D., president of Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, as the festive speaker. An organ recital will begin at seven o'clock with Norman Peterson at the organ. A mass chorus of 300 voices will sing under the direction of H. H. Genhart.
 Dr. Tulloss will also be the speaker for the Fall Rally of the Genesee Valley District Luther League which will be entertained at a supper meeting in Redeemer Parish House Saturday evening at six o'clock. June Knitt, Helen Woehr, Winifred Smith, Leonard Hammer, and Marion Low are in charge of arrangements.

Those taking part were William Muir, John Swain, Miss Caroline Stewart, Mrs. L. B. Dodge, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Dorothy Dinehart, Clarabelle Frenzell and Lois Pike.
 Sunday night, October 30, at the assembly, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Smith will tell of their experiences in being adopted into the Seneca tribe. November 6, "Missionary Arithmetic," a play dealing with medical missions in China will be given under the direction of Miss Helen Rhodes, and November 6 will be Recognition Night, when all who have attended the school for at least five of the six sessions will be acknowledged.

Lakeview School No. 7
 The Mothers' Study Group met at the school Tuesday afternoon. Miss Agnes Kidder of the Y. W. C. A. discussed the subject of "Boy and Girl Relationships." A discussion followed her talk.
 The boys and girls of No. 7 School are planning good ways of celebrating Halloween. They have suggested such things as costume parades, jack-o-lantern parades and gatherings in homes where games suited to the occasion may be played or stories told.
 Next week the school will start raising its money for the Scholarship Memorial Fund. This campaign will continue through the month of November. The money brought in by the children represents sacrifice and thanks offerings on their part.
 The Lakeview Look-Out, the monthly news sheet of the school, made its first appearance for this school year last week.
 A Democratic card party was held at the home of Mrs. Theresa Osborn in Ridgeway avenue October 20. There was a prize for each table, also door prizes. Pedro, five hundred, pinochle and bridge was played.

Bits of News
 We went and did it; we changed horses. Some voted for Roosevelt just for the change; others for repeal of the 18th Amendment; others for a Democratic tariff; others for the man Roosevelt against the man Hoover; others just against the Republican party. There's plenty of room for argument, although most people seem to think it's just the sentiment for a change that brought the mountain crashing down on Herbert Clark Hoover.

The greatest thing about the whole campaign is that it is over. There's no more uncertainty. Furthermore when you turn on your radio for your favorite program at the scheduled hour, it will be there. 'Tis quite a calm after the storm, but there are compensations.

Those who have occasion to pass Edgerton Park were somewhat taken aback recently to note the iron fence which circumvents the park being adorned with a glaring orange paint. Some conservative souls, no doubt, such as ourselves, had a protest on the ends of their tongues, but the opportunity for constructive criticism has been lost. The orange, apparently just a priming coat, has been entirely subdued by a good coat of black.

At least two of Dewey avenue's enterprising business men are loyal residents of Dailey boulevard, over in the Summerville boulevard section. It seems that this street boasts a center parkway similar to that in Seneca parkway. There apparently is no town appropriation for its upkeep, so the neighbors have taken it on themselves to landscape the parkway. It has been divided off into sections and each resident is responsible for one section. As the result of considerable labor, digging, planting, grass-cutting, etc., the street presents a well-groomed front. . . . But the moral of this story is not to show what public spirit will do for community betterment. No, quite the contrary, for both Frank Rubadou and Charlie Bantel are just recovering from lumbago.

HOLY ROSARY LEAGUE IS UNDER WAY OFFICIALLY
 The Holy Rosary Bowling League started its season officially a week ago last night with eight teams in action to roll every Wednesday. The teams are as follows: Bauman and Baynes, Ray's Lunch, Nolan's Drug, Schubert's Texaco, Hoffend's Market, Amick's Dry Cleaners, Buckley's Service and Hatz Garage.

AQUINAS CLOSES SEASON SAT. AGAINST ST. JOE'S
 Aquinas Institute football team closes its season Saturday afternoon, facing a fighting St. Joe's eleven, with just an outside chance of winning. Aquinas has fared meagerly in the matter of wins this year with only two out of six, but a victory Saturday would just about balance the ledger for the Dewey avenue boys.
 The Thanksgiving issue of The Courier will appear on Monday, November 21.

North Presbyterian—At the last session of the School of World Friendship to be held Sunday at 5:45 p. m., recognition will be made of all who have attended at least five of the six sessions of the school. The average attendance for the first five sessions is 70 and the outcome of the school has been most satisfying to those who planned for it and to the organizations co-operating. Six simultaneous classes have been held each week, two for children, two for young people and two for adults. The teachers, Mrs. Robert Findlay, Rev. B. R. Larabee, Miss Elizabeth Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore G. Clement, Miss Rose Kingsley, Mrs. Alden I. Clark, Miss Dorothy Rhodes and Mrs. R. W. Henschel; the topics for study, "China" and "The American Indians."

At the morning service Sunday the pastor will preach on the topic "The Remedy."
 Tonight and Friday the Minstrel Show, sponsored by the Women's Society, will be given.
 Junior girls will meet at the Parish House on Saturday at ten o'clock, from where they will start for an out-of-doors event. Each girl is asked to bring carfare and lunch.

Gifts of staple groceries for the Presbyterian Home may be left at the church on or before November 19; they will be displayed and dedicated at the morning service on November 20.
 At the midweek meeting yesterday a series of studies in "The Living Bible" was begun by the pastor, Rev. Robert Findlay. The prophets Amos and Micah were discussed, and the topic for the meeting November 16 will be the prophet Isaiah.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Fickes of Massillon, Ohio, will spend the week-end in Rochester and will be welcomed by their many friends in North Church. Mr. Fickes is a former officer of the church and served as choir director there for several years. Mrs. Fickes was a popular leader of girls.
 Redeemer Lutheran—"The Heart of a Father" will be the subject of the sermon by the Rev. W. L. Dowler Sunday morning. Every father is urged to bring his son to this service and appreciate the privileges and assume the full responsibilities of fatherhood. The chorus choir will sing.
 Loyalty Sunday will be celebrated November 20, the Sunday before Thanksgiving, when every member of the congregation is urged to be present and renew his pledge of loyalty for financial and moral support during 1933. During these times especially, every member is urged to regularly attend the Sunday morning services of divine worship and use the weekly envelopes regularly for the support of the Kingdom in proportion as the Lord has prospered.
 The Women's Missionary Society will hold its annual thank-offering meeting next Wednesday in the parish house. Mrs. Carrie Kress and her committee will be hostesses at the luncheon which will be served at one o'clock. At 2:30 the thank-offering program will be presented in charge of Mrs. W. L. Dowler. Mrs. George Seel will have charge of the business session when final reports of the Conference Convention will be given. All members of the society are urged to come and bring their friends.

A New Moratorium

Now with the 1932 elections a matter of history, perhaps we in the Tenth Ward can take a minute to consider a proposal broached in a recent issue of the magazine Liberty. Perhaps we can achieve a solution that will redound to the benefit not only of our local business houses but eventually to our own pocketbooks. We are thinking of a sort of moratorium on old debts.

It is rather alarming and very disheartening to the business man to see one of his customers whom he has carried on the books for years to discontinue his patronage. But it is even more terrible when the business man sees this very same individual walk into the store of a competitor and lay down cold cash for his purchases.

The business man naturally feels bad at the prospective loss of the money due him; but he feels 10 times worse at the thought of losing the cash business of that same customer. It isn't fair and it isn't right. In many cases the business man has probably played the role of a good Samaritan. He has allowed credit against his own good judgment because he has a "heart." Then to be repaid for his kindness in this way—well who can blame him if he hardens his heart, clenches his fist and says "never again!"

Now that's the business man's side of the picture. Let's look at the other side—the customer's. He's in debt to the merchant. He is able to scrape enough money together to supply the essentials to his family. He has cash (not enough to make any sizeable payment on the old account, much as he'd like to) but enough to purchase necessities.

He feels obligated to the merchant and this very obligation precludes his spending that cash in the merchant's store, because he hasn't the nerve, perhaps, to say, "Here, I can't pay you the old account now. But I have enough to pay cash for the things I need from day to day. I appreciate your extension of credit to me. I know you're a good fellow and the least I can do, outside of paying my bill, is to give you my patronage and pay you cash. You give me a moratorium on what I owe and as soon as I get earning enough money I'll pay you in full."

There is a natural human gap between customer and merchant which makes this difficult. There is a tension between them which only outspoken frankness can span.

To the customer we say, do not hesitate to be loyal to your friend, the neighborhood business man. The least you can do is to patronize him with your cash as well as credit business. Business men, we are sure, will not hesitate to accept such requests as may come from worthy customers for a temporary moratorium.

UPPER DEWEY LEAGUE

The evenly-matched calibre of the four teams in the Upper Dewey Bowling League was again emphasized this week when three of the four teams found themselves tied with seven wins and eight losses. Although the Hickorynuts lost two to the Cocoanuts they continue in first place with nine wins and six losses.

Averages through November 1 show Charles Bantel leading George Bauman in the race for individual honors. Bantel has 188 and Bauman 186. Following are the averages:

Radio Tips, Questions and Answers
By H. S. Russell

Every radio owner who doesn't possess a superheterodyne is wondering just what has happened to his receiver—it gets so many stations at one time—and the trouble occurs only in the evening. We have had so many calls about this condition that we can repeat the question and answer backwards. Here is the answer.

During the past summer many broadcasting stations have increased their sending power to such an extent that they now "roar in" where they formerly whispered. This means that in Rochester we now receive 30 or more powerful stations at night, whereas 5 or 6 was the former limit. And many of these stations are so near each other "on the dial" that they overlap and we pick up 3 or 4 at a time—unless we use a superheterodyne receiver. Now, you ask, why does this condition prevail only in the evening. Answer, because the sun's rays retard the ability of radio waves to travel; thus in the daytime we receive local stations with no interference from distant ones. But when the sun goes down—and the influence of its rays are removed, the signals from distant stations are free to travel and we receive them by the dozen.

Now there's just one cure—a superheterodyne radio receiver—but if circumstances won't permit such a step just now, have your radio tubes tested and replace the poor ones and if the radio doctor thinks the radio needs it—have your receiver aligned. These operations—tubes and aligning—will bring the receiver up to its "best" and a receiver in good condition is less bothered by interference than one that is limping along. And another thing—shorten your aerial as much as you possibly can and still receive the favorite stations.

This crowded condition of the radio "air" is going to drive many people to the purchase of superheterodyne receivers. Now there are many good LOW priced receivers on the market—there are no good CHEAP ones. This is just as true today as it was two years ago. If subtracting the cost of the tubes from the cost of the receiver leaves only a few dollars that the manufacturer could have put into the building of the radio, you are safe in figuring that only grief to the owner can result from such poor quality construction.

Church News

Redeemer Church — Yesterday was Loyalty Sunday when every member of the congregation was urged to renew their pledge of loyalty for regular attendance and financial support for the new year as a part of the morning worship. The members of the Church Council and their assistants were commissioned to complete the every member visitation Sunday afternoon. A final report of the canvass will be given Wednesday evening at the informal Thanksgiving service which will be held in the Parish House. The Rev. William L. Dowler will give a Thanksgiving message.

Mrs. Paul Dutton and Mrs. Alfred Doe are the committee appointed by the Bethany Guild to prepare the Thanksgiving baskets and distribute clothing to those in need. Every one is urged to express their gratitude in these trying days by sharing with those less fortunate. Donations will be received at the Parish House.

Next Sunday is the first Sunday in Advent which ushers in the new church year and brings anew the joyful message of our Saviour's coming into the world as the wondrous babe of Bethlehem.

Members of the Men's Bible Classes and of the choir are having rehearsals every Tuesday and Friday evening in preparation for the minstrel entertainment to be held Thursday evening, December 8, in Ascension Parish Hall. James LaPorte, Alfred Doe and Henry Taylor are in charge of the arrangements. An entertaining program is promised after which a special orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

North Presbyterian—The School of World Friendship held during the past six weeks in North Church closed on Sunday evening, November 13, with an attendance of 78. The average attendance during the six weeks of the school was 70; and 42 of the members of the classes were present at least five of the six sessions.

The Young People's Sunday Evening Group resumed its regular meeting schedule last night with a discussion of the topic "Is There Anything To Be Thankful For?" The pastor, Rev. Robert Findlay, was leader.

Next Sunday Mrs. Irving Walker, executive secretary of the Council of Church Women, will speak on "The Influence of the Radio On Modern Life." This is the first of a series of discussions on "Modern Influences." Future meetings will consider "The Magazine," "The Newspaper," "The Moving Picture," etc. One of these topics will be considered each month during the winter.

The young women and girls of North Church announce the following plans for a Christmas Sale and Supper to be held at the church on Thursday and Friday, December 1 and 2: A novel entertainment entitled "Say It With Music," will be given at eight o'clock on both evenings; Miss Ruth Beldue and Mrs. C. W. Colburn are in charge of the entertainment. Cafeteria supper will be served from 5:30 until seven o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Paul F. Utz and Miss Harriet C. Miller; an exhibit of antiques and handcraft will be one of the features of the sale, and Miss Ruth D. Rogers is chairman of the committee planning for it. Anyone who has articles for exhibit, whether members of North Church or not, are asked to communicate with Miss Rogers, Glenwood 899-W. Prizes will be given for the most popular entries, the attendants at the sale to be the judges. Miss Gladys Frederick is chairman of the committee on publicity.

At the morning service yesterday Rev. Findlay preached on "The Old Folks" and gifts of staple groceries for the Presbyterian Home were dedicated.

The Women's Society met last Thursday at the Parish House for a luncheon meeting. The topic for discussion was "The Southern Mountains" and Miss Mary G. Clement, the leader. Devotions were led by Mrs. Elizabeth J. Miller.

Grace M. E.—Friday night Boy Scout Troop No. 27 will hold a bean supper and Court of Honor in the Assembly Hall of the church. Eagle badges will be awarded to "Ted" Peterson and "Bud" Bachers and 60 merit badges and 40 first class badges will be presented to members of the troop. Raymond Fillier

By H. S. Russell

What constitutes a "radio bargain?" is a question many times uppermost in the minds of radio purchasers. Whether the offered "buy" is a bargain and, after purchase, whether it was a bargain? And yet a few commonsense tests definitely catalog the value of a radio receiver.

First, on the so-called table or midget type of receivers; they contain just as many as, or more parts than your older type large console receiver, but the parts are much smaller and crammed into unbelievably small space. This means that when the receiver requires servicing the replacement of parts must be made with parts of identical shape and size. In standard make receivers these are quickly and easily secured but in unknown and "pirate" receivers, replacements must be made with "approximates," and this takes time and costs money.

And while speaking of service remember that the manufacturer who puts his well-known and cherished trademark on his receiver also puts more into the receiver in skill and quality than the manufacturer who has never made a name for himself and has none to lose.

I have serviced many "bargain" receivers bearing unknown names, and invariably in testing them I find that good standard receivers selling for a few dollars more will outperform and outlast their "bargain" brothers of doubtful ancestry by 50 per cent. And, too, quality of tone and speech is not to be compared.

And what is true of radio receivers is true of radio tubes. Verily, radio bargains are few and far between.

LAKEVIEW SCHOOL NO 7

Special Thanksgiving assemblies will be held Wednesday afternoon. At this time each class presents its contribution for the Memorial Scholarship Fund. This money represents sacrifice on the part of the individuals contributing. The standard bearer of the school will present it to the Board of Directors of the Children's Memorial Scholarship Fund at an early date.

Dewey Reformed—An interesting service was held last Sunday evening by the Young People's Society. The Rev. Frankfeld of Salem Evangelical Church was guest speaker and delivered an inspiring message. Next Wednesday at one o'clock the Women's Missionary Society will hold its regular monthly luncheon in the Parish House. It is sponsored by the Luther League, the Young Men's Class (Grove Cliquemoi, teacher) and the Young Women's Class (Mrs. W. L. Dowler, teacher). The boys and girls of the congregation who are attending college will be the honored guests at this meeting.

A special choir rehearsal is announced for Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the special Christmas music. The usual midnight Candlelight Carol service will be held Christmas Eve from 11 to 12 o'clock with a brief Christmas message by the pastor. CANARY HYGIENE

By Mrs. H. L. Banks, 156 Clay Avenue, Breeder of Pedigreed Water Gluck Canaries.

Many folks will doubtless receive canaries for Christmas, and will want to know how to care for them properly. First it is necessary to keep gravel on the bottom of the cage and a piece of cuttle bone between the wires at all times. Cuttle bone contains lime and salt, both essential to the health of canaries, and as they have no teeth, gravel helps to grind their food.

Always keep a mixture of rape and canary seed before them. Many of the package seeds contain red and white millet seed, but straight rape and canary is best. Fill the cup up and do not keep giving more each day, but see that all of the rape (which is the dark colored seed) is eaten before giving a fresh supply. If your bird is given a filled cup each day he eats only the seed he likes best, which is the light colored canary seed. He needs the rape as well, to make a well balanced menu and if allowed to eat too much canary seed, he gets fat and puffy and will in time refuse to sing.

Fresh water should be given daily and a bath two or three times a week on sunny days, early in the day. About twice a week, give 1/2 teaspoon of song restorer, on the same day a small piece (about the size of a 50-cent piece) of green food—lettuce, celery or dandelion leaves in summer, and a small piece of apple or grated raw carrot in winter; just a small amount as these foods all act on the bowels.

Once a week it is wise to give a 1/2-inch cube of stale bread soaked in hot milk. Squeeze out surplus milk and sprinkle bread with maw seed. This treatment will keep the system cleaned out and is an aid to digestion. Once in a while a drop or two of cod liver oil can be given with the bread and milk. Mix it in well, so bird will get full benefit of the treatment.

Now the above mentioned are about all requirements in the way of food to keep your feathered pet in good condition, except during moulting season, when it is best to feed a little more generously. A little Spratt's cod liver oil nesting food can be added to the diet, or hard boiled egg and cracker.

Another article by Mrs. Banks will appear in the next issue.

resistors, condensers or transformer, however, and this conserves space and a little money. Yet, since we have several "tubes" in one glass envelope, if one section becomes faulty, we must discard the whole thing. So it's about a fifty-fifty proposition. And radios are somewhat like autos—a "four" is simpler but an eight is more pleasing to drive—smoother, steadier, quieter. When we have the money we buy the "eight."

Robbers Leave No Clue In Local Theatre Theft

Neatly removing locks from two doors and the safe, daring gunmen helped themselves to over $1,000 at the Riviera Theatre Monday morning. The janitor, who arrived at the theater during the robbery, was held at the point of a gun and laid, face-down, with wrists and ankles bound in tire tape, on the office floor.

The thieves left no clues except a heavy hammer which is said to show no trace of finger prints. No arrests have as yet been made in connection with the case.

BOY SCOUT NEWS Troop No. 81

An interpatrol contest with a prize for the winner will be started next week among the four patrols of Troop 81. Next Wednesday (December 21) a Tenderfoot Investiture will be provided for boys who wish to join the troop. A father-and-son overnight trip is being arranged for January 21.

Last week the troop committee met at the home of Richard Baybutt, chairman. Ernest R. Taylor, chairman of the advancement committee of the Blackhawk Division, announced a plan for the organization of troop committees so that they will conduct boards of review for their troops. Charles Legg, deputy commissioner of the Blackhawk Division, announced that so far Troop 89 of the Church of the Master and Troop 81 of Lewiston Avenue Methodist Church are the only troops in the division which have qualified for the President's Award this year. The award is a streamer to be given by President Hoover to any boy scout troop which does its part in the National Ten-Year Program of Scouting by fulfilling certain requirements with regard to advancement, increased membership, and program during the year.

Troop No. 50

Troop 50 regrets the loss of their scoutmaster, Robert Churchill, who has been transferred by the Eastman Kodak Co. to Tennessee. The scouts wish him much success in his new position. The troop welcomes Edward Stief, the newly appointed scoutmaster, and is looking forward to an eventful winter of sports programs under his leadership.

Last week the troop ushered at the Kodak Park Athletic Association show held at the camera works. Tuesday they attended a lecture at the Foramen's Club annual banquet, at which Chief Rolling Thunder was the speaker of the evening.

The committee meeting took place at the home of Charles Norris, 86 Ridgeway avenue, last Monday. The program for the winter was discussed with the new scoutmaster, Former scoutmaster, Vernon Howe, J. Wannemaker and C. Turbeville are newly appointed committeemen.

North Presbyterian—Tomorrow from four until seven o'clock, the Young People's Sunday Evening Group will entertain at a supper party, a group of 26 children suggested by the Family Welfare Bureau. Miss Mildred Kier is president of the group and those who are helping are Harriet Miller, Isabel Bates, Ruth Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Clark, Bernard Bullock and Charles Richardson.

White gifts for the Christmas baskets will be brought to the Christmas party tomorrow at eight p. m., when "The Holly Wreath," a Christmas playlet, will be given in the chapel.

The music on Christmas Sunday is being directed by Harold Harper, choirmaster, as follows: Solo—"The Infant Jesus" by Ethel Shanley Henschel; anthems—"Oh Sing to God" and "Blessed Be the Lord God."

The sermon theme will be "The Herald Angels Sing." At five p. m., Sunday, "Why the Chimes Rang," a Christmas pantomime, will be presented in the church auditorium, by members of the Sunday School, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wannemacher.

Ascension (Episcopal)—Holy Eucharist services will be held Christmas Eve, starting at 11:30. Services Sunday will be Holy Communion at eight a. m. and Holy Communion and sermon at 11 a. m. Rev. W. C. Compton, S. T. D., will occupy the pulpit. A program of Christmas music has been arranged for the services.

Redeemer Lutheran—The Luther League together with the young men's and young women's classes of the Sunday Church School will hold a Christmas party this evening in the Parish House. All young people at home from college for the Christmas holidays will be special guests of honor. Gifts will be brought and placed around the Christmas tree and will later be distributed by Santa Claus as a closing feature of the evening. The committee in charge consists of Dorothy Karweick, Marie Himes, Ethel Davis, Einar Anderson and Leonard Hammer.

Special interest centers in the midnight candle-light service which will be held as usual Christmas Eve beginning at 11 o'clock. A program of Christmas anthems and carols will be given by the chorus choir, and the Rev. John H. Munnich of Mt. Vernon, New York, will deliver the Christmas message.

The pastor, Rev. W. L. Dowler, will deliver the Christmas sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, using as the theme "Keeping Christmas in the Heart." Rev. Dowler states that since Christmas comes on Sunday this year every sincere Christian should set apart the regular hour for morning worship and postpone the special social festivities until Monday; Christmas is Christ's birthday, and the earnest Christian, like the wise men of old, should bring his best gift and come and worship his Savior King.

The Christmas program by the Sunday School will be given Sunday evening at seven o'clock, assisted by the members of the chorus choir. The following program will be presented by the children of the Primary Department, in charge of Mrs. George Eyer:

Prelude, Chorus of Shepherds (Lemmens) Miss Evelyn Anderson; Processional Hymn, Hark! the Herald Angels Sing.

HOLY ROSARY DOINGS
Things are moving rapidly at Holy Rosary Parish. Just look at this week's schedule!
Monday night found the Holy Name Men of the Parish, 400 strong, assembled in the hall where, besides a splendid program of entertainment, they enjoyed an interesting and instructive talk by Judge Donnelly.

On Tuesday night a committee of women under the leadership of Mrs. Lechner of Emerson street, sponsored a successful charity card party. Food donations, which were the price of admission, were used by these ladies in conjunction with the Young Ladies' Sodality, for the Christmas baskets to be given to the parish poor and orphans.

And don't think the school children weren't busy too! Wednesday afternoon a pleasing program of entertainment was rendered by the different grades. Outstanding features of this program were the playlet, "The Birds' Christmas Carol," put on by the Sixth Grade, and "Musical Dolls," by the Fifth Grade. The singing of "Silent Night" and "Gesu Bambino" lent Christmas spirit to the entertainment.

On Wednesday evening at eight o'clock the Young Ladies' Sodality staged a colorful and enthusiastic meeting. Christmas plans were discussed and decided upon. Parishioners may look forward to a happy awakening on Christmas Eve by the melodious strains of Christmas carols which were rehearsed at this meeting.

During the past week the High School Girl Students held their final rehearsal of music in preparation for the Feast of Christmas. They will sing the 9 and 10 o'clock High Masses.

The Reverend Walter A. Foery, Ph. D., pastor, will celebrate the Christmas Midnight Mass, assisted by Rev. Joseph McDonnell, M. A., as deacon, and Rev. Frances Turner of St. Bernard's Seminary, as sub-deacon. Dr. Foery will also preach the sermon at this Mass. The other Masses on Christmas Day will be at the usual time, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 o'clock. The church choir of sixty voices under the direction of James McGrath have arranged a special program of music for the Midnight Mass.

TO PRESENT PLAY
The Ladies' Aid of Gates Presbyterian Church will present a play entitled "Darkey Wedding" at Grace M. E. Church, corner of Driving Park avenue and Thorn street, on January 18.

ONE CHRISTMAS EVE

This short story for Christmas was written and presented to the Courier for publication in this issue by a Tenth Warder.

I sauntered into my library, dropped into my Morris chair disgusted with the world in general. A log in the grate burned brightly. Through the window I could see the sacrificial fires of the dying day; casting their last ruddy shafts across the purple sky in a parting salute.

The heat of the fire, together with the moaning of the pines outside soon caused me to sleep; for I was very tired, having spent my life in an effort for material gain which now failed to satisfy.

Suddenly the strains of a well-known song fell upon my ear.

I arose, walked to the window and looked out. A beautiful scene met my view.

Mother Earth was gowned in a robe of pure and spotless white. The great arms of the stately elms—which a short time before had been so bare—were covered with a glistening splendor and waving gently in the breeze like huge pennants of peace.

Hundreds of starry eyes winked at one another in the sky, while a smiling moon rode slowly by, impartially casting a dazzling sheen over all beneath. The world had never looked so beautiful. Surely nature had contributed her share of the decorations toward the birthday of the King.

Almost beneath my window the Park Band was playing that charming old English song, "Carol, Brothers, Carol." The strains gripped a selfish motive, to procure some of their happiness for myself.

I soon found myself with a group of people in a large store buying mittens, caps, shoes, dolls, skates and other things. Had I taken leave of my senses, what was I to do with these things?

Some-one tugged at my arm and heavily loaded, I still followed the crowd, depositing my bundles in a waiting automobile outside the doors.

Other cars drew up and were loaded. I stood bewildered. "Come on, Mister, don't ye want to come?" yelled a red-cheeked boy in my ear. Turning from the boy I beheld one of the most beautiful girls I had ever seen.

Stray curls of golden hair were blowing in the wind and a pair of dancing brown eyes looked out from under a scarlet beret. She repeated the invitation, "Don't you want to come?" I needed no urging but quickly climbed into the automobile.

The cars went in different directions, our Buick soon reaching a well-known tenement district where I was at once most amply supplied with parcels and trying to race my fair companion up many flights of stairs which creakily protested at my weight every step of the climb.

We reached the top in safety and as I helped trim the trees that our rosy-cheeked lad brought up, joy was in my heart, a boy's eagerness and anticipations again were mine.

We rushed from room to room arranging toys, placing a doll on the outstretched arm of a sleeping girl or a train of cars beside some little boy, wondering just how they would register their surprise and delight in the morning. And oh! what a pleasure it was to send tired mothers to bed after leaving baskets with dinners fit for a king.

I awoke with a start. It was dark. The fire had gone out. I turned on the lights and rising, walked through my palatial home which was silent as a tomb. No laughter or cheer here. Even the little man on the mantle clock seemed to wear a scowl.

Acting upon impulse, I stepped to the telephone, called up "The Christmas Stocking Club," told them I would join them and started out.

I reached home at four in the morning a tired but a very happy man, for I had found what the wealth of the universe could not buy, true happiness.

The church bells are chiming their merry Christmas message. The sun is streaming in through the windows. A fire again burns brightly in the grate. Even the little man on the clock seems to smile this morning as I leave to call for my fair companion of Christmas Eve, who was also the girl of my dream.

my heart, while instantly the verse my mother taught me when a little boy flashed through my mind. How close she seemed to me just now. Was it possible she knew how selfish I had been in the accumulation of the wealth I now possessed?

My reveries were interrupted by the sound of laughter and cheery voices followed by silence. Then there burst upon the air a chorus of many voices singing the very words we used to sing at home: "At the pienteous table think of those who've none, The orphan and the widow hungry and forlorn; Bountiful your offering to the orphans bring, Let the poor and needy Christmas carols sing."

Author unknown.

How the words thrilled me! Were they serenading me? No! 'twas just a load of merry carolers stopping here and there to sing.

Many people were passing with parcels in their arms exchanging holiday greeting with the bandmen and singers.

Automobiles whizzed by loaded with toys and spruce trees either hanging out or fastened to the side. Such laughter and merry-making filled the streets. There was real pleasure and joy was in their hearts.

I took my hat, went out and mingled with the throng, perhaps with

Radio Tips, Questions and Answers
By H. S. Russell

There is something very admirable in endurance in machines, in ability to perform day in and day out without breakdown or need of constant adjustment—especially in such instruments of daily use as radios. The one who owns a receiver that has performed, let us say, for three or four years with a minimum of attention and service is to be congratulated on his good fortune, but if his radio contains any (and occasionally all) of his original tubes he is committing a large and costly error.

I have recently encountered five or six such cases. Possessing three or four-year old radios whose transformers were built to give low tube filament voltages, these parties have never had to replace a tube because of burnouts—and these people boast of this fact. They are desirous of seeing how long the tubes will play as a set. But such a test is very expensive to those radio owners. Any tube with over a year's service to its credit acts much like an electric lamp after it has performed its rated duty—it burns or "works"—but at 50% efficiency. And the radio receiver that could bring in the "Coast" with ease now struggles to "get" New York, and the audio system that once produced thundering military bands as though they were right in the room now makes an organ sound like a piano and a piano like a banjo. And all this could be overcome if the owner would forget the idea of "seeing how long the old tubes will play" and replace the entire set once every year.

If this uneconomical drop in tube power were sudden we could easily convince the radio owner of the high cost of constantly forcing his set, due to tube weakness. But so gradual is the decline that he becomes accustomed to the low quality of performance. A trained ear that knows how that radio should sound when right would quickly note the lack of sensitivity and poor quality of tone, however.

CANARY HYGIENE
(By Mrs. H. L. Banks, 156 Clay Avenue, Breeder of Pedigreed Water Gluck Canaries.)

At night cover the cage with a white cloth and in the morning examine very closely for red mites which look like a tiny red speck. These mites suck the blood from the bird during the night and make life very uncomfortable for him. In the day time they leave the body of the bird by way of the perch and hide in cracks at end of perch and in crevices of cage, particularly in top of cage near the knob. If you find your pet has these pests go over all cracks in the cage with a brush dipped in kerosene, let it stand an hour or two, wash cage and dry well before returning bird to it or you can spray your cage with Flit. Do not powder the birds body with insect powder. It is better to treat the cage as described.

Regarding the imported canaries, brought over every year. It is said that the average life of these birds is about a year, due to the way in which they are shipped. We are all familiar with the little wooden cage with just a slat across the bottom to keep bird from escaping. These cages are piled about 30 cages high and about 30 cages across, slipped onto a long stick to hold them together, then wrapped in a white cloth.

Now on each side of the little cage there is a space of about 3/4 of an inch, so that seed and filth falls out of one cage into the cage below, thus contaminating the drinking water and seed of every bird. Is it any wonder that before the little fellows are here very long, most of them sicken and die? Many of them never live through their first moult. So in the long run they are not as cheap as they seem.

Most of these birds are raised in Germany by the peasants. Large

Bowling League Having Sauerkraut Supper Wed.

Holy Rosary Bowling League will hold a sauerkraut supper next Wednesday, December 28, at 6:45, in Holy Rosary Hall. Following the supper, cards will be played. The committee in charge includes Leslie Bauman, John Donaghue and George Jost. Supper will be served by Ray Atkins.

numbers of the breeders are under contract to certain exporters, to whom their entire stock of young are shipped as soon as they are in song. Now on the other hand most birds raised and sold in this country are raised by folks as a hobby; consequently they receive the best of care, and the breeder is glad to stand back of every bird he sells and is very anxious that his birds give satisfaction. They have the advantage over the imported stock for the reason that they do not have to become acclimated, and do not have that hazardous trip across the ocean.

Many of the birds sold in stores at a low price are not singing, but the customer is told they are too young to sing, but will sing later. Now male birds, which are the only ones that sing, usually begin to try to sing when they are from six to eight weeks old, and when about two months old begin to moult their small feathers. This moult usually lasts about three months and after that he begins to get his full song; but all during this baby moult he is constantly practicing his song. So when you get a bird, that is, one which you are told is too young to sing, you can make up your mind it's a female bird and never will sing. So do not buy a young bird which is not singing and expect him to sing later—when he gets older.
