Hospital Notes.

A high honor was paid Miss Keith at the recent Convention of the American Society of Hospital Superintendents held in Boston, when she was elected one of the vice-presidents.

The Association represents all the hospitals of the United States, and as Miss Keith is the only woman among the officers, it is a compliment to her, of which we have reason to be very proud.

By the will of the late James C. Hart the City Hospital is to receive $15,000, to be used "the whole amount or any portion thereof, to be available at any time in the future when in the judgment of the Trustees of the Hospital, it shall become desirable and necessary to enlarge or add more rooms to the Isabelle Graham Hart Nurses Home."

The highest number of patients during October was 105, the lowest 90, with a daily average of 100. The number of patients November 1st was 104.

There are seventeen free beds in the hospital and the classification this month shows twenty-five free-bed patients, eight more patients than beds, and yet we are asked if we do any charity work!

That wines and liquors for the sick have a much less prominent place today than in the past is a well known fact, yet few know what it is that is taking their place. Two items in last month's bills tell the tale, "Wine, $1.80, Soap, $34.00.

The preserve closet at the hospital harbors 1,000 jars of fruit and Miss Keith says by the first of March they will be a thing of the past.

The James C. Hart Memorial Bldg.

For several years the hospital management has felt the need of a Maternity building. The present accommodations have been inadequate and patient after patient has been turned away.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Robert P. Bartlett and Mrs. D. G. B. Bonbright we will soon have ample room for both general and private patients.

Mrs. Bartlett and Mrs. Bonbright have expressed their intention of erecting a maternity building in memory of their father, to be known as "The James C. Hart Memorial Building."

The building is to be a duplicate of the Isabelle Graham Hart Nurses Home, and to stand opposite it in the hospital yard.

These two buildings will stand as monuments to two noble lives, for Mr. and Mrs. Hart will long be remembered, not alone for their generosity to the hospital but as well for the keen personal interest they felt for its welfare.

The Nurses.

Twice a week the nurses go to the Mechanics Institute for cooking lessons.

Two days they are trained in reading aloud, and there are two weekly clinics in the wards, all of which keeps them pretty busy, but will make them doubly acceptable in the home when their training days are over.

Married.

Miss Clara Carpenter, class of 1903, and Dr. Robert Knight, former interne of the hospital.

Miss Jennie Gordon, class of 1905, and Mr. Charles Warren, Chicago.

Dr. Albert O'Dell has finished his term as interne and gone to his home in Seneca Falls. His successor is Dr. Milton Chapman, a graduate of Cornell.

THE DONATION.

That it is anticipated with pleasure after a repetition each year for forty years, should be all the advertising the coming Donation should need, but we will whet the appetite by telling some of the dainties this year will offer.

Some one has said that "all the good things of life are either wicked, indigestible or expensive," but none of the good things of the Donation come under any of these heads.

First, for the inner man—a most delicious luncheon of creamed chicken and Seneca Falls sausage, followed by mince and pumpkin pies, with an equally enticing supper and each for fifty cents.

Second—an array in the Twig room to tempt the most fastidious.

The Parent Stem has some new and unique Dutch and Brittany novelties; the First Twig will have the lunch counter as usual, where anyone who has not the time for luncheon in the dining-room may be quickly served with simple but excellent food.

The Third Twig will make you comfortable for the winter, with comforters; the Fourth Twig has an unusually satisfactory lot of fine underwear and baby clothes; the Columbian Twig has waitresses' aprons and small but useful tables.

Buy your cooked food from the Second Twig and if you have a vestige of youthful curiosity buy one or more of their 25 cent surprise packages.

The First Graft have arranged for the sale of Philadelphia's famous peppermint candy.

But watch out for the Splinters for they are preparing a surprise which bids fair to outrival the other Twigs.

Why say more. Remember the dates, December 7th and 8th, and come and see for yourself the wonders of the Donation.

The Twig Luncheon.

For the second year the Board of Managers was the hostess at a luncheon given for all Twig members, on Friday, October 20th, at the Isabelle Hart Memorial Home. Two hundred and twenty Twiggers accepted the invitation, were seated at small tables and served with a simple luncheon.

After luncheon Mrs Keith assumed control and laid out the Twig work for the winter. To illustrate the excellent work of the Twigs, a baby was brought in and dressed from start to finish in Twig clothes.

The seventeen lists, which had been prepared by Miss Keith were taken by the several Twigs, as follows :

The Mary Bed.

Next Month during the Donation Days everyone will have an opportunity to give to the Mary Bed fund. We have our first $1,000, and hope soon to be able to raise another $1,000 toward the $3,000 we need to endow a bed in the Children's Pavilion of the City Hospital. We hope that many Marys will respond to this call. And any subscriptions will be gladly received at the table of the Columbian Twig at the Donation.

The Secret of Violin Varnish.

It has long been suspected that the master makers of violins in Italy in the 17th and 18th centuries knew of some remarkable gum which they employed in making the varnish for their instruments. Mr. George Fry, of the Chemical Society, London, who has carefully investigated the subject concludes, after showing that the varnish exercises a decided influence over the tone of a violin, that Stradivarius and other famous makers probably used only such familiar things as turpentine, linseed-oil and resin rather than some mystical gum. The resin was oxidized with nitric acid. It is doubted whether the popular idea that age is advantageous rather than detrimental to the violin is well founded.

The Crippled Children's School.

BY AGNES CURTIS,
New York.

Between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock on week-day mornings one may see a Fifth avenue stage jogging merrily along the avenues and cross-streets of the upper East Side district of New York. What can have caused this familiar vehicle to stray so far from its accustomed course? If you watch, you will see it stop before one of the many tenement-houses, from which a little crippled child is carried and carefully placed within. Or, standing ready on the door-step, a merry little fellow on crutches is eagerly watching its approach, or a little girl, supported on her iron brace, without which she would be almost helpless, is excitedly waving her hand to the children who have already been called for. So the great bus goes from house to house until it is filled with boys and girls, whose merry, laughing faces almost make one forget the poor little crippled bodies. What does it all mean? Simply that the Children's Aid Society has opened a class for cripples in the Rhinelander School, 350 East Eighty-eighth street, and has chosen this way of conveyance until some kind friend will come forward and provide a wagonette for the children that will be more comfortable and better adapted to the purpose.

And now, if you follow this strange picnic, you will find yourself in a bright school room where the little ones are greeted by a smiling, white-gowned nurse and a teacher, who have charge of the children for the day.

After the morning exercises, the braces are looked to, abscesses dressed, straps changed, etc., and each child is made as comfortable as skilled care can make him.

This is exclusively a class for cripples, and to keep them busy and happy, to teach them something useful, and to lead them in such exercises and games as may not overtax the weak little bodies is the work of the ever-watchful teacher and nurse.

During the noon hour the children are served with a wholesome luncheon, and for awhile nothing is heard but their merry voices, mingled with the clatter of spoons and bowls. Then some songs and games, until time for the afternoon work. At 2 o'clock the children are ready for their ride home, and thus ends one happy day spent in the Eighty-eighth street school.

During the summer the class is taken to Bath Beach, where the Children's Aid Society has a Summer Home, and where there is a cottage expressly built for cripples. There they stay, in charge of the nurse, for three weeks, gaining health and strength in the fresh sea-breezes. Little, pale cheeks become round and rosy, dull eyes bright, and they return to their parents healthy and brown and full of wonderful experiences to relate.

The Children's Aid Society is the pioneer in this much needed educational work among cripples who are not physically fit to take their place amongst robust children of the public schools, and has provided not only a teacher, but a nurse trained in orthopædic work, who understands the children and their limitations, and who is fitted to give the daily attention which is absolutely necessary in many cases.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., DECEMBER, 1905.

No. 3

The Annual Donation.

The Donation, held on Thursday and Friday, December 7th and 8th, at the Eureka Club, was a success in every sense of the word. The ladies in charge of the dining-room were kept busy indeed. At the supper hour one ate with someone behind your chair watching every mouthful, hoping it might be your last.

That everyone was so well served in such a crowd was largely due to the executive of the kitchen.

Mrs. Hooker, Mrs. Garson and Mrs. Gilman worked wonders in that department, as all would appreciate, could they see the ladder-like stairs leading to the kitchen in the third story.

Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Whittlesey served coffee at one end of the dining room, Mrs. Huntington and Miss Quinby at the other. Mrs. McPhail was in charge of the silver and the ice cream.

The Twig room was more attractive than ever this year. Bags, aprons, boxes, flowers and preserves in such bewildering numbers that words are inadequate to describe them.

The Pine Needles sold cool and refreshing lemonade; also rubber toys, and all manner of things delightful to babies.

The Fifth Twig had sort of green-grocer's supplies, in the form of pin-cushions, onions, tomatoes, turnips, carrots, cucumbers and apples, and many other attractive things.

The new Blooming Twig dealt in dolls of all sizes, from a giantess dressed and donated by Mr. B. Forman, to pigmies of a few inches.

The Parent Stem did a lively business in Germany and Brittany novelties, silver polish, picture frames and innumerable other things.

The Second Twig had large baskets filled with surprise packages, from 5 cents to 50.

The Third Twig made and sold seventy-six comforters.

The Properly Bent Twig has tempted us to puns each year, so this year we will merely say that it had the flower table, which added beauty and fragrance to the whole room.

The Roentgen Twig, as usual, had an array that beggars description. Bags in form of dainty umbrellas, heart-shaped work boxes and other novelties too numerous to mention.

The Laurel Twig offered baby blankets and traveling utilities.

The Magnolia Twig had a unique specialty in "Magnolia Balm for hands and face"; also chintz boxes and needle books in the form of a Christmas bell.

The First Graft had what we have never seen before, shoe bags designed for babies' shoes. They had, too, most attractive Christmas stockings. They had an annex where they sold delicious Philadelphia peppermint candy.

The First Twig had the lunch counter, and may it always be there so long as Donations occur.

The Columbian Twig sold waitresses' aprons, as they have done for many years. They had small work boxes, etc. Among their things were some fancy articles made and donated by Miss Lura Baker.

The Fifth Twig, our banner Twig, had their usual line of fine underwear and baby clothes, and a dazzling array of other things.

The Cedars had three departments, a candy counter, a fortune teller, and a Jack-in-the box.

The Splinters, with their country store, was a choice spot. Pumpkins, apples, sausage, oranges, buckwheat, needles, cider, pins, pies, honey, beans, and, best of all, the sweet, fresh country maidens, in their pink gingham aprons and straw hats!

The first evening for entertainment there was dancing, with Dossenbach's orchestra.

Friday evening "Cranford" delighted a large and enthusiastic audience. The setting was most attractive, with the old-fashioned furniture, the spinnet, the candles burning on the table and mantel. The costumes were charming in their old-timeyness and quaintness. The whole scene suggested so thoroughly "the simple life" that with the fatigue of the Donation heavy upon us we almost envied them. Each character was well taken and well sustained, and the sweet presence of Miss Matty and the staunch loyalty of Martha will long be a pleasant memory.

Hospital Notes.

Miss MacDonald, third superintendent for the past two years, has gone to Southern California for her health, to be gone for an indefinite period.

Her faithfulness to her duties and her skill in the performance of them endeared her to all, and she will be sadly missed.

Miss Smith, Miss MacDonald's successor, has already taken up the work.

The Needlework Guild was more than good to us this year. They sent us 400 beautiful, useful, new garments, everyone needed and everyone most thankfully received.

The operating rooms have been in great demand this past month. One night they operated all night, urgent cases that could not wait.

Julia Allen Stebbins

Died in Rochester, on Thursday, December fourteenth, nineteen hundred and five.

Toward the close of that mid-winter's day, December 14th, our associate upon this Hospital Board, Mrs. Henry H. Stebbins, quietly and peacefully passed sleeping into the mysterious beyond.

The news came as a shock to us, in spite of the fact that for many months we had, perhaps unconsciously, been looking for the fatal word.

The sad message that told of this death caused deep grief in many a friendly heart, but it also told of the end of a noble woman's earthly existence, of one who, while knowing the discipline and weariness of an invalid's life, had no other wish than to shed around her sweetness and courage, for they were hers in large measure, by inheritance as well as by cultivation.

Modesty and self abnegation were so strong characteristics of her nature, that we almost shrink, for her sake, from putting into words the thought by which we might try to make public our estimate of this good woman.

So staunch and true was she and with such attractive gentleness, that through the silence that descends over us, because of our friend's death, there will ever come the sweetest and pleasantest memories. We found always in her a responsiveness of hand that went with the keen sympathy of her generous heart.

Do we not all know how interested she was, and how helpful too, in public and private welfare, and how grateful and appreciative of any friendly act bestowed upon her?

We love to recall her quiet humor, and the winning smile of greeting, given with that little hesitating look that was so pleasing a trait of manner.

It seemed to say, "I am full of love and good feeling, and I must have love and sympathy in return."

Could one give anything else to a soul who believed in and trusted humanity so thoroughly?

The story of her life tells us of her beautiful belief and trust as a child would have it, in the God she loved and worshiped, so that the qualities of such a character could but charm even strangers, and our friend justly won and held universal respect and esteem.

We give to Dr. Stebbins and his children our loving sympathy.

It seems to us that their sorrow must be almost an overwhelming one, in its severity, for such trusting hearts to bear. From our little circle has been taken one whose devout, self-forgetful life has left an enviable example that will ever illuminate our lives and hearts.

We rejoice that we have owned a thing as sacred to us as the companionship of Julia Allen Stebbins, and that it was our privilege to claim her as a member of this honored Board.

THE MANAGERS.

A City Hospital Donation.

Each year when the Annual Donation occurs we are impressed with the tremendous interest shown in it by the public in general; as years roll on the interest seems to increase rather than diminish.

From one Twig organized by Miss Lois Whitney, they have grown to eighteen. Everyone looks forward to the Donation; social affairs are at a standstill for those two days; even church fairs of all denominations are carefully arranged for another week than Donation week.

Has any one ever stopped to think how, when and where it came to life? In some woman's brain we may be sure.

In 1866, just forty years ago this year, the "Donation" opened its eyes to the world in the City Hospital, and like any other well nurtured child has grown lustily ever since.

The first Donation was not one with a capital D, but "A Thanksgiving Party."

In the REVIEW for 1866, we read: "The Ladies of the Hospital desire at this time to extend through our columns a most cordial invitation to all our readers and friends in city and country, to be present at a Thanksgiving Party, proposed to be given at the Hospital, on the 30th of November, the day following our National Thanksgiving. The design of this party is two-fold: First, to procure material for our Hospital, of which we stand just now in urgent need. Second, to bring together in one large, genial, social gathering, all the friends of the Hospital.

"Donations of every description will be accepted—money, coal, flour, potatoes, vegetables of all kinds, fruits, bedding, towels, clothing, and indeed anything and everything, small or great, which can be of service in any household.

* * * *

"We hope our friends in the country will make a special effort to be present at our Party. Let us have a good representation from Victor, Groveland, Scottsville, Avon, Brockport, and all those towns around us which have ever responded so nobly to our call. Come in parties, come in jolly loads! Let there be a regular turnout both from city and country—rain or shine! Whatever the weather may be the Ladies will promise you a hearty welcome, a good cup of coffee with something beside and a good time generally."

They came and brought and bought; also attended the "Great Sho" of "Fine Arts" by "A. Ward & Co.!" Greece, Fairport, Avon, Penfield Road, East Groveland were all there, and among their gifts were barrels of flour, door mats, brooms, quail and a partridge!

The Donation of to-day seems to have inherited some, at least, of the traits of her mother, for we read in the account of 40 years ago: "A muff exchanged." "A muff was exchanged in the dressing-room; the muff taken was a handsome sable, and the one left in exchange a mink, of far less value, etc., etc."

This one was found, as have been all the other things for which we have summoned detective service, only to find the article on another shelf.

Have we not a right, in this fortieth year of her age, to be proud of the Donation and her successes, especially when we read this year the grand net receipts of $11,954.34.

Many thanks to the many friends who have labored with us year after year and helped to cherish the Donation, and may she live to reach her three-score years and ten!

Early Times in the Hospital.

The Rochester City Hospital was incorporated in 1847. The "Western Cemetery" was conveyed to the institution by the city in 1851. Little was done until the Rochester Female Charitable Society began to co-operate. Funds having been raised the first building, the central one, was completed in 1862 and opened in 1863. Doctors Montgomery and Dean were asked to take charge of the patients. The Hospital was dedicated Jan. 29, 1864. Among the first patients was a large proportion of soldiers wounded in the civil war.

In October, 1864, Doctors J. F. Whitbeck, Langworthy, W. W. Ely and D. Little were added to the staff. Four years later Dr. Ely resigned, and the vacancy was filled by the appointment of his son, Dr. Wm. S. Ely. Dr. Stoddard joined the staff in 1871. Many changes have taken place, and many appointments made since that time, but they cannot be related in this brief sketch. We can only state that the Directory now shows sixteen members of the Consulting and Visiting Staff, besides thirty physicians, who constitute the Junior Staff.

There was no real organization of the Staff until 1872, when Dr. Montgomery was chosen President, and Dr. Stoddard Secretary. The physicians then in attendance at the Hospital numbered seven. The earliest record of a meeting was April 15, 1873. Dr. Charles E. Rider was the first House officer. Since then 112 have acted in that capacity. Some of these gentlemen seem to have been rather imposed upon by the management, as they were obliged to pay for the privilege of serving the Hospital. Hence, in 1876, it was resolved that thereafter the House Assistants should not be charged for room and board.

As early as 1880, a few training schools for nurses had been established in the country. The need of improvement in this department was quickly recognized by the Staff. On July 25th of that year it was resolved that "at least one trained nurse be employed as soon as practicable." This measure, so simple, so obviously necessary, was regarded by some as revolutionary. Nevertheless, it was carried through, and the foundations of the new methods laid. Even after the school was in successful operation some of the conservatives still looked askance, regretting that the "good old ways of nursing" had been given up, and predicting that these would yet be re-introduced. However, in April, 1881, it was possible to call the attention of the Staff to the "very satisfactory workings of the system of nurses." Those who were charged with the direct care of the sick never had occasion, even at the outset, to regret the change. In June, 1881, the Act of Incorporation of the Hospital was amended, and the Directors authorized to organize "a Training School for educating nurses, to whom diplomas may be granted when properly educated and qualified."

The first class of nurses, four in number, was graduated in 1883. Each year since a class has been sent forth by the Hospital. Some of our nurses have gone to the very ends of the earth, finding there important and congenial work. Our list of graduates is over 250. More than 50 pupil nurses are now receiving instruction in the school.

Thus from the small and sluggish beginnings recorded above, a large and complete Hospital has been developed. As an incident of the growth has been the upbuilding and maintenance of a Nurses' Training School, whose graduates rank everywhere with the best. It is inadequate praise to say that this admirable success has been achieved to a marked degree through the wisdom and energy of many able and devoted women—those who gave to the original enterprise the impetus it wholly lacked, those who afterwards served with unabated enthusiasm and zeal and are still helping to carry on the work, and those who, officially, have managed the institution in its various departments.

Christmas at the Hospital.

Not one, but many Santa Clauses made Christmas a happy day in the Hospital.

Mrs. Wm. S. Kimball sent 150 holly wreaths and 200 yards of Christmas greens, so the wards could put on holiday attire.

A dinner with extra frills was served to all, and each tray had a Christmas card with a sprig of mistletoe tied on it.

In the afternoon a group of young ladies led by Mrs. Wm. E. Werner and Fletcher Steel with his violin went through the rooms singing carols.

Now, for the tree, the best part of the whole day :

It was placed in the Assembly Hall of the Nurses' Home, and it more than satisfied the highest hopes of everyone.

All the children were taken in there, so that when all was over they could go back to their quiet wards.

The many lights of the tree shone on the eager faces of little ones in chairs, others lying in their beds unable to sit up, and on still others sitting up in bed.

Rev. Murray Bartlett told an interesting and suggestive story of the birth and life of the fir tree.

The Hospital family of children was augmented by some from outside. Several ward patients had children at home, and when Mrs. Keith learned of it she sent for them, and there were enough presents to go around not once, but several times.

After the children had been taken from the wards, it chanced that two sets of parents came to visit their children, and were much alarmed when they could not find them.

They could speak no English, and as there was no interpreter, things looked serious for a few moments. Miss Keith came to the rescue, and took them to the Assembly Hall; there they made an interesting group, looking at the tree and their babes, with a two-fold happiness.

Is there any time when the Christ-Child, the Light of the world, seems so near, as when a group of patient little sufferers gather, with upturned faces, around a lighted Christmas tree ?

In the evening the tree was lighted for the nurses, and they had a party, with ice-cream for refreshments, a donation from Rev. W. R. Taylor and Dr. L. A. Weigel.

Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving at the Hospital was a day of a big dinner and great rejoicing, as everywhere else. Miss Little planned it all, and the serving of the dinner by her management, from basement to mansard, was all that it should be.

They used 215 pounds of turkey, and we feared to ask how many loaves of bread for stuffing. That is a problem we will leave the public to solve.

In only one ward were there enough convalescents to warrant setting a table, and that was the Men's Ward.

When preparations of so much form were begun, the patients commenced to think of their personal appearance. Double-gowns and bath-ropes did not represent enough dressing-up, so one patient offered to give added charm to the scene by giving all a clean shave, and his offer was quickly accepted.

Miss Jones carved the turkey, and with what success an occurrence which happened later will tell.

One of the visiting surgeons happened in soon after the close of the meal and spied the carcass. He picked it up no the carving fork, and was found parading through the building. His explanation was that he "wanted to find the person who could carve a turkey so clean."

Hospital Notes.

A Happy New Year to all with hearty thanks for the many favors of the past.

Such busy days as these are at the Hospital! One day at 3:30 o'clock the house doctors were still without their lunches.

The daily average for the past month was 99, and operations seem to be still very much in vogue.

January 1st shows 97 patients in the Hospital, of these 34 are free, which is over a third.

The Twigs do so well making sheets that last year Miss Keith did not have to buy any.

Her great need now is for pillow-cases. Will all the Twigs who have them on their list please make them first; 506 or more pillow-cases are used each week.

January 1st, eight probation nurses entered the Training School. For two weeks they are given theoretical training before going into the wards.

Laboratory and X-Rays Work in 1905.

In the Pathological Laboratory 494 examinations, including every kind of work pertaining to this department, were made during the year. Through the liberality of Mr. L. P. Ross, by a gift of $100, an attempt will be made to test the efficacy of Behring's injection of Bovo-vaccine; also to try to immunize cattle so that they may give a milk carrying an immune body—a result of the highest importance if obtainable.

In the X-ray's service 178 skiagraphs were taken and 191 treatments given. Epithelioma of the skin or of the mucous surfaces if they can be reached, and the glands are not yet involved, can be cured by the rays. Larger accommodations are soon to be furnished for the apparatus. In addition new electric machines are desired—galvanic and faradic as well as those allied to the X-rays machines.

The Mary Bed.

The amount of the Mary Bed Fund up to date is $1,171.84. We hope to raise the second $1,000 in a shorter space of time than it has taken to raise our first $1,000 for the interest now amounts to more than $40, as the money has all been put in the Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit Company. All contributions for this object—the endowing of a bed in the Children's Pavilion, will be gladly received by Miss Mary Howard Wright, Treasurer for the Mary Bed Fund, 282 East avenue.

Forty-Third Annual Report of the Rochester City Hospital.

"We have come to the forty-third year in the life of our City Hospital. Because the work of organization those many years ago was well done, by our pioneers and wise founders, both men and women, their institution then, and ours now, was and is, an acknowledged source of usefulness to this community. Progress and growth—the essentials vitally necessary for maintaining an institution that is to serve well a public, have marked the Hospital's year which ended upon December 31st. Analysis of the year's record shows us that more work has of necessity been done the past year than for some time before, because more patients have been treated, both in the main building, and in the Out Patients' Department.

"This fact confirms the impressions and convictions that a sick person goes more quickly and willingly, in these days, to a hospital, knowing, as he does, that when his case is a critical one, recovery is surer and speedier there.

"All these things and more bespeak the conscientious and able administration given the Rochester City Hospital.

"Physicians, surgeons, superintendents and nurses all working in a self-forgetful manner for one cause—to save life and relieve suffering,

"We find that 1,626 patients were admitted during 1905. Of this number 891 were surgical and the remaining 735 were medical cases. In addition to the above 406 individuals needing but slight attention, and known as 'transients,' came to the Hospital to be discharged after a short time. This makes a total of 2,032. The average attendance was 97. The number of Hospital days for 1905 was 35,531. Strictly charity patients numbered 335, and the patients were in the institution for 1,528 days.

"The births for the year were 154; 72 male and 82 female. Just here we are thankful to be able to speak, in a public way, of the beautiful gift that is soon to make possible what time has caused to be a necessity. In order to extend the Hospital's sphere, a cherished wish has been, for a well-equipped Maternity Building. This idea had to be temporarily abandoned. The disappointment seemed to be an inevitable one, because of the heavy debt to be incurred by its construction, when in an instant, the whole scene was unexpectedly changed. We are to own a special building for obstetrical cases. It will be placed in the yard, across from, and facing the Isabella Graham Hart Memorial. In a spirit of filial love and devotion will its givers consecrate their building to a mission that will be one of true helpfulness.

"Work in the Out Patient Department is an important feature in the Hospital's daily life. It always has the personal supervision of Miss Keith or Miss Jones, while the nurses of the school serve in turn as a part of their training. An able corps of the younger physicians of the city hold special clinics each week day, while upon three evenings a week, general clinics are held, to enable those to attend who are only free at that time. A State law exacts certain restrictions, but no hardship is ever enforced, so that the patient receives the best advice and treatment without cost, if he be entitled to them. Here can be found the sick poor of many countries, and can be heard the stories of suffering and distress told in many different tongues. In this department, 1,528 was the number of new patients for the year. They made, with those who held over from 1904, 5,210 visits. This gave an average attendance per day of 17. Of treatments and prescriptions, 8,131 were given.

"The X-Ray and photographic apparatus has been improved to keep pace with the latest scientific developments. They are in constant use for the benefit of the Out Patients as well as for the House Patients.

"The ambulance responded to its 918 calls without having to be laid aside, for any considerable length of time, which would be necessary, if it had to undergo extraordinary repairs. A horseless ambulance is the improvement in that department that the future will doubtless bring to us. We hope for it.

"In the Training School there are at present 49 pupil nurses who for their three years of hard service have a home to live in, that has no superior in the country. An improvement that this building needed has been added to it within a few months. Mrs. Bartlett caused to have laid a tiled floor covering the large dining room and pantries. This makes the housemaids' work much easier.

"The Home's library room has had additional cases built into the wall space. The shelves and tables are supplied with standard books, and the best of magazines and weekly papers, bought from the fund known as the 'Julia Hills Mumford Endowment.' The number of probationers received during 1905 was 30. The Training School's curriculum is constantly being changed as advancement and improvement suggest themselves.

"Instruction in reading aloud is now given two days of each week, to the second and third year nurses. This course is sure to be of great benefit. Training in invalid cookery has been continued, as in past years. Experience shows that for that work, the change of scene, by going for it, to the Mechanics Institute, helps to break, in a pleasant manner, the monotony of Hospital life. Applicants to the Training School are now required to have two weeks of close work with Miss Jones before they can become probationers. This shows the young woman what she may expect should she become an accepted pupil. A State law will doubtless soon be enacted, requiring a High School diploma or its equivalent, instead of one from a grammar school, and that a preliminary course of study covering several months be a requisite. Under such a rule the would-be nurse can become grounded in, and pass a satisfactory examination in physiology, hygiene, etc. Such study, in anticipation of a nurse's initiation into the practical and trying exactions of ward duty would benefit her and the institution as well.

"Several clinics of great value, and interest, were given during the year for the benefit of the nurses by doctors of renown, brought to Rochester for consultation. They were important occasions. The Hospital staff of physicians and surgeons is watchful and eager to grasp every good thing, in its endeavor to elevate the school's standard, and they are to be congratulated at the enviable position their Training School has justly won.

"In June a class of sixteen was graduated. Dr. Rush Rhees, president of the University of Rochester, gave, upon that occasion, a stirring address, while his impressive charge to the young women must have caused the making of many good resolutions.

"Graduates from the City Hospital's Training School are to be found in many positions of responsibility over the country. This fact tells us, in a most satisfactory manner, what the work of the School stands for, and how it is regarded. It has the distinction of being one of the first four training schools established in the United States.

"Miss McDonald, who came to the Hospital a year and a half ago, to serve as an assistant superintendent, has been obliged to retire from active work. She has gone to the Pacific coast in search of health. It was with true regret that her resignation was accepted.

"Miss Eunice A. Smith, also a graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, has come to take the vacant position, and is known as assistant superintendent of the Training School. She has especial charge of the nurses when on ward duty.

"Three house officers finished the regular term of service, in the Hospital, and were entitled to receive the diploma that is given when such work has been performed in a satisfactory manner. We are glad to name them: Curtiss N. Jameson, M. D.; James Knight Quigley, M. D.; Albert Grove Odell, M. D.

"Again has wise and conscientious management been given to our institution by Miss Keith, our superintendent, and Miss Jones, her first assistant superintendent. They have justly earned the gratitude which the board here extends to them.

"Miss Hariburt's able work in the busy office; Miss Searles' accuracy in the pharmacy; Mrs. Cooper's faithfulness to the children in the pavilion, and Miss Little's success in the housekeeping department, deserve the board's cordial and sincere recognition for efficient work accomplished.

"During the year no radical changes were made in any of the Hospital buildings, but when freshening and repairing became necessary, it was promptly and thoroughly done.

"Twice during the year a state inspector, from Albany, has paid a two-days' visit to the institution, and each time has expressed himself as satisfied with the existing conditions.

"Nothing of a worse nature than chicken-pox has attacked the youngsters in the Children's Pavilion. In spite of their physical troubles, and many of them have very serious ones, they are happy and very much 'at home' in their own quarters. They enjoy their Kindergarten games and work, and the many kind attentions bestowed upon them by interested friends. On Christmas Day their gift-laden tree was a wonder and delight to them and to their parents, who were there by invitation to share the pleasure.

"Rev. Murray Bartlett told the pathetic, but happy audience, a simple Christmas story, that old and young enjoyed alike. We appreciate his kindness in giving the Hospital so much time upon one of the busiest days of the year.

"The wards were made cheerful with garlands and wreaths of Christmas green—as usual, the gift of Mrs. William S. Kimball. In the afternoon of Christmas Day a procession of young people, led by Mrs. William E. Werner and Mr. Fletcher Steele, sang joyous carols as they walked through the wards and halls. They received earnest entreaties from the delighted patients, to sing longer.

"It must be over twenty years ago that the Flower Mission, connected with St. Luke's Church, first sent its members, with bouquets, to gladden the eyes of the patients. Still they come, each week, and we bless them for keeping alive so beautiful a custom.

"The youthful gardeners of the Democrat and Chronicle's Club, do not belong to so old a mission as St. Luke's, but it is a faithful one. During the summer months, and, almost before it seems to be possible for any flower to bloom in the open air, they are at the Hospital to offer their bright plants and flowers.

"This year the Needlework Guild generously increased its gift of clothing, by sending 400 garments. They give inestimable assistance, and enable us to send children and grown people away, after their recovery, with a new and comfortable outfit. Long life to this wisely planned and executed charity.

"We want to acknowledge a very just and interesting article of over a column in length that appeared in the Democrat and Chronicle of September 5th. It was a well-written description of certain branches of Hospital work. The gentlemen of the press are always extremely courteous to us, and generous as well, and we thank them very sincerely. We are glad, too, to receive just criticism. It is helpful and stimulating, but we ask that it be given face to face.

"Miss Keith often receives letters of gratitude that show true appreciation of what she and her helpers have done.

"It is a temptation to quote passages from such communications, but it is entirely contrary to our custom ever to do so.

"The Hospital Review's able editor makes an annual report more than ever a custom and not a necessity.

"In one of its late numbers it said: 'There are 17 Free Beds in the Hospital, and the month's classification shows 25 Free Bed patients, and we are asked if we do any charity work.'

"Following, closely, the monthly records for the past many years, we find, to our satisfaction, that the percentage of charity work has been, universally, one-third of the total.

"Our ambition is that in the years to come, figures may tell of a larger amount of assistance given without cost, to the sick of our city. Several of the private rooms, in the Mansards, as well as in the Church Rooms, have been renovated and supplied with new linen, by the individuals or societies having them in charge. All such aid makes it easier for the treasurer to meet the bills that are of necessity large ones.

"With a family of over 200 to feed and maintain, and with the cost of living increased nearly one-fifth, close calculating has to be gone into, that we may justify our expenditures to a public upon whose benefactions we so largely depend. Our many friends are thoughtful and generous in their remembrances, but our needs grow constantly, and everything left at our doors can be utilized for good in some department or other.

"One of the gifts of the year that has especially touched us was a legacy of $400—the entire estate of a young woman, established in Chicago as a stenographer. Why it came to our institution no one knows, for no record has been found to help solve the mystery. So far no one has been found who ever heard of the donor. We like to believe that her all was given in loving memory because some one near and dear to her had received kindness and help in the Rochester City Hospital.

"Mrs. Percy R. McPhail and Mrs. Edward A. Webster have become members of the Board of Managers, since our last report was submitted. We trust that they enjoy working with us, as much as we enjoy having them do so.

"Toward the close of the year the sad news of the death of Mrs. Henry H. Stebbins came to us. She had belonged to us only three years, but we know they were happier years for us because she was our associate and friend. Hers was a rare nature—full of gentleness, love, unselfishness and generosity. We have met with a distinct and permanent loss.

"Donation days are sad and happy ones always. Sad because so many faithful workers of the old time are missed, and happy because we realize that the years bring forth new helpers, earnest to make with us this long-established and honored custom a profitable one as well as a pleasant occasion. We are grateful to the many, many friends who last year helped to make the Donation of 1905 one of the most successful ever held.

"We cannot begin to thank sufficiently the Board of Governors of the Eureka Club for allowing us to monopolize, for many days, their beautiful building.

"We are glad to be able to extend our congratulations to our friends of the Homeopathic Hospital's Board, for we learn that sewing circles are being organized for their benefit, and we know what it will mean to them to have that strong support and aid.

"The seeds sown by Miss Lois Whitney are blossoming in many quarters, and we rejoice, as she would have done. Little did she anticipate, when starting the first group of workers—nearly twenty years ago—to what proportions her simple plan would grow. She builded better than she knew.

"We are able to report three new Twigs as having come into being during the year—'The Laurel Twig,' Mrs. Edmund Ocumpaugh, Jr., President; 'The Sixth Twig,' Mrs. George Weldon, President; and 'The Blooming Twig,' Miss Helen Chapin, President. It is gratifying to announce that we have 17 such societies, with another only waiting for a name, to be counted. The material help they give to the institution can not be well expressed, so great is its value. May we not cherish the reasonable hope that while the members give to us this assistance, their service is one of true satisfaction to themselves and that meeting together and working together, for so noble a cause, they are helped by companionship? The 'Twig luncheon, given in the Autumn, just as the working year was to begin, is a delightful occasion to recall.

"Over 200 members came to accept the board's gratitude and hospitality as expressed in that manner. One of our oldest workers said lately: 'You must hold on to the Hospital, no matter what happens.' We mean to. For her sake we would do so, if for no other reason, and we pledge ourselves to take a firmer hold, each year.

"As time slips past us, we cherish and reverence the Hospital traditions and memories of years that are gone, and which belong to the annals of the city; so once again we bow our heads in grateful recognition to our Mother, the Rochester Female Charitable Society.

"For the Board of Managers,

"Susan R. Hoyt,

"Corresponding Secretary."

Annual Report of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Rochester City Hospital.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 18th, 1906.

To the Board of Directors, Rochester City Hospital, Rochester, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—

Herewith is submitted the report of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors for the past year. The receipts and disbursements to which attention is called are taken from the printed comparative statement which is made a part of this report.

The Hospital has received a total of $44,000 from patients in private rooms and wards, which is about $2,000 more than last year.

Four thousand one hundred forty dollars was received from patients occupying $21 rooms; $10,300 from patients in $16 rooms; $4,800 from patients in $12 rooms; $12,400 from patients in $10 rooms; $2,200 from patients in $8 rooms; $9,200 from patients in the wards paying $7 per week.

The $21 rooms were used by a larger number of patients during the past year and the receipts were about $1,500 more. The $16 rooms were used by about the same number of patients and the receipts were about $500 more. The $12 and $10 rooms were used by comparatively the same number of patients, and the receipts were about the same.

Ninety-three physicians and surgeons have been in attendance and 1,626 patients have been treated in the Hospital, 735 being medical and 891 surgical cases.

One thousand fifty-two operations have been performed by 62 surgeons, who have attended patients in Hospital, and by 13 surgeons who have not regularly visited the Hospital. Among the latter are the names of Dr. Howard Kelly, of Baltimore; Dr. Bradford, of Boston; and Dr. Peterson, of Ann Arbor. Dr. Musser, of Philadelphia, held a clinic, which was largely attended.

The patients cared for during the year were classified as follows:

City	84
County	37
Towns	4
Board of Health	2
Free Beds	134
Private Patients	742
Private Patients, who paid only in part,	33
Ward Patients	197
Ward Patients, who paid only in part.. ..	58
Charity Patients	335

About 33 per cent. of the work has been done without compensation to the Hospital, 11,062 out of the 35,531 Hospital Days being charity days. The total amount of charity work done cost the Hospital $15,847.26. The amount of donations for the year 1905 was $11,939.88. Hence the cost of charity work done in excess of the donations was $3,907.38.

Patients from the following institutions have been received and cared for free of charge to the extent of 1,234 Hospital days: Rochester Orphan Asylum, Sisters of Mercy, Children's Aid, and the Door of Hope.

The growth of the maternity department is of great interest. In the Hospital during the year 1902, there were 62 births; in the year 1903, 107 births; in the year 1904, 129 births; in the year 1905, 154 births. This last number includes 3 living children born by Caesarean section, an operation which was first performed in this Hospital in July, and soon followed by two other cases requiring a like operation. At the present time, the number of maternity patients is limited to the number of beds in that department.

Last October, the Hospital received a most magnificent gift from Mrs. Bonbright and Mrs. Bartlett of a building to be known as the "James C. Hart Memorial." This gift came at a time when the Hospital was in most urgent need of another building. The plans have been prepared and approved by the donors, the Board of Directors, the Board of Managers and the staff, and are now in the hands of the contractors for bids.

Every department in the Hospital is in a most satisfactory condition and we take this opportunity to express to Miss Keith, Miss Jones, and their able assistants our great appreciation of the ability, unceasing vigilance and good judgment which has made this encouraging report possible.

Respectfully submitted,

William S. Morse,

Secretary.

The Twigs.

We have now eighteen Twigs, four new ones having been added during the past year—the Sixth, the Laurel, the Blooming Twig.

Two of these new ones, had most attractive tables at the Donation. The other two will be gladly welcomed another year. Three thousand dollars has been paid into the treasury, 3,165 articles have been made and sent to the Hospital. I wish here to add a word in memory of the founder of the Twigs, Miss Lois Whitney, and to thank the three hundred or more women, who by their untiring zeal have so nobly carried out her thought and purpose.

H. ELLA HAMILTON, Chairman.

The Third Twig announces that they will gladly take orders for comfortables; any color to suit the purchaser. They have on hand some exceedingly attractive ones. Send order to Mrs. Webster, 120 Lake avenue.

Hospital Notes.

Mrs. Howard Osgood, editor of the HOSPITAL REVIEW, has gone to Baltimore on a visit.

Thanks to the enterprise of our editor the HOSPITAL REVIEW fund is large enough to furnish new hospital beds for both the men's and women's wards. A much needed luxury.

Every day there is cause for rejoicing that we are to have a new maternity building. Miss Keith drew a graphic picture to the board of eight women for six beds, performing the Box and Cox act. Two in their chairs waiting their turn. Of course they are well cared for but the need is pressing.

Several new microscopes have been added to the laboratory.

Hospital Notes.

The highest number of patients during February was 112, the lowest number 96. Of the 100 patients in the hospital March 1st, 22 were on free beds.

Dr. F. C. Shaut is our new house officer.

The Halsey room is undergoing extensive repairs. With a spring coat of new paint and the furniture recovered it will be most attractive and ready for an appreciative occupant.

An experience we all enjoy is that of being praised, and warm praise has come to us for our District Nurse. The patient said that as she lay in bed she watched eagerly for the nurse to come down the street and it was like sunshine when she came into the house. The patient even considered feigning sickness to insure more visits.

The managers are to resume their monthly visits to the hospital. Mrs. Percy McPhail and Mrs. Howard L. Osgood will be the visitors for March.

The outdoor treatment for pneumonia has been tried on several patients with great success. With the temperature close upon zero one very ill patient was given the treatment and in two hours his delirium had decreased and in incredible short time he was well and discharged.

The Presbyterian Hospital in New York has a place on the roof where the open air treatment is being most successfully given to children, the good results are astounding.

The contracts for the new Maternity Building are all let and the work is to be begun any day. A large sign "Dirt for Sale" stood for a few days in the Main street yard, but as it has disappeared we assume that the dirt will soon follow it and the cellar will be begun.

The medical staff have decided to make a separate department of obstetrics. It will be in charge of Dr. Wm. M. Brown.

Children's Pavillon.

The family in the Children's Pavilion is a small but very happy one. Little Loretta was as sweet as a peach sitting up in bed with her dollies and shyly responsive to all our advances.

The big-as-a-minute baby has grown so fat and jolly that he would make an excellent model for one of Raphael's cherubs.

There has been so much sunshine this winter that the children have spent much time out of doors, which is probably the reason of such excellent results in the Pavilion.

Miss Gilman will no longer be able to teach the children, but we feel that we are most fortunate in having Miss Oliver to take her place.

A most complete and comprehensive book has come to our hands entitled,

"The Management of Babies," by Mrs. Leonard Hill. Publishers, Edward Arnold—London. U. S. Agents, Longmans, Green & Co., New York. Price, 75 cents.

In a most common sense manner it carries one through the first stages of feeding infants, the bath, clothing, sleep, etc.; then on through weaning, dentition, simple ailments and the development of intelligence. It is very concise and the most ignorant could not fail to glean some information from it.

The chapter on open air and sleep should commend itself to all mothers, who want bright-eyed, rosy cheeked children.

The Antiseptic Babe.

We can sterilize his bottles, we can boil his little mug;
We can bake his flannel bandages and disinfect his rug
That envelopes him when he partakes of medicated air.
But there's one impossibility that leaves us in despair—
And a not unjustifiable alarm, you will allow—
To-wit: We fear 'twould never do to sterilize the cow!

We are careful of his hours, we are thoughtful of his toys;
We are mindful of his sorrows, and judicious of his joys;
We are prayerfully considerate of needful discipline.
Of our little "Mother Handbook" and the precepts writ therein;
And we strive to render sterile all designed for mouth or tum,
But one frightful danger menaces—we cannot boil his thumb.

—Harper's Magazine.

The Twigs.

The number of garments sent to the hospital in February is 858!

The Splinters have sent to the treasurer $6.48 additional donation receipts.

The Sixth Twig held its annual meeting on February 2d and elected the following officers:

President—Mrs. Geo. Weldon.

Treasurer—Mrs. C. H. Occumpaugh.

Secretary—Mrs. J. F. Dinkey.

Work Committee—Mrs. Whitney Williams and Mrs. Wallace Gilbert.

Nursing Seattle's Unfortunate Sick

BY KATHARINE MAJOR.

(Graduate City Hospital, Cincinnati, O.)

From an old-time passenger boat, with a probable smuggler's record, to a hospital used for the care of a great city's sick poor is the brief history of the old side-wheeler Idaho, now the Wayside Emergency Hospital of Seattle.

It was certainly an ingenious mind that saw such possibilities in an old, discarded hulk of a boat, and the results of the experiment have been more potential than was hoped for, for to-day the Wayside Emergency Hospital has the reputation of being one of the most unique charities in the world. The old ship, now scuttled and propped up by many posts, lies next to a great wharf in the very heart of one of the busiest water-fronts in the country.

The great and little steamers of Puget Sound and the Pacific Ocean pass to and fro behind and about it, while the many trains of three transcontinental railroads whiz in front of its open door. And to this old ship many desperately sick and injured people are carried daily. There they receive the best that medical attention and careful nursing can afford.

The equipment and arrangement of the Wayside Emergency Hospital are very interesting. Every inch of space of the old ship has been used, for it is scarcely large enough to accommodate all the patients that seek admission. A well-equipped office and dispensary, four wards for the men, and the kitchens and storerooms are located on the main deck, while what was once the old wheel-room is now the operating-room. This little operating-room, rather meager in its furnishings as compared to those of the great hospitals, is, nevertheless, the scene of the most interesting and unusual operations known to surgery.

The upper deck of the ship has been converted into a ward for the women.

The old social hall is now the nurses' sitting-room and dining-room, and their bedrooms are the staterooms ranged along the side of the cabin. The pilot-house is used for a ward for contagious diseases. Both decks are equipped with bath-rooms and toilets, and nothing is lacking for the comfort of the patients.

As the Wayside Emergency Hospital is essentially a charity, it is chiefly supported by contributions from the citizens of the city. The city and the county each give two hundred and fifty dollars per month towards its maintenance, and the balance is made up from private contributions. Every morning the men go out with carts to the commission merchants whose places of business are along the water-front and gather up the fruits and vegetables and fish which these men donate to the hospital, and it is safe to say that no hospital in the city is able to give its patients better or more wholesome food.

Some idea of the largeness of the work may be had from the following estimates. In the month of June, 1905, one hundred and nine patients were received in the hospital with a record of nine hundred and thirty-four days of care given. In July of the same year one hundred and five patients were received and one thousand and ninety-six days' care were given. In those two months there were also given over three hundred dispensary treatments. There are only forty-one beds on the ship and many more could easily be filled.

No more worthy work can be found than caring for the unfortunate sick. A large per cent. of any city's population would be objects of charity if sick for sixty days and credit for food and clothing were denied. Men live on the verge of starvation, and if it were not for sympathy and confidence there would be many more wanderers upon the face of the earth. The poor and unfortunate we will always have with us. The price of civilization is great and many fail who try for its best things. At the lower round is the man who CAN not and the man who WILL not. These must have the care of the strong.

Into the Wayside Emergency Hospital come many who are temporarily without the necessities of life and have no means for medical treatment. The great majority of the men are from "back East." As they come into the hospital they find clean beds, well-cooked food, and good medical treatment, and they go out again with a new hope and courage to take up once more life's battle. It is my opinion that nothing but the best should be given to the unfortunate in the world. The poverty of some and the reckless, shameless life of others afford a city no excuse for carelessness and indifference in caring for them when helpless from illness. To give other than the best a city affords is a reflection upon the character and government of the city. It is a principle of the "Wayside" that no sick and afflicted shall be turned away who come seeking help. No questions are asked as to pedigree or cause of poverty and disease. If the ox is in the mire, we pull him out. If the stranger who is sick and weary and hopeless come our way, we take him in and give him the best we can afford. Many because of this treatment have gone out with a new love for their kind and a desire to make the most of life before them. The strong and rich will take care of themselves. The weak and poor and sinning need the touch of sympathy and help in their emergencies.

It has been my privilege to have known much of hospital work in other cities, and I will say that no hospital in the land is doing more for the poor than the Wayside Emergency Hospital of Seattle.

The care of the poor and the temporarily unfortunate should be given by those who are in nowise connected with the political interests of a city. A wise business policy should be used to carry on the work, but it should always have in it the principles of the Friend of the Homeless and the Sick.

Mrs. Marion Baxter, who is the president and sole executive of the Wayside Emergency Hospital, is well known throughout the United States and Canada as a philanthropic worker, writer, and lecturer. Under her guiding hand the hospital has acquired a solid financial standing, and a great work has been fairly and substantially started. It is believed that through this work similar institutions will be organized for the care of the unfortunate in other cities.

We have eight carefully trained nurses whose training on the old ship has fitted them to compete with nurses of any other institution.

There is a staff also of six physicians, of whom Dr. U. C. Bates is the head, and also a consulting staff of six of the best known physicians in the city. These doctors receive absolutely no compensation for their labors on the ship.

Should any of the readers of this article find themselves in Seattle, the Queen City of the Northwest, it would be well worth their while to pay the Wayside Emergency Hospital a visit, for it is unique not only in its looks and location, but in the work that it accomplishes and the fact that there is no other institution like it in the world.

Hospital Notes.

We are glad to welcome Mrs. T. B. Dunn as a member of the Board of Managers.

The new mattresses and iron beds are giving great satisfaction.

We are nothing if not up to date, so now the sleeves of the nurses uniforms come just below the elbow. This is not because Dame Fashion orders it, but for convenience and cleanliness.

The lowest number of patients during March was 83, the highest 106, with a free list April 1st of 21.

Nine new probation nurses have just been accepted.

Every available corner in the cellar is filled with coal in anticipation of the coal strike and consequent high prices.

Our year's supply of ice is stored, that too, at an advanced price.

The following list is in detail what constitutes one week's laundry work. It takes five women to look it over and put away the articles :

Children's Pavillion.

With the rain coming down in torrents outside, all was happiness in the Pavilion.

The babies, and there are a number, were having their afternoon milk, one nurse feeding two at a time, one in her lap, the other in a crib. Up there it seems easier to take care of six babies than one in a private house.

The older children were gathered around a table cutting the pictures out of magazines, then pasting them into something else.

We want to say a lot about Prentis, for he is such a credit to us and all are so fond of him.

He came to the hospital many, many weeks ago unable to walk and almost helpless from paralysis. Now he can walk and without crutches.

He is seventeen and as he gained strength he became ambitious to know more. An opportunity to study was given him through the kindness of a private patient, who offered to teach him as long as she is in the hospital. He goes up to her every day and is studying reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic and American history. They chose John Fiske's as the most desirable.

Prentis' first reading lesson was from "A Man Without a Country," and he enjoyed it so much that he re-read it by himself.

He is particularly fond of history and adventure. Lorna Doone is another of his favorites.

His teeth needed care badly, so Miss Keith arranged with the Health Office dentist to give him an hour a week for a number of weeks.

We see in Prentis one of many instances of Miss Keith's personal thought and interest for those about her.

The Twigs.

Another new Twig has just burst into life and will appear in full next month.

The Columbian Twig has finished its allotted work and for some weeks has been sewing on donation work.

The Twigs sent in 119 garments in March.

The Twig work has come in so rapidly of late, we assume that most of the Twigs have finished their winter's work and are turning their thoughts to the donation.

How many Twigs are thinking up specialties for the Donation?

One Twig member said they were always going to have a specialty as Twigs with specialties made more money.

Why wouldn't it be an excellent idea for each Twig to have its own specialty and have it year after year? Some of the Twigs do that already; for instance the Fourth Twig always has baby clothes and fine underwear; the Columbian Twig and Parent Stem have waitresses aprons; the Third Twig comforters; the Properly Bent Twig flowers; the Splinters candy.

Each Twig could advertise its specialty and thus attract the public to them.

They need not confine themselves to the specialty alone but make that each year their drawing card.

One Twig has already announced rugs as their specialty.

Think of it Twiggers, and in the anti-donation number of the REVIEW we will rival the Doctors with our "Tabular View!"

We have no intention of running a Praise column, but we cannot resist publishing these three letters which are samples of many others received. The first has appeared in the Democrat and Chronicle:

To the Editor of the Democrat and Chronicle:

SIR—That "I was a stranger and ye took me in, I was sick and ye visited me," is my sole excuse for a line in which, if permissible, I would like, before leaving the Rochester City Hospital, where during the past five weeks I have been brought from utter collapse to a new lease of life, to express my profound sense of gratitude for the Hospital. As a pastor, east and west, and a frequent visitor at Hospitals, I thought I knew something about them, but I never did, and few of us can in the large sense, until we become Hospital patients. I wish, therefore, out of my personal experience, to say that of all the beneficences which are most efficient in realizing the Master's conception of service to the needy, nothing can surpass the Hospital. Only by such experience can one know the delicacy and thoroughness with which every need of the sufferer is met and the ample facilities for achieving results quite impossible in the average home. Particularly in the Rochester City Hospital I have found such a corps of officials and nurses as can not be excelled. It would be difficult to find another such group of young women, so intelligent, so capable and so attentive to each slightest need, as these who make up the Hospital nurses. Rochester may well take pride in an institution so well equipped and so admirably managed. Were I looking for a place where money could be invested for the largest returns in benefit to my fellows, certainly the Rochester City Hospital would stand in the front rank.

There are many other things which even a bird's-eye view incline me to say of your city, through which I have so many times passed on the train, but of whose remarkable prosperity and beauty, of whose pastoral courtesy and remembrance of the hospital stranger, and, above all, of whose medical skill I have had no conception till now. And not least of the good things has been the almost daily reading of the Democrat and Chronicle, whose well-balanced makeup, thoughtful and timely editorials and general tone have excited my constant admiration. Though a guest of your city as an invalid, my remembrance of it will always be one of peculiar pleasure and gratitude.

CHARLES L. MORGAN.

Rochester, April 5, 1906.

Dear Madam:

My brother—, is laing in Hospitall for the last 6 weeks with a pain in his hand and he wroth me that he his cared from yow with the finest servises. I feel that I have to give yow my best thanks for trying and dooing the best to my poor Brother. It is not posible for me to give yow out in writhing my thanks, as I am not a great wrighter, but hope that yow will take it just as good.

In remitting this I wish to compliment the officers and attendants of the Hospital upon the kindness and attention shown to all of us during the trying days my mother was there for treatment. It certainly has changed my opinion of Hospitals, and now instead of feeling a dread at the mention of them, I feel thankful that such institutions do exist, whose doors are always open in time of illness and distress.

Thanking you again for all kindness shown to us all, I remain, Yours truly,

By the death of Katharine Johnson at Dansville, N. Y., on March 19, 1906, after a prolonged illness, the nursing profession lost one of its most efficient members. Her early life was spent in Picton, Ontario, where she was born. Entering the City Hospital Training school in 1891, she was graduated in the class of 1893. For four years she devoted herself to general nursing, but later made a specialty of nervous cases, for which her happy temperament and winning tact peculiarly fitted her. In the Autumn of 1900 she took a special course of laboratory training at the University, upon the completion of which she assumed the responsible position of nurse assistant to one of the members of the City Hospital Staff.

In this occupation she was engaged until last July when she was compelled to relinquish all work by the fatal malady which finally conquered her steadfast and intrepid spirit. Faithful in hospital work, devoted to the patient and loyal to the physician she exemplified in her life the high type of service the trained nurse can render. * * *

A Dental Invention Which Permits of Painless Work Upon Teeth.

By an invention of Dr. Crittenden Van Wyck, of San Francisco, Cal., all dental work, such as drilling into a tooth to remove decay and preparing it for a filling, or to grind down a tooth for a gold cap, or remove nerves, may now be done painlessly.

This is a wonderful advance in dental science, and will take away all dread of approaching the dental chair, when such work becomes necessary. The method has been proven successful during four years' trial.

The device of which this note is a brief description is called the Van Wyck Obtunder. By its use a tiny spray of ether is thrown upon the tooth to be operated upon. The rapid evaporation of the ether produces coldness, and in a few moments the tooth becomes perfectly numb and all sensation is lost. The dentist can now use his drilling machine, and bore out all decay and properly prepare the cavity for a filling, the spray continuing to run during the cutting operation.

The method is therefore very simple and effective. By placing a few drops of a strong perfume in the ether glass receptacle, the odor from the spray is made welcome, the ether odor being almost entirely disguised. No bad effects are noted in any manner from the use of this method.

The first shock of coldness is prevented by placing a piece of cotton upon the tooth to be sprayed upon, and thus the temperature is reduced gradually and without pain. The normal temperature returns to the tooth as soon as the spraying is discontinued, and no after effects of any kind are to be feared.

The spray is formed by using twenty pounds of compressed air, and is regulated by a valve. It is directed upon the tooth by a flexible metallic tubing, bent in such a manner as to throw the spray upon any tooth desired.—Scientific American.

Hospital Notes

That all may have their turn, vacations begin early, Miss Jones and Miss Little are now on theirs.

The maternity building is progressing finely; the foundation at the south end has been laid for some time and the rest is following rapidly.

The daily increase of our maternity service proves the real necessity for such accommodations as the new building will give us.

Dr. Curtis N. Jameson of the Junior Staff has been assigned to the department of anaesthesia. He will give instruction in that branch of the Hospital work and such personal supervision as is necessary.

A conference of the Junior Staff was held in the O. P. D. the last Wednesday of April, cases were presented by the physicians on duty.

These meetings will be held every two months, which will give the physicians connected with the Hospital an opportunity of seeing the most interesting cases treated in the department. The meeting was voted a success.

The report of the Surgical Pavilion shows 96 operations last month with an addition of 24 treated in the accident room. One day there were 8 operations performed.

April was a busy month in every way. There were many very sick patients and the highest number of all patients was 108. The corps of nurses was diminished by one or two being ill.

The last contributions from the Twigs before they stop for the summer are coming in. Three hundred and eighty-eight articles were sent in last month.

We have lost two of our most valued members of the working staff in the hospital—Miss McCullough and Miss Searl.

Miss McCullough is a graduate of our hospital in the class of '03 and has been with us since then, first having charge of the mansard and lately as night superintendent.

Her service has always been a willing and competent one and it will be difficult to fill her place.

Miss Searl has been our pharmacist for three years and has resigned as she is giving up the work.

She took a special course in pharmacy and is most accurate in her work, where accuracy and quick intelligence are so necessary.

The pharmacy is one of the most interesting spots in the hospital and became doubly so in the competent hands of Miss Searl.

Our youngest Twig appears in print for the first time.

Parent Stem.

The mother of nineteen children deserves a notice all to herself. I quote from a REVIEW of March, 1891: "In the autumn of 1887 Miss Lois E. Whitney who was an interested and efficient member of our Board, and who was ever ready to devise and execute plans to help the hospital, conceived the happy thought that it would be pleasant to gather a few friends, one day in every fortnight, to visit together and occupy the time in taking some of the many stitches necessary to supply the articles for the constant use of the inmates of the hospital.

"Her plan met with the interest and approval of the friends she asked to aid her, and one of the number christened their little society 'The Parent Stem,' because it was certain 'Twigs' would grow out of it; nor were they disappointed, for each year has added to the number until now (1891) ten different societies meet to do this necessary work, and we only wonder what we did without them."

The statement in dollars and cents of what it cost each week to employ a seamstress to make the sheets, pillow cases, etc., is what prompted Miss Whitney to form the Parent Stem.

I fear the Twigs have deserted somewhat from the ways of their honored parent, whose rules were—that luncheon should be served promptly at 1 o'clock, should be very simple of one course only, and the work continued all the afternoon. But it is hardly fair to find fault with the Twigs, even in print, in face of the glorious summary each Spring!

The Flower Mission.

In the year 1875, 30 years ago last November, some of the younger members of St. Luke's Episcopal Church having been inspired by the accounts of the good work accomplished in other cities by their Flower Missions, proposed having such a mission in our own beautiful city so aptly called "The Flower City." They spoke to their friends, and a meeting was held at the residence of Mr. Roswell Hart, on Plymouth avenue, Nov. 12th. The meeting was well attended, and much enthusiasm shown. At a second meeting held the following week November 20th, at the Supreme Court rooms, the society was more fully organized and plans laid for work during the winter. The officers elected were, President, Mrs. J. M. Atwater; Vice-President, Miss Anna Anderson; Secretary Miss Louise Alling; Treasurer, Miss Mattie Porter, now Mrs. John Hopkins. Committees of four were appointed to arrange and distribute the flowers, fruit and other delicacies. A room in Powers' Building was offered for the weekly meetings held on Saturday morning, and the work was faithfully carried on during the following year. In May 1876 the kind offer of the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. was accepted and there the committees met until the next May, 1877, when it was found necessary to make a change, and we were accommodated by the Rochester Fire Department, whose rooms were in Powers' Building. The first meeting was held there June 2nd. Between 700 and 800 bouquets besides baskets of fruit, jellies, jams, etc., were distributed, the members visiting the various hospitals, and other institutions, and also private individuals. In 1879 the work was discontinued during the winter, but was taken up the following summer, the meetings being held in St. Luke's Guild Rooms. The next summer five of the original members, met at the residence of Mr. Mortimer Reynolds on Spring street, now occupied by the Reynolds Library, and it was decided to hold their meetings there during the summer. Others joined them and very pleasant memories are associated with those informal, none the less busy meetings, and very grateful the visitors were, not only for the hospitality but for the flowers so generously provided by the hostess. In 1882 the society was reorganized, and again commenced work in the Guild Room of St. Luke's Church (with renewed vigor), members from the other Churches joining the band of workers. Since that date, now twenty-five years ago, this labor of love has been continued without interruption. Sometimes over 3,000 bouquets having been distributed during the year. Many a life has been brightened, and many a sufferer made to forget, for a time at least, their pain and weariness by the bright faces and words of sympathy of the flower bearers, for it is not the flowers alone, sweet messengers though they be, but the visit, the thought that "somebody cares" that as often comforts. How many lonely lives there may be, to whom these visits have been the greatest blessing, we can never tell. In making up the bouquets the workers used to put little slips of geraniums, or other plants in them, and these were planted and cherished, so giving lasting pleasure to the recipient. An effort was also made to put something fragrant in each bouquet, and an amusing incident occurred in connection with this, which bears repeating: A very old man, totally blind, a patient in our City Hospital, was given one of the choice bouquets one Saturday. He thanked the donor most profusely and apparently with much appreciation, but e'er she was out of hearing, the words were wafted to the ears of the poor maiden. "Umph! no more smell to 'em than to my old stick." Another incident related by one of the members was that of an old couple, both patients in the City Hospital. The woman was confined to her bed in the women's ward. The poor old man, though himself an invalid, and who was never without a flower in the buttonhole of his much dilapidated coat, was ever by his wife's bedside, his devotion being quite pathetic, the more so, as he was called upon daily, to hear not only her complaints, but also the constant praise of her first husband. One morning when the flowers were being distributed, among those who received some, for we are sorry to say there are not enough many times to give to all the patients, an old man sitting on the piazza of one of the Pavilions was so delighted when a bouquet was handed to him, saying, "It makes me think of my home where I used to have so many flowers."

In addition to the regular work at Christmas and Easter, extra effort was made one year before Christmas cards were to be purchased as reasonably as at present, as many of the members as could do so, painted cards to be carried with the flowers on these days. Carols were also sung in the wards of the hospital. In 1886, the St. Luke's room was refurnished by the members of the mission.

Before closing this article we must speak of the many, many kind friends, who have donated flowers, fruit, etc.

First and foremost came the names of Messrs. Charles and John White, who from the first until failing health prevented, never forgot to send flowers to our Mission. Messrs. Frost were also our good friends; and to Mrs. Gilman H. Perkins we owe a lasting debt of gratitude for throughout all these years she has been untiring in her gifts of flowers. Miss P. S. Ely must also be mentioned as another faithful and generous donor, each week for many years supplying us with a large basket full. To Mrs. Josiah Anstice too we owe our thanks for her increasing interest, and in the earliest days, Mrs. William Pitkin, Mrs. Thos. Montgomery, Mrs. Roswell Hart, Mrs. Chas. M. Lee, Mrs. Hiram Sibley, Mrs. T. A. Newton, who not only sent the flowers but arranged them in bouquets ready for distribution, and many others whom we should like to mention did space permit. When the meetings were first held in Powers block, we had one unknown giver whose name we could never ascertain, and therefore, we never could thank him for his generous donation.

Then too we have all the honorary members to thank, who by their gifts of money have made it possible to continue the work during the winter months. If

Owen Wister, the novelist, who hates long-winded preambles and useless questions, tells this story :

"A man stood before a mirror in his room, his face lathered, and an open razor in his hand.

"His wife came in. She looked at him and said .

" 'Are you shaving ?' "

"The man, a foe to surplusage, replied fiercely:

"No ; I am blacking the kitchen range. Where are you — out driving or at a matinee ?' " —Detroit Journal.
