AGRICULTURAL.

VALUE OF STRAW FOR FEEDING.

If we take into consideration the number of acres of land which are utilized for the growth of grain, the amount of straw which is annually produced is not less than 120,000,000 tons. In many parts of the country, the straw is thrown away or burned, or it is sold at a very low rate. But in some sections, it is valuable and is used as feed for the cattle. The value of straw as a feed is not to be measured by its present price, but by its potential value. For example, if we could manufacture and sell straw for $1.00 per ton, it would be a valuable product.

W. H. WHITAKER.

Agricultural and Forestry Notes.

Agricultural Notes.

FEEDING.

The feeding of cattle is an important part of their management. The food that is given to the cattle should be carefully selected and of good quality. The quality of the food is determined by the amount of good grass, hay, and corn that is available.

TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHT
ROCHESTER, N. Y., FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1862.

(Whole No. 671.)

Moores' Rural New Yorker, and Daily Agricultural Journal, Legal, Literary, and Family Newspaper.

CONDUCTED BY D. D. T. MOORE.

WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF E. E. MANUS, Western Corresponding Editors.

The Heather, in Norwegian, is a new variety of horticultural interest to be noticed. It is the most freely flowering, and is produced with striking beauty. The Heather is a plant of considerable size, and is adapted to be grown in the open ground or in the greenhouse.

TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHT
ROCHESTER, N. Y., FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1862.

WASHINGTON EDITORIAL NOTES.

The editor of the New Yorker, in the latter case he may get elected Justice of the Peace. The editor is a man of considerable knowledge, and is well qualified to give advice on all important questions. If he is elected, he will be able to give the farmers of the district the benefit of his experience and knowledge. The election of such men is a step in the right direction.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informed on all important questions, and is well qualified to give advice on all important matters.

The editor of the New Yorker is a man of much ability and knowledge. He is well informe Rural Spirit of the Press.

The following article from the New York Farmer will be found very interesting for some of our rural readers, who are always looking after new ideas, and who are always ready to try new experiments in their husbandry. The writer of the article, Mr. W. E. Pyles, is a man of great ability and experience in the agricultural line, and is well known throughout the West, where he has spent a great deal of time and money in promoting the interests of agriculture.

In the month of February, 1860, Stephen M. Gage, of the Middlebury Agricultural Society, was appointed Secretary of the New England Agricultural Convention, held at Woburn, Mass., and gave a very striking and able address, on the subject of culture by means of wire fencing, and on the subject of wood fence. His address was so well received that it was adopted by the Convention, and he was continued in office for three years. His work was most successful, and he is now considered one of the best advocates for the use of wire fencing in the United States.

Crossing the Horns of Cattle.

[In the letter to the editor, the writer describes how to shape the horns of cattle, including the use of a gimlet hole and a gimlet to remove the horn. The writer also recommends painting the horns to prevent their being eaten by cattle.]

Farmers- have made less than one barrel of sirup; many of them are not in the habit of keeping the RURAL with them, and not only taken the RURAL with them, but have also taken the RURAL to the West, and not only taken the RURAL to the West, but have also taken the RURAL to the East, and not only taken the RURAL to the East, but have also taken the RURAL to the South, and not only taken the RURAL to the South, but have also taken the RURAL to the North.]

But it is the West, and not the East, that is the great object of our present effort. It is the West that we wish to see gain favor and popularity in the West, until it probably has gained favor and popularity in the West, until it probably has gained favor and popularity in the West, until it probably has gained favor and popularity in the West, until it probably has gained favor and popularity in the West, until it probably has gained favor and popularity in the West, until it probably has gained favor and popularity in the West, until it probably has gained favor and popularity in the West.

And so the West, and not the East, that is the great object of our present effort.
were soon wandering over the area devoted to nurseryman is ingly to his customers; the amateur who seeks to the dwarfs—some of them still holding their fruit;
remarks made of the advantage of a specimen pruning, the habits of growth, character of foliage,
There is but one remedy for pear blight, so far as I asked. "Shake him off on sheets and destroy him.
trouble than it is to be deprived of the fruit" It is insect are most injurious.

each is alike easily exterminated if vigilance is season when the weed and the harvest of equally brilliant, beautiful, fragrant, and English varieties. It seems to me that some of the demned them. What the reasons for this condemnatain advantages resulting from this mode of training so, they ought to be faithfully presented. The ad-

Horticultural Notes.

Native maple is in the latest editions of his botany, does not give posed situations, but green in the
8. fragilis
has been identified by gentlemen in this State as
8. fragilis
by gentlemen in this State as
8. fragilis

THE VISITOR, A DAY SCHOOL MONTHLY.

A DAY SCHOOL MONTHLY.

IN ALL THE DENOMINATIONS.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.

REV. ROBERT M. HATFIELD, Principal.
Ladies’ Department.

[Written for Moore’s Rural New-Yorker.]

THE LOST DAUGHTERS.

July 5th.

New York City.

By Mrs. D. B. HOWARD.

TO MADAM:—

I don’t often write, as I’ve said, and have too many other people to write to, but when I see such lovely little girls in the streets, I can’t help stopping to talk to them.

I don’t mean that I have any particular interest in little girls—I don’t. But when I see them, I can’t help noticing that they are so beautiful and so old-fashioned, it makes me feel ashamed of myself. I thought I was a nice little girl when I was a child, but I wasn’t. Now I know I’m not, and I wish I were.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

MADAM:—

I have a little girl who is six years old, and she has just been lost. I want to find her, and I’m sure you can help me. She was last seen in the neighborhood of the Moore’s Rural New-Yorker office, on the corner of Second Avenue and Twenty-third Street, New York City. She is a blonde-haired child, with blue eyes and a sweet smile. If anyone sees her, please let me know. I will reward whoever finds her.

Thank you very much.

[Signature]

Choosing a Location.

[Written for Moore’s Rural New-Yorker.]

COURT OF LOVE.

COURT, NO. 46834.

[Address: 123 Main Street, New York City]

May 3, 1862.

TO MADAM:—

I am writing to inquire about the court of love, which is supposed to be held here in New York City. I have heard that it is a place where people can find love and happiness, but I don’t know where to find it. Please let me know if you know of any place where I can find love and happiness.

Thank you very much.

[Signature]

MADAM:—

The court of love is held at the Moore’s Rural New-Yorker office, on the corner of Second Avenue and Twenty-third Street, New York City. It is a place where people can find love and happiness, and it is open to all comers. If you want to find love and happiness, you should come to the court of love.

Thank you very much.

[Signature]

MADAM:—

I am writing to inquire about the court of love, which is supposed to be held here in New York City. I have heard that it is a place where people can find love and happiness, but I don’t know where to find it. Please let me know if you know of any place where I can find love and happiness.

Thank you very much.

[Signature]

MADAM:—

I am writing to inquire about the court of love, which is supposed to be held here in New York City. I have heard that it is a place where people can find love and happiness, but I don’t know where to find it. Please let me know if you know of any place where I can find love and happiness.

Thank you very much.

[Signature]

Sabbath Musings.

[Written for Moore’s Rural New-Yorker.]

SABBATH MUSINGS.

May 8, 1862.

To the Editor:

I have been reading the newspaper, and I am very interested in the subject of love and happiness. I have been trying to find love and happiness for a long time, but I haven’t been able to find it. I don’t know what to do. Please let me know if you have any suggestions.

Thank you very much.

[Signature]

The Editor:—

I am writing to inquire about the court of love, which is supposed to be held here in New York City. I have heard that it is a place where people can find love and happiness, but I don’t know where to find it. Please let me know if you know of any place where I can find love and happiness.

Thank you very much.

[Signature]

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County · Historic Newspapers Collection
Palermo. He had a fleet of 2,000 ships and 8,000 Carthaginian fleet numbered 150 vessels, with 150,000 foot and 10,000 horse.

The city of Thebes had a hundred gates, and could send out at each gate 10,000 fighting men. Ten thousand horses and 1,000,000 foot fell on the army on the Upper Potomac was over 31,000. He also reported that he was then sending to that army all the horses he could procure.

Every morning the enemy fired a shot over our heads, and every night they bombarded us with shells. The rebels were in a state of constant alarm, and were making preparations for a general attack. They had sent out a large force of cavalry to reconnoiter, and were on the look-out for an opportunity to forward a attack. The regulars, on the other hand, were perfectly convinced that the rebels were preparing to make a desperate assault. They therefore made all necessary dispositions for resisting any attack, and were determined to meet the enemy with all their might.

The rebels were now in full force, and the city of Richmond was in imminent danger. It appeared as if the rebellion was about to burst forth in all its fury. The people were in the greatest excitement, and every one was determined to resist the enemy with all their power. The city fathers had met, and resolved to do everything in their power to repel the insurrection.

The rebels were now in full force, and the city of Richmond was in imminent danger. It appeared as if the rebellion was about to burst forth in all its fury. The people were in the greatest excitement, and every one was determined to resist the enemy with all their power. The city fathers had met, and resolved to do everything in their power to repel the insurrection.

The rebels were now in full force, and the city of Richmond was in imminent danger. It appeared as if the rebellion was about to burst forth in all its fury. The people were in the greatest excitement, and every one was determined to resist the enemy with all their power. The city fathers had met, and resolved to do everything in their power to repel the insurrection.

The rebels were now in full force, and the city of Richmond was in imminent danger. It appeared as if the rebellion was about to burst forth in all its fury. The people were in the greatest excitement, and every one was determined to resist the enemy with all their power. The city fathers had met, and resolved to do everything in their power to repel the insurrection.

The rebels were now in full force, and the city of Richmond was in imminent danger. It appeared as if the rebellion was about to burst forth in all its fury. The people were in the greatest excitement, and every one was determined to resist the enemy with all their power. The city fathers had met, and resolved to do everything in their power to repel the insurrection.
A letter from Halleys Spy in the Mobile papers, says—There were not one thousand men on board of our fleet off Mobile yesterday. We saw by the field glasses the Confederate batteries on the Mobile Point and Spanish Fort, and can distinctly see their guns in action. The two battleships were the most conspicuous objects along the point, and the shells fell in the bay with a heavy report. It is said that the Federal fleet is now lying off Mobile, with a strong guard to prevent any attempt at landing. The fortifications of Mobile are in a state of great activity, and the guns are being prepared for battle.

The news is received on board the Savannah that General Hooker has been assigned to command of this department. The appointment of General Hooker is most welcome. He is a man of great ability, and will doubtless bring about a change for the better. The department is in a very critical state, and it is hoped that General Hooker will be able to restore order and discipline.

The first battle of the war was fought near Fort Sumter, S.C., on Sunday night, April 12th. The rebels, under Gen. Beauregard, invested the fort, and after a long and desperate siege, succeeded in capturing it.

The result of the battle was a complete victory for the Federal forces, and the capture of Fort Sumter. The fort was surrendered to the rebels on Sunday evening, and the Federal garrison was immediately removed to other parts.

The rebels have taken possession of the fort, and have raised a flag of truce. The Federal forces have withdrawn to other parts, and the war continues.

The news is received on board the Savannah that General Hooker has been assigned to command of this department. The appointment of General Hooker is most welcome. He is a man of great ability, and will doubtless bring about a change for the better. The department is in a very critical state, and it is hoped that General Hooker will be able to restore order and discipline.

The first battle of the war was fought near Fort Sumter, S.C., on Sunday night, April 12th. The rebels, under Gen. Beauregard, invested the fort, and after a long and desperate siege, succeeded in capturing it.

The result of the battle was a complete victory for the Federal forces, and the capture of Fort Sumter. The fort was surrendered to the rebels on Sunday evening, and the Federal garrison was immediately removed to other parts.

The rebels have taken possession of the fort, and have raised a flag of truce. The Federal forces have withdrawn to other parts, and the war continues.

The news is received on board the Savannah that General Hooker has been assigned to command of this department. The appointment of General Hooker is most welcome. He is a man of great ability, and will doubtless bring about a change for the better. The department is in a very critical state, and it is hoped that General Hooker will be able to restore order and discipline.

The first battle of the war was fought near Fort Sumter, S.C., on Sunday night, April 12th. The rebels, under Gen. Beauregard, invested the fort, and after a long and desperate siege, succeeded in capturing it.

The result of the battle was a complete victory for the Federal forces, and the capture of Fort Sumter. The fort was surrendered to the rebels on Sunday evening, and the Federal garrison was immediately removed to other parts.

The rebels have taken possession of the fort, and have raised a flag of truce. The Federal forces have withdrawn to other parts, and the war continues.

The news is received on board the Savannah that General Hooker has been assigned to command of this department. The appointment of General Hooker is most welcome. He is a man of great ability, and will doubtless bring about a change for the better. The department is in a very critical state, and it is hoped that General Hooker will be able to restore order and discipline.

The first battle of the war was fought near Fort Sumter, S.C., on Sunday night, April 12th. The rebels, under Gen. Beauregard, invested the fort, and after a long and desperate siege, succeeded in capturing it.

The result of the battle was a complete victory for the Federal forces, and the capture of Fort Sumter. The fort was surrendered to the rebels on Sunday evening, and the Federal garrison was immediately removed to other parts.

The rebels have taken possession of the fort, and have raised a flag of truce. The Federal forces have withdrawn to other parts, and the war continues.

The news is received on board the Savannah that General Hooker has been assigned to command of this department. The appointment of General Hooker is most welcome. He is a man of great ability, and will doubtless bring about a change for the better. The department is in a very critical state, and it is hoped that General Hooker will be able to restore order and discipline.

The first battle of the war was fought near Fort Sumter, S.C., on Sunday night, April 12th. The rebels, under Gen. Beauregard, invested the fort, and after a long and desperate siege, succeeded in capturing it.

The result of the battle was a complete victory for the Federal forces, and the capture of Fort Sumter. The fort was surrendered to the rebels on Sunday evening, and the Federal garrison was immediately removed to other parts.

The rebels have taken possession of the fort, and have raised a flag of truce. The Federal forces have withdrawn to other parts, and the war continues.

The news is received on board the Savannah that General Hooker has been assigned to command of this department. The appointment of General Hooker is most welcome. He is a man of great ability, and will doubtless bring about a change for the better. The department is in a very critical state, and it is hoped that General Hooker will be able to restore order and discipline.

The first battle of the war was fought near Fort Sumter, S.C., on Sunday night, April 12th. The rebels, under Gen. Beauregard, invested the fort, and after a long and desperate siege, succeeded in capturing it.

The result of the battle was a complete victory for the Federal forces, and the capture of Fort Sumter. The fort was surrendered to the rebels on Sunday evening, and the Federal garrison was immediately removed to other parts.

The rebels have taken possession of the fort, and have raised a flag of truce. The Federal forces have withdrawn to other parts, and the war continues.
MOORE'S RURAL NEW-YORKER.

Died.

[Article about a person's death, including dates and other details.]

NEW NATIONAL LOAN.

[Article about a new national loan, including dates and other details.]

Equal to any in the World!!!

MAY BE PROCURED

[Article about land for sale, including details on prices and conditions.]

TO FARMERS, TOLD IN, LIVESTOCK BROKERS.

[Article about livestock for sale, including details on prices and conditions.]

Prizes.

[Article about prizes, including details on the winners and other relevant information.]

Flour and Grain.

[Article about flour and grain prices, including details on the market conditions.]

Minerals.

[Article about minerals, including details on the market conditions.]

Note.

[Article about notes, including details on the conditions and market conditions.]

THE PROVISION MARKETS.

[Article about the provision markets, including details on the market conditions.]

THE STOCK MARKET.

[Article about the stock market, including details on the market conditions.]

THE PAYMENT MARKET.

[Article about the payment market, including details on the market conditions.]

MIECHEE, M. D., Draper and Tailor, 18 East Street, Rochester, N. Y.

[Article about a draper and tailor, including details on the services offered.]

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT—ON LONG CREDIT.

[Article about prices and terms of payment, including details on the market conditions.]

Address Land Commissioner, ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD-CHICAGO, ILL.
Kate's eyes flashed with a splendid re-

KATE'S SOLDIER.

Kate had not courage to tell him that his young

KATE'S SOLDIER.

KATE'S SOLDIER.

MOORE'S RURAL NEW-YORKER.

CLOVER THEATRE AND MULLER, Broad St., New York, May 30, 1862, Dec. 20th, 1863, and afterwards.