The small farmer with five acres, and therefore with only a few acres to labor on, can produce by his labor a dollar a day. The small farmer must therefore be a poor farmer. By giving the best course to pursue to make the necessary skill to labor wisely and efficiently, the land of the small farmer will be made to produce its utmost profits; and, in addition to the beauty, the natural increase is so great as to make the next generation one of farmers. Thus, they are on the product of the land and so much more, and they have only $14000

Agriculture.

Agriculture and Notes.

A Small Farm—How to Make it Payable.

New English Farmer:—Will you give a hint as to the management of a small farm? I have a farm of five acres, and am not sure what course to pursue. I can afford to enable me, and others, in like circumstances, who depend on the prairie lands, and abundant produce of the

Mr. BENJAMIN CLARK, of Massachusetts, says the following:—The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted. The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted.

For the sake of making this matter plain, we will

The population of the five acres, and lay by something for a rainy day, off of this

This, at 37 cents per bushel, would yield $148. It is evident that some system must be pursued that will

This estimate we think is far too low.

This, however, can be improved by the addition of some amount of manure and considerable labor in feeding, so as to increase the yield. The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted. The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted.

The onion crop requires a great amount of labor. It may come from a blow, or injury in the form of a

The onion crop requires a great amount of labor. It may come from a blow, or injury in the form of a

And for the latter service, in the meso, and among the Atlantic and Mississippi, logs are of some value, as according to the practice of some of the neighboring; in the same way the Mississippi and Illinois were.

For the sake of making this matter plain, we will

For the sake of making this matter plain, we will

The onion crop requires a great amount of labor. It may come from a blow, or injury in the form of a

A Small Farm—How to Make it Payable.

New English Farmer:—Will you give a hint as to the management of a small farm? I have a farm of five acres, and am not sure what course to pursue. I can afford to enable me, and others, in like circumstances, who depend on the prairie lands, and abundant produce of the

Mr. BENJAMIN CLARK, of Massachusetts, says the following:—The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted. The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted.

For the sake of making this matter plain, we will

This estimate we think is far too low.

This, however, can be improved by the addition of some amount of manure and considerable labor in feeding, so as to increase the yield. The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted. The land being in high condition, the amount of manure and labor on an acre is to be planted.

The onion crop requires a great amount of labor. It may come from a blow, or injury in the form of a

The onion crop requires a great amount of labor. It may come from a blow, or injury in the form of a

And for the latter service, in the meso, and among the Atlantic and Mississippi, logs are of some value, as according to the practice of some of the neighboring; in the same way the Mississippi and Illinois were.
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Rural New- Yorker is a weekly newspaper published in New York City. It provides information and advice related to rural life, agriculture, and small communities. The text in the image is a combination of articles and advertisements, discussing various topics such as sheep farming, beekeeping, and agricultural practices.

The content includes discussions on the value and use of clover fields, the importance of beekeeping, and the benefits of ploughing. It also mentions the use of corn-cob meal as a fertilizer and provides tips on how to prevent sheep from running over stone walls.

The text is written in a style typical of late 19th-century newspapers, with a focus on practical advice and information for farmers and rural residents.

In conclusion, the Rural New- Yorker serves as a valuable resource for those interested in rural life, agriculture, and self-sufficiency, offering practical tips and advice for maintaining a self-sustaining lifestyle.
HORTICULTURAL.

CULTIVATION OF FLOWERS.

In our last we gave notice some time ago of the propensities of one of our neighborhood in the cultivation of flowers, and now we present a few additional sketches of the same subject.

The present season being one of great plenty in the market, the flower growers are not so much troubled with the price of their produce as they were last year, when the demand was not sufficient to meet the supply. The present year, however, is a much better one, and the flower growers are now in a much more advantageous position than they were last year.

We have seen the following advertisement in the Rochester Daily Union:

"The flowers of the present season are much superior in quality to those of last year. The sun is now shining on the flowers, and the air is warm and invigorating. The flowers are now in full bloom, and the market is filled with them."
Ladies Department.

[From the Daily New-Yorkers.]

BELLE IS NOT.

[Date: 1855-05-12]

'Vear in, 'year out, I have worn the same dress;
And in every season, in each succeeding clime,
I am so highly esteemed, and so well liked,
I may, perhaps, be taking a new bow.

Yet, although I have always been so good,
And yet, I have never been so bad.

But, alas! I am growing old,
And I must not wear the same old fashions.

For I am told that new fashions are always being invented.
And that the old ones are always being improved.

So, I must change the dress I have worn so long,
And try the new fashions that are being made.

For I want to be in fashion,
And not to be left behind.

But, alas! I am growing old,
And I must not wear the same old fashions.

For I am told that new fashions are always being invented.
And that the old ones are always being improved.

So, I must change the dress I have worn so long,
And try the new fashions that are being made.

For I want to be in fashion,
And not to be left behind.
The Young Muralist.

ELEAG LS FOR DEFENDS.

The Right hand of the Indian rests upon his scabbard; the left brandishes the club of office, and his long lance is propped against his cheek. Even in the midst of the fierce battle he contemplates the dance of his warrior, and the treacherous step of his enemy. He is the embodiment of courage, energy, and endurance; the embodiment of man's highest qualities.

In the midst of the scene, there is a sense of awe and terror. The Indian's gaze fixed upon his enemy, the warrior's glance searching for a chance to strike. The air is filled with the sound of battle, the roar of war cries, and the rush of arrows. But amidst it all, there is a sense of pride and glory. The Indian is a warrior, and he is ready to defend his land and people to the last drop of blood.

The Indian's eyes are filled with determination, his heart full of courage. He is ready to face whatever comes his way. He is the embodiment of strength, of resilience, and of hope. For he is a warrior, and he will not be defeated.

The Young Muralist.

MAKINAW; or, The Fortress of the Lakes and its Surroundings.

I. THE SQUARE.

On the night of my arrival at the square I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

II. THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA.

Here is a most assuredly a campus, with its laws and regulations, its rules and procedures. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

III. THE MUSEUM OF ART.

The museum is a place of beauty and wonder, with its galleries and exhibits. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

IV. THE CENTRAL LIBRARY.

The library is a place of knowledge and learning, with its shelves and stacks. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

V. THE CONVENTION CENTER.

The convention center is a place of business and commerce, with its halls and meeting rooms. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

VI. THE CITY HALL.

The city hall is a place of government and administration, with its offices and chambers. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

VII. THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The chamber of commerce is a place of business and commerce, with its offices and chambers. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

VIII. THE POWER COMPANY.

The power company is a place of energy and technology, with its power plants and distribution centers. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

IX. THE TELEPHONE COMPANY.

The telephone company is a place of communication and connectivity, with its lines and networks. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

X. THE ELECTRIC CARS COMPANY.

The electric cars company is a place of transportation and mobility, with its vehicles and networks. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

XI. THE CITY TRASH COMPANY.

The city trash company is a place of waste management and cleanliness, with its collection and disposal centers. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.

XII. THE CEMETERY COMMISSION.

The cemetery commission is a place of remembrance and reflection, with its graves and memorials. I was in that dreamy mood in which the will seems to be transformed into a kind of spiritual will, and the body becomes a mere instrument of movement. I went up to the square, where the stars and stripes have floated higher and higher, feeling perfectly fitted to the national tone of such a people as ours.
The garrison is in want of money but had no conveyances entered and classed in the usual manner, but recognition by the government from which it has State authority. Only about half the officers of Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, and says he believes that duties on imports will continue which will be followed by instantaneous reprisals.

The Southern Confederacy.

On the 2nd day of March, immediately after Mr. Lincoln’s inauguration, the six States which have formed themselves into a Southern Confederacy inaugurated, or leave the city, of Baltimore alive, if any attempt of the United States to maintain their army and navy, and an entire administration. He

A Treasury bill on sale at $97,000. The receipts of cotton are 78,712 bales, and could not maintain the suit otherwise.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The small pox has entirely disappeared from Columbia, and the small pox has entirely disappeared from Columbia.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.

The real value of taxable property in the State of Michigan was $2 per acre.
Legislature of New York.

SG: The bill to incorporate the county of Allegheny was presented to the Senate by the Governor, who was authorized by the Senate to sign the bill and return it to the House of Representatives. The bill was read and passed. - April 15, 1861.

The bill was sent to Schenectady and goes to New York direct.

Rival factions of Republicans, therefore, ing Speaker Littlejohn to receive the President elect, the whole assembly arose and greeted him with clap-

Bwitch off at Schenectady and go to New York direct

The President elect arrived in Albany at the date

place. The Troches have only to be tried to recommend up readily at the advance.

The new water-closets have no equals in this couy.

The PRINCE MARKETS.

THE WOOL MARKETS.

Rochester, Feb. 26, 1861.

THE CHIRURGICAL INSTRUMENTS.

Charcoal, soft 30

Apples, dried, ap ft....2.

Sales at $4 per 1,000. — I offer for sale

of the CONFEDERATION, in the CONVENTION to form the

one of the best, Autumnal bearing sorts.

The CONFEDERATION, in the CONVENTION to form the

with light transactions.

The THOMSON ABBEY INSTITUTE.

February 1861.

The illus.

more valuable premiums—yet we send whenever desired,

and more valuable premiums—yet we send whenever desired,

improved kinds for Cemeteries and other places where a

20 acres of wheat on the ground. Also, at

30,000,000 of people. We welcome you as the President elect of the United States.

in joint convention assembled, to welcome the President elect of the United States.

the deputies in the State departments reported

in the discharge of

30,000,000 of people. We welcome you as the President elect of the United States.

Bitch off at Schenectady and go to New York direct.

Rival factions of Republicans, therefore, ing Speaker Littlejohn to receive the President elect, the whole assembly arose and greeted him with clap-

The President elect arrived in Albany at the date

place. The Troches have only to be tried to recommend

up readily at the advance.

The new water-closets have no equals in this cou-

y.

The PRINCE MARKETS.

THE WOOL MARKETS.

Rochester, Feb. 26, 1861.

THE CHIRURGICAL INSTRUMENTS.

Charcoal, soft 30

Apples, dried, ap ft....2.

Sales at $4 per 1,000. — I offer for sale

of the CONFEDERATION, in the CONVENTION to form the

one of the best, Autumnal bearing sorts.

The CONFEDERATION, in the CONVENTION to form the

with light transactions.

The THOMSON ABBEY INSTITUTE.

February 1861.

The illus.

more valuable premiums—yet we send whenever desired,

and more valuable premiums—yet we send whenever desired,

improved kinds for Cemeteries and other places where a

20 acres of wheat on the ground. Also, at

30,000,000 of people. We welcome you as the President elect of the United States.

in joint convention assembled, to welcome the President elect of the United States.

the deputies in the State departments reported

in the discharge of

30,000,000 of people. We welcome you as the President elect of the United States.

Bitch off at Schenectady and go to New York direct.

Rival factions of Republicans, therefore, ing Speaker Littlejohn to receive the President elect, the whole assembly arose and greeted him with clap-

The President elect arrived in Albany at the date

place. The Troches have only to be tried to recommend

up readily at the advance.

The new water-closets have no equals in this cou-

y.

The PRINCE MARKETS.

THE WOOL MARKETS.

Rochester, Feb. 26, 1861.

THE CHIRURGICAL INSTRUMENTS.

Charcoal, soft 30

Apples, dried, ap ft....2.

Sales at $4 per 1,000. — I offer for sale

of the CONFEDERATION, in the CONVENTION to form the

one of the best, Autumnal bearing sorts.

The CONFEDERATION, in the CONVENTION to form the

with light transactions.

The THOMSON ABBEY INSTITUTE.

February 1861.

The illus.

more valuable premiums—yet we send whenever desired,

and more valuable premiums—yet we send whenever desired,

improved kinds for Cemeteries and other places where a

20 acres of wheat on the ground. Also, at

30,000,000 of people. We welcome you as the President elect of the United States.

in joint convention assembled, to welcome the President elect of the United States.

the deputies in the State departments reported

in the discharge of

30,000,000 of people. We welcome you as the President elect of the United States.

Bitch off at Schenectady and go to New York direct.
The Storg-Teller.

[Written for Moore's Rural New Yorker.

EDWARD RAYMOND.

A LOVE STORY.

"There was nothing in the world to love me so well as to marry me," the young lady said, "and because it was my own dear Paul, I am very glad you are here to help me with my wedding day." The young lady was ten years younger than the man she loved, and her hair and hazel eyes. She was happy to make Miss RAYMOND'S acquaintance.

"My 13, 5, 12, 10, 2, 3 was an English divine and mathematician. My 2, 6, 6, 6, 16 was an American poet, historian, and editor. My 18, 16, 7, 17 was a Hebrew month. My 16, 8, 6, 1, 5, 1 are easily found."

"I was called into the library to answer a few questions. Uncle asked me to put them there,—because I thought they were necessary. Uncle and aunt joyfully gave us their mutual vows, before only recorded upon the tablet of memory."