Says Reputable Florist Should Have Patronage

"Buy your Easter flowers and plants from a reputable florist who is in business all the year around, flowers and plants with a guarantee that is backed by a reputation for dependability."

Blanchard's deliver flowers by telegraph to all parts of the world, and are open for convenient shopping evenings and Sundays.

Foot Health Neglected Badly, Says Schmanke

Next week is Foot Health Week throughout the nation, and it is given special consideration by John Schmanke at Schmanke's Brown-bilt Shoe Store.

We asked Mr. Schmanke about Foot Health and in what way it could affect other parts of the body, and he came through with a lot of good advice.

"Most of us," observed Mr. Schmanke, "give our feet little thought until they cause us inconvenience, discomfort and pain. Even then we often go all through life suffering from aching feet, believing that our pains are something that cannot be helped and must be endured."

"The pain, nervous strain, downright misery, caused by bad feet, is appalling. The amount of time, energy and money lost through foot ills runs into tremendous totals yearly. It seems unbelievable, but seven out of ten persons have some sort of foot trouble."

"The human foot is a wonderful structure. It deserves at least a reasonable amount of attention. In it are 26 bones. Fifty-two bones under our ankles, or about one-fourth of all the bones of the body—that's the importance that nature puts on our feet."

"In the foot are muscles, tendons, ligaments, nerves and blood vessels, a marvelous mechanism that co-ordinates perfectly when we stand or walk, providing our shoes are fitted correctly and we have no weakened muscles that allow the feet to take on abnormal shapes when weight is placed upon them."

"There is no reason whatever for our going about suffering from foot aches and pains—feet that make us look old and walk old, and feet that spoil dispositions as well as shoes. We can have foot comfort, as well as foot health, and that is the reason for Foot Health Week, to draw people's attention to their own foot health, as well as the foot health of a nation."

Bostwick, tickets; Mrs. Agnes Paskal, refreshments; and Mrs. Florence Coppinger, prizes. There will be prizes for each table and tickets will be 35 cents.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review

Mae West, most spectacular figure in the current Broadway theatrical world, made her debut as a screen star in "She Done Him Wrong," lusty melodrama which she herself wrote.

"She Done Him Wrong" is a story of the New York Bowery, with its collection of wide-open saloons, wise guys, and frivolous dames. It centers around a singer known as "Lady Lou," who has a way with men and who accepts their attentions in return for diamonds.

Miss West appears in that role.

Plans are being made for a dinner May 4 to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the Unit. Old members wishing to go are asked to call Mrs. L. W. Grab, Char. 583-W.

The Arnold Circle of the Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church met Friday at the home of Mrs. Frank Tolhurst of Ridgeway avenue.

Call Hwang Ho 'China's Sorrow'

Extraordinary River Has Cost Millions of Lives, Millions in Wealth.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

WHILE Japanese military forces have advanced westward in Jehol, bringing the upper Hwang Ho or Yellow river of China closer to international complications, life on the tortuous stream has gone on in its own inimitable way.

The Hwang Ho is one of the most extraordinary rivers of the world. Its disastrous flooding has cost the Chinese millions of lives and millions of wealth through the destruction of homes and farm lands, and because of this it has earned such titles as "China's Sorrow," the "Ungovernable," and the "Scourge of the Sons of Han." At times it has changed its course over as much as 250 miles in a single flooding season. Today it empties into the Yellow sea north of the Shantung peninsula, but before 1832 it debauched its loess-laden waters through a channel south of that peninsula.

It is the second largest river in China, yet in all its course, from its headwaters, high up in the Kunlun range, in Tibet, all along its 2,500-mile path to the sea, it is not navigable for steamships or other deep-draft craft. Its course is alternately either too swift and broken by turbulent rapids or widens and becomes too shallow and filled with sand bars to allow the use of large boats.

But over some 700 miles of its course, as it winds through Kansu province and along the edge of Inner Mongolia, from Sining to Paotow, piles an interesting raft traffic that has been carried on for centuries. Chinese literature confirms the fact that here the earlier Sons of Han 2,000 years ago were using sheepskin and oxhide rafts identical with those which one finds in use today.

There are two types of rafts, one using as buoys inflated sheepskins and the other large oxhides which are stuffed with wool and then tied up to keep them water-tight. The sheepskin rafts vary in size, according to the use for which they are intended, ranging from as few as 12 or 15 skins on the small one-man rafts to as many as 500 in the large freight rafts. For the large oxhide rafts some 120 hides are used.

Before being used, the raw oxhides are treated on the inside with salt and oil to preserve and waterproof them as well as keep them flexible. Raw hides cost about $10

Air-Filled Sheepskins Keep This Hwang Ho Raft Afloat.

In the local currency ($2.50 gold) and are considered about twice as valuable after they have been properly prepared. Consequently, the large freight rafts are often valued at as much as $900 gold, but the hides are useful as buoys for three years and are then sold in the Paotow market for shoe leather.

Rafts Easily Made.
Raft-making is a comparatively easy task. To a simple framework of poles lashed securely together are fastened the hides or sheepskins. Even the stuffing of the hides with Tibetan wool is a simple process, but when it comes to inflating 500 sheepskins on one raft before a voyage, that is a job! Without doubt, the industrious raftsmen can make strong claims for the record in the windiest of all ship launchings!

The navigation of the rafts in the down-river trade is entirely in the hands of the Moslem Chinese, who form a considerable percentage of the population of the Kansu district. Life is not easy on the rafts, with all the contrasts of heat and cold and the strenuous labor involved in manipulating the clumsy transports through the rapids or in freeing them, once they have stranded on a sand bar; but these hardy raftsmen are a happy and friendly lot.

The great, irregular, S-shaped portion of the course of the Hwang Ho through Kansu and Mongolia, over which the rafts operate, is carved for a large part of the way through the extensive loess-plain region. Here and in the Wei valley, whose tributary waters are gathered unto the Hwang Ho about 40 miles west of Lanchow, was the cradle of the Chinese race; but through the centuries great quantities of loess, or sandy loam, have been blown across these lands, submerging numerous cities and making desert many wide areas which were once fertile farming districts. This yellow loess, carried in suspension in the water, has given the river and the Yellow sea their names.

Today there are only a few fertile localities in the Hwang Ho valley such as those around Lanchow and Ningsia. These are intensely cultivated oases that have been kept productive through irrigation, and in their districts rafts carry on considerable local transport of vegetables, dates, watermelons, and grain to the city markets. The long-distance freighting on the large rafts, however, is largely devoted to transport of quantities of wool, skins, hides, and other produce of the Tibetan region down to the caravan center and railroad village of Paotow, whence these articles of commerce can be sent by rail to Tientsin and ultimately find distribution to world markets.

The majority of the large cargo rafts start from Sining, some distance upstream on the Sining Ho, a tributary of the Hwang Ho; but to these are also added other cargo which leaves from the important caravan center of Lanchow, that lies on the historic "old Silk road" between China, Turkestan, and the West.

Hard Work Up Stream.
The rafts can be managed with comparative ease as they float downstream, but their great resistance and their clumsiness make it practically impossible for them to be poled upstream, even in quiet water. They are taken apart at the end of the voyage and the skins are carried back overland to the place of departure.

In the springtime, as soon as the ice has been cleared from the river, which is frozen from the end of November to the beginning of March, the rafts are assembled.

Oxhide buoys stuffed with wool no doubt originated through the scheme of crafty raftsmen to "boot-leg" wool past the customs officials and thereby escape duty. Today, although the authorities know that it will be sold at the end of the trip, the wool still rides on down to Paotow, escaping all of the tolls and duties imposed on the other cargo.

Cargoes loaded, farewells said, the rafts push off on the first of the two journeys that are made each year. They slip past water wheels that line the river banks, which are raising water to the thirsty fields in the Lanchow region; then past the city's walls, and under the only steel bridge that spans the river for many hundreds of miles.

Some fifteen miles below Lanchow, where the village of Hsishu is perched on a rocky cliff, the current is swift and all hands are called to man the large tillers, as the rafts head down through the granite gorge, where the river makes an abrupt curve and then follows a northwesterly course.

All the way downstream to Chungwei the raftsmen must navigate through rapid after rapid. Below Chungwei the course widens as it enters the Ordos, and, except for the passage through the fertile district around Ningsia, becomes a monotonous passage through desolate yellow wastes all the way to Paotow.

Grilling Voyage.
The great loop around the Ordos desert is a slow, grilling voyage during the summer months, when the sun throughout the day beats down relentlessly in a blinding glare on the water and on the shimmering sand banks.

The raftsmen share the tasks of guiding the craft, repairing punctured skins, releasing the ungrainly floats when stranded on sand bars, and cooking their meager meals on deck. After weeks on the way, everyone is glad when the rafts are brought safely to Paotow, the journey's end.

The caravan town sprawls on a barren, dun-colored hillside of sand, some little distance from the river. Low, squat adobe and brick buildings line the narrow streets and winding alleys that find outlet through the guarded gateway of rambling old city walls. Caravan caravans and homes are concealed behind closed gateways and high earthen walls.

Here, in the bazaars and in the cases of itinerant vendors, the raftsmen find oddments of western produce for which they can bargain to take back to their families. Trains that come whistling out to this outpost, bring many things from Tientsin and Peiping markets that are not readily available farther inland.

At last, when all of the cargoes have been turned over to the wool and hide merchants, the rafts are taken apart and the hides folded up and packed on donkeys or camels for the long journey home by caravan.

Adopting African Babies

The McBurney orphanage at Elat, Africa, recently reported 69 orphan babies under their care. There are also 60 childless families waiting for babies to adopt. They cannot just say "give me a baby"; they must present a written application telling of their wish and Christian experience. Unless they are church members they cannot have a child. Their church session or one of the missionaries must also recommend the couple. The foster mother is visited as frequently as possible after the child leaves to see that all is well. As far as possible the babies are returned to their own tribe and have been sent to the homes of masons, carpenters, chauffeurs, teachers and evangelists—the latter predominating, says the Montreal Herald.

Club Has Opportunity To Get 4 Good Officers

When the Rochester Ad Club chooses its new officers on May 4, four Tenth Warders will be on the slate. For president they will have the opportunity of choosing Wyllis A. Bellinger of Maplewood avenue; for second vice-president, John P. Street of Seneca parkway; for treasurer, Lewis Zwierlein of Flower City park; and for director, Herbert A. Galilean Shepherd To Give Lecture May 12

Arrangements have been completed by the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer with the co-operation of all other churches of this community for the appearance here of Stephen A. Haboush, a 20th century Galilean shepherd. He will be assisted by his talented wife in giving a most unusual musical travelogue, "The Seven Wonders of Jerusalem and Galilee," in the Edgerton Park Auditorium Friday evening, May 12.

This travelogue consists of the Burton Holmes moving pictures, taken when Mr. Holmes and Mr. Haboush visited Palestine for the expressed purpose of taking moving pictures of the Holy Lands. There are also carefully selected still pictures in beautiful natural colorings. This program is accompanied with synchronized music, and the pictures are fully explained by Mr. Haboush, who with Madam Haboush, will appear in full Galilean costumes.

Mr. Haboush was born in Galilee, where as a shepherd boy he led his flock to "the green pastures beside the still waters." After studying for a time in Europe the opportunity came to go to America to attend the great universities of the western world. Seeing the great need for a clearer understanding of the Holy Lands he decided to become one of the outstanding authorities on Palestine and Bible history.

Mr. Haboush is said to bring the true story of Palestine as only a native can. He interprets the Scriptures in the light of the places and its people, bringing the true atmosphere of the Holy Lands. Tickets are 35 cents for adults, and 25 cents for children (including high school students).

RIVIERA FEATURE REVIEW

Week-end Program

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review

All the laughs, tears, comedy and tragedy of the olive drab doughboy days are included in "Private Jones," featuring the imitable Lee Tracy.

Tracy, who has gained unusual popularity through his recent fast-talking characterizations which live on the screen, as no other recent actor has been able to make them do, plays the title role in the widely discussed play which was especially revamped for the screen.

The picture is said to provide the dynamic actor with his greatest role since coming from sensational successes on Broadway to Hollywood. He is supported by Gloria Stuart, Bertone Churchill, Russell Gleason, Frank McHugh, Donald Cook, and Emma Dunn in other leading roles under the expert translation of Director Russell Mack.

The intimate details of the lives of the people behind the sales counters and in the offices of a big department store form the basis of "Employees' Entrance."

The importance of the story and the heavy requirements of the principal role caused First National to hand this choice assignment to Warren William.

In "Employees' Entrance" he plays the role of a ruthless, unscrupulous department store General Manager whose only ambition in life is to make profits for his

Ace Cleaners Locate Here in Dewey Plant

Ace Cleaners have been operating at their new quarters, 1441 Dewey avenue, since March 4, having moved here from the East side. Their plant, equipped with all the machinery required for dry cleaning by today's methods, is said to be the most modern obtainable.

According to Peter Gould, owner, no gasoline is used in this new process. The efficiency of modern equipment is supplemented by the service of an expert chemist, known as a "spotter," who knows how to treat all fabrics to remove soil and stains. The Ace Company was formerly cleaner to the trade, mostly in the downtown section, but is now offering service direct to the public.

Commenting on his choice of location, Mr. Gould stated that it was made only after careful consideration and discussion with real estate brokers. In selecting the Dewey avenue plant, he said he had full confidence in the growth of the Tenth Ward and so far has been well satisfied with the location.

McFARLIN TO BE SPEAKER AT YOUNG MEN'S MEETING

Councilman Harold W. McFarlin will speak at the meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club on May 3, at 8 p. m., in the Lower Ward Club. Charles E. Bostwick and Councilman Nelson A. Milne will also address the young men.

The very attractive curtains that have just been put up in the Parish Hall are the gift of the Mercy Committee of the Sodality. The proceeds from their last card party enabled them to buy the material and members made them up.

The weekly card parties are being held every Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Women's Guild.

Friday evening, April 28, the Eucharistic Committee under the chairmanship of Winifred Donahue is holding another dance. Ed Latus' Orchestra will furnish the music.

WHY IS BABE RUTH
The highest-salaried player?
It's because he is the star . . . the best in the big leagues and he's worth all the thousands of dollars he's paid.
So too is DUPONT PAINT!
It's the star of the paint league and it's worth the price you pay for it. Like Babe Ruth, it stands head and shoulders above the others.
Baseball players are paid according to ability, and paint too can only bring what it is worth. It takes more cheap paint to cover the surface and this is important too, a poor grade of paint won't stand the test of time like Du Pont.
IT'S JUST ANOTHER PROOF THAT THE BEST IS ALWAYS THE LEAST EXPENSIVE!

Peru's Capital Gets New Dress

Lima, Ancient City of the Pizarros, Is Undergoing Modernization.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNSU Service.

DEMOLISHING here, building there; installing modern water and sewerage systems; tearing up rough, age-worn cobblestones, putting down smooth modern concrete and asphalt in their stead; opening up new highways both to the mountain and the sea; and developing motor routes to the outlying regions of the plain; thus the makers of new Lima are transforming the Peruvian capital, city of the Pizarros.

The older portion of the city, as well as the newer region which circumscribes it, is sharing in the modernization. True the older section is and must remain an area of one-way streets, for its thoroughfares are so narrow that even street cars must observe the one-way law. Likewise, the sidewalks are so lacking in elbow room that only two people can pass one another at a time, and the one on the outside must keep a close watch lest he be struck by a passing trolley.

Old and new fight for supremacy. The blue-necked turkey buzzards have lost their role as the official scavengers; the ox-cart has given place largely to the motor truck; the old barouche has abandoned the streets to the modern automobile; and the patient, pained donkey is making his last stand.

Even Pizarro's stern old palace is feeling the urge toward modernization. In days gone by, there was no street in Lima that had a single name throughout its length. Each block had its own particular designation. The two streets that led from the Plaza San Martin to the National Palace are six blocks long. Each possessed six different names, one for each block.

The municipal authorities wanted to change all this and gave each street a single designation for its entire length. The one they called the Giron de la Union and the other the Giron Carabaya.

But the populace would have none of it. The man who did business on the northwest side of the Plaza de Armas still wanted to have his store on Escribanos, and the one who held forth on the next block still insisted he was doing business on Mercaderes, and they continue to do so. Consequently the Giron de la Union is swallowed up by the several calles which compose it.

These may be named without modern-day rhyme or reason, and they certainly are without alphabetical or other indications of their sequences; but the people cling to them, despite whatever confusion it costs the post office, however, much it may complex the visitor, and whatever harvest it may bring the taxi drivers.

How the System Works.

Many interesting stories are told illustrating how this mysterious system works. One concerns a stranger who hailed a taxi in Calle La Merced and asked the chauffeur to drive him to "Baquijano veinte cinco." The driver did not bat an eye, but drove like Jehu up Jesus Nazareno, skidded on two wheels into Giron Carabaya, raced around Plaza San Martin, and whirled up through Boza, hailing his shaken passenger at the address given—on the same street, but simply in the next block from where he started!

The name Mercaderes tells us of the day when that block was the Wall Street of Lima and Escribanos or the public letter writers who were sheltered under the portals on the west side of the Plaza. Calle Mantas proclaims the square where the ladies of Peru's golden past "spent their husbands' substance in riotous purchase of shawls, home-spuns, Indian textiles, and lingerie."

The history of Lima's past is written in her streets. In names that the municipality long has wanted to wipe out in favor of through designations and numbered blocks. But the people of the city cling to their streets with a devotion that will not permit convenience to triumph over romantic ties with the past.

In wandering about the old city, one comes upon many an architectural relic of the days of the viceroys; but, among all of these, none is more impressive than the monastery of San Francisco. There one may be ushered into a porcelain garden where the artistic tiles of the cloister compete with the living flowers that bloom in the earth they inclose.

No one has described more beautifully the effect of this porcelain garden than Mr. F. P. Farrar, of the West Coast Leader. "Here," he says, "is a porcelain garden, a ceramic border of springtime, where the blues of delphinium and lupine, the yellow of cyprius and the gold of cohegium, the creamy white of arabis and the mauves of aubrietia, blend into the fresh foliage of the overhanging trees and the azure of the new washed skies."

The charm of the story of the origin of this porcelain garden almost equals the beauty of the ceramic triumph itself. On a November morning in 1619 a vast crowd had gathered in the Plaza de Armas, for there was to be a public hanging, and these events were Roman holidays for the populace.

The public crier had announced: "The Warrantable and Royal Audiencia of this City of the Kings has condemned to suffer a shameful death on the gallows Alonso Godinez, native of Guadalupe, in Spain, for the murder of Marta Villoslada without fear of judgment human or divine. Let him who did so pay the penalty! This sentence is to be read in the presence of all lest they meet a like end! Let justice be done!"

Came a Reprieve.

The condemned man had taken his stand beneath the noose and the hangman was nervously adjusting the fatal knot. Suddenly a monk pushed his way through the throng, climbed the gallows platform, and handed a parchment to the captain of the guard. After the latter had read it, the two engaged in a moment of animated conversation, after which the padre led the condemned man away and into the portals of the monastery of San Francisco. The crowd, disappointed, hung about the Plazuela de San Francisco discussing this strange overthrow of justice.

But later the reason for reprieve became known. That morning the condemned man had made what he thought would be his last confession on earth, to the prior of the monastery. He said that he was a potter by trade and that he had learned the art both of making and setting tiles.

Years before, Dona Catalina Huanca had brought from Spain a magnificent collection of tiles for the decoration of the new cloisters at San Francisco; but neither plan nor a tile setter had come with them, and Lima had no tile setters. So for years the tiles had been piled up in a corner of the monastery; many were stolen and more were broken. Would Providence ever open a way for their setting?

Here seemed to be the answer; the prior saw an opportunity to let the man who had murdered a woman in a drunken brawl repent his sins in a lifelong task of setting these tiles. So he hastened to the viceroy to implore the pardon of the murderer, and the viceroy, a descendant of the Borgias, seeing poetic justice in remitting the penalty of the scaffold and imposing a task of service that would require a lifetime, granted the commutation of sentence.

One can see today the wisdom of that act of mercy-tempered justice. Alonso Godinez was a true artist, who loved his work and threw his soul into it. Today "the walls blossom with pictures which in their mellowness, richness and seductive beauty rival those of the Alhambra itself; and it is doubtful if outside of Spain there is to be found a finer example of porcelain entablature in the heyday of its art than here."

Lima is peculiarly a city of churches, with some 70 in its limits; and, with nearly four centuries of outstanding ecclesiastical tradition behind them, the people are much given to buying religious objects. The Cathedral is a magnificent structure, much larger than Pizarro built, but still not so grand as the one erected during the early years of the viceregal regime and destroyed by the great earthquake that wiped out Callao.

The high altar is of massive silver construction. In the chapel of the Virgin is a celebrated image presented by the Emperor Charles V of Spain, and in the Chapel Arceadiano an original painting attributed to Murillo, representing Jesus and Veronica.

Here rests a glass-and-marble casket which is most interesting of all for it contains the half-mummy, half-skeleton reputed to be the remains of the great conqueror.

Fashionable Hats Taboo.

The attire for church occasions is perhaps the most conservative in the New world. Even those women who dress in the latest Parisian modes elsewhere put on their plain black mantillas when going to church. In some congregations those who come in fashionable headgear are told politely to remove them and substitute their mantillas before they are allowed to be seated.

Among the fine old residences of Lima, one of the most impressively beautiful is the famous palace of Torre-Tagle, once the home of the marquise of that name, but now the headquarters of the ministry of foreign relations.

The City of the Kings long has been famous for its brilliant social life, with a constant succession of luncheons, teas, dinners, dances, champagne parties, and receptions. Nearly four centuries of wealth, leisure, and opportunity have written their impress of culture on the descendants of the nobility and official classes of the colonial regime.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baynes and family are now residing in Seneca parkway, having moved from their former home in Lakeview park.

Old Fashion Butter Crackers On Sale

Many years ago a baker by the name of Cullross, an immigrant from Canada, conceived the idea of manufacturing a cracker which would appeal to the appetites of Rochesterians. His first thought was to place on the market a tasty, quality butter cracker made as rich as the baking of them would permit.

He used the following ingredients in the proper proportions, best quality pastry flour, butter for shortening, water and salt to taste. These crackers were then sold to grocers in Rochester and very soon proved to be the best selling cracker, winning the approval of thousands of housewives.

Mr. Cullross maintained this business for a number of years and created a fine reputation.

He retired, selling this business to Sam Durnherr, who conducted it for many years in a successful way. Mr. Durnherr died, the business being carried along by his brother Joseph J. Durnherr, who conducted it for a period of about 25 years, also in a successful way. Joseph Durnherr died and upon the recent death of Joseph Durnherr, three of his former employees took over the butter cracker business. The same formula used by Mr. Cullross is being used at the present time. These crackers are rich tasting and nourishing, served for luncheon, with butter, with soups, etc.

Try them today and be convinced.—Adv.

FORGOTTEN GOLD BEING SOUGHT BY UNCLE SAM

A vigorous campaign is under way to recover the immense treasure of old gold jewelry and dental gold hidden away and often forgotten, in American homes. Half a billion dollars' worth of this gold is estimated to lie idle and unproductive at a time when the President is striving to further strengthen the Federal Gold Reserve. It is a patriotic duty to bring this gold out of hoarding, for it is just as valuable to Uncle Sam, after refining, as coin or bullion drawn out of hoarding. Converting this wealth into cash would also vastly stimulate the purchasing power of the nation.

The great treasure of unused gold is in the form of old gold jewelry, watch cases, spectacle frames, dental plates, watch chains and trinkets of many kinds. The average person will be surprised at the cash value of these trinkets lying away in old bureau drawers and closets, and these sums, multiplied by the twenty-five million families throughout the United States, will pile up a fabulous treasure.

A similar campaign carried on in Great Britain in 1931 brought out of hiding $500,000,000 worth of gold. It is confidently believed that the United States, with nearly three times Great Britain's population, can at least equal this record. Both the British and Canadian campaigns made the fatal mistake of permitting this gold business to slip into the hands of irresponsible dealers. Gold was often bought by traveling buyers and the public was often cheated; and the gold did not always find its way to the British Government where it was so badly needed.

Beware of Swindlers

The United States has already suffered to some extent from the same danger. The country has been overrun with canvassers who know very little about precious metals and who are irresponsible or downright dishonest. Some of these traveling dealers claim to be representatives of the United States Government and induce unsuspecting people to part with their old gold for only a fraction of its value. Many ingenious swindling tricks, including the use of false scales, are resorted to by these adventurers. The United States Government has no such representatives and the most serious result of their work is that there is no assurance that the gold they pick up will ever find its way into the United States Treasury.

To assure protection and honest dealing, the owners of old gold are urged to sell only to responsible jewelers in their community. These jewelers understand precious metals; they have a reputation to sustain and are prepared to pay spot cash for the true value of the old gold brought in to them. Responsible retail jewelers all over the country have arranged so that the gold they buy and turn over to reliable refiners, will find its way to the Treasury Department.

William H. Jackson, Jeweler, of 325 Driving Park avenue, has been buying and continues to purchase old gold, which he in turn sends to the refiners to eventually reach the U. S. Treasury. He will either pay cash for the old gold or allow credit toward purchases.

Galilean Shepherd To Give Lecture May 12

Arrangements have been completed by the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer with the co-operation of all other churches of this community for the appearance here of Stephen A. Haboush, a 20th century Galilean shepherd. He will be assisted by his talented wife in giving a most unusual musical travelogue, "The Seven Wonders of Jerusalem and Galilee," in the Edgerton Park Auditorium Friday evening, May 12.

This travelogue consists of the Burton Holmes moving pictures, taken when Mr. Holmes and Mr. Haboush visited Palestine for the expressed purpose of taking moving pictures of the Holy Lands. There are also carefully selected still pictures in beautiful natural colorings. This program is accompanied with synchronized music, and the pictures are fully explained by Mr. Haboush, who with Madam Haboush, will appear in full Galilean costumes.

Stephen A. Haboush

Mr. Haboush was born in Galilee, where as a shepherd boy he led his flock to "the green pastures beside the still waters." After studying for a time in Europe the opportunity came to go to America to attend the great universities of the western world. Seeing the great need for a clearer understanding of the Holy Lands he decided to become one of the outstanding authorities on Palestine and Bible history.

Mr. Haboush is said to bring the true story of Palestine as only a native can. He interprets the Scriptures in the light of the places and its people, bringing the true atmosphere of the Holy Lands. Tickets are 35 cents for adults, and 25 cents for children (including high school students).

Club Has Opportunity To Get 4 Good Officers

When the Rochester Ad Club chooses its new officers on May 4, four Tenth Warders will be on the slate. For president they will have the opportunity of choosing Wyllis A. Bellinger of Maplewood avenue; for second vice-president, John P. Street of Seneca parkway; for treasurer, Lewis Zwierlein of Flower City park; and for director, Herbert A. Johnston of Maplewood Park boulevard.

ANNUAL CARD PARTY OF WOMEN ON MAY 11

Republican women of the ward will hold their tenth annual card party at Assembly Hall, Edgerton Park, Thursday evening, May 11. This is one of the activities that the Women's Club sponsors with the view of bringing together the men and women of the ward and getting them better acquainted.

The sale of tickets already indicates that this year's party will be the most successful yet held, tables having been reserved not only by groups from the Tenth Ward but also from other parts of the city.

Players will pivot and there will be a prize for each table. Tickets are 35 cents and may be procured from members of the committee.

Mrs. Helen Hesselink is general chairman, assisted by the following chairmen of sub-committees; tickets, Mrs. Jessica Bostwick; prizes, Mrs. Florence Coppenger; tables, Mrs. Mary Abell and Mrs. Grace Penn; refreshments, Mrs. Agnes Paskal; decorations, Mrs. Harriett Wadman; checking, Mrs. Louise Kane; publicity, Mrs. Lena M. Cooke.

The regular business meeting of the club will be held at the club-rooms, 840 Dewey avenue, May 4. A prominent speaker will make an address and results of the membership campaign will be announced. It is predicted that both the Shamrocks and Columbias will turn in memberships in excess of the goal set.

CARD PARTY ARRANGED BY DEMOCRATIC WOMEN

At a business meeting Tuesday night the Women's Democratic Club of the ward perfected plans for a card party to be held Wednesday evening, May 24, at Wegman's Hall on East Main street.

Mrs. Caroline Moran is general chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Loretta Stock, Mrs. Bessie Cowells, Miss Susie Jeffrey, Mrs. Mary Aldrich, Mrs. Elizabeth Scheuch, Mrs. Louise Robinson and Mrs. Celia Beck. There will be tables for bridge, pedro and five hundred, with a prize for each table. There will also be several door prizes.

Mrs. Ida Bourgeois, as chairman, reported a successful party at the home of Mrs. Rosetta Lewis on April 18.

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic to be held some time in August.

A joint meeting with the Eleanor Roosevelt Club of the ward is also being arranged for the month of May when it is expected Assemblyman George B. Kelly will speak.

May Party Planned By Ladies Auxiliary No. 166

Ladies' Auxiliary No. 166, Knights of St. John, Sacred Heart Church, will have a May party at the home of Mrs. Julia Persons, 333 Beach avenue on Friday evening, May 5.

Cards will be played with a prize for each table and refreshments will be served. Members and their friends are invited.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held on Monday evening, May 8, after which there will be a social hour of cards and lunch.

Radio Tips, Questions and Answers

By H. S. Russell

Many owners of receiving sets that are three or more years old are discovering that since the increase in power of local broadcast stations, the volume control on their radios will not lower the volume sufficiently; they find it is necessary to tune the radio a "little off the station" to soften the reception sufficiently. This condition is due to the fact that the manufacturers of three or four years ago could not foresee such a mushroom growth of high powered stations and did not build the volume controls on their receivers to combat such conditions.

The remedy is simple, and requires a second aerial of ten feet or so in length placed near the receiver. A switch is so located that the radio may be connected either to the present long aerial (for reception of distant stations) or to the short aerial (for reception of "locals"). This plan works well, is inexpensive, and so simple anyone can install it.

Now is a good time to overhaul your aerial system. Clean and tighten all joints. Clean and tighten the ground connection. And above all—be sure your lightning arrester equipment is good. The season of thunder storms is just around the corner and home, family, and insurance company require adequate protection.

Old Fashion Butter
Crackers On Sale

Many years ago a baker by the name of Cullross, an immigrant from Canada, conceived the idea of manufacturing a cracker which would appeal to the appetites of Rochesterians. His first thought was to place on the market a tasty, quality butter cracker made as rich as the baking of them would permit.

He used the following ingredients in the proper proportions, best quality pastry flour, butter for shortening, water and salt to taste. These crackers were then sold to grocers in Rochester and very soon proved to be the best selling cracker, winning the approval of thousands of housewives.

Mr. Cullross maintained this business for a number of years and created a fine reputation.

He retired, selling this business to Sam Durnherr, who conducted it for many years in a successful way. Mr. Durnherr died, the business being carried along by his brother Joseph J. Durnherr, who conducted it for a period of about 25 years, also in a successful way. Joseph Durnherr died and upon the recent death of Joseph Durnherr, three of his former employees took over the butter cracker business. The same formula used by Mr. Cullross is being used at the present time. These crackers are rich tasting and nourishing, served for luncheon, with butter, with soups, etc.

Try them today and be convinced.—Adv.

Lima, Ancient City of the Pizarros, Is Undergoing Modernization.

Prepared by National Geographic Society,
Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

DEMOLISHING here, building there; installing modern water and sewerage systems; tearing up rough, age-worn cobblestones, putting down smooth modern concrete and asphalt in their stead; opening up new highways both to the mountain and the sea; and developing motor routes to the outlying regions of the plain; thus the makers of new Lima are transforming the Peruvian capital, city of the Pizarros.

The older portion of the city, as well as the newer region which circumscribes it, is sharing in the modernization. True the older section is and must remain an area of one-way streets, for its thoroughfares are so narrow that even street cars must observe the one-way law. Likewise, the sidewalks are so lacking in elbow room that only two people can pass one another at a time, and the one on the outside must keep a close watch lest he be struck by a passing trolley.

Old and new fight for supremacy. The blue-necked turkey buzzards have lost their role as the official scavengers; the ox-cart has given place largely to the motor truck; the old barouche has abandoned the streets to the modern automobile; and the patient, panniered donkey is making his last stand.

Even Pizarro's stern old palace is feeling the urge toward modernization. In days gone by, there was no street in Lima that had a single name throughout its length. Each block had its own particular designation. The two streets that led from the Plaza San Martin to the National Palace are six blocks long. Each possessed six different names, one for each block.

The municipal authorities wanted to change all this and gave each street a single designation for its entire length. The one they called the Giron de la Union and the other the Giron Carabaya.

But the populace would have none of it. The man who did business on the northwest side of the Plaza de Armas still wanted to have his store on Escribanos, and the one who held forth on the next block still insisted he was doing business on Mercaderes, and they continue to do so. Consequently the Giron de la Union is swallowed up by the several calles which compose it.

These may be named without modern-day rhyme or reason, and they certainly are without alphabetical or other indications of their sequences; but the people cling to them, despite whatever confusion it costs the post office, however, much it may perplex the visitor, and whatever harvest it may bring the taxi drivers.

How the System Works.

Many interesting stories are told illustrating how this mysterious system works. One concerns a stranger who hailed a taxi in Calle La Merced and asked the chauffeur to drive him to "Baquilano veinte cinco." The driver did not bat an eye, but drove like Jehu up Jesus Nazareno, skidded on two wheels into Giron Carabaya, raced around Plaza San Martin, and whirled up through Boza, landing his shaken passenger at the address given—on the same street, but simply in the next block from where he started!

The name Mercaderes tells us of the day when that block was the Wall Street of Lima and Escribanos

or the public letter writers who were sheltered under the portals on the west side of the Plaza. Calle Mantas proclaims the square where the ladies, of Peru's golden past "spent their husbands' substance in riotous purchase of shawls, home-spuns, Indian textiles, and lingerie."

The history of Lima's past is written in her streets, in names that the municipality long has wanted to wipe out in favor of through designations and numbered blocks. But the people of the city cling to their streets with a devotion that will not permit convenience to triumph over romantic ties with the past.

In wandering about the old city, one comes upon many an architectural relic of the days of the viceroys; but, among all of these, none is more impressive than the monastery of San Francisco. There one may be ushered into a porcelain garden where the artistic tiles of the cloister compete with the living flowers that bloom in the earth they inclose.

No one has described more beautifully the effect of this porcelain garden than Mr. F. P. Farrar, of the West Coast Leader. "Here," he says, "is a porcelain garden, a ceramic border of springtime, where the blues of delphinium and lupine, the yellow of cystisus and the gold of colchicum, the creamy white of arabis and the mauves of aubrietia, blend into the fresh foliage of the overhanging trees and the azure of the new-washed skies."

The charm of the story of the origin of this porcelain garden almost equals the beauty of the ceramic triumph itself. On a November morning in 1619 a vast crowd had gathered in the Plaza de Armas, for there was to be a public hanging, and these events were Roman holidays for the populace.

The public crier had announced: "The Warrantable and Royal Audience of this City of the Kings has condemned to suffer a shameful death on the gallows Alonso Godinez, native of Guadalajara, in Spain, for the murder of Marta Villoslada without fear of judgment human or divine. Let him who did so pay the penalty! This sentence is to be read in the presence of all lest they meet a like end! Let justice be done!"

Came a Reprieve.

The condemned man had taken his stand beneath the noose and the hangman was nervously adjusting the fatal knot. Suddenly a monk pushed his way through the throng, climbed the gallows platform, and handed a parchment to the captain of the guard. After the latter had read it, the two engaged in a moment of animated conversation, after which the padre led the condemned man away and into the portals of the monastery of San Francisco. The crowd, disappointed, hung about the Plaza de San Francisco discussing this strange overthrow of justice.

But later the reason for reprieve became known. That morning the condemned man had made what he thought would be his last confession on earth, to the prior of the monastery. He said that he was a potter by trade and that he had learned the art both of making and setting tiles.

Years before, Dona Catalina Huanca had brought from Spain a magnificent collection of tiles for the decoration of the new cloisters at San Francisco; but neither plan nor a tile setter had come with them, and Lima had no tile setters. So for years the tiles had been piled up in a corner of the monastery; many were stolen and more were broken. Would Providence ever open a way for their setting?

Here seemed to be the answer; the prior saw an opportunity to let the man who had murdered a woman in a drunken brawl repent his sins in a lifelong task of setting these tiles. So he hastened to the viceroy to implore the pardon of the murderer, and the viceroy, a descendant of the Borgias, seeing poetic justice in remitting the penalty of the scaffold and imposing a task of service that would require a lifetime, granted the commutation of sentence.

One can see today the wisdom of that act of mercy-tempered justice. Alonso Godinez was a true artist, who loved his work and threw his soul into it. Today "the walls blossom with pictures which in their mellowness, richness and seductive beauty rival those of the Alhambra itself; and it is doubtful if outside of Spain there is to be found a finer

Lima is peculiarly a city of churches, with some 70 in its limits; and, with nearly four centuries of outstanding ecclesiastical tradition behind them, the people are much given to buying religious objects. The Cathedral is a magnificent structure, much larger than Pizarro built, but still not so grand as the one erected during the early years of the viceregal regime and destroyed by the great earthquake that wiped out Callao.

The high altar is of massive silver construction. In the chapel of the Virgin is a celebrated image presented by the Emperor Charles V of Spain, and in the Chapel Arcediano an original painting attributed to Murillo, representing Jesus and Veronica.

Here rests a glass-and-marble casket which is most interesting of all, for it contains the half-mummy, half-skeleton reputed to be the remains of the great conqueror.

Fashionable Hats Taboo.

The attire for church occasions is perhaps the most conservative in the New world. Even those women who dress in the latest Parisian modes elsewhere put on their plain black mantillas when going to church. In some congregations those who come in fashionable headgear are told politely to remove them and substitute their mantillas before they are allowed to be seated.

Among the fine old residences of Lima, one of the most impressively beautiful is the famous palace of Torre-Tagle, once the home of the marquis of that name, but now the headquarters of the ministry of foreign relations.

The City of the Kings long has been famous for its brilliant social life, with a constant succession of luncheons, teas, dinners, dances, champanadas, and receptions. Nearly four centuries of wealth, leisure, and opportunity have written their impress of culture on the descendants of the nobility and official classes of the colonial regime.

A combined meeting of all Democratic organizations of the ward sponsored by the women's club will be held Tuesday, May 16, at the headquarters in Driving Park avenue. Assemblyman George W. Kelly will be the speaker. He will be presented by Mrs. Joan Lynn Schild. The public is invited.

At a short business meeting, preceding the joint meeting, the ladies having tickets for the card party on May 24 are requested to be present and make their reports. Mrs. Caroline Moran is chairman of the committee in charge of the card party, which is to be held at Wegman's Hall, with prizes for each table.

Jeffersonians Debate Ward Debt Cancellation

The Jeffersonian Club, composed of the young men Democrats of the Tenth Ward, held their regular monthly meeting Monday night in the Liberty Theatre clubrooms.

The feature of the evening was a debate on "Should the U. S. Cancel the War Debts." Thomas Brien and John H. Dorsey took the affirmative while Frank Ferris and Robert Fischer upheld the negative. The decision of the judges was 3 to 1 in favor of the negative.

Marvin Dye addressed the meeting on "Municipal Politics." The special election and registration rules were explained by Thomas Moran.

John L. McGrath and Thomas Brien were placed in charge of the baseball team the club is entering in the City Democratic League.

Says Mrs. Jones

"My, aren't those southern strawberries nice, and so reasonable too. You know, I don't bother baking shortcake any more. I buy shortcake biscuits or sponge cake from Johnston's. . . Believe me you can't beat them. They say Johnston uses a home-made recipe. My husband wouldn't say so, but I think he likes them better than he does mine."

There's a Johnston Kleen Bakery near you at 827 Dewey Ave., 1300 Dewey Ave., 1505 Lake Ave. and 400 Lewiston Ave.—Adv.

Haboush, 20th century Galilean shepherd, will present his musical travelogue, "The Seven Wonders of Jerusalem and Galilee" tomorrow (Friday) evening in the Edgerton Park Auditorium under sponsorship of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and other churches. He will be assisted by his talented wife, who will appear with him in oriental costume in the dramatization of Biblical parables. Madam Haboush is also a concert singer and her songs add much to the beauty of the program.

This travelogue, synchronized with music, presents the true story of Galilee and Palestine. In addition to his exceptional and thrilling pictures of the Bible lands, he presents special motion pictures taken with the assistance of Burton Holmes. Some of the dramatic scenes done in natural color appeared in the National Geographic Magazine.

The price of admission for children above 7 and including high school students will be 25 cents; for adults 35 cents. The public is invited.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review

The newspapers of America have from time to time carried stories about the decadence, notoriety and scandal that often follow in the wake of great American fortunes.

A famous American novelist, Lester Cohen, studied these tales for many years. In the end he wrote an epic novel, titled "Sweepings," which was a composite fictionalized history of the founders of fortunes and their frivolous offspring.

This great story, with its elaborate settings and dramatic elements, has been made into an epic film by RKO-Radio Pictures. Known by the same title, the film is to be seen with Lionel Barrymore as the star.

He gives one of his greatest characterizations, it is said, as the founder of a fortune whose tottering old age is blasted and made miserable by the scapegrace escapades of his children.

A story that combines humor, rare satire, uproariously funny situations, snappy dialogue and delightful romance, was chosen as the starring vehicle in which James Cagney makes his return bow on the screen, after an absence of several months.

It is a take off on the flamboyant, pompous and over-confident publicity promoter, entitled "Hard to Handle." The story was written by Houston Branch, one of the pioneer press agents of the movies, who should know what he is talking about.

Cagney, as the press agent, puts over every sort of promotion scheme from dance marathons, treasure hunts, cold cream and grapefruit campaigns to building up a one horse college into a tremendous institution.

Graphite Is Lubricant In New Oil Discovery

The tremendous heat generated in the head of the modern high speed, high compression motor demands a lubricating agent capable of withstanding it.

Inventors found that graphite—the most perfect lubricant known—is the only lubricant that could possibly withstand the devastating heat of the combustion chamber. But powdered or flake graphite could not be used because it soon clogged oil ducts, leads, screens, etc. Their problem was to "liquify" graphite and this they succeeded in doing by processes of electro-chemistry employing a heat of 7500°. This product is called Pyroil and is used as a concentrate with regular gasoline and oil.

As Pyroil is heat, cold and dilution proof the Pyroil conditioned motor is not susceptible to the terrific wear that occurs when a motor is being warmed up, because the graphite actually penetrates the metal and builds up a smooth, slippery, wear resisting surface. Pyroil conditioned cars have been run as high as 903 miles with no oil in the crank case. This is claimed to be a world's record.

CHURCH NEWS

Redeemer Lutheran—The church was filled to capacity last Sunday morning to hear Stephen A. Haboush, 20th century Galilean shepherd, give his interpretation of the 23rd Psalm and tell of his shepherd life in Galilee. Mr. Haboush brings the atmosphere of the Holy Land as only a native can do, as he appears in beautiful oriental costume carrying the shepherd's rod with which he had killed a hyena and many other enemies to the sheep. His interpretation of the Shepherd Psalm was most interesting and inspirational, for Mr. Haboush enters into the feeling of this most famous bit of the world's devotional literature with insight and charm.

HOLY ROSARY DOINGS

There will be a good time for everybody at the old-fashioned dance tomorrow (Friday) evening. Those who don't enjoy the square sets will like the modern dance numbers the orchestra will play.

A banquet last evening brought the first season of the Ladies' Bowling League to a successful close. The winning team was Nolan's Drugs, with Hunt's Bakery in second place.

The Junior baseball team, striving hard this year to rival in success the senior team, which won the pennant last year, came out with a 6 to 5 victory in its first game of the season, played with Holy Apostles.

News Reels Are Added To Amateur's Library

In addition to running a film library, specializing in 16 mm. movie film, Archie Bourbon of 387 Magee avenue is now developing a local news reel service for rental that bids fair to rival the work of professionals.

Mr. Bourbon has been making good use of his movie camera during the past few weeks on local news events and as a result his library already boasts some excellent "shots" of such events as the striking dairy-farmers in action and the huge First Methodist

The whole parish is going to celebrate Mother's Day by receiving communion, each one to honor his mother individually. At each Mass a special tribute to all mothers will be given in the sermon preached by Rev. Walter A. Foery, Ph. D., S. T. D., pastor.

A minstrel show entitled "Minstrel Days" is to be presented by the Young Ladies' Sodality. It promises to be the peppiest entertainment the parish has yet had, according to Mr. Wagner, the director. For the benefit of the children an advance showing will be given Sunday afternoon, May 21, at 3 o'clock.

Regular performances are scheduled for Thursday and Friday evenings, May 25 and 26. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Publicity Committee.

A special meeting of the Sodality has been called for Wednesday evening, May 24, to complete plans for the reception on Sunday, May 28.

CORRECTION

A typographical error occurred in the special issue in the requirements for voting on the prohibition amendment repeal. Regarding requirements 4 and 5, "one entitled to vote in this state prior to Jan. 1, 1932" was intended to read Jan. 1, 1922.

Church fire. His local news is supplemented by news-reels taken in other cities by amateurs and sent here, a notable example being a fine movie record of the recent California earthquake.

In his library, Mr. Bourbon has many good subjects available for rental including such productions as "The Fall of the House of Usher," a burlesque of "Carmen," starring Charlie Chaplin, etc. His library is located in the basement of his home, where he has also built a miniature theater with sound-equipped screen to give previews to prospective customers.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:

Starvation wages, long hours and children in industry are the price of cut-throat prices and unfair competition.

Business men can help the President stamp out these evils by refusing to sell merchandise made under these conditions.

Every man is entitled to a living wage. However, this is being denied many, because a large number of manufacturers are trying to put out cheap prices in answer to a mislead public demand. The only possible result is a poor article at a cheap price; the worker's wage is cut and the buyer of the article gets hoodwinked in the bargain.

As President Roosevelt says, the workingman must be given a fair wage. Only manufacturers that pay a living wage deserve the support of the public.

It is not fair to squeeze the working man to a pulp just to lower prices!

Island of Sark Is Feudal State

Once Haunt of Pirates,
Now Peaceful Place With Quaint Ancient Customs.

Prepared by National Geographic Society,
Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

WHEN the Dame of Sark recently went shopping in London, the event was news in at least two continents; for La Dame De Sark is the first lady of the only purely feudal state remaining in the world, the island of Sark in the English channel.

Sark is the fourth largest of the Channel Islands. It lies 70 miles south of England and 22 miles from the coast of France. It is three and a half miles long and one and a half miles wide; and yet, because of its numerous bays and coves, it has 35 miles of coast. It is the highest land in the Channel Islands.

The cliffs, rising on all sides almost perpendicularly, are covered with innumerable varieties of rock plants and flowers, while below are sandy bays and wonderful caves, whose sea-hewn walls are covered with seaweeds and sea anemones of every color of the rainbow. On the beaches may be found semiprecious stones, such as amethysts, cats-eyes, and moonstones. The island is not without minerals; at one time mines were worked which produced copper, silver, antimony, and galena.

The interior of the island is undulating with valleys full of wild flowers, and in the spring the whole is covered with a blaze of golden gorse, blue bells, and primroses. No venomous beasts live in Sark, not even a toad!

On landing at the Sark harbor, which is one of the smallest in the world, the visitor finds himself entirely surrounded by steep cliffs, and the only means of access to the island from there is by a road passing through a tunnel 200 feet long, pierced in the cliff, and thence by a steep, winding road which leads to the center of the island, where there are a few small shops and four hotels.

The highway continues to La Coupe, where the island is divided into two parts, Great Sark and Little Sark, joined by a huge natural causeway of rock nearly 300 feet high and 415 feet long, across which runs a road just wide enough for one cart and horse to cross at a time. On one side of this causeway is a sheer cliff; on the other a sloping way down to beautiful sands. In spite of its minute size, Sark has a history of no little interest, as its written records begin in A. D. 563, and there is ample evidence of occupation in the Stone Age. In the Sixth century Saint Magloire, bishop of Dol, in Brittany, established a monastery here, the ruins of which, including an old wall and two chapels, stand just beside the Dame's house. Here an order of 62 monks flourished until 1412, when they were withdrawn to the Abbey of Montebourg, in France.

Once Pirate Haunt.
Years rolled on and Sark became the haunt of pirates, said to be from Scotland, who were a constant menace to shipping in the channel and against whom expeditions from England were sent out. The island was cleared of their presence, but ruin was left in their wake. It was occupied by the French some time early in the Sixteenth century, and it was wrested from them by a ruse, the details of which were recorded by Sir Walter Raleigh himself, who was governor of Jersey some fifty years later, as follows:

A Flemish vessel arrived off the coast, and the sailors pretended that their captain was dead and asked leave to bring his body ashore for burial. On permission being granted, they carried the coffin up the hill to the little church of Saint Magloire, and there, closing the door, they opened the coffin, which was full of arms, turned on the French garrison and surprised them, killing some and taking the rest prisoners.

Soon after this the island was again deserted, until from the island of Jersey arose a man who was finally to establish the future constitution of Sark. This was Sir Heller de Carteret, the fifty-eighth seigneur of Saint-Ouen, in Jersey, to whom, in 1565, Queen Elizabeth granted the island conditionally by letters patent under the great seal of England. This royal grant gave to Sir Heller and his successors almost unlimited powers on condition that he colonize the island with forty families, to each of whom he allotted a portion of the land to farm. Each man was equipped with a musket for defense of the island; so that to this day it is often spoken of as "the island of the forty," and even now, when a farm changes hands, it is still cited as one of the conditions of the deed of conveyance that a man with a musket shall be kept on the farm.

Though the De Carteret family still owns the Manor of Saint-Ouen, in Jersey, Sark passed out of its hands when, in 1732, it was sold, with all its rights and privileges, and eventually came to the great-grandmother of the present Dame of Sark, in 1852. For many years an artillery militia was maintained, consisting of about one hundred men; now all that remains are a few old cannon, lying disused and half hidden in bracken and gorse on the cliffs, while in the grounds of the Dame's house is a fine old bronze cannon which was presented to the first Seigneur of Sark in 1572 by Queen Elizabeth, and bears an inscription to that effect.

The Dame's house, or "Seigneurie," lies in a sheltered part of the island and, like all the old houses, is built of gray granite. The original or main part of the house, dating from 1585, stands on the site of the old monastery, and no doubt many of the stones used to build it were taken from the ruins. The fireplace in the hall bears the date 1675 and the sundial on the outside 1685. The gardens are opened to the general public, free of any charge, every Monday.

Appeal to the Dame.
Great privileges are always accompanied by grave responsibilities; so that the Dame's home may be described as the clearing house of all island controversy. It is open at any time to any inhabitant of the island who wishes to see her for any reason, and she sometimes longs for the leisure of the "tired business man" when often both sides of a difficulty are brought to her for final judgment. Discussions take place on subjects which range from whether bathers shall wear beach pajamas or whether the Chief Pleas shall pass a measure to deal with the prevention of infectious diseases among cattle.

The Sark parliament is called the Chief Pleas, and it sits three times a year unless called by the Dame in an emergency. The forty holders of the farms allotted originally in 1585, plus twelve deputies elected among the rest of the inhabitants, who now number 675, are members of the parliament.

To the "Sarkites" the king of England is their feudal lord, the duke of Normandy, and he has no more loyal and devoted subjects than they, who have from time immemorial been part of the Duchy of Normandy, whose duke, William the Conqueror, invaded and took England and was thereafter recognized as king of England, but to them has always remained duke of Normandy.

In point of fact, the Channel Islands were never a part of England, but part and parcel of the Duchy of Normandy, and as such, no doubt, took part in the conquest of England. Sark is the smallest self-governing part of the British empire and the only part which has no public debt; in fact, it has a substantial credit balance.

The language of the island officially is French, though everyone speaks English, which is taught equally with French in the schools.

Motor Cars Barred.

A law against the importation of motor cars has been passed and this is strictly enforced. The Dame believes there should be one spot left on earth where modern transportation can be forgotten and where peace and quiet are undisturbed. She also refuses to allow the importation of any female dog, the ownership of such, except by the Seigneur, being forbidden under an old custom upheld by law for centuries. It is also the old right of the Seigneur alone to keep pigeons—an excellent law, as in this way their number is controlled and damage to crops is minimized. The large stone pigeon cote is an essential part of any feudal seigneurie.

It is also a seigneurial privilege that none but he may grind corn or build a mill, and although the old windmill is now no longer used, he still grinds all corn brought to the seigneurie, by the more modern methods of motor and machine, charging each farmer a small fee.

All cereals grown in Sark are subject to seigneurial tithes, and no man may harvest his crops until these tithes, called "dimes," have been collected. The farmer has to notify the seigneur 48 hours before he intends carting, so that some one may be sent to the fields to see that every tenth sheaf is set aside for the seigneur, who also has a tithe of cider, lambs, wools, and a royalty on all minerals. Each of the forty pays a yearly tithe or ground rent on his property, and the old chimney tax, or pontage, as it is called, is still in force, paid in live chickens every year to the seigneur.

Given Certificate For Saving Swimmer's Life

Bernard L. Munding of 327 Selye terrace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Munding, and Raymond Babel, 2005 Dewey avenue, received the Rochester Safety Council's Meritorious Service Certificate at a luncheon meeting held last Thursday in the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

Tobias Roth, President of the Council, made the award in recognition of the heroic act of the two, in saving Floyd Welker, 107 Chamberlain street, from drowning at White City Beach.

Babel went to the rescue at the risk of his life and started for shore with the unconscious man. Bernard, an advanced boy scout, quickly assisted in the rescue and by fast and efficient methods learned in his scout training, applied first aid and brought back to consciousness the lifeless body.

Perfect Picnic Leaves Bowlers "Holding On"

Favored by perfect weather, some 24 members of the H-K-L-B Bowling League had a perfect picnic last Sunday at Whittaker's, Long Pond. Plenty of "eats," baseball, quoits and other sports proved an exhilarating experience, even though Monday found most of the picnickers feeling like a prizefighter hanging on to the ropes to stave off a knock-out.

The day's activities were arranged by Bob Hall much to the satisfaction of the bowlers and the affair is quite apt to become "annual." Although most of the day was given over to sports, the boys took time out to hear some musical soloing by Messrs. Berry and Walzer on the harmonica and vocal cords respectively.

Says Mrs. Jones

"For last night's dessert, I bought some of Johnston's Black Walnut Cookies and were they good! You know, we have Johnston's Cookies in the house all the time . . . that is I try to have them, but they eat them up so fast on me! And by the way, if you want a meal fit for a king, buy one of their Kuchens Saturday. Coffee and Kuchen make a dandy Sunday morning breakfast."

There's a Johnston Klen Bakery near you at 400 Lewiston Ave., 1300 Dewey Ave., 1505 Lake Ave., or 827 Dewey Ave.—Adv.

KATHRYN DOYLE has big news for you. Here 'tis: In New York's smartest shops you could find nothing smarter than the lovely straws, piques, linen and felt hats being shown for $1.88 at the Agnes Hat Shop. Hundreds to choose from, for any age, any occasion. Hats remodelled $1.00. 75 Locust St.—Adv.

EDOUARD'S SAMPLE DRESS SHOP is featuring silk jumper dresses at $1.98. New silk dresses and ensembles $3.98 and $5. Also flowered chiffons at the same price. Final clearance of coats at $4.95. EDOUARD'S SAMPLE DRESS SHOP, 1546 Lake Ave., opp. Wagg's Cor.—Adv.

Another Year Passes

Five years ago, when the general condition could have been described as "booming," the first issue of The Courier made its appearance. In that short span of time much history has been made, some of it pleasant to reflect upon. The most pleasant thought to The Courier, selfishly speaking, is that it has been fortunate enough to come through. And as we proclaim "Amen" we hear the chorus of many voices, presumably other business men of the Tenth Ward, saying "Aye, Aye.—We too."

The sobering influence of a depression, as the philosophers might say, has made itself evident all around us. We're a little more cautious and not quite so easily sold. But be it said to the credit of local business men, they are still 100 per cent. sold on the value of advertising, a fact which is well evidenced in the columns of The Courier.

Although essentially developed to meet the need of business men of the ward, this publication has endeavored constantly to merit the title of "newspaper." How well we have succeeded is for our readers to judge. Suffice it to say as we hurry on into the sixth year of publication (and we hope the first year of the promised new era) we'll keep on trying to improve and to give the Tenth the best paper in town.

A Little Help Wanted

A very evident effort is being made by the department of Public Works to do an efficient job in the collection and disposal of waste and rubbish, even in the face of a seriously curtailed budget. With the appropriation of $460,000 representing only slightly more than half of the usual amount available, Commissioner John G. Ellendt is seeking the co-operation of all of us in a very small matter.

Little things often have large influence and this is especially true in this case. The co-operation he asks is merely that we break down and, if possible, bundle all cartons and boxes in order that their bulk may be reduced for cartage to the disposal plant. The Commissioner explains that about 43 per cent of the total outlay for the collection and disposal work is absorbed by expenses of cartage, exclusive of workmen. If every load of rubbish transported is a capacity load, in weight as well as volume, a worthwhile saving will be made possible.

It is patent that our city officials are obeying our commands and cutting every corner to save expense. Where we can assist them, it is to our best interest to do so, not only to encourage them, but also to save on our taxes. Merchants have been appealed to and are co-operating by tearing down all bulky packages before throwing them in the rubbish. Each householder can help, too, even if it's only one carton he has to dispose of each month. Multiply this one box by 70,000 or so stops the collectors must make and figure it out for yourself.

Week-end Program

Tonight—"Child of Manhattan" with Nancy Carroll and John Boles; and "The Intruder" with Monte Blue.

Fri.-Sat.—"The Big Drive," authentic World War Pittoresque; and "Flaming Guns" with Tom Mix.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. — "Cavalcade" with Clive Brook and Diana Wynyard; and "Sailor Be Good" with Jack Oakie.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review

Fox Film Corporation has brought "Cavalcade" to the screen. This drama whose theme is the effect of world events on the home and family has been hailed as the greatest written in the English language in a score of years. The author, Noel Coward, known for his successes, enjoyed the distinction of having his play run for a solid year at the Drury Lane Theatre in London.

A staff of experts was sent from Hollywood to see the play and to photograph it for reference. Another large staff was put to work on the research necessary to bring a story that covers the colorful period from 1900 to 1933 to the screen with absolute accuracy of costumes, equipment and historical backgrounds.

Hollywood, New York and London were scoured for the very best actors and actresses fitted by education, training and experience to interpret the 40 principal roles. Three members of the original Drury Lane cast were brought from London to re-enact their parts before the camera, and two other London favorites were also signed for leading roles.

A nine-week shooting schedule

There will also be a reduction on all size enlargements. Your saving will be 15c to 30c per roll.

was arranged, one of the longest in Hollywood's history since the screen learned to talk.

In addition to the large cast of principals, thousands of extras found employment in the colorful sequences which include a number of dramatic and historic episodes and a graphic presentation of a cross-section of modern day life.

Jack Oakie again dons the accoutrements of the sailor in RKO-Radio Pictures' "Sailor Be Good," with Vivienne Osborne co-featured. The navy tar is the character most noted and best identified with Jack Oakie.

"Sailor Be Good" presents the comic in a speedy-paced comedy of a hard-fighting, fast-loving sailor who is trained in love and fisticuffs by his waterfront sweetheart.

THE LAST WORD

For your holiday frocks may we suggest that you come over and see some really beautiful creations, direct from New York and absolutely the last word in summer styles? The price range, $4.95 to $9.95, hardly indicates the remarkable values. You'll find plenty of whites in crepes and organdies, also prints, in all sizes including half sizes. We urge you to consider this outstanding number—combination silk dress and full-length wool coat for $10.95. Bastian Dress Shop, 493 Lyell Ave., opp. Myrtle St.—Open evenings.—Adv.

ANNUAL LILAC FESTIVAL TO TAKE PLACE MAY 27

Rochester's Annual Lilac Festival will be held Saturday, May 27, at Highland Park. This will be the opening day of Lilac Festival Week.

Setting forth from a central point in the downtown section of the city at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, a Floral Float Parade, including bands, marching units, cavalry and official escort, will proceed through Main street and East avenue, thence to Highland Park, where, in the natural bowl formed by the sloping lawn west of South avenue, a music program such as is rarely heard even in musical Rochester will take place.

There will be a chorus of 700 high school boys and girls and an inter-high school band of 100 pieces. A number of children from this section of the city will take part. Dancing and pageantry, also by school children, will complete the afternoon's performance.

On Sunday, May 28, at 2:30 p. m. the Rochester Park Band will give a concert in the main pavilion at Highland Park, overlooking the lilac-covered slopes.

Parking accommodations have been arranged by the Lilac Festival Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, under whose direction all plans have been made. An amplification system is being installed to enable the throngs to hear clearly the entire program. The parade floats, entered by civic clubs and organizations of the city, will be on display throughout the afternoon of the parade.

Should rain prevent the festival program from taking place on Saturday, it will be held on Sunday; if postponement again is necessary, it will be held the afternoon of Memorial Day, May 30.

Normandy Dons Festival Attire

Greets Spring With Quaint Age-Old Ceremonies.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

NORMANDY is planning for apple blossom time. Like Winchester, in the Valley of Virginia, and other great apple-growing regions of America, Normandy fares forth in festive attire when the buds of its famous apple trees burst in the spring.

Although the French are largely a wine-imbibing people, the natives of Normandy drink apple cider. There, you can't eat a meal without cider, you can't be born without cider, and you can't get married or die without cider. The old duchy, slightly smaller than the state of Maryland, is one huge orchard.

Even "When it's apple blossom time in Normandy, however, the duchy has many world famous spots that also attract the attention of the traveler—Rouen, Deauville, Cherbourg, Havre, Bayeux, Honfleur, Dieppe, Falaise, Alencon.

Northmen swooping down, raiding, destroying, but finally settling on the land and giving it a softened form of their name; stalwart son of duke and tanner's daughter crossing the channel to make world history at Hastings; Norman dukes reigning in England; the king of the English reigning in Normandy. Armored knights, clanking about, in London, Sicily, Naples, at the tomb of Christ. The Maid burnt at the stake. Daring sons of Normandy roaming the seas to fish, to explore and colonize unknown lands, from Newfoundland to the Antarctic, to the South Seas, around the world. Normans building lordly castles, chateaux, cathedrals, and abbeys of distinctive "Norman architecture," painting pictures, writing poetry, plays, and novels of enduring fame. Poussin and Millet, Pierre Corneille, Alain Chartier and Malherbe, Flaubert, De Maupassant, and others—a Norman galaxy.

Normandy does more than sit around and dream of the long ago. Through Havre, second seaport of France; through Cherbourg, it saw some of the legions pass to the western front. It has greeted kings and queens, admirals and generals, and heard the roar of cannon salutes, the hum of sky craft. Through these ports today pass travelers from the western world, and processions of consuls, agents, buyers, salesmen, ambassadors of commerce of every kind—hunters all, scenting the romance and adventure in foreign trade, in anything from anchovies to antiques.

Dress designers, looking to Paris for the first and last word on fashions, send "scouts" to the golden beaches of Deauville and its less aristocratic vis-a-vis, Trouville. Here, where the beau monde disperses itself in season beneath gaily striped tents, at the casinos, along the promenades, and at the races, the gods and goddesses of style display their latest creations on beautiful women.

Back from the white chalk cliffs and sandy beaches stretches a green and pleasant land of winding streams, fertile grain fields and pastures, hedgerows, orchards, well-kept farms, and villages of thatched cottages. There are hills, and dales and glens, forests and waterfalls, and the typically Norman long, straight roads.

Famous for Cattle.

And cows! Innumerable herds spot the lush meadows everywhere, but especially in the Contentin, the peninsula which points toward England. It has given its name to a Norman breed of cattle famous for beef, but more so for milk production. Paris drinks Normandy's milk and cream, and both London and Paris eat its fresh butter and cheese—Camembert, Neufchatel, Pont l'Evêque—with histories as distinguished as the duchy's own.

In one field men in blue smocks are leading bay into carts drawn by ponderous horses. "They are percherons!" exclaims the horse lover from the Middle West. "My Indiana neighbor used to import carloads of them." Don't they remind you of Rosa Bonheur's "Horse Fair"? As a matter of fact, most of her models for that picture were percherons.

New Books At Ledlie Circulating Library

The following new books have been added to Ledlie's Lending Library, 842 Dewey avenue:

Zest, Charles G. Norris; As the Earth Turns, Gladys Hasty Carroll; White Collar Girl, Faith Baldwin; Bad Girl Leaves Town, Maysie Grieg; The American Gun Mystery, Ellery Queen; The Album, Mary Roberts Rinehart; Laughing Harlot, Karlos Keith; Riders of the Oregon, Charles Wesley Sanders; The Border, Dagmar Doneghy;

Another Normandy product is its patois; one's school book French will not serve here. In the daily common speech one authority has counted some 5,000 words which are foreign to French.

On an early visit to England, the future Conqueror found Normans everywhere. There were "Norman prelates in the bishoprics, Norman lords and soldiers in the fortresses, Norman captains and sailors in the seaports." The Conquest itself affected every phase of England's national activities, especially its political and social institutions. One writer has called attention to the fact that for more than 800 years the British parliament has used Norman French when imploring the king to approve or reject its laws.

Though the old Norse language died out quickly in Normandy, it left tokens of its Scandinavian origin in such place names as Dieppe, "deep"; in Harfleur and Barfleur, fleur, the Norse flut, meaning "small river"; in Yvetot, Ivo's "toft" or "inclosure." Another proof that this is the land of William the Conqueror lies in the fair-haired Scandinavian types which persist to this day in various districts.

As to the origin of the Norman's inclination to "hedge" on every question, let historians argue as they will, but it is a fact that one must usually labor hard to extract a plain yes or no from him. "Was the apple crop large this year?" you ask. His classic reply is: "Well, for a good apple year, it is not too good; but for a bad apple year, it is not too bad!"

The tendency to avail himself of subtle distinctions may account for the Norman's reputation as a somewhat grasping character, and the fondness for legal forms and lawsuits has earned him and his fellows the title of "the lawyers of France."

Natural Curiosity.

Thirty miles southwest of Vire, as the crow flies, on the border between Normandy and Brittany, towers the duchy's most imposing natural curiosity and its finest coastal monument of the Middle Ages—stupendous Mont Saint Michel. It is a granite islet 3,000 feet in circumference, girt with immense walls and towers, plastered with houses climbing up its sides, and the whole crowned with an ancient abbey, shrine of the Archangel Michael, saint of high places. Lovers of the antique find in its historical associations, in the grandeur of its outward aspect, an appeal and a fascination similar to those of Carcassonne.

East of Vire is Falaise, where Robert the Devil, the Magnificent, looked out of the castle window and saw Arlette, the tanner's daughter.

Norman Women Astroll.

Another story goes that he first saw her washing clothes at the fountain one day when he was returning from the chase. However, it was, her "pretty feet twinkling in the brook" led to her becoming the mother of the Conqueror.

North of Falaise is Caen, a Norman Athens and unrivaled center for the study of Norman art. Here the Normans' extraordinary faculty for adaptation appears at its best. Though they invented little that was new, they adopted from other countries, developed and improved. French language and literature, French feudal doctrines, and Romanesque architecture in particular bear the stamp of their genius. In Norman hands this architectural form from northern Italy became a distinctive, living thing, marked by great size, simplicity, and massiveness and love of geometric ornament. The two abbeys founded here by the Conqueror and his wife are superb examples of the architecture which preceded the rise of the early Gothic in the Thirteenth century, and which also crossed the channel even before the Conqueror.

The Conqueror was buried in one of these abbeys, and Matilda, his cousin-wife, in the other.

What a courtship was William's! A seven-year siege of Matilda's hand, disdain from the lady, slights not to be endured, and finally a wrathful rushing into Matilda's presence, seizing her by the hair, dragging her about the room, striking her, flinging her to the floor. After that she said yes!

Gathered His Hosts.

Still farther north is Dives. Here in those stirring days of 1066, the future victor at Hastings gathered together "an innumerable host of horsemen, slingers, and foot soldiers," wild, adventurous spirits, the war strength of northern Europe, eager for the battle over the sea. In the river's mouth lay some 700 ships. The largest could hold fifty knights with all their horses and men; the smallest boats were not even decked over, and were loaded to the gunwales with stores and provisions, including small grinding mills for the grain.

For pictorial history of the Conquest, go to Bayeux and look at the 58 scenes embroidered on linen—the famous Bayeux tapestry. Probably no other fabric anywhere in the world surpasses it in interest and importance. Crude though it is in design, and partly defaced, it nevertheless recreates a momentous period in the world history.

But all Norman roads lead to Rouen at last. Rouen, "Gothic Queen of France" and the duchy's ancient capital, where "each monument is a book, each stone a souvenir." Yet, more than architecture, more than antiquities, Joan of Arc is the strongest lure; for Rouen is her town, saturated with glorious and tragic memories of her. Her spirit still hovers over the market place where, condemned for "having fallen back into the errors," she went to fiery martyrdom.

Unique Establishment Is Developed Locally

Probably one of the most unique business establishments in the ward is the Neighbourhood Wood-Working Studio. It is tucked away in the group of stores on Dewey avenue opposite Emerson street; but once seen it could hardly be passed by without some notice.

Its window display indicates that the manufacture of original jig saw puzzles is its main purpose, yet this is but a sideline. Inside the shop is all the equipment, more or less in miniature, of a full-size wood-working shop. A circle saw, built by the owner and proprietor (Walter Nolte), a band saw, a lathe, a jig-saw and a machine that does shaping, routing and morticing are to be seen. Mr. Nolte also has a planer and sander, making a very complete outfit.

Although a carpenter by trade, Mr. Nolte since his youth has had a knack for the more intricate details of the business. Making special inlays for bridge table tops and game inlays, repairing antiques after they have reached a state apparently beyond repair, cutting out jig-saw puzzles and fancy knick-knacks—these are some of the things he is now doing commercially, which developed from the hobby of his earlier years. (Incidentally he has been a Tenth Warder for 28 years.)

Mr. Nolte has the equipment to do most anything in the wood-working line, plus an apparent ability to execute the same. His own summation is, "We can do anything, even to building a house and delivering it in sections."

Mrs. Minnie Newbold of Troy motored here this week to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Koninsky of Flower City park.

Miss Lillian G. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Clark of Birr street, was graduated with honors last week from Roosevelt Hospital,

Mrs. Kathryn Reynell has been appointed chairman of the ticket committee.

Regular weekly meetings will be held by the committee from now until the date of the picnic. Mrs. Culhane will announce tonight the date on which these will be held.

Grunow Refrigerator Is Available Here at Coers

Adopting the slogan "It's time America knew what's inside an electric refrigerator," the Grunow Corporation has announced a refrigerator, said to be the "last word" in safety and convenience. The new Grunow is on display at Jack Coers', 1398 Dewey avenue.

The Grunow is the crowning achievement of William C. Grunow, genius of manufacturing, who was until recently one of the outstanding figures in the radio business. It has exclusive rights to the use of carrene, a refrigerant that has been used successfully in commercial installations for the past ten years. Carrene is said to be superior to other refrigerants in that it is non-poisonous and eliminates the possibilities of high pressures, escaping gases and bursting of equipment.

Not only is it superior in safety, states Mr. Coers, but also in appearance and roominess. In consumption of electric current the Grunow is said to be the most economical achievement to date.

Just 26 more dresses left and our stock will be entirely gone. We are going out of business and we have again cut the prices on these few silk dresses for quick sale. Half of them at $1.00 and the others at $1.50. Jennie's Dress Shop, 1340 Dewey Ave. at Electric.—Adv.

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review
The romantic atmosphere of Vienna with its period drawing-rooms, and graceful, artistic settings features "The Kiss Before the Mirror." In an authentic manner, the refinement of the European social capital has been transferred to the screen.

In preparing the elaborate mirror sets and other distinctive European backgrounds for the action of this unique marital love drama, which is based on the successful European play by Ladislous Fodor, the artist worked from the actual arrangements of many well known houses of the aristocracy in the city of the Hapsburgs, where the original stage play, which caused a sensation in Europe was laid.

"The Kiss Before the Mirror" features Nancy Carroll, Frank Morgan, Paul Lukas and Gloria Stuart.

TAXPAYERS PROTESTING LAKE ONTARIO WATER

A meeting of the Citizens' Utility Rate League was held at No. 41 School Tuesday night, June 1, for the benefit of those who are now using Lake Ontario water.

The following statement was released after the meeting by W. E. Edell, president, and F. A. Dutcher:

"It is the purpose of this league to petition our council to give us Hemlock water, which we are entitled to, and want as we consider Ontario water unfit to drink at certain times of the year. Rates of the Ontario Water Company also are too high.

"We are informed that rates are from $15 to $40 a year to consumers of Ontario water.

"Therefore, it was moved and adopted that each and everyone interested in this project will meet at Citizens' Utility Rate League headquarters, 4 Church street, Tuesday night, June 13, at 7:30, and proceed in a body to the Council Chamber in City Hall, for the purpose of petitioning each councilman to act on this proposition at once."

CHURCH NEWS

Redeemer Lutheran—The Festival of the Holy Trinity will be celebrated Sunday morning at 10:30 with a brief message by the pastor, the Rev. W. L. Dowler, on the theme "Our Triune God," followed by the Holy Communion.

Last Sunday morning an inspiring service was held in commemoration of Whitsunday and the 20th anniversary of the ordination of the pastor. The Rev. Franklin F. Fry, D. D., of New York City, was the guest preacher, emphasizing "the inspiring fellowship, fruitful partnership, and right relationship of co-workers with God."

In the afternoon the young people of the congregation held a fellowship meeting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Dowler on the Ridge road, with the members of the church council and their families as special guests. Supper was served at 5:30 after which a sunset devotional service was held with William Kaiser, a student of the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary, giving the address. The Bethany Guild placed large bouquets of roses on the altar Sunday morning in honor of the pastor's anniversary, and the chancel was elaborately decorated with baskets of garden flowers. The members of the church council presented Rev. Dowler a bronze desk lamp.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold its June meeting as a picnic Wednesday afternoon, June 21, at the home of Mrs. Dowler, with a luncheon at one o'clock.

Annual picnic of the Sunday School and congregation will be held Saturday afternoon, June 24, at Genesee Valley Park, picnic grounds No. 3. All are requested to meet at the parish house at 2 o'clock whence mounted police will escort the cars to the picnic grounds.

North Presbyterian—Tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p. m. radio talent from WHAM Studios will present a program at the church, under the auspices of the Women's Society.

The sale of tickets has encouraged the committee in charge to believe that the concert will be well attended. Mrs. R. W. Henschel, chairman, asks that ticket sales be reported to her by tonight if possible. The artists who will appear on the program are Inez Quinn, Helen Ankner, Ruth Hanson, Jack Lee, Ken Loysen, Al Sisson, Ben Weaver and others. Tickets are 25 cents for adults and 20 cents for children.

On Sunday the sermon theme will be "Christ-Peace and World-Peace."

Hope Circle of the Women's Society will meet Monday at the home of Miss Harriet Miller, 332 Glenwood avenue, with Miss Ruth Beldue and Miss Allene Hoesterey assisting hostesses. The theme for the discussion will be "Beyond War," and will be led by Miss Hoesterey.

Children's Day will be observed in North Church on June 18. At the morning service, 11 o'clock, a pageant, "The Church and Her Children," will be presented by members of the Sunday School and will include baptism of children and presentation of Bibles to baptized children who have reached their eighth birthday.

At WAGG'S CORNERS

LAKEVIEW SCHOOL NO. 7

Miss Desmond's grade had some interesting visitors one day recently. They came in a shoe box. The boys and girls were glad that Maggie and Jiggs came. They were white mice.

On May 19 a spring entertainment was given. The kindergarten band played, and accompanied the drill which was given by the 4A class. Dick Stoll gave a clarinet solo; Albert Giesselman, Betty Burnett and Robert Meyer played violin solos; and a group of songs was given by the 4A class.

There were three plays and the pupils of Miss Knope's grade had charge of the candy booth.

The honor of the citizenship medal awarded by the Sons of the American Revolution was earned by Perry Smith of the 6A grade. The class wrote a citizenship play which they gave at the assembly when the medal award was made. The play was entitled "A Visit to the Kingdom of Good Citizenship."

Spring Heralds Coming Circus

Much Actual Geography Seen in Sawdust Ring.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

THE circus, land of sawdust and spangles, pink lemonade and peanuts, is about to emerge from winter quarters. The magic rumble of red wagons and the footsteps of circudom's spangled battalions have echoed down the corridors of many summers; yet few really know the phantom white city, a nomadic world, a geographic marvel and a mystery from beginning to end.

There is more actual geography within the narrow borders of Spangleland than in any similar space on the face of the earth. From the shores of the seven seas come its citizens, their faces turned toward the open road where lies the winding trail of the big tops. Dainty equestriennes from France and handsome Russians from the steppes; plink-cheeked athletes from Britain and Scandinavia; flashing brunettes from Italy, Argentina, Mexico and sunny Spain; blond Germans with iron bodies; suave, charming Austrians; almond-eyed maids from Yokohama, Tokyo, and Nagasaki and from the seething land of the dragon; sun-tanned sheiks from the shifting sands of Araby; whip-crackers from Australia and hard-riding cowboys from the western plains; clowns, acrobats, aerialists, riders, staff executives and laborers from every state in the Union all owe allegiance to the transient country of tents.

A game of checkers in the circus "backyard" between a genial young Japanese tumbler, heli to half a million dollars, and an old clown who ran away from his home in the Middle West long ago, lured by the spangled Pied Piper and his steel-throated callopo, shows how the big top draws together the ends of the earth. Such is the population of Spangleland, where people from nearly every country under the sun are fed into the hopper of a highly organized machine to emerge firmly woven into the brilliant mosaics of a fast-moving performance, subscribing without reservation to the supreme law of the trouper—"The show must go on."

Gets Start in Circus.

Circudom has been a springboard form which men have vaulted to prominence in other fields. Will Rogers was the "Cherokee Kid" with Wirth's circus in 1904. Al G. Fields, the minstrel king, started trouping as a Shakespearean clown. Fred Stone wore spangles before the footlights claimed him, and some of his best antics were born back in "Clown Alley" during his circus days.

Many persons still look upon circus trouping as something akin to robbing a bank, which accounts for the interesting fact that many present-day circus stars had to run away from home to join. Take Mabel Stark, for example. Her relatives virtually disowned her when she laid aside the crisp, white uniform of a trained nurse to expose herself to the mauling of "big, striped tomcats," as she affectionately refers to her tigers. But the call of the callopo and the magic of the midway were in her ears and she immigrated to Spangleland, there to become the only woman in the world who breaks, trains, and works tigers.

The almost unlimited geographical aspects of the circus are nowhere more in evidence than in the wild-animal menagerie. To the traveling college of zoology belong animals from every continent, each a splendid physical specimen, receiving the utmost care from the animal attendants. Zoological experts from leading universities never cease to marvel at the exceptionally fine condition of the circus animals, despite the fact that they are moved from city to city almost every day. Variation in climate in different sections of the country presents a serious problem for circus animal attendants, who often pass hours in a cage with a sick jungle charge, so fond are they of their animals. Seldom does a beast die while the circus is on the road.

Under a single spread of canvas are gathered hundreds of animals

Paul Weaver presented the medal. Miss Langham's 5B grade has painted some attractive pictures on mining and fishing. They showed the coal being mined and taken to the surface in coal cars. Also a fishing boat and the drying of cod.

The Second A class has a baby alligator. They call him "Ally." He is about two months old.

Although alligators live in a warm climate, the class hopes Ally will like the North. Once in a while they give him some raw meat. They would be grateful for and birds—tigers from Bengal, Sumatra, and Siberia; lions and leopards from Africa's tangled jungles; tall, silent giraffes from the open stretches of Ethiopia; nilgai, black buck, aoudad, tapir, and Gemsbok antelope. In the same circus colony are Russian brown bears, huge black fellows from Alaska, and polar bears from Greenland's icy slopes. But the circus animal population does not end here. There are hippopotamuses from north of the Transvaal; orangutans from Borneo; tiny rhesus monkeys with pathetic faces, affectionate dispositions and delicate lungs; llamas from the mountains of Peru; pumas from North and South America; macaws from Mexico; sea lions from California; a sea elephant from the Antarctic wastes; wise, friendly elephants and a curious armored rhinoceros from India; the more familiar rhino from Africa, together with hyenas, dromedaries, zebras, and water buffaloes. Australia contributes the kangaroo.

The rhinoceros, despite his perpetual grouch and his amazing ugliness, is one of the most valuable beasts in the circus, costing $10,000 by the time he has been purchased from an exporter and raised to maturity. While the more impressive rhino hails from India, a dwindling species, the African, is a formidable fellow of steam-roller disposition. Rhinoceros, elephant, or water buffalo can whip a tiger or at least discourage him in most instances. In contrast to the evil-tempered pachyderm, with the deadly horn and the tiny, piglike eyes, is the good-natured hippopotamus, as genial as he is fat.

Elephants From India.

Circus elephants, almost without exception, come from India. Their African cousins, though larger, are much harder to handle and have proved pretty generally useless in circuses except for display purposes. Jumbo was an African and he was stubborn, like the rest of his four-footed countrymen. One night many years ago, in St. Thomas, Ont., Jumbo got into an argument with a freight train on the wrong track, with the result that his funeral was held the following morning.

Indian elephants are natural actors and enjoy doing tricks in the big show. They are quick to learn, once they realize what is expected of them, and their ears are tuned to applause like those of a born trouper. Most of them are surprisingly good-natured, and they are so anxious about a firm footing that in most cases they will not voluntarily step on a man. Giraffes are captured by means of a lasso, and often an African-horn giraffe will be seen to have about two inches of hair missing from his stubby mane —evidence that the lasso was instrumental in his capture.

The big circus cats, unless born on the show, are captured in the jungle regions with traps and pits covered with young goats. A new method of capturing wild beasts alive involves shooting them with a gas bullet that puts the animal to sleep without pain. When the creature wakes up he finds himself a prisoner. These recently perfected gas bullets are said to be capable of bringing down a lion or a tiger at a distance of 200 feet. But circus animals from the four corners of the earth are imported for a far more interesting purpose than mere exhibition. Many of them are educated. In the circus "classroom" the natural enemies of the jungles are taught to tolerate one another.

Mystery of Circudom.

Much of the mystery of circudom lies in the moving of this miniature cosmos, with its citizenry of animals and people from every clime, and in the pitching of the tents that compose the canvas city.

any flies anyone would bring to them.

Miss Knope's class made a chart on which to record the daily contributions of each class for the Memorial Day Flower Fund. It was a very nice chart and attracted much attention.

A son, Edward Robert, was born on May 21 at Highland Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Blanchard of Clay avenue.

Trained Circus Elephant.

The largest circus carries its own doctor, lawyers, detectives, barber shop, blacksmith shop, fire department, chefs, business experts, and postal service, and it travels on 100 railroad cars in four sections. There are long, steel flat cars for the wagons and other vehicles; huge box cars for the hundreds of horses, elephants, camels, llamas, zebras; commodious sleeping cars for the performers, staff, and laborers.

That the moving of the show may be expedited, cook and dining equipment is packed up at 5:30 in the afternoon, and is sent ahead aboard the flying squadron, along with the wild animal cages and the menagerie tent, which is loaded immediately after the start of the night performance. The land of the white top remains static for just about six hours—between the time the last wagon moves upon the lot, in the late morning, until loading begins again, in the late afternoon. But, if there is a late arrival, the time between unloading and packing up again is shorter still. Of course, when the circus arrives on Sunday or when it remains in a city for more than one day, as it does in a few very large cities, this schedule is not followed. The longest run made by a circus in 1931 was the Ringling-Barnum jump from Springfield, Mass., to Montreal, Canada, a Sunday trip of 335 miles. The shortest run was 12 miles, from Philadelphia to West Philadelphia.

Circus exhibition in the United States had its beginning in 1785 and President Washington attended Rickett's circus in Philadelphia in 1793. The circus of those early days was a puny ancestor of the present-day show. Indeed, it had no elephant! The first pachyderm to set foot in the United States arrived several years later, aboard a sailing vessel called America.

Spangleland scarcely could lay claim to being a complete world in miniature were it not for the fact that within its boundaries can be seen the freak as well as the normal handiwork of Nature. The side show is a separate and distinct kingdom.

Radio Tips, Questions and Answers
By H. S. Russell

This article deals with three radio subjects. First the new automobile radios. It may interest the readers of this column to know that revolutionary changes have been made in these receivers. They are now a practical buy in the standard makes. These receivers have their speakers, chassis and power units housed in one small container. Only two connections need be made and the entire receiver can be installed or removed from the car in a few minutes' time. This means that servicing will be easier, cheaper, and more complete. Tone and performance is fine.

Many of the universal a. c.-d. c. sets are being sold. These little fellows are fine for the cottage or for travelling, but I would not advise anyone purchasing one for steady home use. They are what is known as "transformerless receivers" and the plate voltages on the tubes cannot exceed the city line voltage, that is 115 volts, although some sets have a voltage doubler rectifying system which might boost the power to 200 volts. This, however, is a far cry from the 350-400 volts of our a. c. transformer powered radios and the tone is much poorer in consequence. For it takes power and plenty of it to produce tone.

Now speaking of power and tone—unless the buying of cheap, poor quality radios ceases we are going to see the quality (not the power) of our broadcasting stations lowered. No company will continue to spend a fortune in maintaining a broadcast station so fine that every inflection of voice or instrument is reproduced faithfully "on the air" only to have it wasted on cheap receivers that sound equally well when reproducing mouth or pipe organ, 10 or 100 piece orchestra. It is true that many people con-

New Books At Ledlie Circulating Library

The following new books are announced by Ledlie's Circulating Library, 842 Dewey avenue:

Laughter Ends by John Farrow, Strange Understanding by Harriet Comstock, Broken O by Carolyn Wells, Wife for Sale by Kathleen Norris, Marriage Racket by Vina Delmar, Protecting Margot by Alice Grant Rosman, Hilltops Clear by Emilie Loring, Laughing Harlot by Karlos Keith, Matched Pearls by Grace L. Hill, Fountain Boy by Neil Brant, Shanghai Bund Murder by Van Wyck Mason, Sleepers East by Frederick Nebel, Personality Boy by Edward Lowrey, French Powder Mystery by Ellery Queen.

Poison Unknown by Charles Dutton, Roman Hat Mystery by Ellery Queen, Consequences by Concordia Merrell, Black Tolts by William Raine, Professional Virgin by Roswell Williams, Interne by Thurman & Furman, Evil Chateau by Sydney Horler, Vintage of Yon Yee by Louise J. Miln, Shot in the Dark by Gerard Fairlie, Topper by Thorne Smith, Naked Glory by Lawrence David, Flaming Stallion by Johnson McCulley.

Consider their $25.00 radio to have fine tone quality—but it is because they are used to it. Place it next to a real receiver and the poor quality of the "midget" is pitifully apparent.

Now, I'm not finding fault with these low priced radios. They've been a blessing to many an impoverished pocket book, bringing music and news and world events to homes that otherwise would have had to do without. But don't let us lose sight of the fact that they are poor quality, and don't let us lose the determination to replace them with real musical instruments when, and as soon, as conditions permit.

COURIER PLANS TO REVIVE BIKE RUNS AT MAPLEWOOD PARK SAT., JULY 15

Years ago, Bike Runs were most popular among the sporting events of the day for boys of this and other sections of Rochester. For an afternoon of real fun, there was little to rival these annual tests of skill on bicycles.

Right now bicycling is probably as popular as it ever has been and the Tenth Ward Courier, in co-operation with its allied newspaper in the northwest section, The Vicinity Post, has decided to revive the Bike Run this year. The event will be known as the Post-Courier Bike Run and will be held on Saturday afternoon, July 15, at Upper Maplewood Park.

Entry will be open to every boy and girl in the northwest section who owns a bicycle and there will be absolutely no charge of any kind. Beckwith's and Towner Bros., Lyell avenue bicycle dealers, are co-operating and entry tickets are now available free at their stores. One hundred will be passed out. To get a ticket, a boy or girl should present the coupon from the Courier at one of these two stores. No purchase is required.

Free Hots and Drinks

There will be a long list of events with prizes for every winner; bike races, stunts, games and everything to make up an afternoon of fun. In addition free hots and soft drinks will be served.

The girls will have a chance to show their skill, providing enough of them are entered. Bicycling is returning to popularity even among the fairer sex, and if enough girls are interested, special races and prizes will be arranged for them.

On the afternoon of July 15, the entrants will report on their bikes at Edgerton Park promptly at 1:30 o'clock. They will line up and lead by a police escort, will parade to Upper Maplewood Park for the start of the day's events.

Now there is one thing for every boy and girl to remember: the entry list has been limited to 100. So there is need for a little speed. Cut out the coupon printed here-with and take it to Towner Bros., at 179 Lyell avenue, or Beckwith's, at 271 Lyell avenue, just as soon as you can.

Names of boys and girls entered will be published in the next issue. Be among the lucky 100; get there early! Also in the next issue you will find the list of events and prizes as well as more details about the Post-Courier Bike Run.

POST - COURIER BIKE-RUN COUPON

This coupon is good for one free entry ticket to the Post-Courier Bike Run to be held on Saturday, July 15, 1933, at Upper Maplewood Park, on presentation at:

Beckwith's or Towner Bros.
271 Lyell Ave. 179 Lyell Ave.

Right reserved to close entry list at 100. No tickets given out after Thursday, July 13, 1933.

Wedding To Be Staged at Riviera on July 1

A public wedding will be solemnized on the stage of the Riviera Theatre Saturday, July 1. This, it is stated, is the first time such an event has ever occurred on a Rochester theater stage.

It will be an actual wedding and the young couple, whose names will not be announced until their wedding night, will receive as gifts everything to make a wedding complete. A full wardrobe for both bride and groom, jewelry, radio, automobile, china, table service, flowers, wedding cake—these are among the gifts they will receive.

The theater will be appropriately decorated with flowers and every detail will be complete, even to solos by a well-known church singer. The entire wedding will be filmed for the WHAM screen news.

EDOUARD'S SAMPLE DRESS SHOP is featuring violet and pique wash frocks at $1, $1.44 and $1.98. Lace-trim dresses in pastel and white at $1.98. EDOUARD'S SAMPLE DRESS SHOP, 1546 Lake Ave., opp. Wagg's Cor.—Adv.

Levin Market Observing 15th Anniversary Week

Levin's Cash Market of 1525 Lake avenue is observing this week its fifteenth anniversary with a sale extending from today through next week Wednesday. I. B. Levin, who started the store in 1918, continues today as owner.

Up to two years ago, Levin's was located across the street where the Memorial Bridge approach now enters Lake avenue, moving to its present location when its old quarters were torn down.

In announcing the anniversary sale, Mr. Levin said: "It has been a great pleasure to serve Tenth Warders for 15 years. I certainly appreciate the support given by my friends and customers here and I want to thank them all for their patronage."

Restaurant Is Started Here By Tenth Warders

One of the newest and most attractively decorated restaurants in Rochester had its formal opening June 10. It bears the name "752 Lake Avenue," which is also its address, and is owned by Robert S. Wilson and William B. Loomis.

Large dining room facilities and a rathskeller in the basement have already made "752" a popular rendezvous. Dancing is featured every evening at dinner time and after. Noon day lunches are also served. Reservations may be made for bridge and special parties, luncheons or banquets.

MILTON HUGGETT ORDAINED IN EPISCOPAL MINISTRY

Milton A. Huggett, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huggett of Lark street, was ordained June 14 at St. John's Episcopal Church in Cambridge, Mass., and was graduated June 15 from the Episcopal Theological School of Cambridge. Vina Delmar's "Pick Up," published originally as a short story in Red Book Magazine, has been produced in film under the same title, with Sylvia Sidney and George Raft in leading roles.

Like "Bad Girl" and other of Miss Delmar's stories, "Pick Up" centers around a boy and girl from the streets of the city, who are buffeted about by social and economic laws, but ultimately find happiness in each other's arms.

Sylvia is the girl—a youngster married to a man who turns out to be a criminal, and who, when he goes to prison, frames her so that she goes too. But she is released after a couple of years, while he remains behind to serve six more.

A melodramatic mystery thriller comes to the screen in "Girl Missing."

The story was written by Carl Erickson and Don Mullaly, who also adapted it for the screen. As a result of their work on "Girl Missing" and "The Mystery of the Wax Museum," Mullaly and Erick-

POST-COURIER BIKE RUN ENTRANTS NEAR 100; LIMIT IS RAISED TO 200

With 96 entered up to Monday of this week, the limitation of 100 entries for the Post-Courier Bike Run on July 15 at Maplewood Park has been raised to 200, so that boys and girls with bicycles who have not entered yet should do so immediately. (The coupon to be found on this page entitles you to a ticket if you take it to Towner's or Beckwith's.) There are probably less than 100 left, so hurry!

Such a large number of entries was not expected, but with interest in bikes increasing every day, the record entry at such an early date is not altogether surprising. Business men, too, have shown a fine spirit of co-operation and as a result there will be at least 40 different prizes, thus assuring plenty of opportunity for every boy and girl to take home a valuable reward.

The Courier is also pleased to announce that the services of Julius Friedrich's Girls Sunshine Band have been donated to lead the parade. These snappy girl musicians will furnish music all along the line of march, riding in a platform truck furnished by the Sidney B. Roby Co.

Parade Through Dewey

The boys and girls will meet at Edgerton Park, on their bikes, promptly at 1:30 and will parade from there to Maplewood Park. The line of march will take them through Lake avenue, Lyell avenue, Glide street, Emerson street, Dewey avenue and Ridgeway avenue.

Arrangements have been made with the Department of Public Works to close Maplewood avenue between Driving Park avenue and Rose street for the afternoon and all events will be held there. The program will include races for boys and girls in various age classes and in addition several special events, including a tug-of-war in which a chain of bike tires will be used in place of a rope.

Here is the complete list of events: bike race, boys under 12; bike race, boys 12 to 16; bike race, boys 16 and over; bike race, girls (open); balloon race; hill climb; dodgeball; and tug-of-war.

The prizes will be awarded to the winners on the stage of the Riviera Theatre in the evening following the races. All winners will be admitted to the theater free and will be publicly presented with their prizes.

This is the last announcement in The Courier before the Bike Run, so all boys and girls in this section who have bikes and desire to enter should cut out the coupon and take it to Towner's or Beckwith's for their free tickets without delay.

RIVIERA FEATURE REVIEW

Week-end Program
Today—"Bondage" with Dorothy Jordan and Alex. Kirkland; and "Christopher Strong" with Catherine Hepburn.
Fri.-Sat.—"Central Airport" with Richard Barthelme; and "Strange People."
Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Review

A personality entirely new to American pictures—one who is expected to prove one of the most outstanding ever brought to the screen—makes his debut in "Adorable," the new Janet Gaynor romantic comedy with music.

He is Henry Garat—charming, talented as an actor and a singer and as handsome as any man on the screen today. For three years he has been the sensation of Europe in French, German and English pictures.

COUPLE TO BE MARRIED AT RIVIERA SATURDAY

One of the most unique weddings ever to take place in Rochester is that scheduled for Saturday night, July 1, on the stage of the Riviera Theatre. In anticipation of an overflow crowd, the management is making preparations to broadcast into the lobby for those who are unable to get in the theater. The wedding will take place at 8:30.

The wedding will unite two young people whose identity will be disclosed the night of their marriage. A minister will perform the ceremony on the Riviera stage which will have appropriate floral decorations. The lobby, too, will be decorated with flowers. Norman Turney, church soloist, will sing "O Promise Me."

Following their marriage, the bridal couple will be presented with a large array of gifts from Rochester merchants. Their wedding cake will be on display in the lobby and they will have a duplicate cake for their dinner following the ceremony. Samples of the cake will also be given out to all ladies who are in the theater.

Gifts have been contributed by the following merchants: J. E. Thompson, 78 Clinton Avenue South; Blanchard, Florist, 48 Lake avenue; Grossman Clothes Shop, 47 Clinton Avenue North; Johnson Bakery, 7 Pullman avenue; Hickson Electric and Radio Co., 36 South avenue; Hall-Covel Co., 9 Clinton Avenue North; Charles P. Coster, Jeweler, 1519 Lake avenue; C. A. Brown, Photographer, 84 Exchange street.

Everson-Burke Nuptials To Take Place Tonight

The marriage of Florence M. Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burke of Crawford street, and Earl E. Everson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Everson of Knickerbocker avenue, will take place tonight at seven o'clock at Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Rev. William Long Dowler will perform the ceremony.

Mr. Everson is widely-known in the Tenth Ward, being the manager of a grocery store on Dewey avenue.

Attendants will be Miss Thelma Everson, maid of honor; George Burke, best man; and Leonard Hammer and Leonard Miller, ushers. Out-of-town guests include Mr. and Mrs. W. Wood and Miss R. Lane, all of Geneva.

Organ selections will be rendered by Miss Evelyn Anderson and "O Promise Me" will be sung by John Baars.

Upon their return from a trip to the Thousand Islands, the young couple will be at home at 103 Salisbury street.

HELP SAVE!

Remember, when you throw out your rubbish and papers, to break down all bulky containers, boxes and cartons. Your co-operation will make more efficient rubbish collection possible and all savings are eventually reflected in the tax bill.

Ladies Hard at Work on Details of Annual Picnic

With the appointment of Mrs. John J. Mulronee as chairman of the prize committee, all major committee places have been filled for the annual picnic of the Republican Women of the ward. The picnic date has been announced as Wednesday, July 26.

The various committees are hard at work arranging details to take care of a crowd that usually runs well over 2,000 people. Ticket sales are reported to be up to the normal standard as the result of concerted action by all members of the club.

North Presbyterian Men To Hold Picnic July 15

First annual picnic of the newly organized Men's Club of the North Presbyterian Church, will be held Saturday, July 15, at Beechwoods, Churchville.

Jameson; tickets, Alexander Muhr, Walter Tack, Walter Paris, Kenneth Hoestery; Reception, Carl E. Kitzing, Dr. Irving T. Clark, Rev. Robert Findlay; tables, George D. Jennings, E. THE 4TH IS COMING!

From now on, until after the glorious Fourth, we will see and hear plenty of firecrackers, sky-rockets, etc., and we will also see and hear about several fires which will be directly caused by these same fireworks. During the past depression many home owners reduced the fire policies on their houses and just as many more have absolutely no insurance on their furniture. Now! If anything is worth owning, it is surely worth protecting and when you consider that you may pay the small premium in monthly installments, without interest or finance charge, it seems impractical for anyone to go one day longer without protection.

It is the natural desire of insurance men to write more business and we keep this constantly in mind in dealing with our clients. We have facts and figures to show the good condition of our companies, but it takes a fire or tornado loss to show how good our companies are in paying claims. It is our established policy to meet fair claims, fairly and squarely, without petty hickering over terms of settlement. People insured by us who suffer a fire loss must be satisfied. Charles A. Claus, General Insurance Agent, 7 Immel St. Gen. 3046. Associates: Anthony Schoenberger, 612 Driving Park Ave.; Daniel Flavin, 114 Primrose St.—Adv.

Favorable progress toward the goal of $200 has already been reported from preliminary canvassing. Contributions so far received have ranged up to $5, but any gift, large or small, is acceptable. Kodak Park P. T. A. Lists Year's Accomplishments

The P. T. A. of No. 41 School closed its activities for this year with the party for the graduates Thursday.

The following is a resume of the accomplishments of the year:

A printed program of the year's work placed in the home of every child attending No. 41 School, giving parents an opportunity of understanding child problems. This program obtained all three stars of merit at the state convention in Albany.

Created the "P. T. A. Newsletter," whereby the parents were kept informed as to the work being done by the association.

Retained the services of the Rhythm Accompanist for Health Education Department of the school.

Furnished milk for the kindergarten children whose parents were financially unable to do so.

Assisted Miss Hitchener at Christmas by providing 16 baskets for needy families.

Purchased needed articles for the nurse's room. Such as slippers for children with wet feet, hot water bottles and financed refinishing of implements.

Purchased class room printer used in the new method of education.

This was all accomplished with the loyal support and co-operation of the principal, David Densmore, and the teachers.

Represent Tenth Ward At Syracuse Convention

Among the 50 Democratic Women who motored to Syracuse last week to attend the annual conference of Democratic women of the state were Mrs. Caroline Moran and Mrs. Joan Lynn Schild, representing the Tenth Ward. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was honored guest.

Mrs. Schild, besides representing the Tenth Ward Club of which she is president, also was present in the capacity of reporter for the Times-Union, obtaining a personal interview with the President's wife for her paper. Mrs. Schild was also the instigator of a parody on the campaign song of "Row, Row, Row With Roosevelt," which met with an unexpectedly hearty approval at the conference. The words, composed by Mrs. Schild, fit the melody of the campaign song, and were as follows:

Fifty happy Democrats
From the County of Monroe.
We've come so far
To greet Elinor
And show her how we grow.
She's loyal, she's wise and she's steady,
When we need her she's always ready.
Come on and cheer, cheer, cheer for Elinor
With the County of Monroe.

LEXINGTON SCHOOL NO. 34

June has been a month of interesting activities for No. 34.

The closing day assembly was held on Thursday, June 22. An interesting program was presented by the Sixth A Grade, including an address by the Rev. Robert Findlay; a dramatization by the Sixth A Grade; musical selections under the direction of Miss Gertrude Hall; presentation of school honor awards; and the transfer of flags from Earl Barrett to the new Standard Bearer, Herbert Hart, and the Guardian of the Flag from Nelda Eichel to the new Guardian, Hope Christoff.

On June 20 the Seventh A and B Grades were entertained at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Masseth at Hilton Beach. On June 21 the same grade repeated a minstrel show at No. 7 School.

The Sixth A Grade gave a party for Ronald Sharpe in appreciation of his having brought material from the Municipal Museum, which correlated with the center of interest for the term's work.

The Kindergarten joined with the First and Second Grades for an entertainment on June 21, which included a musical play, songs and poems and on June 22, they enjoyed a Kiwanis bus ride to Seneca and Durand Eastman Parks to see the animals.

Penn's Dream Is Now Jewel City

Philadelphia Continues to Be a Credit to Founder.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

WILLIAM PENN'S statue that adorns the portal of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve bank, is soon to be removed because the bank is to have a new facade. The statue has for four decades been a famous landmark of Philadelphia, in whose history Penn played a prominent part.

"At this time, Gov. William Penn and a multitude of friends arrived here and erected a city called Philadelphia about a half mile from Shackamaxon," reads the quaint minutes of a meeting of the Society of Friends held at Shackamaxon on the banks of the Delaware on November 8, 1682.

In two and a half centuries Philadelphia has become one of the world's greatest urban centers, possessing colorful history of leadership in the development of the arts and sciences and in the progress of industry. Meanwhile, Shackamaxon became a tiny park on the Delaware river, tenderly cared for by the big city.

Philadelphia now is a metropolis of two million souls, third in size among all American urban communities and eleventh among the municipalities of the earth. It covers 80,000 acres. Despite its spread, it continues to be the city of its founder, for William Penn established its plan, selected its name, and projected its future.

His care and forethought in laying out its central area in the unshaped district between the Delaware and the Schuylkill, with its central and satellite squares, have been perpetuated to this day. This area stands as a monument to his genius as a city planner, even in these times of amazing urban developments.

Perhaps one may gain his best idea of the city of the Pious Penn by going forthwith to its capitol, the city hall, and from the parapet of its tower getting a bird's-eye view of this metropolis. First, one notes above, the heroic statue of the founder. This huge bronze statue of Penn weighs 53,348 pounds and stands 37 feet high. All of its proportions are of amazing scale—the hat 9 feet in diameter, the shoes 5 feet 4 inches long, the coat cuffs 3 feet deep, and the buttons 8 inches across.

A Great World Port.

Look over the outstretched city below. A magnificent river front proclaims one of the world's great ports; a towering business district tells of a financial center of the first order; a dozen industrial areas speak of manufacturing operations; parks, parkways, a canalized river, museums, stately art galleries, and fine libraries write the superscription of culture over the city; suburbs of rare beauty environ it and make such areas along the mall line and Reading route resplendent jewels in the city's crown; railroad facilities of latest electrified type extend the city into the country and bring country into town.

It was always the dream of William Penn that his city should ever remain "a green country town." Through these two and a half centuries the citizens steadily kept faith with his purpose, and today we find one acre out of every thirteen within its confines devoted to parks and squares. The beauty spot of the whole city is Fairmount park, one of the largest in the world. With 43 miles of drives and 44 miles of paths winding through its 3,600 acres of scenic beauty and romantic history, one who has a day to spend there revels in delightful prospects.

Here is Lemon Hill, the country home of Robert Morris, the financier of the Revolution, frequented by Washington and Jefferson, Adams and Lafayette, who sat down to breakfast with the banker where the populace now may come and eat and be entertained at the concerts for which Fairmount park is famous. At the foot of this historic hill runs the Schuylkill, its east bank covered with the clubhouses of the "Schuylkill navy."

For years on end Philadelphia has been conscious of a dire need for a parkway from the center of the city into Fairmount park and the northwestern section of the city. There were no diagonals from the city's center at City Hall square. Then came a time when the passenger train facilities of the Nineteenth century no longer were adequate to the second quarter of the Twentieth. Steam trains for suburban traffic became archaic. The old Broad street station of the Pennsylvania was outgrown, the old Chestnut street station of the Baltimore & Ohio seemed a page from an almost forgotten past; and the Reading terminal—well, that might have been modern in Centennial times, but it was antiquated in the late twenties. Electrification had to come. Underground traffic was the only way to speed up the city's great suburban transportation.

The opening up of the new monumental Pennsylvania station and the putting into service of the Broad street suburban station made possible the razing of the "Chinese Wall," as the great viaduct into the old Broad street station was called.

In its stead there will be opened up in the not-distant future a new highway, known as Pennsylvania boulevard, extending from City Hall square to the imposing and classical east facade of the Pennsylvania terminal.

The railroad improvements are resulting in the unsightly section of the Schuylkill immediately south of Fairmount park being canalized and boulevard-bordered and in giving the heart of Philadelphia that sort of a cleaning that delights every eye. Green will grow tomorrow where grime flourished yesterday, and the dreams of city planners will be living realizations where ugliness but lately reigned supreme. On her part, Philadelphia plunged into a new era of urban planning of startling proportions and magnificent conception. She would provide the diagonals to the northwest and the northeast that became so needed in the day when the automobile began to crowd every main thoroughfare.

Modern Highways.

The famous Roosevelt boulevard, the great diagonal to the northeast, with its broad, high-speed central lane bordered on either side by parking and local traffic lanes, took care of the northeast situation. To the northwest, from City Hall square to the entrance to West Fairmount park, runs the other diagonal, Fairmount parkway, that marvelous $30,000,000 thoroughfare which the city has opened. It was a frank appeal for the city beautiful that created this magnificent drive from city hall to the Art museum, where Fairmount park begins. A thousand buildings had to be razed.

The city's industries are rooted in that remote past before the machine age reached its height and when men of high skill had to do by hand what mere machine tenders can do today. Such men loved their little homes and had no taste for tenements. Their sons and their sons sons have followed.

This home-loving spirit has played an important role in shaping Philadelphia's problems. Those of urban transportation have never been so pressing, for the Philadelphia wage earner prefers to have his home within walking distance of the factory in which he is employed; and whether in Tacony or Manayunk, Bridesburg or Passyunk, Kensington or Southwark, you will find the average workman living near his

Miniature Yacht Races To Be Held by Schmanke

Miniature yacht races will be held at Maplewood Park toward the end of July under the sponsorship of Schmanke's Brownbilt Shoe Store of 1480 Dewey avenue. There will be four classes with prizes for each winner.

Entry in the yacht races is open to all Tenth Ward boys. There will be no charge to enter, the only condition being that each boy register personally at Schmanke's within the next two weeks.

Mr. Schmanke has found that a good many boys in this section are very much interested in the sailing sport and as a consequence he is running this program of races to pick out some champions. Home-made boats will be just as eligible for entry as those purchased in stores. The prizes, which will be announced in the next issue of The Courier, will be good ones, well-worth competing for, according to Mr. Schmanke.

Following are the classes: I—Boats up to 18" in length; II—Boats 18" to 24"; III—Boats 24" to 36"; IV—Boats over 36". Boys are urged to register at Schmanke's immediately.

Model Airplane Contest Planned by Sky Cadets

The Rochester Sky Cadets, a group of local model builders, are planning a model airplane contest to be held during the latter part of July. Under the management of Alfred Lidfeldt and George Bishop, arrangements are being made to offer an interesting meet featuring classes of flying and non-flying model airplanes. The actual location of the event has not yet been decided upon. The age limits are from 10 to 18 years.

Full information about the contest may be obtained by calling at 287 Electric avenue from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. or by enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope to Rochester Sky Cadets' Hdq., 287 Electric avenue, Rochester, N. Y.

Penn's Dream Is Now Jewel City

place of employment, the same circumstances that served to make the Philadelphia artisan a man with a distaste for tenements, but intent with an ambition to own a home, have served to make him a man with a leaning toward savings bank accounts and building and loan investments.

A concomitant of all of these qualities is the industrious habit, through which Philadelphia has attained the distinction of having the highest percentage of skilled labor of any major city. With such a fine quality of labor, it is little wonder that the national census-takers were able to find 277 distinct lines of commodities being manufactured in the Philadelphia metropolitan area; that it ranks first in the output of hosiery and knit goods; in carpet and rugs; in cotton lace and saws, and high in the manufacture of leather, hats, fur felt, linoleum, and many other commodities.

In a normal year the great workshop of the world produces $2,000,000,000 worth of manufactured products, including 45,000,000 yards of carpet, 7,000,000 hats, 400,000,000 cigars, and 10,000,000 saws. With but one-sixtieth of the nation's population, the city of the great Penn produces about one twenty-fifth of all its manufactures.

Travel where he will, from polar circle to polar circle, in any longitude, around the earth, the traveler will never get away from the things that Philadelphia buys, the things it makes, and the things it sells. From every land come the raw materials it needs in the fabrication of the thousand and one things it manufactures. Philadelphia-built locomotives draw trains to the top of the Andes, into the heart of China, through the solitudes of the Congo. Philadelphia-built steamships sail the seven seas and fly their flags in every port in the world. Philadelphia-made medicines heal the sickness of the savage in Borneo and Zululand, soothe the aches and still the pains of people from Tombouctou and Kamchatka to Nome and Rio.

Forest and field, mine and quarry, ocean bed and mountain top, jungle and desert, pampa and steppe, frozen tundra and tropic beach, alike trade with the metropolis of Penn.
