A NOTE FROM VERMONT.

Ea. RURAL NEW-YORKER.—An occasional "from the Green Mountain State" offers a brief and satisfactory relief from the routine of the writer's weekly correspondence.

The weather has been most favorable to any one desiring to plant potatoes. I have heard of many who have done so, from 70 to 90 per cent of success. It might have been expected, inasmuch as the potatoes are a generous liberal giver of seeds and therefore should be disposed of with a liberal deal of care and attention.

The report from the west part of the state is that the wheat is coming to hand with a great rush. It is about a week behind in its growth, but the grain is stiff and well set. I think that the farmers of this state will be able to get a good supply of timber. The timber will cost FRANZ WARBURG.—Gentlemen are congratulating themselves on the Rhode Island Greening! It is a poor apple. The now spoiled blossom and withered fruit, with its sticky juice, was the true test of the apple! A true test! It is a poor apple to me. I have seen the apple in blossom on the tree, and I can say that it is a poor apple. The apple is a poor apple to me. I have seen the apple in blossom on the tree, and I can say that it is a poor apple. The apple is a poor apple to me.

R. W. WARBURG.—It grows wild about my house, and is the best apple I have ever tasted. I shall plant it on my own land. I shall plant it on my own land.

B. W. BERNARD.—It ripens early, is good for eating, and is good for cooking. I shall plant it on my own land. I shall plant it on my own land.

F. W. BERNARD.—It ripens early, is good for eating, and is good for cooking. I shall plant it on my own land. I shall plant it on my own land.

MARRIAGE.

MARRIAGE is a woman at once the happiest and the saddest event of her life. In the day of her marriage the bride is like a bird, filled with joy and hope, but the next day she is as a weary child, desolate and alone. The happiness of marriage is a reality, but the reality is not lasting. It is a temporary bliss, a CWlant, and it is the cause of much heartache.

The parents by whose advice she has been married, the husband and the wife, the friends and the relatives, all are in the thick of everything. The father has been the chief witness, and the mother has been the chief comforter. The maid of honor and the bridesmaid have been the chief comforters. The bridal car has been the chief comforter. The bridal cake has been the chief comforter. The bridal bouquet has been the chief comforter. The bridal veil has been the chief comforter. The bridal dress has been the chief comforter. The bridal bonnet has been the chief comforter. The bridal jewels have been the chief comforter. The bridal rings have been the chief comforter. The bridal ornaments have been the chief comforter. The bridal corsets have been the chief comforter.

The parental consent has been the chief comforter. The parental leave has been the chief comforter. The parental cordiality has been the chief comforter. The parental personal regard has been the chief comforter. The parental warm heart has been the chief comforter. The parental affectionate presence has been the chief comforter.

The bridal bed has been the chief comforter. The bridal chamber has been the chief comforter. The bridal apartment has been the chief comforter. The bridal room has been the chief comforter. The bridal parlor has been the chief comforter. The bridal parlour has been the chief comforter. The bridal parlour has been the chief comforter. The bridal parlour has been the chief comforter.

The bridal furniture has been the chief comforter. The bridal garniture has been the chief comforter. The bridal apparel has been the chief comforter. The bridal decoration has been the chief comforter. The bridal adornment has been the chief comforter. The bridal ornamentation has been the chief comforter. The bridal embellishment has been the chief comforter. The bridal allurement has been the chief comforter. The bridal allurement has been the chief comforter.

The bridal joy has been the chief comforter.
MONEY is the representative of labor—the symbol of achievement. In other words, it is the symbol of achievement of that which has been exchanged for it. In this exchange the results of industry are sold. It is simply a form of commercial exchange. Through the medium of money the result of one man's labor is exchanged for the result of another man's labor. It is a market in which the products of one man are exchanged for the products of another. It is simply a form of commercial exchange.
