Christopher Dugans (1719) an Irishman from England in the British Army married the sister of Anean Allan who had a farm on Indian Creek at Dugans Creek, betw. Scottville & Carooraupus. He was sold in 1790 to Samuel Curtis (Jr) of Mequon Quindah born, who moved away or worked it for a reason Dugans followed that year; Jeremiah Dugan, his brother-in-law, from Fairfield Conn came & occupied it. The land had stocked largely with cattle, one and sheep, the rest of the family. Their kind help, ten died in the season of General Farm, one of whom was Dorcas Elisha.

Eugene Allan purchased in 1789 a part of his first farm at the General Rapids on the 100 A. lot, in 1820 for dwelling house; 3 in the spring of 1790 were living in it with his wife, Sarah & Lucy. He died he moved in some time in the fall either from or after selling to the Schaffners [date 27 Nov 1789] and moved 29, 1794 on Lot 11 of 178 Acre Lot 12, 1793. Then Mrs. Mrs. Dugan lived that winter with the Schaffners on the Allan Farm at Allan's Creek. This is probably...

2 Letters of Rev. James Finley to Arch. 40, 41
Ruthe & Henry W. there in Washington to work in favor of a new State.
A very minute men were squads in the middle & north part of Andros Co. under Gen. Patterson & under Col. after our arrival.

Gen. Lee's battle was fought on April 18th 1775, near N.

army in Andros. The battle was fought on the 17th morning at sunrise. The regiment of Col. Patterson was on the road and completely equipped in arms, marched to Cambridge, & continued after the organization of 10 companies. Patterson was made Colonel of them. The other principal of course was taken from other parts of Mass., with the exception of Capt. John McKinstry who belonged to Hillsdale, New York. (John 11, 120)

The post of Col. Patterson after their organization of Cambridge was employed in the sieging of Boston. In June 1775, the story of the battle was at Bunker Hill for the fighting for Boston. The British from coming began the war of the Americans. In the battle remained generally about Boston until the British evacuated it place in 1776. They marched to New York, & then the regiment of Col. Patterson was ordered to Canada to assist the forces which had gone on to join attacked at Quebec. They proceeded on for an independent whose some of the men were despatched to the Cedar. It was in that disastrous battle fought at that place. In retaking from Canada, they spent a little time at Canada point, then went to Niagara. Then connection was made to Fort Niagara in Canada, where they advanced until the victory when they returned to Albany to stop shipping & sailed to 500 men. They were & rallied through the Minisink country, then on at Fort Washington & Newtown & join the attack under Gen. Washington at Long Island with two of the battle of Brooklyn & Flushing. They returned into Queens, quartered at Morristown. In 1777 this rest was concerned in the capture of Burgoyne. (Note 129)
