National Work.

PROPOSALS. By Joseph M. Sanderson of Philadelphia, for publishing by subscription, A BOOK, RAISED BY THE STATES TO THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE, embellished with upwards of 50 portraits, and the Declaration itself, with the same engravings of the signatures—By John Sanderson.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen who were associated in the first Congress of the United States, and whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the serious occasion which demanded the exercise of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing and magnificent spectacle has been exhibited to the world, and we will seek in vain, on the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, or of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people.

bed his name and achievements in the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no favorable presage of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They advanced us by their magnanimity from the inglorious state of colonial subjection and from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they asserted and maintained the imprescriptible rights of humanity by the mutual pledge of their lives their fortunes and their sacred honor; and as long as Virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world, their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be re-founded in the common and casual transactions of life. Ingratitude is a vice that in nations as well as individuals, denotes the last degree of degeneracy and corruption. It is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Seneca that the name of Seneca was pronounced, and the statue of Brutus brought down on its possessor.

The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity, and the homage of the living should be offered to the illustrious dead with an effectual and steady admiration—Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the lives and characters of those whose names are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. It is in relating the history of their generous and noble actions that sympathetic emotions are excited in the heart, and by a reaction of such feelings, grandeur of sentiment, dignity and elevation of character, a basis of virtue are generated and cultivated. The heroic deeds of our ancestors, the citizens of Sparta might have the image of war before their eyes; observing well that a disposition of the mind, like a link of the body was invigorated by exercise and activity. "He overcame," says Plutarch, "the praise of virtue and the conquest of vice in all their pursuits and recreations, and by these arts they were possessed with a thirst of honor, an enthusiasm bordering on insanity, and had not a wish but for their country." The trophies of Mytilene interrupted the sleep of Demostocles, and the scene in listening to the exploits of Hercules was fired with his spirit and became the successful rival of his fame. The unutilized savage catches the flame of emulation from the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs his hut with the emblem of his father's valor.

Since need not be said to enforce the utility of the publications we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow citizens, with the hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public, worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our biography, upon the generosity of their surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS.

- 1. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages octavo, and will be completed in ten numbers. It will contain upwards of 50 portraits engraved by Mr. J. B. Congerere, whose style has not been exceeded by any other artist in the United States. Specimens of the paper and printing may be seen at this office.
- 2. To the first number will be prefixed an appropriate frontispiece, designated by Mr. Le Senr, and a vignette title to each volume, which, with the portraits and other engravings, will at least be equivalent to the price of subscription.
- 3. The first number (now in press) will be published in February next—the remainder in succession as the work will permit, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number—payable on delivery.

Any person procuring ten subscribers and forwarding their names to the publisher shall receive a copy of the work or their trouble.

PROSPECTUS

OF A PERIODICAL MISSIONARY WORK, Which is published in the City of N. Y. ENTITLED

The American Missionary Register.

MR. Lewis, late editor of the Commercial Advertiser and New York Spectator, respectfully informs his friends and the public, that having retired from that establishment, he has commenced the publication of a periodical Missionary work under the title mentioned above. In conducting the work, he will take for his model the success which relates to the persevering arrangement of its contents, the superior quality of its paper, and its general appearance, the celebrated Church Missionary Register, printed in London.

The proposed work will embrace the operations of the United-Foreign Missionary Society; of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; of the Board of Missions, under the patronage of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church; of the board of Missions under the care of the Dutch Reformed Synod; of the Protestant Episcopal Church; of the Board of Missions under the care of the Dutch Reformed Synod; of the Protestant Episcopal Missionary Society; of the Methodist Episcopal Missionary Society; of the Baptist Board of Foreign Missions; and of other Missionary Societies in this country. It will also embrace a concise and satisfactory view of the principal Missionary Societies in Great Britain, and on the continent of Europe; of the rise and progress of our own and of other National Bible Societies; and of the exertions of the numerous institutions, formed for the promulgation of Christian knowledge, and the extension of the Redeemer's Kingdom throughout the world.

It is believed, that a work of this kind, judiciously conducted, cannot but be considered, at present eventful period, as an important desideratum in this country. In London, there are not less than five periodical publications, devoted principally to the Missionary cause.

The Stationer of the Editor, as one of the Secretaries of the United-Foreign Missionary Society, and as a member of the Board of Missions established by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, together with his extensive correspondence abroad, will afford him many facilities of procuring the earliest Missionary Intelligence from every corner of the world; and he pledges himself to spare no exertions to render the work both useful and interesting to the Christian community, and worthy of a liberal and extensive patronage.

As the work is designed to furnish a correct and impartial record of Christian exertions, without regard to sectarian distinctions, the patronage of all religious denominations is respectfully solicited.

TERMS.

- 1st. The American Missionary Register is printed on fine handsome paper, and in a style of elegance not inferior to the best London periodical works.
- 2d. A number containing 40 large Octavo pages, with double columns, and stitched in colored paper, will be issued on the last day of every month. Twelve numbers, together with a table of contents, and a copious index of names of persons and places, will constitute a volume of about 500 pages. Should the subscription list be sufficient to warrant the expense, each volume will be ornamented and illustrated with occasional plates.
- 3d. The price of the work will be 5 dollars a year—no subscription will be taken for a less term than a year; and every subscriber who shall omit to give notice of his intention to discontinue the work, or before the delivery of the last number of a volume, will be considered as pledged to take the succeeding volume.
- 4th. Every person who shall procure ten subscribers out of this city, and become answerable for the payment, will be entitled to an additional copy. A proportional allowance will be granted for any larger number.

Useful and Interesting. Doct. A. G. HULL'S Lately improved Self-adjusting Patent HINGE TRUSS.

THE superior utility of this Truss, consists in its simple mode of application, as well as the happy effect of its approximation (or qualities) of the Rupture Pad; which in its form and operation, differs from all others, inasmuch as it acts on the principle of a double hinge, presenting its flat border on the outer walls of the aperture only, with its concave part and cushion to its centre; and is by its own power of adjustment and approximating qualities of the rupture pad, supremely calculated, not only to keep the Rupture in its place, without harm to the adjacent parts; but also so calculated to, and has in many instances, effected a perfect cure, on persons from 30 to 70 years of age; and even when a cure is hopeless, it will, by approximating these parts on which the Truss Pad is applied, actually lessen the dimensions of the rupture opening, instead of enlarging it, as is the great fault with the convex or rounded pads, mechanically, though erroneously designed to pass into its opening.

In evidence of the superiority of this Truss, there are deposited at the several places of sale, Certificates, more than verifying all that the Patentee has said of its excellence. Among the number, is a certificate from the Medical Society of the state of New-York.

The following communications, in addition to those heretofore published, are submitted.

Certificate from Nathan Smith, M. D. C. S. M. S. Loud, Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, Surgery, and Osteotricks, Yale College.

THIS may certify that I have examined Dr. A. G. HULL'S Self-Adjusting, Patent Hinge Truss, and have applied it in several cases of hernia. From my knowledge of the principles on which it acts, and from its effects, I do not hesitate to give it a decided preference to any thing of the kind I have ever seen.

NATHAN SMITH, Prof. of Physic & Surgery, Y. College. Copy of a letter from Mason F. Cogswell, M. D. to the Patentee.

Doctor Hull—Sir—It is with real satisfaction I comply with your request, in giving my opinion of your improved Trusses. The simplicity of their construction, the facility with which they may be applied, and their perfect adaptation to all the variety of cases which may occur, render them far superior to any thing of the kind I have ever seen. I have witnessed their efficacy in a variety of instances, and do not hesitate to recommend them, in the strongest terms, to public use and patronage.

MASON F. COGSWELL. Copy of a letter from Samuel R. Marshall, Hospital-Surgeon, United States Navy, New-York, to F. Le Baron, Esq. Apothecary General, United States Army.

Dear Sir.—THIS will be handed you by Doctor Hull, the inventor of a Truss, that promises to be extremely useful in every species of hernia. It is in my opinion so far superior to all the Trusses hitherto used, that I have determined to make use of them in all of the U. States ships, which may be fitted out at this port. As a production of American ingenuity, it is entitled to a fair trial; and I am persuaded you will take pleasure in affording it that justice by employing it in the army. With great respect and esteem, I am, dear Sir, truly your obedient servant, SAMUEL R. MARSHALL. F. Le Baron, Esq. New-York, June 24, 1819.

DOCTOR HULL particularly invites the attention of females, to an Uninflated Truss, which he has recently invented & adapted to ruptures at, or about the navel. Females and children being more commonly subject to navel ruptures, these Trusses are superior to them of great importance and comfort; being worn with perfect ease & effect, and without the aid of straps and bandages, so distressingly inconvenient in those formerly used.

AMOS G. HULL. Utica, July 6, 1819. P. S. The above Trusses are to be had at the Druggist Store of Caleb Hammond. Rochester, Jan. 9, 1821. Of.

DEMAULT having been made in the payment of a certain sum of money & the interest thereon secured by indenture of mortgage executed by Jedediah Safford and Malinda, his wife, to Andrew V. T. Leavitt and Charles J. Hill, bearing date the thirty first day of August A. D. one thousand eight hundred and nineteen.—Notice is therefore hereby given that by virtue of a power in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to a statute in such case made and provided—All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the town of Gates, in the county of Genesee and state of New-York, and in that part of the village of Rochester formerly called Frankfort, which piece or parcel of land is known and distinguished on a map of Frankfort aforesaid, made by Benjamin Wright, as lot number ninety seven, being sixty six feet front and rear, and two hundred feet deep, will be sold at public auction at the house now kept by A. Ensworth and Son in the village of Rochester aforesaid on the eighth day of March next at one o'clock in the afternoon. Dated September 4, 1820.

ANDREW V. T. LEAVITT. CHARLES J. HILL. By Esop Fomeroy, their Att'y.

By order of Moses Hayden, Esq. a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in and for the County of Genesee, Counsellor &c. NOTICE is hereby given to all the creditors of Henry Draper, of the town of Gates, in said county, an insolvent debtor, to show cause if any they have before the said Judge at his dwelling house in the town of York, in said county on the thirtieth day of March next at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, why an assignment of the said insolvent's estate, should not be made for the benefit of all his creditors, and he be discharged pursuant to the act entitled "an act for giving relief in cases of insolvency," and the act amending the same.—Dated February 11, 1820.

THE ELM TREE.

O may these Trees be ever green, Perpetual Spring enwreath them; May bloom on every bough be seen, And lovely flowers beneath them. Be fresh each leaf, be stouge each form, No biting winds impair them! And may the red wing of the storm, Pass ever by, and spare them!

'Twas here in manhood, that I stray'd, When not a care molested; With her I lov'd, beneath this shade, On summer's eve I rested. Ifeel those years revive again, So sweet and far departed; Ah, thoughts like these are worse than vain, They mock the broken hearted.

It is a melancholy scene, To view the woodlands yellow, And winter's snow where late serene Way'd autumn's harvest mellow; But 'tis a more desponding truth, To feel that we must sever From all that gave delight to youth, Despairing, and forever.

As in a mirror, vanished years, This well known view is raising, With lightning glow the past appears As thought I am gazing. No rude hands this spot deform; No biting winds impair it; And may the red wing of the storm, Pass ever by, and spare it.

The following beautiful combination of wit and compliment, copied from a London paper, was occasioned by the recent death of Mr. Rae, a celebrated theatrical performer:

LINES TO DRURY:

Mourn, Drury! mourn thy half deserted scene Thy triumph once, thy sorrow now is keen: And, in fresh gloom to wrap thy setting day. Lost is thy other son, extinct thy Rae: Hope's anchor raised; her swelling sails unfur'd. This seeks "another," that, "a better world!"

A MODERN NERO.

The following is an extract from a very interesting work entitled "Memoirs of the Mexican Revolution, by W. D. Robinson, who was for a long time held by the Royalists as a prisoner in South America.

Character of Don Maria Felix Calleja, denominated the cruel.

"Calleja now entered the city of Guanaxuato as the conqueror, and there exhibited his vindictive and cruel disposition without restraint. Rendered furious by the timely retreat of Hidalgo, & at the conduct which the inhabitants of that city had displayed in favor of the rebellion, he determined to make an example so dreadful, as should strike terror into the revolted provinces.

The sacrifice of the prisoners taken at the battle of Marfil was not enough to satiate his vindictive spirit. He glutted his vengeance on the defenceless populace of Guanaxuato. Men, women and children, were driven by his orders, into the great square; and several thousand (it is said fourteen) of these wretches, were butchered in the most barbarous manner. Their throats were cut—the principal fountain of the city was literally overflowing with blood, and, far from concealing these savage acts, Calleja, in his despatches, exults in the honor of communicating to the vicerey the intelligence, that he had purged the city of its rebellious population. The only apology offered for the mode of sacrifice was, that it would have wasted too much powder and ball to have shot them, and that, therefore, on a principle of economy, their throats were cut.

This monster soon received proof of their satisfaction with his conduct. They appointed him to succeed Vanegas in the viceregal power.

No sooner was he seated in the supreme chair of state, than terror spread thro'out the empire. Murder, fire and devastation were dealt out with a merciless hand, and neither age, sex, nor condition could repress the rage of this barbarian. These his qualifications appeared to have met with honors. He was created count of Caledron; and subsequently appointed to the command of the expedition formed at Cadiz, for the subjugation of South America. Fortunately, that expedition has failed, and happily is it for Americans that Calleja did not again pollute the soil of their country: for had he landed an it, his hands would again have been dyed in blood, and his ears again delighted with deep-breathed maledictions."

Lansingburgh Academy.

The public are informed that this Seminary will be open the second day of January next, on a system which has been recently tested by experience, and which is believed to unite the most valuable principle in the theory of education, with the most solid improvement in the art. This improvement consists in a more thorough SEPARATION of the Teachers' departments, and a more perfect classification of the students. The Trustees, aided by a generous subscription, and prompted by the conviction that a good Academy is more easily supported than a poor one, have erected in the same vicinity two large and commodious buildings to be occupied as a Classical and Commercial Academy. Besides the classical and commercial chambers, there is a chapel-hall, equal to the accommodation of all the Students in weekly and quarterly exercises. The Students will be arranged, for the departments, in two classes, according to the ultimate design of their education, but may be transferred from one department to another, according to their immediate requirements.

The Classical School is to consist of Students in the Latin, Greek and English Classics, including such English Studies only as are auxiliary to the classical course. The Commercial School is to comprise all other Students who are pursuing English studies, or qualifying themselves for the mercantile or any other professional business. Hence this department is not limited to the mere studies of a Common English Academy, but is extended to the higher branches of a polite commercial education, including political economy and the elements of law.

By thus enlarging the Institution, and procuring a permanent professor in the English department, the Trustees have only given expression to the sense of the whole community, as to the paramount importance of elevating the standard of English education; for it is to be lamented, that the most essential parts of a mercantile education, generally remain to be acquired, by young gentlemen, after entering into business.

The professors are well qualified, by education and experience, for the duties of their stations, and will be aided by the Trustees, in arranging the studies and conducting the examinations. Measures will be taken to maintain an efficient and uniform discipline, and students will receive attention to their manners, morals, and religious principles, as well as to their progress in science and literature.

It is needless to suggest to the Public, that the village of Lansingburgh, for local advantages, for natural scenery, for easy communication by land and water, and above all, for the salubrity of its air, and the health of its inhabitants, may challenge a comparison with any other village in this state or the United States.

NEW SCHOOL BOOK.

JUST PUBLISHED.

And for sale by J. D. BENIS, & co. THE BRIEF REMARKER on the FIVE WAYS OF MAN: Compendious Dissertations, respecting social and domestic relations and concerns, and the various Economy of Life: designed for, and adapted to the use of American Academies and common Schools. By EZRA SAMPSON.

"The spacious West,
"And all the teeming regions of the South,
"Hold not a quarry to the curious sight
"Of knowledge, half so tempting or so fair,
"As MAN TO MAN."
—AENEID.
"Those Authors are to be read at School, that supply most axioms of prudence, most principles of moral truth, and most materials for conversation."
—JOHNSON.

Price of the school edition of the above book, 75 cents. A few hundred are printed on finer paper, and in better binding, for families, price one dollar.

RECOMMENDATIONS.
Extract from "Instructions for the better government and organization of Common Schools" published by the superintendent, December, 1819.
"The Brief Remarker is a recent publication, which probably has not yet been introduced, as a reading book, into many of our schools. It is a collection of original essays, on the social and domestic relations and the various economy of life." Its leading object is to convey, in a familiar and easy style, the most plain and practical instructions on the common concerns of common life. Whoever is familiar with the essays of our best authors on the same subjects, will find in this book, what will at least remind him of their peculiar excellence:

he will find the same common sense, dressed in the same simple, chaste garb; and the same original and striking views on the most common and familiar subjects. The book is addressed to the common sense of mankind, in the most simple, unaffected, yet irresistible manner. It is replete with the most pertinent and striking remarks on the daily concerns of common life; and it contains a fund of moral instruction, which for real substantial value, is not surpassed by any production of a similar kind and equal magnitude. Such a book has long been wanted for the use of common schools, and since it has been obtained, from a hand so competent to produce whatever is most useful and excellent in such productions, it is hoped it will be introduced into general use, as a reading book for schools; and it is not doubted, that, when it shall become generally known, its intrinsic merits will satisfy the public of the justice of the recommendation now given. As the book was not originally designed for the use of schools, it may, in order to render it more suitable for a school book, require considerable modification; and it is understood, that the author is about to revise and correct it, with a particular view to the new character it is about to assume.

Since the above recommendation was published by me, the following new and revised edition of "The Brief Remarker," has been submitted for my examination: I have accordingly examined it with care, and had the satisfaction to find it well adapted, in its present improved form, for the use of Schools. I am happy in availing myself of another opportunity to express my decided approbation of "The Brief Remarker," and to recommend it as among the best reading books for the use of Common Schools.

G. HAWLEY,
Superintendent of Common Schools.

Albany, August, 1820.
At a meeting of the Regents of the University of the State of New-York, held in the Senate Chamber at the Capitol in the city of Albany, February 2d 1820.

It was resolved, on motion of Mr. Jenkins, that the Secretary be directed to procure two hundred copies of "The Brief Remarker," by Ezra Sampson, and that he draw on the treasurer for the cost thereof, not exceeding one dollar for each volume neatly bound and lettered, and that four copies be distributed to each of the incorporated academies in the State as a part of the annual distribution to be made for the present year. I certify the foregoing to be a true extract from the minutes of the Regents of the University at a meeting held by them on the 2d February, 1820.

G. HAWLEY,
Sec'y of the Regents of the University.

Stimulants for the Nose,

OR A CORDIAL for the Olfactory Nerves, being a certain cure for Catarrh and Head-ache, Prepared by J. P. Whitwell, Boston.

More than seven years have elapsed since this fashionable and fragrant Sternotory was first prepared, during which time it has undergone many improvements, and continues to gain ground in public estimation, and there is scarce a town or village in the U. S. where it is unknown.

Judges, Lawyers and Divines, when "laboring in their vocation," have acknowledged its refreshing qualities, both to the mind and body; for in all cases of lassitude and ennui, arising from much sitting or speaking, nothing at the time can be so conveniently resorted to, or is more grateful than the "Aromatic Snuff."

This snuff is moreover extremely pleasant to people in general. It opens and purges the head, removes drowsiness, and sensibly stimulates the spirits. The Scotch snuff is certainly destitute of fine flavor, and is without any apparent effect except that of injuring the complexion; & the coarse black snuff, instead of clearing and refreshing the olfactory nerves, serves but to obstruct and deaden them, and in process of time has an evident effect upon the speech.

The Aromatic Snuff will certainly cure a Catarrh of recent standing, and most generally relieve a head-ache.—Dr. Waterhouse, in his certificate, which accompanies each bottle, acknowledges this fact, and adds "the articles are also innocent in their quality."

CORN SALVE.—The effect of this composition has been frequently approved. It is acknowledged to be superior to any other remedy for the cure of corns.

TOOTH-ACHE DROPS.—When any thing short of extracting the tooth will afford relief, this specific will always accomplish it.

The above articles are for sale at F. F. Backus Druggist Store in this village.
Rochester, Oct. 23, 1820. 51 1/2.
