In Memoriam.

Emma E. Elliott died at the Hospital on August 27th, aged 25 years, after an illness of several weeks. The disease, known to be very serious from the outset, was soon found to be incurable, and the patient gradually sank from exhaustion.

Miss Elliott was a member of the class of 1894, in the Training School. Soon after her graduation, in March, she began the work of nursing, outside the institution. She displayed many of the qualities that are considered essential in the ideal nurse. She was intelligent, patient, conscientious, reserved, self-possessed. She was highly esteemed by her teachers and her fellow pupils, and quickly won the confidence and affection of her patients. We can ill afford to lose a young woman who promised to do such excellent work. It was specially sad that she should have been cut off on the very threshold of what was certain to be a useful career. When she knew that her sickness was to have a fatal issue, she showed neither fear nor regret. She would have been glad to live for the sake of those near to her, but, for herself, she was willing and ready to die.

The funeral was held in Brockport on August 30th. Among the friends present were many of our nurses, pupils and graduates. They carried with them a great quantity of beautiful flowers, contributed by themselves and some of the managers.

There will be two of the managers at the Hospital every Wednesday afternoon from half-past two until half-past four, who will be glad to take visitors through the institution. No visitors can be admitted to the wards after four o'clock.

Hospital Notes.

Operations in August numbered 21.

In July, 164 patients made 280 visits to the Out-Patient Department, receiving 179 prescriptions.

In August 167 patients made 285 visits and received 140 prescriptions.

There were six operations in these two months. During this same period the District Nurse made 100 visits.

Our outward appearance has been much improved, during August, by some new and becoming coats of paint. The domes look very clean and conspicuous in new white caps and the roof requested us lately "to keep off" till its "rouge" was dry!

The Isolated Pavilions appear very tempting in their fresh colors; so much so that some one asked if we were "going to sell them, or rent for the summer." However, we are very exclusive with our tenants; none need apply unless they can show something in the rash line or patches; that is to say, nothing but scarlet fever, diphtheria and something else in a general germy way.

Then our fence has been rendered "fair to see" with more paint. Really, you ought to come and see how very nice we are looking at present. All visitors to the Hospital are welcome every Wednesday afternoon, from 2 to 4.

We have not a large number of patients just now, but some have been very ill and are now rejoicing in returning health and spirits. One, who had been so badly scalded that it seemed a miracle he lived, has been able to go home nearly quite well, only suffering from some stiffness that will disappear in time.

Often we hear snatches of songs from one of our male wards, where one patient sings to his fellow sufferers, very sweetly, and they all greatly enjoy it, a lullaby song being the most popular.

Among the little ones, Pat and Arthur are still there, both getting on so nicely that many more weeks may not find them in the C. P. Pat said, the other day, in a tone of great delight, "Say! there's a noder hip disease here now." He seemed quite proud of being in the majority. Poor Robert was too homesick to appreciate the honor. Little Harvey is nearly well and the fractured leg will soon be helping him to trot about again and assist him to risk some more smashes. Katie is rapidly convalescing and her smile is a real sunbeam.

Sarah, who has been with us so long, is now promoted and has commenced work as one of our maids.

The new room in the Mansard that Mrs. and Miss McGee are fitting up, is looking dainty in its tinted walls and frescoing; the shade of pale blue and the trimming of silver are extremely tasty and delighting to the eyes.

The calls for the district nurse have been frequent during August. One nurse was unable to respond to all, so part of the time there have been two nurses at work and one occasion demanded three. They were out nearly all day at one time and one was away two nights and days.

The modern use of music as a healing power is but an evolution of an old idea that has long prevailed among many savage peoples. Among the aboriginies of Australia it is said to be looked upon as a cure for every disease known to the flesh or mind. Even rheumatism is supposed to be healed by it. A writer who describes the treatment, however, leaves little doubt in one's mind as to the real cause for the disappearance of the aches and pains, as he tells us that "the demon is exorcised by exercise, the patient dancing and yelling or singing in a hut in which there is a large fire, until he falls from weakness. He is then wrapped in skins, carried home and given a stiff toddy." When he awakes in a comfortable frame of body, not of mind, the natives attribute the recovery to the music.

The Color of Guilt.

Prof. Elmer Gates has made the discovery that bad feeling and wickedness create harmful chemical products in the body, while goodness and benevolence create products which are healthful. This is rather unpleasant reading for a chronic invalid. There is no doubt about it, he says, because it can be detected in the—well, the dew on the brow and elsewhere. The only chance of escape from suspicion is for evil-doers not to perspire. Great grief, it is known, will poison a mother's milk, but this is nothing to the effect of evil emotions on the human economy. "Of all the chemical products of emotions, that of guilt is the worst." If a small quantity of—well, the dew on the brow of a person suffering from feeling of this kind be placed in a glass bowl and be exposed to contact with selenic acid, it will turn pink. "None of the other poisons similarly generated exhibits the same phenomenon; pink would, therefore, appear to be the characteristic color of wrong-doing." This is very much what one would expect from our experience (in others, of course), of the blush of shame; but it has been hitherto unknown that every time one turns pink from emotion there is a life-depressing change in one's tissues. There is a famous story of a medical student before a board of examiners to whom the question was put again and again of how he would produce perspiration in a patient. He proposed all sorts of things, to which an importunate examiner always replied: "Well, and if that would not do?" At last the poor young man, driven to his wits' end, exclaimed: "I would send him before this board to be examined, and I warrant that would make him perspire." Perhaps if Prof. Gates' views are adopted something of this kind will have to be done to prisoners who cannot be made to furnish this proof of their own guilt, but it will certainly revolutionize the system of our courts of justice. The cross-examination of a witness, for example, the effect of which is always to bring the dew to his brow, will no longer be permitted. "My Lord," he will say, "I decline to submit myself to this ordeal, as it may bring me into danger." He might be found guilty, though he was only a witness, and pinker, perhaps, than the prisoner himself.—[Illustrated London News.]

Twigs.

Now that people have returned from their vacation trips prepared to start in on their winter's work, it is hoped that the Twigs will meet and work with fresh interest. It is earnestly requested that the Secretaries will send early each month a report of the work done, to Mrs. Myron Adams, 49 Oxford street.

Contributions of books appreciated.

"The District Nurse made 61 visits." This bare announcement in our Hospital Notes does not excite any great interest or enthusiasm, but when one hears the District Nurses, and listens to a recital of some of their experiences, one is filled with admiration for their pluck and courage and endurance. At this season of the year the hardships are not so great, but in winter many times they are called to houses where there is no fire, no food, very little clothing—nothing but misery and distress. Their cases are mostly among the very poor, but in almost every case the patient is grateful and appreciative, and rarely lets the nurse leave without warmly thanking her for coming. In one quarter of the town where the nurse is frequently called, the children all know her, and eagerly watch for her on the street, and as soon as she comes in sight a shout goes up on all sides, "Here comes the nurse." One very sad case is of a woman sick with an incurable disease. There have been two or three operations, which have left her no better. Her husband is a member of St. George's Society, and at one of the last visits of the nurse, two members of the society came to call. As the nurse was leaving she said to the patient: "Mrs. H——, can I do anything more for you before I go?" One of the men nudged the other and said: "That's good! I like that. She's kind and attentive. That's the kind of a woman a nurse ought to be." Then he asked her name, and said he'd like to report to his society the kind nursing and care given to his friend's wife. As it was found impossible to give this patient the care she needed in her own home, she was removed to the Hospital, where she is much more comfortable. The District Nurses have a hard life, but they are noble women, and the bright, pleasant things that happen make them forget the unpleasant, dark side of their work.

Children's Corner.

There are only seven children at present in the Children's Pavilion, but the rooms were so pleasant and attractive and the children looked so sweet and bright and happy when we went in to see them one rainy day this month, that one couldn't help saying, "What a blessing it is that these little sufferers can come to this lovely place, where everything is done for their comfort and happiness, and where the beautiful care and nursing they have makes their pain so much less, than it was when they were brought here." In the first bed we came to, lay a little fellow with curly golden hair, a beautiful boy, named Robert. He has hip disease and has to lie on his back all the time. When he first came he was a very homesick little boy, and very shy. When his breakfast was brought him the morning after he came, he shook his head, and said, "My mother has breakfast all ready for me at home, and I want to go where she is." But now he is perfectly contented and happy, and chatters away to everyone who stops by his bed. He was very happy setting up some wooden soldiers when we saw him. Dannie is another dear little boy, who has hip disease. For some days after he came, he, too, was very homesick, and kept saying over and over to everyone who came near him, "I'm going home in a minute," but now he is perfectly contented, and as we came up to him, he looked up from his picture book, with a most winning smile, and when the nurse said to him, "Dannie, are you going home in a minute?" he laughed and shook his head. Patsie, who has been so long unable to go about at all, will have crutches in a day or two, and then can walk out in the yard. Sarah, the little German girl, was rocking away in her little rocking chair, and sang all on one note, from the time we entered the Pavilion till we left it. There was not much music in it, but it was a very happy little effort after a tune, and so we loved to hear it. Many of you little boys and girls must have lots of playthings which you never use. Why don't you just look over your stock and "take inventory," as the storekeepers say, and when you think you've had all the fun you care for out of some of your playthings, take them up to the children in the Hospital, and they'll be just as good as new to them, and I'm sure they will make you happier than they ever did before, when you see how happy they will make the little sick ones there.

Annual Meeting.

At the last meeting of the Board of managers it was decided to hold the annual meeting in the chapel of the Hospital, on Monday, Oct. 29th, at three o'clock in the afternoon. All who are interested in the Hospital are cordially invited to be present at this meeting. It was also decided that this year we would hold an old-fashioned Donation. The time and place are not yet fully determined, but we would bespeak in advance the interest and co-operation of our friends.

Death Not a Grim Monster.

'Familiarity with death is apt to alter one's earlier conceptions of it. Two ideas are very generally accepted which experience shows to be false. One is that the dying usually fear death; and the other, that the act of dying is accompanied by pain. It is well known to all physicians that when death is near its terrors do not seem to be felt by the patient. Unless the imagination is stimulated by the frightful portrayal of the supposed "pangs of death," or of the sufferings which some believe the soul must endure after dissolution, it is rare, indeed, that the last days or hours of life are passed in dread. Oliver Wendell Holmes has recorded his protest against the custom of telling a person, who does not actually ask to know, that he cannot recover. As that loving observer of mankind asserts, so must every one who knows whereof he speaks assert, that people almost always come to understand that recovery is impossible; it is rarely needful to tell any one that this is the case. When nature gives the warning, death appears to be as little feared as sleep. Most sick persons are very, very tired; sleep—long, quiet sleep—is what they want. I have seen many people die.

I have never seen one who seemed to fear death, except when it was, or seemed to be, rather far away. Even those who are constantly haunted, while strong and well, with a dread of the end of life, forget their fear when that end is at hand.

As for the act of dying, the final passage from life to death, it is absolutely without evidence that the oft-repeated assertions of its painfulness are made. Most people are unconscious for some hours before they die; and in the rare cases where consciousness is retained unimpaired until a few minutes before the end, the last sensation must be of perfect calm and rest. It is worse than cruel to add to the natural dread of death which oppresses the majority of us while in good health, the dread of dying.—J. WEST ROOSEVELT, M. D., in Scribner.

THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

—OF THE—

ROCHESTER CITY HOSPITAL.

Managers—In submitting to you to-day this Thirty-first Annual Report for the year ending October 1, 1894, we may surely take pride in making the statement that the Institution was never in a better condition for medical and surgical work, and for that reason, we can congratulate ourselves and our patients.

To obtain this result, in a building built before the time of labor-saving machinery and of medical science with its present modern ideas for the relief and benefit of the sick, means hard work and judicious planning by those who have the welfare of the Institution at heart.

When the spring cleaning time came this year it was necessary to face a problem that so long had been in mind, that a new floor must be laid in the lower Women's ward, with its adjoining rooms, for the safety of those who had to walk across it, as well as for sanitary reasons. Estimates were obtained for it, and for the lower hallway, pharmacy and consultation room. This work was accomplished before summer, the money coming from kind friends and from sources entirely independent of Hospital funds. The clean and wholesome appearance of these wards and rooms is most gratifying, and in great contrast to the old shabbiness. The Isolated Pavilions have been improved with paint and kalsomine. In the large kitchen in the basement steam cooking apparatus simplifies the labor there, so that two maids less and one kitchen less are required. This has worked successfully for nearly a year, and the wonder is how the necessary quantities of food were ever prepared without the aid of the large copper kettles and steamers. In connection with the Kitchen Department might be mentioned the fact that 79,533 quarts of milk were consumed during the year.

In the Mansard a most complete steam table has been in operation for about six months, so that patients in the private rooms are now insured hot meals, which do not become desiccated by necessary delay in serving them.

These improvements, with painting and white-washing, the latter being done by Hospital inmates and at no expense except for raw materials used, completes the list of noticeable improvements undertaken by the Managers, yet generous friends from outside have added several others that were very necessary and beneficial to the Institution.

The Women's Guild of St. Peter's Church, when they realized how worn was the floor in the Chapel, very gladly had a new solid hardwood floor laid, and so the room, which has always been maintained by St. Peter's Society, presents a creditable appearance. A new hardwood floor has also been laid in the Halsey room by the good friend who cares for this as a memorial.

We are especially glad of the hardwood floors, and are grateful for these two new ones, extending our thanks to the givers.

It is delightful to realize that the Hospital has friends at a distance, and that they are drawn to it with the wish to help on its work. During the past few months the Magee room has been established in this way, and is now ready for its occupants. A small private ward, large enough for three beds that are to be entirely free, was chosen by the generous friends who wished to make the Hospital a pleasant home for children who have especial cases of deformity. Everything is of the daintiest in the room, and the only limit imposed was that it should be complete in its appointments, both for the comfort of the little sufferers and the convenience of the physicians. It will be hard to express to Mrs. Magee and her sister our feeling of gratitude for their generosity to the Hospital, and for aiding us in giving, what is our greatest happiness, treatment free, to those in need of it.

In the Children's Pavilion it is good to acknowledge another year's endowment from the "Properly-Bents." This bed has been constantly occupied, and the Scholars' bed as well. Three hundred and fifty bushels of finest potatoes were contributed last autumn by the children of the Public Schools to support their bed. These lasted all the winter, until April, and were most helpful. The schools showed increasing interest at the last collection, especially those who had sent pupils, and who appreciated more in consequence the blessing that the Scholars' bed can be.

Since rendering the last report Mrs. Jewell, whose generous and charitable spirit planned and gave the Magne-Jewell Pavilion to the Hospital as a free Out-Patient Department, where the sick poor may receive medical and surgical aid, has passed on from earth. The building, with its eight departments, that are full of applicants each day in the week stands as a memorial now to the giver, as well as to her parents and husband, for whom it was designed. Two thousand one hundred and forty-four different patients have been treated there during the year, in this Out-Patient Department. They made 4,224 visits, and 2,219 prescriptions were compounded for them. Sixty-two patients received operative treatment.

The Superintendent of the Training School for Nurses reports that the usual daily routine work has gone on, and in addition daily classes and quizzes have been held, with demonstrations given by the attending physician. Twice each week the nurses received lectures from the members of the staff. Lessons in cooking, bandaging and massage are part of the nurses' training. Quarterly examinations were held, both written and oral, and the high marks accorded to the pupils in their final examination are indications of their proficiency. On March 29th thirteen young women received their diplomas of graduation, which stand for two years of hard, exacting weary work, well done, a fitting consecration to a noble calling. A few months after their graduation death came into the class of 1894, and one of the most promising of the young women, Emma E. Elliott, was brought back to the Hospital, to be lovingly cared for in her last illness by her former associates. The Directory for Nurses has had its share in contributing to the public good. Miss Frink, the Registrar, reports that she was able to respond during the year to 259 calls. She has added 20 new names to the list of nurses who are glad to receive work through the City Hospital Directory. The District Nurse has cared for a large number of patients, and she made 812 visits, many of them being in remote quarters of the city, among the most unfortunate. Her plain habit bespeaks her a sister of mercy, for so she is regarded by all to whom she ministers, and she passes along upon her errand of charity unnoticed and unmolested. Many of the cases cared for by the District Nurse have been obstetrical, and in several of them where the condition was a critical one, the nurse has staid from one to three days. Gratitude is often expressed to the nurse, and many declare their lives to have been saved because of skilled attention, while to the nurse, who does her work, oftentimes under almost insurmountable difficulties, the month's experience, is of inestimable value.

The Hospital Monthly, the Review, has a new editor, dating from January 1st, when Miss Lattimore wished to be released from the charge of the paper because of her many duties in another direction. Her interest in Hospital life and her ability to place the needs and workings of the Institution before the public made her withdrawal a great loss to us. One of our number, however, who is in every way qualified to become Miss Lattimore's successor, consented to make the editing of the paper her especial work. Miss Rumsey very kindly continues as business manager, and deserves, as she receives, a most cordial acknowledgment.

To omit to mention the work done for us by the Parent Stem, Twigs, Grafts and Chipe would be to fail to recognize one of the most important factors of help that has ever blessed us. But for their continued assistance in keeping the Institution supplied with bedding, clothing, etc., it would be quite impossible to meet the demand which sickness makes upon us for those articles. Regular, systematic aid of this kind is always welcome, and increases the interest of those who render it, so that we beg for a continuance. In doing so we know that we are imposing no hardship upon the members of these pleasant circles. The social feature of the meetings was in Miss Lois Whitney's mind as well, when the happy thought came to her to inaugurate these auxiliary organizations. We are happy to publicly acknowledge the existence of the Columbia Twig, now nearly one year old. They have made themselves a most valuable addition to the list, which is as follows: Parent Stem, First, Second, Hemlock, Fourth, Properly-Bents, and Columbia Twigs, First Graft, Second Graft, and Chips of the Old Block. Because last named, they are by no means least in our sense of appreciation. They are famous little workers.

We are grateful to the kind friends, and to them return our sincere thanks, many of whom live at a distance from the city, who have contributed largely to the comfort and welfare of the patients. Furniture, clothing, fruit, flowers, reading matter, food, useful and even ornamental articles, with much beside that cannot be enumerated, have all found fitting places, where they have given pleasure and been most welcome. To all who have assisted in our Sunday services, to the faithful young ladies who have given several of the children instruction, the always welcome weekly visitors from the Flower Mission, and to the press of the city, do we express our warm appreciation of their labor and untiring interest in hospital ministration.

The working force of the Institution, which makes up the Hospital family, has undergone several changes during the year. Mrs. Stevens, Miss MacGachen and Mr. Nelson remain, the latter as House Superintendent, and all have their departments in most acceptable running order. We heartily congratulate ourselves that our recent Superintendent and highly-esteemed friend is not far from us, and that we can assure ourselves of her ever-continuing interest in the hospital and its needs.

The Managers have been forced to accept the resignation of one of their number, Mrs. Edward Bausch, who because of continued ill health felt she must sever her connection with the Board. We give her up with great reluctance, but we know that her pleasure will always be, as it always has been, to assist us whenever she is able to do so.

Our blessed Hospital Mother, and indeed the mother of many charitable institutions, was with us at our December meeting, but a few weeks before she passed away, almost without warning, never to be with us again except as a precious memory. Mrs. Maltby Strong died on January 20, 1894. She was the Hospital's first President, and for twenty-five years she continued to serve the Institution that she so dearly loved in that capacity. Only Mrs. Strong's associates of that early time can know of the struggles and sacrifices undergone to establish and sustain a hospital, but when, at the end of the twenty-five years, Mrs. Strong could truly say, as she did to one of the Managers, that no one had ever spoken an impatient word to her, it means that through all the many and untold trials the gentle, loving courtesy that was part of her birth-right, was never set aside under any circumstances. Although not in active service since 1889, she was present at the meetings, when in the city. Tributes of love and admiration are in every heart, and are so tender that words cannot frame them. We all loved her, and she knew it.

In the spring, the staff was called upon to mourn for one of their most valued members. Dr. Mallory died on April 28th. His labors during the years of his service were untiring and always cheerfully given.

Legacies from the estates of the late Mortimer F. Reynolds, Michael Filon and William O'Niel have come within the past year, also a gift from Mr. J. Sherlock Andrews, in memory of his mother, and one from the sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Michaels, as a tribute to the memory of their parents. All of the above amounting to $13,500. These most acceptable legacies and gifts will increase the amount of interest received from the Permanent Fund. This latter is small in comparison to the endowments of similar institutions, so that we earnestly hope our friends will steadily use their influence for its growth to good proportions. As the City Hospital, in being so called, is wrongly named, because citizens are not taxed for its support, we are forced to beg yearly from individuals, and we see no other way but to continue to do so, distasteful and hard as it may be, until a sufficient yearly income is assured. Often it has been suggested that, if the institution were to be run more strictly upon a business basis, the debt, at the end of the year, would be a fairer statement to make to the public, and especially to those individual friends for whose long-trying kindness, sympathy and aid we gladly and gratefully express acknowledgment.

Believing the principle to be a right one, the Directors are aiming to put it into practice. It means value received for services rendered. To help on this method, the ward price now asked for city and county patients is $7 per week, instead of $5, as heretofore. This applies to all persons who are given permits from either Poor-master to become Hospital inmates. Why should not the city or county pay for the bare cost of caring for their sick-poor, who are not subjects for the almshouse? If they do not pay, a deficit is thereby caused, which has to be made up by our helpers, who are each year paying heavy taxes into the City's treasury for its support. Ward patients, other than those referred to, pay the $7 per week, if they can, but latitude is allowed the Superintendent, who accepts partial payment, or the sick person is taken as a beneficiary, should there be nothing to pay with. During the past twelve months 327 inmates were strictly charity patients, while 711 paid part or whole of the amount asked. Or to put the matter in another and more forcible way, the patients, during the past year, paid less than half the cost of their care and support. This fact shows how many in addition to the entire Charity patients paid but a nominal sum for their treatment. Constantly it is repeated that some one says "the City Hospital does no charity work." We hear it at every turn. Will our well-wishers kindly meet this remark with the following statement: It is because so much charity work has been done in the past, and with almost no attempt being made to collect from patients their just dues that the Hospital has found itself so often in debt. The trustees have lately been investigating the charity work done by hospitals in other and larger cities, including in the number Buffalo, Boston and Worcester, Mass. The result of their inquiry is that the Rochester City Hospital has gone far ahead of them all, and with an endowment decidedly less than that of any one of them. We are thankful for every poor, unfortunate man, woman and child who has come to us, and to whom we have given shelter, treatment and care in their time of need, and while we do not ask commendation for the lavish manner in which such work has been done, we deserve praise instead of continued unkind criticism.

Last autumn the willing service of hundreds of our younger friends, with the assistance of older and more experienced workers, assured the success of one of the most beautiful entertainments ever given in Rochester, the "Spielkartenfest." We are proud and glad to acknowledge the great kindness of all who assisted in making it so. This autumn we plan for an old-fashioned donation, to be held on the 6th and 7th of December. Come to it.

In conclusion, we send greeting to our friends of the three other Rochester hospitals, with the assurance that we rejoice with them in the faithful work that they are doing in the service of humanity. Especially do we congratulate the Managers of the Homeopathic Hospital that because of their new and beautiful surroundings they will be enabled to extend their good work and usefulness. That they may all be ever blest is the sincere wish of the Managers of their sister Institution, the Rochester City Hospital.

Hospital Notes.

The operations during October were thirty-three.

The Out-Patient Department received 129 patients, who made 281 visits to the hospital. The number of prescriptions given was 97, and of operations performed was 7.

The ward in the central building, beautifully and appropriately fitted up by Mrs. John Magee and Miss Magee, of Watkins, and to be supported by these generous friends, is now ready for the reception of patients. It is designed for chronic cases of children needing constant medical or surgical care.

Many of the nurses were able to enjoy the Gilmore Band Concert at the Central Church, on the afternoon of November 1st, through the kindness of the class managing the entertainment. Tickets were furnished to all who could use them.

Four applicants, from the waiting list, were sent for in October, to enter the training school.

The managers of the City Hospital will hold an Old Fashioned Donation in the new Potter Music Hall, Fitzhugh St., on Thursday and Friday, December 6th and 7th. The different churches of the city will take charge of the dinner tables, and those who have for many years made it a duty as well as a pleasure to dine with the managers on the occasion of their Annual Donation, will not need to be told that all good things in the eating line will be offered them on this occasion, as in days of yore.

Dinner will be served from one until three o'clock, and supper from six until eight. The Fancy table will be presided over by Mrs. James C. Hart, who will doubtless muster a most able corps of assistants. All friends of the Hospital are urged to make pretty articles for this table. Mrs. Kimball will have charge of the Flower table, and past experience teaches us that the most beautiful things that grow will grace her table. The "Chips of the Old Block" will also have a Fancy table, and hope that their young friends will patronize them generously. The "Properly Bent Twig" will serve lemonade and tea. The proceeds of this table go to the Crippled Children's Fund, and that branch of our hospital work touches a very tender spot in the hearts of us all. We bespeak a very liberal patronage of this table. Mrs. Danforth will offer for sale on the Domestic table, canned fruits, pickles, cake, etc. Mrs. Hamilton will preside at the Candy table, and Mrs. Chapin will take charge of the Ice Cream table. Mrs. Wm. H. Perkins will be most happy, at her table, to receive subscriptions or gifts of money. Miss Lydia Rumsey will be glad to add to her list of subscribers to the HOSPITAL REVIEW. The managers will most cordially welcome their friends, and a hearty invitation is extended to all on this occasion.

Mrs. Anna Mágée Boissevain, who was born at Watkins, N. Y., and who had lived, since her marriage, near London, died after a short illness last spring, in Paris. She had been greatly interested in a hospital for children in London, and now her family have done a most beautiful thing in her memory, and in so doing are carrying on, in her name, the work in which her heart and interest were so deeply enlisted while she lived on this earth. These kind friends have endowed two beds in our City Hospital and two in New York. This little private ward in our Hospital they have fitted up with every convenience and furnished most daintily. And here poor little sufferers can be given treatment and relief, which will be absolutely free. Surely there could be no more beautiful way of perpetuating the memory of a dear one, whose very name in this way carries healing and blessing.

The Brute in Laughter.

It was thought a strange discovery when, somewhere in northern Asia, a tribe of woodland men was found who never laughed; never laughed, not because they were too proud, as certain tribes among ourselves are, but because they had never known how. So the travellers convinced themselves who employed a train of these laughterless people as guides through the forests they were found in. All sorts of tricks were tried to move them to mirth, and all failed. They gazed upon the most screaming practical jokes in silence and with unaltered countenances. Their mirth, if they were roused to any, was an interior tickle quite. For laughter they seemed entirely without the wherewithal; much to the traveller's amazement and more to their pity.

I wonder whether the commiseration was mutual. Not to be able to laugh seems a dreadful thing to those who make that noise, but to men incapable of making the noise how sad it must seem, and how strangely resembling their fellow-creatures to the beasts of the field! To be sure, we who laugh are proud of the gift because we fancy it one of the half-divine things which the beasts have not. But this is the fancy of people who do laugh, and who, 9,999 times in 10,000, have never listened to the sound of laughter as so much noise; mere noise, dissociated from all idea and preconception. But that is how this outlandish folk did listen when the travellers were exploding over their own so-well-got-up practical jokes. It would be entirely unphilosophical to assume that the forest people could not see the fun of those humorous contrivances of the western world. For if one sort of savage tribes can educate themselves to suffer the most excruciating pain without moving a muscle, why should not another sort be brought up to enjoy the most extraordinary jokes with the same dignity? Surely they might, if conscious of the same motive—the Red Indian's disdain of uttering unseemly cries and making ugly faces. Well, then, if that were the case, these secluded woodlanders, while they saw the fun just as the Red Indian feels the pain, heard laughter for the first time. And if so, how should it sound to them, this noise? Like something half divine as we fondly imagine its quality? The voice of something that no mammal save man can express? Something which the brutes have no throat for? By no means. What they heard was an animal noise, pure and simple; and since a forest folk has finer ears for such voices than other men, we may well believe that laughterless tribe more grave than ever while the European larks were going on, and that they parted from the travellers pitying them as much as they themselves were pitied.

But is there, then, no such thing as musical laughter—pleasant laughter? To that question how unexpected and unkind an answer "No" would be! Perhaps, also, impossible, except from the mouth of a philosopher of the laughterless tribe. When you hear some unknown voice laughing without (at night for preference) —only the laugh audible and the utterer of it unseen—listen for the next peal with a mind discharged of everything but attention to the mere quality of the sound. That it is the utterance of any human feeling is to be cast out of consciousness; that it comes from a human throat is to be excluded from presumption. Do this, and what you will hear will be a clatter of sound like many things more than the expression of a human voice. It may even sound mechanical, as if proceeding from some wood-fashioning machine. More probably, however, it will strike the ear as a succession of barbarous percussive notes, either resembling the cry of some known animal—a quacking animal, a barking or a braying animal—or suggestive of some forest creature whose voice you are hearing for the first time. And yet, however rudely a man may shout or scream (shouting and screaming being so much less divine than laughter), the human quality remains. Yet joy is joy, and laughter is the voice of it; and little else is left of the worship of the old earth gods.—Frederick Greenwood in Illustrated London News.

•Teaching Monkeys.

Not long ago I was watching a vaudeville performance. A certain "professor" came on the stage with a troupe of performing monkeys. I was so charmed with them that I left my seat and begged permission to go back of the scenes to get a closer view of the little fellows. They looked very funny, sitting there with their little red and blue jackets on, and one of them reached out and tried to untie my shoe-lace as I went by. The professor saw I was interested in them, and came over to me.

"How did you teach them?" said I, for they seemed almost human, and I wondered if they really understood English. "Do you have certain signs for them to follow, or do they understand what you say?"

"They understand every word I tell them," said the professor. "After I have had a monk long enough for him to get used to me, he soon learns to understand pretty well."

"Is it easy to train monkeys?" I asked.

"It is a long process," said the professor, "and one has to understand them very well to do anything with them. All of these monkeys were wild at one time in the African jungle. There are very few monkeys raised in captivity. If it were not for that, I think a monkey could be taught almost anything. It takes some time to tame them, and it has to be done by kindness and patience. The monk gets so, after a while, that he understands a great deal.

"Now," said he, turning to a box with a wire covering, "this contains a monk that I bought yesterday, and I will show you how easy it is to teach him to sit up in a chair and read a paper, with a pair of glasses on his nose."

He held the new monkey in the position he desired on the chair, and after several attempts to get down, the monkey found he had to stay there until his master wanted to let him down. After five minutes of this, during which time the professor kept saying, "Sit down, in the chair, sir!" the monkey was allowed to rest a few minutes; then the professor took the chair, and placing it before the monkey, said, "Sit down in the chair, sir!" To my surprise the monkey remembered, and backing up to the chair took up his position. It was easy enough then to place the glasses on his nose and make him hold a newspaper.—[Harper's Young People.

The extent to which therapeutic experiments in hypnotic suggestion are exciting the attention of physicians and awakening the interest of the general public, may be inferred from the fact that during the past year more than a hundred books and brochures, especially devoted to the discussion of this subject, have been published. One of the most valuable of these is the small volume just issued by Bong in Berlin, entitled 'Die Bedeutung der hypnotischen Suggestion als Heilmittel. The author, Dr. J. Grossman, editor of the Zeitschrift für Hypnotismus, prints communications from thirty of the most eminent professors and physicians of Europe, giving the result of their experience in the application of hypnotic suggestions in the healing of disease. Thus Van Ceden and Van Reutergbem of Amsterdam report that from May 5, 1887, to June 30, 1893, in the institution under his charge, 1,098 patients were subjected to this treatment; of these 28.28 per cent. were entirely cured, 23.69 per cent. permanently improved, 21.02 per cent. slightly bettered, 17.81 per cent. unaffected, and in 9.18 per cent. of the cases the results are unknown. Dr. Wetterstrand of Stockholm has used this method of medical treatment in 7,000, and Dr. Bernheim of Nancy in 12,000 cases, and both express themselves strongly in favor of it. Indeed, Dr. Bernheim does not hesitate to declare that the study of hypnotic suggestion should be made obligatory in all medical schools, and that nowadays a physician who ignores the psychical element in disease, and has no knowledge of the part it plays in pathogeny and therapeutics, is no better than a horse-doctor, and should confine himself to veterinary practice. Another important point brought out by Dr. Krafft-Ebing of Vienna is the influence of "autosuggestion" in the production of disease. The number of ailments and morbid conditions of this kind that have their origin in the nervous system and are indicated by pains, paralysis, and other symptoms of hysterical, hypochondriac. and neurasthenic affections, is astonishing. Although not merely imaginary complaints, they cease with the removal of the "autosuggestive cause," which may be affected by any change of scene banishing it from the thoughts, or by heterosuggestion (Fremdsuggestion) on the part of a physician, who may impart it verbally or in the disguise of a dose of medicine. In obstinate cases, in which the autosuggestion is firmly intrenched in mental imbecility, superstition, morbid appetites and passions, inveterate habits or abnormalities of character, recourse must be had to hypnotism. That the great majority of mankind are capable of being hypnotized is shown by the experiments of Dr. Freiherr von Schrenk-Notzing of Munich on 8,705 persons of different nationalities, of whom only 6 per cent. proved to be entirely unsusceptible.—Evening Post.

Maine Signs of a Cold Winter.

Those who study omens say another long, cold winter, filled with blustering storms, is ahead. The goose-bone is nearly all white, and snow, they say, will lie on the ground from early in December until April or later. Corn-husks are more than usually thick. The maize has put on an extra overcoat to protect itself from the zero temperature to come. Woodchucks and chipmunks are already fat enough to kill, and their fur is dense and fine and soft. They too predict cold weather and will seek winter quarters early. Finally, the price of coal is advancing, and that should settle all doubt in the mind of the average man as to whether we are going to have any winter this year.—Lewiston Journal.

Rattlesnake and Crab.

Editor McCoombs of the Havre de Grace Republican, who recently had a rattlesnake sent him as a present from West Virginia, tells the following story about the reptile :

"Our pet rattlesnake heretofore alluded to in this paper, was loaned to Mr. J. N. Spencer, and for two or three weeks has lived in state in a glass case in a show window of his store, and many people have gazed on the reptile and stirred him up to see him hump himself and give that warning rattle against their treading on him. A chicken was placed in his box and the snake soon killed it. A rat was then given him as a companion, but one blow from the snake's fangs soon ended the rodent's life. But the little rattler met his match a few days ago. A lively crab was placed in his box. They looked at each other for a little while, and then the snake struck at the crab. But quick as a flash the crab shot out its claw and grabbed the snake by the neck and held it so firmly that the reptile lashed itself around in pain and fury until it broke off two of its rattles and the button at the end of its tail. Bystanders had to break the crab's claw off before its hold could be released from the snake's neck. Wednesday we had the rattler boxed up and sent to the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens, the officials of which had asked for him. And we don't want any more rattlesnakes."

Taking a Mean Advantage.

A strike of an original character was commenced and ended, writes a Naples correspondent, during a performance of "Carmen" in the Summer Theatre at Fiesole. The orchestra refused to play the piece to the end unless they received their arrears of payment. The manager came to the front of the stage, and explained the awkward situation to the audience. "I am anxious that the performance should go on," but there are two possible ways of continuing it. One is that some gentleman should come forward and preside at the piano, so that we can dispense with the orchestra. The other is that some one would lend me the money to pay the sum due to the musicians." A butcher who was sitting in the front, asked how much was owing. "Only 21 francs 70 centimes," replied the manager. "You shall have it," said the music-loving butcher, and pulling out his purse paid the money into the manager's hands, amid the loud applause of the audience. Each musician got his due share and the performance went on merrily. After five minutes, however, there was another sudden stop. The manager had to explain that the chorus had now struck for their arrears. Hereupon Signor Varoni, in spite of a pathetic appeal, refused to settle the second strike. He now was hissed by the audience as vehemently as he had been applauded, for the performance was brought to a complete stop.—Westminster Gazette.

Feeding a Baby Camel From a Bottle.

The baby camel which was born Thursday in Druid Hill Park is having a hard time of it. Its mother, Annie Rooney, won't nurse it, and the only way it can gain sustenance is by a milk bottle. Dr. Robert Ward, state veterinarian, was called in by Capt. Cassell. He ordered the mother to be milked three or four times a day and the milk drawn into a bottle from which it could be fed to her offspring. The camel's milk is rich in quality and of a yellow, creamy appearance. The young one takes quite naturally to the bottle and drinks about three pints each day. Its mother is very morose and ill-tempered and tries to prevent her keeper from coming near her. She even goes so far as to drive away her baby.—Baltimore Sun, August 27.

A man's true wealth is the good he does in this world. When he dies, mortals will ask what property he has left behind him; but angels will inquire: "What good deed hast thou sent before thee?"—Gems of the Orient.

Two of the managers will be present to take visitors through the hospital every Wednesday, from 2:30 to 4:30 P. M.

THE DONATION

The annual donation, which this year was one of the old fashioned kind, was held December 6th and 7th in the new Music Hall on Fitzhugh street. The managers felt a little trepidation this year regarding results—not that they doubted the generosity of the Rochester public, but that they felt there must be some limit to the purses. Our sister institution, the Homeopathic Hospital, had met with a most generous response to its appeal only a fortnight before, and while we rejoiced in its success we could not help feeling that it might make a great difference in our receipts. But all fears were groundless, and we have learned that the loyalty and generosity of the Hospital friends are limitless. The donation was in every way a success. The two days were perfect, so far as the weather is concerned. Cloudless, bright sunshine, clear walks, no snow, no mud, a delightful, bracing, invigorating temperature. What more could the most exacting have desired! The Music Hall, a pleasant, light, cheerful room in itself, presented a very attractive appearance as one entered it on the days of the donation. The ladies felt that they had acted wisely in selecting it, as on account of its central location it is accessible from all parts of the city. The walls and front of the galleries were draped with American flags of all sizes. The center of the room was occupied in the day time and early evening by the dining tables. Forming a semi-circle around the eastern end of the hall were the fancy, flower, domestic, candy, Brownie, tea and ice cream tables, and the table in charge of the Chips of the Old Block. No attempt had been made to have elaborate booths, the wares offered upon each table being considered sufficiently attractive and decorative in themselves. On Thursday, ladies from the Brick, St. Paul's, St. Luke's Third Presbyterian and Unitarian churches had charge of the dining tables. Dinner was served from 12 until 3 and supper from 5 until 8 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the tables were cleared away, and the "First Graft" assumed charge of the evening programme. The members of the floor committee were Charles M. Robinson, Robert Menzie, Sam. Hamilton, Archie De Puy, Lawrence Angel, Smith Sheldon, James Oliver and Edward Harris. A fine electrical display was given during the evening, through the kindness of City Electrician Charles R. Barnes, assisted by William A.

Breeze. The entire rear end of the hall was a net work of wires, connected with various colored incandescent globes, which were lighted by means of a commutator. The effect was very pretty. Meyering's orchestra furnished delightful music for dancing, and the floor was thronged with those whose feet kept time to the inspiring music in the waltz, the two step, etc., and some, who by reason of years felt debarred from joining the dancers, caught the spirit, and beat time with forks, tin covers, or whatever other implements they happened to have in their hands. One of them was heard to remark in plaintive tones, "I think the youngsters might give up the floor to the gray heads for one dance." On Friday the crowd at the hall was still larger than on the preceding day. The same programme was carried out as on Thursday. On Friday the ladies of the First, Central and St. Peter's Presbyterian Churches had charge of the dining tables, and the Fourth Twig had the evening arrangements in hand, assisted by the following gentlemen as the floor committee: Messrs. Haywood Hawks, Edward Miner, V. Moreau Smith, Levi S. Ward, Frank Macomber and Charles M. Robinson. The Hospital Donation of 1894 is a thing of the past, and the managers may congratulate themselves and their friends on its success. Thanks to a most generous public, the Hospital is over $10,000 richer than it was a week ago.

The list of the tables and booths, with the names of those in charge, follows:

BROWNIE BOOTH—Freeman Clarke Allen, Sherman Ward, Herbert Ward, Mabel Webb, Harold Bentley; phonograph, Willie Webb.

Thanks.

The Managers and Trustees of the Hospital wish to publicly and earnestly thank every one who in any way contributed to the pleasure and success of the donation. They would expressly thank Mr. Charles Barnes and Mr. Breeze for their kindness in giving the beautiful electrical display both evenings, the Rochester Printing Co., who kindly contributed the badges for the dancing, Twig 4 and First Graft, through whose efforts the dancing each evening was made a pleasure and a success, Mr. Arthur Selden, who kindly aided in carrying out well made plans, Major J. P. Cleary, Mr. Cottman, Isaac Teal, Alling & Cory, Alberger and Smith, who not only gave all the decorations, but most kindly put them up, Mr. Martin, for use of the piano, Gorton & McCabe, for hangings and rugs for the Tea Booth, for which they made no charge, sending a decorator to arrange them, Howe & Rogers, for the handsome rug under the Treasurer's table. We are indebted to some one whose name we have been unable to learn, for the phonograph, which was an addition to the pleasure of the evenings and to the funds of the Hospital. Mr. Myers most kindly furnished men each evening to move the tables, and his arrangements with the ladies for the use of the tables were very generous. Mr. Potter and his assistants were very polite, attentive and patient. Every wish the ladies made was, if possible, gratified at once. They found the Music Hall a delightful room to work in, and are very grateful to Mr. Potter for all his kindness. Our thanks are due also to Mr. Charles Gorton, for his kindness in managing the tickets for dancing, placards for street cars, and as our informant said, "forty other things." Mr. George Keyes most kindly spent both evenings assisting Mrs. Danforth at the Treasurer's table, and to him we are thankful. Also to C. H. Trotter for ranges, Mr. Will for gas stove, Mr. Sloan for connecting stoves, Mr. C. H. Babcock for coal for the two days, Yates & Co., who gave us all the ice used, Mr. Fox for carving both days, and to the editors of the daily papers, who are always most patient and generous in responding to the large demands we make upon their time and space. We hope that none have been left out in our "returning of thanks," but to make sure we add our most hearty thanks to one and all who have aided us so nobly and generously, and say in the words of Tiny Tim, "God bless us, every one."

omitted. The Investigating Committee: Mrs.
Arthur Robinson, Mrs. F. P. Allen, Mrs. Lands-berg.

The executor of the estate of Mrs. Eliza B.
Strong has paid $2,000, the amount of her legacy, to the Hospital. This is for the permanent fund, the income to be used for "keeping in repair and furnishing the Strong room."

Mrs. Terry has sent to the Hospital from Mrs.
Strong's effects, a feather bed, a hair mattress,
2 feather bolsters, 5 pillows, 1 pair blankets, a number of books and a rocking chair. The chair is one that Mrs. Strong always sat in, in her own home, and it is to go into the Strong room. It was her wish that her room at the Hospital should be made as attractive and comfortable as possible, and though she has left us, her loving interest in our work and her memory are in this way perpetuated.

We print the following note as a sample of the kind way in which many of the appeals for contributions were received. Mr. Curtice not only gave most generously and liberally but thanked us for asking him—which was quite refreshing.

MRS. A. T. NEWTON, City.

Dear Madam:—In response to your request of yesterday, I shall be pleased to conform to your request and will send some of our jellies and jams as you suggest at the date mentioned and will see to it that they are properly addressed. Thanking you for the opportunity given me, I am,

Very respectfully yours, S. G. CURTICE.

The Plan and Work of the City Hospital.

Many of those interested in our Hospital work seldom visit the institution and know little of its practical working. To such it is thought that the following notes may be of interest :

The Hospital is thirty-one years old, having been opened in 1863, for the care of the soldiers. Then the present main building was the whole establishment. It was lighted by kerosene lamps, heated by stoves, and water for all purposes was hauled from outside, being paid for by the load. Now, beside the main building there are two long wings, each with a male and female ward, holding from 25 to 30 beds, and cross, or closed wards, holding about ten beds, 19 private rooms, some of which are small wards containing four beds, an out-patient department, with waiting and consulting rooms, where treatment of every kind is free, a maternity ward of five beds, the children's pavilion with 25 beds, eight of which are free—not including the beautiful Magee room, which has two free beds for cases of long duration, two small pavilions for contagious diseases, separate buildings for the ice house and morgue, a separate building for the laundry and engines, which supply the steam heating for the entire building, a surgical pavilion which, owing to the generosity of its giver, is second to none in the country. Of these additions the Surgical Pavilion and the Out-patient Department were gifts. Besides the cost of building the others, it was necessary to meet the expenses of putting in a full system of plumbing, lighting by gas, and furnace heating. Again, within the last ten years, as a hospital must keep up with every advance in sanitary science, still other changes have been obligatory. The plumbing has had to be entirely renewed, until now each ward and wing of the private rooms has a tile bath room, with porcelain lined tub, and great hoppers for carrying off all refuse matter. Electric lights have been put in throughout the building, also steam heating, including special steam tables for keeping the food warm sent to the third story, and in the kitchen, the best appliances for cooking meats, vegetables, etc. The laundry department had to be put in a separate building, which is supplied with the most labor-saving devices for washing and ironing and to prevent as far as possible wear and tear. The taxes for the improvement of West avenue and Troup street, amounting to nearly $10,000, have also been special outlays. The Training School for nurses has been established and maintained. From 1883, 120 young women have been graduated, and the school itself was one of the first—twenty in the country—and shows more than any other one feature the advance in hospitals. All these burdens have been outside the ordinary repairs and expenses necessary to keep an establishment in good order, and every householder can appreciate how heavy these are, and that it costs almost double to make an improvement in an old building that it does to incorporate any special feature in a new one, and if the changes are considered, it can easily be understood why it has seemed as though the hospital were a bottomless pit, into which money ceaselessly poured, without result, for the products of its use do not show except to the few who visit the building, or in the records of the hospital work which rarely come before the public.

Owing to the new and expensive methods of treating surgical cases, the average of successful operations is as high as it can possibly be, since there has never been a single case of blood poisoning. The length of time patients remain in the hospital has been reduced from five and six weeks to an average of 18 days. Until the last year the average cost per patient, per day was the next to the lowest of any hospital of its size in the country. During the last year owing to the small number of patients in our hospital, we have fallen in this respect a trifle behind the Buffalo Hospital. In consequence of the insufficient support of the city and county, whose patients have filled the hospital for years, appeals to our citizens, for larger contributions are thus rendered necessary. The hospital is still heavily hampered by utterly inadequate accommodations for its nurses. These hard workers on whom depends so much of the success of the institution, are crowded together in small rooms in the dome of the building, and have no other place for rest, during their few hours off duty. Will not some one pay a beautiful tribute to the memory of a friend by giving us a nurses' building, which need not be expensive to supply all that is necessary, there being ample room on the hospital grounds? The elevator is of an old-fashioned construction, and a heavy burden, by reason of the constant repairs necessary. There are but two contagious pavilions, and though each can hold two patients, it is often impossible to receive more than two contagious cases, for only those of the same kind can be put in the same building, as they are not of modern construction. Beds have been endowed in the hospital by Donation Notes.

It is a great encouragement and cause of rejoicing among those who have worked long in the Hospital to see how strongly they are being reinforced by the young, and even the little friends of the Hospital. The Chips of the Old Block had a most attractive table, and the Hospital is $52 richer from the proceeds of their table. The Crippled Children's fund is largely increased by the efforts of the "Brownies" and the Properly Bent Twig, and the "Splinters," the youngest and newest twig of all, had the "House that Jack Built." We welcome these young workers to our ranks, and thank them for their aid.

To an onlooker the scene at the Phonograph table was very funny. The four or five people who were listening to the instrument at the same time stood around the table, holding the tubes in their ears, each (entirely oblivious of the others) grinning like a "Cheshire cat." One could not help laughing, in sympathy with the fun the listeners were having.

All agree that the new Music Hall is one of the pleasantest places for a Donation that we have ever had.

Every effort has been made to get complete lists of all subscriptions and donations. Notice of any error or omission will be thankfully received, and correction will be made in the next issue of the REVIEW.

Unclaimed Articles.

All dishes and other articles left at the Music Hall at the time of the Hospital Donation, will be found at Mrs. W. H. Perkins' House, 174 Spring street.

Hospital Notes.

The number of operations in the Pavilion during November was 38, by 13 surgeons.

In the Free Out-Patient Department 173 patients made 235 visits to the hospital.

The work of the hospital was very heavy in November, and house officers and nurses were taxed to an unusual extent.

Miss MacGachen, who has been acting as Superintendent of Nurses for the past four months, has been called to the management of a hospital in Ithaca. She has our best wishes for success in this new field.

Miss Frink, who has for several years been connected with the hospital in various important relations, assumes the charge of the Training School. She will continue to manage the Directory for Nurses, as usual.

Mrs. Stephens remains with us, the duties of matron being added to those of housekeeper, which she has performed so acceptably.

Twigs.

When Miss Lois Whitney organized the Parent Stem about seven years ago she could not have realized that it would grow and flourish as it has done, sending forth twigs and grafts and chips, and now last and least splinters, which have become a valuable, and it seems now an entirely indispensable, aid in our hospital work. We give the names of these societies below and appeal once more to the Secretary of each society for a monthly report of work done, to be sent by the fifth of the month to Mrs. Myron Adams, 49 Oxford street:

Parent Stem, First Twig, Second Twig, Hemlock Twig, Fourth Twig, Properly Bent Twig,

First Graft, Second Graft, Columbian Twig, Morning Twig, Chips of the Old Block, and Splinters.

The Hemlock Twig met at Mrs. Jolley's invitation on Friday, November 2d, at the Alberger. After luncheon the annual reports of the Secretary and Treasurer were read and officers were elected for the coming year. The following ladies compose the membership: Mrs. A. S. Hamilton, Mrs. Archie Clark, Mrs. Lewis P. Ross, Mrs. Frank B. Bishop, Mrs. W. W. Chapin, Mrs. Harry Willis, Mrs. Henry M. Mathews, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. Milton Clark, Mrs. A. M. Lindsay, Mrs. C. E. Furman, Mrs. John N. Beckley, Mrs. Samuel Briggs, Mrs. A. J. Jolley, Mrs. Jennie C. Dodds, Mrs. B. E. Chase, Mrs. Samuel Sloan, Mrs. Walter S. Hubbell. The officers are: President, Mrs. W. H. Smith; Vice-president, Mrs. John N. Beckley; Treasurer, Mrs. H. W. Mathews; Secretary, Mrs. Walter S. Hubbell; Work Committee, Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. Jolley. On November 14th the Twig met at the residence of Mrs. Walter Hubbell, and voted to make 13 white aprons for the fancy table at the Hospital donation, nearly completing them on that day.

A new Twig has been formed called the "Morning Twig." Through the courtesy of Mrs. Dr. Landsberg all the meetings will be held at her house, in a room devoted to that purpose. The members of the Twig are as follows: President, Miss Julia Griffith; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Dr. Angell; Mrs. Max Landsberg, Mrs. Edward Meigs Smith, Mrs. Samuel Wilder, Mrs. John Rochester, Mrs. Leonard Allen, Mrs. Wm. Perrin, Mrs. Gaylord Mitchell, Miss Griffith, Miss Perrin, Miss Stebbins, Miss Wells, Miss Jennie Stebbins.

FLORENCE M. ANGELL, Secretary.

"Twig 2" has met weekly since Friday, November, 2d; from this time the meetings will be held fortnightly. The following articles were made, and all sold at the Hospital Donation: 2 comfortables, 5 muslin aprons, 3 sets white embroidered traveling cases, 3 sets of brown linen traveling cases, 2 shoe bags.

MARGARET S. WARD, Secretary.

The Columbian Twig.

This Twig held its first meeting for the year 1894-5 November 2d, at Mrs. Henry Montgomery's, 77 Plymouth avenue. The officers for the year are:

President—Mrs. Howard L. Osgood.

Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Albert Pritchard.

The members, whose names are given below, number fourteen:

Mrs. Osgood, Mrs. Stoddard, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Henry Osgood, Mrs. Charles Dodge, Mrs. Montgomery, Miss Montgomery, Miss Quimby, Miss Stebbins, Miss Hopkins, Miss McKown, Mrs. Howard L. Osgood, Mrs. Albert R. Pritchard.

A nominating committee, composed of three members, was appointed at the last meeting. Four meetings have been held irregularly, but well attended. The work on towels and night-gowns is progressing as rapidly as possible.

String Music at the City Hospital.

The concert given by the Mandolin Orchestra at the Hospital on Christmas afternoon was a rare oasis in the life of the inmates of the City Hospital, and will be long remembered as a pleasant feature in an otherwise dull life. The lady managers are feeling very grateful to the club for its generous act, which they fully appreciate and which will not soon be forgotten.

Twigs.

We have our first report from our newest Twig—the "Splinters"—this month, and we feel justly very proud of the work done by these little helpers. Their report heads the list for this month.

Report of the Splinters for January : On January 12th the meeting was held at Emily Farley's. We hemmed two surgical towels, and started some outside work, as the treasury was in want of money. At the next meeting, which was held at Blanca Wills, we finished the surgical towels and outside work.

ETHEL SOULE, Secretary.

During the month of January the work finished by the Fourth Twig, was as follows : Nineteen diapers, seven cotton slips and eight flannel slips.

L. V. LITTLE.

The Properly Bent Twig has met three times this winter—with Miss Marie Louise Barry, Miss Susan Pond and Miss Rachel Brewster. They have completed six flannel petticoats. The Twig desires to express their thanks to Gorton & McCabe for their generous help in decorating their booth at the time of the donation, and to all others who assisted them on that occasion.

SUSAN F. POND, Secretary.

WE are indebted to Mrs. John Magee, of Watkins, N. Y., for two handsomely bound volumes of The Illustrated American, for the "Magee Room," and to Mrs. C. M. Everest, of West avenue, for a beautiful iron and brass bedstead, mattress and bedclothing for the Children's Pavilion.

There will be two of the managers at the Hospital every Wednesday afternoon from half-past two until half-past four, who will be glad to take visitors through the institution. No visitors can be admitted to the wards after four o'clock.

Two of these visits the nurse remained all night.

One nurse finished her two years and left the Hospital, February 2nd.

WE wish to call special attention to the work done by our District Nurses. It is a most important and valuable part of our hospital work. We have a number of nurses who are always ready and glad to respond to calls for District nursing. Some idea of the magnitude of the work may be gained by a glance at the report : Ninety-nine visits were made last month, in several cases the visit lasting more than twenty-four hours.

The Flower Mission.

This society was organized nineteen years ago and its members have, in their beautiful "labor of love," carried brightness and cheer to many an invalid. During the past year they have distributed to the patients at the City Hospital 2,416 bouquets. At Christmas 106 Christmas cards, with holly, for each patient, and at Easter 84 cards and 70 bouquets were distributed. Any one may become a member by paying 25 cents for the year and gifts of flowers are always welcomed in St. Luke's Guild-room at 10 o'clock Saturday mornings. The officers of the Mission are: President, Miss Anna Parsons; treasurer, Miss Rowena Sill; secretary, Miss Lillie G. Barton.

To Public School Children.

CITY HOSPITAL MANAGERS APPRECIATE THOSE POTATOES.

The following card of thanks to the public school children of the city has been issued:
To the Public School Children of Rochester.

The annual donation and collection of potatoes for the Rochester City Hospital having taken place, the managers avail themselves of this means to express their gratitude to the public school children of Rochester for the generosity shown by them in making these gifts. The potatoes will be used in the institution during the coming winter, and "the scholars' bed," which is to be benefited by this charity, will await any one of the public school children who may need to occupy it.

As it took the one wagon which we had at our command more than a week to make its rounds, the apparent delay in collection may have been annoying in some cases, but it was unavoidable. The work has now been satisfactorily accomplished and 350 bushels of fine potatoes have been safely stored in the bins of the hospital.

The managers return their thanks to the children of the public schools, and as well to the principals who so kindly gave their aid in the matter. For the board,

S. R. Hoyt, Cor. Sec.

December 3, 1894.

The managers are very grateful to the Democrat and Chronicle for printing without charge all notices sent to the school superintendents about the potato collection.

The Hospital.

By Mary Isabella Forsyth.

To stand beside the bed of pain
With strengthening sympathy;
To give, when human powers wane,
Our healing ministry.
To watch the feeble fluttering breath,
And lift the soul above,
To One who takes the sting from death,
The Lord of life and love.
To know no difference of creed,
No difference of race,
But simply meet each sufferer's need,
This makes a sacred place!
And they who consecrate a life
To services like these,
Within earth's discord, sin and strife
Bring heavenly harmonies.
Yet one whose daily pathway lies
From all this work apart,
May yield it, still, this sacrifice—
A willing, generous heart.
By loving labors manifold,
By word or deed or prayer,
The helper's hands may we uphold,
Their ministrations share.
Reach wide the arms of brotherhood!
For love of God and man,
To aid a cause so great, so good,
We'll do—whate'er we can!

To Whom It May Interest

A middle-aged lady, dressed in a brown silk, entered a crowded cable car on the north side. A young man in a corduroy suit half rose, glanced at her, and sat down again.

Should this meet the eye of the middle-aged lady dressed in the brown silk, she will be interested in learning that the young man in the corduroy suit is a lover of birds.

And she will recall the fact that she wore on her bonnet the stuffed remains of four ruby-throated humming birds.—[Chicago Tribune:

The birth of Abraham Lincoln, on the 12th of February, 1809, was an event of greater historical significance than any similar one in the present century.

A Leap to Escape a Snake's Fangs.

Mr. James H. Budd, the Democratic candidate for Governor of California, relates the following story of an escape from the bite of a rattlesnake which he once had:

"I was up in Calaveras county, fishing along the Stanislaus," he says, "I had been told of an almost inaccessible pool up the river, at the base of the perpendicular cliffs, and fairly alive with trout. I found the place, and also found that there was only one way to get a hook into the pool. I had to climb on my hands and knees, up a steep path, to a sort of shelf on the cliff. On the other side of the shelf was a sheer drop of forty feet down to the pool. Just as I dragged myself upon the top of the ledge, the whirr of a rattlesnake startled me. Naturally I jumped to my feet, exhausted as I was, but dropped my fishing-rod. The coiled rattler was within two feet of me and preparing to strike. Either I had to get down on my hands and knees again or jump forty feet into the pool. As I saw the diamond head of the snake draw back to strike, I decided and jumped. Just as I sprang, the rattler struck. I had a pair of moccasins on my feet, and the fangs of the snake fastened in the one nearest him. As I went down I remember seeing the snake flying over the other side of the pool. Its fangs had caught, and I had carried it with me.

"Just what had happened in the second or two after I struck the water, in my dive of forty feet, I don't know. Fortunately the pool was fairly deep. As I dragged myself upon the rocks at its edge, I realized, with a thankfulness I never knew before, that I was not only alive but had escaped the snake and broken bones. I was badly bruised, but not seriously hurt. What became of the snake I don't know.—[San Francisco Chronicle.

In the Treasurer's report is the acknowledgment of another gift from Miss Thompson, of Ballston Spa, whose kind interest in the Hospital has been many times shown in generous gifts like the one noted in this issue of the REVIEW. Miss Thompson is now in Ventnor, Isle of Wight, and it is very gratifying that, though so far away, her kind interest and thought are with us. We very earnestly thank her for the thought and the generous manifestation of it.

Hearing that the nurses had expressed a wish for more books on the subjects included in their examinations, one of the doctors has kindly presented some of the latest volumes of information on nursing, to the Training School library.

His gift is much appreciated, and the nurses would like to express their thanks for so useful and thoughtful a gift.

LYDIA RUMSEY, Treasurer.

A very delightful stereopticon entertainment was given at the Hospital one evening last month, for the benefit of the Training School, by Dr. L. A. Weigel. It was greatly enjoyed and the nurses are very thankful to Dr. Weigel for the pleasure he gave them.

Improvements in the Hospital.

The directors have recently set apart further space in the Hospital to meet the demand for private rooms at low rates. About one-half of each of the wards on the first floor is now being converted into such rooms. They are eleven in number, and connected with them are the necessary closets, kitchens and bath rooms. These rooms will be of ample size, with high ceiling, well lighted, heated and ventilated, and furnished according to the most approved sanitary principles. Any physician can take his patients to these rooms and have them under his exclusive care and treatment. The price will be only a moderate advance on that charged for accommodations in the wards. The Hospital furnishes food, nursing and medicine to the occupants of these rooms, as in the case of private patients elsewhere. Arrangements have been made for yet another addition to the number of rooms of this class whenever the demand for them is such as to justify the outlay.

Continued renovation of the mansard rooms is going on, and the corridors are receiving fresh coats of paint, the excellent condition of the Hospital thus being maintained or improved.

The nurses were given a very pleasant evening recently through the kindness of one of our managers. All that could be spared from the Hospital gladly availed themselves of the opportunity of such a musical feast as the entertainment given by the Misses Sutro in their classical selections, and the singing of Dr. Mandeville, proved to be.

Because they spend some of their time taking medical notes the nurses do not lose all their appreciation for musical ones, and several among them are genuine lovers of beautiful melody. They all enjoyed the evening very fully and the lady who was so thoughtful for their pleasure should have heard the delighted comments on the return home.

THE HOSPITAL REVIEW

DEVOTED TO THE
INTERESTS OF THE SICK AND SUFFERING
 AT THE
ROCHESTER CITY HOSPITAL.

No. 10

Hospital Notes.

The number of operations in June was 34, by 15 surgeons.

The Out-Patient Department cared for 112 patients, who made 231 visits to the Hospital, and received 101 prescriptions.

We have from time to time called attention to the improvements that were being made in some of the Hospital buildings. On their completion the following circular was sent to the physicians of the city and others. The new rooms and wards are certainly very attractive. We are glad to know that the changes are approved by all visitors.

"Recognizing the demand for increased facilities in the care of private patients at moderate rates, the management of the Rochester City Hospital have been engaged for the past three months in making extensive alterations and improvements, in building new rooms, private wards, bath-rooms, etc.

"You are cordially invited to call and inspect the results of our labor.

"By action of the Board of Directors the following prices are charged for the care of paying patients:

	Per week.
Children's Pavilion.....	$5.00
Public wards.....	7.00
Private patients in ward rooms.....	7.00
" " " private wards.....	8.00
" " " new private rooms.....	10.00
" " " mansard.....	$10 to $25

"Except in emergency cases, non-paying patients are not received, unless arrangements have been previously made for their admission.

"The rule, requiring from paying patients weekly payments in advance, will be continued."

Twigs.

As the Twigs are now all disbanding for the summer and the members will soon be seeking different pleasant summer resorts, we wish to suggest to them a thought of the Hospital and its needs to carry with them. We all know that summer is the time to pick up new ideas in regard to pretty fancy work. Ladies from North, South, East and West, meet on the piazzas of the large summer hotels, at the sea shore, mountain or lake side resorts, each one being provided with a dainty basket or silk bag containing some pretty piece of work, which, it must be confessed, is frequently no nearer completion at the end of the season, than at the beginning. But that makes no difference, the mere possession of it promotes sociability, and is often all the introduction one woman needs to another. The members of the different Twigs rendered most valuable aid to the Fancy Table at the Hospital Donation last winter. Mrs. James Hart has been appointed chairman of that table for next winter's donation, and she bespeaks thus far in advance the interest and co-operation of the Twigs. She begs that the members will keep their eyes open this summer and if they see any new thing in the way of fancy work that they will proceed without delay to copy it for the Hospital Table regardless of infringing on patents. She will not limit them to new designs, old ones are sometimes just as valuable, and she hopes that they will bring of their treasures to her table, things new and old. We have reports this month from only two of the Twigs, the others having adjourned till fall.

First Twig—27 diapers, 2 wash cloths, 4 night shirts.

Hemlock Twig—19 pillow cases, 22 napkins.

Fourth Twig—43 diapers, 23 baby slips. Work finished by Fourth Twig at the three meetings held in March and April, as follows: 6 cotton slips, 5 flannel slips, 10 diapers. L. U. LITTLE, Sec'y.

REPORT OF "MORNING TWIG."

The last meeting for the season of the Morning Twig was held on the 17th of May, at Mrs. Edward Smith's, 14 Gibbs street, one dozen night dresses, and three dozen napkins were finished. We are indebted to Mrs. Smith for the pleasant readings which guided our thoughts into delightful channels and suggested charming topics for discussion.

FLORENCE M. ANGELL, Sec'y.

Echoes from the Wards.

We have had a busy month as our new rooms are in "running order," and seem to be thoroughly appreciated. They really look so neat and sweet that one might be tempted to indulge in some mild malady in order to inhabit one for a little while.

Our Lawn is certainly the favorite place for our convalescents, indeed, in the sunny summer weather we do not sigh for a "sun room" or "convalescent ward," which in dreary winter days seems almost a necessity.

The children are all carried out every morning to remain under the trees all the day, having great opportunities to indulge their "aboreal instincts," as Mr. Darwin might remark. Only three or four little prisoners are forced to lie "in durance vile," these melting days. "Joe" is one of the most striking objects in the landscape, as his garments are very evidently "borrowed plumes," so that he appears somewhat like a cross between a circus clown and a British tourist, he, unfortunately for appearance sake, is a size we have no garments for. Norah is a most loquacious young person with an effusively affectionate nature and a very limited command of language. The Downies (for we have two) are as usual happy little mortals, with smiles for all comers.

Little Marie is quite at home now, even if she has to stay in bed all the day long. Carrie and Edith still belong to our "family circle," and have quite anxious times together, consulting over their dolls' summer costumes. Really our sick little ones seem to enjoy life quite as much as many well ones.

Our district nurse has made her daily rounds among the sufferers outside our gates. Many sad life stories are poured into her sympathetic ear, a kind look or word causing the flood gates of pent-up sorrow to open. After all, people in youth or middle age are not so much to be pitied as the helpless little children and the poor aged ones who have no one to aid them. Think of an old woman, helpless from chronic disease, having to sell her "bit of furniture," after a hard struggle to "do something," saying sadly, "no place for me now, I'm old." It does seem a pity there is no place for old people without friends or money, nothing for them but a pauper's grave. Younger people have hope to buoy them up, "some day something will surely turn up," but old people have no future here. Our district nurse meets so many varieties of trouble that the month she is on this duty seems full of memorable incidents, not all sad ones, but at least a majority are in the "minor key." Her helping hand smooths some of the tumbled pillows on "Poverty Flat," and into some lives a ray of sunshine comes with her welcome smile.

Our Little Co-Workers.

[The following item was crowded out of last month's issue of the REVIEW:]

The hearts of the Managers are made happy frequently by the interest shown by the children in our hospital work. "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." We have the happy assurance that when we "step off the stage" our places will be most efficiently filled by those who, from their earliest years, have worked for and felt an interest in our Hospital. Last month we received from a band of young workers a sum of money for the Crippled Children's Fund, and this month again, a sum of money for the same fund, raised at a fair held by two little girls, who made all the little articles sold at the fair themselves. We thank you, one and all, dear children, and gratefully and gladly look to you as valuable assistants in the good work.

Twigs.

Report of the First Twig. Work done during the year: 25 night-shirts, 130 towels, 20 towels for Surgical Pavilion, 117 towels for Children's Pavilion.

Two meetings in May—at Mrs. McVean's and Mrs. J. B. T. Warner's.

Sixteen meetings during the year; average attendance, fifteen.

MARION H. CHESTER, Sec y.

The "Vesta Circle,"—a society of young girls, Susie Peters president,—very kindly sent in ice-cream for the ward patients on the Fourth of July. It was most acceptable and refreshing, and we thank our young friends for their interest in our Hospital work.

It is constantly asserted, in spite of repeated articles and notices to the contrary, that we do no charity work in the City Hospital. At the present date $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent. of the patients are strictly charity patients, paying nothing whatever to the Hospital for the care given them,—and it has run as high as 45 per cent.

Notes From the Wards.

There is a whispered wish wandering through the wards, "Give me a palm-leaf fan, please?" and those who are the possessors thereof are displaying a good deal of wrist action. There seems no danger of any of the patients suffering from ankylosis from disuse of that particularly limber joint, just at present. July reigns supreme, and Old Sol pours down his torrid rays, making us wonder why we didn't appreciate that big snow storm last February more when we had it. Really now, if you should happen to meet some poor, dear, lonely millionaire, who never could find out how to spend some of those surplus "nickels," and who is just yearning to soothe some "fevered brows," mention to him, in a calm and confidential way, that the Hospital wards haven't any revolving fans for the flies to make "merry-go-rounds" of, and that there is a decided waste of strong Anglo-Saxon dialect expended on those tormentors, whose "name is Legion," and whose motto seems to be "ubique."

In our men's ward we have had some extremely interesting exhibitions of strength from one of our patients. A good-sized cobblestone broken by a blow of the hand seems almost incredible, and yet it looked so easy. A more extensive display of muscular prowess is promised when he gets strong again, and he intends to show us a few little feats like breaking big chains apart, and snapping broomsticks across the arm, etc.

The children have spent quite a happy month, always appearing full of contentment,—except when Dannie or Martin take unpremeditated trips at irregular intervals down the steps from the pavilion, their position then being the opposite of perpendicular; indeed, they appear to suffer from extreme reverses on those occasions.

Lulu is one of the additions to our family, and is one of the brightest, happiest little girls we have ever had. She has the bed beside Marie, and they seem to enjoy being together very much.

Some kind friend of the children sent us some boys' suits, which are of the greatest use to us. "Jo" has gone home, but others are now literally "in his shoes."

During the summer months we have not, as a rule, as large a number of patients, and our nurses take turns at going away for the holiday they generally need so much.

Our district nurse has been busy as usual, and starts off every morning on her rounds. The black bag is really becoming a very worn-out member of the training school; it is looking very shabby about the corners, and does not seem quite as trim as of yore. Our district nurse has not met with quite as pitiful cases this month as usual. Summer is a more cheerful time than winter for district rounds, as for many other outings.

Transfers of money on deposit from one account to another may be made at any time with the same effect as if made on the first three days of any month.

Hospital Notes.

Twenty-five operations were performed in July.

The Out-Patient Department cared for 141 patients, who made 218 visits to the hospital and received 163 prescriptions.

A number of new private rooms are being made in the west wing, in addition to those described in previous numbers of the REVIEW.

Improvements.

Additional private rooms are now building on the first floor, to be ready for occupation by September 1st. When completed we shall have twenty new rooms on the ground floor at $10 per week. Through the generosity of Mrs. Martin, the "Bullard" room has been painted and cleaned and furnished with a new iron and brass bed and mattress.

The Managers of the Hospital congratulate themselves upon having secured as Superintendent of Nurses, Miss Esther Dart, who came to fill that position in our Hospital August 1st. Miss Dart was five years in the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she received her training, and for some months before coming to us was at the head of the Bangor (Maine) Hospital. In the interval after the resignation of Miss Gamwell in July, 1894, the work of the Training School was managed very acceptably, first by Miss Frink, class of 1887, and last year by Miss Cartwright, class of 1893.

Twigs.

The First Graft reports work finished for the year :

106 Surgical towels.

15 Linen towels.

51 Pillow cases.

6 Night gowns.

HELEN WILLIAMS, Sec'y.

Notes From the Wards.

The march is onward, Excelsior! More private rooms are being added to our latest improvements, and every one says they are really a very great addition to our capacity. By the beginning of September they are to be ready for occupation, so you must keep your vermiform appendix in good repair till then ; after that, well, we will be ready for all comers.

There is to be a partition made between the old wards, a separating of the sheep from the goats, that is to say, the surgical from medical cases.

We have really had our weather lately like what the old woman said of the English climate, "made up of samples," and the samples have all been strong in their way. We had to have the furnace lighted on some of the chilly nights and mornings ; in some ways, July tried to put on April airs and manners.

The patients have enjoyed themselves under the trees when weather permitted. For a few days we had an unusual specimen of boy here, inasmuch as he wept copiously "to go home" nearly all the time. This is really quite an exception to the rule as after the first few hours, the children are quite at home here ; but Willie wasted tears in a woeful manner until he found out how to ring the electric bell then he rang that, and demanded "ice cream" when the nurse appeared. After that discovery, this melancholy wight sought solace in vanilla cream.

Little Dannie has been promoted to crutches and a plaster caste, and looks a regular midget hopping about. It sounds very comical to hear this atom when you ask him what he is, answer with an early English pronunciation, "I'm a tough from way-back," or a "ploxide blonde."

Our district nurse's work has been much as usual, the sad cases predominating. One especially sad case has been where two sisters in one house, have been very ill with little hopes of recovery. One within the last few hours has said "good-bye" to sorrow and is at rest; the other is very ill still. Another sister is working in a shop all day and sitting up at night with the sufferers. Think of the devotion of that girl, not for a day or so but for months, working night and day. She is a little heroine, is she not? C.

His House Was Worn Out.

During the last hours of Daniel Webster, Mr. Adams called on him, and seeing his desperate condition, and wishing to cheer him as much as possible, he remarked to the dying statesman, "Good morning, Mr. Webster; I hope you are doing well." Mr. Webster's eloquent though sad reply was, "Mr. Adams, I am sorry to say that I am not. I feel that I am the tenant of a house sadly racked and shaken by the storms of time. The roof leaks, the windows rattle, the doors creak on their hinges, until my mansion seems almost uninhabitable. But the saddest part of the situation, sir, is that I have received word that the landlord positively refuses to make any further repairs."—Annals of Hygiene.

Florence is "suffering" says an exchange from the visitation of a party of fifty young American women, who have settled at San Donato and go sketching in a body.
