§ 1. All debts owing by inhabitants of this State to persons not residing within the United States for the purchase of any real estate, shall be deemed personal property, within the town or county where the debtor resides, and as such shall be liable to taxation in the same manner and to the same extent as the personal estate of citizens of this State.

§ 2. If there shall reside in any county of this State an agent of any non-resident creditor, having debts owing to him of the description mentioned in the first section of this act, he shall on or before the twenty-fifth day of July in each year, furnish to the county treasurer of each county where such debtor resides, a true and accurate amount of debts of the description mentioned in the first section of this act, which were owing on the first day of January preceding, to the principal of such agent in each town in such county, which shall be verified by the oath of such agent, taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths.

§ 3. Any such agent who shall refuse or neglect, without good and sufficient cause, to furnish such list, shall forfeit the sum of five hundred dollars to the use of each county in which such debtor resides, to be sued for by the treasurer of such county in his name of office, and to be sued for and recovered upon proof that the principal of such agent had debts owing to him by inhabitants of such county, of the description mentioned in the first section of this act, and that the existence of such debts was known to such agent.

§ 4. The county treasurer, on receiving such statement, shall immediately make out and transmit to the assessors of the several towns of his county in which any such debtor resides, an abstract or copy of so much of such statement as relates to the town of such assessor with the name of such creditor.

Whereas a request from the common council of ^{the City of} Rochester was presented by their committee to the board of Supervisor of this county at their session in October last for the county of Monroe to unite with the City in building a new court house & city hall on ^{the} site of the present Courthouse which is designed to supply the wants of the city & County for the transaction of public business the estimated expense of said building is from 50,000 to 60,000 dollars to be equally divided between the City & County: and whereas we are of opinion that our present Court house will answer all the wants of the County for a number of years & if a new court house is necessary the Lot now occupied by the present court house will sell for a sufficient sum to purchase a more convenient & retired Lot and erect a building sufficient for the wants of the county without any tax to be levied It is therefore Resolved, That our Supervisor be requested to use every suitable measure to prevent a tax being levied on the county or a loan negotiated for the building of a new

OFFICE OF
WILLIAM F. COGSWELL,
16, 18 & 20 POWERS' BUILDING.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb'y 26th 1880.

Dear Sir:

I will endeavour to answer the questions propounded to me by you.

The first is "Are the railroad commissioners of a town bonded & aid in the construction of a railway the proper custodians of the sinking fund of such town?"

The second, "If not, what officer is?"

The third, "May a bond of the town so bonded held by the town as part of its sinking fund be legally cancelled and destroyed before it is due?"

The answer to the 1st and 2nd questions will be given together.

I have endeavored to examine all the statutes upon the subject, and unless I have overlooked some, my answer is that the commissioners are not the proper custodians of the sinking fund raised by tax.

Sec. 4 Chap 907 of the Laws of 1869 provided for a sinking fund to be raised by applying thereto the taxes assessed upon the aided railroad within the bonded town and interest upon ~~the~~ bonds (what bonds is not stated, but supposed to be bonds of the sided railroad where town bonds are exchanged for railroad bonds). This fund ^{is} provided shall be held by the County Treasurer.

Sec. 6 provides that if, after three years, from the sources above stated, enough is not derived to create a sinking fund of at least one percent annually the deficiency shall be reported and raised by tax. It also provides that the treasurer or other proper officer of such municipal corporation shall have the custody of this fund.

Chap. 789 of the Laws of 1870 amends the 4th Sec. of the Law of 1869 by providing that the County Treasurer shall invest the money in his hands in the purchase of the bonds of the siding towns, where the same can be purchased at or below par, and cancel the same, as therein ~~provided~~ provided.

Chap 350 of the Laws of 1877 does not seem to touch the question. Chap 62 of the Laws of 1879 adds

Rochester, N.Y.,

18

A new section to the Law of 1869, which makes it the duty of the Treasurers or other proper officers of every municipal corporation, named in Sec. 6 of the acts of 1869, to invest all monies received by him, and declared in that Act to be a sinking fund in the manner directed by Sec 4 of the act of 1869, as amended by the Laws of 1870.

The effect of this act is to substitute the Treasurers or other proper officers of the municipal corporation for the County Treasurers.

This is all the legislation that I can find upon the subject.

Who is then the proper officer of a town, which has no Treasurers ex nomine?

I think it is clearly not the railroad commissioners, otherwise the statute would have said so. In municipal corporations having a treasurer he is the officer named. In towns I think it is the supervisor, who must be regarded,

as it seems to me, as the fiscal officer of the town.

As to the last question I think the town not only may cancel
the bond so purchased for the sinking fund, but ought to ~~do~~ do so, since otherwise it would run the risk of being obliged to pay the bond a second time, should it by any accident get into circulation, and get into the hands of a bona fide purchaser.

Yours respectfully

W. F. Caswell
