purchased of the Indians what they called a half township, comprising 11,500 acres & embracing the site upon p 8 In 1724 Mass. under a grant from the Crown of England claimed jurisdiction over Col. Co. while N.Y. with equal plausibility claimed jurisdiction over much of Berkshire Co.

These conflicting claims of jurisdiction were settled by compromise about the year 1773 but not perfected until 1787. In the meantime the Mass. trustees of it from N.Y. had pitched upon lands in Berkshire upon which they had obtained titles, while the N.Y. trustees, who had pitched upon lands in Col. Co. were left as squatters with no law to protect them from the claims under the major titles. They had no alternative but either to withdraw to Berkshire Co. or to be included in the compromise made with the land lords in 1795.
