WM. EASTWOOD'S Shoe Store, 22 State street, Rochester, has for many years been the standard house for the shoe trade. A large majority of her citizens deal there, and the villages on the line of the roads running to it, make this place their head quarters. Here one has a vast variety to select from, both in heavy wear, in fine or fancy qualities. He has excellent taste and purchases a stock of goods the public understand how to appreciate, which has from year to year given him great increase in sales. Remember this store exhibits at the door the sign of a large shoe, State street, No. 22.
