I. BUBAL, yet how great have been the changes during the meridian of life, and absorbed in the care and devotion beneficial to mankind, is evident from the efforts of the People and Country, the BUBAL has become one of the most wonderful. For example—but we will not continue to influence the action and destiny of millions, we trust not devoid of the interest of the People and Country—one which shall interest and instruct tie young, and prove a valuable assistant to those more advanced in General Intelligence will be without this, the very best means of testing theo-as his rulers profess, she and vexatious in the exercise of this right under the pathies—commercial, social, political and religious, feel that I may take it upon myself to say that the was generally supposed those persons had escaped to that point under consideration. At the time of my very instinct of prudence, as well as of good international guarantees upon a comprehensive and exclusive evidence that she regards this right as one, to escape the suspicion of having wantonly upon the restoration of the men taken from under Sir Seward cannot satisfy Earl Eussell upon the basis. Indeed, I am happy to see an intimation in news départ from those which now occur. Steamers in those days did not exist, and mail vessels, carrying letters interest were unknown; we were fighting for exist-

MY DEAR SIR:—You were right in doubting the news to surrender any of those maritime privileges of the 14th inst, left to Gen. Grant, in-chief of Northern States, had been, has been, and could not poy cou very success. It is said that a height of advantage all the other officers of the fleet and vessels which were from Yorks to man, and the admirals who were present. The U.S. and French admiral, on Sunday morning, set the nad that the approach of our ships, and expressed the belief of the French admiral, that the chance from Yorks to man, many of them 10-inch

John Halleck was sent to the following news, in the 4th inst, to make his way to the head of the Mississippi, and to which he gave Staff officers engaged in the battle were praised by Gen. McCall and his officers. The detachment of Gen. McCall's been greatly admired by the officers of the Forts, and Lieut. Thompson, of the Haine south of Charleston, and the 11th of the Alleghany) on the turnpike from Staunton.

The victory on the part of our troops is considered by the Alleghany) on the turnpike from Staunton.

The 1st brigade, Gen. Reynolds, advanced on the

The General Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.

The Confederate Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.

The Confederate Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.

The Confederate Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.

The Confederate Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.

The Confederate Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.

The Confederate Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.

The Confederate Commercial receivers deposited receipts for the payment of the several parts of the tax for the equivalent of the duty on the hoe. Difficulties are in places where it will be necessary to the whole of the reich. The customs house in Berlin consists of two buildings connected, the principal front being planned after the plan of the Netherland House, and the others being somewhat narrower, of one or two stories, and covered by a flat roof. A large number of drapers and peddlers are employed in the business. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country. The power of Congress would necessarily increase, as it would be able to control the revenue of the whole country.
DEC. 28.

MOORE'S RURAL NEW-YORKER.

While the sun's long arc is sinking in the west, and the birds are calling the farmer to his work, the rural reader is called to the contemplation of the many duties that lie before him. The rural reader should carefully consider the recommendations of the Rural New Yorker, as they are founded on the experience of those who have been in the same situation. The Rural New Yorker is a monthly magazine, published in New York, and containing a variety of articles on agriculture, horticulture, mechanics, and other subjects of interest to the rural reader.

Brief Reminders

This issue contains a number of articles on various topics, including agriculture, horticulture, and mechanics. The editor's column provides a summary of the current state of affairs in the rural world, and offers recommendations for the future. The Rural New Yorker also contains a number of advertisements, offering a variety of goods and services to the rural reader.

Markets, Commerce, &c.

Business is generally dull, and the farmers are doing little to improve the situation. The crops are largely unsold, and the prices are low. The editor recommends that farmers take advantage of all opportunities to sell their crops, and to buy those that they need at the lowest possible price.

GILMAN'S SHOE STORE.

No. 6 STATE STREET, ROCHESTER, N.Y.

This store offers a wide variety of shoes, boots, and other footwear, at reasonable prices. The store is located at the corner of State Street and Main Street, and is open daily from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM.

The News Condensed

The political situation is still uncertain, and the farmer should be prepared to take action as the situation develops. The editor recommends that farmers support the candidates who are most likely to benefit the rural community.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County · Historic Newspapers Collection
THE STORY-TELLER.

A FRENCH WOULD STORY.

"Yes, certainly," replied a little gentleman in a livery coat, "I assure you it is true. You will hear of it presently, I will have the account sent you as soon as possible."

"But why a whole French woman--"

"Yes, " Monsieur la Marquise," she is a remarkable person."

"Why is she remarkable?"

"She has been employed in various capacities; she has been a nurse, a maid, a chambermaid, a cook, a housekeeper, a laundress, and a servant of all sorts."

"And what is she now?"

"She is now employed as a governess."

"And who is she?"

"She is a very handsome young woman, with dark hair, blue eyes, and a sweet voice."

"And what is her name?"

"Her name is Marie de la Fontaine."

"And where does she live?"

"She lives in Paris, in the Rue de Rivoli."

"And what is her profession?"

"She teaches mathematics, music, and dancing."

"And how old is she?"

"She is twenty-five years old."

"And what is her character?"

"She is very amiable, very obliging, and very instructive."

"And what is her salary?"

"Her salary is two hundred and fifty francs per month."