenth Ward Republican Club will meet tonight to start plans for the annual entertainment and dance of the club to be held in the near future. The chairman will be elected and will start work on appointment of committees this week. The dance is one of the big events of the year locally, drawing crowds in excess of 2,500 from this section as well as other parts of the city. County and city officials and other distinguished guests always make it a point to be present. Last year the dance was in the nature of a St. Patrick's Day party.

Doctor To Talk To No. 41 Health Class

Dr. W. A. Sawyer will address the Live-a-little-longer Health Class at No. 41 School next Tuesday afternoon on "First Aid in Emergency." This is one of a series of lectures by doctors and nurses being given each Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock, to which ladies of the neighborhood are invited.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the school will be entertained at a card party January 29 at the home of Mrs. George Saunders on Avis street. The P. T. A. are also planning a banquet for the graduating class of the school.

CHURCH OFFICERS IN ANNUAL BANQUET

James C. Corbett was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the officers and teachers of Lewiston avenue M. E. Church Tuesday evening. Other speakers were Rev. J. Fleming, pastor, and James Draffin, superintendent of the Sunday School.

The Ladies Aid of the church are to have a luncheon Friday afternoon in the church rooms on Dewey avenue at Lewiston. Mrs. McMichaels is in charge of the luncheon, which will be served under the direction of Clara F. Brady of the Food Service Bureau.

City Manager Speaker At Non-Partisan Club

City Manager Stephen B. Story will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Tenth Ward Non-partisan League next Thursday evening at the league rooms in the Liberty Theatre building. This meeting is in the nature of an organization meeting and plans will be made for the coming year.

Annual Meeting of Golf Club Jan. 27

The annual meeting of the Ridge-mont Golf Club will be held January 27 at the Maplewood Y. M. C. A. Four governors are to be elected to succeed the following, whose terms expire this year: Herbert A. Johnston, Fred J. Slater, Rex B. Wilsey and Frank Quinn. It is announced that the full 18 holes will be ready for play when the course opens for 1930. The membership quota of 300 is reported as nearly filled.

Democratic Women To Meet On January 24

The Tenth Ward Democratic Women's Club will hold the regular meeting Friday evening, January 24, at the headquarters, 290 Driving Park avenue. After a short business meeting the usual card party will take place. There will be refreshments and a prize for each table. The following committee is in charge of arrangements: Miss Rose Wieser, Mrs. Minnie Statt, Mrs. Hazel Regan and Mrs. Mary Hughes.

CAMERA CLUB HOLDING ANTARCTIC HOP DANCE

The Camera Club is giving an Antarctic Hop at Kodak Park Assembly Hall, Friday evening, January 24. J. H. Hudson, chairman, announces that the Odenbach orchestra will play for dancing.

A. A. Laurette of Gorsline street is ill at his home.

Republican Women To Have Valentine Party

James Cuff, county attorney gave an interesting talk on "Government and American Politics," at the Tenth Ward Women's Republican meeting Thursday evening. The club decided to hold a Valentine Party, Thursday evening, Feb. 13. Mrs. Mary Perry of Driving Park avenue will be chairman of arrangements. Cards will be played with a prize for each table playing according to rules they agree upon.

SORORITIES

The Phi Delta Rho Sorority held their first dance of the new year, Friday, Jan. 10. It was a private dance given in honor of one of the members, and was held at the Lakedale Club House.

On the committee were Mary Tobin, Alma Durnherr, and Marian Curtin. The sorority also elected officers at its last meeting. The officers are: Miss Mary Tobin, President, Miss Marian Curtin, Vice-President, Miss Florence Townner, Secretary and Miss Alma Durnherr, Treasurer.

The Phi Epsilon Sorority elected officers for the new year, at their last meeting, held at Miss Marian MacNamara's home on Finch street. Those elected were: Miss June Gunchion of Maplewood avenue, President, Miss Betsy Jones, Vice-President, Mary Pauline Lay, Secretary and M. Adelaide Brennan, Treasurer.

Henry F. Clement of Driving Park avenue will entertain at bridge Saturday evening.

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian—On Thursday, at 2 o'clock, the Women's Society of North Church will hold its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Paul Stratton, of Westminster Presbyterian Church, will speak on "Stewardship." Mrs. F. J. Shields will lead the devotions and Mrs. M. M. Finch and Mrs. R. W. Sabin will be hostesses.

On Friday, January 24, the Federation of Churches hour on Station WHEC will be conducted by a North Presbyterian Church group. Mrs. L. E. Wallington and Robert Merritt Shurtz will sing a contralto and tenor duet, and Mrs. Wallington will direct a girls' chorus. Mrs. Elizabeth J. Miller will speak on "Childhood and Religion."

At a young people's service in North Church on Sunday, January 12, Rev. Arthur Tallman, of Bethany Presbyterian Church, spoke on "If I Were Twenty-one Again." The work of the following young people's organizations was presented in short talks as follows: Troop 69, Boy Scouts of America, George Frank, Scoutmaster; Young People's Sunday Evening Group, Floyd L. Crellin; Friendship Circle, Harriet C. Miller; Loyalty Circle, Kathleen Wilson.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Friendship Circle, held on Monday, January 13, Gertrude Frank and Marion Hultenschmidt were appointed a nominating committee to report at the February meeting. Miss Gertrude Frank spoke briefly of the Allison-James School and Miss Gladys Frederick told of the customs of Spanish-speaking people.

Grace M. E.—Next Sunday evening Dr. Clarkson will continue his series of sermons to young people and will speak on the topic, "Choosing a Life Mate."

The Ladies' Aid Society, under the direction of Mrs. Montague, are having a Friendly Visitation Canvass this week. Every member of Grace Church will be called upon. There are 50 ladies who are out calling.

Plans are already completed for a "General Round Up" and evening of Fun and Frolics for every family of the church on Friday, January 24.

On Tuesday, January 21, the Missionary Society will hold their regular monthly meeting in the church parlor. Miss Clara Vick and her group of ladies have charge of the program and will act as hostesses.

THOSE who love the old things of our early American ancestors—and there are many right here in the Tenth Ward, if we are to judge by the contributions in our mailbag these last two weeks—often come across charming examples of early handiwork that can be acquired and used in their homes. "Two red and white quilts, left to me by a great-aunt," says C. W., "were for years packed away in a chest in the attic and saw the light of day only at housecleaning times. When they were hung on the line to air, I always admired the exquisite needlework and the quaint and intricate designs worked out so carefully, with tiny blocks and diamonds of snowy white muslin and bright scarlet and black calico. Each year we tried to fit them into our bedrooms; but red just would not harmonize with soft colorings of blue, rose and mauve that had been so carefully blended. So the quaint old quilts were regretfully but invariably laid away in their hiding place in the attic—perpetual white, or rather red, elephants on our hands."

WHICH reminds us that, after all, the modern decorative fabrics imported from Europe, with their sharp angles and startling color contrasts, are not new and foreign when one considers the old patchwork quilt, which was the pioneer woman's contribution to art. Then you realize she was ahead of Paris and Vienna, by more than a century.

SHE went modernistic years ago, while her husband was clearing up the land, building log cabins, prospecting for gold in California and building railroads across the plains. And she wrote the epic of the era that began with the Revolutionary War period and closed with the Spanish-American War with her needle and thread.

THIS picturesque American folk art tells us much of the life of those by-gone days when it was much of a social asset to be a good quilter as it is to-day to play a good hand of bridge.

CONTRASTS in life are startling indeed. For instance, the dowry chest of the oldtime bride was supposed to contain at least a baker's dozen of quilts. Twelve of these were fashioned with a view to everyday use; the thirteenth was a "bride's quilt," a piece of resistance so elaborate of design in both pattern and quilting that it was to all intents and purposes, a counterpane.

THE BRIDE'S quilt was planned and executed only after a girl was engaged. The others, so far as piecing went, were the work of years of maidenhood. And as top after top was finished, they were laid away to await quilting. There were several reasons for this latter custom, the most important being that the real cost of a quilt came only when the wadding and back had to be supplied. This expenditure was pointless until such a time as a new home was about to be furnished. So to invite guests to the quilting of a girl's "tops" was equivalent to announcing her approaching marriage. The modern engagement dinner can do no more.

NOTHING could bring back the flavor of other days better than the names of the famous quilt patterns: "Star of Bethlehem," "The Barn Raising," "Straight Furrow," "The Road to California," "Tree Everlasting," "Harvest Sun," "Churn Dash" and hosts of others.

THE PATCHWORK quilt has staged a come-back, not only as a counterpane but as a decoration and a wall hanging. We have at last caught up with our quilt patching grandmothers. So bring out your heirlooms, C. W., and let's have a restoration of turkey-red quilts!

Dewey Bowlers Meet Lyell Ave. Tuesday

Two bowling matches have been held during the past two weeks by the Dewey avenue business men and twice Charlie Bantel has led the parade. This is nothing new or surprising, however, inasmuch as Mr. Hotstuff has just about monopolized the honors throughout the season. Next best man Tuesday evening of this week was L. Comeau whose total of 545 placed him 31 points in the van of the leader, three points ahead of Earl Crocker, who in turn was five points in front of George Colishaw.

Although last week Tuesday, brought out only a medium sized gathering, there were enough to make up for it this week, 24 men being present, split up into four teams. Two picked teams will roll against Lyell avenue's business men next week on the local's home alleys at the Church of All Saints.

A recent development, worth mention, is a basketball rivalry as an intermission feature at the bowling matches. George Bauman and Jimmy Donahue chose teams and John Burns official score keeper named them the Daises and Shamrocks, Tuesday evening. John Schmanke kept time, and Charlie Bantel blew the referees whistle. The final score was about 23 to 15, in favor of Bauman's Daises. Bowling scores Tuesday were as follows:

NO. 7 SCHOOL NEWS

Some pupils of Miss Lamoree's fifth grade have written interesting paragraphs on "How To Help the Safety Officers." The paragraphs written by Robert Romig, Luella Derr, Arthur Goodell, and Mathias Barry, have been posted in the upper hall.

The Sixth B Grade has organized a club, the "Jolly Juniors," who meet every Monday.

"BE FAIR TO YOUR WATCH"

"Whose fault is it, if my watch is not keeping time?"

The answer will probably be "my own" because most folks let their watches run until they stop for lack of cleaning and regulating.

THEN THE SECOND QUESTION:
"What shall I do about it?"

Take it to WM. H. JACKSON, who has had 20 years' experience on Railroad watch work and for 15 years a New York Central watch inspector. He will handle your watch or clock personally.

Announces Fifth February Sale

Coming at this time when extensive alterations will just have been completed, this great annual event will permit us to combine two sales into one ----

We had planned an Expansion Sale in January to acquaint our friends and patrons with our added facilities.. However, now we are able to put on a sale of very unusual proportions --- We are marking down EVERYTHING in the store.

In the past the principal inducement we had to offer shoppers was our LOWER PRICES since our limited space did not allow as great a selection as was desirable --- Now we can offer both LOWER PRICE and a GREAT SELECTION. We now have a model home built right into the store and we would like very much to have all who can, visit these rooms, whether interested in buying at this time or not.

Continuing Our Forward March

Alterations, when completed, will give us a floor space of 10,500 square feet at our Driving Park Avenue store. There are many stores in Rochester, in business for many years, who cannot display as large or as fine an assortment of home furnishings as will be found here.

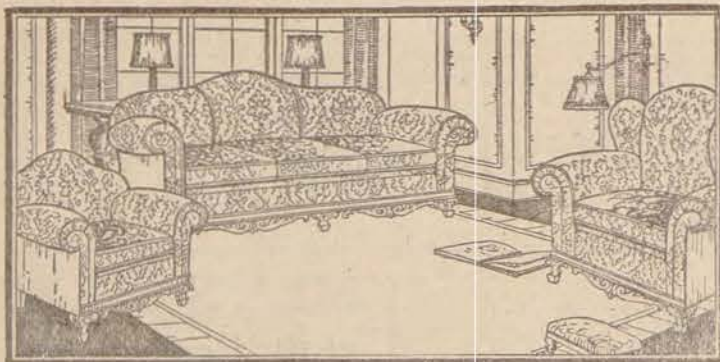

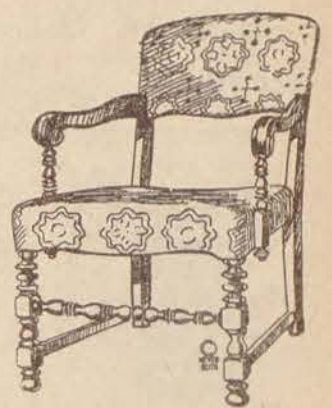

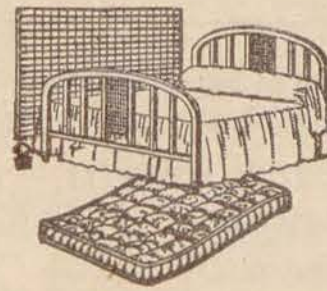

New Show Room — 1441 Dewey Ave.

We have acquired the former garage and automobile salesroom at 1441 Dewey Avenue. Such space as is not being used for our truck storage will be devoted to the showing of new and used furniture. This additional space makes it possible for us to accept OLD furniture in exchange for NEW.

WE ALSO HAVE A MODERN, EFFICIENT UPHOLSTERING SHOP AND WHEN YOU ARE CONSIDERING RE-COVERING OR RE-BUILDING, PLEASE LET US CALL AND SUBMIT FIGURES

LIVING ROOM SUITES	$95 to $800
DINING ROOM SUITES	$135 to $1200

CITY PLAN CALLS FOR STRAIGHTENED DEWEY-DRIVING PK.

A recommendation for the straightening of the difficult curve at Driving Park and Dewey avenues is contained in the new city plan as proposed by Harlan Bartholomew and Associates. The plan suggests that the northwest corner be cut, swinging the course of Dewey avenue gradually over to the East until it rejoins its present course near Selye terrace.

C. A. Taubert, local representative of Mr. Bartholomew, when interviewed, agreed that the corner was badly in need of attention. The plan which his associates propose, he said, would leave a triangular-shaped plot of ground, adjacent to Driving Park avenue on the North which would be suitable either as a small park or as a parking space for automobiles. The parking space, he said seemed more logical, inasmuch as one of the principal problems of the corner was to allow patrons of the many business houses there to stop and shop.

Other features of the plan, locally interesting, are a proposal to create a route by way of Broad street, Dewey avenue and Driving park from the center of the city to Fitzner road and thus to Hilton. A new street is shown along the east side of the subway from the present intersection of Dewey and Emerson, meeting Driving Park avenue, which would be continued northward to Fitzner road. Dewey avenue would also be connected in a cross-town route with Genesee street by a new straight-through thoroughfare, taking in parts of Sherman, Cameron, and Child streets.

Emerson street takes on an important aspect in the proposal to build another bridge across the river, joining Emerson and Clifford. Emerson would be continued to the Million Dollar highway, thereby providing a straight route for traffic, seeking to pass through Rochester on its way across the State. Glide and Ramona streets and Bennington road are suggested to be connected to form a continuous thoroughfare reaching both northern and southern extremes of the city, traveling South along Thurston road.

Augustine street would be connected with Mt. Read boulevard and thus to Ridgeway avenue. Thus it is said considerable traffic would be diverted from Ridgeway, which it is suggested be widened.

NO. 7 SCHOOL NEWS

During the past term the Sixth Grade banked a total of $105.40, or an average of $5.86 per week. The boys and girls banked on an average of 19 pupils a week.

Robert Romig, James Thirtle, Norman Vandervort represented Number Seven School in the Elementary School Skating Meet held at Cobbs Hill recently.

EDWARD MAY NEW RIVIERA MANAGER

Edward C. May, popular organ soloist over Station WHEC and Schine theater organist, is now manager of the Riviera Theatre, having been advanced to that position two weeks ago. His advancement came after six years of service in various capacities with the Schine group. The announcement is made by C. C. Young, district manager.

In making the announcement Mr. Young said, "the Riviera Theatre is an important link in the chain of Schine enterprises which embraces many theaters in this part of the country. The Riviera is the only house of its kind between Chicago and New York showing second-run pictures. As a neighborhood theater, we regard it as one of the finest in the country."

Mr. May is one of the youngest theater managers to be appointed to this important position. He is 29 years old, but for the past nine years has been actively engaged in theatrical work in various capacities. He has been connected with ten other Schine theaters, including the Riviera and Liberty theaters, where he has been organist up to the time of his appointment as a manager. His duties as manager have compelled him to give up a large group of organ pupils who have been studying under Mr. May for some time.

Continue Broadcasts

At every performance, Mr. May plans to continue his organ features and in addition, he will be heard twice daily from the Riviera over Station WHEC, at noon and again at 3 o'clock. On Tuesdays and Thursdays he will also be heard over this station in dinner concerts at 6 o'clock. He will be assisted by Nicholas Pagliari, golden-voiced tenor of the air and radio announcer of WHEC. Mr. Pagliari will also make a personal appearance at Saturday afternoon matinees, when other special features are planned. Mr. May has been broadcasting for some time and is accustomed to receive hundreds of telephone calls and letters for various numbers; he is especially anxious to receive requests from Tenth Ward residents.

Around the Ward

The report of Harlan Bartholomew and his associates on a scientific plan for regulating future development of Rochester is interesting to Tenth Warders in several particulars. It is of course a pleasing thought which Mr. Bartholomew extends regarding the future course of Rochester growth, when he says that it will be to the Northwest past our thresholds.

But of more immediate interest is his suggestion regarding the straightening of the corner of Driving Park and Dewey avenues and the widening of Dewey avenue. C. A. Taubert, local representative of Mr. Bartholomew, says that under the suggested plan, Dewey avenue would be curved gradually eastward from the point where it strikes the south side of Driving Park avenue to meet the present course on the north side of Driving Park avenue about at Selye terrace. While this would necessarily entail some expense, it would soon pay for itself in enhanced property valuation.

Councilman Nelson A. Milne is said to be willing to introduce an ordinance for the straightening of the corner, but is awaiting action from the property owners who would be affected. Doubtless if the matter were brought up for discussion and it developed that the property owners were ready for immediate action, a plan might be devised whereby the city-at-large, which would also be benefited by the improvement in speedier and safer traffic conditions, would bear its share of the cost. We suggest that the councilman call his constituents together at the earliest convenience, rather than to wait for spontaneous action which might take some time in reaching the boiling point.

Regarding the widening and resurfacing of Dewey avenue from Augustine St. northward there has likewise been an evident need, yet there has been little or no action. Councilman Milne has a resolution on the councilmanic minutes, but whether or not it has been pigeon-holed for later reference is not as yet established.

CHRISTMAN OPENS MARKET IN TENTH

Following extensive remodeling, Phillip R. Christman has opened a meat market in the old Park Theatre building at Driving Park and Dewey avenues. Mr. Christman returns to business in the Tenth Ward after an absence of three years in which he has acted as used truck manager in the Rochester territory for General Motors Corp. He will operate a cash market.

For 14 years Mr. Christman conducted a meat market on Dewey avenue near Birr street, building the block a few years ago at 1050 Dewey avenue. He also took over the market at Lyell and Saratoga avenues, which his father, Phillip Christman, Sr., had established in 1880. He gave up both enterprises, however, to enter other business fields. His home for the past 20 years has been at 318 Birr street.

Ruth Barry To Edit Normal School Paper

Announcement was made in the last issue of the "Stylus," semi-monthly publication of Brookport Normal School, that Miss Ruth Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Barry of Maryland street, had been elected to the office of editor-in-chief.

Miss Barry was associate editor during the past term. She is a graduate of No. 7 School and John Marshall High School.

John Marshall Coach Banquet Toastmaster

Herbert E. Coyer, director of health education and athletics at John Marshall High School and H-Y advisor will be the toastmaster at the Father and Son banquet to held February 4 at the Maplewood Y. M. C. A. Charles E. Bostwick will be one of the speakers also.

Mr. Coyer, who came to Rochester in 1927 from North Tonawanda, where he was city supervisor in charge of the public schools, has had a long experience in the health educational field, and is particularly fitted for his work, having done special research work in Posture with R. J. Kiphuth, of the Yale gymnasium. At this time he originated a machine for the measurement of the anterior-posterior curve, which is now used at Yale university.

Besides his educational work, Mr. Coyer has been active in Scout Circles, being at present an Eagle Scout and an examiner on the Boy Scout Court of Honor.

At John Marshall High School he has done much to develop interest in the school affairs and since his advent the participation in after-school activities has increased more than 45 per cent. This is due directly, Mr. Coyer states to the influence of the point system for awards for school letters, in the inauguration of which he was instrumental.

Parent Teachers of No. 41 School will be entertained at a card party February 7, in the evening, at the home of Mrs. George Watts, 124 Aberdeen street. Pinochle and pedro will be played. All those interested are invited to attend.

The Live-a-little-longer health classes being held each Tuesday afternoon from 4 until 5 are drawing a large attendance and there is considerable interest in the helpful information that is being given by medical people. The meetings are open to ladies of the ward.

IN these days of red kitchens and gaily colored bath-rooms, how would you like to have a lovely old china foot tub? Susie Jeffrey writes us that she has one which has been handed down from one English ancestor to another until it finally reposes in her attic for lack of a better place. It is very large, graceful in shape and of an ivory whiteness, with a pattern in a delicate powder blue. Suppose it should develop that it is a piece of Lowestoft or Bow china, Susie, how rich you would be—rich in tradition and art, and who knows, maybe, golden shekels?

ANOTHER one of Joanne's correspondents tells us of an old Wedgwood cake plate which was given to her by a lady from England and which has markings to indicate that it is a very early piece. It is cream color background with a small flower design in black, evidently an example of the early art of transferring patterns on china. Incidentally, Joanne went into an antique shop to make some inquiries about this piece. In the discussion, the shop keeper questioned the age and then told of a lady who came in to ask his advice about a photograph of Lincoln. She was evidently a person of some wealth and apparently intelligent, he said. And then by way of proving the authenticity of the photograph, she made the remark that it had been in her family for over "two hundred years!"

HAVE you a Toby jug? There are so many different types of these charming caricatures in china and if you are not lucky enough to have one of your great grandmother's, there are splendid copies in the gift and china shops.

Cardinal Robert Bellarmine little thought that his name, his excessively portly figure, and his grotesque face would be handed down to posterity on wine flasks and common ale jugs. Beer house loafers of the seventeenth century lifted a caricature of the Cardinal to their lips, drank deeply, and reeled home singing:

"With jugs, mugs and pitchers,
And Bellarmine of stale,
Dashed lightly with a little,
A very little ale."

So you must have a Toby jug!

WM. H. STELL AGAIN HEADS REPUBLICAN DANCE COMMITTEE

William H. Stell of Flower City park, was unanimously re-elected to the chairmanship of the annual dance and entertainment of the Tenth Ward Republican Club and in this capacity will direct preparations for the Seventh Annual affair. The committee, which met on the last two Thursdays at the club rooms, has set the date for March 17 and promises a real St. Patrick's Day party.

Joseph H. Bush, secretary, and M. J. DeWitt, treasurer, were also re-elected to these offices. Committee appointments as announced by Mr. Stell are as follows:

Program, Robert Clifford; tickets, Joseph H. Bush; entertainment, Nelson A. Milne; refreshments, Frank R. O'Brien; music, Mrs. Carrie Jinks; floor, John Makin and Mrs. Joseph Culhane; printing, Leo D. Fellows; decorations, Mrs. Helen Hesselink; flowers, Mrs. Katherine Schlegel; ushers, Joseph Schnepp; publicity, Frank Morris; checking, Mrs. Gertrude Dorschell; door, John Shearer.

Tickets have been distributed to all members of the committee and a spirited campaign is being conducted this year to outdo all former records. The ticket committee met Monday night at the club rooms for formal organization and the following evening the program committee was called together by Mr. Clifford to start work on the 68-page program which is always one of the features of the dance and entertainment.

John Schmanke Going To Shoe Convention

John Schmanke, Dewey avenue shoe man, leaves this week for the convention of the Brown-bilt Shoe Company in St. Louis. He will represent the Northwest section of Rochester, being one of five from Rochester to attend.

Over 500 managers are expected at the convention at which plans for the coming year will be unfolded. New styles will be on display and the views of the various dealers as to the best sellers will be heard. Mr. Schmanke expects to be gone all next week.

ELECTED WORTHY MATRON OF VIDALIA CHAPTER, O.E.F.

Miss Ruth B. Milne of Electric avenue is the new Worthy Matron of Vidalia Chapter, O. E. F., as the result of recent elections. On January 20 she entertained her cabinet of officers at her home, formulating the Ruth B. Milne Club.

Mrs. Perry Chairman
Of Valentine Party
The Republican Women of the Tenth Ward will hold their monthly business meeting Thursday evening,
Feb. 13, at 7:30, preceding the Valentine party. Mrs. Mary Perry is chairman of the Valentine party, assisted by the following members:
Mrs. Beryl Geer, Mrs. Rose Meyerhoff, Mrs. Grace O. Smith, Mrs.
Elizabeth Wishart, Mrs. Nettie
Steer, Mrs. Ann Clifford and Mrs.
Agnes Paskal. There will be a prize for each table.

Funeral Services Held
For Air Mishap Victim
Funeral services were held this morning for John A. Loasby, 21-year-old aviator, who with Gordon
A. Smith of 59 Kohlman street was killed in the crash of the airplane which they were piloting Monday near Brizee Field. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.
Young Loasby was well-known in the Tenth Ward and was considered as a well-qualified aviator. Last Summer he attracted considerable attention when he flew over the corner of Driving Park and Dewey avenues to drop a quantity of circulars, advertising a group of business houses at the corner. He leaves three brothers, Milton A., and Earl
S. Loasby of this city and Charles
H. Loasby of Philadelphia.

Business Career Seen
Equal With Professions

Dr. Meyer Jacobstein

"Business as a career for young men and women is no longer regarded as secondary to the professions. The growth of industry and commerce in this country is responsible for this change of idea which has been cultivated largely by the common urge and desire of young Americans to procure for themselves the best of living, not only necessities but luxuries never dreamed of by their grandparents."
This is the opinion of Dr. Meyer Jacobstein, former congressman, president of the Rochester Business Institute and president of the First National Bank and Trust Company. In his office as head of one of the outstanding business schools in this section of the country, Dr. Jacobstein is deeply concerned in business training and believes that it offers one of the vital problems of the day to educators mentally in step with the times.
Last year the Rochester Business Institute organized its course in Business Administration, a two-year course in accountancy, business management and executive training, comparable to the same course taught in any of the leading business colleges. Young men taking this course are educated to succeed in business, according to Dr. Jacobstein, who says that the studies included in this course cover every step in a business career. Graduates of Business Administration are fitted by this training to become executives in any line of commerce.
The one-year course in Secretarial Science will give the young woman all the essentials needed for her success in business, Dr. Jacobstein thinks. This course is also very comprehensive as well as intensive and the success of the Secretarial Science graduate is limited only by her own energy and ambition, Dr. Jacobstein avers.

Betty Compson, Victor
McLaglen At Riviera
The public cries for youth, youth and more youth. Youth is the joy of those who possess it, the desire of those who have had and lost it. Seasoned troupers, although none of them could be called "old," were assembled for "The Time, the Place and the Girl," when Warner Bros. decided to convert Hough, Adams and Howards' famous musical comedy success of a decade ago into a Vitaphone all-talking and singing production. This picture shows at the Riviera Theatre tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

Grant Withers and Gertrude Olmsted are probably the youngest members of the cast. They have the romantic leading roles and as they are seen as college students it was quite necessary they look the parts. However, they have both had many years of experience and the demands of their roles in this picture, which is a fast-moving sophisticated comedy, requires it of them.

Betty Compson's years of experience on the screen are a matter of common knowledge with all movie fans. She has a difficult role that demands a proficiency that is not acquired over night.

Directly after finishing his work in "The Cock Eyed World," Victor McLaglen laid aside his marine uniforms for a time and visited the Fox wardrobe to be fitted out in a nautical costume representing his new role, first mate of a windjammer sailing between Sydney, Australia and Marseilles, France.

It's the role he plays in Raoul Walsh's latest Fox Movietone talking picture, "Hot For Paris," running from Sunday through Wednesday at the Riviera. The story conceived by Walsh was also directed by him and is admirably fitted to McLaglen's athletic fame.

The story chiefly concerns "John Patrick Duke," a "Sailor bloke" who, on shore leave, purchases a ticket in the Calcutta Sweepstakes. He wins because "Dark Japan," a long shot comes under the wire first in The Derby. McLaglen does not know he wins and the strenuous chase to find him and his equally strenuous chase from his pursuers forms the basis of many laughable incidents.

Annual Banquet of
Knights of St. John

The annual banquet and installation of officers of Sacred Heart Auxiliary 166, Knights of St. John, was held Thursday evening in the private dining room of the Columbus Civic Center. A sumptuous Rhode Island duck dinner was served by Mr. Lang and the tables were beautifully decorated with tall cathedral candles in green with silver trimming and small standards each containing three small size silk American flags alternating throughout the table centers.

At the speaker's table the centerpiece was a silver basket tied with a large bow of pink tulle holding pink chrysanthemums, silver sheaves and maiden-hair ferns. At each guest's place were small pink boxes of after-dinner mints topped with the place cards and a pink rose, the color scheme throughout being pink, silver and green.

The Right Rev. John Francis O'Hern, Bishop of Rochester, was the guest of honor with the Rev. George V. Burns, pastor of Sacred Heart Church and Spiritual Advisor of Auxiliary No. 166; also Mrs. Teresa Ganster, Supreme President of the Knights of St. John Auxiliaries. The toastmistress, Mrs. Mary Bailey, introduced these distinguished guests who in turn responded with addresses.

The committee in charge of arrangements were Mrs. Bessie Cottrell, Mrs. Mary Bailey, Mrs. P. J. Monaghan and Miss Alice Rendsland. On behalf of Auxiliary No. 166 Mrs. Teresa Ganster was presented a large arm bouquet of pink flowers and to the incoming president a gold piece, the presentation being made by Mrs. Bessie Cottrell.

After the installation, cards were enjoyed until a late hour with suitable prizes for all fifty members attending the dinner. Music was furnished by Miss Corinne Leis.

Mrs. Georgia Barton of Alameda street leaves Thursday to spend several weeks in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Miss Jessie Ely, who is spending the winter in Clearwater, Florida, has been ill for a few weeks. She is reported as improving.

Stage Review Feature
At Liberty Theatre

A stage review is one of the features of the program at the Liberty Theatre tonight and tomorrow night. Marjorie Miller's School of Dancing furnishes the talent in the form of 50 young dancers, who have made a previous appearance on the Liberty stage with much success. Coupled with the review is the sensational Universal all-talking murder trial court-room picture, "The Drake Case."

Gladys Brockwell, one of the screen's greatest emotional actresses; Forrest Stanley, legitimate stage and film star, and Robert Frazer, have the leading roles in "The Drake Case." Miss Brockwell is the woman accused of murder; Stanley is the prosecuting district attorney, and Frazer is the defense lawyer.

A topic of timely interest—one that has been featured in bold type in newspapers above everything else and has been the chief item of conversation of the office boy and millionaire is the inside machinations of the New York Stock Exchange—Wall Street. Columbia Pictures has taken this subject and dramatized it in a novel and romantic manner under the appropriate title of "Wall Street" with Ralph Ince and Aileen Pringle in the leading roles. It is scheduled to play at the Liberty Saturday.

The staccato of rapid fire machine guns and the roar of airplanes caused by the Columbia company on location in San Diego during the production of the all-talking aviation film, "Flight," playing Sunday, gave the San Diegans a good scare until they found out what it was all about. The sounds, indicative of battle in progress, led them to believe that war had again broken out across the border in Mexico.

Upon investigation it was discovered that the bloody battle was being fought for "Flight," and that the mangled, bleeding mass of humanity which carried on the battle was a group of actors, none of whom were actually being shot despite the fact that the blood was streaming down their faces.

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian—On Sunday, January 26 at eleven o'clock, the Women's Society of North Presbyterian Church celebrated their annual Praise Service. The speakers were Rev. and Mrs. A. Henry Birkel, formerly of the Hunan Mission, China. Mrs. Birkel spoke to the children of her work in a kindergarten on the mission field, and Mr. Birkel spoke to the congregation of the present situation in China.

On Tuesday, February 4th, a silver tea for the benefit of the Women's Society will be given at the home of Mrs. Frederick Plaskett, 371 Raines Park. There will be a musical program and light refreshments will be served.

The annual meeting of the Women's Society will occur on Thursday, February 20th, when luncheon will be served to all the women of the church; annual reports of the work of the society and the election of officers for the coming year will take place.

On Sunday, February 2, at 11 a. m.

the Lord's Supper will be celebrated and new members will be received.

Grace M. E.—Ladies' Aid luncheon will be held at the church, Tuesday, Feb. 4th, at 1 o'clock. Sauerkraut dinner will be served at 2:30 at which the Home Service Department of the Rochester Gas and Electric will give a demonstration.

Fellowship Supper will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 5th 6:30. Dr. Clarkson will speak and the Ladies Aid will furnish a program.

Next Sunday evening, Dr. Clarkson will speak on "Choosing Your Life Work." This is the fourth sermon in a series of popular evening services for young people. The older folks are enjoying them as well.

The Shepard Class is having a covered dish supper on Friday, Jan. 31st, in the Recreation Hall. Every member of the class and their families will be present. Mrs. Ross, president of the class has arranged a fine program.

Dr. Milne, President
Non-Partisan League

City Manager Stephen B. Story addressed the members of the Tenth Ward Non-Partisan League last Thursday evening at the club headquarters on Driving Park avenue, speaking on the newly proposed City Plan. Mr. Story explained the essential points of the new plan and its relation to the growth of the city.

Dr. C. C. Milne was named as president of the league to succeed George Roche. Other officers elected were vice-president, Norman O'Brien; secretary, Charles Casey; treasurer, Julius Hoesterey. At the next meeting in February, Commissioner of Public Works Harold W. Baker will be the speaker, talking on the new Lewiston avenue bridge.

REPUBLICAN DANCE COMMITTEES PLAN SEVENTH ANNUAL AFFAIR

According to reports of committee chairmen, definite progress is being made toward a successful St. Patrick's Day Dance and Entertainment, which is to be given by the Tenth Ward Republican Club at Edgerton Park Assembly Hall, on Monday, March 17.

Councilman Nelson A. Milne, chairman of the entertainment committee, reports that this year's entertainment is going to be a well balanced and enjoyable presentation. At the present time he does not wish to disclose the exact nature of the program other than that several prominent theatrical stars are to contribute to the entertainment.

The program committee working under the chairmanship of Robert B. Clifford announces that they are to have a fine year book, exceeding all previous efforts.

The year book is a novelty of the dance and entertainment and contains the program of events as well as a short outline of Tenth Ward Republicans and pictures of prominent Republican leaders of the city and county.

The book will be of distinctive appearance and of artistic design and also contains advertisements of leading firms and merchants in this city and county. The year book last year contained 68 pages. It is one of the favors given to those who attend the dance and entertainment.

Over 2,500 attended the affair last year and it is anticipated that 3,000 will attend this year.

Markham Is Elected R. G. O. A. President

John Markham, president of Markham's Garage, Inc., of Dewey avenue, was elected to the presidency of the Rochester Garage Owners' Association in their January meeting and will serve in this capacity through 1930. He will be assisted by Ray E. Defendorf of Lewiston avenue, who was elected to the office of second vice-president, and H. C. Rothaug of Lake avenue, who will serve on the board of directors.

The association showed an increase in membership in the annual report. President Markham announced a further widening of the activities of the organization during the coming year that will extend its influence and become more familiar to motorists.

The Senior Class of Nazareth College have completed arrangements for a Valentine Dance at the College for tomorrow (Friday) evening under the direction of Miss Helen Malone. A buffet supper will be served at 10 o'clock. This will be the first dance of the Senior Class this year.

RIDGEMONT CLUB RE-ELECTS NEWTON

About 150 members of the Ridgemont Golf Club attended the annual meeting held Jan. 27, in the Maplewood Y. M. C. A. An amendment to the by-laws was passed, increasing the membership to 350.

Another amendment, which was also successful, increased the Board of Governors from 11 to 17, the personnel of which is now as follows: H. A. Johnston, Senator Fred A. Slater, Rex B. Wilsey, R. Frank Quinn, John W. Newton, Hugh T. Hughes, Jos. H. Bush, Percy S. Fassett, Arthur Koerner, C. P. Lane, Deloss M. Rose, Samuel V. Giannini, Dr. John L. Hazen, Wm. C. Hussey, Fred J. Mix, Francis R.

John W. Newton

Scherer and David F. Teeter.

The Board later held a meeting at which the election of officers took place. John W. Newton was elected president for the third successive year. Herbert A. Johnston and Jos. H. Bush were elected vice-presidents and Hugh T. Hughes, secretary.

The several committees are busy with their budgets and schedules, and promise a year full of activities. Ray Feller is the new professional of the club.

Mary Jane Barry Wins American Penman Prize

Mary Jane Barry of Maryland street, a student at Jefferson Junior High School, received first award in a national slogan contest, conducted by the "American Penman," a publication devoted to the interest of teachers and students in the United States.

Mary Jane was awarded a valuable fountain pen for the best entry published in the December number, her slogan being "Our Handwriting Heralds Our Habits."

In the final elimination another entry, "Poor Penmanship Makes Painful Publicity," was considered best from all those passed on by the judges and received a cash consideration along with another fountain pen.

IF YOU were in Rome and journeyed out on the Via Flaminia, you would find the cemetery of Saint Valentine, and you would be told that the saint whose body and name are there enshrined was an honored bishop, who was faithful to his trust and to the Claudian persecutions. You would be given a date for his martyrdom, and the year is 270 A. D., and the month and day are February 14.

YOU WOULD hear wondrous tales about this good old man. You would hear that he was cast into prison, and was untrifled; what is more, he was not embittered.

HE HEALED the jailer's daughter of blindness and this kind act, instead of softening the hearts of his persecutors, made them the more hateful. So they beat him and beheaded him, and supposed that that was the end of the odd bishop and of his religion.

THEY WERE mistaken. Valentine became a popular character. But there were other noted men named Valentine, and one of them, a priest, met death on the same day and month, though a different year.

Charles Lamb thus speaks of him, the patron saint of lovers: "Thou comest attended by thousands and ten thousands of little Loves;

And the air is brushed with the kiss of rustling wings.

Singing Cupids are thy choristers and thy preceptors, (And instead of crosier the mystical arrow is borne before thee.)"

SO MUCH for the good saint or saints whose name is given us as belonging to the day. For centuries the day has been celebrated with the giving of love-tokens. Any day is good for that purpose, and once a year is none too often for a day that honors such a custom.

WE HAVE had a very flattering and effective communication from S. J. It seems that following some suggestions from Joanne she has been able to establish conclusively the origin of her china foot-tub, which was described in this column in the last issue.

AFTER delving through many heavy volumes in the public library she has discovered that Dale-Hall china, the mark inscribed on the bottom of the tub, was made by a man named Stubbs, who owned a pottery at Burslem, Staffordshire, England, from 1790 until 1820. It was the custom, says the same authority, for each workman to add his own name also which fact undoubtedly accounts for the name James Edwards which appears directly under the Dale-Hall mark. The rest of the description—the ivory background, vine pattern in a soft powder blue—tallies perfectly. So it seems that, the age and authenticity usually based only on family legend, may in this instance be definitely fixed.

AND BECAUSE all things in the dim distance are blessed with a peculiar charm, this century-old piece of china, handed down from generation to generation, captivates our interest, and stirs our imagination, calling forth a picture of those early craftsmen and their struggles to attain a perfection of workmanship, the beauty of which lived long after their names were forgotten. Such is the secret urge of the antique.

Bethany Class Holding Food Sale Saturday

The Bethany Class of the Lewiston Ave. M. E. Church will hold a baked food sale at the church, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 22. They will also serve a clam chowder supper from 5 to 7 o'clock. Adults, 35c. Children under 12 years 20c.

"SUNNY SIDE UP" SHOWS AT RIVIERA

Charles Farrell makes his bow as a singer in "Sunny Side Up" which is running this week at the Riviera Theatre and continuing tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday. When the talkies first came into vogue, he already had been taking singing lessons for some time. He was offered roles in other musical productions, but refused to sing before the microphone until he and his teacher—one of the best on the Pacific Coast—were satisfied with the tonal qualities of his voice. He has a pleasing baritone.

Janet Gaynor turns her talent to musical comedy for the first time in this picture. Since the advent of talking pictures, the diminutive little actress has been preparing for her debut as a singing and dancing comedienne. Lacking actual stage experience, she really had to start all over again.

Her success in "4 Devils," "Christina" and "Lucky Star," her first talking pictures, plainly indicated that unlike so many screen stars who have been submerged by the audible film wave, Miss Gaynor is destined to rise to even greater heights via the new medium.

When DeSylva, Brown and Henderson, authors of eight highly successful Broadway musical comedies and scores of popular song hits, prepared "Sunny Side Up" for Fox Movietone, they had Miss Gaynor in mind, and cleverly wove her personality into the highly interesting story which forms the background for the production.

No less than seven new song hits are played and sung in the course of the screen and musical comedy.

Nick Lucas, the famous "crooning troubadour," who makes his talking motion picture debut in "Gold Diggers of Broadway," in Warner Bros. and Vitaphone 100% natural color, singing, talking, dancing picture, at the Riviera all next week, has sung to millions he has never seen.

For the past four years Lucas has been under contract to one of the leading phonograph record companies as an exclusive record artist accompanying himself on his familiar guitar. During that time over ten million of his records have been sold, while during 1928 alone three million records of Lucas' crooning voice were bought by an appreciative public.

In "Gold Diggers of Broadway," Nick Lucas sings several original songs written especially for this picture by Al Dubin and Joe Burke, in which he appears with an all-star cast.

She: "Don't you know there are germs in kissing?"

He: "Say girlie, when I kiss I kiss hard enough to kill the germs."

DEWEY AVE. TRIMS LYELL AVE. BOWLERS

Lead by the dashing George Bauman, Dewey avenue's business men started out to duplicate their triumph of 1929 over Lyell avenue's best by trimming the Dutchtowners last night at the Church of All-Saints alleys. The margin of victory was decisive, 171 pins.

George Bauman scored 608 to top the list of bowlers. He was followed by Carl Lotz who just reached the 600 mark. Charlie Bantel fell short in one game and hit 581. A second match is scheduled later. The Dewey bowlers will bowl again Tuesday evening of next week at the same place.

Victor To Broadcast Outstanding Program

William H. Jackson, Dewey avenue representative for Victor radios, calls attention to the de luxe program which the R. C. A. Victor Company, Inc., is planning for tonight at 10 o'clock on a nation-wide hook-up. The nearest stations to Rochester carrying this program will be WGY at Schenectady, WTAM at Cleveland and WGR at Buffalo.

Under the direction of Nathaniel Shilkret, the radio company has gathered together an imposing array of talent for the broadcast.

OVER 1500 ATTEND FLANIGAN OPENING

A corroboration of the words of Robert Murray, nationally-known retailer who was in Rochester last week to attend the Hardware Exposition and to speak at the Rochester Ad Club, was enacted at the Flanigan Furniture Company, Inc., last Saturday. Mr. Murray said his half-million dollar hardware business in a town of 5,000 population was due in a great measure to an "open house" once a year, and Flanigan's without having heard the story of Mr. Murray in a large measure duplicated the feat of the Honesdale, Pa., Murrys as far as attracting the crowds was concerned.

Everything was in readiness last Saturday to receive the expected guests. A completely furnished model home was spick and span, ready for inspection by the guests, and the recently completed addition was attractively laid out in the form of separate rooms. And the guests came in great numbers, greater in fact than had been anticipated, went through the model home and left with some new ideas and a box of candy under their arms. It was estimated that in excess of 1500 people attended the formal opening and Mr. Flanigan is probably one business man who will agree with Mr. Murray on his "open house" theory.

I. G. A. TO LAUNCH NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN; LOCALS CO-OPERATE

Coincident with the announcement of a nation-wide advertising campaign on the air and in national publications, the seven Tenth Ward I. G. A. stores have joined together to carry on the campaign locally. Their advertisement, pointing out the principles involved in their determined stand against the chain-store system of merchandising, will be found in this issue.

The Independent Grocers' Alliance, which is growing into one of the strongest organizations of independently-owned retail stores in the world, will spend close to a million dollars within the next 13 weeks in a tremendous endeavor to awaken America to the community-building activities of the I. G. A. Their main object will be to let every housewife know that the blue and ivory I. G. A. stores are owned entirely by home folks and that each store is independent of the others; that thousands of these stores have been linked together only to obtain mass buying power to successfully compete with the chain store in this respect; and that the I. G. A. is fighting to safeguard the opportunity of individuals in business.

A regularly weekly feature will be broadcast by the I. G. A. from a number of stations located in various cities throughout the country beginning Tuesday, February 25. It is said to include talent of the first rank and the half-hour program will be an outstanding one. The chain stations, however, are not being used in the broadcasts in keeping with the general ideal of the I. G. A. Rather, the program will come from individual stations.

Station WGY at Schenectady, WLW, Cincinnati; WTAM, Cleveland, and WBZ, Boston, are the nearest stations to Rochester with the I. G. A. program. WLW will broadcast the program on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock; WBZ and WTAM on Wednesdays from 7:30 to 8:00 P. M., and WGY on Fridays from 9:30 to 10:00 P. M.

Historical Background of the City of Rochester

Lincoln's Visit To Rochester

BY JOAN LYNN SCHILD

"Near this spot on the morning [of February 18, 1861, Abraham Lincoln addressed the citizens of Rochester."

This simple inscription on a bronze tablet on the south face of the stone wall of the elevated tracks at the corner of Central avenue and Mill street, bears witness to a significant event in Rochester history.

On Monday morning, February 18, the special train bearing Mr. Lincoln, the president-elect, and his family, his two secretaries, and about twenty other persons, including Mayor Scrantom of Rochester, left the New York Central Station at Buffalo at 5:48 a. m. and reached Rochester at 7:35, which in the middle of February is a rather early hour for most people.

This was before the day of the elevation of the railroad tracks which were then at street grade; there was no Central Ave. between Mill and N. Water Sts., and what is now Central Avenue between Mill and Front streets was covered by a portion of the depot, its west end being the east line of Mill street. Over two hours prior to the arrival of the President-elect, the people began to congregate and according to the estimate of the newspaper of that day, the sun arose that morning upon a crowd of fifteen thousand persons, their number constantly increasing. The early incoming trains brought additions from other towns and many came in sleighs from all parts of Monroe County.

Program is Changed

According to the program announced by the local committee and published in the Saturday papers, the train was to halt at State street crossing, and Mr. Lincoln was to be escorted to the lower balcony of the Waverly Hotel (the present Savoy) at the State street corner and there address the people. The old Perkins Silver band was stationed in the upper balcony and both the Waverly and Congress Hall (now the Bristol) were gaily and patriotically decorated for the occasion. The west front end of the depot was profusely trimmed with American flags, and upon a canvass was displayed the words: "Welcome to the President-elect." It having been decided that it would be impracticable for Mr. Lincoln to leave the train, the program was altered in that respect, and at a late hour another change was made by the railroad officials. On account of the necessity of changing engines and because of the dense crowd which covered the tracks west of the depot, it was decided to bring the train into the train house.

The near approach of the train was signaled by the firing of a salute from Falls Field and when it appeared it was greeted by a great cheering from the multitude which pressed forward with such force that it was difficult to clear a passage for the train to the depot, to which it moved slowly along Railroad avenue through the mass of people which closed behind it like water in the wake of a ship at sea. The changes which had been made in the program were unknown to most of these assembled, who supposed that the State street corner was to be the center of the occasion. Hence when the train passed State street there was a general cry of disappointment from that quarter.

Lincoln Speaks

The special train was composed of a locomotive, handsomely decorated, on the front of which was a portrait of "Old Abe," an ordinary coach and a sleeping car, and stopped at the west end of the train house with the rear car projecting a few feet into Mill street. On the rear platform Lincoln appeared with his honor Mayor Scrantom, and being introduced by the Mayor was received with a warm and universal shout of welcome. Lincoln bowed in acknowledgment of his enthusiastic reception, and a perfect stillness ensued. He then spoke substantially as follows:

"Fellow citizens: I confess myself, after having seen many very large crowds during the past week, astonished at the immense multitude of people gathered here at so early an hour in the morning. I must say that it is the largest assemblage I have met since I started on my journey. I am grateful to you for this opportunity to meet you and for this demonstration of your regard. I am not vain enough to believe that you are assembled from any wish to see me as an individual, but because I am for the time being the representative of the American people. I could not if I would address you at any length. The time allowed for my stay among you will not admit of it. If I should make extended remarks at every place where my fellow citizens are assembled to meet me I should not reach the capitol in time for the inauguration. Therefore I appear before you simply for the purpose of greeting you and to bid you farewell. It is a gratification to me to see you and I heartily thank you for your kindness."

That Lincoln wasn't very successful as a grocer isn't important. But that opportunity was open for him to study, to choose the one thing he wanted to do more than any other, is important.

That is why we are grocers. We wanted to serve you in that way. And we joined the I. G. A. because by being affiliated with thousands of other independent grocers in this great national organization we could serve you better—give you cleaner, more modern stores to shop in, bring you better foods at lower prices.

The I. G. A. Ideal is our Ideal, too. It's the Lincoln Ideal of a home owning Nation—a Nation "Of the people, by the people, for the people," where opportunity is open for young Americans today, just as it was in Lincoln's day, to study, to choose for themselves the one thing they want more than any other—to become independent, home owning business men and women leaders—leaders in their community, aspiring to become National leaders.

Riviera Breaks Record

With "Sunny Side Up"

All house records were surpassed at the premier performance at the Riviera Theatre last Sunday of the colorful "Sunny Side Up." The picture, almost directly following a successful run downtown, brought unprecedented throngs to the Lake avenue theatre and Manager Edward C. May estimated that at least 500 were turned away Sunday. The show has also attracted capacity houses every night this week and before it leaves the Riviera will have established a record for attendance.

While the show is to be continued through Saturday night, Mr. May urges all Tenth Warders who expect to see "Sunny Side Up" at the Riviera to attend the first performance on one of the three remaining evenings. There are two shows each evening, one at 7:00 and the other at 9:00.

The success of the new policy of showing outstanding screen successes immediately following their downtown run assures the local theatre of its unique position as a second-run house.

This special Saturday matinee with "Nick" Pagliarri, radio announcer in person, are proving popular with the children as well as grown-ups. The children are each given a lolly-pop and there is a surprise given for one of the door coupons. The Riv Radio Club, broadcasting over WHEC, and a special Western feature are additional events on the matinee program, which also includes the regular Saturday show.

Youths Building Up

Own Picture Studio

An embryo film studio for the developing and printing of pictures in youthful amateur fashion has been the pride of LaVerne Smith and Edwin Frank. For some time they have been adding to their equipment and expanding their activities in a spare room in their home at 25 Kislisbury street; and now they have decided that the time is at hand when they are ready to make a business of their hobby.

It seems that LaVerne and Edwin went to grammar and junior high school together. They both entered Mechanics Institute, LaVerne to study art and Edwin to pursue a mechanical course. Both, however, dropped their courses to enter one of the large photographic studios of Rochester and Edwin came to live with LaVerne. Little by little they have acquired the knack of retouching and color work and at the same time built up a studio in their home.

Although they are limiting themselves in their first independent venture to the development and printing of pictures, they are looking forward to opening a large studio soon for portrait work, a limited amount of which they also include in their routine work now. They have among their equipment retouching desks, enlarging and printing machines and a chemical laboratory. They call their studio Beau Art.

Mrs. James Reed, wife of the greenskeeper of the Ridgmont Golf Club, was taken ill, and removed to Park Ave. Hospital, Friday, Feb. 7. She was immediately operated on for appendicitis and is recovering satisfactorily.

COMMITTEE ACTIVE PREPARING FOR BIG REPUBLICAN AFFAIR

With the annual dance and entertainment less than three weeks off, things are bustling at the headquarters of the Tenth Ward Republican Club. The program, ticket and entertainment committees met last Friday night and are busily engaged working for the success of the affair.

Mrs. Katherine Schlegel, chairman of the novelty committee, reports that there will be a change in the form of the favor presented to those who attend the affair. Last year white and red flowers were presented. This year, however, Mrs. Schlegel is planning an appropriate novelty.

Robert B. Clifford, chairman of the program committee, reports that the Year Book is nearing completion and that in another week it will be in the hands of the printer.

The dance and entertainment, the seventh annual affair, is to be held at the Assembly Hall, Edgerton Park, on Monday, March 17th. Assemblyman Richard L. Saunders is a prominent and active member of several of the committees.

William H. Stell, general chairman, announced last Friday night that tickets have been distributed by the ticket committee and a spirited campaign is being conducted this year to outdo all former records.

Mrs. Helen Hesselink is chairman of the decorations committee. She promises a motif of shamrock in honor of the day. Last year the Assembly Hall was magnificently decorated in green and white. Palms were distributed at various points on the floor, making a picturesque effect.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN TO ELECT OFFICERS

Tenth Ward Democratic Women will meet next Tuesday night, March 4, at the club rooms on Driving Park avenue and conduct their annual election. Mrs. Alvin Beck, chairman of the meeting, announces that cards will be played following the elections.

Present officers of the club are as follows: President, Mrs. W. A. Schild; vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Moran; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. B. Lewis.

CAMERA CLUB TAKES HIKE THROUGH ELLISON PARK

Forty members of the Kodak Camera Club took part in a hike through Ellison Park Saturday afternoon. A number of pictures of various appropriate scenes in the park were taken by the party. Following the hike, the Kodakers enjoyed a lunch prepared on the grounds.

SACRED HEART CLUB PRESENTS NOVELTIES

A most unusual program was presented the first three nights of this week by the Sacred Heart Dramatic Club at the school hall on Flower City Park. Substantial crowds attended each performance of the "Novelties of 1930" and were not disappointed at the novel program, arranged and presented under the direction of Mrs. Paul Bailey.

Three one-act playlets constituted the main portion of the program and were well interspersed with vocal selections, acrobatics, dancing and other varieties of entertainment.

Parts in the playlet, "Barbara," were taken by Betty Purchase, Grace Kanada, Charles Foss, Thomas Amick and Jerry Purchase; in "Oh! Helpless Man," by Clete Lochner, Mona Sheehan, Corinne Leis and William Fennessy; in "A Cure for Hypnotism" by Beatrice Soehner, John Wesley and Jerry Purchase.

Others taking part in the program were Edward Flass, Charles Ward, Mary Kathryn Park, Lois Gottschalk, Virginia Malley, Mrs. John Burns, and the girls of the Sacred Heart Choir.

Lakeview Unit Giving Luncheon On March 4

A luncheon for the benefit of Lake View Unit of the Home Bureau will be served next Tuesday, March 4, at Dewey Presbyterian Church. The luncheon will be served at 1:15 under the direction of Miss Clara Brady of the Food Service Bureau. Reservations, which must be made in advance, are being taken care of by Mrs. Samuel Newbury of 782 Flower City Park. Tickets are 35 cents.

The Lake View Unit extends its sympathy to the chairman of the unit, Mrs. R. J. Quinn, on the recent death of her mother.

Dewey Presbyterians On Every Member Canvass

All active members of the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church are working in behalf of the Every Member Canvass to raise the church budget for the current year and considerable progress has been reported since the campaign opened. The Rev. Stanley F. Gutelius, pastor, is honorary chairman, Ernest W. Veigel, Jr., is general chairman and Mrs. Robert M. Corbin, is assistant general chairman. These three are assisted by a large body of workers serving under various committees.

Workers are endeavoring to have every member of the Dewey Avenue Church present at the services on March 9, known as Every Member Sunday. The drive will officially end with the dinner for the workers at 12:30 on that day.

Members engaged in the canvass and the committees are as follows: cards and records, James Ernisse, chairman; Edwin Mix, Henry Miller, A. R. Eckberg, Edward Critchell, Fred Meigs and G. Curtis; canvassers, H. A. Gillan, chairman; W. C. Gosnell, C. P. Coster, E. S. Mix, A. H. Parker, Mrs. K. Marvin and Mrs. J. Brandt, captains; publicity, M. Elmendorf, chairman; Rev. S. F. Gutelius and J. Wellington; accounting, W. B. Alan, chairman; C. W. Burt and K. Marvin; luncheons, Mrs. E. Mix, chairman; Mrs. E. W. Veigel and Mrs. Nelson.

GARAGES EXTEND SPECIAL OFFER

The offer of a number of local garages, members of the Rochester Garage Owners' Association, contained in an advertisement in the last issue of the Tenth Ward Courier, regarding a special repair job, was only intended for the remainder of February. However, through an oversight this was not stated. Due to this error and also inasmuch as many car owners have requested it, the offer has been extended through March by the garage men.

The local R. G. O. A. members are pioneers in the association, which has been enjoying continuous growth since its organization several years ago. John Markham, Dewey avenue garage proprietor, heads the R. G. O. A. for 1930. The Tenth Ward members have joined together in advertising themselves and their association to their neighborhood through this medium.

The Bills Class of Grace M. E. Church will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Young, 1007 Dewey avenue, on Monday evening, March 3.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones Miller, secretary of North Presbyterian Church, is in Strong Memorial Hospital, where she is rapidly recovering from a surgical operation.

"SHOW OF SHOWS" AT RIVIERA NOW

"Show of Shows," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone super-revue in technicolor which is showing at the Riviera Theatre this week, lives up to the extravagant claims made for it by the producers. It is not only in the staggering number of stars of stage and screen in the cast, nor in the half a thousand supporting people, nor in the magnificent settings, the melodies, the dances, the witty dialogue, the colors of life in which it is filmed. It is the combination of all these elements which makes a sort of "Field of the Cloth of Gold," an intricate and yet restful and invigorating design like that of an Oriental rug, or a Gobelin tapestry.

Every sort of stage and screen entertainment has its high moment in this melodious panorama. John Barrymore gives the touch of the tragic, in his splendidly delivered soliloquy of the Duke of Gloucester—later King Richard III—from King Henry VI. He is supported by Mr. Ratcliffe and Mr. Bushell and thirty others.

France is represented by two of her most captivating personalities. Irene Bordoni—with ten pianists and ten ladies dressed a la Bordoni—sings songs in her charmingly broken English—and Georges Carpentier, Patsy Ruth Miller, Alice White and a hundred or so athletic beauties go through some amazing calisthenics, all in the shadow of the famous Eifel Tower.

The Adagio Dancers are thrilling in their graceful acrobatic feats and negro hallelujah singers, one hundred and fifty of them, add to the glories of the scintillating "Lady Luck" grand finale in which the principals are the resplendent Betty Compson and Alexander Gray, with several hundred white folks, adept at singing and dancing.

Ted Lewis is high-hattedly evident with his peppy jazzboys. Beatrice Lillie of the London music halls and London high society does some of her inimitable clowning. There is a "Bicycle Built for Two" number, with many young stars and stardines. A pirate number with the most bumptious of the heavies in swash-buckling gear. And there are gorgeous songs. Only the eyes and ears can catch the splendor of this kaleidoscope of all the entertainment world which is the "Show of Shows," which will continue from tonight through Saturday.

Opening Sunday at the Riviera is the epochal "Sky Hawk," a war picture said to be as thrilling as any picture made to date, and especially interesting in that it is the first all-talking picture to be filmed in the air. Its leading characters are taken by Helen Chandler and John Garrick.

The story, which comes direct from the Liberty Magazine, concerns a lone cripple who fights the terror of the air. One of the outstanding scenes is a terror-ridden raid at night by Zeppelins over London. The "Sky Hawk" is a William Fox presentation. It will be continued from Sunday through Wednesday of next week.

Elected Manager of M. I. T. Publication

Joseph Winkler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winkler of 453 Augustine street, has been elected circulating manager of "The Tech," a publication of M. I. T. He has just returned to school after spending the vacation between terms with his parents.

R. M. FARNHAM TRANSFERS TO COKE SALES DIVISION

After a number of years of service at the Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation, R. M. Farnham has been transferred at his own request to the Coke Sales Division of the local utility. Mr. Farnham, who lives at 1836 Lake avenue, makes the announcement in this issue. He is well-known in local fraternal circles and has been a resident of the Tenth Ward for a number of years.

Church of Ascension to Dedicate March 4

On Shrove Tuesday, March 4 at 8 P. M. the new edifice of the Church of the Ascension will be dedicated. The Rev. David Lincoln Ferris, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Western New York, will dedicate the church and preach the sermon.

The clergy of Rochester have been invited and a large number have arranged to be present. The vested choir of 30 voices under the direction of Henry E. Alexander will render appropriate anthems.

The church is located at the corner of Lake avenue and Riverside street. Dr. William C. Compton is rector.

Good Speakers Promised Republican Womens Club

A good speaker is promised by Mrs. Carrie Jinks, first vice-chairman, for the regular monthly meeting of the Tenth Ward Women's Republican Club to be held Thursday evening, March 6, at the club rooms, 333 Driving Park avenue.

The Wednesday afternoon open house feature of the women's organization is proving a popular feature again this year and according to committee reports, there is a larger attendance at each successive meeting. The ladies and their guests enjoy themselves at cards. Next week's meeting, falling on Ash Wednesday, will be omitted, but the series will be resumed on March 12.

Armless Golfer Is Entertained Here

Tommy McAuliffe, armless youth who appeared on the stage of the Keith-Albee Palace the week of February 9, was entertained at a Valentine Party and dinner at the home of Mrs. H. T. Huether of Lark street. Tommy, who amazed his audience at the local theater by an extraordinary exhibition of golfing finesse, has been a close friend of the Huether family for a number of years.

His unusual feats on the stage are surpassed by his ability to do most of the things that ordinarily one would classify as impossible by an armless man, according to Mrs. Huether. Tommy is able to do a good job of feeding himself, and by the clever use of chin and shoulder he is able to answer the telephone. He was accompanied at the party by his brother Walter, who assists him on the stage.

E. J. Thompson of Selye terrace, is recovering from a recent attack of the grippe.

I. G. A. BROADCAST OPENS THIS WEEK THRUOUT COUNTRY

"Home Town Folks" are making their bow to the country at large and to Rochester in particular this week by way of the radio. The opening presentation, which was heard last night over WHEC, proved that the skit, which will be continued over a period of 13 weeks, will be one of the most interesting on the air.

This new feature is sponsored by the Independent Grocers Alliance and is being broadcast every evening for the next 13 weeks over various broadcasting stations about the country. WHEC will feature the "folks" every Wednesday evening from 8 to 8:30. Herbert Gould, of Metropolitan Opera fame, is directing the musical part of the program, and "Pap" Barnes, of the radio world, is in charge of staging the various broadcasts.

"Home Town Folks" is typical of the experience of I. G. A. grocers throughout the country and is prepared in a dramatic and highly interesting manner. It is all about a home town storekeeper and his wife and family; the advent of chain-store competition for the first time is brought into public view in the light in which it actually strikes the independent merchant. The I. G. A. story will strike home to many people when they become interested in this broadcast, one of the most expensive for a short 13-week period in the history of radio.

Interspersed throughout the half-hour of entertainment there are a number of musical features. The I. G. A. quartet, which has a prominent place on the program, is composed of singers of the first rank and provides a diversion that is very pleasing.

Entertain Auxiliary In Masquerade Party

On Monday evening, February 17, Rose Carbone of Flower City park held a masquerade party at her home for the benefit of Sacred Heart Auxiliary 166, Knights of Saint John. An enjoyable evening was spent by the large number in attendance.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Most original, Mrs. Zimmerli; most humorous, Mrs. Miner; dressiest, Mayme Fromen; door prize, Mayme Uhl; guessing contests, Mary Gambaty and Grace Carbone.

A buffet lunch was served. A short talk was given by Rose Carbone urging all members to bring in new members in an endeavor to make the auxiliary the best and largest in Rochester.

Jos. Bush Describes

Post In Nicaragua

Editor's note—Private Joseph A. Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Bush of Maryland street, is now located at Ocotal, Nicaragua, with the Fifth Regiment of the Marine Corps. At the request of the Tenth Ward Courier he is writing some descriptive articles regarding the conditions in the far-south country. His first letter, post-marked January 31, is printed in this article:

"Evenin', Folks:
"We'll start this jaunt through Nicaragua from Ocotal Guard House, the center of active operations of the northern area of Nicaragua.
"This country is noted for two things. Bandits and an orange sunrise. The people here are very industrious. Arising in said orange glow of beauty and working for two hours when it becomes quite warm, I may even say 'muy caliente.' They then sleep through the heat of the day and work from four to six, when they rest from the strenuous labors of the day and eat and drink until about 9:30 p. m., which is bedtime. I might say when (?) they eat and drink, because food is scarce, and water is used to wash Marine's clothes.

"In this country there are many beautiful birds, but the harmony of their song is negligible; yes, even non-existent. They sound like an army mule in the hold of a navy transport rounding Cape Hatteras in heavy weather. You fellows (if any) who order agricote, or 'alligator pear' salad at six bits a throw think of the price of such things here. Agricotes are three for a cent, bananas two for a cent, and oranges two for a cent. Orange trees are common here, and in the heat of the afternoon sun the air is heavy-laden with the sweet scent of defunct vegetation.

"My next, if the vegetables are used for the table instead of target practice, will be 'The Lavandera' (laundress), including her work, habits and home life.

"Adios JOSE.
(Es mi nombre in Espanol.)"

U. of R. Glee Club to

Sing Here Thursday

The University of Rochester Glee Club will make their annual Tenth Ward appearance next Thursday evening, March 6, at Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church in a concert starting at 8 o'clock. Theodore Fitch is again directing the singers.

The program will have a particular local interest in at least two respects. Some original compositions by Miss Helen Brandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brandt of Augustine street, who is studying at the Eastman School of Music, will be presented and Alfred Henderson of Lexington avenue, soloist with the club will be heard in a number of selections.

TROOP 12 NEWS

Although Fred Wellington has left, Troop 12, which meets at the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church every Tuesday evening, is carrying on the work he started. Being one of the largest troops in the city, it enters into activities enthusiastically and has many new members. The basketball team has won most of its games.

Since Fred Wellington's departure, Robert Critchell has taken charge of the troop. He, however, will be leaving soon and Charles Legg will head the troop temporarily.

HUMOR

Magistrate (automatically): "Have you ever been arrested before?"

Lady (indignantly): "Arrested before! I ask you—do I look like an amateur making my debut?"

Bachelor (being shown friend's baby): "My, but isn't he big for his size? I mean, isn't he old for his age? Er—oh, hang it, he must be something no other baby is, mustn't he?"

The gob was worrying. "Tell me about it," said his pal. "Get it off your chest."

"I wish I could," moaned the gob. "I've got 'Marguerite' tattooed there and the girl I'm engaged to marry is named 'Helen'."

Author: "So you like my article. What part do you particularly care for?"

Girl: "Oh, I think those quotations from Byron are simply wonderful."

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian—The Women's Society of North Church gave a complimentary luncheon to the women of the church February 20, which was the occasion of the annual meeting. The program included readings by Mrs. J. R. Bradley, songs by Mrs. L. E. Wallington, accompanied by Miss Emilie Cassebeer, "A Few Remarks, Timely and Untimely," by Miss Mary G. Clement and "Here a Little and There a Little," by Mrs. Anna M. Nicholson. Miss Reta Ralston led the popular singing.

Reports were heard from the secretary, the treasurer, chairmen of committees and chairmen of the circles. The treasurer's report showed that the goal of $1700 that was set for the year had been reached. The missionary apportionment of $1,181 was paid and $125 is on hand for next year's payments. Of the balance of $330 for church work, $300 was voted to be paid the church treasurer.

The officers for the coming year are, Mrs. Albert C. Hetherlin, president; Mrs. Anna M. Nicholson, vice-president; Mrs. Chas. C. Hockins, secretary; Mrs. Wm. G. Watts, treasurer and Mrs. D. H. Allen, secretary of literature. The chairmen of committees are Mrs. S. D. Thorne, social, Mrs. Frederick Plaskett, choir, Mrs. R. Capaldi, church. Chairmen of the circles are Mrs. S. A. Rogers, Erie; Mrs. Geo. E. Mabee, afternoon and Mrs. Ray W. Sabin, Glenwood.

On Wednesday evening, February 19, the first report was made by the workers who are raising a fund of $6,000 to pay accumulated deficits of $6,000. Nearly $5,000 was pledged up to that time with the canvass not completed. The chairman of the committee directing the canvass is Benjamin H. Clement of Selye Terrace.

The Young People's Group will meet Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Parish House. Harold Bradbury will lead the devotions. Floyd Crelin will lead a discussion of "Race Relations."

Ascension—The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the church will be held in the club rooms of the new church, corner of Lake avenue and Riverside street, Thursday, March 13. The president of the club, Wm. H. Thompson, who has been absent from the meetings for several months through sickness, is now recovered and will preside.

The Ascension Guild of the church gave a bridge party in the crypt of the new church on Tuesday. Mrs. George Tozier and Mrs. John Stöbel were hostesses. Mrs. William H. Thompson and Mrs. F. H. Herman had charge of tickets. Mrs. Arthur J. Croll is president of the society.

Grace M. E.—The Primary Department of the Sunday School is rehearsing for a performance of a Tom Thumb Wedding, which is to be given in costume Friday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock. A large number of the smaller children are taking part in the performance.

Teachers of the department are also rehearsing for a one-act play which they will present as a finale to the evening's entertainment. Tickets may be had at the church office.

The Ladies Aid will hold a luncheon meeting next Tuesday at one o'clock. Mrs. Maurinus, president of the society, urges all ladies of the church to attend.

A fine program of music, readings and games took up the evening of the members of the Shepard Class on Tuesday. Mrs. J. C. Ross is president of the class.

Holy Communion will be observed Sunday morning in the regular service.

Barnyard Golfers Are Astir On Maryland St.

Spring fever has taken hold of the Maryland street barnyard golfers and soon will be heard the clanking of iron on the official course in the rear of the DeVilbiss residence.

Fred Cook and "Tiny" Masseth have been playing ping-pong during the winter to keep in shape, and the bard of Maryland street has been wielding the pen to keep his fingers limber. C. Weller Potter expects to be busy with other forms of exercise and so will be absent from the course. With several new aspirants for honors an exciting season is looked for and old-timers will have to look to their laurels.

Dr. S. J. Clarkson, pastor of Grace M. E. Church, is in New York for a few days this week.

HAHNS ARE GIVEN MAJESTIC RIGHTS

The job of serving the entire Dewey avenue section with Majestic radios, involving the operation of three stores, has been allotted to John J. Hahn and his son, Charles J. Hahn, by Sharar-Homan, Inc., Rochester distributors. A third store was opened last month by the Hahns on Dewey avenue at Electric avenue.

Mr. Hahn opened one store on Driving Park avenue in 1928, which was known as the Glenwood Radio Shop. After selling radios for a few months, however, he decided to concentrate all his efforts on one set and picked the Majestic. Last year he opened his second store on Dewey at Stone road and has come to be regarded by the Majestic distributors as one of their most active agencies.

With the third store in the middle section of Dewey avenue he now is represented through the avenue. All three stores are owned and operated by Mr. Hahn and his son.

Mrs. G. M. W. Bills of Fairview heights, who has been spending some time with her son, Arthur Bills, in Chicago, arrived home last Thursday.

"Joanne" Promoted To Rochester Daily

Those of our readers who were following the column on antiques entitled "What-not" doubtless will be interested to know that "Joanne" has had a promotion. This column which has appeared in the Tenth Ward Courier for the past few months is now a regular Saturday night feature of the Rochester Times-Union.

"Joanne" is the pen-name of Mrs. W. A. Schild of Pullman avenue, who in addition to writing "What-not" also prepares the articles on "Historical Background" which will continue as a Courier feature. She is a daughter of Judge John D. Lynn.

Her first column in the Times-Union appeared on February 22 and the three appearances since that time have met with such popular approval that it is planned to devote a full page to her writings beginning Saturday of this week.

Spiritual Conference Is Held At Nazareth

The Students Spiritual Council of Western New York, held a conference at Nazareth Academy, Sunday, March 7. The conference was sponsored by Nazareth College. Large delegations from Canisius College, Bonaventure College, The Immaculate Heart of Mary High School, of Buffalo, The Mercy Convent of Rochester and Nazareth Academy were present.

Miss Mary Neary and Miss Mildred Burke of Nazareth College were speakers. Miss Mildred Clements, Miss Elizabeth Nash, Miss Ethel Moore, and Miss Elizabeth McNamara of Nazareth Academy discussed the Liturgy of the Church and Apostolic work. Members of the clergy were present and the address was delivered by Rt. Rev. John F. O'Hern.

Alpha Mu Gamma Names New Officers For 1930

Alpha Mu Gamma sorority elected officers at its last meeting which was held at Miss Juliette Hagg's home on Birr street. Miss Virginia McDouough was re-elected president; Ruth Loavenbruck, vice-president; Evelyn Hagg, secretary; Vera Geockel, treasurer and Margaret Meisenzahl, historian.

MR. COYER DEFENDS ACTIONS IN DISPUTE

John Marshall High School, after being conceded the city basketball championship by East High, and after winning its sectional game with Corning, was disqualified from participation in the finals because Principal Preston of Warsaw High protested that John Marshall had violated Regulation I of the rules governing sectional meets.

After the game between Marshall and Corning, March 6, which Marshall won, Mr. Preston pointed out that Marshall had violated Section I of Regulation I of the New York State Public School Athletic Association, which reads:

"After the contest has begun, no coach or other adult, save the duly constituted officials governing the contest, shall interfere with the activity of the contestants."

Before the start of the game Dunigan, one of Marshall's players, had a nose bleed. Mr. Coyer, director of physical education at Marshall, remained with Dunigan doctoring the nose. It was Mr. Coyer's presence which is said by Mr. Preston to be a violation of the Regulation.

Mr. Coyer defends his action by referring to Section 4 of Regulation I, which reads:

"Coaches may attend to physical injuries of their team members at any time during games or between periods of play."

Mr. Coyer issued the following statement in regard to his action: "From the statements that have been made by the Central Committee in charge of the Tournament for the Central Western District in the newspapers it ought to be quite evident that I was within my rights in caring for Bernard Dunigan, who was injured in the practice previous to starting the game, during the first half. Inasmuch as his name was on the score book and scheduled to start the game, I was summoned by Captain Lockwood and I did not think it advisable to remove him from the scene. An official of the Central Western District was at my side during all the first half so that I felt I was justified by my act of caring for his injury in the presence of that official."

EARL BAYNES LEADS DEWEY PIN-PICKERS

An attendance slightly less than usual enabled the Dewey avenue business men to get in five full games at the bowling party last Tuesday evening at the Church of All Saints. Although most of the bowlers displayed in-and-out form, there were some fair scores tallied.

E. Earl Baynes was king-pinman of the evening, his total of 964 pins placing him far ahead of his nearest rival, "Tiny" Masseth. Incidentally "Tiny" rolled the best game of the evening, a 224. Charlie Bantel, who has been leading the business men at nearly every match, slipped a little and was only able to finish in third place.

The business men will bowl again at the church alleys, located just off Summerville boulevard, on Tuesday, March 25. Their return match with Lyell avenue for the Northwest championship is scheduled for April 7 at the Rochester Leiderskranz alleys. Following are the scores:

ROCHESTER LABOR JOINS FIGHT AGAINST CHAIN STORE SYSTEM

Editor's Note:—The article below is reprinted from the last issue of the Labor Herald and Citizen. It is a significant note in local developments of the independent's fight against the chain store.

Rochester's drive against the chain store in every form has started. Planned by citizens in every walk of life and by Organized Labor in particular, the war against this menace to the community was opened last night (Friday) at a meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Council, which passed a resolution calling upon the Retail Merchants Council of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, the Rochester Retail Grocers Association and kindred organizations to join with it in a crusade against the chain stores.

Last night's resolution is the forerunner to a campaign which is expected to rival that in any city of the United States. Civic organizations are campaigning against the chain store menace in numerous cities of the United States, including Syracuse, Grand Rapids, Cincinnati, Shreveport and many other municipalities. Labor leaders of Rochester and the Labor Herald and Citizen for the past several weeks have been preparing for the drive, which was opened last night, and that the campaign will be continued until the very end or until every householder and housewife in Rochester and vicinity is acquainted with the facts is evidenced by the hearty support promised this newspaper in bringing to light the true facts behind the chain store system in Rochester and throughout the country.

The Central Trades and Labor Council has entered the fight with every determination to acquaint its more than 22,000 members with the chain store evils. Every member of Organized Labor will have brought to his attention the value of dealing with the independent stores of this city, the stores which not only earn, but spend their money right here in Rochester. Local capital behind local stores will be encouraged and outside capital behind chain stores will be fought until evidences are had that the drive is proving just as successful, if not more so, than in other cities where the evils of chain stores are being combated.

What Officials Report Shows
That the individual store owner of this city and other cities is suffering through the chain stores is evidenced by the report from Washington on the income tax returns. In the Congressional Record of May 23, 1929, figures are given which are taken from the income tax reports and show that between the years of 1922 and 1927 the number of individuals returning income in excess of $1,000,000 per year increased over 400 per cent. The number of individuals returning incomes in excess of $100,000 per year increased 174.5 per cent. The number of individuals returning incomes in excess of $50,000 and less than $100,000 per year

Volpe Bros. Complete Alterations on Shop

Alterations which have been completed in the shoe repairing store of Volpe Bros. on Dewey avenue have made it over into a modern shop with many new features. Angelo Volpe is proprietor of the store.

Mr. Volpe invites Tenth Warders to see his modernized store. He plans to give away as souvenirs, tomorrow and Saturday, a box of Polyshine shoe polish to all adults who present the advertisement which is contained in another section of this paper.

The machinery and equipment which formerly extended into the forepart of the store has been moved back several feet and partially concealed by new partitions which are capped with a span of lattice-work. A complete new lighting system with new fixtures adds considerably to the atmosphere of the store, as do two new show cases.

A set of three walnut, mahogany finished, waiting booths similar to those in use in the largest shoe repairing parlors, have been placed in the front of the store. These are for the convenience of patrons who desire to have their shoes repaired while they wait. A new cash register, new window with a lattice-work background and some new machinery complete a modernized store.

Mr. Volpe is one of the pioneer business men of Dewey avenue, having been in the shoe repair business here for the past 17 years. His brother, Michael, operates a repair store in Sibley's.

TENTH WARD GIRL HOLDS TYPEWRITER SPEED RECORD

Miss Marion Voelkl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Voelkl of Pierpont street, was featured in a recent write-up in a local daily as typewriter speed champion of Rochester. She expects to enter a national contest in September. Her record is 120 words per minute.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Dwyer of Burke terrace had a meeting of the Gibbons Club at their home on Thursday evening. Father Alfred Barry of the Capuchin Order from Providence, R. I., was the guest of honor.

Phi Epsilon sorority gave a mardi gras dinner at the home of Miss Katherine Mannion on Lake View park on March 3.

At the annual dinner of the Kappa Theta sorority, Miss Celina Hagamen of Alameda street was elected president for the coming year.

Mrs. Carrie Jinks of Augustine street spent last week visiting in Canisteo.

Dewey Presbyterians

Complete Campaign

Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church is conducting its Every Member Canvass to raise a budget of $17,492 and a benevolence fund of $2,000. Teams of Good Will solicitors were served a dinner at the church after the morning service, March 9, and after preliminary instructions, visited those whose subscriptions had not been turned in at the close of the morning service.

Sunday, March 2, was "Good Will Sunday" and the large congregation attending showed the spirit of good will which prevailed. More than half the available pledge cards were received and it was expected that all pledges would be reported in before "Victory Night" supper at the church last evening. The at the church last evening.

Those on the "Every Member Canvass Committee follow:

HUMOR

"Iceland," said the teacher, "is about as large as Siam."
"Iceland," wrote Willie afterwards, "is about as large as teacher."

Sympathizer: "How's your insomnia?"
Incurable: "Worse and worse. I can't even sleep when it's time to get up."

Mildred (despondently): "I am to marry Maurice next week, and I am not at all sure that I really love him."
Marjorie: "How positively thrilling!"

Green paint may be removed from the seat of a pair of white duck tennis trousers with a bottle of ordinary turpentine, a stiff brush and a pair of scissors.

It is rumored that a corporation recently, instead of forwarding a check, merely sent it.

One thing, a policeman does his duty according to the lights.

Father "What did you and Joe talk about last night, dear?"
Daughter: "Oh, we talked about our kith and kin."
Small Brother: "Yeth, pop, I heard 'em. He seth, 'Kin I hev a kith?' and she seth, 'yeth you kin.'"

Wiseman: "I saved a lot of money to-day."
Acquaintance: "How did you do it?"
Wiseman: "Instead of suing a client for what he owed me, I let him have it."

Rochester Labor Joins Chain Fight

increased 87.2 per cent, and the number of individuals returning income in excess of $10,000 and less than $50,000 per year increased 66.1 per cent. While the number of individuals returning annual incomes of less than $10,000 per year actually showed a decrease.

These income tax figures present undeniable proof that economic opportunity has been stripped from the hands of the great body of individuals, also that economic opportunity has all but been taken away from the small corporations. For the same report shows that corporations with an income in excess of $5,000,000 per year showed an increase in earnings of more than 100 per cent. The total net income of all corporations reporting earnings over $50,000 per year showed an increase of 42.8 per cent, while the net increase of corporations under $50,000 per year was 2.3 per cent.

Chain Store Is Blamed

The reason why these income tax figures disclose that the number of individuals earning about $10,000 per year are decreasing and vanishing and why corporations earning $50,000 per year or less are struggling for existence is well understood by looking around your own communities right here in Rochester. In these local communities the former prosperous merchant who was making around $10,000 per year is driven out of business by the power of monopolistic wealth. There is the small and local corporations withering away before the large combined monopolistic corporations. The once thriving independent merchant who owned his home, who was educating his family, supporting the local church, supporting the Chamber of Commerce, and who had money to pay the doctor, the lawyer, to hire the plumber, the painter and the carpenter is now being driven out of business and replaced by a poorly paid imported local manager.

What is more, that local merchant contributed toward the encouragement of new industries and toward the establishment of better markets for agricultural products. He paid interest at the local banks for loans and he kept his accumulated profits at the local banks. He contributed each year to the local Community Chest. Now he is being rapidly replaced by huge merchandising monopolies who will pay no money toward the developing of the community, borrows no money from the local banks and uses these banks only as a means of checking accommodations. The profits are not deposited in a local bank, but sent to the chain headquarters. Rochester money is taken from the city and spent in another city.

In this way it can readily be seen that it is the community which is losing. The individual merchant represents only a small part of the people who are suffering. Under the chain store system of selling merchandise, the net proceeds of the buying power of the entire community is shipped out of it to build up another section in another city. Under the old system these net profits were left in the community which produced them to buy supplies and materials, to build and re-build the community which produced these profits. This new chain store system is vitally hurting every citizen in every walk of life.

The campaign which was opened officially by the Central Trades and Labor Council will be continued until

ALL-SOCIAL CLUB HOLDS WEEKLY CARD PARTIES

The All-Social Club was entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John Burke on Mayflower street. Prizes were won by Miss Mary Marks, Mrs. A. Durmeister, Mrs. J. Burke and Mrs. Derk Pike.

On March 3 the club was entertained by Mrs. Derk Pike of Mayflower street. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. Enser, Mrs. L. Sweeney, Mrs. F. Fogel and Mrs. J. Killian. The hostess next Monday night will be Mrs. F. Fogel, who will entertain the club at her home on Carlisle street.

PLAN EASTER DANCE

The Florimel Sorority met Saturday at the home of Miss June Malley of Birr street. Final arrangements were made for an informal Easter dance to take place at the Hotel Seneca, under the direction of the following committee:

Miss Jane Sheils, social chairman; Miss Grace Storaandt, chairman, and the Misses Ida Scarella, June Malley, Betty Heaney and Letitia Rogers.

Miss Helen McCabe will entertain the sorority at her home on Saturday, March 22.

relief is felt. Every civic organization will be encouraged to assist in the fight against the chains and this will be continued all summer, if necessary, and throughout the next winter. Organized Labor can help in a big way. From week to week this newspaper will carry the message of independence to the wage earner and his family. The Retail Grocers Association is certain to throw its weight into the fight, as well as the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations. In Rochester there are hundreds of chain stores, groceries, cigars and cigarettes, drugs and even department stores. The campaign has now started. It is now up to Rochester to carry it through to a successful finish.

The resolution adopted by the Central Trades and Labor Council Thursday night follows:

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, The Central Trades and Labor Council believes in patronizing home industries and circulating the legitimate profits of business within the limits of our local territory, and

Whereas, We contend that money made in Rochester and vicinity should be spent here as an incentive to individual effort and an influence for our progress and prosperity, be it

Resolved, That the so-called chain stores, doing business on a large scale in Rochester, with the backing of outside capital, and with their profits going to those who have no interest in this locality other than to take profits from it to be expended elsewhere, are a menace to the best interests of our people; be it further

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to co-operate with other organizations and the Labor Herald and Citizen in calling attention of the public to the evils of the chain store and assist in every way possible to encourage all independent merchants of this city; be it further

Resolved, That the Central Trades and Labor Council call upon the Retail Merchants Council of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, the Rochester Retail Grocers Association, and kindred organizations for the encouragement and protection of local industries, to join with our Council in a crusade against the chain stores, as detrimental to the welfare of our home city.

Riviera

Anders Randolf, who plays the part of Greta Garbo's husband in "The Kiss," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle which will be shown for the last times at the Riviera Theater tonight, is an artist and fencing master as well as an actor.

The Danish actor is champion swordsman of several countries and is a portrait painter of considerable accomplishment. He also is an ex-army officer and a medical student.

After completing the solution of two murders as Philo Vance in Paramount's "The Canary Murder Case" and "The Greene Murder Case," William Powell returns to the all-talking screen at the Riviera tomorrow and Saturday in a role similar to those which brought him earlier fame in the silent films.

He is performing the central character part of Robert Courtland in "Pointed Heels." In this role he portrays a man of the world, a sort of urbane demi-villain, who tries to break up the happy marriage of a show girl friend and her youthful composer-husband. It is a perfect Powell role, and the suave William plays it to perfection.

Adventures on land and sea, comic complications on a destroyer, combined with a romantic drama showing William Haines not only as the comedian, but as the delineator of the more serious side of life, mark the star's first all-talking picture, "Navy Blues," playing at the Riviera Sunday through Wednesday, inclusive.

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production is one of the most elaborate starring vehicles Haines has ever had, and, under the deft direction of Clarence Brown, it sparkles with poignant bits of heart interest interspersed among the comedy sequences, in a perfectly rounded piece of entertainment.

Another of the S. S. Van Dine mysteries will be shown at the Riviera next week from Thursday to Saturday, inclusive. It is "The Bishop Murder Case," fourth of a series of six which the famous author has promised. Cecil Rathbone takes the part of "Philo Vance" and is ably assisted in the picture by Leila Hymans.

Mrs. Schild Re-elected

President By Democrats

Mrs. Joan Schild was re-elected president by the Tenth Ward Women's Democratic Club at the meeting held March 4 at the club headquarters on Driving Park avenue. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Miss Susie Jeffreys; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bessie Cowells. Mrs. Caroline Moran was chosen as permanent hostess for the year.

Mrs. Alvin Beck was chairman of arrangements for the evening. Following elections, cards were played with prizes for each table, and refreshments were served.

Elmer Schubert Back

After Attack of Quinicy

Elmer Schubert, who runs the gas station at Driving Park and Dewey avenues, returned to the station last week after a two weeks' absence due to quinicy. It is reported that Mr. Schubert is again thinking seriously of a tonsil operation.

"Don't bring me any more bills," said the husband, in despair. "I can't face them."

"I don't want you to face them, darling," replied the wife. "I only want you to foot them."

Jenny: "Joe, why did you park here when there are so many nicer places farther on?"
Joe:—"But, Jen, this is love at first site."—Cornell Widow.

"The object of this chapter shall be to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the pupils of John Marshall High School."

To be eligible for membership, a student must stand in the first fourth of his respective class in scholarship.

Judge Dutcher Speaks

Here On Crime Problem

Judge Frederick L. Dutcher gave an interesting talk before the Women's Tenth Ward Republican Club, Thursday evening on the present state of our prison system. He pointed out the fact that the situation was not due to the Baumes Law, as such a law has been in existence for 30 years.

He said that with real justice, an un-abused parole system and competent probation officers conditions are bound to right themselves.

This was the second educational meeting of the club and those members who have been present are looking forward to the next talk.

ANNUAL DANCE OF REPUBLICANS DRAWS RECORD-SETTING CROWD

One of the most successful affairs given by the Tenth Ward Republican Club was held Monday night, March 17, at Edgerton Park Assembly Hall in the form of a St. Patrick Day's dance and entertainment. The hall was decorated in green with palms distributed at various points about the floor.

The hall was crowded after the fashion of the local charity balls. Dignitaries from all parts of the city and county were present. The attendance surpassed all records heretofore made and was said to be the largest gathering for a political affair during the winter season.

The entertainment was furnished by the Tenth Ward Minstrels with the musical accompaniment of Alfie Monk's orchestra. Even the "Spirit of Pepsodent" was present with Rochester's Amos and Andy in person.

The entertainment was furnished by a group of Tenth Ward residents, who styled themselves the Tenth Ward Minstrels. Those who took part are as follows: Interlocutor, Joseph Fritsch; endmen, Erloy Miller, Chas. Hawkens; dancers, W. Gillette, W. Ellis, K. Draper, G. Menard; songsters, W. Collins, Edward O'Brien, Roy Fox and Carl Wollenhaupt; special dancer, Isabel Watson; novelty, Marvel Cacic; solo, J. Collins; novelty by the Sodbusters; end song, C. Hawkens; dance specialty, K. Pink and Robert Vogt; solo, H. Fox; Spirit of Pepsodent, Amos and Andy; end song, E. Miller. Collins, O'Brien, Fox and Wollenhaupt are known as the Hickey-Freeman Quartet. The show was directed by Chas. Hawkens. Robert Henchen and George McGuire took the parts of Amos and Andy.

A surprise was in store for Charles E. Bostwick, Tenth Ward leader. Following the entertainment, Councilman Nelson A. Milne presented to the Tenth Ward Club a painting of Mr. Bostwick, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Culhane.

Mr. Bostwick spoke briefly and presented a number of prominent persons. Among those who were presented to the audience were Councilman Wm. F. Durnan, Councilman Joseph L. Guzzetta, Hon. Arthur Wilder, judge City Court, Criminal Branch; James Gray, member of the Board of Education; Hon. Frederick L. Dutcher, Monroe County judge; Hon. Richard L. Saunders, Assemblyman, and Harry J. Braham, chairman of Monroe County Committee.

The "Foreword" to the Year Book, which was distributed at the door, was intended to reflect the ideals for better government of the Republicans. It follows:

"We will never bring disgrace to this our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our comrades; we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others; we will

COURIER APPEARS AGAIN NEXT WEEK

The Tenth Ward Courier will make another appearance next week, coming out on the usual day, Thursday. It will appear weekly thereafter indefinitely, and we hope permanently. All notices and advertisements must be sent in by Tuesday of next week at the latest.

The columns of The Courier are open to all organizations, churches and individual residents of the Tenth Ward. There is no charge for publication of news matter. Organizations, which at present are not sending their publicity to this newspaper, are requested to do so regularly hereafter. News may be sent direct to the Tenth Ward Courier, 25 South Water street, or to the following correspondents:

Mrs. William H. Stell, 121 Flower City park; Mrs. Frank L. Wadman, 14 Mayflower street; Mrs. George J. Jinks, 527 Augustine street; Mrs. Joseph H. Bush, 138 Maryland Street; Miss Helen Brennan, 89 Selye terrace.

Forty-Hour Devotion At Holy Rosary Church

A forty-hour devotion period will be observed at Holy Rosary Church from Sunday until Wednesday. There will be a special mass Sunday at 11 o'clock, and on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings there will be masses at 5:30, 6:45, 7:30 and 8:15.

Rev. Chas. M. Saivre, C. M., of Niagara University, will be the speaker at the services which will be held each evening during the period of devotion. Rev. Celsus, O. F. F., is Lenten preacher for the night services, held each Wednesday at 7:45.

strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty, that thus in all these ways we may transmit this city, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.—Ephibic Oath of Athens.)

"So today the spirit which animated and inspired the sons of Athens in ancient Greece centuries ago continues on and animates and inspires the residents of the Tenth Ward—that Rochester might be in all ways transmitted into a greater, better and more comfortable city in which to live."

Where the Shoe Pinches

A few pertinent questions that will make all American communities stop and think are contained in a little circular which has just come to our attention. We re-print herewith portions of it which are especially important for Tenth Warders to consider, at a time when it seems that finally we are awakening to the real facts behind the chain stores:

"MR. WORKINGMAN—Why should you trade with chain stores when they have no employment to offer you? If you were starving they would not credit you with a loaf of bread. Who is the man that pays your wages?"

"AUTOMOBILE SALESMAN—Why should you patronize the chain stores? Have you ever sold one a motor vehicle?"

"FILLING STATION MAN—Why should you spend your money with the chain stores. Since they use no automobiles, they do not buy tires, oil, gasoline or batteries.

"PREACHER—Why should you trade in a chain store? Who helps build your churches and contributes towards your salary.

"PLUMBER—Why should you patronize the chain store? Have they ever given you a plumbing job?"

"DOCTOR—Why should you trade with chain stores? They bleed the community from which you must make your livelihood. Their managers seldom have families or anyone requiring your services.

"LAWYER—Why should you make purchases at the chain store? All their legal matters are handled from the home office.

"BAKER—Why should you patronize the chain stores? They never buy a loaf of bread or a pound of your cake.

"BUTCHER—Why should you trade with the chain stores? Do they buy meat from you?"

"CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIALS—Why should you spend your money with chain stores, when to do so is to smite the hand that is feeding you. Where does your salary come from?"

"SALESMAN—Why should you trade at the chain stores when they have never purchased a dollar's worth of your goods?"

"BARBER—Why should you patronize the chain stores? Is it the community or just a few chain store employees that you must look to for a livelihood?"

"BANKER—Why should you trade in the chain stores? Your institution is only a medium through which their money passes on its way out of our city and community.

"TAXPAYERS AND CITIZENS IN GENERAL—Why should you place any of your business with the chain stores when you know their only object is to put your neighbor out of business by unfair competition, to bleed your community of its resources, and to contribute little or nothing to your churches, your schools, your roads, your community projects and the things that go to make up a bigger, better, happier and more prosperous community."

If none of these classifications fit your particular case, analyze the matter from your own particular point of view. The chain store problem passes the threshold of every American home—it is reflected in the innermost family circle. Why? Because it challenges the fundamental element in the Constitution of our nation, INDEPENDENCE.

Shannon & Gottermeier Move To 705 Lake Ave.

Shannon and Gottermeier, Lake avenue plumbing and heating concern, announce in this issue their removal to new quarters at 705 Lake avenue. Their new store is located in the block on the corner of Glenwood avenue, just a few doors north of the former location.

The company is owned by Thomas A. Shannon of Glenwood avenue and Andrew J. Gottermeier of Dewey avenue. In addition to plumbing and heating, they also specialize in sheet metal and furnace work.

Jackson Gives Two-Hour Fancy Crystal Service

Through a typographical error in the advertisement of William H. Jackson, jeweler, last issue, "two-hour service on fancy shaped crystals" read "24-hour service". Mr. Jackson wished to emphasize that this two-hour service is unusual and is a part of his regular service.

DELTA BETA NU ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR 1930

Delta Beta Nu Sorority held its annual formal dinner at the Sagamore, March 15. Ethel M. Gardner was re-elected president. Other officers elected were Vice-president, Lucille Marx, Secretary, E. Jane Riddell, Treasurer, Sally L. Welsh, Historian, Marguerite Young. Members taken in this year are: Francis Wellington, Lois Barratt, and Betty Servos.

Bushes Take Over Dewey Ave. Store

Arthur S. Bush and wife, Jessie L., have taken over the store at Dewey and Lexington avenues, which has been conducted for a number of years by Charles Burns. They are doing extensive remodeling and plan to add a soda fountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush are better known as Bush and Bush, vaudeville team, which for a period of 14 years was well-known to theater goers. Among the circuits in which they played was the popular Pantages wheel in the West.

The new proprietors have been life-long residents of the Tenth Ward. Their home is on Dewey avenue.

RIVIERA REDUCES

PRICE NEXT SUNDAY

A lower price goes into effect at the Riviera Theatre beginning Sunday, according to announcement of Manager Edward C. May. In making the announcement Mr. May said that the management feels that the patrons by their fine co-operation and appreciation of the type of picture being shown at the Riviera have deserved the cut in price.

Two new lenses of latest type and invention have been purchased by the Riviera to completely eliminate "spots" of darkness on the screen which show in Movie-tone productions in which the sound accompaniment is on the film. They have also enlarged the screen and have checked and improved the accoustics of the theater. Western Electric officials say it is now on a par with the finest houses in the country.

New lighting effects with more lights in varied colors have been used to bring about a pleasant, home-like atmosphere. New floral decorations are also in evidence around the corridors of the theater.

16 Women Appointed

To Take Local Census

Sixteen Tenth Ward women will be in charge of the United States government census here next month. Their appointment was announced this week. They are as follows:

Mrs. Hattie Buehlman, 176 Pittsford street; Catherine Derrick, 53 Mason street; Mrs. Sophie Leistman, 245 Lewiston avenue; Mary G. Gallagher, 1059 Lewiston Ave., Helen B. Smalley, 303 Electric Ave.; M. Louise aKne, 208 Pierpont St.; Mrs. W. H. Stell, 83 Flower City Plk.; Mrs. Gertrude Dorschel, 184 Curlew street; Frances D. O'Brien, 598 Clay avenue; Melissa B. Jinks, 527 Augustine street; Mrs. Mary Schnepf, 325 Lake View Park; Bertha A. Bush, 138 Maryland street.

TWO LOCAL WOMEN ON REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

Republican Women of Monroe County are planning a card party for the afternoon of April 25. Two Tenth Warders are included in the various committees. Mrs. Joseph H. Bush is a member of the ushers committee and Mrs. William H. Stell is on the candy committee.

DEWEY AVE. BOWLERS

IN FINALE TUESDAY

There was plenty of activity for the bowling business men of Dewey avenue again Tuesday night in the second last match of the season, fast bowling enabling four full teams to get in as many games. Fred Metzinger of The Tenth Ward Courier had the distinction for the first time of leading the bowlers with a total of 745 in four games, although a visiting bowler, Ferner by name, was high man with 749. George Colishaw, bowling barber, finished second and Bauman and Baynes followed in that order.

The next match is to be the season's finale and will be rolled next Tuesday evening on the Church of All-Saints alleys. The following Monday evening, April 7, the two teams representing the business men will clash with Lyell avenue in the second match of the series. Scores Tuesday were as follows:

Rev. Gaffney Leaves To Take Up New Post

Rev. Paul Gaffney, assistant pastor of Holy Rosary Church for the past three years, is now installed in his new charge as chaplain in the State Agricultural School for Boys at Industry. His promotion necessitated his leaving last week. Father Gaffney delivered his farewell address on Sunday, March 16.

Previous to his appointment as assistant pastor of the local church, Father Gaffney was chaplain at Auburn Prison and his work there, together with his interest in boys' work, is believed to especially qualify him for his new position. No successor at Holy Rosary is expected to be available until after ordinations in June.

Rev. Arthur A. Hughes in commenting on Rev. Gaffney's departure emphasized the esteem in which he is held, both for his work in the church and in the community, and expressed his own and the parish's sense of loss in parting with his services.

STEWARD IS CHOSEN BY RIDGEMONT CLUB

The House Committee of Ridgemont Golf Club, of which Herbert A. Johnston is chairman, has selected Michael Szibla to be the new steward. Mr. Szibla was chosen from a large number of applicants because of his record in similar clubs.

For the past six years he was steward of the Hopewell Valley Golf Club of Hopewell, N. J. Commendations were received from the House Committee of that club as well as from individual members and the officers of the club. Strong endorsement was also received regarding the home cooking and general ability of Mrs. Szibla. They will commence their duties April 2, and reservations for dinners and parties can be made after that time.

The drive for additional members, which closes May 1, is reported as progressing satisfactorily to date, the committee having signed about one-quarter of the desired number of additions.

The officers of the Ridgemont Club are John W. Newton, president; Herbert A. Johnston and Joseph H. Bush, vice-presidents; Delos M. Rose, treasurer, and Hugh T. Hughes, secretary.

PARLOW-SPIEHLER

Miss Henrietta A. Spiehler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Spiehler of Seneca parkway, and Dr. Allan Laurence Parlow, staff physician at Strong Memorial Hospital, were married Friday evening in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. John J. Lawrence, minister of the church.

Miss Eleanor Quigley was bridesmaid and Warren Hawkins was best man. A few relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom witnessed the ceremony.

Dr. Parlow is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Allan B. Parlow of Ottawa, Ont.

Following an extended trip in the South, Dr. and Mrs. Parlow will reside at The Sagamore.

OLD-FASHIONED PARTY IS PLANNED BY UNIT

Lake View Unit met Tuesday at the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church on Dewey avenue. A cookery demonstration on "Bridge Luncheons" was given by Joan Rock of Standard Brands, Incorporated, of New York City.

On Tuesday, April 1, an old-fashioned party will be held. Mrs. F. Van Almerck, chairman, assisted by Mrs. E. Watt, Mrs. A. Armstrong, Mrs. R. J. Phalen, Mrs. T. H. Galen, Mrs. H. Giles, Mrs. R. Lee, Mrs. G. Willer and Mrs. S. Newberry.

Riviera

Ramon Navarro, dressed in the handsome uniform of a lieutenant of Napoleon Bonaparte, making his escape from a firing squad; climbing into a beautiful young woman's bedroom; masquerading as a footman; duelling his way to fame and fortune . . . these are some of the sequences of "Devil-May-Care," Navarro's all-talking screen romance which shows today, tomorrow and Saturday at the Riviera Theater.

The new picture, adapted from the French play, "La Bataille des Dames," is said to be a perfect vehicle for the romantic Navarro. The story tells of the adventures of Armand, the exiled Napoleon's trusted lieutenant who schemes to bring back his liege to the throne of France. When he falls in love with Leonie, ardent Royalist, complications begin.

Every corner of the world has come to know Charles (Buddy) Rogers as a great dispenser of joyful entertainment and, in his latest action-romance, "Half Way to Heaven," which will be the feature picture next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, he has a part which gives him all the opportunity he needs to amuse and thrill.

"Half Way to Heaven" brings Rogers to the all-talking screen as a youthful trapeze performer in a carnival. In this daring role, he falls in love with Jean Arthur, his feminine partner, whose charms have also captured the heart of the third member of the act, Paul Lukas, a dangerous character, whose fiery jealousy threatens even Rogers' life. Rogers' own skill and daring alone save him from Lukas' rage, but Lukas vows to kill him while the trio are performing under the "big top."

The story comes to a smashing, hair-raising climax when Rogers, evading Lukas' attempt on his life, turns on the villain, beats him so severely that Lukas leaves the show and Rogers and Miss Arthur are free to continue their interesting romance.

John Marshall News

The first inter-class meet of the spring season will be held tomorrow. Due to the lack of space it is planned to run off the meet in two sections, the track events Friday after school, and the field events Monday. Only a few veterans are left from last year's team, and it is hoped that this meet will reveal new material.

Wednesday morning in assembly Miss Lamb, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, climaxed her several weeks of work by presenting a formal program—the first step in the installation of the National Honorary Society in this school.

Several talks were given by faculty members who have held scholarships in college. The general purpose of the talks was to explain what a scholarship is and how to get one.

The following teachers spoke: Miss Lamb, who explained the history of the Society; Mrs. Lay, Miss FitzSimons and Mr. Jenkins. Mr. Jenkins closed his talk with a request for contributions to the Memorial Scholarship Fund.

April 2 a similar program will be presented to the remaining half of the students, and the names of those elected to the Society read. Talks will be given by students—names not announced as yet—concerning the four qualities needed for election to the Society—namely, scholarship, character, leadership and service.

Mr. Wilder's home room, No. 207, won the Bastian trophy for basketball. Bert Mercer was captain of the team. Sherwood Quick was high scorer in the four shooting contest held recently.

Before a large gathering of students the sophomore class pounded its way to victory last Thursday in the first inter-class boxing tournament of the year. The final score stood, sophomores, 20; seniors, 15; juniors, 12½; freshmen, 7½. Charles Warboys suffered a sprained thumb, the only injury of the tournament.

The winners of the bouts who received medals were: Cinta, Moore, Di Pilato, Lechner, Yockel vs. Narrie (draw), Quick, Legg, Clark, Logan, Isabella and Johnson.

Golfer—If you laugh at me again, I'll knock your block off.
Caddy—Haw, haw! You wouldn't even know what club to use.

NO. 7 SCHOOL NEWS

"Healthy," the clown, visited No. 7 School yesterday morning.

At the Primary Assembly Friday afternoon Miss Wishart's second grade had a Japanese Parade. This was a summary of their study of Japan.

Miss Howard's grade showed pictures of their trip to the General Baking Company. Everyone enjoyed the assembly program.

The boys of Miss Eber's 6B Grade have had 100 per cent attendance for the month of March.

Miss Knope's fifth grade is enjoying the use of the Mexican Exhibit loaned to us by Mrs. Peit of the Rochester Municipal Museum.
