On the hills of Al - le - gha - ny is the home - land Of the Oft I've rocked a - mid the rip - ples with this maid - en, Heard her

In - dian maid I've know since long a - go 'Mid the tell the leg - ends of the days of yore, When the dales of old New - York here lies her roam - land, Where she birch ca - noes with war - ri - ors were la - den, And the wan - ders toward the blue On - ta - ri - o Through the point - ed wig - wams smoked a - long the shore. Then with ver - dant mead - ows oft I've heard her sing - ing, Seen her mys - te - ry pro - found her eyes would dark - en, And an - glid - ing on in si - lent maj - es - ty Like a ces - traal pride il - lume her no - ble face, As for nai - ad I've be - held her light - ly spring - ing, Rush - ing voic - es of the wood - land she would heark - en, Voic - es ev - er on to meet the beck' - ning sea.

po - tent with the mem' - ries of her race.

CHORUS

Her name is Jen - ny, Her charms are man - y, She's fair as an - y e'er known to me. With beau - ty beam - ing, With treasures stream - ing Of her I'm dream - ing my Gen - e - see.

The Rochester Song-Book

Watch for the new Rochester Song-Book. It will be out before Christmas, and will make an excellent holiday present. This song collection, which is being edited by a competent corps of Rochester men and women, will contain all songs about Rochester and the Genesee—a hundred pages of words and music—and will cost not to exceed one dollar. Leave your name and address at the “Rochester Song-Book” booth in Convention Hall, October 8th to 22nd.
