OUR BRAVE

Our American boys battled for ideals and principles. In the desperate contest between justice and empire they breasted the danger. When civilization was in peril, with their bodies they built a human wall against a second Dark Ages. It was a contest of ingenuity, courage and discipline against death. That was the issue. The soldier cannot be dissevered from the cause. If the cause was right, the man who fought for it was right.

When we forget the soldiers who won our peace by enduring the savagery of war, then is our debt to them repudiated.

In this book we memorialize the Brave of Monroe County who shared in the struggle to defend human rights and to end human wrongs.

FOREWORD

Those Who Went Forth to Serve

By Edward R. Foreman, Editor

The World War Service Record of Rochester and Monroe County is comprised in three volumes.

Volume I, "Those Who Died For Us," has been issued. This book included the records and the portraits of the men and women who lost their lives. The volume contained also a history of the World War Service Record enterprise (pp. 577-590), a complete Analysis of the plan of the work (pp. 595-599), and other general material. A copy of Volume I was presented by the City of Rochester to the family of every Gold Star man, as a memorial.

Volume II, "Those Who Went Forth to Serve," here published, is a personnel book, setting forth the records of all Rochester and Monroe County men and women directly engaged in the World War as part of the Military or Naval forces, or who served with Civil Agencies in support of the combat forces.

Volume III, "Those Who Supported the Service," will include the local stories of the Draft, the Financial Agencies, the Civil Field Agencies, the Government Agencies, and other Rochester and Monroe County Agencies.

This local effort to compile the records of Rochester and Monroe County men who served in the World War has been made necessary owing to the established policy of the War Department, as expressed in a letter received from the Historical Section of the Army War College, saying: "The United States Government has not published a roster or list of its soldiers who were engaged in any war."

Both the War and Navy Departments report on file the records of men who have been in service in any war in which the United States has been engaged, but these records are not classified by cities or other political subdivisions, and are available only when the name of a man is known.

The objective of our local effort is the collection and preservation of all material which relates to the war services performed, abroad or at home, by citizens of Rochester or Monroe County.

Monroe County had representatives in all branches of Army and Navy Service and in all kinds of supporting Civil Agencies. An examination of the Roll of Service herein reveals the fact that Monroe County men served in nearly every Division of the American Expeditionary Forces.

Before the entry of the United States into the World War many Monroe County men went to Canada to enter service under the British Flag, while others joined the Polish Legion, the Italian Army, the French Army, and other allied forces. Also many of our local men voluntarily enlisted in American Military and Naval Service before the Draft began sending soldiers to training camps all over the country.

In publishing our World War Service Records, no distinction has been made between the men who volunteered and those who were drafted. Under advice of the War Department the term, "Entered the Service," has been employed to describe volunteers, enlisted or inducted men, and commissioned officers,

In addition to the personnel records in this Volume II, there are published also brief sketches of the Military and Naval Units that left Rochester as organized bodies for service in the World War. It is not possible to consider herein a unit as local merely because it contained a considerable number of Monroe County men; for instance, some companies of the 78th and 87th Divisions had high percentage of Rochester personnel, but they included also large numbers of troops from various parts of the United States. This would apply to other Divisions and their component parts. To the 27th Division, Rochester and Monroe County supplied complete local units described herein.

As stated in the Foreword of Volume I, our local World War Service Record is an attempt to call the roll of Rochester and Monroe County heroes. Again we repeat the words of Carlyle: "There needs not a great soul to make a hero; there needs a God-created soul which will be true to its origin; that will be a great soul." The records set forth in this Volume II will compel all to bear witness that our Monroe County boys were true to their origin; that they answered as befitted their ancestry; and endured as the influences about their youth taught them to endure, even unto the end. They have left us this priceless heritage.

Some have a theory that war is merely a physical test. This is not true, though of itself physical courage may be a gift from God and an honor to man. Through all the ages, the will to battle in a righteous cause has been the badge of bravery. The world honors defenders of human rights; defenders of nations; defenders of home and kindred; defenders of the helpless and hopeless; defenders of conscience. The evolution of all just principles, the progress of civilization and liberty, the whole moral, civil and religious advancement of man have been battled for. All great causes claim brotherhood with some struggle of a past age.

How pitiful and miserable would have been our American Declaration of Independence if there had been no invincibility in the souls of men and no sword in their hands: "When absolutism looks into stern eyes and sees stalwart arms, it begins to stammer of Magna Chartas, Bills of Rights, and Popular Privileges. Justice armed and equipped is respected."

In compiling and publishing these records the City of Rochester creates a memorial to our Service Men more enduring than bronze. The recital of their deeds creates traditions which will inspire coming generations with courage in any time of national danger, and will hold our people steady in times of peace.

PART I Those Who Went Forth to Serve WITH ARMIES OR NAVIES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THIS Volume II, "Those Who Went Forth to Serve," contains the records of 23,272 men and women of Rochester and Monroe County who served during the World War.

The names are arranged alphabetically in four lists: First, those in Military or Naval Service; Second, a Supplemental List; Third, Foreign Born Reservists; Fourth, Civilians. All addresses given are those at the time of entering the service.

The record of service is given chronologically followed by the engagements taken part in and the distinctions won. The names of the dead are printed in capital letters. It should be understood that "discharged" is used as the equivalent of "honorably discharged."

The following tabulation shows the proportions furnished by the City of Rochester and the Monroe County Towns:

ROCHESTER RECORDS

Men who Died 512
Men Who Survived 17,607 18,119
Civilians
Total Rochester Records	20,809
MONROE COUNTY TOWN RECORDS (OUTSIDE ROCHESTER)
Men Who Died 97
Men Who Survived 1,995 2,092
Civilians
Total Monroe County Town Records	2,463
Total Rochester and Monroe County Town Records	23,272

The records published herein are as near complete as they could be made. Every endeavor has been put forth to secure correct information from all available sources, with varying success. Frequent tests have established a high percentage of accuracy.

It is interesting to note that the reports of the Provost Marshal General show the total man-power in the United States as indicated EXPLANTORY NOTE by Registrations under the Selective Service Law of males between the ages of 18 and 45, as approximately, 24,234,021, and of these slightly more than 2,800,000 were inducted. The grand total of troops of all classes in the Army and Navy of the United States during the World War was 4,764,071, and of these approximately 4,000,000 served in the Army.

New York State furnished 10.37 per cent of all troops in the American Expeditionary Forces.

The man-power of Rochester and Monroe County is indicated in the local Draft figures. There were four Selective Service Registrations: June 5, 1917; June 5, 1918; August 24, 1918; and September 12, 1918. On these dates a total of 68,776 men were registered by the eight Local Boards for the City of Rochester, and 16,084 by the three Local Boards for Monroe County, making a total of 84,860 registered for the entire County of Monroe. Of those registered, there were called, inducted and accepted, 7,627 from the City of Rochester, and 1,520 from the County of Monroe, (outside of Rochester), making a total of 9,147.

Subtracting the above total entering the Service from Monroe County under the Draft (9,147) from the total in Military and Naval Service as shown by the records published herein (20,211) reveals that more than fifty per cent of our Service Men were volunteers (11,064). This percentage of volunteers in Monroe County is higher than that of the general average; as more than seventy per cent from the country at large went into the American Expeditionary Forces under the Draft, as appears above in the figures showing the grand total of United States troops of all classes.

Special effort has been made to obtain copies of all citations awarded to Monroe County men. When these have appeared in United States War Department General Orders they could be ascertained, and are published herein; but it has not been possible to list all of the special Citation Certificates which General John J. Pershing had authority to award. This award was personal to the soldier, and there is no way it can be discovered unless it is reported by the man who holds it. A letter from the War Department, Office of the Chief of Staff, in regard to this matter follows:

"The citations for gallantry in action which were awarded by General Pershing were published in orders of the General Headquarters, American Expeditionary Forces, although no copies are available for distribution. The citations for meritorious service awarded by General Pershing were never published in orders of the American Expeditionary Forces or the War Department. There are approximately 6,000 citations awarded for gallantry in action, and approximately 4,000 citations awarded for meritorious service."

The General Orders of the War Department give the citations upon the award of the principal United States decorations: The Congressional Medal of Honor; the Distinguished Service Medal; and the Distinguished Service Cross. The terms upon which these decorations are awarded, together with the names of Monroe County recipients, are set forth in Volume I (pp. 609-617).

The Foreign Decorations awarded to Monroe County men are published herein in every case where they have been reported. (See list, Vol. I, pp. 618-631).

For a statement giving a "Brief History of the Accomplishments of America in the War with Germany," see Vol. I (pp. 601-608).
