Cancers Cured!

OR NO CHARGE.

DR. KINGSLEY,
OF ROME, N. Y.,

Has discovered a perfect cure for Cancers without the use of the knife. Thousands of cases cured can testify to the efficacy of this plan of treatment. This preparation will destroy the specific nature of most Cancers in from ten to sixty minutes. Even in those large Cancerous affections of the breast, from which so many females die annually, my specific is equally as effectual as in those smaller surface Cancers. Ninety-nine out of a hundred of all those persons who have died from Cancer, could easily have been cured. Cancer has been considered from time immemorial the greatest scourge of the human race; but the time will come when all shall see that it is as remediable as any other disease. At the same time remedies are given to purify the blood and fortify the system against a renewed attack. In all cases, if the Cancer is not too far advanced, a perfect cure is warranted, or no charge.

Most persons are greatly deceived in regard to the first symptoms and appearance of Cancer, considering it very painful from the commencement. This is a sad mistake, (causing the death of thousands,) there being but little or no pain until the Cancer is far advanced. The only symptoms for months, and in some cases even for years, is occasionally either a stinging, itching, smarting, burning, creeping or shooting sensation, and in some cases not even any of these. Nearly all of those kernels or lumps that occur in the female breast, and also those unnatural appearances in the form of crusts or warty excrescence, which appear in either sex on the face, lips, nose, eye lids, or any other part of the surface, are cancers. Cancer is very easily cured in its early stage, consequently it is of the very greatest importance that all thus afflicted should have immediate treatment; as thousands of very valuable lives have been lost from pure neglect, having been misguidedly by physicians having no knowledge of the disease, who, by calling it Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum or some other non-terrifying disease, lull this unfortunate class in the cradle of ignorance, until upon the very verge of death, when, to hide such ignorance, the physician tells the patient that it has finally turned to Cancer, and cannot be cured. There is no such thing as turning to Cancer. Whatever ends in Cancer, began in Cancer. Be no longer deceived. If you have the slightest suspicion of trouble, seek immediate relief and thereby preserve life.

Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Erys., St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, Scald Head, Piles, Tape Worms, or Worms of any kind, all Diseases of the Skin, Pimples, Scrofula or King's Evil, Fever Sores, Spinal Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Diabetes, Kidney Diseases, Gravel, and all Diseases peculiar to Males or Females, successfully treated.

Warts, Corns, Bunions, Moles, Wens, Birth-Marks, Tumors &c., removed. Especial attention given to the treatment of Crooked Feet, Legs, Arms, Spine, Neck, and all other deformities. Cross Eyes straightened, Hare-Lips cured by an entirely new plan of operating. Operations for Stone in the Bladder, Polypus, Strangulated Hernia, Fistula, or the cure of False and Crooked Joints, and all deformities of the Eye Lids, Nose, Lips, Neck &c., resulting from Burns or Wounds, performed upon the most scientific principles. All Diseases of the Eye and Ear treated with very great success.

Especial attention given to the treatment of all diseases originating from the errors of misguided Youth.

Patients from a distance, except in Surgical and Cancer cases, by sending a full description of their symptoms, can have medicines sent by Mail or Express, and be treated at home.

All letters promptly answered, and medicines ordered, immediately forwarded.

The Doctor is a graduate with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine, twelve of which have been spent in Rome.

N. B.—All persons troubled with Asthma should send for Dr. Kingsley's ASTHMA SPECIFIC, which is warranted to relieve any case or money refunded.

Send for DR. KINGSLEY'S AGUE SPECIFIC, which is purely vegetable and never fails to cure.

All troubled with a Cough of any kind should be sure to send for DR. KINGSLEY'S COUGH BALSAM, which cures as by magic.

For Further Particulars, Write the Doctor.

THE REYNOLDS

Mower & Reaper KNIVES.

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY US, UNDER REYNOLDS' PATENTS for Tempering Steel without the aid of any liquids, received the only award at the Great National Implement Trial, held at Auburn, in 1866. They possess the following superior qualities:

1. They are made with a fine Cutlery Temper at the edges.
2. They hold only a Spring Temper at the center and at the heel.
3. They are warranted perfectly uniform, every knife being exactly alike in temper.
4. We warrant they can be ground from 8 to 10 times without losing their cutting edge.
5. Finally, we will warrant them to cut from 40 to 50 acres of grain or grass without being once ground.

We are the sole Manufacturers of these Knives in the United States.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting the initial number of the "Gazetteer and Directory of Orleans County" to the public, the publisher desires to return his sincere thanks to all who have so kindly assisted in obtaining the valuable information which it contains, and without whose aid it would have been impossible to collect, in the brief space of time in which it is essential that all such works should be completed. Especially are our thanks due to the several editors of the Orleans Republican, Orleans American, Medina Tribune and Holley Bulletin, for the uniform kindness which has been evinced in calling public attention to the author's efforts; and to the following persons, George D. Church, Co. Clerk; Abel Stillson, School Commissioner; Edwin R. Reynolds, of Albion; S. Downs, Town Clerk of Ridgeway, and Hon. E. L. Pitts, Assessor of Internal Revenue, Medina, for essential aid in furnishing material for the work. We also return our thanks to Arad Thomas, Esq., of Albion, Secretary of the Orleans Co. Pioneer Association, for his kindness in permitting us to examine the Records of that organization, as well as for other favors shown. Many others have kindly volunteered their aid, to all of whom we return sincere thanks.

The following works were consulted in its preparation: "French's Gazetteer of the State of New York;" "Turner's History of the Holland Purchase;" "Hotchkin's History of the Presbyterian Church in Western New York;" "Census Reports of 1865;" "Report of the Bureau of Military Record;" "Sketches of Albion," by A. Thomas, and "Proceedings of the Board of Supervisors in 1868."

That errors may have occurred in so great a number of names and dates as are here given, is probable, and that names have been omitted that should have been inserted is quite certain. We can only say that we have exercised more than ordinary diligence and care in this difficult and complicated feature of book-making. To such as feel aggrieved in consequence of error or omission, we beg pardon, and ask the indulgence of the reader in marking such as had been observed in the subsequent reading of the proofs, and which are noted in the Errata, following the Introduction.

It is also suggested that our patrons observe and become familiar with the explanations at the commencement of the Directory.

The Map of the County was engraved with great care by Messrs. "Weed, Parsons & Co.," of Albany, and, it is believed, will prove a valuable acquisition to the work.

The Advertisers represent some of the leading business men and firms of the County, and also many enterprising and reliable dealers in other parts of the State. We most cheerfully commend them all to the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

With thanks to friends generally, we leave our work to secure the favor which earnest endeavor ever wins from a discriminating business public.

ERRATA.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

Postal Rates and Regulations.—The new Postal Convention with the United Kingdom, which went into operation on January 1, 1869, establishes the following rates of international postage:

1. Letters twelve cents per single rate of fifteen grammes, one-half ounce, in the United States, and six pence (twelve cents) in the United Kingdom; pre-payment optional. A fine of five cents in the United States, and two pence (four cents) in the United Kingdom, is, however, to be levied and collected, in addition to the deficient postage, on each unpaid or insufficiently pre-paid letter received by one country from the other.

2. Newspapers, two cents each in the United States, and one penny each in the United Kingdom, if not exceeding four ounces in weight.

3. Book packets, including printed papers of all kinds, and patterns or samples of merchandise, including seeds and grain, when not exceeding one ounce in weight, two cents in the United States, and one penny in the United Kingdom; when exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four cents in the United States, and two pence in the United Kingdom; when exceeding two ounces, and not exceeding four ounces in weight, six cents in the United States, and three pence in the United Kingdom; and when exceeding four ounces in weight, an additional rate of six cents in the United States, and three pence in the United Kingdom, will be charged for every additional four ounces, or fraction thereof. The postage chargeable as above upon all articles of printed matter, including patterns or samples of merchandise, must be fully prepaid at the mailing office in either country, and is in full to destination, the receiving country delivering the same in all cases without any charge whatever.

After the 1st of January 1869, the registry fee for letters in the United States will be 15 cents, instead of 20 cents as heretofore.

Johnston's Self-Raking Reaper.

This machine is made expressly for harvesting grain. It is perfectly adapted to gathering, cutting and delivering, either in gavels or a continuous swath, Wheat, Rye, Barley, Oats, Buckwheat, Clover, Timothy Seed and Sowed Corn. It gathers the worst pieces of lodged grain perfectly clean without the extra labor of carrying the swath. It cuts the shortest and thinnest of grain, and saves it all; and it may be left either in bundles or in large bunches, and the bunches in rows.

This machine is of the most simple construction, strong and durable. It has no side draft, no bearing down on the necks of the horses, and turns at the corners as readily as a cart. The rakes perform the work of gathering or reeling, and in a much more perfect manner than the ordinary reel, from the fact that all are provided with teeth that catch hold of the grain and bring it up to and brush it back from the cutters, thus preventing clogging and running over the grain.

It is the only Self-Raking Reaper, cutting a six foot swath, that can be easily handled by one span of horses, the draft being less than the lightest mowers having four feet cut. This machine is so constructed that it may be set to cut a stubble at any hight, from three to eighteen inches, and the driver, while passing along, can, by a lever at his side, raise or lower the cut to suit standing or the worst conditions of lodged grain.—[Com.]

For further information concerning this machine, see the advertisement of Johnston, Huntley & Co., the manufacturers, on colored page 235.

Warren Wight, Propagator and dealer in the celebrated Seneca Black Cap and Davison's Thornless Raspberries, Grape Vines, Strawberries, and other small fruits, at Waterloo, Seneca Co., publishes a card on page 18. His experience in the business is large, and his soil is excellent, probably no better can be found in the State for the purpose he uses it. We advise our friends to peruse his advertisement and purchase their supplies of him. He uses great care in packing for shipment, and sends out none but first-class plants. It would do no harm to address him for a circular, and might be the means of affording you an abundance of his delicious fruits.

Orleans County Marble Works, Albion, N. Y., under the proprietorship of Field & Diem, offer rare inducements to those in want of Grave Stones, Monuments or any kind of marble furniture. Those who may call at their works will learn that it is not necessary to go to the city for first-class work. Give them a call for anything in their line. See card on page 132.

S. Adler & Co., Merchant Tailors, No. 41 Main Street, Albion, N. Y., have just opened a choice assortment of goods, selected with special reference to the wants of their numerous customers. Their stock of Ready-Made Clothing is of the best materials and made in a substantial and elegant manner. From such a large assortment and such a variety of patterns and styles, the most fastidious will hardly fail to find something to suit the taste and purse. Call and examine their stock, and read their advertisement on page 16.

Medina Iron Works, located at Medina, Orleans County, N. Y., still sustain the high reputation they have before acquired. The most approved patterns of various kinds of agricultural and mechanical implements are here made, and the proprietor, Mr. J. W. Mount, is constantly adding to the list of articles that are deemed indispensable to the mechanic and the farmer. He makes a fine style of Velocepedes, superior to most other patterns. Several important improvements have been added to this novel vehicle, and Mr. Mount is prepared to furnish to order the best pattern, constructed of the best materials. Those who fancy the bicycle as a means of amusement or conveyance, will do well to send in their orders at once. See advertisement on page 188.

Hardy's Rochester Boot and Shoe Store, No. 18 Canal street, Albion, N. Y., is the place to go for anything in the boot and shoe line, whether coarse or fine. Most of his goods are made to order and warranted. Mr. Hardy sells all kinds at Rochester prices, so that there is no occasion for going to the city for anything in this line. Repairing of all kinds performed in the best manner. Call and see for yourself. His advertisement appears on colored page 88.

The Orleans Republican, published by C. G. Beach & Co., Albion, N. Y., is a thirty-two column paper, devoted to the interests of its patrons and the public generally. It has a large circulation and is a valuable medium for advertising. The Job office connected with the establishment is furnished with all the facilities for doing first-class work. See advertisement on page 120.

Weed's Improved Family Sewing Machine, advertised on page 114, is gradually gaining in favor with the public. The recent improvements render it a desirable machine for family use. Mrs. Jennie A. Keehl, No. 23 Canal Street, Albion, is the agent for this vicinity. She also keeps a good assortment of Ladies' Furnishing and Fancy Goods, which will be sold at reasonable rates. Call and see.

Hubbard & Wilkins, Wholesale and Retail dealers in Groceries, Provisions, Fruits, Etc., No. 49 Main street, Albion, N. Y., advertise on colored page 87. This is an old established house and has built up a trade and a reputation second to none in the town. To those who know the proprietors nothing need be said; to others we will say, try them and we are confident you will find them honorable, fair-dealing men who will give you the worth of your money.

P. Leonard, Jr., dealer in Pianos, Organs and Melodeons, Albion, N. Y., receives his instruments from the manufacturers, and keeps a good assortment of the best. Every Instrument is warranted, and those wishing a good one will do well to call. Second hand Instruments taken in exchange for new. Call at Preston's Jewelry Store, Barrows' Block, Albion, N. Y. See card on page 211.

N. H. Galusha, Manufacturer and dealer in Stoves and all kinds of hollow ware, Miscellaneous Castings, &c., at No. 20 Court St., Rochester, is carrying on a business equalled by few in the State. He employs the most skillful workmen and the best qualities of iron in the manufacture of his goods. Prominent among the articles manufactured at this foundry may be mentioned the celebrated first class coal or wood cooking stove, "General Grant." We have used one of them in our house during the two years past, and feel it a privilege to testify to their excellence. The pattern of the stove is plain, neat and simple, and it has all the late improvements in the way of water reservoir, heater for drying fruit or keeping food warm, &c. We think the stove quite perfect in all its parts. Mr. Galusha also manufactures the new Coal Base Burning Parlor Stove, "Etta," said to be one of the best in market. We refer the attention of stove dealers who desire a tip top stove to sell, or of those who desire a good one for their own use, to card on colored page 69.

A SPECIALTY!

THE SENECA BLACK CAP,

AND

Davison's Thornless Raspberries.

Waterloo, N. Y., 1869.

The undersigned who is the one who first introduced the Seneca Raspberry to the public, will now be prepared to furnish No. One First Class Plants, of Senecas and Davison's Thornless, which are to be the leading Raspberries and should go together.

The THORNLESS is early, ripens a trifle earlier than the Doolittle; the SENECA ripens about two weeks later than THORNLESS, which makes the season complete in the berry line.

All wishing good, first-class plants of these two valuable berries, can rely on me for them, as I will send out no poor plants.

Send stamp and get my prices, when issued next fall.

My soil enables me to grow plants equal to any grown in the country, and they are pronounced No. One, by reliable dealers. Yours Truly,

WARREN WIGHT,

Waterloo, Seneca Co., N. Y.

P. S.—Write your name very plain, that there may be no mistake, and send early.

RETAIL RATES.

The Orleans American, published by H. A. Bruner, at Albion, N. Y., has arisen from the ashes of the fire of December 19, 1868, and with a new lease of life goes forth every week to gladden the hearts of all its readers. The office has been fitted up with new presses and type, unsurpassed by any office in the County. Plain or fancy work executed to order and in the best manner. See advertisement on page 152.

J. W. Randall, M. D., of Albion, N. Y., publishes a card on page 19. The Doctor has had the experience of twenty years successful practice, during which he has proved himself well versed in all the branches of Medical science. He is a thorough, prompt and energetic man, yet candid and cautious, and has the ability to perform all the duties pertaining to his profession.

Johnston, Huntley & Co., manufacturers of Johnston's Self-Raking Reaper and Mower, Brockport, N. Y., advertise on colored page 235. This is one of the most valuable machines manufactured. As the Reaper and Mower have become indispensable to the farmer, it becomes them to get the best. This machine in some respects is without a rival; so say those who know. Let the farmers give it a trial.

The Orleans Insurance Agency, McConnell & Tanner, agents, Albion, N. Y., represents some of the best Insurance Companies in the world, among which is the Imperial of London, England, with a capital of $8,000,000 in Gold. Persons wishing any kind of Insurance can be accommodated by applying at this office in person or by mail, No. 6 Canal street. See card on colored page 70.

J. T. Brown, dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, No. 66 Main Street, Albion, N. Y., advertises on page 192. Mr. Brown is an experienced workman and thoroughly understands every branch of the business and will make to order any kind of Jewelry desired, or will repair in the best manner. Watches and all articles usually found in a first class Jewelry Store.

Dr. Kingaley, of Rome, justly celebrated for the many cures he has effected of that most distressing disease, Cancer, publishes a notice on page 1. He is prepared to treat all scrofulous diseases, and others of long standing, and assures his patients that they will not be charged a heavy bill and dismissed without receiving any benefit. Persons who cannot conveniently call upon him in person, can address him by letter, and will receive prompt attention. Dr. K. is a graduate, with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine. Let the afflicted give him a call.

A Successful Business! Mr. L. W. Bingham, of Albion, whose advertisement may be found on page 2, has been one of the most successful merchants in our County. He commenced in business in 1861, the year of the opening of the war, in the old Prentice Block, or latterly called the Empire Store, with a small capital, and has built up a trade unprecedented in the Dry Goods business of our County.—He has had a steady increase from year to year, until at the present time he has no rival in the business. The business of this house is exclusively Dry Goods, Paper Hangings and Carpets; in the last, it has by far the largest trade of any concern out of Rochester in this vicinity. In 1866, Mr. Bingham built one of the largest and best stores in our County, probably the best the County will have for many years. The building is three stories high, white stone front and covers an area of 45 by 120 feet. The Dry Goods Department, which is occupied by Mr. Bingham himself, is 25 by 120 feet, with a large and spacious Carpet Department in the 2d story. This year, when nearly all dealers throughout the country are complaining that trade has fallen off, Mr. Bingham informs us that his trade has increased, and that his business has been successful, and new customers are being added to his list every day, and from what we can see and judge, we are of the opinion that Mr. Bingham will grow into a very large and profitable business. His place of business is No. 71 Granite Block, Main street, Albion.

Robinson's Infallible Dysentery and Cholera Syrup is advertised on page 234. This valuable remedy is manufactured by Dr. E. Robinson, of Fairport, Monroe Co., N. Y. Those who have tested its qualities pronounce it excellent. Thousands die every year for want of some safe and mild remedy for the diseases incident to the warm season, and thousands of others suffer untold misery from the same cause. Keep a bottle of this Syrup in the house and take it as it is needed. Dr. R. is prepared to receive at his house those suffering from chronic diseases of any kind, where they will receive the necessary treatment on reasonable terms.

Burke, Fitzsimons, Hone & Co., Importers, Jobbers and Retailers of Dry Goods, Fancy Goods and Woolens, No. 58 Main street, Rochester, publish a card on page 238. This House was established in 1849, since which time its success has been uninterrupted, each year realizing its amount of business. Their annual sales amount to the enormous sum of near $1,500,000, their trade extending from the Eastern portions of the State to the "Far West." Occupying, as they do, fully 25,000 feet of flooring in actual business departments, every portion of which is crowded with immense piles of goods from foreign countries, as well as of domestic manufacture, renders the facilities of this house for Jobbing equal to any in the country. The firm are also proprietors of the "Genesee Falls Woolen Mills," where they manufacture 100,000 yards of goods annually.

A. M. Latimer, manufacturer of Doors, Sash, Blinds, &c., Medina, N. Y., publishes a card on page 70. Mr. Latimer is an enterprising business man and will attend to all orders promptly, and give his customers their money's worth. He manufactures moulds for Brick machines of any pattern ordered. Give him a call.

Seymour, Morgan & Allen, manufacturers of the New Yorker Self-Raking Reaper and Mower, Brockport, N. Y., advertise inside first cover. This is one of the oldest machines in use, and is pronounced by competent judges the most reliable. Various improvements have been made as they were suggested by its use until it approaches as near perfection as the genius of skilled mechanics can make it. It has carried off the highest prizes in several field trials where the best machines have entered into competition with it, and is pronounced by farmers unsurpassed.—Let those interested give it a trial.

A. H. Goodman, manufacturer and dealer in Ready-Made Clothing, Albion, N. Y., keeps on hand a good assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, which he will make up to order and give any man $10, that will make him return for a second application. All ye who wish for a new suit or anything in the line of Gent's Furnishing Goods, give him a call. His card appears on colored page 87.

MOTHERS! READ THIS.

Are your children restless, irritable, wakeful, feverish? Are they cutting teeth? Are the gums red and painful? Have they diarrhoea? Have they fits or spasms? If so,

USE THE ORIENTAL SYRUP.

It is the only Syrup or Cordial, or CHILD MEDICINE in market free from Opium, Morphine, or Paragoric. These you can't give; or, at least, you ought not to. They destroy the functions of the BRAIN; the child grows pale; its eyes grow wild; its flesh becomes soft; it loses its mind; it becomes an Idiot. Mothers, these are facts. To be convinced, try it. The Oriental Syrup contains NONE of those poisons. It is perfectly harmless. It is soothing—quieting. The child sleeps sweetly, and awakes refreshed and lively. The teeth penetrate the gums without pain. It is good for aged and nervous people. TRY IT.

THE BALM OF GILEAD!

SIR ASHLEY COOPER, in one of his lectures to his class, says:—I have used the Balm of Gilead in my practice, in one form or other, for more than forty years; and for Old Sores or Ulcers, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Burns, Chilblains, Scalds, Piles, Chafes, &c., it surpasses every other known remedy.

Rosenberger's Balm of Gilead Ointment

Is composed of Oils and Balsams from trees and shrubs, and for all the diseases referred to by Dr. Cooper, we warrant it almost a specific. For Galls, Grease and Wounds of Horses, it has no equal. We warrant it; therefore do not hesitate to try it for every kind of Wound, Bruise or Sore.

THE STATES,

THEIR SETTLEMENT, ADMITTANCE TO THE UNION, POPULATION, SUFFRAGE LAWS, ETC.

ALABAMA was settled near Mobile, in 1702, by the French; was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1817, from the eastern portion of the Territory of Mississippi; framed a Constitution August 2, 1819, and was admitted into the Union December 14 of the same year. Area 50,722 square miles, or 32,462,080 acres.—Population in 1860, 964,201, of whom 435,080 were slaves. It is the chief cotton growing State of the Union. White male citizens who have resided one year in the State and three months in the county, are entitled to vote. An election for a Convention was held December 24, 1860, and a majority of over 50,000 votes cast for secession; the Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 11th passed the ordinance of secession, by a vote of 61 to 39, which was followed on the 21st by the resignation of its members of Congress.

ARKANSAS was settled at Arkansas Post in 1685, by the French, and was part of the Louisiana purchase ceded by France to the United States, April 30, 1803. It was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, March 2, 1819, from the southern part of the Territory of Missouri; its western boundary was settled May 26, 1824, and its southern, May 19, 1828. Having adopted a Constitution, a memorial was presented in Congress, March 1, 1836, and an act for its admission into the Union passed June 15 of the same year. Area 52,198 square miles, or 33,406,720 acres. In 1860 its population was 435,450, of whom 111,115 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, its staples being corn and cotton.—Citizenship and residence in the State for six months, qualify voters in the county and district where they reside. January 16, 1861, its Legislature ordered a State Convention, which assembled, and on May 6, voted to secede, 69 to 1. January 4, 1864, a Convention assembled in Little Rock, which adopted a new Constitution, the principle feature of which consisted in a clause abolishing slavery. The Convention adjourned January 22. This body also inaugurated a Provisional Government. The Constitution was submitted to the people, and 12,177 votes cast for it, to 226 against it. The State was re-organized under the plan contained in the Amnesty Proclamation of President LINCOLN, in pursuance of which an election was held March 14, 1864. The vote required under the Proclamation was 5,405. About 16,000 votes were cast.

CALIFORNIA was settled at Diego in 1768, by Spaniards, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty concluded at Guadaloupe Hidalgo, February 22, 1848. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it as a Territory or admit it as a State, a law was passed by Congress for the latter purpose, which was approved September 9, 1850. Area 188,981 square miles, or 120,947,784 acres. Population in 1860, 805,489. It is the most productive gold mining region on the continent, and also abounds in many other minerals.—White male citizens of the United States, and those of Mexico who may choose to comply with the provisions of the treaty of Queretaro, of May 30, 1848, who have resided in the State six months and in the county or district thirty days, are entitled to vote.

CONNECTICUT was settled at Windsor, in 1633, by English Puritans from Massachusetts, and continued under the jurisdiction of that Province until April 23, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until a Constitution was formed, September 15, 1818. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, January 9, 1788. Area 4,674 square miles, or 2,991,360 acres. Population in 1860, 460,147. It is one of the most densely populated and principal manufacturing States in the Union. Residence for six months, or military duty for a year, or payment of State tax, or a freehold of the yearly value of seven dollars, gives the right to vote.

DELAWARE was settled at Wilmington, early in 1638, by Swedes and Finns; was granted to William Penn, in 1682, and continued under the government of Pennsylvania until the adoption of a Constitution, September 20, 1776; a new one was formed June 12, 1792. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, December 7, 1787. Area 2,120 square miles, or 1,356,800 acres.—Population, in 1860, 112,216, of whom 1,798 were slaves. It is a grain and fruit growing State, with some extensive manufactures. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote, except that citizens between twenty-one and twenty-two years of age need not have paid the tax.

FLORIDA was settled at St. Augustine, in 1565, by Spaniards; was formed from part of the territory ceded by Spain to the United States by treaty of February 22, 1819; an act to authorize the President to establish a temporary government was passed March 3, 1819; articles of surrender of East Florida were framed July 10, and of West Florida, July 17, 1821, and it was then taken possession of by General Jackson as Governor. An act for the establishment of a Territorial Government was passed March 30, 1822, and by act of March 3, 1823, East and West Florida were constituted one Territory. Acts to establish its boundary line between Georgia and Alabama were passed May 4, 1826, and March 2, 1831. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it into two Territories, or into a State and Territory, an act for its admission into the Union was passed March 3, 1845. Area 59,268 square miles, or 37,980,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 140,425, of whom 61,745 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, tropical in its climate and products. Every free white male citizen, who has resided in the State two years and in the county six months, and has been enrolled in the militia (unless exempt by law,) is qualified to vote; but no soldier, seaman or marine can vote unless qualified before enlistment. Its Legislature called a Convention, December 1, 1860, which met January 3, 1861, and passed a secession ordinance on the 10th by a vote of 62 to 7.

GEORGIA was settled at Savannah, in 1733, by the English under General Oglethorpe. It was chartered June 9, 1732; formed a Constitution February 5, 1777; a second in 1785 and a third May 30, 1798.— It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution January 2, 1788. Area 58,000 square miles, or 37,120,000 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,057,286, of whom 462,198 were slaves. It is a large cotton and rice growing State. Citizens of the State, six months resident of the county where voting, who have paid taxes the year preceding the election, are entitled to vote. November 18, 1860, its Legislature ordered an election for a State Convention, which assembled and passed a secession ordinance January 19, 1861, by a vote of 208 to 89, and on the 23d of the same month its members of Congress resigned.

ILLINOIS was settled at Kaskaskia, in 1683, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. An act for dividing the Indiana Territory and organizing the Territory of Illinois, was passed by Congress, February 3, 1809; and an act to enable it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., was passed April 18, 1818; a Constitution was framed August 26, and it was admitted into the Union December 23 of the same year. Area 54,405 square miles, or 64,819,200 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,711,951. It is the chief "prairie" State, and the largest grain growing and second largest cattle raising State in the Union. All white male inhabitants, who have resided in the State one year and election district sixty days, can vote in the district where actually residing.

INDIANA was settled at Vincennes, in 1690, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. It was organized into a Territory May 7, 1800, from which the Territory of Michigan was set off in 1805, and Illinois in 1809. An act was passed to empower it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., April 19, 1816, and it was admitted into the Union December 11 of the same year. Area 33,809 square miles, or 21,637,760 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,350,428. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to grain growing and cattle raising. A residence of one year in the State entitles males of 21 years of age to vote in the county of their residence.

IOWA was first settled at Burlington by emigrants from the Northern and Eastern States. It was part of the region purchased from France; was set off from the Territory of Wisconsin and organized as a separate Territory June 12, 1838; an act for its admission as a State was passed and approved March 3, 1845, to which the assent of its inhabitants was to be given to be announced by Proclamation of the President, and on December 28, 1846, another act for its admission was passed. Area 50,914 square miles or 32,584,960 acres. Population, in 1860, 674,913. It is an agricultural State, resembling Illinois, and contains important lead mines. White male citizens of the United States, having resided in the State six months and county twenty days, are entitled to vote.

KANSAS was formed out of the original Louisiana purchase, and organized into a Territory by act of Congress, May 30, 1854, and after several ineffectual attempts was finally admitted into the Union in January, 1861. Area 78,418 square miles, or 50,187,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 107,206. It is an agricultural State, with a soil of rich and deep black loam, except the central portion, which is partly a desert. The western portion is a fine grazing country, well wooded. Residence in the State six months, and in the township or ward thirty days, confers the right of suffrage on white male citizens. It also abounds in minerals.

KENTUCKY was settled in 1775, by Virginians; formed into a Territory by act of the Virginia Legislature, December 18, 1789, and admitted into the Union June 1, 1792, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 4, 1791. Area 37,680 square miles, or 24,115,200 acres.—Population in 1860, 1,155,684, of whom 225,483 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, raising more flax and hemp than any other. Loyalty, a residence of two years in the State and one in the county are the requirements to vote. "Any citizen of this State who shall enter the service of the so-called Confederate States, in either a civil or military capacity; or into the service of the so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky, in either a civil or military capacity; or having heretofore entered such service of either the Confederate States or Provisional Government, shall continue in such service after this act takes effect, (March 11, 1862,) or shall take up or continue in arms against the military forces of the United States or State of Kentucky, or shall give voluntary aid and assistance to those in arms against said forces, shall be deemed to have expatriated himself, and shall no longer be a citizen, except by permission of the Legislature by a general or special statute."

LOUISIANA was settled at Iberville, in 1699, by the French, and comprised a part of the territory ceded by France to the United States, by treaty of April 30, 1803, which purchase was erected into two Territories by act of Congress March 26, 1804, one called the Territory of Orleans, the other the District of Louisiana, afterwards changed to that of Missouri.—Congress, March 2, 1806, authorized the inhabitants of Orleans Territory to form a State Constitution and Government when their population should amount to 60,000; a Constitution was adopted January 22, 1812, and the State admitted into the Union April 8 of the same year, under the name of Louisiana. Area 41,255 square miles, or 26,403,200 acres. Population in 1860, 708,002, of whom 831,726 were slaves. It is the chief sugar producing State of the Union. Two years' residence in the State and one in the parish are the qualifications of voters. December 10, 1860, the Legislature ordered a State Convention to be held, which assembled and passed an ordinance of secession January 26, 1861, by a vote of 113 to 17. The people voted on the question, and on March 28 the following was announced as the result: For, 20,448; against, 17,296; a majority of 3,152. The Convention ratified the 'Confederate' Constitution March 11, 1861, by a vote of 107 to 7, and refused to submit it to the people by 94 to 10. On the 11th day of January, 1864, Maj. Gen. Banks issued a Proclamation for an election of State officers and delegates to a Constitutional Convention, for the purpose of affecting a reconstruction of the State Government under the plan suggested in the Amnesty Proclamation of President Lincoln. The election was held on the 22d day of February, 1864. The officers thus elected were installed March 4. The total vote cast was 10,725. The vote requisite under the Proclamation was 5,051. The Convention amended the Constitution so as to abolish slavery. The new Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 6,836 for, to 1,568 against.

MAINE was settled at York, in 1623, by the English, and was formerly under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. October 29, 1819, the inhabitants of the District of Maine framed a Constitution; applied for admission December 8, 1819. Congress passed an act March 3, 1820, and it was admitted as a State March 15, of the same year. Area 31,766 square miles, or 20,330,240 acres. Population, in 1860, 628,279. It is largely engaged in the lumber trade and ship building. Citizens of the United States, except paupers and persons under guardianship, who have resided in the State for three months next preceding the election, are entitled to vote.

MARYLAND was settled at St. Mary, in 1634, by Irish Roman Catholics, having been chartered June 20, 1632. It was one of the original thirteen States; formed a Constitution August 14, 1776, and ratified the Constitution of the United States April 28, 1788. Area 11,124 square miles, or 7,119,260 acres. Population in 1860, 687,049, of whom 87,189 were slaves. It is mainly an agricultural State, producing grain and tobacco. A residence of one year in the State, and six months in the county, gives the right to vote to every white male citizen who takes the oath of allegiance prescribed in the Constitution. January 28, 1864, a bill passed the Legislature submitting to the people the question of a Convention to revise the Constitution of the State. The popular vote on the question was as follows: For Convention, 32,203; against, 18,337. The Convention assembled and adopted a Constitution abolishing slavery, which was submitted to and adopted by the people; and in accordance with its provisions, on the 29th of October, 1864, the Governor issued his Proclamation declaring the slaves in that State free from the 1st day of November.

MASSACHUSETTS was settled at Plymouth, November 3, 1620, by English Puritans, and Charters were granted March 4, 1629, January 13, 1630, August 20, 1726, and October 7, 1731. It was one of the original 13 States; adopted a Constitution March 2, 1780, which was amended November 3, 1820, and ratified the Constitution of the United States February 6, 1788. Area 7,800 square miles, or 4,992,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,231,066. It is a largely commercial, the chief manufacturing and most densely populated State in the Union. A residence of one year in the State, and payment of State or county tax, gives the right to vote to male citizens of 21 years and upward, except paupers and persons under guardianship.

MICHIGAN was settled at Detroit in 1670, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Virginia. It was set off from the territory of Indiana, and erected into a separate Territory January 11, 1805; an act to attach to it all the territory of the United States west of the Mississippi river, and north of the State of Missouri, was passed June 28, 1834. Wisconsin was organized from it April 30, 1836. In June of the same year an act was passed to provide for the admission of the State of Michigan into the Union, and a Constitution having been adopted, it was admitted January 26, 1837. Area 56,243 square miles, or 35,995,552 acres. Population in 1860, 749,113. It is a grain growing and cattle rearing State, with rich and extensive mines of copper and iron in the Northern Peninsula. A residence in the State of six months preceding the election, entitles white male citizens to vote.

MINNESOTA was settled about 1846, chiefly by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress approved March 3, 1849, and admitted into the Union February 26, 1857. Area 95,274 square miles, or 60,975,536 acres. Population in 1860, 172,128 whites, and about 25,000 Indians, many of the tribes being of a warlike character. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to Northern grains. The right to vote is extended to male persons of 21 years of age, of the following classes, if they have resided in the United States one year, the State four months, and the election district ten days: White citizens of the United States, and those of foreign birth who have declared their intention to become citizens; persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs of civilization, and those of pure Indian blood who have been pronounced capable by any district court of the State.

MISSISSIPPI was settled at Natchez, in 1716, by the French, and was formed out of part of the territory ceded to the United States by South Carolina in 1787, and Georgia in 1802. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress, April 7, 1789, and enlarged on the north March 27, 1804, and on the south May 14, 1812. After several unsuccessful attempts to enter the Union, Congress finally passed an act March 1, 1817, enabling the people of the western part of the Territory to form a State Constitution and Government, which being complied with August 15, it was admitted December 10 of the same year. Area 47,156 square miles, or 30,179,840 acres. Population in 1860, 791,305, of whom 436,631 were slaves. It is the second cotton growing State of the Union. Citizens who have resided one year in the State, and four months in the county, and having performed military duty or paid taxes, are entitled to vote. A Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 9th passed an ordinance of secession by a vote of 84 to 15.

MISSOURI was settled at Genevieve in 1763, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded by France by treaty of April 30, 1803. It was created under the name of the District of Louisiana, by an act approved March 26, 1804, and placed under the direction of the officers of the Indiana Territory, and was organized into a separate Territory June 4, 1812, its name being changed to that of Missouri; and was divided March 2, 1819, the Territory of Arkansas being then created. An act authorizing it to form a State Constitution and Government was passed March 6, 1820, and it was admitted into the Union December 14, 1821. Area 67,880 square miles, or 43,123,200 acres. Population in 1860, 1,182,012, of whom 114,931 were slaves. An act of gradual emancipation was passed July 1, 1863, by a vote of 51 to 30. On the 6th of January, 1865, a Constitutional Convention assembled in St. Louis, and on the 8th of April adopted a new Constitution, declaring the State free, prohibiting compensation for slaves, and adopting many other radical changes. On the 6th of June the Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 48,670 to 41,808, and pursuant to a Proclamation issued on the 1st of July, the Constitution went into effect July 4, 1865. It is an agricultural and mining State. Citizens of the United States who have resided in the State one year, and county three months, are entitled to vote. By an act passed by the Legislature of 1863, voting by ballot was adopted, and the viva voce system abolished.

NEBRASKA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was formed out of a part of the territory ceded by France, April 30, 1803. Attempts to organize it were made in 1844 and 1848, but it was not accomplished until May 30, 1854. Area 75,955 square miles, or 44,796,160 acres. Population 28,841, besides a few roving tribes of Indians. A Convention adopted a State Constitution February 9, 1866, which was submitted to the people on the 22d of June, and adopted by a vote of 3,938 for, to 3,838 against, and State officers were elected. A bill was passed by Congress, July 27th, admitting the State, but the President withheld his signature. In February, 1867, Congress passed an act imposing certain conditions to admission, which were promptly accepted, and the territory became a State. It is an agricultural region, its prairies affording boundless pasture lands.

NEVADA was organized as a Territory March 2, 1861. Its name signifies snowy, and is derived from the Spanish word nieve (snow.) It comprises 81,539 square miles, or 52,184,960 acres, lying mostly within the Great Basin of the Pacific coast. Congress, at its session in 1864, passed an act which was approved March 21, to enable the people of the Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, in pursuance of which a Government was organized and the Territory admitted as a State by Proclamation of the President, October 31, 1864. At the time of its organization the Territory possessed a population of 6,857 white settlers. The development of her mineral resources was rapid and almost without parallel, and attracted a constant stream of immigration to the Territory. As the population has not been subject to the fluctuations from which other Territories have suffered, the growth of Nevada has been rapid and steady. At the general convention election of 1863, 10,934 votes were cast. During 1864 great accessions to the population were made. It is probably the richest State in the Union in respect to mineral resources. No region in the world is richer in argentiferous leads. It also contains an immense basin of salt, five miles square. Quartz mills are a very important feature in mining operations. The State is barren for agricultural purposes, and is remarkably healthy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE was settled at Dover, in 1623, by English Puritans, and continued under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until September 18, 1679, when a separate charter was granted. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution June 21, 1788; its State Constitution was framed January 5, 1776, and amended in 1784 and 1792. Area 9,280 square miles, or 5,939,200 acres. Population in 1860, 326,078. It is a grazing and manufacturing State. All male citizens, except paupers, are allowed to vote.

NEW JERSEY was settled at Bergen, in 1624, by the Dutch and Danes; was conquered by the Dutch in 1655, and submitted to the English in 1664, being held thereafter under the same grants as New York, until it was surrendered to the Crown in 1702. It was one of the original thirteen States, adopted a State Constitution July 2, 1776, and ratified the United States Constitution December 18, 1787. Area 8,320 square miles, or 5-, 324,800 acres. Population in 1860, 672,035. It is a grain and fruit growing region, its orchard and market products being relatively greater than those of any other State. A residence of one year in the State gives the right to vote, except to paupers, &c.

NEW YORK was settled at Manhattan, in 1614, by the Dutch; was ceded to the English by grants to the Duke of York, March 20, April 26, and June 24, 1664; was retaken by the Dutch in 1673, and surrendered again by them to the English, February 9, 1674. It was one of the original thirteen States; ratified the United States Constitution July 26, 1788; framed a Constitution April 20, 1777, which was amended October 27, 1801, and November 10, 1821; a new one was adopted November 3, 1846. Area 47,000 square miles, or 30,080,000 acres. Population in 1865, 3,831,777. It is the most populous, wealthy and commercial of the States. White male citizens of the United States, who have resided in the State one year, in the county four months, and election district thirty days, are entitled to vote; and all men of color who have resided in the State three years, and own and pay taxes on a freehold assessed at $250.

NORTH CAROLINA was settled at Albemarle, in 1650, by the English, and was chartered March 20, 1663. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, November 21, 1789; its State Constitution was adopted December 18, 1776, and amended in 1835. Area 50,704 square miles, or 32,450,560 acres. Population in 1860, 992,622, of whom 331,059 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, with some mines and extensive pine forests. Every freeman of 21 years of age, having resided one year in any county in the State, may vote for a member of the House of Commons, but must own fifty acres of land to vote for a Senator. A State Convention passed an ordinance of secession May 21, 1861. An election for delegates to a State Convention took place September 21, 1865. The Convention assembled October 2. On the 2d of October it passed an ordinance forever prohibiting slavery. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional amendment December 1. An election was held on the first Thursday of November, for Governor, Members of Congress and the Legislature.

OHIO was settled at Marietta, in 1788, by emigrants from Virginia and New England; was ceded by Virginia to the United States October 20, 1783; accepted by the latter March 1, 1784, and admitted into the Union April 30, 1802. Area 39,964 square miles, or 25,576,960 acres. Population in 1860, 2,389,511. It is the most populous and wealthy of the agricultural States, devoted principally to wool growing, grain and live stock. A male of 21 years of age, who has resided in the State one year, and has paid or been charged with a State or county tax, is eligible to vote.

OREGON, although it had previously been seen by various navigators, was first taken possession of by Capt. Robert Gray, who entered the mouth of its principal river May 7, 1792, naming it after his vessel, the Columbia, of Boston. Exploring expeditions soon followed, and fur companies sent their trappers and traders into the region. In 1811 a trading post was established at the mouth of the Columbia river by the American Fur Company, who named it Astoria. For some time a Provisional Territorial Government existed, but the boundary remained unsettled until the treaty with Great Britain in 1846, when the 49th parallel was adopted. It was formally organized as a Territory August 14, 1848; was divided March 2, 1853, on the 46th parallel, the northern portion being called Washington and the southern Oregon. November 9, 1857, a State Constitution was adopted, under which it was admitted February 14, 1859, about one-third of it on the east being added to Washington Territory, its northern boundary following the Columbia river until its intersection with latitude 46° north. Area 102,608 square miles, or 65,667,840 acres. Population in 1860, 52,465. It is an agricultural State, possessed of a fertile soil, extensive pastures, genial climate, and is well wooded. Gold and other precious metals are found in considerable abundance.

PENNSYLVANIA was settled at Philadelphia, in 1681, by English Quakers, and was chartered February 28 of the same year. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution December 12, 1787; adopted a State Constitution September 28, 1776, and amended it September 2, 1790. Area 46,000 square miles, or 29,440,000 acres. Population in 1860, 2,906,115. It is the second State in wealth and population, and the principal coal and iron mining region in the Union. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote; except that citizens between 21 and 22 years of age need not have paid the tax.

RHODE ISLAND was settled at Providence in 1636, by the English from Massachusetts, under Roger Williams. It was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until the formation of a Constitution in September, 1842. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 29, 1790. Area 1,306 square miles, or 835,840 acres. Population in 1860, 174,620. It is largely engaged in manufactures. A freehold possession of $13; or, if in reversion, renting for $7, together with a residence of one year in the State and six months in the town; or, if no freehold, then a residence of two years in the State and six months in the town, and payment of $1 tax or military service instead, are the qualifications of voters.

SOUTH CAROLINA was settled at Port Royal, in 1670, by the English, and continued under the charter of Carolina, or North Carolina, until they were separated in 1729. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 23, 1798; it framed a State Constitution March 26, 1776, which was amended March 19, 1778, and June 3, 1790. Area 29,885 square miles, or 18,806,400 acres. Population in 1860, 703,708, of whom 402,406 were slaves, an excess of 101,270 over the whites. It is the principal rice-growing State. Whites, who have resided in the State two years and district six months, and have a freehold of fifty acres of land, or have paid a State tax, are entitled to vote. December 17, 1860, a Convention assembled in Columbia, adjourned to Charleston, and on the 24th unanimously adopted an ordinance of secession, which was followed the next day by a Declaration of Causes claimed to be sufficient to justify the act. An election for delegates to a State Convention was held September 4, 1865. The Convention assembled September 13, and adjourned on the 28th. It repealed the ordinance of secession, abolished slavery, equalized the representation of the Senate and taxation throughout the State, giving the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, ordered voting in the Legislature by vote, endorsed the Administration unanimously, and directed a commission to submit a code to the Legislature for the protection of the colored population. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional Amendment November 13, 1865.

TENNESSEE was settled at Fort Donelson, in 1756, by emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina; was ceded to the United States by North Carolina, December, 1789, conveyed by the Senators of that State February 25, 1790, and accepted by act of Congress April 2 of the same year; it adopted a Constitution Feb. 6, 1796, and was admitted into the Union the 1st of June following. Area 45,600 square miles, or 29,184,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,109,601, of whom 275,179 were slaves. It is a mining and agricultural State, and is largely productive of live stock. Citizens of the United States who have resided six months in the county are entitled to vote. A military league was formed between the Governor, Isham G. Harris, and the rebel States, May 7, 1861, ratified the same day by the Senate by a vote of 14 to 6, and a Declaration of Independence submitted to the people, the election to be held June 8, the result of which was declared by the Governor, June 24, to be 104,913 for, and 47,238 against. This movement not being acceptable to the people of East Tennessee, which had declared against separation by a vote of 32,923 to 14,780, they, in a Convention held at Greenville, June 18-21, repudiated it. Andrew Johnson, Provisional Governor of the State, called a State Convention to be held in Nashville the second Monday in January. Delegates were elected, the Convention met, declared slavery forever abolished, prohibited compensation to owners of slaves, and abrogated the secession ordinances. These amendments of the Constitution were submitted to the people 22d of February, 1865, with the following result: For ratification, 22,197; rejection, 63. The United States Constitutional Amendment was ratified April 5, 1865.

TEXAS was first settled at Bexar, in 1694, by Spaniards; formed a part of Mexico until 1836, when she revolted from that Republic and instituted a separate Government, under which she existed until admitted into the Union by a joint resolution approved March 1st, 1845, imposing certain conditions, which were accepted, and a Constitution formed July 4 of the same year, and another joint resolution adopted by Congress, consummating the annexation, was approved December 29, 1845. Area 237,504 square miles, or 152,002,500 acres. Population in 1860, 604,215, of whom 182,566 were slaves. It is an agricultural region, principally devoted to grain, cotton and tropical fruits. Free white male citizens of 21 years of age, who have resided in the State one year and district six months are entitled to vote. A Convention assembled at Galveston January 28, 1861, and on February 1 passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 166 to 7, to be submitted to the people February 23, and on March 4 they declared the State out of the Union, and Gov. Houston issued a Proclamation to that effect.

VERMONT was settled in 1724, by Englishmen from Connecticut, chiefly under grants from New Hampshire; was formed from a part of the territory of New York, by act of its Legislature March 6, 1769; framed a Constitution December 25, 1777, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 18 of the same year. Area 10,212 square miles, or 6,535,680 acres. Population in 1860, 315,098. It is a grazing region, producing more wool, live stock, maple sugar, butter, cheese and hay, in proportion to its population, than any other State. Any citizen of the United States who has resided in the State one year, and will take the oath of allegiance, is entitled to vote.

VIRGINIA was settled at Jamestown, in 1607, by the English, and was chartered April 10, 1606, May 23, 1609, and March 12, 1612. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution June 25, 1788; it framed a State Constitution July 5, 1776, which was amended January 15, 1830. The State was divided in 1863. Present area 37,352 square miles. Population in 1860, 1,314,532, of whom 481,410 were slaves. It is a large corn producing, and the chief tobacco growing State. Every white male citizen of the age of 21 years, who has been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county, city or town where he offers to vote for six months next preceding an election, and has paid all taxes assessed to him, after the adoption of the Constitution, under the laws of the Commonwealth after the re-organization of the county, city or town where he offers to vote, is qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people. A Convention sitting in Richmond on the 17th of April, 1861, passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 88 to 55, which was submitted to the people at an election held May 23, the result of which was announced June 25 to be 128,824 for, and 32,134 against. The State Government was re-organized by a Convention which met at Wheeling, May 11, 1861. Upon the division of the State in 1863, the seat of Government was removed to Alexandria. A State Constitutional Convention, March 10, 1864, adopted a section abolishing slavery.

WEST VIRGINIA.—On the passage of the ordinance of secession by the Virginia Convention, a Convention of the western and other loyal counties of the State was held at Wheeling, which assembled May 11, 1861, and on the 17th unanimously deposed the then State officers and organized a Provisional Government. On the 26th of November, 1861, a Convention representing the western counties assembled in Wheeling and framed a Constitution for West Virginia, which was submitted to the people on the 3d of May, 1862, and adopted by them by a nearly unanimous vote. The division of the State was sanctioned by the Legislature May 13, 1862, and ratified by Congress by an act approved December 31, 1862, conditioned on the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the gradual abolition of slavery, which was done on the 24th of March, 1863, by a vote of the qualified electors of the proposed State, 28,818 voting in favor of the amendment, and 572 against it. In pursuance of the act of Congress, the President issued a Proclamation, April 20, 1863, admitting the State sixty days from the date thereof, and on the 20th of June the new State Government was formally inaugurated. Area 24,000 square miles. Population in 1860, 350,599, of whom 12,754 were slaves. It is a large corn producing State, and abounds in coal and other minerals. The Alexandria Legislature adopted the United States Constitutional Amendment February 9, 1865. White male citizens, residents of the State one year and county thirty days, unless disqualified by rebellion, are entitled to vote.

WISCONSIN was settled at Green Bay, in 1669, by the French; was a part of the territory ceded by Virginia, and was set off from Michigan December 24, 1834, and was organized into a Territory April 30, 1836. Iowa was set off from it June 13, 1838, and acts were passed at various times setting its boundaries. March 3, 1847, an act for its admission into the Union was passed, to take effect on the issuing of a Proclamation by the President, and by act of May 29, 1848, it was admitted into the Union. Area 53,924 square miles, or 34,511,360 acres. Population in 1860, 775,881. It is an agricultural State, chiefly engaged in grain raising and wool growing. Both white and colored citizens of the United States, or white foreigners who have declared their intention to become citizens, are entitled to vote. Colored citizens were admitted to the franchise, by a decision of the Supreme Court, rendered the 27th day of March, 1866, holding that, whereas an election was held in 1849, under the provisions of chapter 137, of that year, at which election 5,265 votes were cast in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to colored men, and 4,075 against such extension, therefore, the section of said law conferring such right had been constitutionally adopted and is the law of the land.

THE TERRITORIES,

THEIR BOUNDARIES, AREA, PHYSICAL FEATURES, ETC.

ALASKA, our new territory, recently purchased of Russia, comprehends all the north-west coast on the Pacific, and the adjacent islands north of the parallel of 50 degrees 40 minutes north, and the portion of the mainland west of the meridian (about 140° west) of Mount St. Elias. The area is computed at 481,276 square miles. The climate, although warmer than in the same latitude on the eastern coast, is too rigorous to admit of successful agricultural operations, and the chief value of the country and adjacent seas is derived from their fisheries and hunting grounds. The southern and central portions are mountainous; the northern portion along the Arctic ocean is quite flat, nowhere rising more than fifteen or twenty feet above the sea. The population is estimated at about 80,000, mostly Esquimaux.

ARIZONA was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, in the winter of 1863, out of the western half of New Mexico, the boundary between the two Territories being the 109th meridian (32d west from Washington,) and includes the greater portions of the valleys of Colorado and Gila, which two rivers drain its entire surface, with parts of Utah, New Mexico and Nevada, and yet convey, it is reported, a less volume of water to the sea than the Hudson at Albany. The fertile Mesilla Valley was left with New Mexico. The Territory forms a block nearly square, and contains 126,141 square miles, or 80,730,240 acres. Its white population is probably considerably less than 10,000. For agricultural purposes it is probably the most worthless on the Continent, owing to the absence of rains, but it is reputed to abound in silver mines.

COLORADO was organized March 2, 1861, from parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Utah, and is situated on each side of the Rocky Mountains, between latitude 37° and 41°, and longitude 25° and 32° west from Washington. Area 104,500 square miles, or 66,880,000 acres. Population 50,000, besides numerous tribes of Indians. By an enabling act passed March 21, 1864, the people of the Territory were authorized to frame a State Constitution and organize a State Government, and a Convention accordingly met in 1865, and on the 12th of August adopted a Constitution, which was submitted to and adopted by the people September 5, and State officers elected November 14. A bill to admit the Territory as a State passed Congress, but was vetoed May 25, 1866. It is said to be a superior grazing and cattle producing region, with a healthy climate and rich soil. An extensive coal bed, and also gold, iron and other minerals abound.

DAKOTA was first settled by employeés of the Hudson Bay Company, but is now being peopled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was set off from the western portion of Minnesota when that Territory became a State in 1857, and was organized March 2, 1861. Area 148,932 square miles, or 95,316,480 acres. Population 2,576 whites, and 2,261 Indians, besides the roving tribes.

IDAHO was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, at its second session, in the winter of 1863. Its name means 'Bead of the Mountains,' and it embraces the whole breadth of the Rocky Mountain region, and has within its bounds the head waters of nearly all the great rivers that flow down its either slope, but the greater portion lies east of the mountains. Its southern boundary is the 41st, its northern the 46th parallel of latitude. It extends from the 104th meridian on the east to the 110th on the west. Area 326,373 square miles, or 208,870,720 acres. For agricultural purposes it is comparatively worthless, but abounds in gold and other valuable mines.

MONTANA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. Organized in 1864, with the following boundaries: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the 27° L. W. from Washington with the 45° N. L.; thence due west on said 45th degree to a point formed by its intersection with the 34th degree W. from Washington; thence due south along said 34th degree of longitude to its intersection with the 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L.; thence due west along said 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L. to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence following the crest of the Rocky Mountains northward till its intersection with the Bitter Root Mountains; thence northward along the crest of said Bitter Root Mountains to its intersection with the 39th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence along said 39th degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British possessions; thence eastward along said boundary to the 27th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence southward along said 27th degree to the place of beginning. This makes it the northernmost Territory next the States east of the Missouri Valley. It is a good mining and agricultural region. The total population is put down at 15,822. Large accessions have been made since the census was taken.

NEW MEXICO was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory September 9, 1850.—Area 121,201 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. Population 83,000, besides large tribes of warlike Indians. The principal resource of the country is its minerals.

UTAH was settled by the Mormons, and was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory, September 9, 1850. Area, 106,382 square miles, or 68,084,480 acres. Population, 40,273, of whom 29 were slaves. Brine, sulphureous and chalybeate springs abound; limestone, granite, sandstone and marble are found in large quantities; iron is abundant, and gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc have been found. Not one-fiftieth part of the soil is fit for tillage, but on that which is, abundant crops of grain and considerable cotton are raised. A Convention was held at Great Salt Lake City, January 22, 1862, and a State Constitution formed, but it has not been acted on by Congress.

WASHINGTON was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was organized into a Territory, March 2, 1853, from the northern portion of Oregon, to which was added another portion from the eastern part when the latter Territory was admitted as a State, February 14, 1859. Area 69,994 square miles, or 48,636,800 acres. Population 11,168, besides numerous tribes of Indians.

WYOMING was organized in July 1868. It lies between the 27th and 34th meridians of longitude west from Washington, and between the 41st and 45th parallels of latitude. The Territory is rich in mineral wealth, having large quantities of iron, coal, gypsum and building stone, besides vast quantities of gold, silver and copper. Salt springs of great value are found within its limits. The western portion of the Territory embraces what is generally known as the "Sweet Water Mines." The climate is healthy, and the Territory is rapidly filling up with an enterprising and hardy population. The act of Congress organizing the Territory, provides that "There shall be no denial of the elective franchise or any other right, on account of color or race, and all persons shall be equal before the law."

the collection from the United States Government of claims by soldiers, or their legal representatives, for pensions, back pay, bounty, or for property lost in the service, exempt.

CANCELLATION.

In all cases where an adhesive stamp is used for denoting the stamp duty upon an instrument, the person using or affixing the same must write or imprint thereupon in ink the initials of his name, and the date (the year, month, and day) on which the same is attached or used. Each stamp should be separately cancelled. When stamps are printed upon checks, &c., so that in filling up the instrument, the face of the stamp is and must necessarily be written across, no other cancellation will be required.

All cancellation must be distinct and legible, and except in the case of proprietary stamps from private dies, no method of cancellation which differs from that above described can be recognized as legal and sufficient.

PENALTIES.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who makes, signs, or issues, or who causes to be made, signed, or issued, any paper of any kind or description whatever, or who accepts, negotiates, or pays, or causes to be accepted, negotiated, or paid, any bill of exchange, draft, or order, or promissory note, for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the tax chargeable thereon, cancelled in the manner required by law, with intent to evade the provisions of the revenue act.

A penalty of two hundred dollars is imposed upon every person who pays, negotiates, or offers in payment, or receives or takes in payment, any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn or purporting to be drawn in a foreign country, but payable in the United States, until the proper stamp has been affixed thereto.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who fraudulently makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the duty required by the revenue act, without effectually cancelling and obliterating the same in the manner required by law.

Attention is particularly called to the following extract from section 155, of the act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July 13, 1866:

"If any person shall wilfully remove or cause to be removed, alter or cause to be altered, the cancelling or defacing marks on any adhesive stamp, with intent to use the same, or to cause the use of the same, after it shall have been used once, or shall knowingly or wilfully sell or buy such washed or restored stamps, or offer the same for sale, or give or expose the same to any person for use, or knowingly use the same or prepare the same with intent for the further use thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused) have in his possession any washed, restored, or altered stamps, which have been removed from any vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing; then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall, on conviction thereof, * * * be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is not lawful to record any instrument, document, or paper required by law to be stamped, or any copy thereof, unless a stamp or stamps of the proper amount have been affixed and cancelled in the manner required by law; and such instrument or copy and the record thereof are utterly null and void, and cannot be used or admitted as evidence in any court until the defect has been cured as provided in section 158.

All willful violations of the law should be reported to the United States District Attorney within and for the district where they are committed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

The law does not designate which of the parties to an instrument shall furnish the necessary stamp, nor does the Commissioner of Internal Revenue assume to determine that it shall be supplied by one party rather than by another; but if an instrument subject to stamp duty is issued without having the necessary stamps affixed thereto, it cannot be recorded, or admitted, or used in evidence, in any court, until a legal stamp or stamps, denoting the amount of tax, shall have been affixed as prescribed by law, and the person who thus issues it is liable to a penalty, if he omits the stamps with an intent to evade the provisions of the internal revenue act.

The first act imposing a stamp tax upon certain specified instruments took effect, so far as said tax is concerned, October 1, 1862. The impression which seems to prevail to some extent, that no stamps are required upon any instruments issued in the States lately in insurrection, prior to the surrender, or prior to the establishment of collection districts there, is erroneous.

Instruments issued in those States since October 1, 1862, are subject to the same taxes as similar ones issued at the same time in the other States.

No stamp is necessary upon an instrument executed prior to October 1, 1862, to make it admissible in evidence, or to entitle it to record.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "promissory notes."

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by either of them; and "when more than one signature is affixed to the same paper, one or more stamps may be affixed thereto, representing the whole amount of the stamp required for such signatures."

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and, whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers—such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgement of the instrument which is not stamped.

Particular attention is called to the change in section 154, by striking out the words "or used;" the exemption thereunder is thus restricted to documents, &c., issued by the officers therein named. Also to the changes in sections 152 and 158, by inserting the words "and cancelled in the manner required by law."

The acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange, or order for the payment of any sum of money, drawn or purporting to be drawn in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, must, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty.

It is only upon conveyances of realty sold that conveyance stamps are necessary. A deed of real estate made without valuable consideration need not be stamped as a conveyance; but if it contains covenants, such, for instance, as a covenant to warrant and defend the title, it should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

When a deed purporting to be a conveyance of realty sold, and stamped accordingly, is inoperative, a deed of confirmation, made simply to cure the defect, requires no stamp. In such case, the second deed should contain a recital of the facts, and should show the reasons for its execution.

Partition deeds between tenants in common, need not be stamped as conveyances, inasmuch as there is no sale of realty, but merely a marking out, or a defining, of the boundaries of the part belonging to each; but where money or other valuable consideration is paid by one co-tenant to another for equality of partition, there is a sale to the extent of such consideration, and the conveyance, by the party receiving it, should be stamped accordingly.

A conveyance of lands sold for unpaid taxes, issued since August 1, 1868, by the officers of any county, town, or other ma-municipal corporation in the discharge of their strictly official duties, is exempt from stamp tax.

A conveyance of realty sold, subject to a mortgage, should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property unencumbered. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance.

The stamp tax upon a mortgage is based upon the amount it is given to secure. The fact that the value of the property mortgaged is less than that amount, and that consequently the security is only partial, does not change the liability of the instrument. When, therefore, a second mortgage is given to secure the payment of a sum of money partially secured by a prior mortgage upon other property, or when two mortgages upon separate property are given at the same time to secure the payment of the same sum, each should be stamped as though it were the only one.

A mortgage given to secure a surety from loss, or given for any purpose whatever, other than as security for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, is taxable only as an agreement or contract.

The stamp duty upon a lease, agreement, memorandum, or contract for the hire, use, or rent of any land, tenement, or portion thereof, is based upon the annual rent or rental value of the property leased, and the duty is the same whether the lease be for one year, for a term of years, or for the fractional part of a year only.

Upon every assignment or transfer of a mortgage, a stamp tax is required equal to that imposed upon a mortgage for the amount remaining unpaid; this tax is required upon every such transfer in writing, whether there is a sale of the mortgage or not; but no stamp is necessary upon the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, even though the legal effect of such indorsement is to transfer a mortgage by which the instrument is secured.

An assignment of a lease within the meaning and intent of Schedule B, is an assignment of the leasehold, or of some portion thereof, by the lessee, or by some person claiming by, from, or under him; such an assignment as enbrogates the assignee to the rights, or some portion of the rights, of the lessee, or of the person standing in his place. A transfer by the lessor of his part of a lease, neither giving nor purporting to give a claim to the leasehold, or to any part thereof, but simply a right to the rents, &c., is subject to stamp tax as a contract or agreement only.

The stamp tax upon a fire insurance policy is based upon the premium.

Deposit notes taken by a mutual fire insurance company, not as payment of premium nor as evidence of indebtedness therefor, but to be used simply as a basis upon which to make rateable assessments to meet the losses incurred by the company, should not be reckoned as premium in determining the amount of stamp taxes upon the policies.

When a policy of insurance properly stamped has been issued and lost, no stamp is necessary upon another issued by the same company to the same party, covering the same property, time, &c., and designed simply to supply the loss. The second policy should recite the loss of the first.

An instrument which operates as the renewal of a policy of insurance, is subject to the same stamp tax as the policy.

When a policy of insurance is issued for a certain time, whether it be for one year only or for a term of years, a receipt for premium, or any other instrument which has the legal effect to continue the contract and extend its operation beyond that time, requires the same amount of revenue stamps as the policy itself; but such a receipt as is usually given for the payment of the monthly, quarterly, or annual premium, is not a renewal within the meaning of the statute. The payment simply prevents the policy from expiring, by reason of non performance of its conditions; a receipt given for such a payment requires a two-cent stamp, if the amount received exceeds twenty dollars, and a two-cent stamp only. When, however, the time of payment has passed, and a tender of the premium is not sufficient to bind the company, but a new policy or a new contract in some form, with the mutuality essential to every contract, becomes necessary between the insurer and the insured, the same amount of stamps should be used as that required upon the original policy.

A permit issued by a life insurance company changing the terms of a policy as to travel, residence, occupation, &c., should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

A bill single or a bill obligatory, i. e., an instrument in the form of a promissory note, under seal, is subject to stamp duty as written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, at the rate of five cents for each one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof.

A waiver of protest, or of demand and notice, written upon negotiable paper and signed by the indorser, is an agreement, and requires a five-cent stamp.

A stamp duty of twenty-five cents is imposed upon the "protest of every note, bill of exchange, check or draft," and upon every marine protest. If several notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., are protested at the same time and all attached to one and the same certificate, stamps should be affixed to the amount of twenty-five cents for each note, bill, draft, &c., thus protested.

When, as is generally the case, the caption to a deposition contains other certificates in addition to the jurat to the affidavit of the deponent, such as a certificate that the parties were or were not notified, that they did or did not appear, that they did or did not object, &c., it is subject to a stamp duty of five cents.

When an attested copy of a writ or other process is used by a sheriff or other person in making personal service, or in attaching property, a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of attestation.

A marriage certificate issued by the officiating clergyman or magistrate, to be returned to any officer of a State, county, city, town, or other municipal corporation, to constitute part of a public record, requires no stamp; but if it is to be retained by the parties, a five-cent stamp should be affixed.

The stamp tax upon a bill of sale, by which any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, is conveyed to or vested in any other person or persons, is at the same rate as that imposed upon conveyances of realty sold; a bill of sale of any other personal property should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

An assignment of real or personal property, or of both, for the benefit of creditors, should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

Written or printed assignments of agreements, bonds, notes not negotiable, and of all other instruments the assignments of which are not particularly specified in the foregoing schedule, should be stamped as agreements.

No stamp is necessary upon the registry of a judgment, even though the registry is such in its legal effect as to create a lien which operates as a mortgage upon the property of the judgment debtor.

When a "power of attorney or proxy for voting at any election for officers of any incorporated company or society, except religious, charitable, or literary societies, or public cemeteries," is signed by several stockholders, owning separate and distinct shares, it is, in its legal effect, the separate instrument of each, and requires stamps to the amount of ten cents for each and every signature; one or more stamps may be used representing the whole amount required.

A notice from landlord to tenant to quit possession of premises requires no stamp.

A stamp tax is imposed upon every "manifest for custom-house entry or clearance of the cargo of any ship, vessel, or steamer for a foreign port." The amount of this tax in each case depends upon the registered tonnage of the vessel.

If a vessel clears in ballast and has no cargo whatever, no stamp is necessary; but if she has any, however small the amount—a stamp should be used.

A bond to convey real estate requires stamps to the amount of twenty-five cents.

The stamp duty upon the probate of a will, or upon letters of administration, is based upon the sworn or declared value of all the estate and effects, real, personal, and mixed, undiminished by the debts of the estate for or in respect of which such probate or letters are applied for.

When the property belonging to the estate of a person deceased, lies under different jurisdictions and it becomes necessary to take out letters in two or more places, the letters should be stamped according to the value of all the property, real, personal, and mixed, for or in respect of which the particular letters in each case are issued.

Letters de bonis non should be stamped according to the amount of property remaining to be administered upon thereunder, regardless of the stamps upon the original letters.

A mere copy of an instrument is not subject to stamp duty unless it is a certified one, in which case a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of the person attesting it; but when an instrument is executed and issued in duplicate, triplicate, &c., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

LETTERS.—The law requires postage on all letters (including those to foreign countries when prepaid), excepting those written to the President or Vice President, or members of Congress, or (on official business) to the chiefs of the executive departments of the Government, and the heads of bureaux and chief clerks, and others invested with the franking privilege, to be prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, prepayment in money being prohibited.

All drop-letters must be prepaid. The rate of postage on drop-letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, is two cents per half ounce or fraction of a half ounce; at offices where such free delivery is not established the rate is one cent.

The single rate of postage on all domestic mail letters throughout the United States, is three cents per half ounce, with an additional rate of three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce. The ten cent (Pacific) rate is abolished.

NEWSPAPERS, ETC.—Letter postage is to be charged on all handbills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever.

Daguerreotypes, when sent in the mail, are to be charged with letter postage by weight.

Photographs on cards, paper, and other flexible material, (not in cases), can be sent at the same rate as miscellaneous printed matter, viz., two cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Photograph Albums are chargeable with book postage—four cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.—Postage on daily papers to subscribers when prepaid quarterly or yearly in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery, per quarter (three months), 35 cts.; six times per week, per quarter 30 cts.; for tri-weekly, per quarter 15 cts.; for semi-weekly, per quarter 10 cts.; for weekly, per quarter 5 cents.

Weekly newspapers (one copy only) sent by the publisher to actual subscribers within the county where printed and published, FREE.

Postage per quarter (to be paid quarterly or yearly in advance) on newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a week, sent to actual subscribers in any part of the United States: Semi-monthly, not over 4 oz., 6 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 12 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 18 cts.; monthly, not over 4 oz., 3 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 6 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 9 cts.; quarterly, not over 4 oz., 1 cent; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 2 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 3 cts.

TRANSIENT MATTER.—Books not over 4 oz. in weight, to one address, 4 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 8 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 12 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 16 cts.

Circulars not exceeding three in number to one address, 2 cts.; over 3 and not over 6, 4 cts.; over 6 and not over 9, 6 cts.; over 9 and not exceeding 12, 8 cts.

On miscellaneous mailable matter, (embracing all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, hand-bills and posters, book manuscripts and proof-sheets, whether corrected or not, maps, prints, engravings, sheet music, blanks, flexible patterns, samples, and sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes or wrappers, cards, paper, plain or ornamental, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions,) the postage to be prepaid by stamps, is on one package, to one address, not over 4 oz. in weight, 2 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 4 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 6 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 8 cts. The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, to be franked, is limited to thirty-two ounces.

[All printed matter (except single copies of newspapers, magazines, and periodicals to regular subscribers) sent via overland mail, is to be charged at LETTER POSTAGE rates.]

Any word or communication, whether by printing, writing, marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed matter, other than the name or address of the person to whom it is to be sent, and the date when the subscription expires, subjects the package to letter postage.

Registry fee to the above foreign countries, 16 cents. Registry fee in the United States, 20 cents; Canada and the British Provinces, 5 cents; North Germany, 8 cents. ~~NEVER~~ Letters addressed to Post-Masters must be prepaid at the usual rates.

RULES:—1. Direct Letters plainly to the street and number, as well as the Post-office and State.

2. Head letters with the name of the writer's Post-office and State, Street and Number. Sign them with full name, and request that answers be directed accordingly.

3. Letters sent to strangers or transient visitors in a town or city, whose special address may be unknown, should be marked on the lower left hand corner with the word "Transient."

4. Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and direction for post marking, without interfering with the writing. N. B.—A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, Post Office and State across the left hand side of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with. Letters bearing such indorsements will be returned to the writer free of charge.

Additional Table of Foreign Postage.

The * indicates that, unless the letter is registered, pre-payment is optional; in all other cases it is required. § Pamphlets and Periodicals, ten cents per four ounces or fraction thereof. † Pamphlets, Magazines, &c., two cents per four ounces or fraction thereof.

3. Must be open at the ends to allow inspection.

Samples of merchandise must not be of intrinsic value.

Dutiable articles—books, music, &c., sent from Great Britain to the United States, must, in addition to the postage, pay the regular duties, which are—On books and engravings, 25 per cent.; music and photographs, 20 per cent.

If letters or articles sent to Italy are not prepaid, or are insufficiently paid, they will be charged with deficient postage, and subject to fine, on arrival at their destination.

Infallible Rules for Detecting Counterfeit or Spurious Bank Notes.

RULE 1st.—Examine the shading of the letters in title of Bank called LATHWORK, which in genuine notes presents an even, straight, light and silky appearance, generally so fine and smooth as to appear to be all in one solid, pale body. In the counterfeit the lines are coarse and irregular, and in many of the longer lines breaks will be perceived, thus presenting a very inferior finish in comparison to genuine work.

2d.—Observe the dies, circles and ovals in the genuine; they are composed of a network of lines, which, by crossing each other at certain angles, produce an endless variety of figures; SEE THE ONE CENT STAMP ATTACHED. The fine line alone is the unit which enables you to detect spurious work. In the counterfeit, the REPRESENTED white lines are coarse, irregular, and cross each other in a confused, irregular manner, thus producing blurred and imperfect figures.

3d.—Examine the form and features of all human figures on the note. In the genuine, the texture of the skin is represented by fine dots and lines intermixed. In the eyes, the pupil is distinctly visible, and the white clearly seen; the nose, mouth and chin, well formed, natural and expressive; the lips are slightly pouting, and the chin well thrown out; and the delicate shading of the neck perfectly harmonizes with the rest of the figure. Observe the fingers and toes; they should be clearly and accurately defined. The hair of the head should show the fine strands and present a natural appearance. The folds of the drapery of human figures should lay natural and present a fine, finished appearance. In the counterfeit the female figure does not bear the natural prominence in outlines; observe, the eyes and shading surrounding does not present the lifelike appearance it should. The fingers and toes are not properly and proportionately defined; the hair does not bear that soft and finished appearance as in the genuine.

4th.—Examine the imprint or engraver's names in the evenness and shape of the fine letters. Counterfeits never bear the imprint perfect. This rule should be strictly observed, as it is infallible in detecting counterfeits.

5th.—In the genuine note the landscapes are well finished; trees and shrubs are neatly drawn; the limbs well proportioned, and the foliage presenting a fine natural appearance; clear sky is formed of fine parallel lines, and when clouds or heavy skies appear, they cross each other, and bear a soft, smooth and natural appearance. The perspective, showing a view of the surrounding country, is always clear and distinct. The small figures in the background are always plainly seen, and their outlines and general character recognized. Ships are well defined and the canvass has a clear texture; railroad cars are very accurately delineated; in examining a train observe carefully the car most distant. In the counterfeit the landscape is usually poorly executed; the leaves of trees poorly and unnaturally defined.—The lines representing still water are scratchy rather than parallel, the sky is represented generally in like manner, and where rolling clouds are to be seen, the unnatural effect is obvious. Domestic animals are generally poorly executed, particularly the head and limbs; the eyes are seldom clearly defined. Ships are poorly drawn, the texture of the canvass coarse and inferior in style of workmanship, thus giving an artificial appearance. Railroad cars are also poorly executed; the car farthest from the eye is usually the most imperfect. The perspective is always imperfect, the figures in the background can seldom be recognized.

6th.—Bills altered from a smaller to a higher denomination, can readily be detected by a close observer, in consequence of the striking difference between the parts which have been extracted and the rest of the note. This difference is readily perceived in the lack of color, body and finish of the dye; we have seen bills where the surrounding shading in altered dies was too dark, but from the back or finish of the white lines you have a sure test. Again observe particularly the words "Five" or "Ten Dollars" as the case may be, denoting the denomination of the note; the parallel outlines and shading (if any) are coarse and imperfect. Alterations are frequently made by pasting a greater denomination over a smaller, but by holding the bill up to the light, the fraud will be perceived. Another method resorted to is to cut out the figures in the dies as well as the words one dollar, or the words two or three as the case may be, and with a sharp eraser, scrape down the ends and also the edges of the pieces to be inserted; when the pieces thus prepared are affixed they are hardly perceivable; but by passing the note through the hand, so as to feel the die both with the finger and thumb at the same time, the fraud will be detected by the stiffness of the outer edges, "occasioned by the gum or method adopted" in affixing the parts. The letter S should always be examined, as in many alterations it is pasted or stamped at the end of the word "dollar," and even when stamped there, the carrying out of the outlines for its shading will readily show the fraud. Bills of broken banks are frequently altered by extracting the name of bank, state and town; they may readily be detected by observing first the state, second the title or name of the bank, third the town or location.

GENERAL REMARKS IN REFERENCE TO COUNTERFEITS.—The paper on which they are printed is generally of a very inferior quality, with less body, finish and toughness than bank note paper has. The ink generally lacks the rich luster of the genuine; the red letters and figures are generally imperfect, and the ink does not present the vermilion hue as it should. The printing is generally inferior, usually exhibiting specks of white in the most prominent letters. The date and filling up, and the President's and Cashier's names are generally written by the same person, although in many instances they present a different appearance. There are bills in circulation bearing either genuine dies or vignettes; but upon close examination you will be enabled to detect any spurious bill, whether counterfeit or altered, by the instructions here given, if persevered in for a short time. We beg to suggest, if time will admit, the learner should examine minutely every bill he receives. A powerful pocket magnifying glass, which can be purchased for from fifty cents to one dollar at any of the opticians, will greatly enable you to see and comprehend the difference between genuine and spurious work.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS.

What will my readers give to know how to get rich? Now, I will not vouch that the following rules will enable every person who may read them to acquire wealth; but this I will answer for, that if ever a man does grow rich by honest means, and retains his wealth for any length of time, he must practice upon the principles laid down in the following essay. The remarks are not original with me, but I strongly commend them to the attention of every young man, at least as affording the true secret of success in attaining wealth. A single perusal of such an essay at an impressive moment, has sometimes a very wonderful effect upon the disposition and character.

Fortune, they say, is a fickle dame—full of her freaks and caprices; who blindly distributes her favors without the slightest discrimination. So inconstant, so wavering is she represented, that her most faithful votaries can place no reliance on her promises. Disappointment, they tell us, is the lot of those who make offerings at her shrine. Now, all this is a vile slander upon the dear blind lady.

Although wealth often appears the result of mere accident, or a fortunate concurrence of favorable circumstances without any exertion of skill or foresight, yet any man of sound health and unimpaired mind may become wealthy, if he takes the proper steps.

Foremost in the list of requisites are honesty and strict integrity in every transaction of life. Let a man have the reputation of being fair and upright in his dealings, and he will possess the confidence of all who know him. Without these qualities every other merit will prove unavailing. Ask concerning a man, "Is he active and capable?" Yes. "Industrious, temperate and regular in his habits?"—Oh yes. "Is he honest? Is he trustworthy?" Why, as to that, I am sorry to say that he is not to be trusted; he needs watching; he is a little tricky, and will take an undue advantage, if he can. "Then I will have nothing to do with him," will be the invariable reply. Why, then, is honesty the best policy? Because, without it, you will get a bad name, and everybody will shun you.

A character for knavery will prove an insurmountable obstacle to success in almost every undertaking. It will be found that the straight line is, in business, as in geometry, the shortest. In a word, it is almost impossible for a dishonest man to acquire wealth by a regular process of business, because he is shunned as a depredator upon society.

Needy men are apt to deviate from the rule of integrity, under the plea that necessity knows no law; they might as well add that it knows no shame. The course is suicidal, and by destroying all confidence, ever keeps them immured in poverty, although they may possess every other quality for success in the world.

Punctuality, which is said to be the soul of business, is another important element in the art of money getting. The man known to be scrupulously exact in the fulfillment of his engagements, gains the confidence of all, and may command all the means he can use with advantage; whereas, a man careless and regardless of his promises in money matters will have every purse closed against him. Therefore be prompt in your payments.

Next, let us consider the advantages of a cautious circumspection in our intercourse with the world. Slowness of belief and a proper distrust are essential to success. The credulous and confiding are ever the dupes of knaves and impostors. Ask those who have lost their property how it happened, and you will find in most cases that it has been owing to misplaced confidence. One has lost by endorsing, another by crediting, another by false representations; all of which a little more foresight and a little more distrust would have prevented. In the affairs of this world men are not saved by faith, but by the want of it.

Judge of men by what they do, not by what they say. Believe in looks rather than words. Observe all their movements. Ascertain their motives and their ends. Notice what they say or do in their unguarded moments, when under the influence of excitement. The passions have been compared to tortures which force men to reveal their secrets. Before trusting a man, before putting it in his power to cause you a loss, possess yourself of every available information relative to him. Learn his history, his habits, inclinations and propensities; his reputation for honor, industry, frugality and punctuality; his prospects, resources, supports, advantages and disadvantages; his intentions and motives of action; who are his friends and enemies, and what are his good or bad qualities. You may learn a man's good qualities and advantages from his friends—his bad qualities and disadvantages from his enemies. Make due allowance for exaggeration in both. Finally, examine carefully before engaging in anything, and act with energy afterwards. Have the hundred eyes of Argus beforehand, and the hundred hands of Briarbas afterwards.

Order and system in the management of business must not be neglected. Nothing contributes more to dispatch. Have a place for everything and everything in its place; a time for everything, and everything in its time. Do first what presses most, and having determined what is to be done, and how it is to be done, lose no time in doing it. Without this method all is hurry and confusion, little or nothing is accomplished, and business is attended to with neither pleasure nor profit.

A polite, affable deportment is recommended. Agreeable manners contribute powerfully to a man's success. Take two men, possessing equal advantages in every other respect, but let one be gentlemanly, kind, obliging and conciliating in his manners; the other harsh, rude and disobliging; and the one will become rich, while the other will starve.

We are now to consider a very important principle in the business of money-getting, namely—Industry—persevering, indefatigable attention to business. Persevering diligence is the Philosopher's stone, which turns everything to gold. Constant, regular, habitual and systematic application to business, must in time, if properly directed, produce great results. It must lead to wealth, with the same certainty that poverty follows in the train of idleness and inattention. It has been truly remarked that he who follows his amusements instead of his business, will, in a short time, have no business to follow.

The art of money-saving is an important part of the art of money-getting. Without frugality no one can become rich; with it, few would be poor. Those who consume as fast as they produce, are on the road to ruin. As most of the poverty we meet with grows out of idleness and extravagance, so most large fortunes have been the result of habitual industry and frugality. The practice of economy is as necessary in the expenditure of time as of money. They say if "we take care of the pence the pounds will take care of themselves." So, if we take care of the minutes, the days will take care of themselves.

The acquisition of wealth demands as much self-denial, and as many sacrifices of present gratification, as the practice of virtue itself. Vice and poverty proceed, in some degree, from the same sources, namely—the disposition to sacrifice the future to the present; the inability to forego a small present pleasure for great future advantages. Men fall of fortune in this world, as they fall of happiness in the world to come, simply because they are unwilling to deny themselves momentary enjoyments for the sake of permanent future happiness.

Every large city is filled with persons, who, in order to support the appearance of wealth, constantly live beyond their income, and make up the deficiency by contracting debts which are never paid. Others, there are, the mere drones of society, who pass their days in idleness, and subsist by pirating on the hives of the industrious. Many who run a short-lived career of splendid beggary, could they be but persuaded to adopt a system of rigid economy for a few years, might pass the remainder of their days in affluence. But no! They must keep up appearances, they must live like other folks.

* Their debts accumulate; their credit fails; they are harassed by duns, and besieged by constables and sheriff. In this extremity, as a last resort, they submit to a shameful dependence, or engage in criminal practices which entail hopeless wretchedness and infamy on themselves and families.

Stick to the business in which you are regularly employed. Let speculators make thousands in a year or a day; mind your own regular trade, never turning from it to the right hand or to the left. If you are a merchant, a professional man, or a mechanic, never buy lots or stocks, unless you have surplus money which you wish to invest. Your own business you understand as well as other men; but other people's business you do not understand. Let your business be some one which is useful to the community. All such occupations possess the elements of profit in themselves.

How to Secure the Public Lands,

OR THE ENTRY OF THE SAME UNDER THE PRE-EMPTION AND HOMESTEAD LAWS.

The following circular gives all necessary information as to the procedure necessary in purchasing and securing the public lands:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GEN'L LAND OFFICE, July 19, 1865. }

Numerous questions having arisen as to the mode of procedure to purchase public lands, or acquire title to the same by bounty land locations, by pre-emptions or by homestead, this circular is communicated for the information of all concerned.

In order to acquire title to public lands the following steps must be taken:

1. Application must be made to the Register of the district land office in which the land desired may be situated.

A list of all the land offices in the United States is furnished by the Department, with the seats of the different offices, where it is the duty of the Register and Receiver to be in attendance, and give proper facilities and information to persons desirous of obtaining lands.

The minimum price of ordinary public lands is $1.25 per acre. The even or reserved sections falling within railroad grants are increased to double the minimum price, being $2.50 per acre.

Lands once offered at public sale, and not afterwards kept out of market by reservation, or otherwise, so as to prevent free competition, may be entered or located.

2. By the applicant filing with the Register his written application describing the tract, with its area; the Register will then certify to the receiver whether the land is vacant, with its price; and when found to be so, the applicant must pay that price per acre, or may locate the same with land warrant, and thereafter the Receiver will give him a "duplicate receipt," which he is required to surrender previous to the delivery to him of the patent, which may be had either by application for it to the Register or to the General Land Office.

3. If the tract has not been offered at public sale it is not liable to ordinary private entry, but may be secured by a party legally qualified, upon his compliance with the requirements of the pre-emption laws of 4th September, 1841, and 3d March, 1843; and after such party shall have made actual settlement for such a length of time as will show he designs it for his permanent home, and is acting in good faith, building a house and residing therein, he may proceed to the district land office, establish his pre-emption claim according to law, by proving his actual residence and cultivation, and showing that he is otherwise within the purview of these acts.— Then he can enter the land at $1.25, either in cash or with bounty land warrant, unless the premises should be $2.50 acre lands. In that case the whole purchase-money can be paid in cash, or one-half in cash, the residue with a bounty land warrant.

4. But if parties legally qualified desire to obtain title under the Homestead Act of 20th May, 1862, they can do so on complying with the Department Circular, dated 30th October, 1862.

5. The law confines Homestead entries to surveyed lands; and although, in certain States and Territories noted in the subjoined list, pre-emptors may go on land before survey, yet they can only establish their claim after return of survey, but must file their pre-emption declaration within three months after receipt of official plat, at the local land-office where the settlement was made before survey. Where, however, it was made after survey, the claimant must file within three months after date of settlement; and where actual residence and cultivation have been long enough to show that the claimant has made the land his permanent home, he can establish his claim and pay for the same at any time before the date of the public sale of lands within the range in which his settlement may fall.

6. All unoffered surveyed lands not acquired under pre-emption, homestead, or otherwise, under express legal sanction, must be offered at public sale under the President's Proclamation, and struck off to the highest bidder, as required by act of April 24, 1820.

J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner General Land Office.

LAW MAXIMS.

1. A promise of a debtor to give "satisfactory security" for the payment of a portion of his debt, is a sufficient consideration for a release of the residue by his creditor.

2. Administrators are liable to account for interest on funds in their hands, although no profit shall have been made upon them, unless the exigencies of the estate rendered it prudent that they should hold the funds thus uninvested.

3. Any person who voluntarily becomes an agent for another, and in that capacity obtains information to which as a stranger he could have had no access, is bound in subsequent dealing with his principal, as purchaser of the property that formed the subject of his agency, to communicate such information.

4. When a house is rendered untenable in consequence of improvements made on the adjoining lot, the owner of such cannot recover damages, because it is presumed that he had knowledge of the approaching danger in time to protect himself from it.

5. When a merchant ship is abandoned by order of the master, for the purpose of saving life, and a part of the crew subsequently meet the vessel so abandoned and bring her safe into port, they will be entitled to salvage.

6. A person who has been led to sell goods by means of false pretenses, cannot recover them from one who has purchased them in good faith from the fraudulent vendor.

7. An agreement by the holder of a note to give the principal debtor time for payment, without depriving himself of the right to sue, does not discharge the surety.

8. A seller of goods who accepts, at the time of sale, the note of a third party, not endorsed by the buyer, in payment, cannot in case the note is not paid, hold the buyer responsible for the value of the goods.

9. A day-book copied from a "blotter" in which charges are first made, will not be received in evidence as a book of original entries.

10. Common carriers are not liable for extraordinary results of negligence that could not have been foreseen by ordinary skill and foresight.

11. A bidder at a Sheriff's sale may retract his bid at any time before the property is knocked down to him, whatever may be the conditions of the sale.

12. Acknowledgment of debt to a stranger does not preclude the operation of the statute.

13. The fruits and grass on the farm or garden of an intestate descend to the heir.

14. Agents are solely liable to their principals.

15. A deposit of money in bank by a husband, in the name of his wife, survives to her.

16. Money paid on Sunday contracts may be recovered.
17. A debtor may give preference to one creditor over another, unless fraud or special legislation can be proved.
18. A court cannot give judgment for a larger sum than that specified in the verdict.
19. Imbecility on the part of either husband or wife, invalidates the marriage.
20. An action for malicious prosecution will lie, though nothing further was done than suing out warrants.
21. An agreement not to continue the practice of a profession or business in any specified town, if the party so agreeing has received a consideration for the same, is valid.
22. When A consigns goods to B to sell on commission, and B delivers them to C, in payment of his own antecedent debts, A can recover their value.
23. A finder of property is compelled to make diligent inquiry for the owner thereof, and to restore the same. If, on finding such property, he attempts to conceal such fact, he may be prosecuted for larceny.
24. A private person may obtain an injunction to prevent a public mischief by which he is affected in common with others.
25. Any person interested may obtain an injunction to restrain the State or a municipal corporation from maintaining a nuisance on its lands.
26. A discharge under the insolvent laws of one State will not discharge the insolvent from a contract made with a citizen of another State.
27. To prosecute a party with any other motive than to bring him to justice, is malicious prosecution, and actionable as such.
28. Ministers of the gospel, residing in any incorporated town, are not exempt from jury, military, or fire service.
29. When a person contracts to build a house, and is prevented by sickness from finishing it, he can recover for the part performed, if such part is beneficial to the other party.
30. In a suit for enticing away a man's wife, actual proof of the marriage is not necessary. Cohabitation, reputation, and the admission of marriage by the parties, are sufficient.
31. Permanent erections and fixtures, made by a mortgagor after the execution of the mortgage upon land conveyed by it, become a part of the mortgaged premises.
32. When a marriage is denied, and plaintiff has given sufficient evidence to establish it, the defendant cannot examine the wife to disprove the marriage.
33. The amount of an express debt cannot be enlarged by application.
34. Contracts for advertisements in Sunday newspapers cannot be enforced.
35. A seller of goods, chattels, or other property, commits no fraud, in law, when he neglects to tell the purchaser of any flaws, defects, or unsoundness in the same.
36. The opinions of witnesses, as to the value of a dog that has been killed, are not admissible in evidence. The value of the animal is to be decided by the jury.
37. If any person puts a fence on or plows the land of another, he is liable for trespass whether the owner has sustained injury or not.
38. If a person, who is unable from illness to sign his will, has his hand guided in making his mark, the signature is valid.
39. When land trespassed upon is occupied by a tenant, he alone can bring the action.
40. To say of a person, "If he does not come and make terms with me, I will make a bankrupt of him and ruin him," or any such threatening language, is actionable, without proof of special damage.
41. In an action for slander, the party making the complaint must prove the words alleged; other words of like meaning will not suffice.
42. In a suit of damages for seduction, proof of pregnancy, and the birth of a child, is not essential. It is sufficient if the illness of the girl, whereby she was unable to labor, was produced by shame for the seduction; and this is such a loss of service as will sustain the action.
43. Addressing to a wife a letter containing matter defamatory to the character of her husband is a publication, and renders the writer amenable to damages.
44. A parent cannot sustain an action for any wrong done to a child, unless he has incurred some direct pecuniary injury therefrom in consequence of some loss of service or expenses necessarily consequent thereupon.
45. A master is responsible for an injury resulting from the negligence of his servant, whilst driving his cart or carriage, provided the servant is at the time engaged in his master's business, even though the accident happens in a place to which his master's business does not call him; but if the journey of a servant be solely for a purpose of his own, and undertaken without the knowledge and consent of his master, the latter is not responsible.
46. An emigrant depot is not a nuisance in law.
47. A railroad track through the streets is not a nuisance in law.

48. In an action for libel against a newspaper, extracts from such newspaper may be given to show its circulation, and the extent to which the libel has been published. The jury, in estimating the damages, are to look at the character of the libel, and whether the defendant is rich or poor. The plaintiff is entitled, in all cases, to his actual damages, and should be compensated for the mental sufferings endured, the public disgrace inflicted, and all actual discomfort produced.

49. Delivery of a husband's goods by a wife to her adulterer, he having knowledge that she has taken them without her husband's authority, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for larceny against the adulterer.

50. The fact that the insurer was not informed of the existence of impending litigation, affecting the premises insured, at the time the insurance was effected, does not vitiate the policy.

51. The liability of an innkeeper is not confined to personal baggage, but extends to all the property of the guest that he consents to receive.

52. When a minor executes a contract, and pays money, or delivers property on the same, he cannot afterwards disaffirm such contract and recover the money, or property, unless he restores to the other party the consideration received from him for such money or property.

53. When a person has, by legal inquisition been found an habitual drunkard, he cannot, even in his sober intervals, make contracts to bind himself or his property, until the inquisition is removed.

54. Any person dealing with the representative of a deceased person, is presumed, in law, to be fully apprized of the extent of such representative's authority to act in behalf of such estate.

55. In an action against a railroad company, by a passenger, to recover damages for injuries sustained on the road, it is not compulsory upon the plaintiff to prove actual negligence in the defendants; but it is obligatory on the part of the latter to prove that the injury was not owing to any fault or negligence of theirs.

56. A guest is a competent witness, in an action between himself and an inn-keeper, to prove the character and value of lost personal baggage. Money in a trunk, not exceeding the amount reasonably required by the traveler to defray the expenses of the journey which he has undertaken, is a part of his baggage; and in case of its loss, while at any inn, the plaintiff may prove its amount by his own testimony.

57. The deed of a minor is not absolutely void. The court is authorized to judge, from the instrument, whether it is void or not, according to its terms being favorable or unfavorable to the interests of the minor.

58. A married woman can neither sue nor be sued on any contract made by her during her marriage, except in an action relating to her individual property. The action must be commenced either by or against her husband. It is only when an action is brought on a contract made by her before her marriage, that she is to be joined as a co-plaintiff, or defendant, with her husband.

59. Any contract made with a person judicially declared a lunatic is void.

60. Money paid voluntarily in any transaction, with a knowledge of the facts, cannot be recovered.

61. In all cases of special contract for services, except in the case of a minor, the plaintiff can recover only the amount stipulated in the contract.

62. A wife is a competent witness with her husband, to prove the contents of a lost trunk, or when a party.

63. A wife cannot be convicted of receiving stolen goods when she received them of her husband.

64. Insurance against fire, by lightning or otherwise, does not cover loss by lightning when there is no combustion.

65. Failure to prove plea of justification, in a case of slander, aggravates the offence.

66. It is the agreement of the parties to sell by sample that constitutes a sale by sample, not the mere exhibition of a specimen of the goods.

67. An agent is liable to his principals for loss caused by his misstatements, though unintentional.

68. Makers of promissory notes given in advance for premiums on policies of insurance, thereafter to be taken, are liable thereon.

69. An agreement to pay for procuring an appointment to office is void.

70. An attorney may plead the statute of limitations, when sued by a client for money which he has collected and failed to pay over.

71. Testimony given by a deceased witness on first trial, is not required to be repeated verbatim on the second.

72. A person entitling himself to a reward offered for lost property, has a lien upon the property for the reward; but only when a definite reward is offered.

73. Confession by a prisoner must be voluntarily made, to constitute evidence against him.

74. The defendant in a suit must be served with process; but service of such process upon his wife, even in his absence from the State, is not, in the absence of statutory provisions, sufficient.

75. The measure of damages in trespass for cutting timber, is its value as a chattel on the land where it was felled, and not the market price of the lumber manufactured.

76. To support an indictment for malicious mischief in killing an animal, malice towards its owner must be shown, not merely passion excited against the animal itself.

77. No action can be maintained against a sheriff for omitting to account for money obtained upon an execution within a reasonable time. He has till the return day to render such account.

78. An interest in the profits of an enterprise, as profits, renders the party holding it a partner in the enterprise, and makes him presumptively liable to share any loss.

79. Males can marry at fourteen, and females at twelve years of age.

80. All cattle found at large upon any public road, can be driven by any person to the public pound.

81. Any dog chasing, barking, or otherwise threatening a passer-by in any street, lane, road, or other public thoroughfare, may be lawfully killed for the same.

82. A written promise for the payment of such amount as may come into the hands of the promisor, is held to be an instrument in writing for the payment of money.

83. The declaration of an agent is not admissible to establish the fact of agency.—But when other proper evidence is given, tending to establish the fact of agency, it is not error to admit the declarations of the agent, accompanying acts, though tending to show the capacity in which he acted. When evidence is competent in one respect and incompetent in another, it is the duty of the court to admit it, and control its effects by suitable instructions to the jury.

84. The court has a general power to remove or suspend an attorney for such immoral conduct as rendered him unworthy of confidence in his official capacity.

85. Bankruptcy is pleadable in bar to all actions and in all courts, and this bar may be avoided whenever it is interposed, by showing fraud in the procurement of the discharge, or a violation of any of the provisions of the bankrupt act.

86. An instrument in the form of a deed, but limited to take effect at the termination of the grantor's natural life, is held to be a deed, not a will.

87. A sale will not be set aside as fraudulent, simply because the buyer was at the time unable to make the payment agreed upon, and knew his inability, and did not intend to pay.

88. No man is under an obligation to make known his circumstances when he is buying goods.

89. Contracting parties are bound to disclose material facts known to each, but of which either supposes the other to be ignorant, only when they stand in some special relation of trust and confidence in relation to the subject matter of the contract. But neither will be protected if he does anything, however slight, to mislead or deceive the other.

90. A contract negotiated by mail is formed when notice of acceptance of the offer is duly deposited in the post-office, properly addressed. This rule applies, although the party making the offer expressly requires that if it is accepted, speedy notice of acceptance shall be given him.

91. The date of an instrument is so far a material part of it, that an alteration of the date by the holder after execution, makes the instrument void.

92. A corporation may maintain an action for libel, for words published of them and relating to its trade or business, by which it has incurred special damages.

93. It is unprofessional for a lawyer who has abandoned his case without trying it, a term or two before trial, to claim a fee conditional upon the success of his client, although his client was successful.

94. Although a party obtaining damages for injuries received through the default of another, was himself guilty of negligence, yet that will not defeat his recovery, unless his negligence contributed to cause the injury.

95. A person may contract to labor for another during life, in consideration of receiving his support; but his creditors have the right to inquire into the intention with which such arrangement is made, and it will be set aside if entered into to deprive them of his future earnings.

96. A grantor may by express terms exclude the bed of a river, or a highway, mentioned as boundary; but if without language of exclusion a line is described as 'along,' or 'upon,' or as 'running to' the highway or river, or as 'by,' or 'running to the bank of' the river; these expressions carry the grantee to the center of the highway or river.

97. The court will take pains to construe the words used in a deed in such a way as to effect the intention of the parties, however unskillfully the instrument may be drawn. But a court of law cannot exchange an intelligible word plainly employed in a deed for another, however evident it may be that the word used was by mistake for another.

98. One who has lost his memory and understanding is entitled to legal protection, whether such loss is occasioned by his own misconduct or by an act of Providence.

99. When a wife leaves her husband voluntarily, it must be shown, in order to make him liable for necessaries furnished to her, that she could not stay with safety. Personal violence, either threatened or inflicted, will be sufficient cause for such separation.

100. Necessaries of dress furnished to a discarded wife must correspond with the pecuniary circumstances of the husband, and be such articles as the wife, if prudent, would expect, and the husband should furnish, if the parties lived harmoniously together.

101. A fugitive from justice from one of the United States to another, may be arrested and detained in order to his surrender by authority of the latter, without a previous demand for his surrender by the executive of the State whence he fled.

102. A watch will not pass under a bequest of "wearing apparel," nor of "household furniture and articles for family use."

103. Money paid for the purpose of settling or compounding a prosecution for a supposed felony, cannot be recovered back by a party paying it.

104. An innkeeper is liable for the death of an animal in his possession, but may free himself from liability by showing that the death was not occasioned by negligence on his part.

105. Notice to the agent of a company is notice to the company.

106. An employer is not liable to one of his employes for an injury sustained by the latter in consequence of the neglect of others of his employes engaged in the same general business.

107. Where a purchaser at a Sheriff's sale has bid the full price of property under the erroneous belief that the sale would divest the property of all liens, it is the duty of the court to give relief by setting aside the sale.

108. When notice of protest is properly sent by mail, it may be sent by the mail of the day of the dishonor; if not, it must be mailed for the mail of the next day; except that if there is none, or it closes at an unseasonably early hour, then notice must be mailed in season for the next possible mail.

109. A powder-house located in a populous part of a city, and containing large quantities of gunpowder, is a nuisance.

110. When the seller of goods accepts at the time of the sale, the note of a third person, unindorsed by the purchaser, in payment, the presumption is that the payment was intended to be absolute; and though the note should be dishonored, the purchaser will not be liable for the value of the goods.

111. A man charged with crime before a committing magistrate, but discharged on his own recognizance, is not privileged from arrest on civil process while returning from the magistrate's office.

112. When one has been induced to sell goods by means of false pretences, he cannot recover them from one who has bona fide purchased and obtained possession of them from the fraudulent vendor.

113. If the circumstances attendant upon a sale and delivery of personal property are such as usually and naturally accompany such a transaction, it cannot be declared a legal fraud upon creditors.

114. A stamp impressed upon an instrument by way of seal, is good as a seal, if it creates a durable impression in the texture of the paper.

115. If a party bound to make a payment use due diligence to make a tender, but through the payee's absence from home is unable to find him or any agent authorized to take payment for him, no forfeiture will be incurred through his failure to make a tender.

Government Land Measure.

A township, 36 sections, each a mile square.

A section, 640 acres.

A quarter section, half a mile square, 160 acres.

An eighth section, half a mile long, north and south, and a quarter of a mile wide, 80 acres.

A sixteenth section, a quarter of a mile square, 40 acres.

The sections are numbered from one to thirty-six, commencing at the northeast corner, thus:

6	5	4	3	2	n w n e
					e w s e
7	8	9	10	11	12
18	17	16	15	14	13
19	20	21	22	23	24
30	29	28	27	26	25
31	32	33	34	35	36

The sections are all divided in quarters, which are named by the cardinal points, as in section one. The quarters are divided in the same way. The description of a 40 acre lot would read: The south half of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 11 township 24, north of range 7 west, or as the case might be; and sometimes will fall short, and sometimes overrun the number of acres it is supposed to contain.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

As Authorized by Act of Congress--Approved July 28, 1866.

STANDARDS.

In every system of Weights and Measures it is necessary to have what are called "Standards," as the pound, yard, gallon, &c., to be divided and multiplied into smaller and larger parts and denominations. The definition and construction of these Standards involve philosophical and scientific principles of a somewhat abstruse character, and are made and procured by the legislative department of the government. The nominal Standards of the new system are the METER, the ARE, the LITER, and the GRAM. The only real Standard, the one by which all the other standards are measured, and from which the system derives its name of "Metric," is the METER.

THE METER

Is used for all measures of length, distance, breadth, depth, height, &c., and was intended to be, and is very nearly, one ten-millionth of the distance on the earth's surface from the equator to the pole. It is about 39 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches, or 3 feet, 3 inches and 3 eighths, and is to be substituted for the yard.

THE ARE

Is a surface whose side is ten Meters, and is equal to 100 square Meters or about 4 square rods.

THE LITER

Is the unit for measuring solids and capacity, and is equal to the contents of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter. It is about equal to 1 quart, and is a standard in cubic, dry and liquid measures.

 A cubic Meter (or Kiloliter) is called a stere, and is also used as a standard in certain cubic measures.

THE GRAM

Is the Unit of weight, and is the weight of a cube of pure water, each edge of the cube being one one-hundredth of a Meter. It is about equal to 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ grains. It is intended as the Standard in all weights, and with its divisions and multiples, to supersede the use of what are now called Avoirdupois, Apothecaries and Troy Weights.

Each of the foregoing Standards is divided decimally, and larger units are also formed by multiples of 10, 100, &c. The successive subordinate parts are designated by the prefixes Deci, Centi and Milli; the successive multiples by Deka, Hecto, Kilo and Myria; each having its own numerical signification, as will be more clearly seen in the tables hereinafter given.

The terms used may, at first sight, have a formidable appearance, seem difficult to pronounce, and to retain in memory, and to be, therefore, objectionable; but with a little attention and use, the apprehended difficulty will be found more apparent than real, as has been abundantly proved by experience. The importance, also, of conformity in the use of commercial terms, on the part of the United States, with the practice of the many nations in which the system, with its present nomenclature, has already been adopted, must greatly overbalance the comparatively slight objection alluded to.

Acts and Resolutions of Congress.

PUBLIC—No. 183.

AN ACT to authorize the use of the metric system of weights and measures.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection, because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the tables in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and said tables may be lawfully used for computing, determining and expressing, in customary weights and measures, the weights and measures of the metric system.

Discount and Premium.

When a person buys an article for $1.00—20 per cent off, (or discount,) and sells it again for $1.00, he makes a profit of 25 per cent. on his investment. Thus: He pays 80 cents and sells for $1.00—a gain of 20 cents, or 25 per cent of 80 cents. And for any transaction where the sale or purchase of gold, silver, or currency is concerned, the following rules will apply in all cases.

RULE 1st.—To find premium when discount is given: Multiply 100 by rate of discount and divide by 100, less rate of discount.

RULE 2d.—To find discount when premium is given. Multiply the rate of interest by 100, and divide by 100, plus the rate of premium.

Suppose A has $140 in currency, which he wishes to exchange for gold, when gold is 27 per cent. premium, how much gold should he receive? In this case the premium is given, consequently we must find the discount on A's currency and subtract it from the $140, as per rule 2d, showing the discount to be a trifle more than 21 per cent. and that he should receive $110.60 in gold.

Facts on Advertising.

The advertisements in an ordinary number of the London Times exceed 2,500. The annual advertising bills of one London firm are said to amount to $300,000; and three others are mentioned who each annually expend for the purpose $50,000. The expense for advertising the eight editions of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" is said to have been $15,000.

In large cities nothing is more common than to see large business establishments, which seem to have an immense advantage over all competitors, by the wealth, experience, and prestige they have acquired, drop gradually out of public view, and be succeeded by firms of a smaller capital, more energy, and more determined to have the fact that they sell such and such commodities known from one end of the land to the other. In other words, the establishments advertise; the old die of dignity.—The former are ravenous to pass out of obscurity into publicity; the latter believe that their publicity is so obvious that it cannot be obscured. The first understand that they must thrust themselves upon public attention, or be disregarded; the second, having once obtained public attention, suppose they have arrested it permanently; while, in fact, nothing is more characteristic of the world than the ease with which it forgets.

Stephen Girard, than whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say: I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the duldest times as well as the busiest; long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost.

Brilliant Whitewash.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house at Washington. The following is a recipe for it; it is gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiments: Take half a bushel of nice un-slacked lime, slack it with boiling water, cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, and stirred in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clean glue, which has been previously dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small kettle within a large one filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt.

It should be put on right hot; for this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. It is said that about a pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house if properly applied. Brushes more or less small may be used according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil paint for wood, brick or stone, and is cheaper. It retains its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it, either for inside or outside walls.

Coloring matter may be put in and made of any shade you like. Spanish brown stirred in will make red pink, more or less deep according to the quantity. A delicate tinge of this is very pretty, for inside walls. Finely pulverized common clay, well mixed with Spanish brown, makes a reddish stone color. Yellow-ochre stirred in makes yellow wash, but chrome goes further, and makes a color generally esteemed prettier. In all these cases the darkness of the shades of course is determined by the quantity of coloring used. It is difficult to make rules, because tastes are different. It would be best to try experiments on a shingle and let it dry. We have been told that green must not be mixed with lime. The lime destroys the color, and the color has an effect on the whitewash, which makes it crack and peel. When walls have been badly smoked, and you wish to have them a clean white, it is well to squeeze indigo plentifully through a bag into the water you use, before it is stirred in the whole mixture. If a larger quantity than five gallons be wanted, the same proportion should be observed.

How to get a Horse out of a Fire.

The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known.—The plan of covering their eyes with a blanket will not always succeed.

A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having tried in vain to save them, hit upon the expedient of having them harnessed as though going to their usual work; when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

The Chemical Barometer.

Take a long narrow bottle, such as an old-fashioned Eau-de-Cologne bottle, and put into it two and a half drachms of camphor, and eleven drachms of spirits of wine; when the camphor is dissolved, which it will readily do by slight agitation, add the following mixture: Take water, nine drachms; nitrate of potash (saltpetre) thirty-eight grains; and muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac) thirty-eight grains. Dissolve these salts in the water prior to mixing with the camphorated spirit; then shake the whole well together. Cork the bottle well, and wax the top, but afterwards make a very small aperture in the cork with a red-hot needle. The bottle may then be hung up, or placed in any stationary position. By observing the different appearances which the materials assume, as the weather changes, it becomes an excellent prognosticator of a coming storm or of a sunny sky.

Leech Barometer.

Take an eight ounce phial, and put in it three gills of water, and place in it a healthy leech, changing the water in summer once a week, and in winter once in a fortnight, and it will most accurately prognosticate the weather. If the weather is to be fine, the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass and coiled together in a spiral form; if rain may be expected, it will creep up to the top of its lodgings and remain there till the weather is settled; if we are to have wind, it will move through its habitation with amazing swiftness, and seldom goes to rest till it begins to blow hard; if a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed, it will lodge for some days before almost continually out of the water, and discover great uneasiness in violent throes and convulsive-like motions; in frost as in clear summer-like weather it lies constantly at the bottom; and in snow as in rainy weather it pitches its dwelling in the very mouth of the phial. The top should be covered over with a piece of muslin.

TO MEASURE GRAIN IN A BIN.—Find the number of cubic feet, from which deduct one-fifth. The remainder is the number of bushels—allowing, however, one bushel extra to every 234. Thus in a remainder of 224 there would be 225 bushels. In a remainder of 448 there would be 450 bushels &c.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

[The following recipes are vouched for by several who have tried them and proven their virtues. Many of them have been sold singly for more than the price of this book.—PUB.]

HORSES.

RING BONE AND SPAVIN.—3 oz. each of Spanish flies and Venice turpentine; 1 oz. each of aqua ammonia and euphorbium; $\frac{3}{8}$ oz. red precipitate; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. corrosive sublimate; 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. lard. When thoroughly pulverized and mixed, heat carefully so as not to burn, and pour off free from sediment.

For ring-bone, rub in thoroughly, after removing hair, once in 48 hours. For spavin, once in 24 hours. Cleanse and press out the matter on each application.

POLL-EVIL.—Gum arabic $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.; common potash $\frac{1}{8}$ oz.; extract of belladonna $\frac{1}{8}$ dr. Put the gum in just enough water to dissolve it. Pulverize the potash and mix with the dissolved gum, and then put in the extract of belladonna, and it will be ready for use. Use with a syringe after having cleansed with soap suds, and repeat once in two days till a cure is effected.

SCOURS.—Powdered tormentil root, given in milk, from 3 to 5 times daily till cured.

GREASE-HEEL AND SCRATCHES.—Sweet oil 6 ozs.; borax 2 ozs.; sugar of lead 2 ozs. Wash off with dish water, and, after it is dry, apply the mixture twice a day.

CHOLIC IN HORSES.—To $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. of warm water add 1 oz. laudanum and 3 ozs. spirits of turpentine, and repeat the dose in about $\frac{1}{2}$ of an hour, adding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. powdered aloes, if not relieved.

BOYS.—Three doses. 1st. 2 qts milk and 1 of molasses. 2d. 15 minutes after, 2 qts. warm sage tea. 3d. After the expiration of 30 minutes, sufficient lard to physic.—Never fails.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PILES—PERFECTLY CURED.—Take flour of sulphur 1 oz., rosin 3 ozs., pulverize and mix well together. (Color with carmine or cochineal, if you like.) Dose—What will lie on a five cent piece, night and morning, washing the parts freely in cold water once or twice a day. This is a remedy of great value.

The cure will be materially hastened by taking a table-spoon of sulphur in a half pint of milk, daily, until the cure is effected.

SURE CURE FOR CORNS, WARTS AND CHILBLAINS.—Take of nitric and muriatic acids, blue vitriol and salts of tartar, 1 oz. each. Add the blue vitriol, pulverized, to either of the acids; add the salts of tartar in the same way; when done foaming, add the other acid, and in a few days it will be ready for use. For chilblains and corns apply it very lightly with a swab, and repeat in a day or two until cured. For warts, once a week, until they disappear.

HOOF-AIL IN SHEEP.—Mix 2 ozs. each of butter of antimony and muriatic acid with 1 oz. of pulverized white vitriol, and apply once or twice a week to the bottom of the foot.

COMMON RHEUMATISM.—Kerosene oil 2 ozs.; neat-foot oil 1 oz.; oil of organum $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. Shake when used, and rub and heat in twice daily.

VERY FINE SOAP, QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY MADE.—Fourteen pounds of bar soap in a half a boiler of hot water; cut up fine; add three pounds of sal-soda made fine; one ounce of pulverized rosin; stir it often till all is dissolved; just as you take it off the fire, put in two table-spoonfuls of spirits of turpentine and one of ammonia; pour it in a barrel, and fill up with cold soft water; let it stand three or four days before using. It is an excellent soap for washing clothes, extracting the dirt readily, and not fading colored articles.

WATER PROOF FOR LEATHER.—Take linseed oil 1 pint, yellow wax and white turpentine each 2 ozs. Burgundy pitch 1 oz., melt and color with lampblack.

TO KEEP CIDER SWEET.—Put into each barrel, immediately after making, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. ground mustard, 2 oz. salt and 3 oz. pulverized chalk. Stir them in a little cider, pour them into the barrel, and shake up well.

AGUE CURE.—Procure $1\frac{1}{2}$ table-spoons of fresh mandrake root juice, (by pounding) and mix with the same quantity of molasses, and take in three equal doses, 2 hours a part, the whole to be taken 1 hour before the chill comes on. Take a swallow of some good oysters before meals, for a couple of weeks after the chills are broken, and the cure will be permanent.

CURE FOR SALT RHEUM OR SCURVY.—Take of the pokeweed, any time in summer; pound it; press out the juice; strain it into a pewter dish; set it in the sun till it becomes a salve—then put it into an earthen mug; add to it fresh water and bees' wax sufficient to make an ointment of common consistency; simmer the whole over a fire till thoroughly mixed. When cold, rub the part affected. The patient will almost immediately experience its good effects, and the most obstinate cases will be cured in three or four months. Tested.—The juice of the ripe berries may be prepared in the same way.

SUPERIOR PAINT—FOR BRICK HOUSES.—To lime whitewash, add for a fastener, sulphate of zinc, and shade with any color you choose, as yellow ochre, Venetian red, etc. It outlasts oil paint.

FELONS.—Stir 1 oz. of Venice turpentine with $\frac{1}{2}$ tea-spoonful of water, till it looks like candied honey, and apply by spreading upon cloth and wrapping around the finger. If not too long delayed will cure in 6 hours.

A poke root poultice is also said to be a sure remedy.

WATER PROOF BLACKING AND HARNESS POLISH.—Take two and a half ounces gum shellac and half a pint of alcohol, and set in a warm place until dissolved; then add two and a half ounces Venice turpentine to neutralize the alcohol; add a tablespoonful of lampblack. Apply with a fine sponge. It will give a good polish over oil or grease.

MOSQUITOS.—To get rid of these tormentors, take a few hot coals on a shovel, or a chafing dish, and burn upon them some brown sugar in your bed-rooms and parlors, and you effectually banish or destroy every mosquito for the night.

CHEAP OUTSIDE PAINT.—Take two parts (in bulk) of water lime ground fine, one part (in bulk) of white lead ground in oil. Mix them thoroughly, by adding best boiled linseed oil, enough to prepare it to pass through a paint mill, after which temper with oil till it can be applied with a common paint brush. Make any color to suit. It will last three times as long as lead paint, and cost not one-fourth as much. It is SUPERIOR.

CURE FOR A COUGH.—A strong decoction of the leaves of the pine, sweetened with loaf sugar. Take a wine-glass warm on going to bed, and half an hour before eating, three times a day. The above is sold as a cough syrup, and is doing wonderful cures, and it is sold at a great profit to the manufacturers.

How to Judge a Horse.

A correspondent, contrary to old maxims, undertakes to judge the character of a horse by outward appearances, and offers the following suggestions, the result of his close observation and long experience:

If the color be light sorrel, or chestnut, his feet, legs and face white, these are marks of kindness. If he is broad and full between the eyes, he may be depended on as a horse of good sense, and capable of being trained to anything.

As respects such horses, the more kindly you treat them the better you will be treated in return. Nor will a horse of this description stand a whip, if well fed.

If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be so far gentle as not to scare; but he will have too much go-ahead in him to be safe with everybody.

If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dish-ed, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not an adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe.

If you want one that will never give out, never buy a large, overgrown one.

A black horse cannot stand heat, nor a white one cold.

If you want a gentle horse, get one with more or less white about the head; the more the better. Many persons suppose the parti-colored horses belonging to the circuses, shows, &c., are selected for their oddity. But the selections thus made are on account of their great docility and gentleness.

Measurement of Hay in the Mow or Stack.—It is often desirable, where conveniences for weighing are not at hand, to purchase and sell hay by measurement. It is evident that no fixed rule will answer in all cases, as it would require more cubic feet at the top of a mow than at the bottom. The general rule adopted by those who have tested it, is $7\frac{1}{2}$ cubic feet of solid Timothy hay, as taken from mow or bottom of stack. The rule may be varied for upper part of mow or stack according to pressure.

EXPLANATION.—Find the Year and observe the Letter above it; then look for the Month, and in a line with it find the Letter of the Year; above the Letter find the Day; and the figures on the left, in the same line, are the days of the same name in the month.

Leap Years have two letters; the first is used till the end of February, the second during the remainder of the year.

ORLEANS COUNTY

THIS COUNTY was formed from Genesee, November 11, 1824, and Shelby was annexed from the same County, April 5, 1825. It lies upon the south shore of Lake Ontario, between Mouroe and Niagara Counties, is centrally distant from Albany 232 miles and contains 405 square miles. The surface is generally level or slightly undulating, and, except in the extreme south part, has a gradual inclination towards the lake. It is divided into three distinct plateaus by the Lake and Mountain Ridges, which extend east and west through the County, nearly parallel to the lake shore. The lower plateau slopes slightly and uniformly upward from the lake shore to the Lake Ridge, a distance of six to eight miles; where it attains an elevation of 150 to 180 feet. The Lake Ridge is a remarkable elevation extending through the counties which border on the lake, and is well defined, except from slight interruptions caused by the passage of streams. Prof. Hall in his Report as State Geologist, says: "It bears all the marks of having been the boundary of a large body of water, and of having been produced in the same manner as the elevated beaches bordering the ocean or our larger lakes. In some places it is strongly defined, descending towards the lake twenty or thirty and even fifty feet, in a moderate slope. Its seaward side is usually covered with coarse gravel, and often with large pebbles resembling the shingle of the sea beaches. The top is generally of coarse sand and gravel, though sometimes of fine sand, as if blown up by the wind, similar to modern beaches, when the coarser materials are thus left as the waves deposit them, while as the finer parts become dry they are carried to a higher elevation. It is sometimes so contracted upon the top as to offer only space for a broad carriage road, and again expands to a width of two or three hundred feet, being scarcely defined on the inland side." From a close examination of this Ridge and its similarity to the shore of large bodies of water there can be no reasonable doubt that it once constituted the shore of Lake Ontario. Fragments of wood, shells, &c., have been found on the Ridge in digging wells and in other excavations. From the earliest settlement of the County a road has extended along the summit of this Ridge.

The second plateau is gently undulating and from four to six miles wide, attaining an altitude of three hundred feet at the base of the Mountain Ridge, which is a continuation of the Mountain Ridge of Niagara County and is formed by the outcropping of the Niagara limestone. This Ridge extends nearly east through the towns of Shelby and Barre, and south and east through Clarendon.

The upper plateau is undulating, and from the Mountain Ridge southerly, rises gradually for two miles, when we arrive at the culminating ridge, which is the highest land in the County, and nearly four hundred and fifty feet above the lake. The surface is quite level for about two miles further south and then descends gradually to the Tonawanda Swamp on the south border of the County. The principal stream is Oak Orchard Creek, which received its name from a grove of oaks which grew upon its banks when first settled, and resembled a magnificent orchard. It takes its rise in Genesee County and flows north-easterly to Lake Ontario. The other streams are Johnson's and Sandy Creeks. The channels of these streams are deeply excavated and upon them are numerous rapids affording water power for mills.

The underlying rock in the north part of the County is the Medina sandstone, while the upper plateau rests upon a base of Niagara limestone. The sandstone appears along the canal from Holley to Medina, and north of the canal it is seen in the banks and beds of the creeks. The upper layers afford an excellent material for building and flagging purposes, and quarries have been opened at Medina, Albion and other places along the canal. In many places this rock is friable and disintegrates on exposure to the air. It separates at first into small angular fragments and then decomposes into a dark red loamy clay. Along the Ridge in Clarendon, and on the banks of Oak Orchard Creek, in Shelby, are outcrops of the Niagara limestone. Hydraulic limestone has been obtained from both these localities, and quick lime is burned at various places along the Ridge.

North of the canal the springs and wells furnish good soft water, but on the limestone range, south of the canal, the water is hard, containing lime. Numerous salt springs are found upon the range of the Medina sandstone from which salt was manufactured previous to the completion of the Erie Canal. One of these springs was in the town of Ridgeway, one and a half miles north of Medina, near Oak Orchard Creek, and another in the town of Kendall, on lot 137. In almost every town north of the canal, salt was formerly manufactured. A boring of 140 feet at Oak Orchard resulted in slightly increasing the strength of the brine but not its quantity. There are three springs at Holley at which salt was made in considerable quantities about the year 1821, and was sold at five dollars a barrel. The completion of the Erie Canal brought these manufactories into competition with the Syracuse salt works and they soon after suspended. There are two sulphur springs at Holley Village the water of which has been used in cutaneous diseases.

Blue, yellow and variegated clays occur in many places and are employed in the manufacture of bricks. There is a small deposit of calcareous marl, about a mile south of Holley, on the west side of Sandy Creek. It is white, in a state of powder and contains an abundance of shells. Calcareous marl also is found two and a half miles north of Medina. Calcareous tufa is formed in large quantities at the falls of Oak Orchard Creek, at Shelby, from the decomposition of the calcareous shales.

Bog iron ore occurs in several places in the County. In Ridgeway, between the Ridge and the west branch of Oak Orchard Creek, there is a large swamp containing an abundance of bog ore from which iron has been manufactured.

The prevailing character of the soil in the north part of the County, north of the Ridge, is sandy and loamy with limited tracts of a clayey nature. Proceeding from Ridgeway to the lake we find a sandy soil extending from the Ridge to within two miles of the lake, then clay predominates, and the soil is a clay loam which produces good crops. In the vicinity of Albion clay predominates in the soil; and upon the limestone range in the towns of Shelby, Barre and Clarendon, the soil is an excellent mixture of clay, sand and lime, and is very productive.

The various branches of agriculture form the leading pursuits of the inhabitants. In addition to the various kinds of grain, apples, grapes and other fruits are raised in large quantities. Large quantities of apples are exported. During one very productive year not long since 280,000 barrels of apples were shipped by canal and railroad at different points in this County. Manufactures are carried on to a limited extent in the County.

The County Seat is located at Albion, in the central part of the County. Previous to the erection of the County buildings at Albion, the courts were held at the house of Selah Bronson, in the village of Gaines. Philetus Swift, of Ontario County, Victory Birdseye, of Onondaga County, and J. Hathaway, of Cortland County, were appointed by the Legislature, Commissioners to locate the County Seat. After visiting Gaines and hearing from the citizens the advantages afforded by that place as the County Seat, the Commissioners proceeded to Albion where they were treated with the greatest respect and hospitality by the citizens. After being dined and wined and taken about the village in a carriage by Nehemiah Ingersoll, and receiving from him the offer of a site for the County buildings upon an eminence the most beautiful in the village, they very naturally came to the conclusion that Albion was the place, and forthwith so decided. The wisdom of that decision the people of Albion have never doubted. Gilbert Howell, of Ridgeway, Elihu Mather, of Gaines, and Calvin Smith, of Barre, were Commissioners appointed to superintend the erection of a Court House. The building is a fine brick structure situated in the midst of a park, on an eminence near the center of the village. It is surmounted by a dome one hundred and ten feet high. It contains rooms for the court, jury, supervisors and surrogate, and cost about $20,000. The Jail is a commodious edifice, of Medina sandstone, situated upon the same lot, a little east of the Court House. The County Clerk's Office is a small one story brick building upon the west side of the Court House. The first officers of the County were Elijah Foot, First Judge; S. M. Moody, Cyrus Harwood, Eldridge Farwell and Wm. Penniman, Judges; Wm. Lewis, Sheriff, and Orson Nicholson, County Clerk. The County Judges since the retirement of Judge Foot have been Alexis Ward, Henry R. Curtis, Gideon Ward, Arad Thomas, Edwin R. Reynolds and John G. Sawyer. The School Commissioners since the organization of the County have been Edwin R. Reynolds, J. O. Willsea, John H. Smith, Oliver Morehouse, Marcus H. Phillips and Abel Stilson.

The County Poor House is located on a farm of 121 acres in the town of Barre, about three miles south of Albion. From the Report of the Superintendent we learn that a school was taught upon the premises about seven months during the past year, with an average attendance of seventeen pupils. Religious services were held nearly every Sabbath and a sermon preached to the paupers.

The total number of paupers admitted to the County House during the last year, including the number present at the date of the last report was.....	270
The average number per week,.....	102
The total number of weeks' board,.....	5,276
The average cost per week to support each pauper, exclusive of Superintendent's salary,	$1.12
The total number of deaths since last report,.....	6
The total amount of expense for the support of the poor of the County during the year,.....	$9,490.39
The value of the farm is.....	9,000.00
Value of personal property,.....	5,985.50

The stock upon the farm consists of one yoke of oxen, one span of horses, nine milch cows, four calves, two heifers, one bull and thirty-five swine.

The products of the farm were as follows :

480 bushels of wheat, valued at.....	$ 960.00
312 bushels of oats, valued at.....	202.80
659 bushels of corn, in ear, valued at.....	329.50
311 bushels of potatoes, valued at.....	233.25
60 bushels of peas, valued at.....	45.00
16 acres growing wheat,.....	240.00
40 tons hay,.....	480.00
Corn fodder,.....	40.00
Straw,	50.00
Other products,.....	662.25

Total,.....$3,242.80

The net profit of the farm was.....$2,157.70

Of the whole number of paupers, 95 are reported as being brought there directly by intemperance; twelve were the wives of intemperate husbands, and ten were children of intemperate parents.

The nationality of the paupers is as follows :

Americans,.....	79
Irish,.....	103
English,.....	28
Dutch,	29
Negroes,.....	15
French, Scotch, Indians and Canadians,.....	16

The main building is of brick, 45 by 55 feet, and two stories high, with a wing 18 by 72 feet, also of brick, and two stories high. The barns and outbuildings are in a good state of repair.

The works of internal improvement in the County are the Erie Canal, extending through the County from east to west, the New York Central Railroad, forming a direct line from Rochester to Suspension Bridge, and the Tonawanda Swamp Feeder, conducting the water of the swamp into Oak Orchard Creek and the canal at Medina.

Four weekly newspapers are now published in the County.

The first paper published was

The Gazette, started at Gaines, in 1822, by Seymour Tracy and John Fisk, and continued about four years. This was followed in 1827 by

The Orleans Whig, published at the same place by John Fisk.

The Newport Patriot was started at Newport, (now Albion,) February 1st, 1823, by Franklin Cowdrey, and continued by him until October, 1825, when the press and paper were purchased by T. C. Strong, who changed the name to

The Orleans Advocate, under which name he continued its publication until 1828, when in the midst of the excitement caused by the abduction of Morgan, the name was changed to

The Orleans Advocate and Anti-Masonic Telegraph. In July, 1829, John Kempshall purchased the paper and changed its name to

The Orleans Anti-Masonic Telegraph. It was subsequently published under the name of

The Orleans Telegraph and afterward that of

The American Standard, until January, 1831, when it was purchased by T. C. Strong and its name changed to

THE ORLEANS AMERICAN. It was published by Mr. Strong until 1844, when it passed into the hands of J. & J. H. Denio, who continued its publication until 1851. From 1851 to 1853 it was published by Byron C. Beebe, and from 1853 to 1860 by S. A. Andrews and by Reynolds & Andrews, at which time it passed into the hands of H. A. Bruner, its present publisher.

THE ORLEANS REPUBLICAN was started at Albion in 1828, by Cephas S. McConnell, and was continued by him until 1841. It was subsequently published for a few months by H. W. Dupuy, and by an association until 1845, when it passed into the hands of H. E. Purdy, who continued to issue it until 1846. It then passed into the hands of Mr. McConnell, in whose hands it remained until 1848, when it was sold to Willsea & Beach, who continued its publication until 1868, when it passed into the hands of Randolph & Beach, its present publishers.

The Orleans Democrat was started in 1848 by C. S. McConnell, who continued to issue it until 1852, when it was merged in the Orleans Republican.

The Albion Times was established in October, 1853, by J. O. Nickerson. In January, 1855, it was changed to

The Spirit of Seventy-six, and continued until May 27, 1858.

The Albion Herald was started at Albion, in 1859 or 1860, by J. M. Alvord; D. W. Ray, editor. It continued about a year when it was consolidated with the Orleans American.

The Medina Herald was started in 1832, and continued two or three years.

The Medina Sentinel was started in August, 1837, by J. & J. H. Denio. The next year it was changed to The Orleans Sentinel and continued until May, 1842.

The Bucktail was started in 1840 by S. M. Burroughs. It was subsequently changed to

The Medina Democrat and continued two or three years.

The Medina Citizen was started in 1850 by H. A. Smith. In 1852 it was changed to

THE MEDINA TRIBUNE, and its publication continued by Mr. Smith until it passed into the hands of S. E. Clark, its present publisher.

The People's Journal was published at Medina a short time in 1858, by I. W. Swan.

THE HOLLEY BULLETIN was started November 12, 1868, by L. A. Densmore, publisher and proprietor; Jay Densmore, editor.

*THE ORLEANS AMERICAN was established at Newport, now Albion, with the title of The Newport Patriot, by Franklin Cowdrey, Feb. 9th, 1824. In February, 1825, Timothy C. Strong became proprietor and changed it to The Orleans Advocate. In February, 1828, when the Morgan abduction excitement was at its height, Mr. Strong changed the name to The Orleans Advocate and Anti-Masonic Telegraph; and in February, 1829, it took the name of The Orleans Anti-Masonic Telegraph. In June of the same year it was changed to The Orleans Telegraph, and soon after to The American Standard. It was published two years by J. Kempshall, when it passed back into the hands of Mr. Strong, who changed it to The Orleans American. In April, 1844, it was purchased by J. & J. H. Denio, who conducted it until 1853, when they sold it to S. A. Andrews, who continued proprietor, with several different partners, till January, 1861, when it was purchased by D. S. Bruner, who, in connection with his brother, H. A. Bruner, conducted the paper, under the firm name of Bruner Brothers, from the time of the purchase from Andrews till July 1st, 1868, when the interest of D. S. Bruner was purchased by his partner, who continues its publication as sole proprietor. On the 19th of December, 1868, the establishment was entirely destroyed by fire; not an article in the office was saved except the account books in the safe. The proprietor has caused to be fitted up a fine suit of rooms in good style, and supplied them with the best and most modern presses for newspaper, book and general job work, with a full assortment of the latest styles of type and other fixtures to correspond. The American office is now one of the most complete and valuable country printing establishments in this or any other locality.

*THE ORLEANS REPUBLICAN was established in the year 1828, by Cephas S. McConnell, and published by him until 1841. It then passed through several hands, returning again to Mr. McConnell, by whom it was transferred to Mr. J. O. Willsea in the year 1848. Soon after this transfer Mr. McConnell established

*The sketch of this paper was received after the preceding sketch of the same was printed.

The Orleans Democrat. In August, 1851, C. G. Beach became associated with Mr. Willsea as joint proprietor and editor, and in November, 1852, this firm purchased the establishment of the Orleans Democrat, merging that paper in the Republican. In May, 1858, The Spirit of '76 was also purchased by the proprietors of the Republican and its business transferred to this office. A time after Messrs. C. G. Beach & Co. became the sole proprietors, Mr. Willsea retiring. In May, 1868, Mr. B. H. Randolph became connected with the establishment and is now editor and manager of The Republican. During the forty-one years of its existence, The Republican has shared largely in the confidence of the people of the County.

Long before the advent of the whites this County was the hunting ground and probably the residence of the Iroquois. There are some indications that the French missionaries visited this territory soon after their advent along the southern shores of Lake Ontario and the Niagara River. There are traces also of its occupation long anterior to this by a different race and one much farther advanced in the arts of civilized life than the Indians. Mounds of earth are found in various parts of the County containing skeletons and implements of war and husbandry. About one and a half miles west of Shelby Center there were the remains of an ancient fort when the County was first settled. A broad ditch inclosed, in nearly a circular form, about three acres of land. The ditch was well defined and several feet deep. Adjoining the spot on the south was a swamp about one mile in width by two in length, probably impassable at the time this work was constructed. On the side next to the swamp there appeared to have been a passage-way, the only breach in the embankment. Within and near the fort were piles of stones of convenient size to be thrown with the hand, and arrow heads of flint in great numbers, stone axes and other implements. Trees of several hundred years growth stood upon the embankment, and underneath them were found earthen ware, pieces of plates or dishes, bearing marks of skill in their manufacture, and presenting ornaments in relief of various patterns. Human bones and some skeletons almost entire and of very large size were exhumed. Half a mile west of the fort is a sand hill, in which were found a large number of human skeletons, many of them appearing to have been buried in the same grave, leading some to suppose that a great battle was fought upon this spot.

The tier of towns upon the east border of the County belonged to the Connecticut Tract and Pulteney Estate, the remaining part to the Holland Purchase. The original charter of Massachusetts embraced an indefinite amount of territory included between certain degrees of latitude and extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, or the "South Sea," as it was called in the original charter.

The most intelligent at that day had very little knowledge of the geography of the country, and the charter of New York embraced a large tract of the same territory. This subsequently gave rise to a conflict of claims, the State of Massachusetts claiming a large part of the present territory of New York. It appears that the State of Massachusetts relinquished her claim to that part of New York which was settled previous to the Revolution, but after the close of the war her claim to western New York was revived but firmly resisted by New York, each State pleading its charter and considering its own claim valid in law and equity. The controversy was of great importance but was finally settled by Commissioners appointed by the respective States, who met at Hartford, in Connecticut, on the 16th of December, 1786, and came to an amicable agreement. The sovereignty and right of jurisdiction to the whole territory in controversy was confirmed to the State of New York, while the right of pre-emption to the soil was conceded to Massachusetts, of all the land in the State of New York lying west of a meridian passing through a point eighty-two miles west of the north-east corner of Pennsylvania, except a tract of one mile in width lying the whole length of Niagara River. This settled the controversy so far as the States were concerned, but the whole of this vast territory was occupied as a hunting ground by the Six Nations of Indians. By treaties made at different times and for various considerations the Indians released their rights as the original owners of the soil except to certain reservations named in the treaties. This territory west of the pre-emption line above named was purchased by Oliver Phelps and Nathaniel Gorham, of Massachusetts, for 300,000 pounds in Massachusetts currency, payable in the consolidated securities of that State, which securities were at that time at a discount of more than fifty per cent. The purchase money was to be paid in three installments. In consequence of a rise in the price of the securities in which the purchase money was to be paid, Messrs. Phelps and Gorham relinquished to Massachusetts a large part of their purchase, retaining what was subsequently called the "Phelps and Gorham Purchase." The western boundary of this tract commenced at the Pennsylvania line and ran north along the meridian, passing through the point at the junction of Canascraga Creek and Genesee River, thence along the Genesee River to a point two miles north of Canawagus Village, thence due west twelve miles, thence north-easterly to Lake Ontario, on a line twelve miles distant from the most westerly bend of the Genesee River. After selling about one-third of this tract to settlers and speculators, the remainder was sold to Robert Morris, of Philadelphia, the great financier of the American Revolution.

On the 12th day of March, 1791, the State of Massachusetts, by a committee of the Legislature, executed a contract of sale in the form of an indenture, with Samuel Ogden, by which they agreed, upon certain conditions, to convey to him or his assigns all the interest of the State in all lands west of the Phelps and Gorham Purchase, except one equal undivided sixtieth part of the same. On the 11th day of May of the same year, this committee conveyed to Robert Morris, the assignee of Ogden, a tract of land bounded on the east by the Phelps and Gorham Purchase and on the west by a meridian passing through a point on the north line of Pennsylvania, twelve miles west of the south-west corner of the Phelps and Gorham Purchase, and extending to Lake Ontario. Mr. Morris subsequently sold one hundred thousand acres of this tract to the State of Connecticut and the Pulteney Estate. The three eastern towns of this County were included in this tract. On the same day Robert Morris received four separate deeds from the same committee, conveying the remaining part of the lands in Western New York, the State of Massachusetts reserving one equal and undivided sixtieth part of the same, which was subsequently conveyed to Morris. This tract was subsequently conveyed to a company in Holland and has since been known as the Holland Purchase. It was surveyed into ranges six miles in width and numbered from east to west, and these ranges divided into townships numbered from south to north. A Land Office was established at Batavia and land was conveyed by Article, an instrument granting possession and greatly facilitating the transfer of land from one settler to another. When paid for, the purchaser received a deed in fee.

The first settlers of the County were James and William Walsworth, from Canada, who came by the way of the lake and settled at the mouth of Johnson's and Oak Orchard Creeks, in 1803. A few settlers came in each year and settled along the Ridge Road and adjacent thereto, the number increasing quite rapidly until the war of 1812, when immigration was checked. The land was covered with a heavy growth of timber requiring a great amount of labor to clear it, and there was but little market for the products of the soil. For several years after the settlement commenced in the County the only articles exported were black salts, made from the ashes of the timber removed in clearing the land. These were exchanged for merchandise and contributed greatly to the comfort of the settlers. Previous to the opening of roads to Rochester and Canandaigua, the only outlet to market was by Lake Ontario to Oswego and Canada. Supplies of merchandise for the inhabitants came from the east to the mouth of Oak Orchard Creek, thence by the Oak Orchard Road to their place of destination. Goods were very dear and the inhabitants generally poor, and a very small amount was sufficient to supply all demands. Most of the early settlers were from New England and the eastern part of New York, many of whom came with ox teams, and after spending weeks in the journey, arrived at their place of destination with no shelter until one was erected by their own hands. The Oak Orchard Road was originally an Indian trail which they were accustomed to travel in their visits from the south to the lake, where they annually resorted to catch fish, which in the spring came up the creek from the lake. The mounds of earth, containing bones and Indian implements, found upon the banks of the creek, indicate that this was a favorite burying ground for the natives. This trail passed over the driest portions of the land, having little regard to direct lines or the distance to be traveled. The early settlers improved this road by cutting out the trees and constructing sluices and causeways where the land was too wet for carriages without these improvements. For some distance through the north part of Main Street, in the village of Albion, a causeway of logs was laid at an early day, extending to the north line of the corporation. In 1803, or about that time, the Holland Company caused a survey of the Oak Orchard Road. By that survey it was laid due south from the Five Corners, in Gaines, to the forks of the road south of Barre Center, straightening so far the Indian trail. It was not opened precisely as laid out but bears north, five and a half degrees east, through the village of Albion. Settlements were commenced along this road at an early day, it being the only road over which teams could pass from Batavia to the lake, the two points between which communication was most important. From this and the Ridge Road settlers penetrated to all parts of the County, and the population was rapidly increasing, when the capture of Fort Niagara by the British so alarmed the citizens that many of them fled from their homes, but soon returned. After the return of peace the tide of immigration again set in and continued to flow steadily for several years. Settlements increased rapidly along the Ridge Road until the completion of the Erie Canal, when the region further south began to be rapidly filled up. Since that time steady progress has been made in every element of material prosperity, until the County occupies a front rank among the best agricultural regions of the State.

At an early period Mr. Ellicott, the agent of the Holland Company, conceived the idea of laying out a town at the mouth of Oak Orchard Creek. In a letter to Paul Busti, he says: "You will permit me to mention to you the propriety of opening a township or two for sale on the Lake Ontario shore, as no doubt people will be moving into this purchase by water, and unless we have some establishment on the Lake, and a road effected from the district to said establishment, such persons will be put to considerable inconvenience. I would therefore propose, as there is a good harbor for boats in township No. 16, 2d Range, that the said township should be opened for sale. Indeed an establishment on the Lake cannot, in my opinion, be begun at too early a period, as the farmers in the Purchase will require a place to convey their potash to deposit on the Lake, in order to be sent to Montreal or New York, as may be most likely to produce a market, and also for a place to receive their salt, and without such an establishment many will have to go considerably farther, as well as carry their money into other settlements in which we are not interested."

In 1803 a village called Manilla was platted at the mouth of the Oak Orchard Creek. It was supposed that the trade from a large portion of the Purchase would find its channel through the Lake, and as there was a tolerable harbor at this point, Manilla was destined to be the commercial emporium of a large extent of country. It was with a view to this that the Oak Orchard Road, from Batavia, north, to this place, was opened at so early a day. Any vessels that were upon the Lake at that time could enter the harbor without difficulty. The harbor has been gradually filling up, rendering it less valuable until the recent improvements, and those already projected seem destined to make it more available for commercial purposes.

It has already been stated that black salts formed an important article of export during the early years of the settlement. Every kettle that could be made available was brought into use, and sometimes several would club together and purchase a caldron kettle for the purpose. It is related of Hon. Ephraim Hart, of Utica, that he transported one hundred potash kettles from that place to Batavia, and sold them to the settlers chiefly on credit, that they might have the means of converting their ashes into a marketable commodity. Soon after the war, Van Rensselaer Hawkins, James Mathers and Messrs. E. & D. Nichols, commenced the manufacture of pot and pearl ash at Gaines. This afforded a ready market for black salts and was about the only means afforded for obtaining money with which to purchase the few necessities of life not raised upon the soil. The sugar maple afforded a supply of sweetening, but many articles, now considered indispensable, could not as readily be procured.

Lumber became an article of commerce in 1816 or 1817, and soon extended along the Lake to Niagara River. Staves were exported at first and subsequently ship timber, until the fine groves of oak between the Ridge and the Lake disappeared. Most of it was sent to Montreal.

The first mail was carried through on the Ridge Road, by James Brown, on horseback. In 1816 there was a daily stage line, and this mode of conveyance continued to increase until the completion of the canal; sometimes as many as eight or ten loaded coaches passing in a day.

Bilious fever, and ague and fever prevailed extensively for seven ral years, but as the forests were removed, the stagnant water and the decaying vegetable matter gradually disappeared, until no healthier region can be found in the State than Orleans County.

The Erie Canal was commenced July 4, 1817, at Rome. The middle section was completed in 1819. In 1821 it was so far completed that boats passed from the east side of Genesee River to Little Falls, and on the 8th of October, 1823, it was navigable to the Hudson River. Nothing was done west of the Genesee River, except to execute the preliminary surveys, until 1821, when the route was decided upon, and the work immediately put under contract and prosecuted with great vigor. The entire work was so far completed as to admit of the passage of boats on the 26th day of October, 1825. Great preparations had been made for a grand jubilee at the opening of the Canal. A fleet of boats upon which were Governor Clinton, with other State officers, and delegations from the cities and villages along the line, entered the Canal at Buffalo, under a salute from the Military. Cannon were placed at intervals along the line and discharged in succession as the signal from the west announced the departure of the fleet from Buffalo, and in this way the information was telegraphed to the Metropolis. All along the line the greatest demonstrations of joy were manifest. The grand pageant ended by the sailing down the Bay of New York of an immense fleet and there, accompanied by appropriate ceremonies, a keg of water carried from Lake Erie was poured into the ocean. The keg was then filled with sea-water and returned to Buffalo, where it was poured into the lake, thus uniting the inland seas with the great ocean.

When the news of the capture of Fort Niagara reached Orleans County, Captain McCarty, of Gaines, rallied a company which had been previously organized, and started for the frontier. As they approached Mulyneux's Tavern, in Cambria, in the night, they saw a light, and making a reconnoissance discovered several Indians and soldiers asleep with their guns stacked in one corner of the room. The house was surrounded and Captain McCarty with a few men rushed in and succeeded in getting between the soldiers and their guns. A few of the Indians in attempting to reach their guns were killed; one soldier was also killed; the others surrendered. They encamped at Hardscrabble, and while there captured a squad of marauding British as they were proceeding to Youngstown with their booty. The British were compelled to carry back their plunder and were afterwards sent as prisoners to Batavia. McCarty and his company remained in the service fifteen or twenty days, and were then discharged, their places being supplied by others. Captain McCarty died soon after.

The Orleans County Agricultural Society was organized in 1856. Fairs have been held annually since that time, and the results have been generally satisfactory. A good degree of interest has been manifest among the farmers, and a generous rivalry, that has tended to improve the farms and lead to a great improvement in the character of the stock of the County. The Fair Ground of the Society, embracing 17 acres, is located in the west part of the village of Albion, is well fenced and contains several buildings erected for various purposes and a good trotting course of half a mile in extent. The officers of the Society are John N. Proctor, President; Benj. F. Baldwin, 1st Vice President; Howard Abel, Treasurer; Henry Curtis, Secretary.

The war that so recently raged in our country, carrying sorrow and sadness to so many hearts and homes, but resulting so gloriously for Liberty and Humanity, was nobly sustained by the loyal citizens of Orleans County. The Census Report of 1865 is too unreliable upon which to base an estimate of the number of men volunteering to serve in the army during the war, and other statistics are not at hand by which we can do justice to the patriotism of the County. It must therefore suffice to say that Orleans sustained an honorable position among the counties of the State, both as regarded men and means for sustaining the Government when its life was threatened by the reckless cohorts of treason and slavery. Though the great mass of the people were engaged in the peaceable pursuits of agriculture, the furthest possible from the camp and the battle-field, yet when the intelligence was flashed across the continent that Fort Sumter had been attacked and its gallant defenders compelled to surrender to the overwhelming hosts of the Rebels, every loyal heart beat with indignation, and resolved that the stain should be wiped out, though at the cost of his own blood. How promptly they responded to the repeated calls for men to go to the field, is known to the citizens, and how many cheerfully gave their lives in defense of the principles for which our fathers fought, cannot now be told, but their memory will be as incense arising morning and evening, reminding us of the blessings preserved and perpetuated to us and our posterity to the remotest period of time. Let us ever remember for what they fought and shed their blood, and let us remember too that it is for us to see that these blessings be not lost by any neglect to preserve by the ballot what was so gloriously transmitted to us by the bullet, but may Union and Liberty go hand in hand until the Heavens and the Earth shall pass away and the elements shall melt with fervent heat.

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

BARRE, named from Barre, Mass., was formed from Gaines, March 6, 1818. It is the central town upon the south border of the County, and embraces the original Townships 14 of Ranges 1 and 2, and parts of Townships 15 of the same Ranges, being the largest town in the County. Its surface is undulating and its soil a rich loam underlaid by the Niagara limestone. The Tonawanda Swamp occupies a narrow strip along the south part.

Albion, (p. v.) originally called Newport, is the County Seat and was incorporated April 21, 1828. It is situated on the Erie Canal, is the principal station on the New York Central Railroad between Rochester and Lockport, and about midway between these places. It contains six churches, viz., Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Free Methodist and Roman Catholic; the County buildings, Phipps Union Female Seminary, Albion Academy, two newspaper offices, two banks, several manufactories and about 5,000 inhabitants. The village is regularly laid out and the streets are ornamented with beautiful rows of shade trees. There are several large business blocks and many beautiful private residences in various parts of the village. Considering the beauty of the surrounding scenery, the facilities for communication with all parts, its literary institutions and the healthfulness of the location, it is one of the most desirable places for residence in Western New York. The village is lighted with gas.

Phipps Union Female Seminary, incorporated by the Regents, February 11, 1840, is located upon a beautiful site commanding a view of the village and the surrounding country. The main building is of brick, forty by sixty feet, and four stories high, including the basement. A large wing, two stories high, has been added since the erection of the main building. The grounds are ornamented with beautiful shade trees and the whole presents one of the most attractive objects in the village. The Catalogue of 1868 reports 175 students during the year. The value of the site and buildings is about $10,000 and the other property about $4,000. Valuable additions have been made during the year to the apparatus and library of the Institution, to which all students have access free of charge. The germ of this Institution was a private school, established in 1833, by Miss Caroline Phipps. So great was her success that at the close of the first year she found her school had increased beyond the capacity of her house. Calling together a few of the most public spirited of the citizens, she laid before them a plan for founding a permanent Female Seminary that should supply the wants of her school and afford a place to educate their daughters and at the same time add largely to the prosperity of the village. She proposed that the citizens should loan to her the funds necessary to erect a suitable building; that she would erect the building and give her mortgage upon it, conditioned to repay the loan in a series of years as she could make the money from the school. Some expressed a preference for an academy for boys, and Miss Phipps suggested that her mortgage could be sold and the proceeds used to erect an academy for the education of boys, and thus the educational wants of both sexes would be supplied with schools of a high order. For a time action was delayed, but the ability and energy displayed by Miss Phipps in conducting her school and business affairs, convinced the citizens that she would prove equal to the responsibility which she proposed to assume, and during the summer of 1836 they raised by subscription nearly the sum which she at first required and placed it in her hands. With this sum, in addition to $3,000 of private credit, she erected the main building of the Seminary. It has from the first been a boarding and day school for young ladies. The course of instruction embraces all the useful and ornamental branches of an education usually taught in the best Female Seminaries of the country. It is now under the management of Rev. G. A. Starkweather.

Albion Academy, incorporated by the Legislature, May 1, 1837, and by the Regents, Feb. 27, 1841, is located on a lot of three acres in the west part of the village. The value of the buildings, apparatus, library, &c., is reported to be $9,675. The whole number of pupils in attendance during the past year was 368; the average attendance, 221. The building is of brick, forty feet by sixty, and four stories high, including the basement. It is surmounted by a cupola furnished with a bell. The funds for the erection of the building were raised by the sale of the mortgage given by Miss Phipps, for money loaned by the citizens of Albion to build the Female Seminary. Edwin R. Reynolds, A. M., now a prominent lawyer of Albion, was the first Principal. Oliver Morehouse, A. M., is the present Principal.

Mount Albion Cemetery, though not within the bounds of the corporation, may properly be described in this connection, as it belongs to the village. It is situated about two miles east of the Court House, on the south side of the highway leading to Holley. The land, embracing twenty-five acres, was purchased in 1843, for $1,000, and laid out in paths, avenues and lots, by Marvin Porter. From the highest eminence a fine view of the surrounding country and of Lake Ontario is obtained. The soil is sand and gravel, and always dry and easy to dig, and yet retains its place, no difficulty from caving ever being experienced. A public dedication of the Cemetery took place under the direction of the Trustees, September 7, 1843, when an address was delivered by Daniel R. Cady, Esq. In 1862, by act of the Legislature, the Trustees were authorized to appoint three Commissioners whose duty it should be to take charge of the Cemetery. One Commissioner is chosen each year, for the term of three years. The grounds are laid out so as to conform to the natural beauty and variety of surface; many trees and shrubs have been planted, and it bids fair to equal any rural cemetery in Western New York. Though originally designed for the village only, many from other towns have been attracted thither, and so great is the demand for lots that the Commissioners already have it in contemplation to enlarge the grounds so that all who wish to secure lots for the burial of their friends may be accommodated. The grounds are kept in a neat and becoming manner and surrounded by a good fence.

The manufacturing of Albion is limited to a flouring mill, a saw mill, a foundry and manufactory of agricultural implements, and the usual mechanic shops.

Hon. Noah Davis, Jr., late Judge of the Supreme Court, and now a member of Congress, is a resident of Albion. Governor Bullock, of Georgia, and G. M. Pullman, of sleeping car notoriety, are natives of Albion.

Barre Center, (p. v.) in the central part of the town, contains a church, a hotel, several mechanic shops and about twenty houses.

South Barre, (p. v.) in the south-east part, contains a church, several mechanic shops of various kinds and about twenty houses.

West Barre, (p. o.) in the south-west part, contains a church, several mechanic shops and about a dozen houses.

The first settlement in the town was commenced by William McAllister in 1811. He located on the site of the Phipps Union Female Seminary and erected a log house, the first in the village and in the town also. Mrs. McAllister died soon after, and was at the time the only white woman in the town. There was no female present at her funeral and no person present to conduct religious services. Her coffin was made of planks, split and hewn from trees, and pinned together for want of nails. Mr. McAllister took an Article from the Holland Land Company for several hundred acres of land, including all of the village east of Main Street. He subsequently sold the whole to William Bradner, who settled here and cleared his land along Main Street from where the Canal now is to Chamberlain Street. William Bradner sold one hundred acres of the south part of his purchase to his brother Joel, who cleared off all adjacent to Main Street, south, and erected a log house on land now owned by Hon. Sanford E. Church, south of the Railroad. Mr. Bradner afterwards sold one hundred acres, including the whole front on the east side of Main Street, from a little below Madison Street, north, to the town line, to Nehemiah Ingersoll and others. Mr. Ingersoll soon bought out his partners, and in 1821 employed Mr. Orange Ridsen to survey and draw a plan of village lots and streets on the east side of Main Street, from where the Canal now is, south, including Madison Street, and east, including Market Street. This plan was generally observed in the early sales of lots by Mr. Ingersoll.

In 1815 Jesse Bumpus took from the Holland Land Company an Article for the land lying on the west side of Main Street, from the town line on the north, nearly to State Street, and extending far enough west to include 163 acres of land. The whole tract was an unbroken forest, but Mr. Bumpus erected a log house, moved into it with his family and cleared the whole front of his land on Main Street. The first framed dwelling was erected by Jesse Bumpus and his son Philetus, on the lot where Mr. L. Burrows now resides. Mr. Philetus Bumpus still resides in Albion and is the oldest inhabitant of the place.

Elijah Darrow took an Article for one hundred acres, lying upon the south bounds of the village, on the west side of Main Street, but sold to Frederick Holsenburgh, who erected a log house and commenced clearing land previous to the Bumpus purchase. John Holsenburgh took up land from the Holland Company, on Main Street, between the Bumpus purchase and that of Darrow, and subsequently sold to Goodrich & Standart.

The nearest grist mill was at Irondequoit, in Monroe County, and thither the first settlers went for their milling.

To show how abundant the wild animals were at this time the following incident is given:

"Mr. F. Holsenburgh at one time caught a cub near the present site of the Railroad depot, and carried it alive to his log cabin. The next night the old bear tracked its young one to the cabin and commenced scratching and gnawing at the door to get at the cub. Holsenburgh having no gun or means to kill the bear was obliged to release the cub before he could get rid of his dangerous assailant."

The first tavern erected in the village was by — Churchill, on the site occupied by the Orleans House Block.

Among the first merchants of Albion were Goodrich & Standart, John Tucker, O. H. Gardner, R. S. & L. Burrows. Roswell Burrows, the father of Messrs. R. S. & L. Burrows, purchased the principal part of the Bumpus tract. His sons came from Connecticut, as merchants, and after the death of their father succeeded him as owners of his real estate in the village, which they laid out into streets and lots. Mr. L. Burrows was for several years a member of Congress from this district.

The first warehouse built in Albion was by Nebemiah Ingersoll, east of Main Street, on the Canal; the next one by Carey & Tilden, on the west side of the same street. William Bradner erected the first saw mill, on Sandy Creek, in the east part of the village, and soon after a grist mill on the same stream. A large stone flouring mill was built by Ward & Clark, on the bank of the Canal, in 1833.

One of the first settlers of Barre outside of the village was Lansing Bailey. In November, 1811, he started on foot from Whites-town, with two others, for the Genesee. They carried their provisions with them, and on the fifth day arrived at Daniel Pratt's, on the Ridge Road, a little west of Gaines Corners. The best lots upon the Ridge and upon the Oak Orchard Road were taken up, but south of the Five Corners, in Gaines, were no settlements. Mr. Bailey and his brother took up 250 acres about a mile west of the present village of Albion, and in a few days started for home by the way of Batavia. He says they purchased but one meal during the trip, and the entire expense was $3.50. This sum was expended for "lodging and a little of the creature to wash down our dry meals." The next February he fitted up an ox-sled, covered with cloth, and with wife and child and two yoke of oxen, started again for the wilds of the Holland Purchase, his brother driving a few head of cattle. In nine days they arrived at Pratt's. He purchased wheat at Riga and had it ground at Churchville. From the Five Corners to his new home there was no track, and the snow was three feet deep, with a crust that would bear a man but not an ox. Among the articles brought with him were a grindstone and a six pail kettle. He proceeded as far as possible, then fell trees across the road to keep his oxen from returning, and for browse, and then returned to Five Corners. The next morning, with a straw bed on his back, he started for his destined place of abode, and on reaching it shoveled away the snow and made a camp of boughs, built a fire and passed a comfortable night, though their feet were covered with snow several inches deep in consequence of their protruding from the cabin. Here Mr. Bailey and his brother remained until April, going to the Ridge Saturday night and returning Monday morning. After building a house twelve by fourteen feet, with split boards for floor and roof, and cutting a road through to Gaines Basin, he removed his wife to her new home. He plauted some apple seeds from which many of the orchards of the County were supplied.— He cleared fifteen acres the first year. When the time for sowing wheat arrived he went without bread three days rather than spend time to go to mill. In the fall he built a good log house without boards, nails or glass. It served as a comfortable dwelling for several years. The town of Ridgeway was formed in 1812, and included nearly the whole County west of the Transit Line. The first town meeting was held in April, 1813. Mr. Bailey was elected Assessor for the east part of the town. At the general election in April, the polls were first opened at Brown's, on Johnson's Creek, and after receiving the votes in that neighborhood, the Inspectors of the Election adjourned to Elliott's, at Barnagat, then to Ridgeway Corners and the next day to Gaines Corners, where the election closed. The whole journey was performed on foot, not a horse being in town. Mrs. Bailey presented her husband with two babies about this time, and a cradle was made of a hollow log of sufficient length for one to lie in each end. No rockers were needed. Mrs. B. died in August, 1813.

Deacon Ebenezer Rogers settled about a mile south of Albion, in 1816. In March of the same year, Stephen, Allen and Samuel Porter, and Joseph Rockwood, came on from Ontario County, with an ox team and five weeks provisions. They established their headquarters at Deacon Rogers', and with their team went through the deep snow to what is now Porter's Corners, five miles distant. They erected a cabin, ten by twelve feet, covered it with split basswood, and made a bed of hemlock boughs covered with blankets. They worked through the week and returned to Deacon Rogers' on Saturday. After cutting five acres they returned to Ontario County, but subsequently settled permanently at Porter's Corners. Enos Rice settled in Barre in 1816.

The first church organized in the town was the Presbyterian, at Albion, in 1824. Rev. William Johnson was the first pastor. The members were J. Phelps, Joseph Hart, Ebenezer Rogers, James Smith, Franklin Cowdrey and their wives, Artemus Thayer, Fay Clark, Lovina Bassett and Betsey Phelps. Ebenezer Rogers and Joseph Hart were the first deacons of the church. Their first house of worship was erected in 1830, their present house in 1846. The society was self-sustaining from its organization, and for many years has been large and prosperous, numbering between 400 and 500 members.

The First Baptist Church was organized in 1830 with twenty.

four members. Their first house of worship was erected in 1830; their present house was dedicated in 1860. It is a substantial brick structure with a clock in the tower. The value of the church property, including the parsonage, is $30,000. Rev. Edward R. Sawyer is the present pastor.

The First M. E. Church was organized in 1830, with ten members.

The Episcopal Church was organized in 1844.

The Roman Catholic Church was organized in 1852. Rev. — Dillon was the first resident priest.

The Free Methodist Church was organized in 1859 or 1860, and their church edifice was erected in the summer of 1860. Rev. L. Stiles was the first pastor.

The population of Barre in 1865 was 6,845, and its area 48,325 acres.

The number of school districts is twenty-five, employing thirty-one teachers. The number of children of school age is 2,118; number attending school, 1,396; average attendance, 725, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending September 30, 1868, was $9,936.54.

CARLTON was formed from Gaines and Ridgeway, April 13, 1822, as Oak Orchard. It received its present name in 1825. It lies upon the lake shore, between Kendall and Yates, and is crossed in a north-east direction by Johnson's and Oak Orchard Creeks. The surface is level and the soil generally is sandy. Salt water was discovered a few years since near West Carlton. Mr. Lyman Fuller, in digging a well, bored through a stratum of rock and obtained salt water of such strength that two gallons yielded a pint of salt. The hole through the rock was plugged up and fresh water came in from above, affording him a well of good water.

Carlton, (p. v.) called also Two Bridges, is situated at the junction of Oak Orchard and Marsh Creeks, and contains a Baptist church, a hotel, a store, two blacksmith and wagon shops, a cooper shop, a shoe shop, a warehouse and about a dozen dwellings.

East Carlton (p. o.) contains a Baptist church, a store and half a dozen houses.

West Carlton, (Kuckville p. o.) on Johnson's Creek, is a hamlet, with a Methodist church and a store.

Waterport, (p. v.) situated at the junction of Oak Orchard and Otter Creeks, in the south-west part of the town, contains a church, a hotel, two stores, two shoe shops, two wagon shops, a grist mill with three or four runs of stones, two saw mills and a mill for the manufacture of lath, shingles, heading, &c., a tannery and about thirty dwellings.

Kenyonville, (p. o.) on Oak Orchard Creek, in the south-west part, contains a store, a grist mill with three runs of stones, a lumber and shingle mill, a school house and a blacksmith shop.

Oak Orchard Harbor is situated on Lake Ontario, at the mouth of Oak Orchard Creek, and contains two hotels, a steam saw and planing mill, a store, a saloon and about a dozen dwellings. The Lake View House occupies a beautiful site and is a resort for pleasure seekers during the summer. An appropriation has been made by Congress for the improvement of the harbor. Piers, 500 feet in length, are to be extended at a distance of 200 feet from each other, and the harbor is to be dredged. After the improvements are completed it is expected that vessels drawing 25 or 30 feet of water will be able to go to Two Bridges. A light house is in contemplation.

Baldwin's Corners and Curtis Corners are hamlets.

The settlement of this town was commenced by James and William Walsworth; the former settled at the mouth of Oak Orchard Creek and the latter on Johnson's Creek. In May, 1803, James Walsworth landed at the mouth of the Creek, in an open boat, with his family. They immediately proceeded to erect a cabin of poles covered with bark. They were very poor and their whole stock of provisions consisted of a few bushels of potatoes. The stream abounded in fish, which, with the few articles they were able to obtain from the crews of bateaux as they passed up and down the lake, constituted their sustenance. Their nearest neighbors on the east were at Braddock's Bay. There was no settlement on the lake nearer than Fort Niagara upon the west, and their nearest neighbor in that direction was at Cold Springs, near Lockport. It is probable that the Walsworths did not remain here long, as some of the early settlers make no mention of them. Elijah Hunt came here in 1803 and located at the mouth of Johnson's Creek.

Matthew Dunham and his sons, Matthew, James and Charles, came from New York City and settled upon Johnson's Creek, near the site of the present village of Kuckville. Mr. Dunham took an Article for lots 5, 7 and 9, Section 9 of Township 16, Range 2, of the Holland Purchase. In the spring of 1804 he moved his family to this place, coming by the lake in a boat. He commenced a clearing and built a mill, which was a novel affair though a slight improvement on the hand mortar. It consisted of a mortar dug from a log, with a block fitted into it, and run by water. Mr. Dunham was a poor man, but his means increased so that in a few years he erected a grist mill, bringing the stones from Niagara, now Newark, Canada. Those who profess to know are not agreed as to the year in which this mill was erected; some say in 1806, others in 1808. This was for a long time the only grist mill in this region. A saw mill and a chair shop were also erected and operated for several years. Mr. Dunham subsequently removed to Newark, Canada, where he remained until the breaking out of the war of 1812, when he was forced to leave his property there or serve in the British army. He returned to Kuckville and took a contract to furnish 300,000 feet of lumber, to be delivered to the United States Government at Fort Niagara. His raft was discovered and burned by the British fleet, near the mouth of Golden Hill Creek. This disaster so embarrassed him that he was compelled to sell his property to pay his debts. He then went to Boston, where he died soon after. During the Revolutionary war he was a Lieutenant of Dragoons, and was present at the battle of Saratoga and other engagements during the great struggle for Independence.

In 1804 Moses Root and Henry Lovell settled near this place. Mr. Root's family consisted of a wife, five sons and one daughter. From the biography of Reuben Root, one of the sons, we learn that they carried their wheat to Lima to mill, a distance of seventy miles, by way of the lake and the Irondequoit; their clothing was made of hemp of their own raising. In 1806 or 1807, Mr. Root brought a cow from Canada, but she was killed by the wolves the next year. He built the first framed barn in Orleans County, bringing the lumber and nails from Canada. Mr. Reuben Root and his father volunteered and went to Fort Erie during the war, and assisted in taking about five hundred prisoners.

In 1814 Reuben Root located in the east part of Yates, where he has since resided. He has been a resident of the County for sixty-five years.

Among the other early settlers were Elijah Brown and Job Shipman, who came in in 1804, and Wm. Carter, Ephraim Waldo, Paul Brown, David Miller, James and Samuel McKinney, Wm. Griffiths and Stephen Hoyt, who came in in 1805-6.

The first apple tree ever raised in this region was planted by Rachael Lovell, a daughter of Henry Lovell, at the mouth of Johnson's Creek. The remnants of that tree are still visible. Miss Lovell afterwards became the wife of Matthew Dunham, Jr. She is still living and resides within half a mile of the spot where, sixty years ago, her parents first landed. The first apple orchard was planted by Elijah Brown, near the Two Bridges. It was set out among the stumps and log heaps, without much regard to regularity, and is now in a tolerably thriving and productive condition. The second orchard was planted by Matthew Dunham, Jr., in 1809, at Kuckville. The orchard is one of the most fruitful in the County at the present time.

In 1811 a company of young men from Stockbridge, Mass., commenced a settlement on Section 5 of this town. The following, copied from the book in which it was originally recorded by their

Secretary, will give a good idea of the terms upon which these young men associated together :

“ We, who have hereunto affixed our respective names, do agree to the following Articles and hold ourselves bound to fulfill each and every one of them, as follows, viz. :

“ Article 1st, We agree that for the purpose of our better accommodation and mutual benefit, do and have resolved ourselves into one respective body or company by and under the appellation of the UNION COMPANY for the express purpose of emigrating to the westernmost part of the State of New York (on the Holland Purchase so-called) there to purchase each one by and for himself unconnected with said Company as much land as he shall think will comport with his individual interest.

“ Article 2d, We agree that we will jointly and severally bear our proportional part of expenses that may accrue for the use of said Body or Company in the outfit or when embodied or joined together, which shall be considered necessary by said Company, being made in a just and lawful manner agreeable to the Rules and Regulations hereafter adopted.

“ Article 3d, We agree that one of said Body or Company shall be appointed Secretary to see that said expedition is forwarded, to give information from time to time what progress has been made or is making, and also to keep a book or memorandum on which shall be carefully recorded whatever has been furnished and by whom, as well the value of said articles and any entry which shall be considered necessary by said Company.

“ Article 4th, We agree that we will individually furnish our respective proportions of such articles as shall be considered necessary by said Company and make a deposit of the same with the Company's Secretary previous to the first day of January next.

“ Article 6th, We agree that we will put our joint strength and force together for at least two years, next after the purchase of our respective lands and labor in company.”

There were several other articles providing that the avails of their labor should be equally divided, and that whatever was taken in hunting or fishing should also be equally divided and the expense should also be shared equally.

“ Article 10th, We agree that we will erect a house and barn on the land belonging to some one of the Company to be jointly conserved in the expense in building the same and also joint owners in said building until said Company shall be dissolved, then to belong to the one on whose land it shall stand.

“ Article 12th, We agree that we will assist each other in an equal proportion in erecting a house and barn, not exceeding the expense of the first house and barn erected."

There were eighteen of the articles, the most important of which are given above. The document was "Dated Saturday 8th, Dec. 1810. Stockbridge, Mass.," and signed by Minoris Day, Fitch Chamberlain, Charles Webster, Anthony Miles, Selah Bardslee, Moses Barnum, Jr., Russell Smith, Giles Slater, Jr. These bachelors commenced a settlement according to their programme, each in turn performing the duties of cook and general housekeeper. A trial in this case, as in many others, suggested an improvement.

"The world was sad; the garden was a wild,
And man, the hermit sighed—till woman smiled."

A consultation was held, the "Union Company" were unanimous in the opinion that another element was essential to the perfect realization of their hopes. As each loved his neighbor as himself, they cast lots to see who should return to their eastern home and invite one of the fair daughters of the old "Bay State" to return to the wilderness, and by her presence cheer the hearts of the enterprising pioneers, the Company bearing the expense of the trip, as in all other enterprises for their mutual benefit. The Jonah upon whom the lot fell, submitted to his fate, and in due time returned to receive from his comrades the "well done good and faithful." The glad tidings were carried throughout the settlement, and their friends and neighbors united in their rejoicings and congratulations. Success attended the Union Company, and most of its members followed the example of their associate, until each had his own separate household and a companion and sharer of his joys and sorrows.

The first death in the town was that of a deserter from Fort Niagara, who was drowned in attempting to cross Johnson's Creek, about 1800. The first death of an actual settler was that of Elijah Brown, May 7, 1805. The first births were those of twins, children of James Walsworth, in 1806; and the first marriage that of William Carter and Amy Hunt, in 1804. The first grist mill was erected by Matthew Dunham, in 1806, on Johnson's Creek.

Zebulon Barnum, a "Jack of all trades," erected a shop about a mile south-west of Kuckville. Here he manufactured wooden plows for the farmers, and carried on the tailoring and blacksmithing business.

George Kuck, a native of London, England, came to this place in 1815, and erected the first framed grist mill, north of the Ridge Road, between Genesee River and Niagara. In 1816 he opened a store in Kuckville, the only one in this region. He soon after began improvements of great importance to the country. He erected a store-house at the mouth of Johnson's Creek, thereby securing a market in the immediate vicinity. He also put in operation a saw mill and an ashery.

A post office was established at West Carlton in 1837, and within a few years the place has received the name of Kuckville, in honor of Rev. George Kuck. In November, 1821, he assisted in forming the first Methodist class in the town, and became its leader. It consisted of ten members, which, with a small class in Yates, constituted the entire membership of the Methodist Church north of the Ridge Road. In 1825 he assisted in forming the first Sunday school, and in 1837 was ordained by Bishop Hedding. He died March 16, 1868.

The first school in the town was taught by Peleg Helms, in the winter of 1810-11. The first religious services in the town were conducted by Rev. Mr. Steele, a Methodist preacher from Canada, sometime previous to 1810.

Elder Simeon Dutcher, of the Baptist denomination, came to Carlton in 1817. He was a native of Dutchess County, but had lived in Madison County for eight years previous to his coming here. For several years after his arrival in Orleans County, he was the only preacher in the region, and attended the funerals and weddings of the settlers of all denominations. A Baptist Church was soon organized and Elder Dutcher preached for them until 1827. He was a Free Mason, and upon the outbreak of the anti-Masonic excitement, after the abduction of Morgan, he was required to renounce Masonry, but declined, and was expelled from the Church, and did not preach afterwards. He was a good man and highly esteemed by all. He died in 1860.

The population of Carlton in 1865 was 2,461, and its area is 25,898 acres.

The number of school districts is eighteen, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 897; the number enrolled in the schools, 756; the average attendance, 382, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending September 30, 1868, $4,600.79.

CLARENDON was formed from Sweden, Monroe County, February 23, 1821. It lies in the south-east corner of the County and is watered by the East Branch of Sandy Creek and its tributaries. This stream rises in the Tonawanda Swamp and flows north through the town. There are two waterfalls upon the stream, one at Clarendon village and the other at the north part of the town, both of which afford valuable water powers for mill sites. The surface along the line of the Mountain Ridge is broken, but in other parts it is level or slightly undulating. The soil is a sandy loam, somewhat stony in the north part. Limestone for building purposes, and hydraulic lime, have been obtained at Clarendon.

Clarendon, (p. v.,) situated on Sandy Creek, a little north-west of the center, contains two churches, a hotel, several stores, two saw mills, a flouring mill, a wagon shop, several other mechanic shops of various kinds and about thirty dwellings.

The first settlement within the limits of this town was made in 1811, at the village of Clarendon, by Eldridge Farwell. The place was for some years known as Farwell's Mills. Benjamin Thomas, Benajah Warden, Elisha Huntly, John Cane, John Stephens, David Church and Chauncey Robinson, were among the other early settlers. Mr. Robinson was born in Durham, Conn., January 5th, 1792. When he was two years old his father removed to Sauquoit, Oneida County, where Chauncey remained until 1813, when he settled in Clarendon, about two miles south of Farwell's Mills. Here he cleared one hundred acres of heavy timbered land and continued to cultivate it until 1851, when he gave up farming and went to Holley. In 1814 Mr. Robinson promptly responded to the call to defend the country against the British aggression, and was in the battle at Fort Erie, September 17, 1814.

Eldridge Farwell erected the first saw mill on Sandy Creek in 1811, and the first grist mill in 1813. The first store was kept by Hiram Frisbee in 1821, and the first school was taught by Mrs. Amanda Bills.

From the Records of the Pioneer Association we learn that Horace Peck came to this town with his parents in 1817. He was born in Farmington, Conn., but had spent several years with his parents in Onondaga County. He taught school during the winter of 1819-20, for ten dollars a month, and continued to teach for ten consecutive winters, working upon a farm in the summer. The young people were fond of parties and Mr. Peck used to take the ladies with an ox team, and enjoyed it quite as well as in after years when a carriage and horses were used for the same purpose.

Mr. Luther C. Peck, an older brother of Horace, taught school in the winter of 1818-19, near Holley village, three months, and received for his services thirty bushels of wheat, delivered after the next harvest. The wheat was sold in Rochester, and, after deducting the expenses, the net proceeds were thirty-one cents per bushel. Mr. Peck has since become a distinguished lawyer in Livingston County.

Israel Cady came to Clarendon in 1815. He was from Vermont, and came on foot, arriving with eleven dollars in his pocket. He located on lot 137, Township 3, where he has cleared one hundred and fifty acres. N. E. Darrow came in the same year, with his widowed mother, who afterwards married Bradstreet Spafford, who settled in 1812.

The population of Clarendon in 1865 was 1,800, and its area 21,162 acres.

The town contains fifteen school districts and parts of districts, in ten of which the school houses are in this town. The number of teachers employed is eleven; the number of children of school age is 594; the number enrolled in the schools, 509; the average attendance, 244, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending September 30, 1868, $4,361.40.

GAINES, named in honor of General E. P. Gaines, was formed from Ridgeway, February 14, 1816. Barre was taken off in 1818 and a part of Carlton in 1822. It is the central town in the County, and is watered by Otter and Marsh Creeks, branches of the Oak Orchard, and by the west branch of Sandy Creek, which flows through the south-east corner. The Lake Ridge extends east and west through the center. The soil is a sandy loam and the surface generally is level.

Eagle Harbor (p. v.) is situated on the Erie Canal, upon the south border of the town, partly in Barre, and contains two churches, a hotel, two grist-mills, several stores and mechanic shops and about 50 houses.

Gaines, (p. v.) situated near the center of the town, contains two churches, a hotel, a tannery, and about 50 houses.

East Gaines (p. v.) contains a F. W. Baptist church and about a dozen houses.

Fair Haven, contains a Universalist church, a hotel, several mechanic shops and about twenty houses.

Gaines Basin is a hamlet on the canal.

The first settlement of Gaines was made previous to 1809, by a Mr. Gilbert, who settled about two miles east of Gaines village. He was subject to fits and was found dead in the road in 1809, or previous to that time. His wife and Amy Scott, a niece, the remaining members of the family, remained through the winter, cutting the browse to keep a yoke of oxen, several cows and young cattle. Mr. Gilbert was buried in Murray, and on the return of the widow and niece from the funeral, their fire had gone out and all means of rekindling it failed. A man accompanied them home and promised to send them fire. David Downs, son of Elijah Downs, the nearest neighbor, carried them fire, a distance of ten miles.

Noah Burgess came from Canada, about 1809; he crossed the Saint Lawrence River below Kingston, and came along the shore of the lake until he arrived at the mouth of Oak Orchard Creek, which he ascended to the head of still water, then proceeded to Gaines, where he located, about half a mile west of the village. He soon sold out to William Bradner and settled about half a mile east of Gaines village, where he remained until his death. Widow Gilbert, with her ox team, removed Mr. Burgess' goods from Stillwater to Gaines. Mr. B. was sick at the time and Mrs. Burgess cut logs for a cabin, and Widow Gilbert drew them, and with the aid of men who came along, probably looking for land, erected a log cabin. Mr. Burgess kept a tavern for several years. Widow Gilbert sold out in 1811 or '12, and removed to Canandaigua.

Samuel Crippen, Elijah Downs, — Elliott and — Sweet came here about the same time. Elliott and Sweet lived in the same house, about three miles east of Gaines village. Crippen located about a mile east of the village, sold to J. Proctor in 1811 or 12. Reuben Rowley, Henry Wilcox, Joseph and Anderson Adams, Cotton and Robert Leach, Newbury Chaffee, Dyer Sprague, Samuel Rozier, William Burlingame and Walter Fairfield, settled in various parts of the town in 1810. Wm. Burlingame settled three miles west of Gaines village, and Walter Fairfield on the Oak Orchard Road, a mile south of the village. Daniel and Macy Pratt located in Gaines in 1810, the former on the Ridge Road, a mile west of the village, the latter, half a mile north of Eagle Harbor. Wilson Bullard, H. Drake, John Proctor and James Mather were early settlers.

The first birth was that of Samuel Crippen, Jr., in 1810, and the first marriage that of Cyrus Daniels and Elizabeth Freeman, July 4, 1812. The first inn was kept by William Sibley in 1811, and the first store by William Perry in 1815, Orin Gleason taught the first school, in the winter of 1813 and '14. The first saw mill was built in 1813 by Henry Drake, and the first grist mill by Jonathan Gates, in 1822. Daniel Pratt was the first Town Clerk.

Walter Fairfield, whose name has already been mentioned as one of the first settlers, came from Pittsford, Vt., and located on lot No. 5, in the Second Range, where his son now resides. He paid $2.50 per acre for his land. From the time of his arrival in 1810 until 1813, he says their provisions were chiefly fish, potatoes and turnips. The expense of going to mill was so great, the grist would not pay expenses.

The first church organized in the town was of the Baptist denomination, in 1816.

Eleazer McCarty settled about two miles west of Gaines village, in 1810. In 1812 he raised a military company, and in December, on learning that the British had burned Lewiston, Youngstown and other places, rallied his men with all possible dispatch and marched to the front. John Proctor was the only man in the neighborhood who had a horse, and William Burlingame went in the night to get him to go to Murray and notify the people of the anticipated British raid. McCarty and his company remained on duty about three weeks and returned to their homes.

The population of Gaines in 1865 was 2,355, and its area 21,149 acres.

There are twelve school districts, employing fourteen teachers. The number of the school population is 781; number enrolled in the schools, 670; the average attendance, 337, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending September 30, 1868, $3,907.58.

KENDALL, named in honor of Amos Kendall, Postmaster General, was taken from Murray, April 7, 1837. It is situated upon the lake shore, in the east part of the County, and is crossed by Bald Eagle Creek, near the center, and Sandy Creek in the south-east part. Near the mouth of Bald Eagle Creek, the lake has encroached upon the land to some extent, and whole fields have been washed away. The surface is level and the soil for the most part is a sandy loam, with a strip of clay across the south part. There are several salt springs in the town.

Kendall, (p. v.,) situated about a mile east of the center of the town, contains four churches, viz., Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Universalist; a school house, three stores, a number of mechanic shops of various kinds and about 200 inhabitants. A Lodge of Good Templars was organized in February, 1868, and is now in a very flourishing condition, numbering about one hundred members.

West Kendall, (p. v.,) situated about a mile west of the center, contains a Methodist church, a wagon shop, a blacksmith shop, a grocery and about fifteen dwellings.

Kendall Mills (p. v.,) is in the south-east part, partly in Union, Monroe County.

East Kendall is a post office near the center of the east border.

The first settlement was commenced in 1812, by Samuel Bates, from Chittenden County, Vermont. Benjamin Morse, Alvin Manly, Amos Randall, David Jones and Nathaniel Brown, located in the town in 1815. Mr. Morse located on lot 122, and still resides upon the same farm, at the age of eighty-two years.

Mr. Manly came from Massachusetts with three others, and, after remaining awhile, returned to his native State. In February, 1818, with his brother, Mr. Twitchell and Nathaniel Brown, with their families, he started with three yoke of oxen and a covered wagon for this new settlement. Their journey over mountains, covered with ice and snow, and across rivers unbridged, was performed in twenty-two days. It is not easy for us at this day, who can travel the same distance in as many hours, in good warm cars, to realize the hardships endured. On their arrival they moved into a little shanty and called it home. Potatoes were $1.00 a bushel, wheat $2.50 and pork twenty-five cents a pound, with no money in circulation.

Felix Auger was from Vermont, and settled on lot 144, and Amos Randall, from the same State, located on lot 123. Rev. Stephen Randall, from Williston, Vt., located on lot 135 in 1816, and conducted the first religious services held in the town. Ansel and George Balcom located on lot 159 in 1816; Reuben Rablee and Osmon Spicer located on lot 119, the former in 1819 and the latter in 1822. Robert, Caleb and James M. Clark formed a settlement in 1816, which was called Clark's Settlement. John H. Thomas settled on lot 107 in 1818, and Alanson Soule, from Greene County, on lot 47, the same year.

The first birth was that of Bartlett B. Morse, in Nov., 1815; the first marriage was that of James Aiken and Esther A. Bates, March 2, 1817; and the first death that of a son of George Balcom, in 1816. The first store was kept by Hiram Thompson in 1823, and the first inn by Lyman Spicer the same year. The first saw mill was built by Ammon Auger and Ebenezer Boyden, in 1819, and the first school was taught by Gerdon Balcom the same year.

David Jones located on lot 145 in 1815. He was from Wales; came to America in 1801 and settled in New Jersey, where he remained until 1808, when he removed to Ontario County. John Farnsworth took up lot 130, in 1815; he was from Franklin County, Vermont. In 1816 Stephen Bliss and James Weed came in; the former settled on lot 129 and the latter on lot 117. Ethan Graham settled on lot 33 in 1817. Zebulon Rice came from Wind-sor County, Vermont, and located on lot 68 in December, 1815.

Robert Clark came with his father, William Clark, in 1817, and located at Clark's Settlement, where three brothers of his father had previously settled. He says:

"When my father arrived there was not a pound of flour or pork in the Settlement except what he brought with him, and the next day the pork, flour and whisky were divided among the neighbors. One reason for the entire destitution among the settlers was the anticipation of my father's arrival, for they all knew that he would bring a temporary supply. The settlers in anticipation of our arrival had peeled elm bark, in the month of June previous, sufficient for the roof of a house, and on our arrival they commenced cutting logs for a house and cleared a spot large enough to set it, and in a few days it was raised and finished in pioneer style."

The floor of this cabin was of split basswood, hewn on one side, as was the custom in those days. It covered about two-thirds the surface, the remainder was for fire-place and hearth. The door was a bed blanket and the light came through the cracks between the logs, thus doing away with the necessity of windows. An open place in the roof let out the smoke, and the fire-place occupied the entire end of the house; the hearth was the earth. Soon after a door was made and temporary windows. The cracks were filled and plastered on the outside with mud. Provisions gave out again and the unripe wheat was hulled and eaten in milk. The gun secured a little venison, which was a luxury in the way of meat. When the wheat was harvested it must be carried to Rochester to mill. The following account is in his own language:

"I started with a team (oxen of course) with a grist of about twelve bushels, which was all the oxen could draw with the necessary fodder and my own provisions. I staid at Murray Four Corners (now Clarkson) the first night, and the next day, a little before night, I arrived in Rochester, chained the oxen to the wagon and fed them for the night. I slept in the mill, upon the bags, until the grist was ground, about daylight. After feeding my team and eating my venison, I started for home, which I reached about sundown the third day out. The next morning I guess all the neighbors had short-cake for breakfast."

This sketch gives an idea of the hardships and privations of the pioneers generally of this region.

The population of Kendall in 1865 was 1,873, and its area 20,306 acres.

The number of school districts in which there are school houses in this town is ten, employing eleven teachers; the number of children of school age is 491; number attending school, 381; average attendance, 171; amount expended for school purposes the last year was $2,585.33.

MURRAY was formed from Northampton, (now Gates, Monroe Co.,) April 8, 1808. Sweden was taken off in 1813; Clarkson in 1819, and Kendall in 1837. It lies upon the east border of the County, between Kendall and Clarendon, and is crossed by Sandy Creek, two branches of which unite in the north part of Murray. The channel of this stream has been worn by the action of the water to the depth of seventy or seventy-five feet, in some places, below the surface of the land. The embankment over which the New York Central R. R. crosses the gulf is one of the largest on the line of the road. The surface of the town is generally level, except in the south-west part, where it is rolling. The soil generally is a sandy loam, but in some places clayey. Two sulphur springs and several salt springs are near Holley; from the latter salt was formerly manufactured, but the works were closed after the opening of the Erie Canal. The Medina sand-stone approaches near the surface, and quarries have been opened near Hulberton, from which valuable building stone has been obtained.

Holley, (p. v.) named in honor of Myron Holley, one of the first canal commissioners, was incorporated September 3, 1850, and is a station on the Canal and Railroad, in the south-east part of the town. It contains three churches, viz., Baptist, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic; a union school, a newspaper office, a bank, a hotel, a foundry, a grist-mill, a stove, barrel and shingle factory, several stores and mechanic shops and a population of about 500.

Hulberton, (p. o.) in the central part of the town, contains one Methodist church, a hotel, a store, two groceries and about thirty dwellings.

Sandy Creek, (Murray p. o.) in the north part, contains a hotel, a store, a grist-mill and about forty inhabitants.

Hindsburgh, (p. v.) in the west part, on the canal, contains a store, a grocery and about twenty dwellings.

Brockville is a hamlet and Murray Depot is a station on the railroad.

The first settlement of this town was commenced in 1809, or previous to that, by Epaphras Mattison. Daniel Wait, Joshua Rockwood and Peleg Sisson were among the other early settlers.

The first birth in the town was that of Betsey Mattison in 1811; the first marriage, that of Zimri Perigo and Leucetta Spafford, January 17, 1815, and the first death, that of Mrs. Daniel Reed, in 1814. Epaphras Mattison kept the first inn, in 1809, and Isaac Leach the first store, in 1815; Perry & Luce built the first grist-mill, in 1816; and Fanny Ferguson taught the first school, in the summer of 1814. Judson Downs came to Murray in 1818. He was an officer of the State Militia and had served as a volunteer in the war of 1812-15. On the breaking out of the Rebellion in 1861, he became thoroughly aroused, and though sixty-four years old, raised a company of Cavalry and took the field. He served in Maryland and in the vicinity of Washington, shunning no dangers, hardships or fatigue. At length his health failed and he was compelled to resign. He died in 1864. Those who knew Major Downs say he was always prompt and ready to do what duty required. When constable he was always intrusted with as much business as he could do, and in every position to which he was called, sustained himself with honor.

Aretas Pierce came to Murray in 1815, and located about two miles north of Farwell's Mills; he was then a boy of sixteen. He says, "We lived for two weeks in a house built for a school house, and during that time built a log house two miles north of Farwell's Mills. Our post-office was at Clarkson, and postage was twenty-five cents." The year 1816 was known as the cold season; they were obliged to go to Palmyra and pay $1.25 per bushel for rye, and $25 per barrel for pork. In June, 1817, Mr. Pierce says his father went to Vermont with a team to move a family to this place. During the father's absence his family got out of provisions and had no means of procuring any. They had cows and a good supply of milk when they could be found. When the wheat had become sufficiently mature it was rubbed out by hand or spread upon a cloth and thrashed out upon the floor, and then boiled and eaten in milk. The sufferings of the early settlers were very great.

Artemas Daggett came in the spring and took up a lot north of Pierce's. John Hallock and Samuel Miller came in the same year. Miller had a wife and two small children and was very poor.—Daggett hired Miller to chop for him for one dollar a day and board himself. All he had to eat most of the time was corn meal and water, but he did not complain or even tell of his destitution.

Ebenezer Fox settled about one and a half miles east of Murray Depot. He had a wife and five children, and for several weeks all they had to eat was what they could pick up in the woods, and the best they could find was the inside bark of the beech tree. Mrs. Fox had a young babe, and her next oldest being in feeble health, she nursed both to keep them from starving. Ashes were the chief resource for money in this as well as in other parts of the County. They were carried to Clarkson and Gaines, where they were sold for three dollars per hundred.

John Hallock settled near where the railroad crosses the highway. He was out in the woods, west of his house, one day, when he discovered an old bear and two cubs. Desiring to capture the young ones he armed himself with a club and "went for them," caught them by the hind legs and started for home. Being suspended so suddenly and unceremoniously, they naturally yelled and made a great ado, which called their mother to the rescue. Hallock continued on his course until he was pursued too closely by the enraged bear, then dropped the cubs and charged upon her with his club. Seeing her cubs released she started off, calling them to follow, and when at a safe distance Hallock again seized the cubs and again ran towards home; this was continued again and again, until he secured his prize. "He was a large, tall and strong man, and when excited, was the worst looking man I ever saw," says my informant. It was said that his looks were what saved him in this encounter.

The population of Murray in 1865 was 2,616, and its area 18,451 acres.

The number of school districts is twelve, employing thirteen teachers. The number of children of school age is 895; number attending school, 647; average attendance 320, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending September 30, 1868, was $4,857.96.

RIDGEWAY, named from the Ridge Road, which passes east and west through it on the Lake Ridge, was formed from Batavia, (Genesee Co.) June 8, 1812. Gaines was taken off in 1816, Shelby in 1818, and Yates and a part of Carlton in 1822. It lies upon the west border of the County, between Yates and Shelby, and is drained by Johnson's and Oak Orchard Creeks and their tributaries. At Medina is a beautiful cascade, about thirty feet high, and at Oak Orchard, where the stream crosses the Lake Ridge, is another fall of less height. There is another fall at Jeddo, where the creek of the same name crosses the Lake Ridge. The surface is generally level and the soil is a sandy loam. Several salt springs are found in this town from which salt was manufactured as early as 1805. The works were erected by the Holland Company, about one and a half miles north of Medina, and two roads were opened about the same time, one south to the Old Buffalo Road and the other east to the Oak Orchard Road, called the Salt Works Road. In and near the village of Medina are extensive quarries from which building and flagging stone are obtained in large quantities and sent to Rochester, Buffalo and other places on the canal. The upper layers cleave off in smooth slabs, from two to five inches thick. The succeeding layers are thicker, some of them, in the lower strata, several feet.

Medina, (p. v.,) situated upon the south border of the town, partly in Shelby, was incorporated March 30, 1832. It is an important station upon the canal and railroad, and contains five churches, viz., Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Roman Catholic; a union school, three hotels, four grist and flouring mills, three foundries and machine shops, three steam stave and heading mills, a sash, blind and planing mill, a linseed oil mill, gas works, a turning shop, a newspaper office and about 3,500 inhabitants. The village is regularly laid out and the streets are shaded by beautiful rows of trees. There are several very fine business blocks, of Medina sandstone, which would be an ornament to any town and are not surpassed in this County.

The first Trustees of the village, elected May 1st, 1832, were Justus Ingersoll, Asahel Woodruff, Nathan Sawyer, James E. Evans and Halsted H. Parker.

The Public School is under the management of a Board of Education, consisting of nine members. The course of study embraces six grades, including the higher mathematics and languages.

Ridgeway Corners (p. v.,) contains a Universalist church, a hotel, a store and about 150 inhabitants.

Jeddo, (p. v.), in the west part of the town, contains a saw mill, a grist mill, two blacksmiths shops, a wagon shop, a cooper shop, a shoe store and about thirty houses.

Oak Orchard (p. o.) is a hamlet and contains one store. There is a Baptist church in the south-west part of the town.

Knowlesville, (p. v.) on the Erie Canal, in the east part of the town, contains three churches, several mills and manufactories, and is a flourishing village. It received its name from William Knowles, the first settler of the village.

The settlement of this town was commenced by Ezra D. Barnes, from DeRuyter, Madison County, in 1809. Israel Douglas, Dyer Sprague, Otis Turner, Dr. William White, David Hooker and S. B. Murdock, were among the early settlers. Mr. Douglas was a native of Connecticut, but removed to Vermont with his father when quite small, and remained there until 1806, when he removed to Monroe Co., and, in 1810, to Ridgeway, at that time forming a part of Batavia. He was the first magistrate appointed within the present limits of Orleans Co., having been appointed previous to 1812; he was also elected Town Clerk at the first election after the formation of Ridgeway, and subsequently held several other offices, discharging their duties in such a manner as to show that he was one of the best business men in the County.

The late Judge Otis Turner was one of the early settlers, and came here in 1811. He came with an ox team from Palmyra, transporting his family and household goods. There were no bridges across the streams, and the passage of the Genesee above the falls was attended with great peril. Taking the near ox by the horns he made the passage in safety, and, proceeding west by the Ridge Road, arrived at Oak Orchard, where he located. Dr. William White became the neighbor of Judge Turner soon after, and in company they erected a saw mill on the creek, between Oak Orchard and Medina. A mill had previously been erected at Medina by the Holland Company. The salt works at Oak Orchard were first worked by Israel Bennett in 1818. He bored about one hundred and fifty feet and obtained water of good strength, and at one time had seventy kettles in use for boiling purposes. The settlers in this region obtained their supply of salt at this place for several years. In 1823 Henry Boardman became proprietor, and after the completion of the canal the works were abandoned.

William C. Tanner and his brother, Josias Tanner, came from Vermont in 1816 with an ox team. The journey was performed in twenty-one days. In 1817 he became a Lieutenant of Militia, and in 1826 received the commission of Brig. General, the first in the County. Elder J. Morse also came in 1816. The sufferings of the early settlers can scarcely be realized at this day. At one time the Elder's cow lost her bell and was gone eight days, his stock of provisions was reduced to a small piece of bread and some maple sugar. He could get no flour and the grain in the field was not ripe. The small amount of bread was divided among the children, and some potato tops were boiled and eaten with vinegar, but the stomach was too weak to digest such food and rejected the whole. The next day he called on a neighbor who divided his scanty allowance of flour with him, and that, made into a pudding and eaten with molasses, was one of the sweetest meals he ever tasted.

Seymour Murdock came to Ridgeway in June 1810, and is said by some to be the first settler. The memory of the "oldest inhabitants" is not always alike, consequently we cannot always know what the facts are. Murdock raised a large family of children, eight sons and four daughters, eight of whom settled in this town. S. B. Murdock was a delegate to the first convention that met in the County to nominate County officers. He was the first commissioned officer of the Militia in the town, and was one of the Board that sat as the first Court Martial in Orleans County. Hiram and Wm. Murdock came into the town in 1810, and are now living. George Davis came in 1810, and a daughter of his about seven years old was the first person who died in the town.

Miss Betsey Murdock taught the first school in the summer of 1814; her school house was a barn which is still standing. The first school house was erected in 1815, and the school was taught by Lucy Judson. The first male teacher was Cyrus Morrison. Eli Moore kept the first store and the first inn in the town.

F. H. Daniels came in 1811; P. H. Hooker in 1812, and is now living where he first settled, on the Ridge Road, east of the Corners. Witter Stewart came in 1811, raised a company for the war of 1812, and served as Captain during the war. William Cobb, Asel and H. N. Parker and Daniel F. Hunt, came in 1816. Amos Barrett came to Ridgeway in March, 1812, with a sled drawn by an ox and a horse. Jeremiah Webb came to Murray in 1815, and remained there until 1820, then removed to Shelby, where he remained until 1865, when he came to Ridgeway. Joseph Davis, Christopher Servoss, Jonathan Barlow, Wm. Jackson, Henry McNeal, George W. Martin, Samuel Church, Jacob L. Weld and Lyman Bates, were among the early settlers.

The first town meeting of Ridgeway, was held April 6th, 1813. Oliver Booth was elected Supervisor; Israel Douglass, Town Clerk; Lansing Bailey, James Carpenter and Henry Lovewell, Assessors; John Proctor, Collector; John Anderson and Otis Turner, Overseers of the Poor; Samuel Clark, Gideon Freeman and William White, Commissioners of Highways; John Proctor, Minoris Day, Otis Turner and Robert Garter, Constables; James Mather and

Eli Moore, Pound keepers. At this meeting $250.00 were raised for roads and bridges, and they "voted that the town of Ridgeway be divided into two towns, and that the line dividing the second and third ranges of townships be the division line."

The second annual town meeting was held April 5th, 1814. A bounty of five dollars on wolves killed in the town, was voted.— "Voted to raise double the sum of school money that should be drawn from the State for the use of schools." School Commissioners were allowed $1.12½ per day for services visiting schools. In 1815 they "voted to raise three times as much for schools as shall be apportioned to the town from the school fund." The bounty on wolves was raised to fifteen dollars.

In 1816, "Voted that if any man suffer a Canada thistle to go to seed on his land knowingly, shall forfeit one dollar to the poor." Adjourned to Ellicott's Mills.

O. TURNER, Clerk.

At a special meeting held to discuss the subject of a division of the town, it was "Voted that this town be divided on the township line, between the 14th and 15th Townships, in the 3d and 4th Ranges, and that application be made to the next Legislature accordingly."

"Voted that the first town meeting in the new town be held near the mills of Andrew A. Ellicott, and that the first town meeting in the town of Ridgeway be held at the house of Eli Moore."

At a special meeting held Sept. 30th, 1819, Jeremiah Brown was appointed "Agent to wait on Joseph Ellicott respecting the land which the Holland Company intend to give each town of six miles square."

April 12th, 1823, a special town meeting was called "For raising a sum of money to build a bridge over a ditch which runs across the Ridge Road in District No. 1, and other purposes." The town also gave the Commissioners of Highways "sufficient authority to make such a compromise as they may think proper with those who first opened the drain which caused the above ditch, and if they cannot get a satisfactory compromise that they may commence by prosecution." In 1828, "Voted to raise all the money for the use of schools that the law will allow." This certainly is an indication that there was no lack of interest in the education of the rising generation.

From the Records of the Pioneer Association we derive the following incidents in the life of Seymour B. Murdock, who came to Ridgeway with his father in 1810. He was then fourteen years old and located on a part of the farm which he now occupies. The family consisted of twelve persons and came from Greene County, with an ox team. He says:

"We were a little over a month on the road and reached here the first day of June, domesticated ourselves in our wagons for almost six weeks and until we could erect a house in which to live. From Genesee River to Clarkson Corners was one dense wilderness, with only here and there a small clearing and the cabins of a few early immigrants. At Clarkson was a log tavern at which we stopped. From Clarkson to our final stopping place there were, I think, but three houses, and these all cheaply erected log ones. The roads were almost impassable, if roads they may be called. At Otter Creek, in Gaines, the fire had consumed the logs thrown in to make a sort of dug-way up the bank, which necessitated an almost perpendicular ascent, to accomplish which, we took off the oxen, drove them up the old road, and then, with teams on the hill and chains extending to the pole of the wagon below, drew it up. At first the draft appeared too great for the team, the oxen fell and were drawn back, and the horn of one ox broken off by catching under a root. The next difficulty was a slash, two miles east of Oak Orchard Creek, where a Mr. Sibley had cut down timber along the track on both sides and had set it on fire, rendering the passage difficult and dangerous, as the only passage was through the midst of the slash." At Oak Orchard Creek the dug-way down the bank was only wide enough for "Yankee Wagons," and Mr. Murdock's being a Pennsylvania wagon, with a longer axle, was in danger of going off the bank. At this point one of the children fell out of the wagon and might have been left had not his crying announced the mishap to the others. Mr. M. gives the following description of their first meal after arriving at the place of their destination. "This was arranged around a large stump, and I well remember the relish with which we all partook of our first meal at our new home in the west."

"The scenery as now remembered was truly magnificent, one dense forest composed of large sturdy oaks extended as far as the eye could reach, east and west, on the south side of the Ridge Road. On the north side the forest was more dense and composed of a greater variety of timber. The nearest clearing east was the one just named as burning; the nearest one west was at Johnson's Creek, about five miles distant, where there was a log house and a small clearing; this was our nearest neighbor. North, to the lake, the forest was unbroken, with no mark of human existence west of Oak Orchard Creek, so far as we knew." "South of us were no inhabitants, so far as we knew, except two families named Coon, who, I think, came the same spring, and one named Walsworth, near the Tonawanda Swamp, the only stopping place between our house and Batavia on this side of the swamp. The nearest store and post office were at Batavia, also the nearest church, thirty miles distant. The nearest grist mill was at Niagara Falls, forty miles distant." The first year the season had so far advanced that they could raise nothing except potatoes and turnips.

William Knowles came to Ridgeway in 1815, and located on lot 3, Township 15, Range 3. He took an Article of the Holland Company for 200 acres, and soon after purchased, at second hand, 141 acres more. In March, 1815, he hired two men in Riga to work for him, and without waiting for them, set out for his new habitation. He engaged board with William Slater, and with his ax upon his shoulder plunged into the forest, and upon his own land began to cut timber for a cabin. His biographer says: "The spot on which he cut the first tree is that now (1866) occupied by the residence of R. P. Wood, Esq. When the logs were put up, the roof was made of staves, or shakes, as they were called, fastened on with poles, and the floor consisted of split basswood logs, roughly hewn on one side. Mr. John Canifee, having a wife and one child, came along, and wanted a place of shelter until he could build on his own land. Satisfied with the accommodations, he took possession while the floor was only half laid and a blanket served for a door. In two weeks his men arrived. They first marked out sixty rods square and began slashing down the trees and logged off and cleared a spot for oats and turnips, and in the fall had sixteen acres sown to wheat." Mrs. Hill, the housekeeper, and wife of one of the hired men, died, and the men left soon after. Mr. Knowles then boarded with Mr. Canifee until November, when he went to Massachusetts and returned in January, 1816, with a wife. A set of split bottomed chairs, which he had purchased as a part of his furniture, were regarded by the neighbors as an extravagant expenditure. A board placed upon a barrel answered for a table, and their bedstead was made by boring into the walls of the house and inserting rods. The first surveyors of the canal through this place pitched their tent on Mr. Knowles' farm. In 1825 he built the first frame house in Knowlesville, on the south side of the canal, and kept a hotel for several years. He afterwards built a brick one and kept a temperance house. He built the first warehouse in 1825, and purchased and shipped the first boat load of wheat in the County. He assisted in building the first school house, of logs, which was used also for a church. He was an energetic business man and is still living to enjoy the fruits of his early toil and privations.

As an evidence of the unanimity of the political sentiment of the town, we give the vote for Governor at the election in April, 1813: D. D. Tompkins received 98 votes, and his opponent, Stephen Van Rensselaer, 5. The vote for Lieutenant Governor was 96 to 5.

The population in 1865 was 5,328, and the area 30,518 acres.

The number of school districts is sixteen, employing twenty-six teachers; the number of children of school age is 2,285; the number attending school, 1,538; the average attendance, 762, and the amount expended for school purposes during the last year was $11,480.20.

SHELBY, named in honor of Governor Shelby, was formed from Ridgeway, March 6, 1818. It is the south-west corner town of the County. Oak Orchard Creek crosses the town near the center, and branches of the same stream and of Johnson's Creek rise in the town. At Shelby Center is a fall, affording a valuable water-power. The surface is undulating, and the soil is a mixture of sand, clay and lime. The Tonawanda Swamp occupies a portion of the south border.

Shelby, (p. v.) usually known as Shelby Center, is situated on Oak Orchard Creek, a little north of the center of the town, and contains two churches, viz., a Baptist and a Free Will Baptist; a hotel, a paper mill, two saw mills, two grist and flouring mills, a heading mill, a stave mill, several stores and mechanic shops, and about 350 inhabitants.

East Shelby (p. o.) is a hamlet in the east part and contains a Methodist church, a store, a saw mill and a blacksmith shop.

West Shelby (p. o.) contains a church, a store and a blacksmith shop. About half a mile south is a Methodist church.

Millville, (p. v.) in the north-east part, contains three churches, viz., Friends', Methodist and Presbyterian; a store, a tannery, a grocery and a shoe shop.

Medina (p. v.) is partly in this town.

Shelby Basin (p. o.) is a hamlet.

The first settlement was made by Alexander Coon, from Rensselaer County, in 1810. He settled about two miles west of Shelby Center. The first habitation of the family was constructed of four crotches, stuck in the ground, stakes laid across and covered with elm bark. This was the sleeping apartment for the boys and hired men until a log house could be erected, the father and mother in the mean time seeking lodging at a neighbor's. In about five days a comfortable log house was built without boards, nails or shingles. The cattle were kept on browse the first winter, and that kind of fodder constituted a large part of their food the succeeding one. Eleazer Tracy, John Timmerman, Nicholas Smith, Henry and Robert Garter, came in the same year; and William Bennett, James and Samuel Carpenter, William Older, David Hagerman, David Demaray and Elijah Bent, came in soon after. During the war provisions were scarce and very high, and the cold season of 1816 succeeding, added greatly to the hardships of the settlers.

Mr. Coon paid at one time eleven dollars for a barrel of flour in Rochester and three dollars for its transportation to his home. One man made black salts and conveyed them to Gaines on a hand sled to get money to pay his taxes. Among the other early settlers were Simon Letts, J. R. Parsons, Darius Southworth, James Mason, David Burroughs, and others by the name of Sherwood, Snell, Servoss, Squires and Potter.

Ralph K. Gregory, of Scotch descent, removed from Vermont to Shelby in 1816. He had six sons, all of whom settled near him, and all but one are still living in the same vicinity, within an hour's ride of each other. Their ages range from sixty-six to seventy-eight, and their sum amounts to about 432 years. Mr. Gregory came with an ox team, and was on the road from February 5th to April 3d. Amos Gregory, then nineteen years of age, drove the team, consisting of two yoke of oxen, and he informs us that they were three days in performing the last four or five miles of the journey. The father was a farmer and all the sons followed the same occupation. By industry and economy they have all acquired a competency and are now enjoying a serene old age, honored and respected by all who know them. Their names are Ira, Philo, Amos, Norman, Ralph and Matthew.

David Burroughs, the father of S. M. Burroughs, was the first Supervisor of the town and was one of the Representatives from Genesee to the State Convention of 1821. He was a faithful and efficient public servant in every place to which he was called.

Joseph Ellicott, the agent of the Holland Company, purchased seven hundred acres upon the Oak Orchard Creek, embracing the water-power and the site of the village of Shelby; and subsequently fourteen hundred acres below and embracing the village of Medina.

The first birth in the town was that of Asa Coon, February 14, 1811; and the first death that of William Bennett, October 4, 1812. The first saw mill was erected by Joseph Ellicott in 1812, and the first grist mill in 1813. The first inn was kept by David Timmerman in 1816; and the first store by Christian Groff in 1818. Cornelius Ashton taught the first school in the winter of 1815-16. The first church (Baptist) was organized July 25, 1818.

Rev. James Carpenter was the early preacher in this vicinity. It is said that his sermons seldom occupied less than two hours, and often began at noon and were not finished until sunset. He was a great lover of hunting as well as preaching, and many a deer and bear fell before the aim of his unerring rifle. A large bear made a visit to the Elder's pig pen one night, when the young porker, not fancying the embrace of his bearship, gave the alarm and aroused the Elder from his slumbers. Seizing an ax he rushed to the rescue, and with one blow laid the beast at his feet and saved his pig.

Benjamin Darling, from New Hampshire, came to Shelby in 1815; he was a Trustee of Millville Academy for several years. Abraham Biddleman came in 1817, with his parents, and settled a short distance from Medina. In March, 1818, Mr. Biddleman and James Woodward were engaged in a very successful deer hunt. About two feet of snow was upon the ground, there had been a thaw and a freeze, forming a crust sufficiently strong to bear a man with snow shoes, but not strong enough to support a deer. With snow shoes made of boards they started out, and in about half a day killed five deer. In 1822 Mr. Biddleman helped build a shanty for the canal contractors at Medina, and cut the timber from a portion of the present site of that beautiful village. After finishing the cabin he went to work on the canal for thirteen dollars a month and board. The contractors brought three barrels of whisky from Rochester and gave each man a ration of one gill per day. Being ignorant of the effects of that beverage, Mr. B. took his ration the first day, and being satisfied that whisky did not agree with his constitution, afterwards sold his rations for three cents each to those who could stand a double portion.

The population of Shelby in 1865 was 3,203, and its area 27,659.

The number of school districts is fourteen, employing fourteen teachers; the whole number of children of school age is 826; the number attending school, 610; the average attendance, 341, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending September 30, 1868, was $5,128.54.

YATES, named in honor of Governor Yates, was formed from Ridgeway, April 17, 1822, as Northton, but its name was changed the following year. It lies in the north-west corner of the County, upon the lake shore. It is crossed by Johnson's Creek and several smaller streams. Marsh and Four Mile Creeks have their whole course in the town. The surface for the most part is level, but along Johnson's Creek it is undulating. The soil is a sandy loam in the south, and along the lake, clayey.

Lyndonville, (p. v.,) situated on Johnson's Creek, contains three churches, several manufactories and mechanic shops, and about 400 inhabitants.

Yates Center (Yates p. o.) contains a church, a hotel, several stores and mechanic shops, and about 300 inhabitants.

George Houseman, from Adams, Jefferson Co., settled in this town in 1809, and John Eaton, from Pennsylvania, in 1810. Settlers came in very slow, and ten years after the first settlement, most of the town was a wilderness. Samuel Salisbury and his brother came to this town in 1817. Settlements were few and far between, and provisions were scarce and high. Wheat was three dollars a bushel, corn two and potatoes one dollar. Before the next harvest the inhabitants were out of bread and nothing to make any of. The growing wheat was beaten out, boiled and eaten in milk, which served as the best, if not the only substitute for the staff of life. Mr. Salisbury says the milk was strongly flavored with leeks, which were abundant in the woods where the cows roamed. Elders Irons and Dutcher used to preach in a log school house near D. Lewis', south of Lyndonville. They were Baptist preachers. The first Methodist preachers were Z. Paddock, Boardman, Hall and Puffer; the last named was called "Old Chapter and Verse," on account of his familiarity with the Scriptures.

The first marriage was that of George Houseman, Jr., and Sally Coyert, in 1817. The first death was that of Mrs. George Houseman, Sr., in December, 1813. The first inn was kept by Samuel Tappen, at Yates Center, in 1825, and the first store by Moore & Hough, in 1824.

The first school was taught by Josiah Perry, in 1819. Rev. Samuel Salisbury says: "School houses were scarce, and as for churches there were none. I attended school two miles from home, in a log house, near Mr. D. Lewis', south of Lyndon, and this log school house was for years our place of worship. Among my early school teachers were William C. Tanner and Miss Mastine." Black salts were the main dependence for money to pay taxes and for other incidental expenses of the day. He says: "My last feat of chopping was in 1832. I walked three miles, morning and evening, and chopped three acres fit for logging in ten and one-half days."

Horace Gould, from Connecticut, started for the Genesee Country, in company with two others, in March, 1818. They came with a one horse wagon, and arrived at East Bloomfield, Ontario Co., in fifteen days. In 1819, in company with his uncle, Elihu Gould, and his family, he came to Gaines and located about two miles west of Stillwater, "where, in after years, I used to toil all night and catch nothing, except a hard cold. It was on the 5th day of May, 1819, that I first found my land, yet through the good providence of God I raised about thirty bushels of corn and about the same of potatoes. During the first season we were sometimes rather short of food, especially meat, but some of the boys would often kill some wild animal, and we were not very particular what name it bore, as hunger had driven us to esteem nothing unclean, but to receive it with thanksgiving. The first winter I passed very pleasantly, teaching school in the old log school house, standing at what was afterwards called Matthias Brown's Corners."

The following narrative of Reuben Root, who came to this County with his father in 1804, is from the "Pioneer Records: "

“The party coming with my father consisted of his wife, five sons and one daughter, and the Dunham family, consisting of six or seven persons, which constituted the whole white population then residing between the Niagara and Genesee Rivers, except a family by the name of Walsworth that lived at the mouth of Oak Orchard Creek. My father built a house with poles, such as we could carry, and covered it with elm bark; in this house we lived over two years, when it was renewed by laying down a floor of split basswood logs, hewn. After building a shelter for the family, the next thing in order was to supply ourselves with food and clothing, as the scanty supply which we brought with us was growing still more scanty. We cleared a small piece of ground and planted it with corn, from which we raised our bread. Our other provisions consisted of fish, venison, bear, raccoon and hedge hog meat. We had to pound our corn for two or three years, when we began to raise wheat, which we took to Norton’s mill, at Lima, to be ground. The distance was about seventy miles, by way of the lake and Irondequoit Bay. The County was infested with bears and wolves at that time, and we could keep no domestic animals to supply ourselves with provisions of our own raising. In the summer of 1806 or 1807, my father got a cow from Canada, and in the following fall she was killed by wolves. Our clothing was made from hemp of our own raising. We could not raise flax, on account of the rust which destroyed the fibre. For several years we had no boots or shoes, for the want of materials with which to make them. My father built the first frame barn in what is now Orleans County; the lumber and nails he brought from Canada. Turner, in his History of the Holland Purchase, is in error when he says that ‘James Mather built the first frame barn and got part of the lumber from Dunham’s mill.’ Our barn was built before Dunham’s saw mill was built. The barn was torn down 22 or 23 years ago, by Daniel Gates, who then owned the place, and some of the flooring may now be seen on the premises. They were split and hewn from white wood logs. The nails used were wrought. In September, 1814, my father and myself (the only ones in our family liable to military duty) were ordered to meet at Batavia, then to Buffalo. On our arrival at Buffalo there was a call for volunteers to go over to Fort Erie, under Gen. Porter, and take the batteries that were besieging that Fort. My father and myself volunteered and assisted in taking the batteries and in capturing 500 prisoners. This was September 17th, 1814. After this we were discharged, receiving $8.00 per month each for our services. In 1814 I took an Article of the farm on which I now reside. In 1815 I went to Canada and worked on a farm during the summer. The winter following I returned and chopped twenty-five acres on my farm, and in March, 1816, I went to Toronto, C. W., and took command of a vessel and sailed on the lake during the season of navigation until 1820." He was married in 1819 and moved to his farm in 1820, where he has since resided. He says: "We have raised a family of ten children, five sons and five daughters, all of whom are married and are now living, unless they have fallen quite recently by the war, as my oldest and youngest sons are now in the service of our country."

This was written by Mr. Root in June, 1864. He is still living.

The population of Yates in 1865 was 2,122, and its area 22,607 acres.

The number of school districts is thirteen, employing fourteen teachers; the number of children of school age is 699; the number attending school, 572; the average attendance, 298, and the amount expended for school purposes during the last year was $4,957.76.

MILITARY RECORD.

From the annual Report of the Bureau of Military Record, we cull the following items:

On receipt of the President's call for 75,000 men, a meeting was called at the Court House for the evening of April 18th: The meeting was largely attended; a committee was appointed to organize companies of volunteers, and a County meeting was called for the 23d of April. An immense concourse of the citizens assembled at the Court House Park on this occasion; addresses were made by several gentlemen and resolutions adopted to stand by the Government at all hazards. More than $20,000 were subscribed to a fund for the aid of volunteers and their families; and committees were appointed to aid in organizing companies of volunteers. A similar meeting was called at Medina, the same week, at which nearly $20,000 more were subscribed for the same purposes. Three companies of volunteers were soon organized, the headquarters of two of which were at Albion, and one at Medina. The first company was organized by choosing David Hardie, Captain, and James O. Nickerson and Wm. M. Kenyon, Lieutenants. The second company was organized by electing H. L. Achilles, Captain, and — Coan and — Harrington, Lieutenants. The company at Medina had for its officers Captain Edwin A. Bowen and Lieutenants Davis and Chaffee. Captain Bowen's company became Co. D of the Twenty-eighth Regiment, and Captain Hardie's, Co. G of the same regiment. It was mustered into the United States service on the 22d of May, with Dudley Donnelly, Colonel; Edwin F. Brown, Lieutenant Colonel, and James R. Mitchell, Major. The regiment was ordered to Washington, where it arrived June 28th, and July 5th it joined Gen. Patterson's command at Martinsburg, Va. For two years it was engaged in the active campaigns of Virginia, but its record cannot be written here. Captain Achilles' company was incorporated into the Twenty-seventh Regiment and designated as Co. K. It was ordered to Washington and was in the battle of Bull Run, July 21st. This regiment served two years. Each of these companies was presented with a beautiful flag by the ladies of their respective vicinities, and their departure was hailed by large gatherings of the citizens of the County.

A cavalry company was organized in June, composed of volunteers from the eastern towns in this County and the western towns in Monroe. It was commanded by Judson A. Downs, of Murray. The Lieutenants were Lorenzo Ferry and Walter Perry. Numerous volunteers from this County united with companies organizing elsewhere, and particularly at Rochester. With very few exceptions, the citizens continued to exert themselves to maintain the Government, until the rebellion was crushed and the Stars and Stripes floated to the breeze in every State.

ROCHESTER, N Y,
 MANUFACTURER OF

Knight's Patent Hydraulic Cement DRAIN AND SEWER PIPE!

GARDEN ROLLERS, PIPE CHIMNEYS & WELL TUBING,
*Also, Dealer in Water Lime, Quick Lime, Plaster Paris,
 Dentist Plaster, Fire Brick, Fire Clay, Fire Sand,
 Kaolin, Rosendale Cement, Rockaway Sand,
 Marble Dust, &c. Also,*

BRICK MORTAR AND PLASTERING MORTAR.
 READY-MADE, AND CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

TO BUILD A GOOD CHIMNEY WITHOUT THE HELP OF A MASON!

Use a 6 or a 9 inch pipe. The cost is only about one-third of a brick chimney, and the draft is much better, because the pipes are all perfectly straight and smooth.

CANCERS CURED!D. F. BISHOP, M. D.,
OF LOCKPORT, N. Y.,

Invites the attention of those afflicted with Cancer, to his mode of treatment, which has been practiced for a number of years with great success. The removal of the Tumor is speedily made without the use of the knife in the live tissue, and with but little pain. The question of radical cure of Cancer undoubtedly depends upon the time of its removal. It should be done before it breaks down by ulceration, and the earlier the better. The results of this treatment, which destroys the life of the Tumor before its removal, as compared with the use of the knife, will be readily understood in the difference of the two modes of removing a locust tree from the soil; to kill it by girdling or otherwise, leaving nature to complete the process—or to grub out the live tree, leaving many fibres to spring up and grow again. If you have a Cancer, please call and see me, or correspond.

The Reynold's Steel Tempering Works, Reynolds, Barber & Co., Proprietors, at Auburn, are largely engaged in the manufacture of Reaper and Mower Knives, Plane Irons, Chisels, &c. The process by which they temper steel is a peculiar one, and as patented by Mr. Reynolds, is the result of over forty years labor. This gentleman always worked on the plan that tempering steel was simply changing it from a fibrous to a granular state. He certainly has succeeded in producing a finer granulation (temper) than has ever before been produced. Messrs. Reynolds, Barber & Co., control the patents for these processes, and are applying them successfully in all their manufactures.—Their establishment is capable of turning out an immense amount of work, yet their orders are now, and have been for some months, accumulating far in advance of their present ability to supply; a circumstance which they will not long allow to be the case. We predict that the time is not far distant when all Mower and Reaper Factories and farmers will use their improved sections. See their advertisement on page 6, fronting the Introduction.

Howe's Never-Failing Ague Cure and Tonic Bitters, and Howe's Concentrated Syrup, are prepared under the personal supervision of Dr. C. B. Howe, the proprietor, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., for ague and fever, and all periodic diseases, rheumatism, paralysis, etc. The "Ague Cure" has produced wonderful cures. The "Syrup," for the blood, liver, skin, digestive and uterine organs, has cured many cases of scrofula, cancer, tumors, goiter, salt rheum, scaldhead, and many other diseases too numerous to mention in this place. See card, page 20.

J. & F. B. Garrett, Wholesale and Retail dealers in Printing, Writing, Wrapping, Tissue, Roll and Fancy Papers, Printers' Supplies, Shipping Cards, Blank Books, &c., at No. 3 West Fayette street, Syracuse, have built up a heavy trade in their line, extending from Harrisburgh, in Pennsylvania, to the Canadian border. We have dealt considerably with this establishment, and have invariably been gratified in having our orders promptly filled, and always with just the article required. See card, page 206.

Important Knowledge.—As music is now an indispensable necessity in every household, any reliable information is valuable as to the best place to buy musical instruments. We have been acquainted for years personally with the firm of Redington & Howe, and have known of their business facilities. We know that no House between New York and Chicago can compete with them successfully, as their facilities are unequalled. In addition to the immense capital at their control, they have special contracts with several leading first-class manufacturers, whereby they buy cheaper than any other dealers in the United States anywhere. Their immense trade requires only a small profit on each one of their many transactions to ensure them a handsome income. Their terms are most highly liberal. And another important consideration is that their treatment of their customers is perfectly honorable, a very important matter in the purchase of such a complicated affair as a musical instrument. Their recommendation of instruments can be depended on implicitly.—This we know from an extensive acquaintance among hundreds to whom they have sold instruments. We advise our readers to give them a call, or certainly to write to them before deciding on the purchase of a Piano Forte, Organ or Melodeon, or any musical merchandise. See the Addenda to this volume, which contains a portion of their catalogue. Also see card on Co. Map.

The Medina House, Medina, N. Y., has recently been refitted and newly furnished and now offers more comfortable quarters for guests than ever before. The proprietor, Mr. S. C. Tibbitts, will endeavor in every way possible to serve his friends in such a manner that they will be sure to continue their patronage. Give him a call. See card, page 132.

E. Mockford, proprietor of the Medina Jewelry Store, advertises on page 140. Those who will take the trouble to turn to that page will see that he offers a large stock of goods, such as are wanted in every intelligent and wealthy community like that in which his store is located. The people of Medina and vicinity have no occasion to go to the city for anything usually kept in a first-class Jewelry Store.—Call and see.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of the public to this firm and to their stock of goods, which embraces a great variety and will be sold at fair prices. Undertaking in all its branches attended to.

H. W. Preston, dealer in Jewelry, Watches, &c., Burrows' Block, Main street, Albion, N. Y., keeps a splendid assortment of Watches, Jewelry, Silver Ware and all goods usually kept in a first class store of this kind. Persons in this and adjoining towns will do well to give them a call. They also keep a fine stock of Musical Instruments. For further particulars see card, page 180.

Sweet & Salisbury, Druggists and Stationers, No. 54 Main street, Albion, N. Y., keep a general assortment of Drugs, Medicines and Toilet articles, together with a good stock of Stationers' goods, all of which will be sold on reasonable terms. Their card appears on page 160.

O. H. Scranton, manufacturer of Harnesses and dealer in Trunks, Traveling Bags, &c., No. 84 Shelby street, Medina, N. Y., gets up some of the best Harnesses to be found in this County. He uses the best of stock and knows how to make a harness for beauty and service. If you want a "tip top" harness, tipped with Brass, Silver or Gold and equal to the best, call on Scranton. Other articles to suit customers can always be found at his shop. See card, page 184.

G. H. Ashby, dealer in Confectionery, Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Toys, &c., Albion, N. Y., publishes a card on page 180. Mr. Ashby keeps a good supply of all articles in his line and will serve up Ice Cream and all the luxuries of the season as they appear in the market. Give him a call.

Doolittle & Straight, Dentists, Albion, N. Y., advertise on page 148. They are the oldest and most experienced Dentists in the County, fully understand their business in all its departments and will perform all operations in the surgical or mechanical department in the best manner. Those interested will consult their own interest by calling at their office in the Granite Block, over Orleans Co. National Bank.

George H. Sickles & Co., dealers in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Cloths, Etc., No. 59 Main street, Albion, N. Y., and No. 3 Bank street, publish a card on page 172. Any one who will take the trouble to visit this store will satisfy himself that there is no better quality or greater variety to be found in the County than here. Ladies' Dress Goods in every style to suit the tastes of all. For further information call and see.

Mothers, Read This!—So says Dr. G. T. Taft & Co., of Seneca Falls. In their advertisement on page 20, they desire to inform you of the wonderful qualities of their "Oriental Syrup," for children. We have heard of many cases where this valuable medicine has given great relief. They are also proprietors of "Rosenberger's Balm of Gilead Ointment," for old sores, ulcers, rheumatism, burns, chilblains, piles, &c., and for galls, or wounds on horses, it is unsurpassed.

In addition to their stock of Drugs and Medicines, they have constantly on hand Dye Stuffs, Wines and Liquors, and a general assortment of School Books and Stationery, which they will sell as low as any establishment in the County.

Dr. J. E. Henion, No. 22 and 24 North St. Paul Street, Rochester, N. Y., advertises on page 196. It is with pleasure that we call the attention of our subscribers to the Doctor's advertisement, believing that we are thereby rendering essential service to the afflicted by informing them where they will find relief. To be convinced that the Dr. performs what he promises, a person has only to look into his office and see the crutches, canes, &c., left there by those who have been so far benefited as to have no further use for such assistance. We would say to all who need medical advice, that Dr. Henion is prepared to give it, and to render essential aid in all cases where there is any hope of relief. If their case is past hope the Dr. will be honest and tell them so.

Andrew Wall & Son, dealers in Groceries, Provisions, etc., No. 46 Main Street, Albion, N. Y., keep a large assortment of useful articles, and do a general business in the manufacture of Bread, Crackers, Pies, Cakes and Confectionery, all of which may be purchased at the lowest cash prices. Persons dealing with Messrs. Wall may rely upon getting what the article is represented to be. See card, page 148.

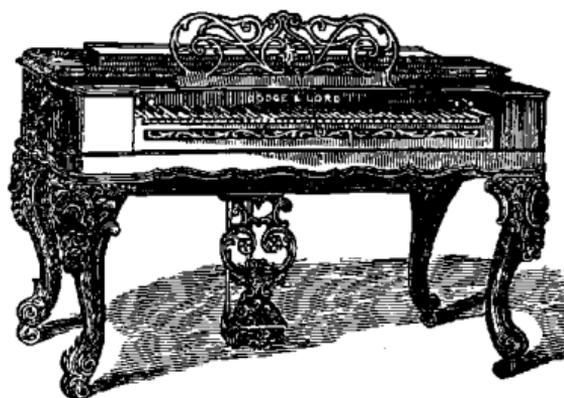

Hayden Brothers, proprietors of the Retail Woolen Mills, at Port Byron, have long been celebrated as being manufacturers of desirable and reliable goods. The establishment was started in 1834 as a small custom mill. Since then the greatly increased business has called for extensive additions and improvements, which have been made; and to day their cloth is known and worn in every county in the State and every State in the Union. They use only the best qualities of wool, entirely free from waste or shoddy, and employ only experienced and careful workmen who strive to maintain the reputation their goods have ever borne among their retail customers. A year ago they opened a store at No. 29 Warren street, Syracuse, where they keep full lines of all goods of their manufacture. Farmers, mechanics and business men generally, can make good bargains by calling at the store, where Mr. J. W. Gates, the manager, will be pleased to give them good goods at advantageous terms. See card, page 176.

H. W. Seymour, Brockport, N. Y., manufactures the Little Giant Mower and Reaper. This is one of the best machines made; it is simple in construction, easily kept in order, and very durable. It is just the machine that farmers need, as thousands who have used it are ready to testify. See advertisement on page 206.

Edward Davey, Carriage and Sleigh Manufacturer, Medina, N. Y., advertises on page 202. This manufactory was established twenty years ago, and its products have gone far and wide over this and adjoining counties. The best materials are used and skilled workmen employed. He buys his stock for cash and can do as good work at as low a price as any establishment in this region. As all his work is warranted, people need not fear to purchase; they will be honorably dealt with.

The Medina Tribune, published at Medina, Orleans County, N. Y., by S. H. Clark, has for many years been doing a good work in the field of Journalism. Its weekly issues contain a summary of general news, with a large amount of local and miscellaneous matter, making it a valuable visitor to the homes of its readers. Book and Job Printing of all kinds are executed at the same office. See card on page 208.

M. E. Brackett, M. D., Physician and Surgeon, Clarendon, publishes a card on page 206. Dr. Brackett is prepared to attend to all professional calls and treat his patients upon the most approved scientific principles. Let the afflicted take notice.

Their store is supplied with a fine assortment of Dry Goods, Silks, Ready-Made Clothing, Boots, Shoes and Groceries, and in fact almost everything that is called for in a first-class country store. Give them a call and you will be sure to get your money's worth.

Chas. Tremain & Co., manufacturers of Rag, Book, News, Tea and Wrapping Paper, at Manlius, publish a card on page 310. Publishers and paper dealers will find them fair and honorable men to purchase from. In the manufacture of book and news, they use only domestic stock, which is conceded to be superior to imported rags. They employ experienced paper makers only, and having improved machinery, they can insure a superior article in all cases. We use their paper in the publication of our directories.

McCarthy & Vanderkar, dealers in Groceries and Provisions, No. 52 East side Main street, Albion, N. Y., keep a large assortment of the best goods in their line and sell at prices that cannot fail to suit purchasers. Farmers will find a ready market here for all kinds of country produce, which will be received in exchange for goods or cash. Give them a call. See card, page 176.

D. F. Bishop, M. D., Lockport, N. Y., advertises on page 176. It is with pleasure that we are permitted to call the attention of those afflicted with Cancer, to Dr. Bishop's mode of treatment.—Fast success is the best recommendation that can be given in favor of his mode of treatment. Let the afflicted give him a call.

G. W. Hotchkin, Harness maker and dealer in Trunks, &c., Albion, N. Y., is a first-class workman and manufacturer his harnesses from superior oak-tanned leather. Anything in the line of plain or fancy work executed in the best manner. Mr. Hotchkin is also the inventor and manufacturer of a Superior Truss, made without a spring. From the testimonials of those who have used this Truss in all parts of the country, we infer that it is far superior to all others in use. Satisfaction given or money refunded. Give it a trial and not be tortured longer with the Spring Truss. His card appears on page 136.

C. E. Colburn & Co., dealers in Lumber, Bank street, Albion, N. Y., are prepared to furnish the citizens of this and adjoining Counties with any kind of Dressed or Rough Lumber on reasonable terms. Bills filled to order and at short notice. Their establishment is about half a mile west of Main street. Give them a call. See card, page 168.

Dodge & Lord, manufacturers of Melodeons and Reed Organs, at Ithaca, N. Y., were formerly connected with Syracuse manufactories. They have since moved their business where lumber is cheap, and expenses less than in the larger cities, like New York, Boston, Albany or Syracuse. The styles of their organs are particularly their own, possessing all modern improvements, and some unknown to other manufacturers. They have found market for their instruments in every county of the State, and in Northern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and have an increasing trade with the West, in all of which places they are brought into successful competition with the first Eastern manufacturers. They are both practical men, and have secured workmen of long experience and tried abilities. Situated midway between the Erie and N. Y. C. railroads, they can ship conveniently to all parts of the country. See card, page 210.

C. T. Foster, dealer in Hats, Caps, Furs, &c., No. 5 Canal Street, Albion, N. Y., has a fine stock of goods suited to the season. His old patrons will call on him, of course, and others will consult their interest by examining his large stock of choice goods before making their purchases. Give him a call. His card appears on page 204.

A. B. Bailey, dealer in Groceries and Provisions, No. 61 Main street, Albion, N. Y., advertises on page 184. Mr. Bailey keeps a good assortment of choice family Groceries, Teas, Dried Fruits, &c., which he will dispose to his customers at reasonable rates. He pays cash for all kinds of farm produce, making it an object for farmers to give him a call.

Alvin L. Briggs, Landscape Painter, publishes a card on page 206. His studio is in the third story of Royce's Block, where specimens of his work may be seen, and where he will receive orders for anything in his line. The products of his brush are far superior to some whose reputations are more widely extended. Give him a call at Albion, N. Y.

Genesee Agricultural Works, located at Batavia, N. Y., were established in 1840. The proprietors, Messrs. Corbitt & Bradish, manufacture a great variety of the best agricultural implements in use, and are prepared to furnish at short notice, to dealers and others, any article of their make. By referring to their advertisement on page 192, the reader will find a list of a few of the more important articles manufactured at this establishment. Those who patronize them will find them reliable and honorable in all their dealings.

The Holley Bulletin, published by Jay Densmore, Holley, N. Y., was started only a few months ago and is gradually gaining in favor and patronage with each succeeding issue. It occupies a niche hitherto unfilled by any local paper in the County, and is published at such a low price that few will fail to read it. See advertisement on page 200.

Henry Sears, Carriage Manufacturer, Albion, N. Y., publishes a finely illustrated advertisement on page 156. In our effort to procure the materials for this work we have had occasion to observe the work of different mechanics and to criticize its character and the taste manifest in its style. In the line of Carriages, Mr. Sears appears to have succeeded in meeting the wants of the public, as is manifest by the constantly increasing demand for his carriages. He uses the best of materials and employs none but first-class workmen. From the commencement of business in 1840 to the present time he appears to have acted upon the principle that integrity of character and promptness in business are essential to success.

George W. Wilson's Auction Rooms, Canal Street, Albion, N. Y., is the place to go for bargains. A large assortment of second-hand furniture always on hand to be sold to purchasers at their own price. Goods of every description received and sold on commission. This is the place for those who have goods to sell as well as for those who wish to purchase. See card on page 144.

D. Copeland, Jr., manufacturer of Drain and Sewer Pipe, No. 90 South St. Paul Street, Rochester, N. Y., advertises on page 128. The best guaranty of the excellence of this pipe is the increased demand for it as its qualities become known. For many uses it is far superior to any other in use and costs much less. We call especial attention to his advertisement, believing that we are doing the public a favor, as well as the advertiser.

R. B. Moyer, of the Albion Boot and Shoe Store, No. 76 Main Street, Albion, N. Y., publishes a finely illustrated advertisement on page 140. Mr. M. keeps a good assortment of all the most desirable goods in his line, and is ever ready to wait upon customers and supply their wants at the lowest prices consistent with living. Give him a call for anything to be found in a first-class store, and have your wants supplied.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, advertised on page 204, with the latest improvements, is second to none in the estimation of many who have tested the various machines now sold throughout the country. Those who are annoyed by the noise of most machines will find this less objectionable on that account. Mrs. M. F. Kelsey, Bank Street, Albion, N. Y., is the agent, and keeps all kinds of Machine Findings. She is also prepared to do all kinds of stitching and cloak making.

The Glen & Hall Manufacturing Company, Rochester, N. Y., publish an advertisement on the preceding page. This Company manufacture superior Gratu and Clover Thrashing Machines, Horse Powers, the Farmers Favorite Grain Drill and other agricultural implements. Their manufactory is located on East Avenue, near Brighton, where they employ over 100 hands. Their machines have been tested by thousands and the increased demand for them is the best evidence of their utility. Orders promptly filled and satisfaction guaranteed. For more than forty years this establishment has been doing business, and by enterprise and integrity the proprietors have built up a business of which they may well feel proud. Farmers and others will do well to give them a call. The following names of the officers are a sufficient guaranty that they will perform all they promise: Eugene Glen, President; Joseph F. Hall, Vice President; Milton E. Holton, Secretary and Treasurer.

John B. Wegman & Co., whose advertisement appears on this leaf, offer inducements to buyers of furniture equal, if not superior, to any house in Rochester. We advise our friends in Orleans County to call and see them when they visit the city.

ROBINSON'S INFALLIBLE DYSENTERY and CHOLERA SYRUP!

DR. E. ROBINSON, of Fairport, Monroe Co., N. Y., would inform the afflicted, that he has a mild, safe and sure Preventive and Cure, for CHRONIC DYSENTERY, SUMMER COMPLAINTS, CHOLERA AND CHOLERA MORBUS.

Having proved its efficacy to a demonstration, through much solicitation, it is now offered to the public. On receipt of $5, one bottle of the Medicine will be forwarded by Express to any part of the United States, with full directions.

Dr. Robinson is prepared to receive, at his residence, any who may be suffering from Chronic Diseases of any description.

Mrs. Robinson will be in attendance to nurse and treat all who may come under our care.

CERTIFICATES.

From MR. GUSTAVUS MILLS, formerly of Arcadia, N. Y., but at present a Clerk in the Paymaster General's Office, at Washington, D. C.

PAYMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, D. C., June 28, 1866.

DR. E. ROBINSON, Fairport, N. Y.: Dear Sir—As this is the time of year for the Bowel Complaints to prevail, it is very natural for one who has been so sorely afflicted with Dysentery, to feel a great anxiety to escape its return during the hot season. I finished taking your medicine last Fall. You may send me a little to take occasionally, as a preventive, if you deem it advisable, and refer to my case if you choose, as one cured by your medicine. I am, sir, yours very truly,

GUSTAVUS MILLS.

From MAJOR JOHN H. KEMPER, formerly of Arcadia, but at present in one of the Government Departments at Albany.

ALBANY, June 7th, 1866.

DR. E. ROBINSON: Dear Sir—It is with pleasure I certify, that the Syrup you furnished me, did effectually cure the Chronic Diarrhoea, with which I had been suffering for over eleven months. In my mind, the Syrup you use is a certain cure for the above disease, and I can safely recommend it to all afflicted with the chronic diarrhoea.

JOHN H. KEMPER.

We, the undersigned, are well acquainted with the above parties, and do affirm to the truth and cures, as above specified.

JESSE OWEN, Justice of Peace,
COL. ARCHER HAYES, D. KEMPER.

ARCADIA, N. Y., July 2, 1866.

From CLARK MASON, Esq., County Clerk of Wayne County, N. Y.

LYONS, N. Y., June 29th, 1866.

DR. E. ROBINSON: Dear Sir—Having used in my family, for some time, the Syrup called by you, "Robinson's Infallible Dysentery and Cholera Syrup," for Dysentery and Diarrhoea, I never found it fail to effect a cure. I do not hesitate to recommend it in all cases of derangement of the stomach and bowels; working mildly and gradually upon the system, it never fails to leave the organs active and healthy; and in cases of Chronic Diarrhoea or Dysentery, as a remedy, I believe it to have no superior. Should you come into this place soon, I desire to get a bottle of the Syrup. If you do not soon expect to visit our place, you may forward me a quart bottle, and oblige,

C. MASON.

From MR. DANIEL KEMPER, father of Maj. J. H. Kemper.

ARCADIA, July 2, 1866.

DR. E. ROBINSON: Sir—It is with much pleasure that I state to you the great benefit that my son received by taking your medicine; it seemed to touch the very spot. He tried several doctors, but all failed to do him any good, while he grew worse, and failed every day, until he took your medicine, and that raised him up to the health and strength he formerly enjoyed. Likewise, seeing some of my neighbors raised from skeletons to sound health, under my own eye, is all the more satisfactory. Now, I would say to all strangers, try Dr. E. Robinson's "Infallible Dysentery and Cholera Syrup," if you want to get rid of the Dysentery or Summer Complaint.

I remain yours,

D. KEMPER.

From J. COOKINGHAM, of the Village of Newark, Town of Arcadia, N. Y., June 13, 1866.

To Whom it may Concern: Sir—For nearly two years I was subject to the Chronic Diarrhoea, which fastened itself to me, and became very affecting; it exhausted my strength and destroyed my health, and I became very feeble. In August, 1863, when I enlisted, my weight was 140 lbs.; two years from that date, after a severe illness in New Orleans, I came home on a furlough, reduced to 75 lbs. I employed the best of physicians without any permanent relief, and had settled in the conviction that my case was incurable. Not being able to leave the house, I resolved to try no more, until meeting with Dr. Robinson, when I was persuaded to try his Medicine, and in four weeks was able to ride out. From that time my health improved so fast, I soon returned to the army for duty. Yours, &c.,

J. COOKINGHAM.

From Mrs. JOHN VAN VALKENBURG, of Pownel, Vt.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 15, 1866.—DR. ROBINSON: I write a few lines, to say that I have been much better since taking your Medicine. I have not been as well for a few days, and think, perhaps, I have brought it on by walking too much. Being on a visit here, I intend to return home to Vermont in a few days, and wish you would send me another bottle, and I will send you the money.

Yours respectfully, MARGARET VAN VALKENBURG.
