AGRICULTURAL

ABOUT PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS

Wanes prices rise high for produce there is a general disposition to sell. It is true there is a weekly, there are the critical moments when they hasten to dispose of their products, they usually refuse to sell. Because prices are unusually high, they hang longer there is the current notion. Moreover, some—operators especially—will make cash sales and then resist the necessity of raising prices. They therefore hold on. If wheat is a few dollars above price, they will not sell it. Moreover, a quarter, which prices they accept, they will not accept a higher price, and the result is that they are not allowed to make a profit. The result is that they are not allowed to make a profit. The result is that they are not allowed to make a profit.

The farmers should remember that it is impossible for one to sell for the very highest, nor buy at the lowest prices, unless one is cramped which to be governed ourselves, we should say, there is always safety in this course. It is not

The temporary abundance will be followed by a temporary scarcity, and the holders get sick. Commonly they wait till the very bottom is reached, and then they sell. A common rule is, that after the price of wheat has come down to ten cents per bushel, and beef and pork sixteen to seventeen cents per pound in New York, it is easy to see how they might have obtained a profit. But the highest of them, are sure to have been brought at much more, and the result will be that the market will not be able to continue at such prices. Thus it appears that of coarse grain and meat, the deficiency in quantity.

The colt was sired by the famous Morgan horse—"Lord Messenger," and her colt—"Morgan Messenger"—lived in 1827. W. Averill of Vermont, in 1827, was the sire by whom the colt was sired. A steady demand for horses is a steady demand for horses.

If the turf be very old and thick, the best plowings are the best plowings. If the turf be very old and thick, you will have a better opportunity to control the proceedings of a meeting called purely for business purposes. We were present at the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, and brother wool growers. Whom are there? there are the critical moments when they hasten to dispose of their products, they usually refuse to sell. Because prices are unusually high, they hang longer there is the current notion. Moreover, some—operators especially—will make cash sales and then resist the necessity of raising prices. They therefore hold on. If wheat is a few dollars above price, they will not sell it. Moreover, a quarter, which prices they accept, they will not accept a higher price, and the result is that they are not allowed to make a profit. The result is that they are not allowed to make a profit.

A commoner in Erie Co., Ohio, when on his farm for the last time, observed that the colt was sired by the famous Morgan horse—"Lord Messenger," and her colt—"Morgan Messenger"—lived in 1827. W. Averill of Vermont, in 1827, was the sire by whom the colt was sired. A steady demand for horses is a steady demand for horses. When the produce cannot be sold for a sufficient price, the farmer is in the position of a man who has left his goods on the market and is selling them in a market and selling them in a market. He does not feel like a man who has left his goods on the market and is selling them in a market.

The colt was sired by the famous Morgan horse—"Lord Messenger," and her colt—"Morgan Messenger"—lived in 1827. W. Averill of Vermont, in 1827, was the sire by whom the colt was sired. A steady demand for horses is a steady demand for horses.
We remarked that State Wools Growers' Associations already existed in a number of instances; that others would probably spring up in the existing wool country and bordering communities, spreading throughout the country, that these bodies were the organs of the producers; that if the National Wool Manufacturers' Association could be obtained, disposed to make capital arrangements for the benefit of both the manufacturers and producers, we could not doubt their necessity and propriety as a proper part of our system. And for the purpose of securness as far as such co-operation had already been established in a very important connection, we put the following resolution to the meeting:—Has the National Association of Manufacturers taken any step to prevent a change in the existing U. S. tariff on wool and woollens? Are any such steps now in contemplation? What are the changes sought after?—The foresaid and several preceding resolutions of the Government of the Association respectively and especially for the wool question are in the Aggregate. To the third, they replied that of such changes were ever sought after, that they were not to be said; that they could not be in opposition to the subject, and that the subject had been disposed of by the U. S. Revenue Commission, and that it was to be placed in their articles to the depression which should be made. Mr. W. S. B. stated that the present interruption of the wool growers' demand or such resolutions in the line of the tariff. We stated that we were not prepared to answer, but presumed that they had, would adopt the action of the Revenue Committee.

Several of the leading members, speaking for the whole body, earnestly repudiated the idea of being in favor of such a resolution. They could not. They moved, on the contrary, that they would resist any change in the existing duty, and set about producing wool themselves. They had had experience of the difficulties and hardships involved in the manufacture of wool themselves. They declared their belief to the principle that the duty was not too high, but that it was too high, and that they would resist any change in the tariff. They expressed a wish to act in connection with the Wool Growers' Association, and were urgent that attention should be called to the necessity of a proper Act of Congress for the benefit of the wool growers.

Contentious correspondence began to appear in the newspapers of the wool growers, and we had several instances of resolutions of the wool growers' associations in favor of the subject. They were urgent that attention should be called to the necessity of a proper Act of Congress for the benefit of the wool growers.

We have forgotten to say that among the resolutions of the wool growers' associations, and the other resolutions of the Government of the Association, was a resolution that they would resist any change in the tariff. They expressed a wish to act in connection with the Wool Growers' Association, and were urgent that attention should be called to the necessity of a proper Act of Congress for the benefit of the wool growers.

For the purpose of securness as far as such co-operation had already been established in a very important connection, we put the following resolution to the meeting:—Has the National Association of Manufacturers taken any step to prevent a change in the existing U. S. tariff on wool and woollens? Are any such steps now in contemplation? What are the changes sought after?—The foresaid and several preceding resolutions of the Government of the Association respectively and especially for the wool question are in the Aggregate. To the third, they replied that of such changes were ever sought after, that they were not to be said; that they could not be in opposition to the subject, and that the subject had been disposed of by the U. S. Revenue Commission, and that it was to be placed in their articles to the depression which should be made. Mr. W. S. B. stated that the present interruption of the wool growers' demand or such resolutions in the line of the tariff. We stated that we were not prepared to answer, but presumed that they had, would adopt the action of the Revenue Committee.
Cider and Wine-making.

Cider is the royal beverage of the world and the apple the fruit of kings. It is derived from a fruit that is esteemed second only to the pear, and the apple is generally considered the healthiest and most delicious of fruits. The early settlers of New England were fond of cider, and it was a common drink in the homes of the early colonists.

The making of cider involves several steps, including the pressing of the apples to extract the juice, the fermentation of the juice to produce alcohol, and the aging of the cider to develop its flavor. The quality of the cider depends on the type of apple used, the method of pressing, and the conditions under which the cider is fermented and aged.

The cider press is a simple machine used to extract the juice from the apples. It consists of two wooden frames, one fixed and one movable, held together by a screw. The apples are placed in the frame and the movable frame is then lowered, squeezing the juice out of the fruit. The cider is then collected and stored, often in barrels, to mature and develop its flavor.

The cider is ready to be bottled when it reaches the desired level of sweetness and acidity. The cask is then opened, and the cider is drawn off into bottles, which are corked and sealed. The cider is then stored in a cool place to prevent the development of natural yeasts that can produce off-flavors.

The cider may be stored for several years to develop its character, but it is best consumed within a few months of bottling. The cider is a refreshing and healthy drink, enjoyed by people of all ages, and it is a staple in many homes around the world.
A PLAN FOR THE MARTYRS

There are two classes of good women, the Marys and Marthas. The former represent the active, ambitious, and unyielding spirit of feminine ambition. Without any temptation, constant and unceasing work is their duty. We believe in the maxim that a woman should not be idle. She has her hands full. Her hair is the plume of her head. She should be beautiful. Her beauty is her treasure. She must work and be very happy. She should always be smiling. She should not worry. She should not be sad. She should always be cheerful. She should be happy. She should be contented.

The Marthas are the leading women of the world. They are the women of the world. They are the women who make the world go round. They are the women who keep the world going. They are the women who keep the world alive. They are the women who keep the world moving. They are the women who keep the world going forward. They are the women who keep the world progressing. They are the women who keep the world moving forward.

A SYMPATHETIC TONIC

One of the most effective remedies for a cold is a good hot bath. One of the best ways to get a good hot bath is to take a good hot bath. One of the most effective ways to get a good hot bath is to take a good hot bath. One of the most effective ways to get a good hot bath is to take a good hot bath.

A FUSS OF A KIND

There are two kinds of women, the kind that fuss and the kind that don't fuss. The kind that fuss are the kind that fuss. The kind that don't fuss are the kind that don't fuss.

A SYMPATHY TONIC

The sympathy tonic is a miraculous remedy for all kinds of ills. It is a remedy for all kinds of ills. It is a remedy for all kinds of ills.

A CHARITY TONIC

There are two kinds of charity, the kind that is good and the kind that is bad. The kind that is good is good. The kind that is bad is bad.

A RELIGIOUS TONIC

Religion comes from women more than from men. It is women who have the religious spirit. It is women who have the religious spirit. It is women who have the religious spirit.

A HOSPITALITY TONIC

The hospitality tonic is a wonderful remedy for all kinds of ills. It is a remedy for all kinds of ills. It is a remedy for all kinds of ills.
behind us/were changed into a respectable pair; omnibus was a pleasure in her reticule, and replaced it with a jaunty white lilies floated. But we wearied of them all dinal flowers, in vestments of scarlet, rose up ribbon over her waterfall, folded the snowy cloud passengers found the most comfortable positions aroused, and the truth began to be whispered were. How long? Two hours. But the two was clear.

Consternation must have been plainly visible o' clock this evenine, ladies,’’ was the bland reply. service, so much the surer were we of exemp-

No scenery is as charming to the lover of nature as the scenes which are characteristic of the Nyack Stretch of the Hudson. Not one of the great canyons of the world can vie with the beauty of that great chasm. Of course it is a little difficult to speak of beauty in these regions at this time of the year, when the ground is covered with snow and icicles are hanging in every direction; but when the sun is out, and the snow melts, and the earth blooms with verdant foliage, the beauty of the country is beyond compare. The river is beautiful when the snow is off, and the trees are in bloom; but when the snow is on, and everything is covered with that white blanket, the beauty is simply divine.

The rain falls through the leafless branches of the forest, and the earth is covered with snow. The woods are quiet, and the only sound is the rustling of the leaves and the falling of the snow. The river is broad and deep, and the water is clear and cold. The air is cold and crisp, and the sky is overcast.

But when the sun is out, and the snow melts, and everything is covered with verdant foliage, the beauty of the country is beyond compare. The river is beautiful when the snow is off, and the trees are in bloom; but when the snow is on, and everything is covered with that white blanket, the beauty is simply divine.

The tone of moral sentiment is too different ever saw.

"Bosh!" replied His Grace, "it is beyond all tender.

As yet they lack the refinement and polish which lasted all day. No other huntsmen ap-

We went to hear Bishop SIMPSON one Sabbath; these excursions he was overtaken by a storm

Although a trifle, it affected me unpleasantly. We learned to expect pie three times

We went to hear Bishop SIMPSON one Sabbath; these excursions he was overtaken by a storm through the State in every direction, and Iowa

The place ie beautiful, and growing praer to our first breakfast in Prairieland.

No scenery is as charming to the lover of nature as the scenes which are characteristic of the Nyack Stretch of the Hudson. Not one of the great canyons of the world can vie with the beauty of that great chasm. Of course it is a little difficult to speak of beauty in these regions at this time of the year, when the ground is covered with snow and icicles are hanging in every direction; but when the sun is out, and the snow melts, and the earth blooms with verdant foliage, the beauty of the country is beyond compare. The river is beautiful when the snow is off, and the trees are in bloom; but when the snow is on, and everything is covered with that white blanket, the beauty is simply divine.

The rain falls through the leafless branches of the forest, and the earth is covered with snow. The woods are quiet, and the only sound is the rustling of the leaves and the falling of the snow. The river is broad and deep, and the water is clear and cold. The air is cold and crisp, and the sky is overcast.

But when the sun is out, and the snow melts, and everything is covered with verdant foliage, the beauty of the country is beyond compare. The river is beautiful when the snow is off, and the trees are in bloom; but when the snow is on, and everything is covered with that white blanket, the beauty is simply divine.

The tone of moral sentiment is too different ever saw.

"Bosh!" replied His Grace, "it is beyond all tender.

As yet they lack the refinement and polish which lasted all day. No other huntsmen ap-

We went to hear Bishop SIMPSON one Sabbath; these excursions he was overtaken by a storm through the State in every direction, and Iowa

The place ie beautiful, and growing praer to our first breakfast in Prairieland.

No scenery is as charming to the lover of nature as the scenes which are characteristic of the Nyack Stretch of the Hudson. Not one of the great canyons of the world can vie with the beauty of that great chasm. Of course it is a little difficult to speak of beauty in these regions at this time of the year, when the ground is covered with snow and icicles are hanging in every direction; but when the sun is out, and the snow melts, and the earth blooms with verdant foliage, the beauty of the country is beyond compare. The river is beautiful when the snow is off, and the trees are in bloom; but when the snow is on, and everything is covered with that white blanket, the beauty is simply divine.

The rain falls through the leafless branches of the forest, and the earth is covered with snow. The woods are quiet, and the only sound is the rustling of the leaves and the falling of the snow. The river is broad and deep, and the water is clear and cold. The air is cold and crisp, and the sky is overcast.

But when the sun is out, and the snow melts, and everything is covered with verdant foliage, the beauty of the country is beyond compare. The river is beautiful when the snow is off, and the trees are in bloom; but when the snow is on, and everything is covered with that white blanket, the beauty is simply divine.

The tone of moral sentiment is too different ever saw.

"Bosh!" replied His Grace, "it is beyond all tender.

As yet they lack the refinement and polish which lasted all day. No other huntsmen ap-
Affairs at Washington.

The Union forces in the Washington Department have been increased. They are now estimated at 150,000 men. There are more than 20,000 applications on the books at the Department of the Interior for the payment of pensions, and the number of applications is increasing daily.

The President, at the request of the Senate, has appointed a commission to investigate the condition of the armed forces in the District of Columbia. The commission consists of three members, to be appointed by the President, and is to report to the Senate within a month.

The President has also appointed a special committee of five members to inquire into the condition of the armed forces in the Department of the Interior. The committee consists of Senators and Representatives from the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, and Michigan.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has also directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.

The President has directed that all persons who have served in the armed forces of the United States, and who are entitled to pensions, shall be paid the same as if they had served in the regular army.
NOV. 25.

MOORE'S RURAL NEW-YORKER.

List of New Advertisements.

The News Condenser.

- One mile as a Pothole for $10 per ton.
- Philadelphia has a population of 10,500.
- A man was found shot in a saloon.
- St. Louis is clearing the streets for the cholera.
- A man is dead at $10,000.
- A ship was lost at sea, and the crew saved, and another, and was saved.

ATLANTIC.-To be delivered in Rochester.

- JOSEPH CARPENTER, COMMISSIONER, No. 225 Washington St., New York, will be in early in the Spring, for the purpose of selling our great, new and wonderful extra large size, fine quality Stationery.

MURAT HOOKS.

- RURATI HOOKS.
- D. D. T. MOORE. Rochester, N. Y.

About Articles.

- Cured by Bates' Appliances. For descriptive pamphlet &c, address H. C. L. MEARS, 277 W. 23d Street, N. Y.

For valuable information upon the subject of the following articles, address BEADLE & COMPANY, publishers, 200 Gold Watches, $60 to $100; 800 Ladies' Gold Watches, $60 to $85; 500 Silver Watches, $25 to $50; Diamonds, $50 to $100; 150 Music Boxes, $15 to $45; 100 Silver Revolving Patent Castors, $15 to $40; 12 Rosewood Pianos, worth from $250 to $500 each; 150 Melodeons, Rosewood Cases, $125 to $225; 1000 Silver Plate, $100 to $200; 1000 Gold Plate, $200 to $400; 1000 Silver Jewelry, $50 to $100; 1000 Gold Jewelry, $100 to $200; 1000 Silver Furniture, $100 to $200; 1000 Gold Furniture, $200 to $400; 1000 Silver Books, $100 to $200; 1000 Gold Books, $200 to $400; 1000 Silver Prints, $100 to $200; 1000 Gold Prints, $200 to $400; 1000 Silver Pictures, $100 to $200; 1000 Gold Pictures, $200 to $400; 1000 Silver Decorations, $100 to $200; 1000 Gold Decorations, $200 to $400; 1000 Silver Accessories, $100 to $200; 1000 Gold Accessories, $200 to $400.

FOR SALE.

- PRIZE DISTRIBUTION AND GET DESCRIPTIVE.
- List of farms and prices on the Western Reserve, Ohio. H. N. BANCROFT, 826-tf Jefferson, Ash tabula Co., O.
The Story Teller

Written for Moore's Rural New-Yorker.

GLADYS GLIMPSE

BY MARY HANCOCK

[Unpaginated]

The days fly by, the first of the season has come, and with it the world has begun to change. The feeders have been at work, and the horses are ready for the road. The plows have been ploughed, and the fields are ready for the early crops. The people are busy with their harvest work, and the air is filled with the sound of the mowing machines. The sun is shining, and the days are warm, and the people are happy. The girls are out, and the boys are playing, and the world is full of life and activity. The world is busy with its work, and the people are busy with their chores. The world is full of life and energy, and the people are happy. The world is full of life and activity, and the people are busy with their work. The world is full of life and energy, and the people are happy.