In other words, with our breath, and by ink, those inter-affairs flow in their ordinary channels deep voice of fear, by the pangs of terror, by the ocean that liberty, which cures evils, also pre-cause God has taught us upon this side of the earth. In our own way, we, too, in this ed to read the Word of God with his eye measure of the Divine Providence. He is there are who sleep on this matter of disun-their week-day horror. Disunion! You might just as well fear that the continent would be torn and lost. And when, out of tion that affects the welfare of the State. Our before every individual of the land every ques-

No. 25, Buffalo Street, (opposite the hairy man; that hundreds of them were pasing that the Society, which professed to ex-some religious truth bearing upon this actors. There it was that one of the most dis-in New-York. Whatever prejudices have filled centre. Nor have I ever before seen a

Daniel Lord it was—for so I read his title in been by all the rest of the community. But pharisees and lawyers?"

A letter from our esteemed friend, Victor Hugo, is here submitted. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

N. B.

The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.

Note: The letter from Mr. Hugo is continued on the following page. It is a continuation of the very interesting correspondence with that gentleman, in which the principles of the Democratic party, and the question of negro slavery, were so fully developed. We feel that the whole of that gentleman's article should be printed in our columns, as it will be of immense value in the present political crisis. It is a most powerful article, full of force and eloquence. It is a masterpiece of writing, and is calculated to do much good in the present crisis.
The Correspondence.

The Weekly Register of the State.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have been reading in some old papers which have been preserved, and I have found that the negroes of my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.

Mr. Editor,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your recent number, and to acquaint you with the fact that the negroes in my district are fully aware of the dangers attending the African slave trade, and that they are determined to follow it up with the greatest zeal and energy. The negroes are well aware that the African slave trade is a system of slavery, which will be carried on in the most ruthless manner, and that it is the duty of every one to oppose it as long as possible. The negroes are determined to make every effort to prevent the continuance of the African slave trade, and they are determined to do all in their power to prevent the continuance of this system of slavery.
