TWENTY-SIX EAST THIRTEENTH STREET,
NEW YORK CITY

THE Twelfth edition of THE BLUE BOOK is presented with the earnest wish that it will retain the high place in public favor that has been accorded its predecessors. We desire especially to thank our patrons for their cordial and substantial support of our efforts.

We have striven to make this edition more complete and valuable than the past. The difficulties attending the compiling of such a book can be easily appreciated; and we trust any inaccuracies or omissions will be brought to our notice, that they may be corrected in future.

The BLUE BOOK is neither a city directory nor absolutely an elite directory; neither do we pretend to pass upon the social or financial standing of the persons whose names are contained therein. In an area such as this book embraces it is impossible for everybody to know everybody else. But it is possible for people to know many other people of a similar mode of life, such as characterizes the numerous clubs, both city and suburban, of your locality. For members of these clubs and their friends THE BLUE BOOK is meant to serve as a directory, aiming to present such personal information as may be found useful and easily available to our subscribers.

The title "BLUE BOOK" does not refer to blue blood, as many people suppose. Webster's defines Blue Book as follows: "Blue Book—a book containing a list of fashionable addresses."

Will you kindly forward any information that will aid in keeping these records correct to The Blue Books Company, Twenty-six East Thirteenth Street, New York City.

Scranton's

The new store at 334-336 Main Street East is called by editors of trade journals the finest store of its kind in the country.

The fixtures were planned and the stocks arranged so as to make "browsing around" as easy and delightful as possible.

The same complete stocks carried in the Powers Building store will be found here, which offer opportunities for selection unexcelled in the country.

KEEPING IN TOUCH WITH FOREIGN MARKETS

For more than half a century this business has held true to the principle of its founders to bring to its patrons the world's best merchandise at the lowest possible cost.

Aside from a brief period during the late war, when importation was practically impossible, foreign markets, in reality of access, have been no further removed from this store than our neighboring cities.

American products have always had first consideration at our hands and will continue to have, but to serve our public best and fully, there is much merchandise made abroad which supplies a need that is not filled by home production. To seek out this merchandise—styles and novelties—to give Rochester the best there is, promptly and with all unnecessary expense eliminated, is the objective which we seek.

To-day our foreign organization is the best in the store's history. This is true not only as to the buying offices abroad, in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Florence and connections in remote parts, but as to the visitations of our own people to foreign markets—those store people with whom you come in contact here in Rochester and who know first hand your personal needs.

And the enlarged store, now nearing completion, will certainly have broader merchandise resources.
