DEMOCRATS READY FOR VICTORY BALL MONDAY NIGHT AT THE POWERS

There will be a final meeting of the Democratic clubs of the Tenth Ward tomorrow (Friday) evening at the headquarters on Driving Park avenue to perfect plans for the Victory Ball and card party to be held next Monday evening at Powers Hotel.

Thomas E. Moran, executive committeeman of the ward and chairman of general arrangements has announced that the music and entertainment will be furnished by Sax Smith's Orchestra. Dancing will be held in the ballroom of the hotel while the card party is in progress in the cafeteria. Guests may attend either or both.

The dance is in direct charge of the following committee, composed of members of the Jeffersonian Club; John Dorsey, chairman, Robert Fischer, George Welsh, John McGrath, Harry Marks, Leo Dietz. Music committee, John McGrath, Harry Marks, James Leary; floor committee, Thomas O'Brien, Norman O'Brien, James Ferris, Aloysius Rombaut, Sebastian Schauseil.

The following young ladies of the ward have consented to act as hostesses: Evelyn Hyland, Louise Donaghue, Winifred Donoghue, Marian McCaffrey, Mary Moran, Katherine Moran, Helen Dorsey, Elisabeth Krug, Colleta Kunz, Marcella Kunz, Esther Behan and Agnes Schaub.

The Women's Democratic Club will have a meeting at the headquarters tonight and all members are urged to be present. The public is invited and tickets may be had from Thomas E. Moran or any other members of the committee.

"PROSPERITY" COMES TO RIVIERA THIS WEEK

Most motion pictures end with a wedding—but Marie Dressler, aided and abetted by Polly Moran, reverse the usual order and start in with a wedding in "Prosperity," feature attraction at the Riviera Theatre tonight, Friday and Saturday.

That is, they get everything ready for a wedding—and then there's an hilarious fight which puts the kibosh on the ceremony and sends the bride and groom scuttling away to the mayor's office to be married in peace and quiet in a nice noisy city hall.

"Prosperity" shows the popular comedienne as mothers-in-law who try to regulate the lives of their married children and battle vigorously between themselves in the process. The locale is a small town and the hilarious complications come fast and furious in the action of the comedy romance.

Anita Page and Foster Anita Page and Norman Foster are seen as the married children with Jacques Lyn, Jerry Tucker, Charles Giblyn, Frank Darien and Henry Armetta completing the cast, under the direction of Sam Wood, who produced "Huddle."

Among the comedy highlights are the Christmas Eve battle of three rival Santa Clauses—two of them being Marie and Polly disguised by whiskers—a riotous episode in which Miss Dressler runs a grocery store and keeps a militant eye on Miss Moran, a customer addicted to helping herself to the pickle barrel, a backyard argument from which Polly emerges covered with glory and a little bit of mud to boot, and a sequence taking place in a movie theater in which Miss Dressler steps on everybody's feet in an effort to satisfy the repeated demands of her grandchildren.

The versatile Miss Dressler also contributes some exceptional character work in the dramatic scenes in which she plans the stirring sacrifice that precipitates a touching denouement to the riot of laughs.

The program from Sunday to Tuesday brings Will Rogers and Marion Nixon in "Too Busy to Work" and "Three On a Match" with Warren William, John Blondell, Ann Drorak and Beth Davis.

Matinees Prove Popular Innovation at Riviera

Efforts of the Riviera Theatre to provide the ward with entertainment such as has seldom been offered in any community in Rochester have met with "fine response" from the public, according to Manager Edward C. May. The recent innovation of daily matinees has proved quite successful and will be continued until further notice.

Heretofore, the Riviera has had matinees on Saturdays and Sundays only, but the experiment conducted during the past ten days of daily matinees has resulted in large enough crowds to warrant continuance of the policy.

Kleinmans Moves to Driving Park Avenue

John F. Kleinmans, tailor, announces removal of his business from 835 Dewey avenue to 301 Driving Park avenue, between Broedel and Straub streets. Mr. Kleinmans, who has been in business on Dewey avenue for the past 17 years, makes ladies' and men's suits in addition to cleaning, pressing and alteration work.

PASS BAR EXAMS

Among the successful law students who passed the October bar examinations were two Tenth Warders, Myer Brainman, 77 Flower City park, and Lester A. Fanning, 511 Magee avenue.

NEXT ISSUE JAN. 19

With the holiday season past, The Courier resumes its regular schedule of publication. An issue will appear every other Thursday until further notice. The next publication will be on January 19. All news matter should be in the hands of the editor no later than Monday, January 16, to insure publication.

BRANCH LIBRARIES TO OPEN TWICE-A-WEEK

Pending outcome of further negotiations with the City Council, the Library Board announced this week that the Lake Avenue and Edgerton Park libraries along with others would go on a two-day-a-week schedule. The two local branches will be open only Mondays and Thursdays from 3 to 9 p. m.

The revised schedule has been made necessary by the reduced budget. However, the finance committee of the Council will report at its meeting next Tuesday night and if a way can be found, additional funds will be provided to operate the libraries on a longer schedule of hours.

Under the new schedule Charlotte, Brighton, Genesee, Hudson and Park avenue branches will be closed entirely and the Central Library will be open daily from 2 to 8 p. m. with the exception of Sundays and holidays.

Stillman's Announce Removal Sale Event

Removal of Stillman's Men's and Boys' Wear store to a new location on Dewey avenue will take place late this month. Announcement of the new location will be made in the next Courier. As a result, Stillman's are placing their entire stock on sale to save moving as much as possible, the sale starting tomorrow (Friday).

Holy Name Rally at Sacred Heart Sunday

One of the ten divisional rallies next Sunday in celebration of the 500th anniversary of the formation of the first Holy Name Society in Lisbon, Portugal, will be held at Sacred Heart Church. The rallies will be run simultaneously, starting at four o'clock.

William J. Deegan of Sacred Heart is chairman of the committee in charge which also includes John A. Meiser of St. Charles Borromeo, Al Jopson of Holy Cross, and Emmett Cooper of Mother of Sorrows.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop No. 81

Last month the Boy Scouts of Troop 81 did much more than they did a year ago as good turns—in fact their activities were about four times as great this Christmas. A year ago the troop prepared a Christmas basket for one family. This Christmas each patrol prepared a Christmas basket and took it to a needy family; and one patrol, the Beavers, even helped two families with Christmas baskets. In addition, several scouts from the troop went to Edgerton Park on December 22 and 23 to join hundreds of others in loading Christmas baskets on trucks there.

Each of the scouts received a 1933 diary as a Christmas present from the assistant scoutmasters and scoutmaster. The scouts gave their scoutmaster a large handsome pair of "Rin-Tin-Tin" book ends.

"GOOD LUCK" DANCE ON FRIDAY, JANUARY 13

The Young People's Fellowship of the Church of the Ascension announce their annual "Good Luck" dance to be held Friday, January 13, at the Church of the Ascension Auditorium located at Lake avenue and Riverside street. The Y. P. F. are featuring the Penn-Men, a John Marshall High organization which will furnish the music.

Organization Meeting Of P. T. A. January 12

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association, being formed at Warrant Castleman School No. 40, will be held at the school next Thursday, January 12, at 8:00 p. m. Robert H. Black of Ridgewood School will be the speaker, his topic being "Why the children need Dad in their education."

All parents, both mothers and fathers, as well as friends of the school are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

The following committees are in charge: program, Mrs. Edwin Marks and Mrs. Elmer Corp; social, Mrs. Frank Colgan, Mrs. Newton Hawley, Mrs. Milton Filius and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ames; membership, Mrs. George Tagg, Mrs. Sylvester Spain, Mrs. Edward Moore and Curtis Davis; publicity, Mrs. Walter B. Sizer; community, Mrs. Raymond Hyland, Mrs. Leonard Anderson, Mrs. Curtis Davis, Edward Moore and John Newton.

Mrs. Carrie Quicke of Selye terrace is spending several weeks with her brother and his family at Sandia, Texas.

Miss Coit to Address No. 41 Parent-Teachers

The regular meeting of No. 41 P. T. A. will be held in Room 204 next Thursday, January 12, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Frederick Coit will be the speaker. Her subject is "Creative Music for Children."

Following the meeting tea will be served by a committee including Mrs. Harry Faber, chairman, Mrs. Arthur Lohwater, Mrs. Charles Caruana, Mrs. Lester Brown, Mrs. Earl Paine, Mrs. Joseph Sharpe.

The Child Study Group meets January 19 at two p. m. Mrs. Justin Hickey, leader, will have as subject: "Fundamental Habits of Childhood." This group is giving special attention to children of preschool and kindergarten age. All parents interested are invited.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR CHARITY SMOKER OF REPUBLICANS MON.

A de luxe combination of vaudeville, boxing and wrestling entertainment will be served at the first annual charity smoker of the Young Men's Republican Club next Monday evening, January 9, in Edgerton Park Assembly Hall. The curtain will rise at eight o'clock.

The program as announced yesterday is not entirely complete, but the presentations already booked indicate the calibre of the show. Roy Miller will be master of ceremonies and will introduce the Headliners from the College Inn; Mildred Dworkin and Lois Buckley, dancers; Farmerettes, xylophone and accordion players; colored singers and dancers; and Willie Gillette, dancer. There will be seven acts of vaudeville.

Joe Denise, newly crowned lightweight champion of Rochester, will be one of the featured boxers. He will stack up against an opponent yet to be selected, but promised as "plenty of opposition." Another fight will be between Eddie Clark and Red Clelland. In addition there will be three other bouts still in process of negotiation. Gomar Steljes, former scholastic champion and star of the Mechanics Institute team, will wrestle an opponent to be announced at the ring-side.

The young men have been working night and day to make a success of this, their first venture as a Tenth Ward organization. They are looking for an attendance of about 2,000, according to Leo Gunn, president of the club.

Robert Clifford, Jr., is general chairman, assisted by the following: entertainment—Louis Lucia and Harry Preston; floor—Robert Flynn, John Benson and Herndon Osborne; checking—Leslie Bauman, Joseph Bush and Ray White.

Program—E. Bryan and Charles Marron; tickets—Floyd Green, Tom Reddy, Renold Grometz and Donald Hyland; publicity—Roy S. Clark.

Tickets may be obtained from members or at the door.

Ascension (Episcopal)—Services for Sunday January 8: 8:00 a. m., Holy Communion; 11:00 a. m., morning prayer and sermon; 9:45 a. m., Church School; 6:30 p. m., Young People's Fellowship.

The first annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Rochester will be held at the church Wednesday, January 11. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 9:00 a. m. with the Rt. Rev. David Lincoln Ferris, D. D., Bishop of the diocese, officiating. Business meeting at 10:00 a. m. Noon-day prayers will be led by Miss Brent. Luncheon at 12:30. The meeting will reconvene at 1:45 p. m. Guest speakers are Mr. and Mrs. Harper Sibley. Pictures will be shown of Mr. and Mrs. Sibley's recent missionary trip to the Orient.

North Presbyterian—At the mid-week meeting last night the theme was "Preparation for the Week of Prayer," to be observed in North Church January 8-15.

The guest speaker for the Week of Prayer in North Church will be J. E. Hartzler, Ph. D., of Bluffton, Ohio. During the past year Dr. Hartzler has served the American University of Beirut, Syria, as visiting professor of philosophy and religion.

Theme for the week is "A Gospel for an Age of Transition." The services open Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, followed by sessions each evening during the week from Monday through Friday at 7:30 o'clock. The Week of Prayer comes to a close on Sunday, January 15, at 11 a. m.

The Young People's Sunday Evening Group invite all the young people of the church to a Twelfth Night Party, to be held tomorrow evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Davison, 128 Selye terrace. Besides games and refreshments, the traditional observance of Twelfth Night, the burning of Christmas greens, will be included in the festivities, which will be presided over by a king and queen to be chosen by lot. The committee making plans for the party include Miss Dorothy Rhodes, Robert King and John Swain.

Next Monday at 6:30 p. m., the Glenwood Circle, the Erie Circle and the Rouse Class will hold a demonstration supper. This is arranged by these organizations in co-operation with the Week of Prayer.

There will be an all-day meeting of the Women's Society Thursday, January 19.

On Tuesday, January 31, the Orpheus Club will give a concert in North Church under the auspices of the Sunday School. The tickets are 25 cents and may be purchased after January 15, from any member of the Sunday School Council. Miss Margaret Huck is superintendent of the school.

On Thursday, February 2, the Young People's Sunday Evening Group of North Church, will entertain the young people from churches in the Northern Zone of Rochester Presbytery, at the regular meeting of this section of the Presbyterian Young People's League.

Redeemer Lutheran—"The Epiphany Call to Worship" will be the theme of the sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. W. L. Dowler. The sermon text will be the 122nd Psalm which sets forth our love for the church, including also a perception of the glories of the church, prayer for her welfare, and work for her good. The chorus choir will sing, "O Come, Let Us Worship" by Mendelssohn.

The Sunday School will meet at 9:45 in the church auditorium for a special service in connection with the awarding of "Cross and Crown" pins to those who have been present fifty or more Sundays during the past year. A goodly number of scholars have again been present every Sunday and will receive their pins and certificates from the superintendent, Alvin H. Frickey.

Tonight at eight o'clock the Bethany Guild holds its regular monthly meeting when the annual reports will be presented and officers will be elected for the new year. The Church Council will also hold its regular monthly meeting this evening.

The annual congregational meeting will be held Friday evening,

LITTLE DROPS OF INK

THE problem of every business man today is very much one of overhead. "Keep expenses down" is the natural motto, and far be it from us to dispute the wisdom of making every penny do a good day's work. Nearly everyone's investment is as great as it ever was, but of course lower profit and smaller volume means less return on the investment.

Advertising appropriations, well-spent, are among the few investments today that show profitable returns. Advertising protects and enhances the capital investment of retail business. We know that advertising must accept its "cut" the same as other departments; but eliminate advertising? No!

During years like the present ones, the row of advertising is rather difficult to hoe. Prospective customers are more elusive and harder to find. The Courier, of course, knows its place in the scheme of things and is not prone to idle boasting; yet the fact remains that local business men have found this newspaper a productive medium and a good investment even in these times of repressed business.

STUDIO GOSSIP
By Howard Bloomfield
Up at WHEC they held their annual Santa Claus party. Aunt Jennie baked a swell cake and a good time was had by all.

Yours truly received the following telegram from Jack (Canada Dry) Benny, "Mary and I have good news for you. We saw prosperity poking its nose around the corner to smell beer—says we with a straight face, so help us—Merry Xmas. Mary Livingston and Jack Benny."

Andre Baruch, Columbia announcer, has found that some listeners have difficulty understanding his name. He wonders what would happen if he attached his full monicker to the end of every program. It goes like this: Andre Bernard Marcel Baruch de la Pardo.

Fred Allen of Bath Club fame, writes his own material; takes radio seriously; was born in Boston; plays handball daily at local gym; and would rather spend the evening at home with Shakespeare than go to the theater.

The harmony of those CBS Wandering Minstrels extends even to their private lives. When Les Reis came down with a bad case of influenza, Artie Dunn kept in tune by catching the grippe. They are back on the job now and are preparing to play return engagements over the entire Loew's metropolitan circuit. This will mark the first time a radio act has been booked over a chain of theaters for the second time within four months.

Telegram from Kate the day before Christmas, "Grand out here in California but give me a snowy Christmas any old time. Love to all my pals at WHEC—I'll be seein' you."
Kate Smith."

Morton Downey, CBS high tenor, is currently engaged in the three-fold activities of broadcasting, vaudeville and night-club appearances. The latter are at the Central Park Casino, whence Eddie Duchin's Orchestra broadcasts over Columbia. This is a return engagement for Downey.

William O'Neal, CBS tenor, who soon will open a new series of half-hour programs with Col. Stoopnagle and Budd, enjoyed his trip to Sing Sing the other day. "I hope I can get out as easily the next time," he said, as he left the warden's office. They were there to entertain the prisoners.

Fred Allen's Bath Club program out-pulls everything else on the Columbia network Sundays . . . able to seat only 100 at the broadcast they get over 2,000 requests a week! Here in our own town we seat between 2,000 and 3,000 every week to watch the T. S. Q. Talkies at Columbia Auditorium. We're not so far behind!!

Bits of News

Next Monday night should be a banner occasion for nearly everyone in the ward, Republicans and Democrats alike. The G. O. P. will have an event worthy of attendance in the charity smoker at Edgerton Park and the Democrats quite appropriately can throw out their chests and strut around the Powers in their Victory Ball. . . . Incidentally it is quite interesting to note the prominent part being taken in both affairs by the younger blood of the two major political parties. The young men are running the whole show for the Republicans and the committee for the Democratic party is filled largely with young men from the Jeffersonian Club. . . . It should be quite pleasing to everyone to see the younger voters taking a more active interest in politics; they need such training as is bound to come to them if they take their organizations seriously.

This is advertising, pure and simple, but we can't help suggesting that Marie Dressler and her producers made quite a slip. In her current picture "Prosperity," at the Riviera (adv.) funny old Marie says, "Who ever heard of strawberries in December?" . . . Well, we are quite wrought up. Someone should send Miss Dressler a quart of the "frozen food" (adv.) strawberries. Surely then she would know that she didn't have to feed her expiring husband radishes and buttermilk when his last request was for strawberries and cream (or was it strawberry shortcake?).

They can talk about left-handed monkey-wrenches, but this is the prize winner. . . . There had been no snow for days; the thermometer registered between 50 and 60; golf bugs had dusted off their clubs and played a round or two; most people had doffed heavy overcoats in favor of topcoats . . . and yet day after day last week in the same place in our favorite city newspaper appeared a prominent notice, "No Skating."

Convinced that Uncle Sam's tariff wall was about as high a barrier as anyone would care to scale, we were surprised to find that an item such as electric bulbs for Christmas tree sets could be shipped here from Japan, get by the customs and still be sold so much cheaper than the American variety. Indeed it is said that the filaments in these Japanese bulbs were made in U. S. A. and shipped across the Pacific. . . . It is rather disconcerting to note what a tremendous difference there really is in standards of living. And, too, sometimes we wonder if the tariff wall isn't rather porous in places.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED
The engagement of Miss Dorothy E. Doud of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to Frederick L. Wellington, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wellington of Clay avenue, was announced December 24 by Miss Doud's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Doud of Malone. Mr. Wellington, who attended West High School was graduated from the University of Rochester in 1925 with an A. B. degree. While in college and for a short time thereafter, he was engaged in newspaper work. Later he became assistant executive in the Rochester office of the Boy Scouts of America. For the past three years, Mr. Wellington has been executive of the Adirondack Council of the Boy Scouts, with headquarters in Saranac Lake and Malone. He resides in Malone. He is a member of the University of Rochester chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon; Keidacans, senior honor society; and Delta Rho, local journalistic fraternity. Miss Doud, attended Simmons College, Boston, Mass., and was graduated from Wheaton College, Illinois, with a B. S. degree in 1927. Since then she has been in the department of instruction in Mount Vernon, and for the last three years served as secretary to the principal of the Edison Vocational High School there.

FLEMING—BASTIAN
The marriage of Miss Lillian G. Bastian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theron E. Bastian of Maplewood Park boulevard and Skiffington R. Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fleming of Mason street took place Monday afternoon at the Pinnacle road residence of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. Arthur O. Sykes. A reception for relatives and a few intimate friends followed at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Bastian of East avenue, Brighton. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming will make their home in Cole road.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING OBSERVED
Mr. and Mrs. William Volz, No. 402 Driving Park avenue, marked their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday at a special service at St. Paul's Evangelical Church in Norton street. Mr. Volz is a charter member of the congregation.

Milk for Breakfast
If your milkman doesn't arrive before breakfast, oftentimes a real problem is created. No cream for the coffee, no milk for the cereal. . . . well anyone can complete the picture. MRS. JOAN SCHILD IS RE-ELECTED CHAIRMAN

The Women's Democratic Club of the ward held its annual election of officers Tues. night at the headquarters on Driving Park avenue. Mrs. Joan Lynn Schild who has been president since the organization of the club five years ago, was re-elected. Other officers are, vice-president, Mrs. Luella Emerson; secretary, Mrs. Mary Sharp; historian, Mrs. Louise Robinson.

Standing committees were also chosen as follows, membership, Mrs. Marie Stiffler, Mrs. Mary Aldrich, Mrs. Ruth Murphy, Mrs. Helen Hyland, Mrs. Clara Stiffler, Mrs. Mary Hughes, Mrs. Celia Beck and Mrs. Bessie Cowells.

Hostess committee—Mrs. Louise Robinson, Mrs. Rose Dorsey, Mrs. Teresa Osborne, Mrs. Ida Bourgeois, Mrs. Elizabeth Scheuch, Mrs. Caroline Moran and Mrs. Katherine Hanna. Nominating committee—Mrs. Rosetta Lewis, chairman, Mrs. Mary Sharp and Susie Jeffery.

Final reports given on the party held at Powers Hotel January 9, sponsored by all Democratic clubs of the ward, showed a surplus which exceeded all expectations. The profits will be applied for rent of the headquarters.

Regular meetings of the club for the current year will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of every month, a business meeting and a card party to be held on alternate dates. The next meeting will be February 7 at the headquarters.

LAKEVIEW SCHOOL 7

The 6A grade will visit the Rochester Savings Bank Tuesday afternoon. This invitation is extended to any class in the city which has a 100 per cent. banking day.

Miss Danily's class is finding out how building materials are obtained and prepared for use. They are comparing the present type of home with that used by people of earlier days.

Miss Desmond's class is on their way to Italy. They are studying the customs of the people of the various European countries enroute.

The Mothers' Study Group of the school had an interesting meeting last Tuesday afternoon. "Satisfying Brother and Sister Relationships," was the topic discussed. Mrs. Rose Phillips was the leader.

Democratic Veterans' Dance Well-Attended

The newly organized Tenth Ward Veterans' Democratic Club held its first affair last night in the form of a dance at Edgerton Park Assembly Hall. It was estimated that more than 500 were in attendance.

David Weber, president of the club, thanked the Iroquois Democratic Club and Monroe County Veterans' Democratic Club for their cooperation. The veterans meet in the Democratic headquarters in the Liberty Building on Driving Park ave-

Dinner, Bowling Party Planned for To-night

A turkey dinner and bowling party tonight at the Eagle's Club will conclude the activities of the Dewey Avenue Business Men's Association. All members of the association, which was formed about four years ago, have been invited to attend.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Because of the fact that several scouts of Troop 81 are taking a Red Cross Life Saving Course on Saturday nights, and the course will not be finished before January 28, when the next Father-and-Son Overnight Trip was planned, it has become necessary to postpone the overnight trip indefinitely. However, the troop will have a hike on January 28 during the day.

A few days ago part of the troop visited the Rochester plant of the Beechnut Packing Company. At a recent Patrol Leaders' meeting it was decided to make the prize for the patrol which wins the inter-patrol contest a patrol flag and a graduated staff for each scout. At the last meeting the Beaver Patrol was in the lead, with the Flying Eagles a close second.

Bits of News

When a dog bites a man, that's not news; but when a man bites a dog, that is news. And when a Republican, or rather a couple of good Republicans, walk in on a strictly Democratic affair, that too is news. Anyone who read the local dailies last week can have no doubt as to that point. Certainly "Clip" Bostwick and "Doc" Guzzetta should view with alarm the widespread publicity accorded them as a result of their foray on January 9 into the midst of the Tenth Ward Democrats celebrating their recent victory at the polls; whether their visit to the Powers was intentional or otherwise, they may rest assured that one thousand and one motives have already been deduced. "Clip" and "Doc" maintain that they were hungry; didn't know the Democrats even had anything to celebrate about, much less that they were having a big party at the Powers; and that therefore there was nothing unusual about their sauntering into the hotel cafeteria for a bite to eat.

Mrs. Joan Lynn Schild, who greeted the two illustrious Republicans on behalf of the Democrats, assured them that they were most welcome, according to newspaper reports, but even this hearty treatment failed to lure them into spending the evening as guests of honor.

Incidentally that party and its evident success was probably the most satisfying event in the life of Executive Committee man Thomas Moran. He spent more time working on the affair and sold more tickets than anyone else and the record crowd that attended was a source of pleasure to him that never has and probably never will be exceeded.

A Tenth Warden would like to know who the sneak-thief was who stole eight bottles of beer out of his milk-box one night last week. Or if it was a friend, he'd like the bottles back. The victim was entertaining some friends that night and the crowning event was to be opening of the bottles. Quite naturally coffee was not the best substitute and the Tenth Warden is not exactly sure that his guests believed him.

The J. A. O. Bridge Club was entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. R. Keefer of Dewey avenue. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. Bush and Miss Iola Tanney. The next hostess will be Mrs. J. Torruella of Lakeview park.

RIVIERA FEATURE REVIEW

Weed-end Program
Tonight—"Men Are Such Fools" with Leo Carillo and Vivienne Osborne; and "Night After Night" with George Raft and Constance Cummings.

Fri.-Sat.—"That's My Boy" with Richard Cromwell and Dorothy Jordan, and "The Conquerors" with Ann Harding and Richard Dix.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues.—"Rockabye" with Constance Bennett, Joel McRea and Paul Lukas, and "Okay America" with Lew Ayres and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review
A gamin of the streets raised to high prestige as an actress of sophisticated drawing room comedies under the tutelage of a manager who adored her; then a scandal that smeared her fame with notoriety! But under all the glamor, romance, publicity and hullabaloo—beneath her tempers and smiles—despite her morals and quarrels—she was just a woman who loved children and yearned for a true lover.

This fascinating character is Judy Carroll, heroine of "Rockabye" starring Constance Bennett and featuring Joel McRea and Paul Lukas.

It is small wonder that Constance Bennett had a consuming desire to play "Rockabye." Rich in emotion, temperament and human desires, it is the sort of characterization every dramatic actress prays for and finds so seldom. By such roles talent is measured, and Miss Bennett anticipates showing to her admirers a new power and glamor, a new dramatic stature! The story shows how Judy, frustrated because of scandal in her desire to adopt a child, finds at last a great love and then is driven, by her very love for children, to make the supreme sacrifice.

Not only morsels of scandal, but tragedy and sudden death are incidents in the life of a New York columnist, as shown in "Okay America," with Lew Ayres in the starring role.

Re-elect Officers of Lake and Ridge Ass'n

Lake-Ridge Business Men's Association held its annual election of officers on January 5, re-electing the same slate as in 1932. These are: president, John Frear; vice-president, Frank Short; secretary, Freeman L. Clark; treasurer, Clarence Marsh. A motion to reduce the annual dues was adopted.

The association is planning a pancake supper and dance to be held in the near future. As soon as the date and place have been decided definitely tickets will be on sale. The committee in charge is headed by Charles P. Coster and includes I. B. Levin and Harvey Johnson.

New P. T. A. Meets for First Time at No. 40

The Parent Teachers' Association of John Warrant Castleman School No. 40 held their first evening meeting last Thursday in the school auditorium. Dr. S. Gutelius gave the invocation and Robert Black of Ridgewood School talked on "Why the Child Needs Dad in His Education."

Mrs. Marie Keber Burbank sang a group of songs and Mr. Lyders, vocal teacher of John Marshall High, led the community singing. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Parent-Teachers Plan To Entertain Pupils

The P. T. A. of Kodak Park School will be hostesses to the January graduating class, Thursday, January 26. Supper will follow the exercises and after supper the class will be entertained by their teachers, dancing being part of the program.

Mrs. Arthur Peck is chairman of the supper committee. She will be assisted by Mrs. Arthur Lohwater, Mrs. Philip Rodgers, Mrs. Harry Faber, Mrs. James Logan, Mrs. Clarence Penley, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. Howard Betts, Mrs. Leslie McCowan, Mrs. William Lerch, Mrs. William Olin, Mrs. George Allen and Mrs. Howard Saffard.

A card party is to be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Doe tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at two o'clock. Cootie will also be played.

A pivot card party will be held in the Lower Tenth Ward Republican Club rooms Wednesday, January 25, at 8:00 p. m. Mrs. Leslie McCowan is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Penley. Mrs. Arthur Lohwater has charge of the tickets. Proceeds from the card parties are to go toward the budget of the P. T. A.

An experience social is in progress. Those wishing to take part will please call Mrs. Harry Faber, chairman, Glen. 6850-J.

Sacred Heart Ladies To Have Rummage Sale

The ladies of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Flower City park, will hold a rummage sale at 284 State street this week on Friday and Saturday for the benefit of the unemployed of their parish. A visit to the store will show many worthwhile bargains, according to the committee in charge.

Saturday Night Dances At Lake Ave. Ballroom

A series of Saturday night dances will open this week at the Lake Theatre Ballroom in Lake avenue and continue each Saturday thereafter. Dancing will start Saturday night at nine and continue until 12, admission being 25 cents. The Penn Men, six-piece orchestra, will furnish the music at the dances.

DR. GUZZETTA TO HEAD COMMITTEE FOR SMOKER

Republicans of the ward are already turning their attention to the tenth annual smoker of their club, one of the banner events on the year's program. It was announced this week that Dr. Joseph L. Guzzetta, Councilman-at-large, will be chairman of the committee in charge.

As customary during the past few years, the smoker will be held on St. Patrick's Day, Friday, March 17. The usual place, Edgerton Park Assembly Hall, will be the scene of the affair. Further details will be announced at the meeting tomorrow night in the Lower 10th Ward club-rooms, when tickets will be ready for distribution.

Good Program Features Young Republican Affair

A program full of entertainment and action from beginning to end featured the first annual smoker of the Young Men's Republican Club last week at Edgerton Park Assembly Hall. Wrestling, boxing and vaudeville made up the program.

There were six acts of vaudeville introduced by LeRoy Miller. Five boxing bouts and a wrestling match were refereed by Mike Conroy. Councilman Nelson A. Milne was honorary chairman and Robert Clifford, Jr., general chairman.

LAKE VIEW UNIT

Lakeview Unit met at the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church January 11 for all day sewing for the Red Cross.

Uses of apples in every meal were given by Mrs. W. L. Skinner and Mrs. Herbert Tucker at yesterday's meeting.

Next Wednesday, January 25, at 1:30 p. m. canned and dried fruits will be discussed by Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Tucker.

Church News

Lewiston M. E.—The third week of the new year finds a more varied program than in the past two weeks.

On Sunday Rev. Kazmayer will speak on the "Service and the Savior," third in the series of four sermons on "The Four Great Messages of the Master."

The Epworth League met at 6:30. First of a series of studies on "Christ In the World Today," illustrated by slides from Japan. Next Sunday the Rev. Kikutu of Japan will be the speaker at the league service. Dr. Charles W. Inglehart of New York and Japan was the speaker at the evening service last Sunday.

Play rehearsal was held Monday under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Penley. This is planned to be presented some time in February.

The Missionary Society will hold their meeting tonight at the home of Miss Hazel Rogers, 93 Avis street, at eight o'clock. Mrs. Aeschleman, a missionary from China will be the speaker.

The Girls' Class under the direction of Mrs. Parkhouse will hold a Mothers' and Daughters' Supper at the church tomorrow. Following the supper a candle light installation of new officers will be held.

Monday, January 23, the Baybutt Bible Class will hold a supper at the church at 6:30. All members of the class are urged to attend.

Grace M. E.—Next Sunday morning Dr. Clarkson will speak on "How can I know that Christ helps." The quartet will sing several musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. Dorothea Roscoe, organist.

Flower City Chapter of the Ladies' Aid Society, with Mrs. Gleason and Mrs. Towner in charge, will be entertained at the parsonage with Mrs. S. J. Clarkson, 58 Mason St.

Tomorrow (Friday) evening the Fellowship Class will hold its January meeting in the church parlor. Following is the list of new officers for the ensuing year: president—Lester Barager, vice-president—Chester Fitch, secretary-treasurer—Hazel Swartz. A. D. Bessey is teacher.

Friday evening, January 27, at the church, Boy Scout Troop No. 27 will present an evening of entertainment of movies and music given by the Grace Methodist Church Choir. Tickets 25 cents.

The girl scouts are taking up some new hand craft including boondoggles, cord belts, chip signs and boondoggle belts. The following girls have passed their tenderfoot tests: Eleanor Denford, Ruth Naramore, Virginia Lennon, Edith Hennig and Margaret Stewart.

Dewey Reformed—Both the morning and evening services on Sunday, January 15, were in charge of the "Gospel Team" of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

On Sunday evening, January 22, a musical service will be held at 7:30 o'clock. The choir will offer anthems and there will be congregational singing. The mixed quartet composed of Miss Edith Reike, Miss Evelyn Robjohns, Edward Marlowe and Herbert Loffer, will also sing at this service.

Sunday evening, January 29, there will be an evening communion service. The Rev. F. H. Diehn of the Immanuel Reformed Church will assist with this service. Everyone is invited to attend.

CANARY HYGIENE

(By Mrs. H. L. Banks, 156 Clay Avenue, Breeder of Pedigreed Water Gluck Canaries.)

Some "Don'ts" To Remember

Don't hang your bird too close to a window.

Don't hang your bird over a radiator or in front of a furnace register.

Don't hang your bird in front of a mirror; he will think it is another bird and spend most of his time watching himself in said mirror instead of singing.

Don't hang your bird too high; no higher than your head; the air is poor too high up.

Don't hang your bird in front of an open window, or in a draft—even the draft from a stairway is deadly for him. A protected corner is best and safest for him, and don't keep changing him from room to room. They do not stand changes of temperature any too well.

Don't hang your bird out of doors. The weather is apt to change, a wind come up, etc., and the bird forgotten.

Don't leave him in a hot, sunny window in summer without a shaded corner in his cage for him to get into if he gets too warm.

Don't feed your bird old, dried-up seed. Many of the package

HOLY ROSARY DOINGS

Activities at Holy Rosary are many and varied these days, the following being the highlights of a busy calendar of events.

Branch 545 of the L. C. B. A. held its installation banquet last week Wednesday in the parish hall. The new officers for the year inducted into office were: past-president, Mrs. Mary Ball; president, Mrs. Esther Downs; first vice-president, Mrs. Margaret McCarthy; second vice-president, Mrs. Mary Ball; recording secretary, Mrs. Laura Skinner; assistant recording secretary, Miss Helen Skinner; financial secretary, Mrs. Irene Jost; treasurer, Mrs. Amelia Scramton; marshal, Mrs. Theresa Carbone; guard, Miss Elizabeth Schumehl. Rev. Walter A. Foery is spiritual adviser.

Ladies' Sodality attended seven o'clock mass in a group last Sunday morning, and following service had communion breakfast together. Al Sigl was guest speaker and Norman O'Brien attended as the representative of the Holy Name Society.

The Social Committee of the Sodality is planning for a social to be held at the school hall Wednesday evening, January 25. Miss Marion Meyers is chairman, assisted by Miss Alice Donoghue. Sub-committees are: orchestra—Miss Eileen Burns assisted by Miss Catherine Tierney; tickets—Miss Mary Meagher assisted by Misses Dorothy Behan, Mary Coughlin, Dorothy Kolman, Jean McSherry, Adelaide Shannon, Ethel Kraus, Jean Mallory, Kathleen Shannon and Mary Winkler; decorations—Miss Leonor McMaster assisted by Misses Mildred McMaster, Alice Harris, Marie McMaster and Louise Harris; publicity—Miss Doris Clark assisted by Misses Marjorie Millington, Mary Murphy, Helen Greinke and Lucy Clark.

The Holy Name Society meeting Monday night drew a record crowd of over 325 men. It was an enthusiastic meeting and speakers, entertainment and refreshments were much appreciated. Ray Akins, as usual, supplied good coffee.

Members of the choir, ushers and trustees will attend the banquet tonight at the Columbus Civic Centre.

Magnificent Rio

A Street Vendor of Rio.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)
(WNU Service.)

RIO DE JANEIRO, which recently has been disturbed by political strife involving several Brazilian states, basks on the golden sands almost astride the Tropics of Capricorn.

To enter this great world port you walk down the gangplank and straight out into a formal garden with a big bronze fountain. This leads off into a Fifth avenue-like boulevard, which in turn flows into a wide, world-famous beach drive, past embassies, clubs, and palms and geometric gardens. Dinky docks, pawn shops, pool halls, quick-and-dirty cafes, cheap rooming houses, runners, dirt, smells—all the trash and clatter of many other water fronts are missing here.

Out in the bay, the startling profiles of singular peaks rise in their bulk like elephants sitting in grotesque pose. They include the much-photographed Sugar Loaf, the oddly-shaped Corcovado, or Hunchback.

Rising fully 1,200 feet and almost straight out of the sea, Sugar Loaf is easily Rio's outstanding landmark. Incoming air pilots, if half lost in fog or rain, hail its familiar outlines with grunts of relief. In a queer aerial trolley—a dizzy trip which is a supreme triumph for the nervous—you can reach its top in two laps. The first stage carries you to the top of Urca; there, if still conscious, you ride on up to the crest of Sugar Loaf for a balloon-like view of the bay and city.

Look at this spectacular city from Sugar Loaf, Hunchback, or any high angle, and you see how smoothly in mass, form, and color it harmonizes with the shape and shades of its terrestrial environment.

You observe that it is cohesive, one work of art; yet it is not a solid city, with a checkerboard pattern of blocks and squares squeezed into rigid "city limits," like Leipzig or Indianapolis.

Something easy, loose, and fluent in its multicolored distribution makes you feel that Rio is simply flowing down the mountains about it in graceful architectural streams, then coming to rest in quiet valleys and on sandy beaches.

Seen From the Air.

Fly over it and its marvels only multiply; it has so many parts, sections, and suburbs; and in its pattern, from the sky, it looks like a great paint-spotted easel of blue water, yellow sand, green trees, red roofs, pink and blue walls. Think of all these colored parts turning round and round like the odd-formed bits of colored glass in an old-fashioned kaleidoscope. Then you can imagine exactly how Rio looks from an airplane that banks and turns, a mile above it, on a bright, clear day.

Back to earth, on the famous Avenida Rio Branco, the Unter den Linden or Fifth avenue of Rio de Janeiro, you meet the city at its best; also, familiar big-town signs, sounds, and smells make you feel normal here and much at home.

New York papers, any popular North American magazine, chewing gum from Chicago, your own favorite brand of safety razor, cigarettes, fountain pen, writing or talking machine, sport roadster, icebox, or onboard motor boat—all are here, with their familiar show-window placards that greet you on Main street anywhere from Syracuse to Seattle. Likewise, radio sets, crooning to crowds the latest Broadway "hits"; displays of North American cameras; enlarged snaps of local bathing beauties having Brazilian "it"; groups of soccer players; the dark horse that paid 20 to 1 at last Sunday's races and his popular jockey, pictured peeping through a big horseshoe of flowers.

And Rio, window-shopping here, looks in on Paris perfumes, soaps, chapeaux, gowns and lingerie; German etchings, water colors, oils, and shelves of drugs and surgical instruments and hardware; English rackets, balls, cricket sets, saddles, socks, hats, and pipes; and, most significant of all, the steady march of Brazil's own manufacturing, revealed in huge stocks of textiles, leather, shirts, clothing, dishes, dry-goods, toys, shoes, and packaged food—all "made in Brazil!"

This wide, resplendent avenue, one and an eighth miles long, lined with beautiful trees, and piercing the city from the Belra Mar to the piers, was boldly opened only two decades ago in the ambitious plan for a better city. To cut it through, nearly 600 buildings were razed.

One of its startling aspects is its sidewalk, made up of small stones of different colors, laid in zigzags, in waves and in other dizzy patterns.

Interesting Street Crowds.

But it is the people who interest you most, especially the crowds who promenade late in the afternoon. Coffee shops, cafes and tea rooms line the Avenida Rio Branco, many with wide colored awnings that reach out over the pavement. Flocks of tables are set out here in the open air, so that patrons may sip drinks, smoke, and watch the well-dressed, handsome women who stroll by to be admired. This is a custom of the country. It is perfectly correct to cast admiring glances, and the women do not resent it. In fact they expect it. And, on fine evenings, the passing show is not unlike a parade of mannequins displaying the latest styles in feminine garb at a New York fashion show.

Although prohibition is unknown in Brazil, very few seem to dally much with the cup that cheers. Cosmopolitan seaport though it is, Rio is a most orderly and abstemious place. But it drinks coffee to excess.

What we call lunch is breakfast in Rio. After this meal the brokers, bankers, merchants and clerks all flock to their favorite resort to drink coffee. Late in the afternoon they all go again, and perhaps at various other times during the day they drop in for the tiny cup. If they happen to be near a cafe.

Coffee is taken very strong and sweet, as in the Near East. In the cheaper cafes an automatic bowl of granulated sugar is on each table. By means of a trigger, it shoots a man's allowance into his cup at one dash. Often you see men try it first toward the floor, to see if it is working!

By his dress alone you can seldom tell an upper-class Brazilian from a well-groomed European. You seldom see a man without a vest, even on hot days. Derby hats and canes are everywhere; some men carry fans; and bootblacks and barbers could almost claim an "essential occupation" to avoid the draft in wartime!

Here, along the Rio Branco, is the voice of the city. Around these sidewalk cafes you hear town talk, which may be in any one of three or four languages. It is a gossip's free-for-all. And here conversation is an art—as much enjoyed as music. All the lounging coffee drinkers and the groups standing about wave their hands and wobble their heads in Latin-American emphasis, each anxious to make himself heard. Passing by, you hear scraps of talk on every theme, from the coffee crop and the Sao Paulo snake farm to the identity of the pretty girl who just went by in a roadster.

United States Visitors Welcome.

Nowhere, from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn, is the visitor from the United States more welcome than in Rio. Whether he comes as tourist, salesman, scientist, diplomat, artist, student, teacher, resident engineer, merchant, or delegate to an international highway conference, he soon senses that Brazilians hold our country in high esteem.

Four Events Planned by No. 41 Parent-Teachers

Mrs. Robert Rowe will be the speaker at the next meeting of 41 P. T. A. on Thursday, February 9, at 2:30 p. m., in room 204. Her topic will be "Founder's Day."

Mrs. Jarvis Robertson, president of the Central Council Parent Teachers' Association, will be present and will extend a word of greeting to all present, especially new members.

A Valentine party will be given by the association, Tuesday, February 14, in the afternoon, from 4 to 6, for children of the fifth and lower grades. The evening program for older children and adults will begin at 7:30 and end at 11. The afternoon entertainment will include games under the direction of Gene Wojnoski. The evening will include vaudeville, booths and dancing. Admission will include all entertainment and dancing. Refreshments will be on sale.

Mrs. Merton Frederick has charge of the tickets and will be assisted by Mrs. Philip Rodgers and Mrs. Arthur Lohwater. Candy will be in charge of Mrs. Floyd Owen, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Raysor, Mrs. Charles Hyland, Mrs. Howard Safford and Mrs. Arthur Randtke. Mrs. Harry Faber is general chairman of the booths, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Lee, Mrs. Howard Betts and Mrs. William Baker. Mrs. Robert Marran will be in charge of Cupid's Lake, assisted by Mrs. Leonard Smart, Mrs. Alfred Walker, Mrs. Charles Weylman and Mrs. Fred Daley. Love's Prophet will be in charge of Mrs. Milton Whitlock; Chamber of Horrors will be in charge of Mr. Wojnoski. Mrs. Clarence Penley is in charge of the vaudeville, assisted by Mrs. James Logan and Mrs. Leslie McCowan. Music for dancing is in charge of Mrs. Charles Pocke.

The grade selling most tickets for the Valentine party will be given a St. Patrick's Day party. A sauerkraut supper will be served at 6 p. m. for those who stay for the evening. Reservations should be made with Mrs. William Olin, chairman, by Saturday, February 11.

A waist measure social will be given by Mrs. Arthur Lohwater at her home, 27 Dorothy avenue, Thursday evening, February 2, at 8 o'clock. This is her contribution to the experience social which will close at the next meeting. Cards and other games will be played. All interested are invited.

Friday, February 3, at 2 p. m., a card party will be held by the association at the home of Mrs. John Allen, 175 Rand street. Pinochle and bridge will be played.

Orpheus Male Chorus to Feature Lincoln Program

The Orpheus Male Chorus of thirty voices under the direction of Lewis J. Marsh, director of music in Charlotte High School, will present a program of special music Sunday evening, February 12, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The public is invited.

A brief address will be given by the Rev. W. L. Dowler in commemoration of Lincoln's Birthday on the subject, "The Greatness of Abraham Lincoln." The service is being sponsored by the Brotherhood Bible Class of which Alfred Doe is the president.

Stillman's Opening at New Location on Dewey

With all moving completed, Stillman's, men and boys' wear store, is ready for its formal opening tomorrow (Friday) at its new store, 831 Dewey avenue. They moved this week from 1514 Dewey avenue.

Stillman's have been doing business on Dewey avenue for a period of a little more than two years. They have always carried a line of nationally advertised merchandise, which they will continue to feature at the new store.

LAKE VIEW UNIT

Lake View Unit had an all-day meeting project yesterday on quilt patterns. Leaders were Mrs. A. A. Lourette and Mrs. G. F. Goehringer. Quilts were exhibited by members. The ladies also did some sewing on children's clothing for community service under the guidance of Mrs. Margaret Knickerbocker.

Quilts will again be the project next Wednesday, lead by Mrs. A. A. Lourette and Mrs. G. F. Goehringer. This will be an all-day meeting. Business meeting and unfinished work will occupy the attention of the members on February 15.

RIVIERA FEATURE REVIEW

Week-end Program

Today—"Me and My Gal" with Spencer Tracy and Joan Bennett; and "Forbidden Company" with Sally Blane.

Fri.-Sat.—"If I Had a Million" with Gary Cooper, Wynne Gibson and George Raft; and "Secrets of the French Police" with Gwili Andre and Frank Morgan.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues.—"You Said a Mouthful" with Joe E. Brown and Ginger Rogers; and "Goona Goona" (Native Cast).

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Feature

Joe E. Brown does some plain and fancy aquaplane stunts in his latest comedy hit, "You Said a Mouthful." In this he is aided and abetted by Preston S. Foster, both of whom are adepts with the sea planes in which they are hauled over the rough waters of the Pacific, at Catalina Island, at a terrific speed.

Joe playing the part of an artless youth, is induced to step on the board through a misapprehension, but manages to stick on by luck and finally topples into the water through sheer awkwardness. Joe's ungainliness is simulated

Naval Reserve Division Organizes Social Group

A social club was formed January 10 at the N. Y. State Armory by the members of the 9th Fleet Div., U. S. Naval Reserves, to be known as the "9th Div. Social Association."

Its first officers were elected as follows: Norman Hushard, president; C. Schlenker, vice-president; C. Owellen, secretary and treasurer. Its first affair will be held some time in February. Ensign K. Matthews, commander, will act as a member of the advisory board.

for picture purposes, and when he plunges into the water, it is really his skilled diving that makes it appear to be a funny accident.

The story by William B. Dover is filled with uproarious situations in which Joe wins a marathon race although he has never swum before. Many new and novel comedy gags have been injected by Robert Lord and Bolton Mallory who wrote the screen play.

Ginger Rogers, Sheila Terry, Farina, of "Our Gang" comedies, Guinn Williams and Harry Gribbon are among those in the supporting cast. The picture was directed by Lloyd Bacon.

THOMAS REILLY ELECTED REPUBLICAN CLUB HEAD

Young Men's Republican Club of the ward is now meeting at the Lower Club with a new president in the chair as the result of the recent break of some of the young men away from the ward leadership. Thomas Reilly is the new president, succeeding Leo Gunn.

Gunn and Charles Marron make claim to a considerable following and are said to be organizing a political group in opposition to Charles E. Bostwick. The break came over alleged desire of the Lower Club to "dictate" financial policy.

Comparatively little notice is given to the incident by local leaders, because they maintain that the majority of the young men are satisfied with the new arrangement and because they feel that the action taken by them was "founded on sound business principles."

NOTICE—NOTICE—NOTICE

Mass Meeting Tuesday For Independent Men

A mass meeting of all independent merchants in this section of the city has been called for next Tuesday evening by the Civic Defense League. The gathering will take place at 333 Driving Park avenue, over Bauman and Baynes, with William Schalber presiding.

The business men will be addressed by Dr. Galen Starr Ross, educational director of the New York State Civic Defense League. Some of the points he will discuss are: What is to become of your Business? What of the future of the youth of the country? Is the chain system of business going to rule? Is centralized wealth to control our country?

CASTLEMAN SCHOOL 40

Graduating exercises were held at the school Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The following pupils received diplomas:

Virginia Ansell, June Buckley, Jane Corp, Grace Harrison, Jean Marsielje, Frances Martin, Carol McGregor, Florence Radford, Ruth Stillman, Deloris Thorpe.

Arlene Tubeville, Virginia Vossburgh, Helen Wood, Jean Zimmerman, Wesley Kinley, Howard Ludwig, Alvin Lafler, Edward Martin, Walter Treiber, Kirke Van Stone, Irwin Weller.

The transfer of flags took place, Walter Treiber transferring the flag to Richard Brown, standard bearer for the class of June, 1933. Jane Corp, daughter of the flag of the class of January, 1933, transferred the flag to Evelyn Mosher, of the June, 1933 class.

Miss C. Louise Bessunger of 201 Kissingbury street has resigned as kindergarten director of No. 40 School. Miss Bessunger organized the kindergarten when the school was opened in the Britton home on Dewey avenue in 1916, and continued on the school faculty when the new building was opened on La Grange avenue in September, 1926. The best wishes of the parents and the host of children whom she started in school life, provide happy memories.

The faculty, parents and children of No. 40 School are glad to know that Miss Julia Arnott, principal of the school, is convalescing and will return to school in the near future.

ITALIAN WOMEN'S CLUB FORMED BY DEMOCRATS

A new branch of the Tenth Ward Women's Democratic Club was organized January 24 at the Democratic headquarters on Driving Park avenue. Anthony Franco delivered a short address.

The following were elected to office: Mrs. Anthony Rause, president; Mrs. Angelo Matro, vice-president; Mrs. John A. Messura, secretary; Miss Louise Polizzi, treasurer. The publicity committee is composed of Mrs. Louis C.] Battaglia and Miss Susie Yanncone.

Women voters of Italian extraction are invited to join. A name suitable for this branch will be selected at the next meeting. For further information, those interested may communicate with one of the above officers.

Win Bowling Prizes at Business Men's Affair

Feature of the dinner and bowling party held January 19 by the Dewey Avenue Business Men's Association was the doubles tournament. Herbert A. Johnston and Elmer Schubert staged a garrison finish to cop first honors.

Other winners in respective order were: George Bauman and George Ester, F. R. Metzinger and Robert V. Hall, Earl Baynes and John Garnham, James DeVisser and Arthur Henry, D. A. LaMay and Milton Rose, Ralph Eyer and John Schmanke, Mack Lundgard and George Rogers, Carl Ester and Frank Rubadou, Elwood Schulz and Clyde Martin.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PLAN

Church News

Lewiston M. E.—Last Sunday Rev. Kazmayer spoke on the last in the series of sermons, "Service and the Savior." Next Sunday his topic is "Hard Times and Soft Religion." In the evening he will give an interpretation of Moreline's painting, "Repose in Egypt." Everyone attending this service will receive a souvenir copy of this painting. The Epworth League will have an illustrated lecture on "Methodism Serving the U. S. Negro."

Sunday morning, February 12, Rev. Kazmayer will speak on "Depression Dividends" and at the evening service Rev. Ernest E. Davis of the West Avenue M. E. Church will be the guest speaker. The Epworth League will have as their guest speaker a youthful colored preacher of North Carolina, Rev. E. R. Salter.

A souerkrout dinner was held last night at the church by the Ladies' Aid.

Mid-week prayer meeting was held last night at 7:30, continuing on the series of topics "Faith Today." Next week will be the last of this series.

The Ladies' Aid will meet today at the home of Mrs. Richard Baybutt, 86 Goodwill street. All ladies of the church are invited.

The regular Teachers' Training Class will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Lynn McMichael, 1905 Dewey avenue, under the direction of Rev. Kazmayer.

Movies will be shown tomorrow at the church for the benefit of the Sunday School.

Sunday School Board will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Barrett.

Redeemer Lutheran—The Transfiguration of Our Lord will be celebrated Sunday morning in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer with the pastor, the Rev. W. L. Dowler, speaking on the subject, "Are you Radiant with the Beauty of Jesus?"

The Bethany Guild meets tonight at 8 o'clock for the monthly meeting in charge of the president, Mrs. W. J. Ohlrich. Plans are being completed for an old fashioned Valentine Party to be held in the parish house Tuesday evening, February 14. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Close, Mrs. Doe, Mrs. Dowler, Mrs. Dutton, Mrs. DeVisser, Mrs. Danielson, Mrs. End and Mrs. Estes. The tickets of admission are 25 cents, which includes refreshments.

The Church Council will hold its reorganization meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the parish house, when the new officers for 1933 will be elected. The retiring members are George Eyer and Carl Knitt who, having served for six consecutive years, are not eligible to re-election until after the lapse of one year. The newly-elected members are Paul H. Dutton, John F. Sanders, Lynn C. Conover, Leo Klafehn and Algott Anderson.

The Luther League will hold its next devotional meeting Sunday evening, February 12, at 6:30 o'clock, with Dorothy Karweick and Leonard Miller in charge. The social meeting will be held on February 16 when the members of the Christ Lutheran Church League will be guests. The committee in charge consists of the executive committee, Leonard Hammer, Paul Lange, Helen Woehr and Einar Anderson, assisted by Marion Low, Winnie Smith and Landis Wyant.

The young people of the choir and the Luther League are planning a musical entertainment, "The New Minister," to be given in Ascension Parish Hall Thursday and Friday evenings, February 23 and 24. The entertainment will be followed both evenings by social dancing with music by the Penn Men's Orchestra. Tickets for both entertainment and dancing are 25 cents.

The cast of the leading characters consists of Lloyd Smith, who takes the part of "The New Minister"; June Knitt is Daisy Lovejoy, the new school teacher, who is finally persuaded to become Mrs. Brown, the minister's wife; Leonard Hammer, the leader of the choir; Landis Wyant, Leonard Miller and Einar Anderson, are the music committee; Kenneth Keilman sings the solo part as the choir's baritone; Robert Hadley is "A Joke"; Athena Bockberger is the organizer of the Old Maids' Club; Dorothy Karweick is the milliner, Petunia Pimples; Wallace King is the sexton; Winnie Smith is "Everybody's Friend," Augusta

Wind; Mrs. Mildred Steffen is the president of the Ladies' Aid. The entertainment is under the personal direction of Austin F. Grab. Rehearsals are held every Wednesday and Friday evenings.

The Brotherhood Bible Class will meet Sunday morning at 9:45 with James M. Ropes as teacher. All men of Redeemer are urged to come and bring their friends. The Brotherhood Class is sponsoring the special musical service which will be held Sunday evening, February 12, at 7:30. The Orpheus Male Chorus of 30 voices under the direction of Lewis J. Marsh will furnish the special music, and the Rev. W. L. Dowler will give a brief address on the subject, "The Greatness of Abraham Lincoln."

North Presbyterian—At a meeting Monday of the Girls' Groups, a nominating committee was appointed by the president, Miss Allene Hoestersey, to present a slate of officers for 1933. The Orpheus Male Chorus, Prof. Lewis J. Marsh, conductor, gave a concert in the church auditorium Tuesday, under the auspices of the Sunday School.

Miss Elizabeth Congdon, associate field representative of the American McAll Association, told yesterday of the work of the McAll Mission in France, and showed motion pictures.

The fourth in a series of young people's banquets, sponsored by the Young People's League of Rochester Presbytery, will be held tonight in the church. The speaker, Arthur C. Boyce, is vice-president of the American College of Teheran, Persia.

The committee includes William Muir and Bernard Bullock, games; Harriet Miller, supper; and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Clark, songs; these with a large group of representatives from the young people's organizations of the church acting as a reception committee, will welcome delegates from Immanuel, Dewey Avenue, Chili, Lakeside, Bethany, Gates, Scottsville, First, Grace, Westminster and Trinity Churches. The closing service of worship will be in charge of the Lakeside young people.

On Saturday, the Young People's Sunday Evening Group will conduct a hike from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Clark, 70 Harvington drive.

Sunday at 11 a. m. the Annual Praise Service of the Women's Society will be observed, Mrs. S. Delos Thorn presiding. The speaker will be Arthur C. Boyce.

Mrs. Mildred Neth and her pupils will give a costume recital February 17 in the chapel of North Church, under the auspices of the Young People's Sunday Evening Group. The public is invited. No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken. Miss Mildred Kier is president of the group.

Grace M. E.—Next Sunday evening the Rev. Robert Doherty of the Methodist Church in Batavia, N. Y., will preach at the evening service.

The Young Women's Missionary Society meets at the church tonight for their February meeting. Miss Florence Metz is president of this group of young women. Any young women interested are invited.

Each Thursday evening all young people interested in Junior Choir work meet at the church under the direction of Jerome Smith. There is room for a few more members.

The girl scouts are working on a play, an exhibit and handcraft for their Scout Night on February 24. Miss Margaret Lapp is chairman of the play committee, Miss Norma Doell is chairman of the exhibit, and Miss Alice Stevenson is general chairman with Miss Helen Harper in charge of publicity. Miss Elizabeth Roblin and Mrs. Lockwood are assisting the girls with their program.

Dewey Reformed—A new consistory was elected at the annual meeting of the congregation on January 25. The elders elected are, Ralph Harnish, George Woods and Edward Marlowe; the deacons are Wesley Smith, O. M. Hoch and William Lusink.

These officers were installed at an impressive service conducted by Dr. F. H. Diehm of Emmanuel Reformed Church on Sunday evening. The choir of Emmanuel Church assisted Dr. Diehm in the communion service which followed.

CANARY HYGIENE

(By Mrs. H. L. Banks, 15c Clay Avenue, Breeder of Pedigreed Water Gluck Canaries.)

When buying a canary, do you immediately look for a yellow bird? Nine-tenths of the customers the writer comes in contact with do just that. I am free to admit, they are the best looking, but who wants a good looking bird without a good song? And it is generally known among breeders of good birds that the green, or the green and yellow mixed birds, are the best singers, as well as the strongest.

I quote Mr. Paul Bege of Germany, a noted breeder—he writes as follows: "If you mate yellow to yellow year after year, which is necessary to produce all yellow birds the birds tend to become weaker and more susceptible to ailments, a form of degeneration. The birds also are of poorer physique, but that is not all the damage. The singing muscles suffer and the song deteriorates rapidly."

In doctoring canaries I find the majority of ailing birds are the yellows; they do not seem to have the stamina of the green variety.

It is interesting to note that very few of the winning birds at the Roller Singing Contests held throughout the country under the auspices of the "International Roller Canary Association" are light birds. Most of the winners being the darker birds.

"Yonder Star," preached by Mr. Richardson, pastor.

HOLY ROSARY DOINGS
With the beginning of February comes a rush of pre-Lenten activities to crowd the days of that all-too-short month.
The first event occurred last evening when the Sodality held its monthly meeting. At 8 o'clock the Sodality assembled in the church for the spiritual exercises after which the business meeting was conducted in the school hall. The evening was concluded with a Valentine party given by the social committee.
Every one had such a good time last Friday night, they're clamoring for another social this week. So tomorrow night, February 3, there will be a Depression Frolic, when oldest clothes will be the style. The Publicity Committee of the Sodality is in charge. Miss Elsie Strebler, chairman, has appointed Eva Comeau to make posters; Lucy Clark, Helen Greinke and Doris Clark to take care of the publicity, Mary Hoffman and Frances Donahue to select prizes; La Rene Haight in charge of the orchestra; and Marjorie Millington and Eleanor Biddle to take care of checking.
Card enthusiasts need no longer find Monday evening dull after the week-end. Next Monday, February 6, and the following Monday, February 13, two groups of women from the parish are planning card parties.
At the card party held last Monday evening, Mrs. Joseph E. Marcille was in charge, assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Springer, Mrs. John P. Culhane, Mrs. Frank Tormey, Mrs. Edward G. Hartel, Mrs. Emmett O'Neill, Mrs. Joseph Coppinger, Mrs. Patrick Dwyer, Mrs. George Bauman, Mrs. Carl Casey and Mrs. Frank Regan. The card party on February 6 will be arranged by Mrs. Gilbert Cottrell, chairman and the following committee: Mrs. Lillian Hudson, Mrs. Frank LaPlante, Barbara Hayes, Mrs. George LeFrois, Mrs. Charles Leckner, Mrs. Matthew Reilly, Mrs. Walter Maher, Mrs. Michael Hovanns, Mrs. Leo Connell, Mrs. Raymond O'Connor, Mrs. P. Guinan, Mrs. Lester Munding and Mary McGovern.
Mrs. Joseph Gallagher is chairman for February 13, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Buckley, Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. George Haungs, Mrs. Esther Burns, Agnes Powers, Mary Powers, Mrs. Frank Corrigan, Mrs. Edward Bauman, Mrs. F. J. Kohlmeir, Mrs. Theodore Holmes and Mrs. Joseph Winkler.

San Francisco's Skyscrapers.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNE Service.

SAN FRANCISCO is to have a new superbridge across its broad bay, to be financed by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. For the first time the city will possess a highway connection with the rich and populous trans-bay country.

San Francisco stands on a peninsula. North and east of it is the great harbor; to the west, the Pacific. So most travelers reach it by water. Its voice is the hoarse blast of ferries on the bay. The sound never ceases. Counting commuters, nearly 55,000,000 people a year pass through the vast Ferry Building at the foot of Market street, a city within itself. The proposed bridge, for which $62,000,000 has been advanced by the government, will be used by many who now ride the ferries.

Only 83 years ago, when gold-mad human hordes swept across the prairies of San Francisco, it was an infant Mexican village. Today it is a great metropolis of 635,000 inhabitants, bordering with Alaska, Japan, China, the Philippines, India and Australia.

Its vast panoramic Embarcadero, or water front, fairly smells of China tea, silks, straw mats, Alaska fish, Manila hemp, coconuts, pineapples, raw sugar, Singapore rubber, and coffee from Latin America. The crude adobe pueblo, where "Boston boats" first came to trade arms, tools, trinkets and calico for the hides and tallow of Mexican ranchers, has become today our key port of the Pacific.

A great city had to rise here, for the same reasons that New York grew at the Hudson's mouth, Rio de Janeiro and Sydney and Hong Kong on their great harbors, Shanghai on the Yangtze, and Istanbul by the Golden Horn. This vast haven inside the Golden Gate affords such an ideal site for a busy international city that, as one writer says, if San Francisco did not already exist, men would at once start building it.

Not only in its eventful growth, but in the story of its early beginnings, you find San Francisco legitimately a child of the sea. In early days sea paths were the easiest way to this coast.

Drake Near There in 1579.
By sea Sir Francis Drake came, on that pioneer world cruise of 1579. It must have been foggy even then; for he missed the Golden Gate to land a bit north, at what is now Drakes bay. Claiming the country for his queen, naming it New Ablon, and celebrating the first Christmas service in what today is California, Drake sailed away.

Nearly two centuries passed. Still no white man had seen the Golden Gate. Inland from it were Digger Indians, living precariously on roots, rats, bugs and snakes, often starving in a region now so rich in milk and honey that it exports food to much of the civilized world.

But down in Mexico things were happening—events of profound portent to future California and San Francisco. Cortez had seized the realm of Montezuma. Slowly, for generations afterwards, the gold-hungry Spaniards drifted to the northwest, some by sea, many through what is Arizona now, and thus up this coast. With them came the priests, carrying the Cross to the Indians. Often it was a contest to see whether a priest could baptize an Indian before the Indian could slay the priest. Haltingly they advanced, but stubbornly.

In time the missions, orchards, and irrigated farms of the padres were scattered along the meandering trail from Guadalajara to San Diego—and finally to the Golden Gate itself. Along this same Camino Real, or "Royal Road," flanked today by golf clubs and "hot-dog" stands, came Don Gaspar de Portola, governor of Baja California, seeking a bay called Monterey. "Royal Road" they called it, euphemistically; but what Don Gaspar actu-nally followed then was a faint trail fading into hills and brush. Lost, floundering, he stumbled upon a magnificent land-locked harbor, and he named it San Francisco. That was October 31, 1776.

As if foreshadowing the liberal spirit of the city, San Francisco itself was founded in 1776—the same year that also made July Fourth the nation's birthday. It was a Spanish captain, Juan Bautista de Anza, who laid it out and set the pattern for later "realitors."

How the City Grew.
Sprawling idly by the bay, and first named Yerba Buena, Anza's town site saw things come to pass that molded, through the years, the character of the city; the growth of the vast haciendas, huge herds, bullfights, fiestas, burning Judas in effigy, church processions, rodeos and swaggering vaqueros in such feats of horsemanship as "loping" full speed with a tray of filled wine glasses, spilling none. More priests and colonists from Mexico, with new fruits, food plants, and grains.

By 1806, Russian trappers, hunting sea otters in the kelp beds, drift down from Sitka. Agents of the tsar build a fort at Bodega, up the coast, colonizing there, with smooth intrigue, to make Alta California part of the Russian empire.

Shrewd New England traders, on three-year cruises to Canton via California, call here to barter. Their trade goods, wrote Dana in his "Two Years Before the Mast," included spirits, teas, coffees, sugars, spices, hardware, crockery, clothing, boots and shoes from Lynn, calicoes from Lowell, cart wheels from England, capes, shawls, jewelry and combs.

Bearded and buck-skinned Missouri and Kentucky men begin trickling in. Then the Hudson's Bay company, coming to build a fur post here; English navy merchant ships, and more moves on the checker-board of destiny, with a plan now to make this a British colony.

With the 1820s comes the end of Spanish rule. A new flag, the Mexican, waving now over San Francisco. Intrigues increase as years pass; disputes arise between foreigners and natives, and justice grows blundering. But it's a long walk to Mexico, seat of power. And one-legged Santa Anna has graver problems nearer home—and in Texas.

Annexation and Gold.
War with Mexico. Back in Washington sits President Polk, the resolute. Scott, Doniphan, and Zachary Taylor are in Mexico; Fremont, Kearney, and Kit Carson in California. Into the little Plaza of San Francisco come the United States sailors to run up the American flag. California is annexed in 1848.

Barely 900 people in the village then; a newspaper, a school, and two ramshackle wooden wharves. But soon Marshall found gold near Sutter's mill. It was the richest strike in history. With their jackknives men gouged chunks of pure gold from hillside seams. Seven Americans, with the help of Indians, "took out 275 pounds of gold in a little more than six weeks. . . . Two men in seven days obtained $17,000 from a trench a few feet wide."

The news spread East. Polk commented on the find in a message to congress. No such excitement had ever swept the nation. By 1849 the whole world seemed to be gold mad. On every continent men talked of California, and in ever-increasing thousands they moved on San Francisco. In that year 230 American vessels reached California. During three weeks in the spring of '49, nearly 18,000 people crossed the Missouri river, westward bound.

Rough, Boisterous Times.
Steerage tickets via Panama sold for $1,000. Thousands went this way; another army around the Horn; others across Nicaragua or Mexico. Death took frightful toll, especially among those crossing the western deserts.

Imagine San Francisco then. Gold crazy. Off on the treasure hunt

What Your Watch Does For Its Keep
Contributed by J. O. Ledlie
The center wheel, carrying the hands, revolves 24 times a day. The balance wheel makes nearly half a million swings in 24 hours. Actually in a pocket size watch the rim of the balance wheel travels 23 miles every day. A long and tiring march to do year in and year out with seldom a stop. More often than not it does it without a drop of oil; in fact it only takes a spot of oil to lubricate the entire movement for 12 months and even this all too frequently gets dried out by the changes in temperature due to normal wear.

It is not advisable for the owner to oil a watch. He will certainly put too much on, mostly on the wrong places and in such a way that the oil he puts on will draw away from the bearings the oil the watchmaker uses. All watches should be cleaned and oiled at least once a year. Very small watches should have attention even more frequently because the smaller the movement the more minute is the supply of oil which it can contain.

A watch works 168 hours or 10,080 minutes, or 604,800 seconds a week. This means 8,736 hours or 524,160 minutes or 31,449,600 seconds a year. A balance wheel makes five beats a second or over 150,000,000 beats a year.

Some of the parts of a watch are so small that it would take more than 10,000 of them to fill a thimble.

BLACKHAWK DIVISION BOY SCOUT NEWS

Scouts and scouters of the Blackhawk Division, Boy Scouts of America, are looking forward to several events of activity and interest in the next few months. Chief among the activities will be the annual Spring Rally to be held this year at Kodak Park, March 21; a swimming meet at the Maplewood "Y" pool at an early date; and a Divisional Court of Honor April 18 at Grace M. E. Church.

The events of the Spring Rally will be as follows: inspection, knot tying, compass relay, bugling, signaling, equipment race and, yes and no relay.

The winning troop will be rewarded by having its number engraved upon the silver plaque for which troops of the Blackhawk Division have been competing since it was offered last year. The first troop to win three rallies will become the owners of the plaque. Troop 12 of the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church has won both rallies held so far and will be fighting to become permanent owners of the trophy, while all the other troops will be striving to not only prevent this, but to gain a leg themselves.

No date has been set for the division swim, at which a troop will be selected to represent the division in the city swim late in February. However, it is expected that all troops will be well represented at the Maplewood "Y" pool the next few Saturday nights, preparing for the contest.

Anniversary week of the founding of the Boy Scout movement will be observed February 8 to 15. Each troop of the division will decorate some neighborhood display window with articles of scout handicraft and equipment. Last year every window so decorated aroused much interest and favorable comment.

The Divisional Court of Honor will be held April 18 at Grace M. E. Church. Aside from the magnitude of a Court of Honor for the division, rather than for a single troop, considerable interest will be attached to this event because all troops winning one of the President's Awards will receive their streamers. To win an award a troop must have not only maintained a satisfactory schedule of meetings and hikes, but must have attained certain requirements as to advancement in scouting.

The following troops of the Blackhawk Division won awards: Troop 12, Dewey Avenue Presbyterian; 27, Grace Methodist; 39, Church of the Master; 50, Kodak Park; 81, Lewiston Avenue M. E.; 101, Holy Rosary.

On Sunday, February 12, all Catholic scouts of the division will attend a mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral, after which breakfast will be served at a place to be announced later.

The following troops will take overnight hikes to Three Lakes, camping site for troops of the city, on the following dates: February 4, Troop 39; February 11, Troop 50; February 18, Troop 27; Troop 101, date not assigned.

Troop News
At its last meeting Troop 81 had Dr. Bruce Suter for Public Health merit badge instruction. In addition most of the scoutmasters of the Blackhawk division were present for a meeting directed by Charles Legg, deputy commissioner.

George Gunn now holds the position of scribe. Ben Taber, who kept the records very well, recently resigned the post when he became leader of the Fox Patrol.

Radio Tips, Questions and Answers
By H. S. Russell

Q. My radio fades out even on local stations. If I snap the switch off and then on again the radio will play with full volume, only to slowly fade out until you can just hear it. Can you tell me what causes this condition and what the cure is?
J. J. B.

A. This type of fading is usually caused by a defective tube. The elements have changed their relative positions enough to cause capacitive coupling between two or more of them. Defective condensers also cause this type of fading. To locate such trouble requires much patience and experience as instruments are of little value because breaking the circuits of the radio to insert the instruments will clear up the fading and the receiver will operate normally while the testing instrument remains in the radio circuit. Such a condition is expensive to have repaired because it is almost purely a time proposition.

Q. I have a superheterodyne radio. This type of receiver is supposed to bring in only one station at a time yet there are several places on the dial where I can hear two programs. Why?
A. G.

A. You do not state where this "doubling" occurs on the dial but there are several frequencies on which two stations broadcast simultaneously. Of course, no receiver can separate stations that broadcast on the same wave length. Then again, some superheterodynes have no "image rejector" circuits, thereby resulting in the same station appearing at several points on the dial. This difficulty is generally confined to the older superheterodynes.

Q. I should like to remove the chassis and speaker from my radio cabinet but can find no way of separating speaker and chassis, and the leads are so short I can't remove the chassis without the speaker. I am afraid to lift both out together as I fear I might pull a wire loose. Can you help me?
G. B.

A. The only thing you can do is to mark the wires and cut them. When you replace the chassis, solder the correct wire ends together and tape the joints.

You, and many thousands of other radio owners, are the victims of the indifference and poor judgment of many of the manufacturers of radio receivers. Every radio has to be serviced some time, possibly many times, and the work of removing the chassis from the cabinet is so much easier and faster in sets where the speaker cable plugs into the chassis, where the speaker and chassis are held by several accessible bolts and where wires are not nailed to the cabinet with dozens of staples. Good construction is just as cheap for the manufacturer and much cheaper for the customer, because when he pays for service he pays for time and every minute saved is money in the radio owner's pocket. When a service man must spend an hour or two to get the chassis out and back into the cabinet the customer is spending money for non-productive work.

NEW VETERANS' POST CHARTERED IN TENTH

Newest addition to ward organizations was formally chartered Saturday night when the Veterans' Memorial Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was given official recognition. Officers were installed and the post was inaugurated by Admiral Kunz in a special radio broadcast from Washington.

First officers are as follows: A. H. Klem, commander; Herbert Chrisley, senior vice-commander; James F. McGinnis, junior vice-commander; Fred T. O'Connor, quartermaster; E. W. Meissner, officer of the day; W. C. Taylor, adjutant. Klem and O'Connor are the organizers of the new post.

Trustees are T. W. Beck, 18 months; John T. Richards, 12 months; George Paille, 6 months. The post is meeting temporarily at 1485 Dewey avenue and it is expected that permanent headquarters will be established shortly in the ward.

Although the post has been organized principally among Tenth Ward men, an effort will be made to get members in Greece and Charlotte as well. Overseas or high-seas service in any branch of the service is the qualification for membership. All eligible service men are invited to become members. The next meeting of the post is on March 1.

Glenn Jackson to Speak at No. 7 P. T. A. Meeting

Glenn Jackson, Assistant General Secretary, Y. M. C. A., will be speaker at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting of Lakeview School No. 7, Thursday, February 23, at 8 p. m. His subject will be "The Why and Wherefore of Parent Education."

Peter Laurini, violinist, just returned from a successful season as orchestra leader and soloist for R. K. O., will furnish the evening's musical treat. Refreshments will be served following the program.

Young People Present Musical Comedy Feb. 23

Young people's organizations of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will present the musical comedy, "The New Minister," Thursday and Friday evenings, February 23 and 24 in the Ascension parish hall, Lake avenue at Riverside street.

Following the entertainment there will be dancing until 12 with music by the Penn Men's Orchestra. Refreshments will be served by a committee of the Bethany Guild.

Lloyd Smith has the title role of the new minister, with June Knitt, the new school teacher who is chosen to be the bride. Other solo numbers are sung by Wallace King as the sexton, Kenneth Keilman, the choir's leading baritone, and Einar Anderson as the chairman of the music committee.

Other leading parts are portrayed by Winnie Smith, Marion Low, Landis Wyant, Leonard Miller, Dorothy Karweick, Helen Woehr, Walter Steffen, Athena Bocksberger as organizer of the Old Maids' Club, and Mildred Steffen as president of the Ladies' Aid, and Leonard Hammer as the leader of the choir. Tickets are 25 cents.

Schmitz New Owner of Kenny Furniture Store

Sale of the entire stock and fixtures of G. C. Kenny, furniture manufacturer and dealer, to Herbert J. Schmitz was announced recently. Mr. Schmitz, who had been connected with the Kenny company for the past five years as assistant manager, is continuing the store at the same location, 1476 Lake avenue.

With many years' experience in the furniture business, Mr. Schmitz is well versed in the manufacturing as well as the retailing of furniture. Previous to his connections with Kenny's he had been connected with Howe and Rogers, the Hubbard, Eldredge & Miller Co. and Grand Rapids manufacturers.

In addition to a full line of furniture, Mr. Schmitz is featuring a complete assortment of bedding. The manufacturing, re-upholstering and repairing end of the business is also being continued.

Week-end Program
Tonight—"Son Daughter" with Helen Hayes and Ramon Novarro; "Scarlet Dawn" with Doug Fairbanks, Junior, and Nancy Carroll.

Sun.-Tues.—"Cynara" with Ronald Colman and Fay Francis; "Central Park" with Joan Blondell.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review
Motion picture requirements make some strange demands upon the studio "prop" man, as is evidenced in "Central Park," featuring Joan Blondell and Wallace Ford.

While many of the scenes for this picture were taken in the famous New York playground, those in which a lion gets loose, had to be made at the studio, inasmuch as the police regulations of New York forbid the release of a lion.

Dead trees could not be used as the leaves wither too soon. So the prop department got the order to build a forest. The prop men were equal to the occasion and a small forest sprang up over night.

"Central Park" is a highly dramatic story filled with thrills, including the escape of a lion. It was written by the New York columnist, Ward Morehouse.

A couple of years ago it looked as if Ronald Colman was headed for being the screen's first comedian. That was all right, but the trouble was that, in getting a first comedian, the screen would be losing one of its finest serious actors.

Ronald Colman was the cheery young man of "Bulldog Drummond" and "The Devil to Pay," but he was also the actor who made the film world gasp with the power of his performances in "The Dark

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Young of Rainier street entertained the ladies of Howe & Rogers drapery room and their husbands Saturday evening. The affair was a surprise on Mr. Young's mother, Mrs. A. E. Young.

News of the Churches

Redeemer Lutheran—The theme of the sermon for next Sunday morning will be "Lord, Take Not From Us Thy Saving Word," based on the prophecy of Amos. The chorus choir will sing an anthem and lead in the singing of the following hymns, "When Morning Gilds the Skies," "O Word of God Incarnate" and "Lord, Thy Word Abideth."

The Orpheus Male Chorus under the direction of Lewis J. Marsh presented a program of sacred music Sunday evening in the church auditorium to a large and appreciative audience. This service was sponsored by the Brotherhood Bible Class, Alfred Doe, president, which meets each Sunday morning at 9:45 in the parish house. The speaker for next Sunday will be William C. Storandt.

Tonight, young people of Redeemer will entertain the young people of the Christ Lutheran Church with a valentine party in Redeemer parish house. The committee in charge consists of Landis Wyant, Winnie Smith and Marion Low, assisted by the executive committee, Leonard Hammer, Einar Anderson, Paul Lange and Helen Woehr. All young people and their friends are urged to be present to help make the affair a success.

The young people's organizations of Redeemer are planning a musical entertainment, "The New Minister," to be given in Ascension parish hall Thursday and Friday evenings, February 23 and 24, followed by social dancing with music by the Penn Men's Orchestra. Tickets are 25 cents. Leonard Hammer is general chairman of arrangements and Paul Lange has charge of the stage and costumes. The entertainment is under the personal direction of Austin F. Grab who is conducting rehearsals Wednesday and Friday evenings with special dress rehearsal at Ascension Hall next Monday evening.

Grace M. E.—The Bills Class will hold its regular monthly meeting February 20 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Barnes, 71 Glendale park. Miss Ethel Moore is president of this class of young women.

Next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the Rev. E. C. Humphrey will be guest speaker at the Men's Bible Class. Special orchestral music by the Arion Sextet will conclude the session. Fred Hennig, Sr., is president of the class. All men not affiliated with any other Bible Class are invited.

The girl scouts of Troop 3 will stage a play and interesting exhibit for their Girl Scout Night on Friday evening, February 24, at the church. Friends and parents are invited to attend. Several members of the Girl Scout Council will be present. Miss Alice Stevenson is general chairman of the affair assisted by the Misses Norma Doell, Patricia Ross, Margaret Lapp, Adele Page and Jean Polmsbee. Every girl in the troop will have a part in the program.

The Glenwood Chapter is planning one of its famous Chicken Suppers at the church on Wednesday evening, February 22, from 5:30 to 7:00. Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. J. Jordan, 351 Selye terrace or Mrs. H. Witters, 446 Selye terrace.

The Shepard Class will hold a covered dish supper at the church Monday, February 20, at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lillian Conklin and group leaders are in charge.

Lewiston Ave. M. E.—Rev. Kazmayer spoke Sunday morning and Rev. Ernest E. Davis of the West Ave. M. E. Church was the guest speaker at the evening service. The Epworth League held a supper meeting and had as speaker, Rev. Charles Salter, youthful colored preacher, of Bennett College, North Carolina.

First Quarterly Conference was held Monday at the church. The Ladies' Aid held another one of their famous dinners last night.

Mid-week prayer service was held last night. Rev. Kazmayer gave an illustrated talk on his trip over India on the theme "Christ in India Today."

Missionary meeting will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. Cummings, 306 Ridgeway avenue. A surprise is in store for all who attend. Teachers' Training Class meets tonight at the home of Mrs.

Lynn McMichael on Dewey avenue. Next Sunday Rev. Kazmayer will take for his topic, "My Greatest Boost." The evening service will be given over to music and meditations on "Hymns My Mother Taught Me."

The Ladies' Aid members are selling wax paper and have also gone into the jig saw puzzle business.

Dewey Ave. Presbyterian—A successful auction tea was held recently at the adjoining homes of Mrs. Harry Maher and Mrs. Franklin Thomas of Seneca parkway. This was under the auspices of the Golden Rule Circle of which Mrs. Maher is president.

The Missionary Society of which Mrs. Alson Parker is president, held a cafeteria supper on February 8.

The Dorcas Circle, Mrs. R. B. Archey, president, met at the home of Mrs. Banta in Clay avenue on February 6. Bandages were rolled. After a short business meeting and devotional service, entertainment was furnished by a committee composed of Mrs. Emil Blattner, Mrs. Lester Scammell and Mrs. Franklin Thomas. The committee for refreshments included Mrs. Charles Coster, Mrs. Walter Skinner and Mrs. Archey. A thimble was presented to Miss Nettie Johnson who is leaving Rochester soon to live in Philadelphia.

Tureen suppers will be held at the church every Wednesday at 6:30, after which a short devotional service will be led by Rev. Andrew Neilly, pastor.

Something different in the way of entertainment and promising much merriment, will be held Friday evening, February 17, when the Kitchen Band will put on specialty numbers. This entertainment will be held under the auspices of "The Gleaners," of which Mrs. Walter L. Skinner of Augustine street is president.

On Wednesday, March 1, at 1 o'clock the ten circles of the church will hold a mass meeting and luncheon. Leaders of each circle will give reports on their work for the year. Election of officers will be held. The officers this year were Mrs. Andrew Neilly, president; Mrs. W. L. Skinner, first vice-president; Mrs. Edwin Mix, second vice-president; Mrs. J. J. Carmichael, secretary; and Mrs. C. H. Nelson, treasurer.

North Presbyterian—The annual luncheon meeting and election of officers of the Women's Society is to take place at the church today at one o'clock.

At the regular meeting of the Young People's Sunday Evening Group next Sunday the topic for discussion will be "What Is Sunday For?" John Swain will preside and the discussion will be led by Mrs. E. J. Miller.

One of the events for which the women of the church are preparing is a "Jiggs Dinner" to take place on Wednesday evening, March 8. Everyone is invited. Tickets will be 25 cents, and may be purchased from members of the Glenwood Circle, or reserved through the church office (Glenwood 921).

Dewey Ave. Reformed—Sunday evening at the regular service conducted by the Young People's Society, the guest speaker was the Rev. R. L. Bailey, of the Pittsford Baptist Church.

The newly organized girls' club held its first meeting on February 8 and is now meeting regularly each Wednesday at 7:30. Any girls interested are invited to join.

Tonight at the church, a supper is being held from 6 to 8, being served by the choir and Young People's Society. Proceeds are to be used in obtaining new robes for the choir. Tickets are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children under 14.

The Sunday School attendance is improving, having come close to the hundred mark lately.

Christadelphian, Kay Terr., near Glenwood—Sunday services are: 10:30 a. m. Adult Bible Classes and Sunday School; 11:45 a. m. Memorial Service; 7:30 p. m. "The End of Gentile Times."

Miss Mary Dunk of Brozel street entertained the J. A. O. Bridge Club at her home on Wednesday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. J. Ainsworth Bush and Mrs. Wm. Stout. The next hostess will be Mrs. Wm. Stout of Brozel street.

Miss Ruth Stiffler was surprised by friends on her birthday, Sunday, February 5.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Knope of Alameda street have left for Toronto where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Soules. Mr. Soules is president of the Robo Gas Co. While in Toronto they will attend the hockey game between Toronto and Chicago.

A Szechwan Medicine Man.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)
 (WNU Service.)

SZECHWAN province, China, center of recent disturbances, is one of the richest, most populous and picturesque regions of China. Marco Polo described it as a cultivated garden with great cities. A more modern sobriquet is "The Garden of Asia."

Chungking, the Wangtze port, is a great doorway of Szechwan. It is a walled city of 600,000 inhabitants, situated at the confluence of the Yangtze and the Kialing rivers. Through the action of a foreign treaty it is an open seaport notwithstanding the fact that it is 1,500 miles from the coast and 1,000 feet above the level of the sea. It is now the head of steam navigation on the Yangtze, the seat of maritime customs for the West, the point of distribution for all western borne commerce and the assembling depot for all shipments to other parts of China and foreign lands.

The chief exports to America and other countries are paint oils of the tung-tree, medicines, bristles, feathers and hides, and of manufactured articles, silks, satins and crepes of the finest grades.

Confined between its two rivers, this city, like New York, is growing into the air. It has no suburban lines to relieve its surplus population, and real estate has accordingly increased in the past decade from 100 to 200 per cent in value, making it profitable to erect fine foreign buildings, in which it exceeds any purely native city in China.

The English, French, German, Japanese and Americans compete for its trade. United States trade is represented in kerosene, sewing machines, cigarettes, patent medicines, hardware and nails.

From Chungking northwestward 300 miles to Chengtu, the capital, one travels by sedan chair borne on the shoulders of two, three or four bearers, as one's avoiddupis requires or his Troy weight permits. In addition to the chair-bearers, the foreign traveler requires a coolie to carry his cot and bedding, another to bear his food, and an attendant to cook it. A small party easily becomes a regiment, and if an armed escort accompanies it, as is usual, the party resembles an army.

City of the Dead.
 Beyond the walls of Chungking the traveler enters the city of the dead. Here are square-built tombs of the Ming period; near by are the crowded lines of public graves for beggars and the very poor; and then, four miles distant, are the regulation mounds of Chinese graves, with here and there beautifully carved, terraced mausoleums.

A more orderly section of broad extent, reserved for Mohammedan graves, shows that the followers of the Crescent are no mean or inconsiderable company among the city's population.

Over these sleeping camps the telegraph lines are now strung and the Chengtu railway will tunnel beneath them. Factories and homes are pushing them farther from the city, which is a sure indication that the hand of superstition is losing its grip, for a quarter century ago this would have spelled riot.

The Szechwanese from of old have been expert workers in stone, as is evidenced by the many tombs, homes and places of defense carved deep into cliffs along the rivers. Their Chinese conquerors have inherited this art along with their land, for the country abounds with artistically carved stone bridges and memorial arches of massive proportions ornately wrought in stone.

One never sees a monument dedicated to a warrior, but many to virtuous widows, who refused to remarry after their husbands had died. Others reared by royal parents have the four characters Wu Kia TungTang, five generations living together in one home.

West China might be called "The Land of the Pagoda," for nearly every city has its towering sentinel from three to fifteen stories in height. They are generally placed upon some eminence overlooking the city they protect, and may have served as watch towers in times of trouble, but the real purpose of their erection most likely was to exert a benign influence upon the fang suai—the spirits of wind and wave that bring prosperity and ward off disaster.

Out from the crush and the hum of the city of the living and past the quiet camp of the dead, one comes to the country—not, however, the country of the western world; rather a mass of terraced fields and farm gardens, with human beings always in sight. People are the only feature of the landscape that cannot be left behind or ignored; so one stops to glance at the inhabitants of Szechwan, who surpass in rugged diversity of race the variety of the province's scenery.

The People of Szechwan.
 More valuable than its rich mineral deposits and superbly tilled lands, the people of Szechwan are at once its prime asset and interest.

Four epochs mark the Szechwanese and help to explain them:

First, the slow retreat of the ancient aborigines up into the mountains of the south and west and the occupation of the fertile land by the oncoming victorious Chinese.

Second, the ruthless Chinese wars, culminating in the ravages of the tyrant Ch'ang, who, in accordance with his slogan, "KILL! KILL! KILL! KILL! KILL!" for all men are evil, left many of its cities desolate and its fields without inhabitants.

Third, the re-peopling of the province by emigrants from the north, central and southeastern provinces of China, who, fusing with the scattered Chinese and aboriginal inhabitants and with Mohammedan mercenaries from western Asia, formed the composite Szechwanese, styled, "Chinese, with a difference."

Fourth, the contact of Christian life and thought upon those peoples, a period of reforms and revolutions, a transition from the old order to the New China of today and the China of promise of tomorrow.

Remnants of Many Races.
 The western part of Szechwan might well be called the Museum of the Human Races, the as-yet-undiscovered happy hunting ground of the ethnologist and physiognomist. Here are to be found the surviving remnants in the most heroic struggle for existence that humanity has ever waged, and who, for lack of a better term, are called the "Tribesmen."

As one crosses the Min river, which, flowing south, divides the province into east and west, and moves westward toward the snow-covered mountains, he comes upon the shambling homes of these people, hidden in impassable ravines or perched upon cliff or mountain side, of which they seem to be part and counterpart; for as the irresistible side-thrust of continental Asia pushed these mountain masses high into the snows and left them crumpled, broken, and isolated storm-swept peaks, so, evidently, a similar convulsion of powerful peoples of Asia, in their movements toward this center, have driven back the weaker or defenseless nations, they in their turn being compelled to follow into these inaccessible places, where, like the mountains to which they still cling, they may yet reveal stratum, the bedrock of the race.

The Chinese call them "The Eighteen Nations," but it is believed that there are several times eighteen nations or tribes, each under its own king, council or feudal lord, independent or semi-independent of each other and of the Chinese in whose borders they dwell.

Among the tribesmen are found representatives of the black, yellow, and white branches of the human family, and some of them, especially dwarf peoples, are believed to be of very ancient origin.

More Gasoline Tax?

It is poor judgment, as we see it, for the New York legislature to pass any further taxation bills directed against the automobile and its accessories. Plunging whole-heartedly into the business of raising additional revenues for the state, the legislature threatens to do irreparable damage to an industry already staggering from the effects of the depression and taxation. We endorse heartily the efforts of the Auto Club to prevent further increase in the gasoline tax and urge all motorists to write their legislative representatives immediately in protest.

The gasoline tax was originally intended for the upkeep and extension of highways and was entirely justified, for it is the motorist who derives most benefit from good roads. But now with practically all highway work curtailed or eliminated, there can be no justification of an increase. Unquestionably the gasoline tax is nice revenue and it's not too hard to collect; and an increase of just another cent, apparently to the powers-that-be would hardly be noticeable. However, unfortunately Uncle Sam has slapped on a cent tax and will collect it for another year. This together with the three-cent state tax makes a total of four cents, a tax of at least 33 1/3 per cent. That is an exorbitant impost in itself, much less to increase it another cent.

Radio Tips, Questions and Answers

By H. S. Russell

I have never seen as many radio troubles directly caused by poor and imperfect tubes as I have witnessed during the past 6 months, even among those built by well known companies. Formerly a tube performed its functions well during its normal life until old age weakened it or it burned out. Very seldom could unnatural fading, sizzling, snapping, squealing or similar disturbances be laid at the door of the tubes. Such troubles arose within the receiver itself.
But now all this has changed. Not only do we encounter these annoyances in imperfect receivers, but imperfect tubes are becoming so common that they are adding themselves to the many sources of radio disturbance.
"Well," you may ask, "why has this tube trouble become so noticeable during the past few months?" The answer is an old story to many businesses. Tremendous drops in tube prices have wiped out manufacturers' profits. Endeavoring to hold their positions in the market and at the same time at least "break even" manufacturing costs have been cut to the last penny. This meant each producing worker doing more work in the same time, less inspections and not so many "rejects."
Now a radio tube is a very delicate bit of equipment. Many fragile parts must be mounted very close to each other, are on fine supporting wires and must be so well anchored that they will not change their positions in regard to each other when subjected to heat, magnetism or vibration. Such fine work requires a certain amount of time, much skill, experience and patience. A worker laboring under modern ultra-high "depression" speed can hardly maintain the high standards required.
So when buying radio tubes use the old slogan of the proud American: "The best please—it's none too good for me!" It will cost a few cents more for this merchandise but if the best tubes are none too good just figure what bargain tubes must be—unknown, poor quality, rejects—all possible contributors to poor radio reception.

BLACKHAWK DIVISION BOY SCOUT NEWS

During the past week the troops of the Blackhawk Division of Boy Scouts observed Anniversary Week in various ways. Nearly all the troops decorated merchant display windows with fitting examples of wood and leather handicraft, scout equipment and other material reflecting customary work and dress of scouts, while other troops elected to depict camp scenes in miniature. All troops are awaiting the results of the judges' verdict as to the winner of the competition for best display.
This Saturday evening will find a large number of aquatic scouts engaging in inter-troop swim meets and others getting in a little practice for the divisional swimming meet planned for the night of February 25 at the Maplewood "Y" pool.
Troop 68
Sacred Heart Church
Troop 68 observed Anniversary Week with a Parents' Night and Court of Honor February 8 at Sacred Heart Hall, the feature of which was presentation of two Eagle Badges to Edward H. Heilgenthaler and Neil J. Hickey. The badges were given by the boys' fathers after Monseigneur George V. Burns had talked on the nature of the Eagle award.
Star badges were awarded Patrol Leaders John T. Gray and Andy D. Simon, and the following minor ranks and merit badges were given under the direction of Committeemen Edward J. Deving and Joseph T. Lillich, and Deputy Commissioner Charles R. Legg:
Tenderfoot: James Moran, Jack Ackroyd, Robert Kane; second class, John Feeney, George Walker, Lee Hastings; first class, John Gray.

BUSINESS MEN'S AFFAIR PROVES POPULAR EVENT

The pancake supper, entertainment and dance held by the Lake and Ridge Business Men's Association on February 21 at the Greece Grange Hall proved to be one of the most successful affairs ever staged by the business men. With attendance exceeding all expectations, tables had to be set twice to feed all the guests.

Following supper, an entertainment by dancing pupils of Miss Marjorie Miller and a humorous dialog in monolog style by Mrs. John Frear were presented. Dancing and card playing continued throughout the remainder of the evening. The Penn Men played for dancing.

The committee in charge included Charles P. Coster, I. B. Levin and Harvey Johnson. Mr. Coster also acted as master of ceremonies for the entertainment and song leader for group singing. Popular tunes were sung, but a unique feature was the substitution of new words, prepared by Mrs. Harvey Johnson. Localizing the songs to the Lake and Ridge corners, Mrs. Johnson masterfully advertised the business of the various members in humorous fashion.

President John Frear in a short talk thanked the members of the committee for their efforts. He also expressed appreciation to the guests for the unexpectedly-large attendance.

Dress Shop Moved to Dewey and Lexington

Removal of the Lovely Dress Shoppe from its former location at Driving Park and Dewey avenues to Dewey and Lexington avenues was completed and the new store opened for business this week. The store has been remodeled and re-decorated in a pleasant green shade, harmonizing with the display cases and booths of the Lovely Shoppe. The new spring merchandise is now being shown.

DRY CLEANING STORE OPENED BY MRS. WARD

Mrs. M. Ward opened her own dry cleaning store last week at 340 Driving Park avenue under the name of Lily Cleaners and Dyers. Mrs. Ward does repairing in addition to her regular dry cleaning and pressing service.

Pancake Supper Friday Night at Lewiston M. E.

A pancake supper will be served from 6 to 7:30 p. m. tomorrow (Friday) in Lewiston Avenue Methodist Church, corner of Ridge road and Dewey avenue. Funds earned will be used to build a new room in the basement of the church, to be used as headquarters for Boy Scout Troop No. 81 and as a recreation hall and meeting place for some of the rapidly growing Sunday School classes connected with the church.

Entertainment will be provided by the Sunday School, by some of the patrols of Troop 81, and by William Hildebrand, assistant scoutmaster. The entertainment will begin at 7:30. Tickets are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children under 12 and Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. They may be purchased at the door.

Democrats Change Night Of Meeting to March 14

A change in the regular schedule of meetings for the Democratic Women's Club of the ward is announced by Mrs. Joan Schild, president. Beginning in March, the meetings will be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays instead of the first and third.

The next meeting, therefore, will be on Tuesday, March 14, at a place to be announced later. This will be in the form of a social event. The business meeting will take place on the fourth Tuesday.

NEW DRY GOODS STORE WILL OPEN HERE SOON

Isabelle J. Gillette, who formerly owned a millinery shop at 813 Dewey avenue, is returning to the Tenth Ward to open on or about March 10 a general dry goods and notions store at 348 Driving Park avenue. For the past six years she has conducted a millinery and dress shop in Penn Yan. The new store will feature a full line of hats and dresses for ladies and children, in addition to the regular dry goods stock.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Brion of Rainier street wish to extend their appreciation to friends and neighbors for the windness and sympathy rendered them in the recent loss of their daughter, Virginia.

ERIN ATMOSPHERE TO DOMINATE REPUBLICAN SOCIAL EVENT MAR. 17

Irish tunes and shamrocks will greet the hundreds who celebrate St. Patrick's Day at the tenth annual dance and entertainment at the Tenth Ward Republican Club, at Edgerton Park Assembly Hall, on March 17. It is anticipated that over thirty-five hundred people will be present.

Edward A. Krauss, chairman of the program committee, states that this year's book will exceed all previous efforts. The year book is a novelty of the dance and entertainment and contains the program of events as well as a short outline of Tenth Ward Republicans and pictures of prominent Republican leaders in the political life of this city and county.

The Tenth Ward year book, which last year contained eighty-four pages, is one of the favors given to those who attend the affair. Councilman Joseph L. Guzzetta is general chairman of the affair, and working with him are the following committee chairmen: Councilman Nelson A. Milne, tickets; Edward A. Krauss, program; Sherman Pierce, entertainment; Kathryn N. Reynell, decoration; Arthur Milanetti, music; Harry Preston, door; Frank R. O'Brien, refreshments; John H. Makin and Frances L. Thompson, floor; Frank E. Lane and Clarence R. Piehler, checking; Angeline Pasquale, favors; Robert F. Cleford, Jr., printing; Joseph G. Schnepf, ushers; Donald N. Morris, publicity. Charles E. Bostwick is honorary chairman.

Window Shade Special

Your last chance to have your window shades reversed at present low prices. Until March 15, shades reversed for 15c each; thereafter 20c (regular price). Eight-hour service; bring your shades in morning and get them same night. W. H. Bellinger, 1274 Dewey Ave., at Seneca Parkway. Glen. 2789.

RIVIERA FEATURE REVIEW

Week-end Program

Tonight—"Match King" with Warren William and Lili Damita; and "Half Naked Truth" with Lupe Velez and Lee Tracy.

Fri.-Sat.—"Robbers' Roost" with Geo. O'Brien and Maureen O'Sullivan; and "Hypnotized" with Moran and Mack, the two Black Crowds.

Sun.-Tues.—"Silver Dollar" with Edw. G. Robinson and Bebe Daniels; and "Devil Is Driving" with Edmund Lowe and Wynne Gibson.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review
Some of the most romantic characters in the history of the gold rush days of the early West, characters as dazzling as those of the most engaging fiction, are enblazoned in the First National picture, "Silver Dollar."

The picture is based on the novel by David Karsner, which delves into the life stories of the pioneers and adventurers who swarmed the mining camps of Colorado during the richest silver strike in the history of the world. The central figure is that of Yates Martin who struggled through days of starvation as a prospector to rise to fame as the richest of the millionaires after he struck "pay dirt."

Edward G. Robinson plays the part of this Silver King who slapped a dry president on the back and asked him to have a drink, ruled a State Legislature in a bar-room to the popping of champagne corks, embarrassed General Grant by making such a disturbance in his own opera house the prima donna quit in a huff, and scandalized a nation with his divorce and remarriage.

Jeffersonian Club Has Bridge Party at B & B

The Jeffersonian Club, young men's Democratic organization of the ward, had 42 tables at their card party held Tuesday night in B. & B. Hall. Winners at each table were presented with jig saw puzzles, custom-made by A. P. Schauseil. There were also two door prizes.

The committee in charge included James Shanley, chairman, Aloysius Rombaut, prizes, George Grinnan, refreshments, and Thomas Dennis, music. The committee acknowledged with thanks the assistance of the Women's Democratic Club and George Rogers.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held in the headquarters in the Liberty Building, Driving Park avenue.

KATHRYN KEHR'S STUDIO MOVED TO RIVIERA BLDG.

Y. M. C. A. Winter Picnic To be Held March 14

There's one picnic planned at Maplewood Y. M. C. A. this spring that the weather will affect very little. That's the Winter Picnic scheduled for Tuesday evening, March 14.

Under the leadership of a committee representing the Men's Council, the Young Men's Council and the Ladies' Auxiliary an elaborate indoor affair has been arranged. In addition to carnival prize games, boxing, wrestling and volleyball there will be hotdog and coffee stands.

Only adult members of the branch or Ladies' Auxiliary may secure a ticket for 50 cents which admits one man and one woman to all the side and main shows, games, refreshments, dancing and other carnival activities.

The Winter Picnic Committee is made up of: Mrs. S. L. Crabbe, Mrs. C. W. Carroll, Mrs. C. A. Yaeger, Allen Martin, Herman Sonderman, John Thow, Tom White, Robert Abbott and Martin La Force.

Kodak Park P. T. A. to Elect Officers Mar. 9

The regular meeting of Kodak Park Parent-Teachers' Association will be held in room 204, March 9, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Hugh A. Smith will speak on "Better Films."

At this meeting election of officers will take place so that any new officers may become acquainted with their work before vacation time. Tea will be served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Charles Pooecke, chairman, Mrs. Howard Safford, Mrs. James Logan, Mrs. Clarence Raysor, Mrs. Allan Bullock, Mrs. John Serimgoeur.

A progressive card party will be held Friday, March 3, at 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Philip Rodgers, 281 Winchester street. Mrs. Penley will be hostess. Pedro and pinocle will be played.

HOLY ROSARY DOINGS

With the card party last Monday and the social for the young people Friday, social activities of the parish were laid aside until after the Lenten season.

Tuesday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Sodality took place. After the business had been taken care of, the Sodality enjoyed a clever entertainment furnished by the Apostolic Committee, followed by an appetizing luncheon.

Father Ehmann, Professor of English at St. Bernard's Seminary, gave the first of a series of Lenten sermons last evening. Every Wednesday and Friday at 7:45 p. m. services will be held at the church.

The plans for the musicale scheduled for Sunday evening, March 12, are going ahead successfully, according to the committees from both Sacred Heart and Holy Rosary Parishes. Mrs. Charles Garner promises an entertaining musical program.

The list of patrons and patronesses from Holy Rosary Parish comprises the following: Dr. and Mrs. B. J. Duffy, Dr. and Mrs. Cornelius Daney, Dr. and Mrs. John Connor, Honorable Jos. M. Feeley, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McSweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Tobin, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bauman, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hoffend, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Marcille, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schubert, Mrs. and Mrs. Patrick J. Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Coppinger, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Nier, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Buckley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kearse, Mr. and Mrs. C. Vincent Weiser, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baynes, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sophie, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Torney, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maher, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Regan, Mr. and Mrs. William Rice.

Lake View Unit Studies "Spring Millinery" Next

Lake View Unit will meet at the Dewey Avenue Church next Wednesday, March 8, at 1:30 p. m. The project is "Spring Millinery" with Mrs. W. L. Phaler, Mrs. Sam Newberry and Mrs. A. L. Armstrong as leaders. On March 15, Children Clothing for Community Service will be the project. Leaders in garment finishes will be Miss G. W. Watkins and Mrs. Ida Brulle.

Sacred Heart P.T.A. Meets Monday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Sacred Heart School Parent-Teachers' Association on Flower City park will be held Monday evening, March 6.

Rev. Lester M. Morgan, teacher at Aquinas Institute, will address the meeting on the "Adolescent Child in Primary and High School."

There will also be a short entertainment by the school children.

DANCE TO BE HELD AT B. & B. HALL TOMORROW

Leo Preston's Orchestra announces the first of a contemplated series of dances to be held at B. & B. Hall 333 Driving Park avenue. This will be held tomorrow (Friday) night with dancing from nine to one. It is planned to run dances regularly on Wednesdays and Fridays. The Preston Orchestra furnished the music for the series of dances just concluded at Holy Rosary Hall.

News of the Churches

North Presbyterian—The Glenwood Circle will meet tonight at eight at the home of Mrs. W. G. Watts, 315 Ravine avenue.

At a meeting of the Sunday School Council held on Monday, February 27, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Armstrong were the guests of honor at dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong have been active in North Church for many years and are leaving the city to take up their residence on a farm near Mendon.

At a meeting of the Young People's Sunday Evening Group held on Sunday evening at the close of their regular discussion, it was decided to hold informal gatherings of the young people of senior high school age and over, Saturday evenings in the parish house. Friends of North Church young people will be welcome to attend these gatherings when games, music and light refreshments will be enjoyed at a nominal cost. Charles Richardson was appointed chairman of a committee on arrangements.

The Women's Society will meet on Thursday, March 16, and hear Mrs. Wilbour Saunders, wife of the new executive secretary of the Federation of Churches, the guest speaker. Her topic is "The Foreigner in America." Young people of the church will be guests on this occasion. Supper will be served at 6:30.

On March 17 there will be a Young People's St. Patrick Party to which the young people of the church and their friends will be welcome.

Redeemer Lutheran—Lenten services will be held each Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. W. L. Dowler, will present a series of meditations on the Gospel of Christ's Passion, and the chorus choir will sing. All members and friends of Redeemer are urged to be present for all the Wednesday evening and Sunday morning services during this holy season, and to be faithful in their daily devotions.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Bethany Guild will hold its regular monthly meeting in charge of Mrs. W. J. Ohlrich, president. The Church Council holds its monthly meeting at the same hour with Harry Peters, the newly-elected president of the Church Council, in charge.

The Brotherhood Bible Class is looking forward to a special anniversary service Sunday morning, March 19, at 9:30 o'clock, in the church auditorium. The Rev. Wilbour E. Saunders, new executive secretary of the Federation of Churches, will be the speaker. All federated Bible classes of this district are invited to attend this service. Roy Duffus and James Ropes of the Federated Association of Men's Bible Classes are also expected to be present to bring a brief word of greeting. The class meets every Sunday morning in the parish house at 9:45 o'clock with William C. Storandt as teacher. All men of the community are invited to attend.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, March 15. The meeting will begin with a luncheon served promptly at one o'clock followed by the missionary program presented by Mrs. Harry Faber. Mrs. George Seel will have charge of the business meeting.

Lewiston Avenue M. E.—Last Sunday morning Rev. Kazmayer spoke on "A Live Dog or a Dead Lion" and at the evening service Rev. Cecil Wilson, the youngest preacher in the city, with the exception of Rev. Kazmayer, occupied the pulpit. The choir of the Seneca M. E. Church, of which Rev. Wilson is pastor, assisted in the service.

The Ladies' Aid held another of their famous dinners Tuesday. Wednesday evening, the Rev. Shirley Travis was the speaker at the mid-week prayer service.

The Ladies' Aid will hold their monthly meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. Cummings, 306 Ridgeway avenue. All ladies are invited to attend.

Tomorrow night is monthly Church Nite. A pancake supper is served from 6 to 7:30; home talent entertainment from 7:30 to 8:30; after which the Rev. Frank Sayers will speak on "The Fire of Flaming Youth." This event is being sponsored by the Boys' Scout Troop which meets at the church, and Stanley Moore's Class.

The Sunday School Board will hold their monthly meeting Tuesday at the home of Miss Edna Westfall, 668 Ridge road.

Next Thursday the Primary Teachers will make clam chowder at the church to be sold, proceeds to be used to decorate primary rooms. Orders to be delivered may be placed with any primary teacher or by phoning the primary superintendent, Mrs. Stanley Moore, Char. 54-W.

Fathers and friends of scouts are keeping in mind April 1 and 2, the dates set for their next over-night hike to Three Lakes.

Grace M. E.—The Maplewood Chapter will put on a supper Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock for 25 cents. Mrs. M. DeVlieger is president of this group.

The Young Women's Missionary Society will hold their monthly meeting at the home of their president, Miss Florence Metz, 881 Dewey avenue.

The Ladies' Missionary Society will meet at the church on Monday evening, March 6, at eight o'clock. Mrs. E. D. Shepard will be the guest speaker for the evening. All ladies are invited.

The Fellowship Class held a theatre party last Thursday evening under the direction of Lester Barager, president of the class.

Geo. Wolfe of Thurston road was elected president of the Men's Class and E. J. Thompson of Selye terrace was elected vice-president.

Christadelphian, Kay Terr., near Glenwood—Sunday services are: 10:30 a. m. Adult Bible Classes and Sunday School; 11:45 a. m. Memorial Service; 7:30 p. m. "Knowledge of God."

BLACKHAWK DIVISION BOY SCOUT NEWS

Last Saturday night the swimmers from Troop 68 of Sacred Heart Church won top honors in the Blackhawk Division meet by a large margin and also earned the right to defend the prestige of the division in the all-city meet to be held in a few weeks. Led by their fellow-scout and trainer, Bernard Munding, the boys from Troop 68 nearly doubled the score of their closest rivals. Judging from the work of these boys last Saturday night and knowing that they are experienced in swimming meets, it is reasonable to conclude that they have a fine opportunity to repeat in the city championship meet with the best troops of the other divisions.

It is only fair to say, however, that certain other troops of the division made excellent showings Saturday night. Particular attention may be paid to the efforts of Scout Warner of Troop 39 who, owing to the fact that his teammates misunderstood the time of the meet, found himself as the sole representative of his team. According to the rules of the contest he could enter only two events. He came off with the maximum for his solo performance—two firsts, in diving and breast stroke.

The boys from the Rochester Deaf School were little counted upon to make much showing, but they surprised everyone and were barely nosed out of second place by the Troop 27 lads. The summary of the meet is as follows:

Relay—Troop 68, first; Troop 29, second; Troop 101, third; Troop 27, fourth.

Diving—Wagner, 39, first; Hall, 27, second; Munding, 68, third; Edell, 68, fourth.

40-yard free style—Munding, 68, first; Teachout, 29, second; Baybutt, 81, third; Schantz, 101, fourth.

40-yard breast stroke—Wagner, 39, first. All others disqualified.

40-yard back stroke—Hastings, 68, first; Capella, 29, second; DeSimon, 68, third; Baybutt, 81, fourth.

100-yard free style—Hall, 27, first; Hastings, 68, second; Culver, 29, third; Dolan, 101, fourth.

20-yard cross-chest carry life-saving demonstration—Hall and Nichols, 27, first; Peer and Smith, 81, second; Hanley and Waiters, 101, third. Fourth and others disqualified.

Totals—Troop 68, 26 points;

Deputy Commissioner Charles Legg announces that the next Board of Review for scouts who wish to be examined for higher ratings will be held on the night of March 14, at the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church. This meeting of the examiners is one of two remaining before the Divisional Court of Honor in April. It is advisable that those prepared to be examined at the next meeting be there for review, in order to be eligible to receive awards at the Court of Honor.

Spring Training Program

The annual spring training program of the Rochester Council will get under way next Wednesday night, March 8. Elementary courses for new men and those desiring additional training in both troop work and sea scouting will be provided. The groups will meet for the first time at the headquarters of Troop 16, Church street at North Plymouth.

All adult scout leaders, including committeemen, other men interested in boy work and old time scouts are invited to join in this program. Further information may be obtained from the Boy Scout Office, 77 South avenue, Main 1205.

Shanghai's Busy Bund.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

TO SHANGHAI'S already complex newspaper world was recently added another foreign language paper—the Deutsche Shanghai Zeitung, which as its name implies, is printed in German. Two British, two American, many Chinese, a French, and other foreign language newspapers in addition to the German language paper are an index to the cosmopolitan aspect of the city. This aspect, too, is shown in the city's latest census where are recorded peoples of fifty foreign nationalities, and Chinese speaking nearly all the numerous dialects of China.

Shanghai is the greatest seaport in the Far East and emporium to one-eighth of the human race. A bold skyline of steel and concrete now rises where reeds once waved over marshy flats. The wide Bund, which throbs with the kaleidoscopic march of motors, electric trams, and other traffic, extends along the water front where boat trackers once beat a narrow footpath. Paper lanterns change to neon lights for advertising display signs; beside ubiquitous Chinese cabbage now are supplies of caviar; from fishing to high finance has been the city's growth.

At the end of the first year after it was formally opened as a treaty port, 1843, Shanghai could marshal for statistical evidence of foreign enterprise and industry only "23 foreign residences, one consular flag, 11 business firms, and two missionaries." Today it domiciles nearly 60,000 foreigners; 17 consular flags wave in the Shanghai breezes and others have representation; business firms are legion, and the city is headquarters for countless phases and branches of missionary and other activities.

For a small fishing village, hiding behind fortifying walls for protection against the inroads of Japanese pirates (aided frequently by Chinese of the same calling), and doing only a limited amount of trade with coastal junks, to expand and become the fifth largest seaport of the world in less than 90 years is no mean accomplishment in any land; but in China this transition is an even greater marvel.

To find the reason for this remarkable transformation, one need not search far. A glance at the geography of its position reveals why Shanghai should logically take rank as China's key seaport.

Ideal Distributing Center.

Its situation, approximately midway along the China coast, makes it at once the most natural distributing center for extensive trade with coastal ports; but of far greater importance is the fact that Shanghai commands the vital position for commerce at the very outlet of the whole Yangtze river system.

In all the world it is doubtful whether there is another equally extensive region of wealth where the people depend as solely upon a single artery of traffic and upon one entrepot as do the inhabitants of the Yangtze basin. Approximately 200,000,000 people, half of the population of entire China, live in this fertile area, utilizing the river, its tributaries, and its network of canals as their chief means of communication. Their needs, beyond those supplied directly or indirectly by the products of their own hands, make business for Shanghai.

As one's steamer cleaves the muddy Yangtze waters and enters the Whangpoo on the approach of Shanghai, there is little to indicate that one is entering China unless a fleet of native fishing junks happens to be moving out to sea at the time.

Today the skyline that marks Shanghai's water front is decidedly occidental in appearance and most strikingly impressive—an effect due in part, perhaps, to its contrast with the flat alluvial plain rather than to the actual heights of the buildings. Until the present century, low, commodious Chinese buildings of two-and-three-story structures served a majority of the business concerns; but the introduction of excellently equipped modern offices has initiated a period of extensive building.

In a few minutes' walk from the most up-to-the-moment districts of Shanghai, however, one can be in surroundings that are little altered since the day when the first foreign firm marked out its business site in the muddy concession.

Even the Native City Changes.

Within the Nantao district, at the southern side of the city, lies the old Chinese settlement, or Native City. Modernization has been slow to move in this locality, and native life takes much the same course that it followed before steamship screws began stirring up the muddy Whangpoo around the fishing junks and sampans.

Even here, however, there have been changes. Since the republic has come into existence, the old wall that surrounded the city has been demolished. Narrow cobbled streets with open sewers running down their centers gradually have given way to more cleanly concrete passages. Loathsome beggars have somehow been reduced in numbers, although there are still more than enough of the pitiable wretches wandering about the streets. A few timely fires have been a godsend in clearing out several disease traps and pestholes, which have since been rebuilt with somewhat better structures.

North of the International Settlement lies the thickly populated Chinese district of Chapel. Chapel borders upon the Soochow Creek boundary and is just back of the foreign district of Hongkew. This district, before the recent bombardments, was somewhat more modern and progressive than the Native City region. Here, in Chapel, were located large Chinese business concerns devoted to exporting and importing. Here had sprung up offices, factories, and printing establishments, among the last named the Commercial Press, largest publishing concern in China, valued at one and a quarter million dollars.

But the focus of all Shanghai is the foreign settlements, for in them have been the remarkable incentive and expanding force that have built this modern seaport. First allotted a portion of land on the south side of Soochow creek, following the Treaty of Nanking, in 1842, when Shanghai was indicated as one of the five treaty ports. British business established itself and expanded, digging drains and filling canals to make the concession habitable.

Foreign Settlements.

Six years later France was conceded the territory between the British concession and the Native City, and only a few years afterward Americans leased land in the Hongkew district, which extends along the Whangpoo water front north of Soochow creek, where the river makes a sharp curve to the right.

This so-called American settlement was never organized as such, but was incorporated with the British district in 1863. Thus came into being the International Settlement, premier nucleus of modern Shanghai. Other portions of land have been added on the west, where old-timers used to bag snipe in off days from their offices.

The French chose to remain apart and today continue to administer their own concession as a separate unit.

The years have sent a fast-moving panorama since the early days when the International territorial fusion came into being, received nourishment, and became what has often been termed "The Model Settlement." The administration of the International Settlement has been in many ways a unique experiment, perhaps without parallel in any other place; and results make it evident that the Shanghai municipal council has served the settlement

Ridgemont Club Ladies Entertained at Bridge
A card party for members and friends was held Monday evening at the clubhouse by the ladies of Ridgemont Golf Club. This was one of a series of events planned by the entertainment committees, headed by Mrs. W. E. Bowersock and Fred J. Kress.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. C. Vincent Wiser, Mrs. Brainard Wilson, Mrs. Oscar Sprague, Mrs. Thomas Archibald, Mrs. John Newton, Mrs. George Hayes, Mrs. Otto Seebach, Miss Anne Olsen, Mrs. Homer Piper.

Mrs. Ray Van DeVate, Mrs. James Gallagher, Mrs. W. E. Jones, Miss Violet Green, Mrs. Donald McGhee, Mrs. Paul Maier, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mrs. Frank Quinn, Mrs. Silas Scinta, Mrs. C. Bramley and Mrs. E. H. Pattison.

John Marshall, Champs, Preparing for Classic
Completing their league schedule with only one defeat, and that after clinching the title, John Marshall's basketball team is now preparing for the district tournament to be held later this month. The Marshallites, coached by Al Makin, well-known Tenth Warder, seem capable of continuing their winning streak in the scholastic classic.

The champions lined up this year with the following players: Louis Pilaroscia, George Smith, co-captains, Nick Nucchi and Joseph Triano, Edgar Sonderman, Frank Gratzler, Henry Klein, Salvatore Isabella and Robert Sizer.

well.

Because Shanghai has not always had a peaceful career, troops of the four chief foreign nationalities have been maintained to give necessary protection to the residents of the city. Shanghai has also had a volunteer corps with a personnel of more than 2,000, which was organized at the time of the stress of the Taiping rebellion, in 1854, and has been mobilized at various intervals of necessity during strikes and when the pot of Chinese political affairs has been boiling over.

Big, bustling Shanghai, this titan of commerce in Far Asia, lives beyond the boundaries of any one settlement or nationality; it commands all of them together for its life and trade. Well beyond three million people are numbered in the districts that form the whole of greater Shanghai.

"KID FROM SPAIN" IS SCHEDULED BY RIVIERA

Securing as a second-run feature, one of the season's outstanding hits, the Riviera Theatre this week displayed its leadership among neighborhood theaters. Manager Edward C. May announces that "The Kid from Spain," Eddie Cantor's third and best starring vehicle for Samuel Goldwyn, will be shown at the Riviera from Friday, March 10, through Tuesday, March 14.

This picture continues Cantor's plans with Goldwyn of one film a year. Last year there was "Palmy Days" and the season before, "Whoopie," but, successful as those were, Eddie believes he has more than topped them with "The Kid from Spain."

In other words, this is Eddie's annual screen song-and-dance comedy. It is the story of a button-eyed lad, who, getting kicked out of school with his roommate for suspicious goings-on in a girls' dormitory, gets involved in a bank robbery and escapes to Mexico disguised as a prominent bullfighter, there accepting the acclaim due to the man he is impersonating until forced to go into a real bullfight. Nonsense and song make up most of the picture and make of it a gay, romantic fable of love, shot through with dark, smiling eyes and matadors.

St. Patrick's Descendants Welcomed To Annual Republican Dance Tomorrow

Irish patriots of the ward, whether patriotic by birth or adoption, will rally around the shamrock tomorrow (Friday) night for a bit of a jig with the Tenth Ward Republican Organization, whose annual dance and entertainment is listed for Edgerton Park Assembly Hall. Over 3,000 are expected to attend.

Everything will be mindful of the "old sod," from hat checks to hall decorations. A green color scheme even adorns the 76-page program which will be passed out at the door. The program, incidentally, is considered quite an accomplishment from the point of view of size as well as design. It is dedicated to Dr. Joseph L. Guzzetta, Councilman-at-large and chairman of the affair. New pictures of Dr. Guzzetta, Charles E. Bostwick, Councilman Nelson A. Milne and Mrs. Bertha Bush are included. A directory of information about city government is a new feature.

The entertainment will consist of 11 acts of vaudeville as follows: Dance by Patricia Pierce and Alta Marsh Jones, soprano solo by Rose Ann Saetta, xylophone solo by Louis Ruf, song and dance by the O'Connor Twins, soprano solo by Lena Milanetti, dance by Betty Shults, song and dance by The Three Musketeers, musical number by WHAM King, Queen and Jack, Jack o' Hearts by Jack Driscoll, Hickey-Freeman Quartet and Florence Colebrook Powers Dance Revue.

Following the entertainment the remainder of the evening will be spent in dancing.

The general committee headed by Dr. Guzzetta, includes Joseph H. Bush, secretary, and Merton J. DeWitt, treasurer; Councilman Nelson A. Milne, tickets; Edward A. Krauss, program; Sherman Pierce, entertainment; Mrs. Kathryn A. Reynell, decoration; Arthur Milanetti, music; Harry Preston, door; Frank R. O'Brien, refreshments; John H. Makin and Frances L. Thompson, floor; Fred LeWalter, stage arrangement; Frank E. Lane and Clarence R. Pihler, checking; Angeline Pasquale, favors; Robert F. Clifford, Jr., printing; Joseph G. Schnepf, ushers; Donald N. Morris, publicity. Charles E. Bestwick is honorary chairman.

Young Republican Men Meet Tonight at Club

A meeting of the Tenth Ward Young Men's Republican Club will be held tonight in the club rooms on Lewiston avenue promptly at 8. All members are urged to attend.

First reports will be made on the drive for new members and it is hoped that the district committeemen will see that their districts are fully represented.

Arrangements are being made to have either Tom Davies or Edward Burke as the speaker for this meeting. The former is football coach at the University of Rochester and the latter is the well known Bertillon expert from the police bureau.

Much important business has arisen since the last meeting, three weeks ago, and will be discussed at this time.

Miss Dorothy Rhodes of Lake avenue is chairman of the arrangements committee with the following people as committee members: Allene Hoestery, Curlew street; Harriet Miller, Glenwood avenue; Isabel Bates, Glenwood avenue; Adelaide Bauer, Lakeview park; Bernard Bullock, Avis street; Charles Richardson, Cheltenham road; John Swain, Locust street; Robert King, Admiral park; William Muir, Curtis street.

George Schaffer's Orchestra will furnish the music.

New Vets Organization Planning Smoker Apr. 7

The newly organized Veterans' Memorial Post, No. 2789, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is making plans for its first affair, a smoker to be held at B. & B. Hall on Friday, April 7. Tickets are now available from members.

The committee in charge is headed by Fred O'Connor and includes John Richards, William Maher and Daniel Foley. The proceeds of the smoker will benefit the unemployed of the post. Twelve acts of vaudeville will be included in the program. There will also be refreshments.

The post, which has taken its name from the new Ridge road bridge, is organized principally in the Tenth Ward. New members are being sought to bring the roster up to 150.

Sun.—Mon.—Tues Review Ruth Chatterton in "Frisko Jenny," has a typical "Diamond Lil" role.

The polished and dignified actress turns entirely away from her recent society roles in her latest starring vehicle, and reverts to a character part similar to those in which she made some of her early and most outstanding successes, such as "Madam X" and "Sarah and Son."

In "Frisko Jenny" she appears as the Queen of the Demi-monde, who rules her kingdom with an iron hand, a woman hard and unscrupulous, yet with an underlying tenderness and so unsurpassable a love for her only son, that she goes to the gallows with sealed lips rather than acquaint him with his mother's shame.

"Frisko Jenny" is a stirring and glamorous tale of the old Barbary Coast of San Francisco, with its temples of pleasure, its gilded dives and gambling dens which formed the background for the wild orgies of the young bloods of the city a quarter of a century ago.

"No Man of Her Own" is Clark Gable's first starring role since "Red Dust" and "Strange Interlude."

Gable is supported by Carole Lombard and Dorothy Mackaill, who play contrasting romantic roles.

The star plays the role of a suave, sophisticated gambler, who, not content to trust to luck, fixes the high-stake poker games in

REDEEMER CLASS FIRST ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

Brotherhood Bible Class of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will celebrate its first anniversary with special services Sunday morning at 9:30 in the church auditorium. The Rev. Wilbour E. Saunders, executive secretary of the Federation of Churches, will be the chief speaker, Alfred Doe, class president, and Roy A. Duffus, president of the Federated Bible Class Association, will bring greetings. A male chorus will sing Gounod's "Praise Ye the Father," and Harold Long will sing the offertory solo.

All Men's Bible Classes of this district have been invited to attend. The Women's Bible Classes and also the Young Men's Class of Redeemer will join in this anniversary service. William C. Storandt is the teacher of the Brotherhood Class, which meets every Sunday morning at 9:45 in the north parlor of the Parish House.

Maplewood "Y" Holds Father and Son Night

The program sponsored by the Boys' Council of the Maplewood Y. M. C. A. and conducted by the Leaders' Corps for the boys of the membership and their fathers on March 1 had an attendance of 300 dads and their sons.

The honors of the evening went to Jim and Raymond Casey, the diminutive Tenth Ward pugilists. They demonstrated what two youngsters can learn about the art of boxing if properly trained. Both fathers and sons took part in games and enjoyed movies of camp life and refreshments.

which he participates so that only one man can win—Clark Gable. But, after he has gone to a small town to avoid the too-persistent efforts of a detective who has set himself on his trail, and the too-adorable attentions of Miss Mackaill, a former sweetheart, he gambles against luck alone, and loses. For, on her dare, he flips a coin with Miss Lombard, with "tails" meaning marriage. Tails turns up. His new wife with him, he returns to the city, to find events closing around him. Miss Mackaill pesters him, the detective hounds him, and most surprising of all, from his own point of view, he finds himself in love with his wife.

No. 40 P. T. A. Addressed By Florence Winchell

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent Teachers' Association of John Warrant Castleman School No. 40 was held March 9. Miss Florence Winchell, superintendent of Parent Education, talked on "Character Building Through Activities" and was followed by a discussion.

Jean Hyland gave a reading and Dorothy Spain a selection on the piano. Mrs. Wesley Kinley was chairman of the refreshment committee. Mrs. Gordon Weller, Mrs. Elmer Corp and Mrs. Jas. Aponte were assisting hostesses.

The next meeting will be held at the school on April 13.

Officers Re-elected by No. 41 Parent-teachers

Mrs. Hugh A. Smith, Jr., president of the Rochester Better Films Co., was the speaker at the regular meeting of Kodak Park School Parent-Teacher Association held March 9.

David Densmore, principal of the school and chairman of the nominating committee, presented his report. It was unanimously accepted and the following were re-elected for next year:

President, Mrs. Arthur Lohwater; first vice-president, Mrs. Merton Frederick; second vice-president, Mrs. James Logan; recording secretary, Mrs. Clarence Penley; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clarence Raysor.

Officers of Kodak Park P. T. A. cannot serve more than two consecutive terms. Accordingly, Miss Ann Heath was elected to the office of treasurer, Miss Esther Averill having served two terms.

A card party will be held at Mrs. Arthur Lohwater's home, 27 Dorothey avenue, on March 24. It will begin at 8:30 p. m. sharp. Bridge and pinocle will be played. There will be refreshments and prizes. Mrs. Leslie McCowan will co-operate with Mrs. Lohwater as hostess.

MARATHON-WALKATHON NOW IN 400th HOUR

Rochester's newest amusement is the World's Championship Marathon-Walkathon under way at 626 West Main street, featuring many of the stars of this latest development in the entertainment field. An original field of 57 couples has been reduced to about 20 as the contest enters its 400th hour.

Overcoming many of the objections that have been raised against marathons, the management of the contest has worked out a strictly regulated program and a systematic arrangement to safeguard the health of the dancing-walkers.

A physician, nurses and trainers are constantly in attendance and the contestants' physical condition is checked regularly. Each one is examined twice daily by the doctor and a chart shows condition of temperature, respiration, etc., at all times. Contestants are immediately disqualified if the physician does not find their condition good. Almost invariably, under these conditions, it is said that the dancing-walkers gain weight during the contest.

Seven meals a day are consumed, all prepared under the guidance of a dietician. A fully equipped hospital and rest rooms for men and women are provided, as well as shower baths in which each contestant must bathe at least once a day.

As evidence of their continued vitality, the contestants stage a floor show every night from 8 to 12. The entry list includes several vaudeville veterans, who because of discontinuance of stage entertainment at many of the theaters are out of employment, and as a consequence the show is well above the average from the entertainment viewpoint.

CHURCH NEWS

Dewey Ave. Presbyterian—On March 1 the Women's Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Neilly, closed a successful year with a luncheon, at which 153 were present.

Mrs. Paul R. Hoppe spoke on the "American Indian" and following this, reports were given by the ten circles into which the society is divided, under the leadership of the following as chairmen, Mesdames Arnold, Bleyler, Christie, Coster, Davidson, Maher, Poulton, Scofield, Skinner and Stilson. These showed a successful year both socially and financially, $921.45 being the total amount raised.

The Social Service department under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Wellington with the assistance of the circles accomplished much by many hours of volunteer service; at the Toy Depot and Lending Bureau; sewing for the Red Cross; Iola Sanatorium and Public Health Nursing Association; gifts to the Gospel Tabernacle; furnishing and serving lunch at the Rescue Mission; and furnishing food and clothing for needy families.

Many calls on new members, the sick and sorrowing, were reported by the chairman of Parish Aid, Mrs. G. E. Critchell. Besides cards of cheer and sympathy were sent to ill members or flowers in case of death by the flower chairman, Mrs. H. S. Chapman.

Mrs. Rolfe Scofield, the representative to the Council of Church Women, told of their work and plans for the ensuing year.

After these encouraging reports, the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. A. H. Neilly; first vice-president, Mrs. Donald Cameron; second vice-president, Mrs. Harry Sadden; secretary, Mrs. James Carmichael; corresponding secretary, Miss Grace Gilson; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Nelson.

The meeting was brought to a close with prayer by Rev. A. H. Neilly.

Lewiston M. E.—Next Sunday will be Loyalty Sunday and Rev. Kazmayer will speak on "A Partnership Unaffected By Depression." Pledges for the year will be received. In the afternoon canvassers will visit members not attending the morning service.

The canvassing team will consist of Wm. E. Turner, Charles E. Campbell, Joseph Oughterson, Fred Wishneck, Harry Walker, Stanley E. Moore, Robert Hambleton, Franklyn Johns, Gerald Merry, Floyd Wheeler, Leonard Pauley, George Hartman and Wm. A. Bishop. Dinner for the canvassers will be served at 12 at the church.

In the evening the choir will present a Fanny Crosby Program under the direction of Miss Hazel Rogers.

Mid-week devotional theme for the next three weeks is "Practicing the Presence," a series of meditations on fellowship with the Master. Services at 7:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman, 21 Goodwill street.

Rev. Salter will address the Missionary meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. W. D. Smith, 347 Avis street. The Teachers' Training Class meets tonight at the home of Mrs. Parkhouse on Owen street, Miss Edna Westfall will have charge.

The Epworth League will hold their annual banquet tomorrow evening at the church. All young people are urged to attend. Tickets can be obtained from members.

On Tuesday, March 21, the Ladies' Aid will hold another of their famous dinners.

Grace M. E.—The Shepard Class will hold a class party at the home of Mrs. Lee Heit, 1548 West Ridge road on Monday evening, March 20, starting with supper at 6:30. For reservations phone Mrs. A. Watkins, Glen. 44-J, or your group leader. Dr. and Mrs. Shepard and Dr. and Mrs. Clarkson will be guests.

The Bills Class will hold its regular monthly supper meeting at the home of Miss Florence Metz, 881 Dewey avenue, the same evening at 6:30. Miss Ethel Moore is president of this class.

Tomorrow (Friday) evening the Dramatic Club will present two one act plays, "The Whole Truth" by L. Barabees and "The Ghost Story" by B. Tarkington. Jerome Smith

Redeemer Lutheran—The Third Sunday in Lent will be celebrated Sunday morning with sermon by the Rev. W. L. Dowler on the theme "The Way of Spiritual Culture."

All adult members of the congregation are urged to attend the anniversary service of the Brotherhood Bible Class at 9:30 on Sunday, when the Rev. Wilbour E. Saunders, D. D., will give the address. There were 49 present to hear the regular teacher, William C. Storaandt, give an exposition of the Biblical lesson last Sunday.

Lenten services are held each Wednesday evening at 7:45 in the church auditorium with a devotional address on some phase of the Passion History by the pastor, and special music by the chorus choir.

Young people will hold a St. Patrick's social meeting in the Parish House tonight with Leonard Hamner, Helen Woehr and Leonard Miller in charge of the arrangements. A short business session will be held to decide whether the musical entertainment, "The New Minister," will be repeated in the interest of the No. 41 School P. T. A. All who took part in this entertainment are urged to be present.

The young people of Redeemer have accepted the invitation to join with the young people of the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church in their Sunday evening devotional meeting on March 26, beginning with a fellowship supper and Robert Ottman will sing solos and Miss Marjorie Scott will give a reading.

Tickets for the play are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. The proceeds will be used for welfare work in the parish and community. The public is invited.

On Wednesday evening, March 22, there will be a supper meeting for the teachers and officers of the Sunday School. Supper will be served at 10 cents each. The plans for the remaining months will be discussed and acted upon. Every teacher and officer is urged to reserve this date. Harvey Lockwood and Howard Maurinus are in charge.

A supper meeting of the Happiness Class was held recently at the home of the president, Miss Madeleine Mong, Merrill street. A business meeting followed the supper which was served at 6:30. Miss Elizabeth M. Beal, teacher, reported that Mrs. Aeschleman, a missionary on leave from China, has consented to speak to the class on March 20 in the church parlor. All the older girls' classes of the Senior High department are invited to attend.

North Presbyterian—On Monday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Forest, Ravine avenue, young women of North Church met for the purpose of organizing a new circle of the Women's Society. The officers selected were Mrs. C. W. Colburn, chairman; Miss Allene Hoesterey, vice-chairman; Miss Gladys Frederick, secretary; and Mrs. W. R. Wishart, treasurer.

Tonight at 6:30, the regular March meeting of the Women's Society will be the Annual Young People's Night. Supper will be followed by a program with William Muir, in charge of devotions and Mrs. Wilbour Saunders, wife of the executive secretary of the Federation of Churches, as guest speaker, on the topic, "The Foreigner in America." The regular meeting of the Executive Committee of the Society will take place at 5:30 with Mrs. Elmer C. Forest, the newly elected president, presiding. At 8:15, following Mrs. Saunders' talk, the members of the society will hold their regular monthly business meeting.

Men of North Church will meet Tuesday for dinner and a program following, with Dr. John W. Laird of Brighton Presbyterian Church, as guest speaker. Topic: "What's Right With America."

Christadelphian—Kay terrace, near Glenwood avenue—10:30 a. m., adult Bible classes and Sunday School; 11:45, memorial service; 7:30 p. m., "God's Dealings With the Human Race."

HOLY ROSARY DOINGS

Decorations appropriate for an old-fashioned St. Patrick's Day party will feature the social to be held by the parish members tomorrow night in Holy Rosary Hall. Fiddlers and callers have promised to get festivities under way at 9 sharp.

During the intermission a well-known singer will endeavor to touch the heart-strings of real and adopted sons and daughters of St. Patrick with a selection of Irish ballads.

The Holy Name Society will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday evening at 8:15.

New Democratic Club is Named for Mrs. Roosevelt

At the second meeting of the newly organized branch of the Tenth Ward Women's Democratic Club, the members unanimously voted to call this branch the "Eleanor Roosevelt Club."

After the business meeting, card games and checkers were played and refreshments were served.

The next meeting is to be held Monday, March 20, at club headquarters on Driving Park avenue. M. DiBiase will be the speaker.

Admitted to Medical School of Rochester

Two young men of the ward, both graduates of Aquinas Institute, were recently notified of their admission to the class starting in September at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry. Both are juniors in the Arts College and their admission to the medical school is considered a signal honor in view of their having completed only three years of preparatory work.

The young men so honored are Thomas F. Keyes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Keyes of Dove street and Edward Callahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Callahan of Seneca parkway.

About Frogs

Preparing Frog Legs for Epicures.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—W.S.U. Service.

FROGS, once famous only for their hind legs, but whose skins now make book covers and fine glue, annually add more than $130,000 to the industrial census figures of Louisiana. Frog raising and the collection of frogs from streams, ponds, and swamps are therefore becoming important activities.

It requires from four to five years for the frog whose legs are edible to reach adult size. When the warm spring sun tempers the water in our ponds, it is mating-time for frogs. A female frog may lay as many as 240 eggs. The eggs are deposited in small masses on water plants or on sticks or leaves lying in shallow water. An egg consists of the yolk—the round black center—and the vitelline envelope—the surrounding transparent membrane—which begins to absorb water as soon as the egg is laid, and thus immediately swells to be several times its original size.

But already danger besets the germ of life growing there. A gray fungus or mold may penetrate the envelope, sprout upon the yolk, and thus cut off the life of the little frog before it has well begun. But if fate is kind and conditions are favorable, the central yolk, at first a single cell, begins at once to grow, dividing into two cells, these into four, these into eight, and so on in the typical way.

Under favorable conditions, the tadpole hatches on the fourth day. At first it is a minute, flattened, yellowish object, with conspicuous branching filaments, its gills at one end and a coarse, rudderlike appendage, the tail, at the other.

Development of Tadpole.

In a few days, when its mouth parts have begun to develop, it nibbles the "scum" of green algae which forms a dense mat over every submerged stone or pebble in the stagnant pool.

The mouth of the tadpole is not at all like that of the adult frog. A sharply hooked beak, suggesting that of a parrot, but almost microscopic in size, adorns the front of the tadpole's head and is useful as a means of scraping and tearing at the minute water plants and animals which it takes for food.

At this stage tadpoles are scavengers, and fortunate are they to find the crumbs that fall from the rich man's table in the form of fragments of fish or other food left by larger and more careless banqueters in Nature's storehouse. This rich fare fattens the tadpole's body to ridiculous rotundity. His tiny, lidless eyes stare solemnly upward at the water surface, to which he must now rush every few moments for a lungful of air, as his gills are beginning to be absorbed and he has had since to depend largely on his two nostrils, equipped with valves to keep them closed and water-tight during his submarine excursioning, augmented by a spiraculum, or breathing pore, at the left side of his body.

Before the tadpole is many weeks old a pair of budlike growths sprouts near the base of the tail, and shortly these elongate into a pair of hind legs equipped with five toes, which closely resemble those of the adult. At this stage a marvelous power of regeneration may take place, for if a toe or even a leg is nipped off, another one will grow in the place, an exact duplicate of the one lost. After metamorphosis is complete, this regenerative power ceases to function and a limb once lost is not regrown.

Comes Out of the Water.

Some days after the legs appear, the right arm comes out. Now the little tadpole stays near the top of the water nearly all the time and seems very uncomfortable, and no wonder. His left arm is developing just where the breathing pore is located. As soon as it bursts through his troubles are lessened, for now he can hop out on the bank in true frog fashion and breathe the air freely; for, as we have seen, his nostrils have been functioning for some time as air-breathing organs.

With the formation of his legs his head structure has likewise changed. The scraping black beak gave place to the wide mouth charpotentially injurious, the majority of the amphibians escape anything resembling close and protracted study until relatively recent years. It was not until about two centuries ago that the facts of hibernation were definitely known to science. Before that time it was believed that frogs were precreated from the mud—an idea proposed by no less an observer than the illustrious Aristotle himself.

Characteristic of the adult frog, the staring eyes acquired lids and nictitating membrane, a tympanum appeared, a definite color pattern showed on the skin, and some glandular cells arranged themselves in characteristic roughened areas all over the back.

Only the tail remains to tell of his former aquatic habits. Day by day it, too, is absorbed into the body, just as were the gills in the very early stages, until at last our little frog is completely metamorphosed and can go freely on shore with his brothers to catch flies among the plants bordering his ancestral pool.

It is now the end of July, and for the next two or three months his only occupation is eating and preventing himself from being eaten—enough to keep him busy and on the alert every instant.

At the approach of the sharp autumn weather he is about half an inch in length and half-grown. While he has no voice as yet, the mating call of his elders may occasionally be heard in the pool as late as September, for frogs are active over a long period of the year, and the breeding season may be said to last from April to September, reaching a peak at several different times, as warm weather and heavy rainfall favor it.

At the outset of winter everything is silent, but with sleep, not death. Near the border of the pond, buried under logs and stones in the mud, the little frogs have begun hibernation for the winter. A wise provision of nature slows down their life processes to suit them to this complete inactivity and apparent inanition.

Many Species Are Known.

While there are about two thousand species of tailless amphibians, we lack a corresponding number of common names for them. We must perforce call everything by the name of "frog" or "toad" although the several families grouped together as "toads," for instance, may be as different structurally and in habits from the true toad, as the lion is different from the camel, although both are mammals.

While most tailless amphibians deposit their eggs in water, with the tailed aquatic tadpole stage intervening between egg and adult, there is one tropical American genus, Eleutherodactylus, in which the young frog completes his metamorphosis entirely inside the egg-capsule, and when it is finally time for him to sally forth he comes out and hops away among the tree tops with no tail to impede him.

Other tropical frogs lay their eggs in the rain-filled axils of giant palm leaves perhaps a hundred feet high in the air. Here it is truly a case of rock-a-bye baby on the tree top to the little frog baby.

In his wind-rocked cradle of rain-water he may have strange bedfellows. Such a bromeliad reservoir from Jamaica yielded a young Eleutherodactylus and tadpoles belonging to two species of frogs, some small crabs, grasshoppers, arboreal cockroaches, a tarantula, and some earthworms, which live high in the air in the quart or two of soil and water which collects in the junctions of leaves with stem.

"Showers" of frogs and toads have been mentioned in the literature of very early times, and, while some of the tales are exaggerated, we know that showers of organic matter actually do occur when the entire contents of a pool are sucked up by a whirlwind and dropped perhaps miles away from their point of origin.

Peculiar superstitions exist about toads and frogs in many countries. Since most races of men observe closely only those creatures which are either directly useful to them or

BLACKHAWK DIVISION BOY SCOUT NEWS

At a recent meeting of the District Commissioners of the Rochester Area Council, Scout Commissioner Harry Bloss announced a plan whereby all scouts interested and showing some talent in news writing will be allowed to attend classes conducted by the chairman of the Executive Publicity Committee. At the end of this course one boy will be selected from each division in the city to be responsible for all news in his division.

To select the representatives from the Blackhawk Division all boys who desire to compete must attend the rally to be held at Kodak Park, March 28, and within 15 minutes after the conclusion of the rally submit a suitable news story of it. The articles are to be approximately 150 words in length, exclusive of the summary of events. All candidates must be registered scouts in good standing and must be of high school age.

It is evident that all troops of the division are conducting frequent and quite thorough practice sessions for the coming rally, although few are willing to admit it, hoping to be able to surprise some of their equally energetic scout competitors. Since Troop 12, Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church, has won the last two meets and needs only a victory in the coming event to become owners of the silver plaque, there is special reason for intensive practice on the part of all other troops.

Troop 50

At a meeting of the troop committee last week plans for the annual Father and Sons banquet were discussed. This year the banquet will be held on April 11 at Kodak Park.

Troop 12

Last Saturday 10 boys under Assistant Scoutmaster Francis Doohan went on an all-day hike to the woods around Riverside Cemetery. Most of the boys were able to find excellent mineral specimens.

Some patrols were reorganized last week. John Krueger is the new leader of the Beavers, John Manchester of the Owls and Harry Rice of the Flying Eagles.

Troop 81

A few days ago 45 scouts of Troops 50, 68 and 81 received safety instruction from Officer Joseph G. Baglin of the Rochester Police Department. The lecture was a part of the requirements for their Safety Merit Badges.

Last week Troop 81 met on Saturday instead of Wednesday and made a trip to Three Lakes in Durand-Eastman Park. Interest in the interpatrol contest, which will soon end, is becoming keen. The winning patrol will receive a patrol flag, and a hiking staff for each of its members. The prizes will be awarded at our Father-and-Son Overnight Trip, April 1. Service stars for the whole troop will also be presented at that time.

Last Saturday night Scoutmaster Stephen C. Pool and Mrs. Pool were surprised by the arrival at their new home in Swansea park of most of the parents and committee of the troop. The event was a house-warming party. Many useful gifts were presented.

Now the Story Can Be Told

If all Rochester stores had followed the lead of two of the large chain groups in Rochester last Friday morning, there would have been no public acceptance of "scrip" and it is not without the province of reason to state that a real panic might have occurred. Fortunately the neighborhood independents joined hands with downtown stores and accepted the "scrip" immediately, contributing in no small way to the ready co-operation of the public in this most essential emergency issue.

While awaiting word from their out-of-town headquarters as to whether or not they should accept "scrip," these two large chains refused to honor it, even though our "scrip" was backed by all the resources of Rochester banks. Until late Friday afternoon the managers had to turn away customers who had only "scrip" with which to pay for their merchandise.

There was co-operation in an emergency! How quickly their colors were displayed! What loyal hearts they had for good old Rochester!

Many a consistent chain store customer had his eyes opened for the first time. One woman who had traded with the same chain store for 14 years had to go to a nearby independent to make her purchases, because she had only "scrip." Her husband had received it in his pay envelope; they told him it would be accepted as money. What do you suppose were the thoughts running through that woman's mind when she found out it was only "paper" at her chain store? What person is there who would not have been seized with a terrible fear? Fortunately in this and hundreds of other instances, independents showed their utmost confidence in Rochester banks by accepting without question or delay this "scrip" money.

Moreover, it was not only "scrip" on which these chains showed their true colors. Did they accept checks? No, not unless you traded them out and even this privilege was denied by some. When Mrs. Shopper came in and said, "My husband didn't get paid. Can you trust me until the end of the week?" didn't they say, "We're sorry it's against the rules"?

Now when the debating groups get on the topic of chains, we hope they won't forget how these two out-of-town companies met our local emergency. Most certainly a good many housewives won't forget it.

North Presbyterian to Observe Golden Jubilee

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of North Presbyterian Church will be held in February, 1934. Already committees have been appointed and are now at work mapping out the rather extensive program that will extend over several days in celebration of the Golden Jubilee.

North Church began as a Mission Sunday School, meeting in School No. 7, on Lake avenue, early in 1869.

A small group of Christian workers, residing in the Ninth Ward, but mostly connected with Central Church, started the movement.

With no place to meet, the Board of Education granted use of a part of the public school building. Unable to use this longer a subscription was circulated among Central Church congregation and those of the Mission and enough money realized to purchase a lot at the corner of Fulton avenue, then Varum street, and Locust street and to erect a frame chapel.

To this new home the Mission moved in 1874. William A. Hubbard was superintendent of the Sunday School during the time it was a Mission and until the school became a part of the church organization.

The stone church now occupies the corner where the old chapel first stood. Afterward the chapel was moved back to where the stone chapel now is.

In 1882 church worship was begun in connection with the Sunday School. Rev. Peter Lindsay came to the Mission in 1883 and the following year he began working toward a church organization. This was realized in 1884, when the name North Presbyterian Church was adopted.

Rev. Robert Findlay is now pastor of North Church.

START REORGANIZATION OF FLOWER CITY CINEMA CLUB

Reorganization of the Flower City Cinema Club is under way. A meeting looking toward the reorganization was held recently and others are planned for the future. Former members and others interested are requested to call Frank Buehlman, Glen. 6139-W, or Dr. J. F. Schreiber, Gen. 151.

Veterans' Smoker Listed At B & B Hall on April 7

Veterans' Memorial Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is holding its first public affair on April 7, a smoker at B. & B. Hall, Driving Park avenue. Ticket sales indicate a large attendance, according to Fred O'Connor, chairman of the smoker committee.

The feature of the evening will be a 12-act program of vaudeville and dancing, including several well-known groups of local entertainers. Refreshments will also be served. Proceeds will benefit the unemployed of the post.

Assisting Mr. O'Connor on the committee are John Richards, William Maher and Daniel Foley. Tickets may be obtained from members or at the door.

Benefit Dance Planned For Holy Rosary Team

A benefit dance for the Holy Rosary Indoor baseball team will be held Friday, April 21, in Holy Rosary Hall. Proceeds will be used to defray entry fee in the Catholic League and other costs of the team.

Last year, the local nine had one of the best teams in its history. Defeating St. Andrews in the season play-off, Holy Rosary was presented the cup emblematic of the championship. Barney Agness, who pitched all games last season, will be with the team again this year.

Home Laundry Moves to Store on Lexington Ave.

The Banner Home Laundry, which was formerly located in Flanders street is now doing business at 280 Lexington avenue. As the name indicates the work is done there by methods the same as in the home. Each washing is handled individually and as a unit, water being changed for every washing. Everything is done by hand. G. J. LeVeque is owner.

Play Nursery Continues With Extended Program

The Paget Play Nursery School located at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Knickerbocker and Dewey avenues, has continued throughout the winter. In November the school moved from the Club House into the Parish House except for the Free Play Period which is always carried on out of doors in the play yard unless the weather is bad. At such times if it is not too damp or chilly the open air play room in the Club House is used.

A Saturday morning session has recently been started, which includes children from two to twelve years of age. The group is divided into two classes. The younger group is composed of children two to six years inclusive; the older group is composed of children seven to twelve inclusive.

Miss Eileen Finnigan, who was with Miss Paget last summer in the Play Group work, has just completed her Normal School course and has joined Miss Paget at the Play School.

The older group, with suggestions and encouragement from their leaders are getting themselves organized and are setting up some standards of their own.

Parents who are interested may get in touch with Miss Paget at 562 Magee avenue or by calling Glen. 2366-R.

Sacred Heart Association Meets Next Monday Night

The regular monthly meeting of Sacred Heart School Parent-Teachers' Association, Flower City park, will be held Monday evening, April 3, at 8:15.

The nominating committee at that time will make its report on the officers for the following year. Rev. Leo C. Mooney will give a talk on "Catholic Action."

A social hour with cards will follow the meeting.

RIVIERA FEATURE REVIEW

Week-end Program
Tonight—"No Other Woman" with Irene Dunne and Chas. Bickford; and "Goldie Gets Along" with Lili Damita.

Fri.-Sat.—"Laughter In Hell" with Pat O'Brien and Merna Kennedy; and "Hot Pepper" with Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen.
Sun.-Tues.—"They Just Had to Get Married" with Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts; and "The Bitter Tea of General Yen" with Barbara Stanwyck.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review
"Oh dear, my . . . oh, is he going to undress her right here?" Well, what would you think if you were the hostess at a sedate party and the shadow on a glass door leading to a balcony plainly showed a man in the act of removing a woman's stockings?

That is exactly what Zasu Pitts wonders, and that is why she asks the startled question of Roland Young, with whom she is conversing in the drawing room. But if she had only realized at the time that the man whose shadow she saw was her husband, Slim Summerville! And if Young had known that the woman was Verree Teasdale, the blonde married charmer with whom he himself was then carrying on an affair! But they found it out later, and then the fireworks began.

This is one of the amusing situations in "They Just Had To Get Married."
If a Chinaman ever approaches you and says "Ngo pay ni ti ung sup maan ngun," there's only one thing to do. Don't pull a gun. Don't sock him.
Just call the police and a notary public and have it put down officially. It means your troubles are over for life, for it means "I'll give you half a million dollars."

Of course, that's a half a million in Mex (the Chinese exchange) and therefore represents only $100,000 in American dollars, but still it would be sufficient to provide a comfortable income or—to bribe an entire Chinese Army.
Nils Asther prefers to bribe armies with his money, at least in "The Bitter Tea of General Yen," in which he, as General Yen, and Walter Connolly, as Schultz, his financial advisor, try to buy off Communist forces in order to maintain the security of Yen's province.
And the entire conversation of this wartime peace conference is carried on in Chinese, between Asther and four Chinese generals. The only English is spoken by Connolly.
The Kitty Kard Klub met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph K. Matthews of Flower City park. Prizes were won by Mrs. John Coolidge and Miss Fannie Culhane.
Mr. and Mrs. E. Saunders of Knickerbocker avenue entertained a party of 20 Saturday night. Pinochle was played and prizes were won by Mrs. J. Yockel, T. Annis, C. Saunders and Mrs. T. Annis.
Mr. and Mrs. John W. Baybutt of Dewey avenue entertained the P. K. Card Club at their home last Friday evening.
Miss Claire of the Claire Dress Shop spent several days in New York last week completing her spring selection of dresses, coats and suits. The stock of the Claire Shop is now complete for the Easter trade.
Miss Kathryn Doyle of Locust street is registered at The Roosevelt in New York City. She is on a buying trip for her hat shop.
Genevieve Allatt of the Allatt Beauty Shoppe returned last week after attending the sessions of the National Convention of Hair Dressers in New York City.

Open House For Mothers Of Marshall Frosh Apr. 6

Mothers of pupils who entered John Marshall High School this January will have an opportunity to become acquainted with the school Thursday afternoon, April 6, when the school holds Open House.

From 1 to 3 o'clock, the mothers will have a chance to visit classes. At 3 they will be entertained with a short program in the assembly followed by a discussion of "Student Problems in the High School" led by Principal Elmer W. Snyder.

Tea will be served to the mothers by a group of freshmen girls.

All freshmen will be given invitations to take home, but as there are apt to be some which never reach their destination, it is hoped that this notice may serve as official notification.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEES TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT

A business meeting for the Tenth Ward Democratic County and Ward Committees has been called for next Monday night at the Democratic Headquarters, 279 Driving Park avenue. All members are asked to be present.

RETURNS FROM N. Y.

Mrs. H. Daniels of the Thrift Hat Shop, 1550 Lake avenue, has just returned from New York with a complete line of beautiful millinery for miss and matron. The assortment includes 21 to 24 in. head sizes. A deposit will hold your hat 'til Easter. Open evens. 'til 9. Thrift Shop, 1550 Lake Ave., cor. Lapham, opp. Waggs Corners. It's smart to be thrifty.—Adv.

Mrs. Walter Lockwood of Birr street entertained her card club on March 16.

Troop 12 Wins Plaque at Blackhawk Division Rally

Editor's Note: The article below was written by Scout Hamley of Boy Scout Troop 101, Holy Rosary Church. It won the prize for journalism at the rally. All scouts interested in journalism were required to submit a report of the rally within 15 minutes after its conclusion. This is the article exactly as written.

At 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 28, with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, the Blackhawk Divisional Rally was opened at Kodak Park. Over 300 scouts and scouters from the nine troops participating gave color to the occasion. With such well-known scouters as Charley Legg, Monty Smith, Maurice Piker and many others acting as judges, the eight events of the Rally were run off in record time.

Troop 12, who needed but one more victory to win the silver plaque permanently, took first prize. Troop 50 came in second, with Troop 39 close on their heels. Troop 75 took fourth; 29, fifth; 81, sixth; 27, seventh; 68, eighth; and 101, ninth. Troop 12's representative was presented with the plaque. Scout Bugler Albert Baker of Troop 39 closed the Rally by blowing tops.

LAKEVIEW UNIT STUDIES "MASTER PATTERN" WED.

Lakeview Unit will meet next Wednesday at the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church at 1:30 p. m. The project is "Master Pattern," lead by Helen Easter and local leaders—Mrs. A. A. Lourette, Mrs. William Stanton and Mrs. Ida Brulle. There will be no meeting on April 12, members being requested to attend the meeting at Chamber of Commerce on April 11.

Republican Women Hear Dr. Muriel Brown Apr. 6

Regular monthly business meeting of Republican women of the ward will be held at the clubrooms, 840 Dewey avenue, Thursday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Muriel Brown, who has been physiatrist at the S. P. C. for a number of years, will be guest speaker. She will speak on "Care of the Child."

This is considered a subject of interest to all members and mothers of the Tenth Ward. Whether members or not, an invitation is extended to all women interested.

On Friday afternoons the club does welfare sewing, open to all members interested. Mrs. Bertha A. Bush has charge of this project. Those interested may call Glen. 5167 for information. Also, on Friday afternoons there is a dancing class headed by Miss Isabel Watson for children of members.

The clubroom is open for card playing on Wednesday afternoons. This week Mrs. Lucy Mackie was hostess. Tea and sandwiches were served.

From now until May 1 there will be rivalry between the membership teams. Mrs. C. E. Bostwick is captain of the Columbias and Miss Dot Cimino captains the Shamrocks.

Holy Rosary Sodalists Entertain at St. Ann's

The newly formed Mercy Committee of the Sodality of Holy Rosary Parish gave its first entertainment March 19 at St. Ann's Home. Music was furnished by the Paddy Hill Serenaders and Mr. Clark, old time fiddler. Specialty numbers included a song by Billy Springer, a dance by Anna O'Hara, a recitation by Mary Tobin, a dance by Marvin Le Frois, a song by Mary Louise Karnes and a piano recital by Arlene McKague, and a song by Clarice Casey.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Isabelle J. Gillette, proprietress of the new General Store at 348 Driving Park avenue, appreciates the many complimentary comments from those that have already visited her store. She extends a further invitation to others to call and inspect the fine line of ladies' coats, hats and dresses she is now able to show. Open evenings.—Adv.

CHURCH NEWS

Redeemer Lutheran—Brotherhood Bible Class will hold its monthly business and social meeting tonight at 8. The business meeting will be in charge of Alfred Doe, assisted by Wilfred Smith, Henry Taylor and Paul Lange. It is desired to have every member of the class present to decide whether the class will sponsor the coming of Stephen A. Haboush, native Galilean shepherd, to present a musical travelogue and lecture on the Holy Land. Fifty-five men were present last Sunday to hear W. C. Storandt present the lesson. The class meets each Sunday morning at 9:45.

Lenten services are held each Wednesday evening at 7:45 in the church auditorium. During Holy Week services will be held Wednesday and Good Friday evenings with the Holy Communion; community services Good Friday afternoon from 1:30 to 3 o'clock with meditations by the Rev. Andrew Neilly of the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church and by the Rev. W. L. Dowler.

Theme of the sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock will be "Look to Christ and Live!" based on the story of the brazen serpent made by Moses in the wilderness. The chorus choir will sing.

The Intermediate Luther League will meet next Sunday evening at 7 in the Parish House for a devotional meeting. Clayton Kress and Robert Storandt are in charge of arrangements.

North Presbyterian—The fifth "open house" was held Saturday evening by the Young People's Sunday Evening Group in the form of a horoscope party, with Max Schum as the guest horoscoped. On Saturday, April 1, a "Fool Party" will be the attraction, and guests are asked to arrive as near the hour of eight as possible. Miss Ruth Rogers will be the hostess. Charles Richardson is chairman of the committee in charge of "open house" arrangements.

At a luncheon given by Glenwood Circle of the Women's Society on Wednesday, March 29, Mrs. R. W. Sabin, Mrs. Cora DeVisser and Mrs. M. M. Finch were hostesses. Solos were contributed by Mrs. George R. Jones, with Mrs. B. H. Clement, accompanist. Readings were given by Mrs. John R. Bradley. Sixty women were present.

The Afternoon Circle meets today to work on hospital supplies for Strong Memorial Hospital.

The Hope Circle, a new group of the younger women of the church, will meet on Monday, April 3, at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. W. R. Wishart, 55 Tacoma street. Members are asked to bring things as work will be done for hospital supplies for the Ganado Mission. Mrs. Charles W. Colburn is president of the circle, Miss Gladys Frederick, secretary, and Miss Alene Hoesterer, vice-chairman. The circle's name was chosen in honor of the wife of the minister, Hope Logan Findlay.

Annual Meeting of the congregation to elect officers for the coming year will be held on Wednesday evening, April 5. Supper will be served by wives of the present church officers at 6:30 p. m., and reports of the year's work of the various organizations will be given.

Lewiston M. E.—Rev. Kazmayer took for his topic at the morning service last Sunday, "A Spoiled Dream." At the evening service he talked on "Convict Number One."

The Epworth League held their service at 6:30. Devotions were led by Gordon Green. Discussion, "Why Do We Believe In Religion," led by Rev. Shaw.

Community Nite will be observed tonight with a program including orchestra, solo, readings, travel pictures and devotional service led by Dr. Wilbour Saunders, secretary of the Federation of Churches. Everybody is invited. Supper will be served at 5:30.

The Baybutt Bible Class held their regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead on Clay avenue. Sunday School Board will meet Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parkhouse on Owen street. On Wednesday, April 5, a fish dinner will be served by the Ladies' Aid and the following day the ladies will hold their regular business meeting with Mrs. Stanbrook at 80 Fremont road.

On March 19 the Every Member Canvass was held with good results. Nearly all pledges were given during the church service.

Grace M. E.—Lexington Chapter, of which Mrs. Harry Goodland is president, served a supper last night.

Next Monday (April 3) from 2:30 to 5:00, the Missionary Society is having a "Silver Tea" at the home of Mrs. S. J. Clarkson, 58 Mason street. An interesting program has been arranged.

Each Thursday at 7:30, young people interested in the junior choir meet at the church in the music room for rehearsal under the direction of Jerome Smith. Anyone interested is invited to join with the group.

Glenwood Chapter meets this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Jordan, 351 Selye terrace, for its monthly business meeting.

Young ladies of the Montague Class entertained Tuesday at luncheon at the home of Mrs. James Corbett, in Lake avenue, in honor of Mrs. Emily Kohl of Augustine street, who is leaving with her family to reside in New York City.

Next Sunday evening the Male Quartet of the Charlotte Lodge, F. and A. M., will present several musical numbers. The quartet consists of Geo. Estes, Archie Bubier, Clarence Manchester and Mr. Meadowcroft.

Christadelphian—Kay terrace, near Glenwood avenue—10:30 a. m., adult Bible classes and Sunday School; 11:45, memorial service; 7:30 p. m., "A Glimpse Into the Kingdom of God."

LEXINGTON SCHOOL 34

Ronald Sharpe, a member of the 6A grade has been visiting the Municipal Museum at Edgerton Park, where he has borrowed some fine material for use in our school. There have been pictures, slides, films and exhibits.

The 2A and 3B grade pupils recently entertained their mothers as a summary to their work and study of Japan. There were 15 mothers present.

The Kindergarten children and their teachers recently visited a nearby florist's shop and greenhouses. This was a real pleasure for the children and they gained many new ideas which form the basis for conversation lessons later.

Some fine numbers have been given recently at the regular morning assemblies. One of the most interesting was a dramatization of Red Riding Hood by the Kindergarten. The 3A and 4B grade gave descriptions and demonstrations of the weather signals of the U. S. Weather Bureau. The 2A and 3B grade sang French folk songs.

The Science Room is now in charge of the pupils of the 5B and 5A grades. The committee for this week is Gordon Noyes, Jackson Berner, Archie MacMillan, Harold Glenn, Charles Legg, Jean White, Mary Beyer, Jean Moore, Jane Christoff, John Hillard and George Spencer.

Radio Tips, Questions and Answers

By H. S. Russell

"Perfection is composed of trifles, yet perfection is no trifle." How true and applicable to the automobiles and radio receivers of 1933.

Look under the hood of any modern car—its engine shows very few external changes from power plants of previous years. A down-draft carburetor, smaller spark plugs, a cushioned mounting—but to the eye nothing radical. It is when you drive a 1933 car that the change is noticeable—the new car is vibrationless and quiet at 70 and will hold this speed all day while its acceleration "takes your breath away" like a fast elevator. Trifles made this improvement, but the improvement is more than trifling.

Now I've used this automobile illustration to make my radio points clearer. The new 1933 receivers don't appear to have many improvements over their predecessors. New smaller type tubes are noticeable, pentode out-put tubes are almost universal, superheterodynes are practically the only type available and large expensive receivers use the new 46 and 82 tubes to give tremendous power. Here and there, however, a "trifling" change has been made in design and construction—and when the first notes come pouring out of the 1933 loudspeaker you realize that perfection in tone has nearly been achieved.

If former receivers "got" a distant station weakly, 1933 instruments bring it in with volume, if the older type reproduced practically all the notes of the organ the 1933 reproduces them all. And where those deep base notes just rattled the speaker in the old days the 1933 set brings them out in all their deep mellow beauty. Stations that once fought and interfered all evening are now kept in their places "on the dial", and hum, that annoying parasite of former electric receivers is missing. So you see the results of engineering research in radio laboratories is not trifling.

Now just a "tip" on low priced radios. Prior to 1933 practically all radios selling for $25 or under were purely local receivers. They weren't superheterodynes or distance getters. But the last two months have produced several standard make distance getting superheterodynes. These sets are the result of much research and the people buying them are getting value plus.

Little Country Store in a Back Room of Which Calvin Coolidge Was Born.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

VERMONT, to which the nation turned recently as the last resting place of Calvin Coolidge, has a story different from that of most of its sister states. Its story is more than a recital of statistics; it is more than a review of the number of organs and scales manufactured there annually and far more interesting than an estimate of the number of miles of public buildings which could be faced each year with its marble and granite, and roofed with its slate. It has elements of a drama. It has faced not seven, but seventy, lean years.

In the seventy years from 1850 to 1920 the census returns show that the population increased only 314,120 to 852,428 or 38,308—a little more than 12 per cent. During this same period the increase for the United States as a whole was more than 350 per cent. In the ten years from 1910 to 1920 the number of Vermonters actually decreased. Yet the future seems bright enough to the men and women of the Green mountains.

The outsider may, perhaps, be forgiven if he hopes that its prosperity shall be no more than modest, and that it shall not interfere greatly with Vermont's present status. For it is today one of the most truly American of our states. Its people have hardly changed in their essential elements in a century. Rarely one in nine is foreign-born, and the majority of these are Canadian and the-fore American.

Vermont's drama is rooted in that fact. Its people are a dynamic lot—hard-hitting, resourceful, energetic, restless. In the census of 1790 it was shown that of the total population of 85,425, approximately 81,200 were of English stock and 2,000 Scotch.

The oncoming years brought few different factors. The names one finds today in Vermont were on the earliest records. There was little, to be candid about it, in Vermont to tempt immigration in the last fifty years of the past century. There was everything outside to tempt emigration. The young men left, just as young Scotsmen go to London.

Iowa's rich prairies called the farmer who had stumbled over Vermont's rocky hills. Once famed for merino sheep—it became the inheritor of the Spanish Crown when the royal flocks were dissipated under the threat of Napoleon's invasion—it saw them disappear under the pressure of necessity.

The estates located in rich bottom lands were held, of course, but in the pioneer days farmers built cabins on hill shoulders for the sake of the early-morning reassurance of a neighbor's plume of smoke across the valley. Many of these hill farms became economically impossible.

Today the dairy cow is taking the place sheep once held in Vermont's scheme of things. The cow must be fed all winter long but she abundantly repays. Milk trains squeak through the winter snows to gather cans at every crossroad. Milk trains roar through the early dawn, bound for the great eastern cities.

This achievement has only lately been made possible by the creation of new transportation facilities. Her enormous marble industry—one shrinks from comparative statements, but Vermont is very certain there can be no greater marble quarries in the world—had not been thought of.

The dignified statehouse at Montpelier, the capital, was built of granite from the famous quarries which have made Vermont the leader among the states in the value of this stone supplied for monumental purposes.

Rich in Marble and Granite.

So, if one sees nothing else in Vermont today, he should see the marble quarries and the granite works, where armies of skilled men, equipped with the latest engineering appliances, wrest huge blocks of stone from the state's rich mountain sides.

Many families were literally starved out of the village of Lowell in northern Vermont in the early days. Wagon trains left for Kentucky and the Western Reserve. No one then knew of the vast beds of asbestos in that part of the state.

So with tale and state and the other mineral riches which are now being slowly developed. Nor did anyone suspect that her rounded hills and lovely dales would some time offer a promising vacation ground—at a profit—to the thousands in the great cities within a few hours' ride.

Today Vermont is a cheerful, sunny, independent little state, in which life admittedly presents more difficulties than in lands wherein one may live on breadfruit. But it is more worth while. It is distinctly not given to hero worship, and it has a pawky humor that might trace to its Caledonian pioneers.

A calm, clear-visioned commonwealth it is, too, with a distaste for rebellion against constituted authority, but with a fine capacity for it on occasion; willing that each shall worship God in his own way; intent upon getting the dollar's worth, but not falsely valuing the dollar; hospitable as are few states in these days of the easy road.

Every Town Has Its Peak.

Not a single town in Vermont is without its eminence. There are approximately 900 peaks whose summits are 2,000 feet or more above sea level. The northeast corner, an area perhaps 50 miles by 50, is in effect a wilderness. Bears roam there and deer, and landlocked salmon are to be caught in lakes rarely seen by man.

Elsewhere the mountains seem more hospitable. The tallest, Mount Mansfield, 4,393 feet high, can be reached by automobile over good though steep roads and all are accessible to hikers.

This is a state of lakes, too; for there are approximately 400—from Lake Champlain, 118 miles long, between the Green mountains and the Adirondacks, to mere potholes gleaming in hill fastnesses; and of little rapid rivers, which slow down here and there into placid reaches where the hungry trout leap at dawn.

For thirteen years Vermont was an independent republic, making its own laws, maintaining its own army, coining its own money. It was a contumacious and stiff-necked community, for during this period it was not only in rebellion against England, but was carrying on a lively private fight of its own with the state of New York and the Continental congress.

A historian records that "Vermont was never anything but free. Never a crown colony, never yielding allegiance to any province, state or kingdom." When she was admitted as the fourteenth state to the American Union, after the Revolution had been won by her loyal aid, it was upon her own terms.

Champlain's Voyage.

Her written history begins on July 4, some say July 14, 1609, on which debatable date Samuel de Champlain discovered the lake which bears his name and which is our largest body of fresh water outside the Great Lakes.

On that voyage the Sieur de Champlain fought with his Algonquin hosts against the Iroquois, and so assured the friendship of the latter powerful tribe to the British, who were to come later. It has been argued that this may have decided the future overlordship of this continent. Who knows?

The first French settlements on Isle La Motte were not permanent. White men did not come to stay until 1724, when settlers who had seeped in from the Massachusetts Bay colony built a blockhouse at

HOLY ROSARY LEAGUE
 With only two weeks remaining in the 1932-33 season the Hoffend Market team maintains a four game lead over its nearest rival in the Holy Rosary League. By taking three games from Schubert's Texacos Wednesday night, while Nolan Drugs were dropping a like number to Hatz Garage, the Bauman & Baynes bowlers advanced to second.

McFarland holds the high three game record with a total of 640, while Stuart Donoghue has high single game of 258. Hoffend Market holds the team three-game record with 2554 and Buckley's Service has high team game of 947. Geo. Bauman leads the procession of individual bowlers with an average of 184.

A meeting of the league's officers will take place this week at which time preparation will be made for a banquet to wind up the season. A two-men tournament will be held at the Ridge Aleys on Wednesday, April 12.

Officers are: Leslie Bauman, president; George Jost, secretary; and John T. Donoghue, treasurer.

Fort Dummer, near the site of the present city of Brattleboro. Here Timothy Dwight was born in 1726. Three of his descendants through marriage with Mary, daughter of Rev. Jonathan Edwards, were to become presidents of Yale. This is worth noting, because Vermont talks more of her men than of her marble or slate or granite.

"More than once," is the cautious statement, "Vermont has furnished a greater number of men to Who's Who, relative to population, than any other state."

If one begins to name the distinguished sons of the state, one fears to be overwhelmed; yet it must be remembered that for decades they were almost the only exportable product, and have left their traces everywhere through American history.

BLACKHAWK DIVISION BOY SCOUT NEWS

The scouts of the Blackhawk Division, as well as others, welcomed the new Spring last week as heartily as poets and birds, for to them it meant a change from indoor to out-of-doors activities. Through the winter months the boys and their leaders have been reading and practicing scout lore, with only occasional opportunities to pack duffle bags, tenting and other equipment into the open where real scouting is carried out.

Troop 50—The basketball team capped a good season by defeating the Hi-Y team of Marshall High School 15 to 14. Wednesday night some of the fellows met at the home of Joe Dobbins to pass merit badge tests under Deputy Commissioner Charles Legg. These were Elwood Wheeler, Joe Dobbins, Harry Breary, Joe Breary, John Wanamaker and Trevor Durant.

Troop 27—Patrol leaders and their assistants met at the home of Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Frey Monday to discuss troop activities during the Spring. The following were present: Dick Stark, Ted Peterson, Erwin Lewis, Ken Crane, Art Wilson, Scoutmaster Ray Fillier and Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Frey.

The troop committee starts a campaign this week to visit the parents of all scouts in the troop, preparatory to re-registering the troop in April.

Troop 12—The boys went on a hike Saturday to Three Lakes Camp, 17 strong, under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmasters Dick Forward and Francis Doohan. They went by way of Seneca Park, following the river, and hiked all the way.

Troop 68—At a committee meeting last week in Sacred Heart Rectory, Homer Ransome was ac-

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bush Observe 20th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Bush of Dewey avenue, better known as the vaudeville team of Bush & Bush, entertained March 20 in honor of their 20th wedding anniversary. The color scheme of yellow and white was used in both house decorations and food, the same as at the wedding reception 20 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Bush have retired from vaudeville after touring the United States and Canada in a musical act.

Accepted as the new Scoutmaster to succeed Frank J. Dobbins and Neil J. Hickey, who become committeemen in charge of outdoor work and advancement. The long-planned reorganization of the Sacred Heart scouting program will soon be under way.

Bill Edell, Bernard Munding, Andy De Simon and Bob Hastings successfully completed the life saving course given during the winter months by Jack Wagner at the Maplewood "Y."

Troop 81—Scouts and their fathers have much to look forward to in their second annual Father-and-Son Overnight Trip to be held Saturday and Sunday (April 1 and 2) at Three Lakes. Some of the special features of this trip will be target practice and a Safety Merit Badge examination on Saturday afternoon; and a program for the evening which will include presentation of the President's Award (President Hoover's streamer) for 1932 to the troop, presentation of Service Stars to all members entitled to them, and presentation of prizes to the Flying Eagle Patrol, which recently won an interpatrol contest. Ed Smith is leader of this patrol, and the other members are Keene Englehardt, Fred Frearson, Henry Byers and Jim Lejeune. Church services will be arranged Sunday morning.
