THE WITAN

Senior Year Book Class of January 1931

> Rochester, New York Charlotte High School December 1930

Rr 373 R676c Jan.1931

ROCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

THE GIFT OF

Nathaniel G. West

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County · Yearbook Collection

THE WITAN

3 9077 04049149 3

FURLONG-WHITE STUDIO

PORTRAIT PHOTOGRAPHERS

Central Bldgs., 158 Main Street East Stone 21 or 3258

Open Sundays By Appointment

(Special rates to students)

General Electric Refrigerator

Created, Perfected and Guaranteed by General Electric

The name of General Electric on your refrigerator is your assurance of unfailing service—year after year. Unlike any other regrigerator you have ever seen, the General Electric has all its mechanism enclosed in a single hermetically sealed casing. It hasn't a belt or a fan or a drain pipe anywhere. It never needs oiling. It is unusually quiet. Come in today and study its other advantages for yourself.

MAIN 3960

Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation
89 EAST AVENUE

QUALITY and SERVICE

PERFECTLY PASTEURIZED MILK AND CREAM

ROCHESTER STANDARD RAW MILK FROM TESTED GUERNSEY COWS

BUTTERMILK

MacKenzie Bros.

39 Stutson Street

Phone Char. 234

MRS. M. FANG

CONFECTIONERY CIGARS
SCHOOL LUNCHES

Cor. St. John's Park and Lake Avenue

LAWRENCE LENDING LIBRARY

4379 LAKE AVENUE Charlotte 354

Charlotte 1485

Delivery Service

FOR SATISFACTION
IN ALL KINDS OF HAIRDRESSING

WILSON'S FOOD STORE

LOWEST CASH PRICES

345 STUTSON STREET Near Lake Ave., Charlotte, N. Y. EDNA'S ROUGE BOX

210 Burke Bldg.

Edna I. Casler

Main 5958

FUR COATS
RELINED AND REMODELED

QUALITY DRY CLEANING
PRESSING REPAIRING

GIVE A MODEL AIRPLANE FOR CHRISTMAS

Models Completely Assembled $1.00 to $8.50

Guaranteed To Fly

BILL GRABENSTETTER

4410 Lake Ave.

Char. 1410

C. KENNETH HERSEY
342 Thomas Ave. Char. 1286-W

MAY WE SUGGEST

ANNA MAY
OLD FASHIONED
CHOCOLATES
70c THE POUND

GEORGE C. WICKMAN DISTRIBUTOR

166 Clinton Ave. N.

Main 5170

LIGHT LUNCHES ICE CREAM SCHOOL SUPPLIES

A. T. FANG

Corner River St. & St. John's Park

WISHING YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS and A HAPPY NEW YEAR

44 Stutson St.

PARRY'S BARBER

AND BEAUTY PARLOR

Char. 744

25c

SHOP

"Sam" G. Impiccini

MORE THAN 25 YEARS EXPERIENCE IN SHOE TRADE REDUCED PRICES

Ladies Taps and Heels : $1.20 Skates Sharpened : :

Men's Taps and Heels : $1.40 New Shoes Our Specialty

3988 LAKE AVE.

NEAR CHARLOTTE HIGH SCHOOL

Stone 1490

THE WARDEN SHOP

(Ground Floor, Temple Building) 38-40 NORTH STREET

BOYS' AND STUDENTS' CLOTHING AND FURNISHINGS

THE STORE OF VALUE AND SERVICE

PLEASE MENTION THE WITAN TO OUR ADVERTISERS

SURE WINNERS

In RACING, HOCKEY or Plain and Fancy SKATING

THE FAMOUS

ALFRED JOHNSON

RACING or HOCKEY SKATES

Made for hard use---from selected steel that takes a sharp edge and holds it. Strongly reinforced and guaranteed for two years! Mounted on sturdy shoes of imported calfskin, double-

$5.95
Nickel Slightly Higher

stitched and reinforced at points of greatest strain.

No better skate can be made---no lower price can be secured anywhere! Get onto a pair of Alfred Johnson Skates.

NOAH'S ARK

60 State St.

190 East Ave.

44 Clinton, N.

VOL. 10

DECEMBER 1930

No. 2

Susanne Bogorad	Editor-in-chief
June Estes Julia Van Dam Harold Smith Mary Donaldson (8 A-1)	Associate Editors
Josephine Bemish Burtis Dougherty Betty LeClare Margaret Hewins (8 B-1)	Literary Editors
Katherine Trayhern Arthur Gordon Doris Bullock Delores Kohlmetz (8 B-2) Phyllis Line (8A-2)	Associate Literary Editors
Dorothy Bubier Maud Lancaster (8 A-2)	Poetry Editors
Rosemary Kaercher	Art Editors
Ruth Gordon Cecilia Quinlan Doris Reagon	Typists
Gertrude Rappold	Secretary
Louise Teetsel (8A-2) Gehring Cooper Frank Smith James Williams (7 B-1)	Joke Editors
Edna Michel Alberta Lee (7 B-2)	News Editors
The state of the s	Feature Writers
(Continued on Page 61)

Nathaniel G. West, Principal

9-29-42

9~373 R676c D1930

THE WITAN

My Christmas Wish For You!

In the Village no family had its own Christmas free. The Big Tree was set up in the Little Church and on Christmas Eve all brought their presents to be distributed at the entertainment.

The Small Boy received one lone present, a piece of candy in a paper poke. He wondered why some received so much and he so little. "But then," he mused, "my Mother has given me this gift, as generous as she can afford!" He thanked her for it and vowed that she should never know his first unworthy thought.

Christmas, 1930, is drawing near. We know that for all of us it will be different from former Christmases. Some of us, for the first time, will receive "a piece of candy in a paper poke;" others will refuse to be extravagant in gifts to relatives and friends in order to bring cheer into homes made cheerless by lack of work.

We shall remember that, in contrast to our friends across the sea, we, even in this time of stress, are more prosperous than they. We shall be grateful that this is so.

And so, this Christmas will be more serious than usual, but we shall feel its spirit of peace and good will.

We shall think lovingly of Tiny Tim, who "bore a little crutch, and had his limbs supported by an iron frame," whose Christmas prayer was for all,—"God bless us every one!"

"And thus he prayed, 'God bless us every one'!
Enfolding all the creeds within the span
Of his child-heart; and so, despising none,
Was nearer saint than man."

—James Whitcomb Riley.

May you, with Tiny Tim, discover the true spirit of Christmas!

May Christmas Day find you screne in your feeling of good will toward all mankind.

May your good will be symbolized by your deeds of sacrifice in observance of the Season.

Most sincerely,

Mathaniel G. West

Mrs. Madelyn Denise, Class Adviser

C. Lawrence Kilmer No. 38 School 25 Frey Street Business

"Born for success, he seemed With grace to win, with heart to hold, With shining gifts that took all eyes."

Assembly committee (chairman) 3, 4; book exchange committee (manager) 2, 3, 4; candy committee 4; class president 2, 3, 4; glee club 1, 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 3, 4; operetta 2, 3; publicity committee 2; school party (chairman) 4; senior play 4; student council 2, 3, 4; Witan 3, 4.

Margaret Elinor Kirby No. 38 School 693 Latta Road Genesee Hospital The storm is over, the sun's come thru; Without her sunshine, what would we do?

Assembly committee 4; baseball 4; basketball 3, 4; candy committee 4; chemistry club 3; class vice-president 3,4; French honor society 4; girls' athletic association (vice-president) 3, 4, (cup winner) 4; glee club 1, 2, 3, 4; operetta 2, 3; safety order committee 3; soccer 4; student council 3, 4; tennis 3, 4; thrift committee 1, 2, 4; Tri-Y 3, (president) 4.

Carol E. Schmidt
6 Alonzo Street
Business
"The office becomes a woman best."

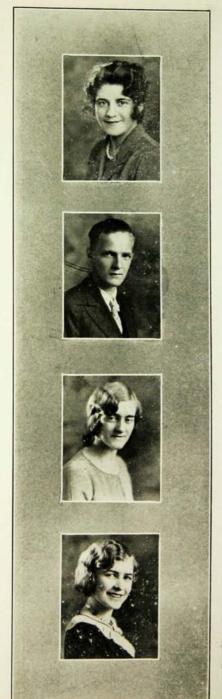

Assembly committee (secretary) 3;
book exchange committee (secretary)
2, 3, 4; class secretary 2, 4; girls' athletic association 3, 4; glee club 1;
orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; school party refreshment committee (chairman) 4;
student council (treasurer) 4; tap dancing 3, 4; thrift committee 1.

David H. Benham Seneca School
Dorvid Road Cornell
"E'en though vanquished, he can argue

"E'en though vanquished, he can argue still."

Basketball (manager) 3; book exchange committee 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 3; National Honor Society 4; publicity committee 4; senior day committee 4; senior play (manager) 4; standard bearer 4.

Susanne Bogorad No. 38 School 4768 Lake Ave. Columbia University "Do you not know I am a woman? When I think, I must speak!"

Assembly committee 3, 4; basketball 1, 2, 3; class secretary 1; French honor society 3, 4; girls' athletic association 1, 2, 3, 4; glee club 1, 2, 3, 4; hiking 2; hockey 1; National honor society 3, 4; publicity committee 3, (chairman) 4; riding 3; senior day committee 4; swimming 1, 2, 3, 4; tap dancing 3, (manager) 4; tennis 4; Tri-Y 3, 4; Witan 3, (editor-in-chief) 4; Guardian of the flag 4.

Charles Borgus No. 38 School 120 Chalford Road Business "No woman may approach his silent court."

Baseball 1; soccer 1; track 4.

Dorothy Ruth Collett No. 38 School 6 Meech Park U. of R.

What praise can we bestow upon a deserving girl, indeed!

Assembly committee 4; candy committee 4; class secretary 1; class historian 4; French honor society 4; girls' chorus 3; glee club 2, 3, 4; operetta 2, 4; Tri-Y 3, 4; Witan 4; school representative in the National high school chorus.

Frances L. Earl No. 38 School 296 Conrad Drive Business

Most unusually dignified,

Basketball 3; candy committee 4; class prophet 4; glee club 2, 3, 4; Tri-Y 3, 4; Witan 4.

June W. Estes

45 Strohm Street

Business

"She was a phantom of delight
When first she gleam'd upon my sight"

Assembly committee 3 (chairman) 4;
class president 2; French honor society 4; girls' athletic association 2;
glee club 1, 2, 3, 4; orchestra 1; operetta 2, 4; senior day committee (chairman) 4; senior play 4; student council 2; thrift committee 2, 3, 4;

Tri-Y 3, 4; Witan 3, 4.

Frank Fuhrman No. 38 School 60 Rochelle Avenue Undecided Who is this quick witted fellow? Baseball 1; basketball 1; chemistry club 3; Hi-Y 4; soccer 1.

Margaret E. Jackson No. 38 School
4231 Lake Avenue Nursing
"Thy housekeeping hath won the greatest favor."

Basketball 4; chemistry club (secretary) 4; girls' athletic association 3, 4; girls' chorus 3; glee club 1, 2, 3; Tri-Y 3, 4; Witan 4.

Paul D. Lascell No. 38 School 122 Boxart Street P. G. "He is a very proper young man."

Assembly committee 4; candy committee 4; class vice-president 3; Hi-Y 2, 3, 4; senior play (assistant stage manager) 4; soccer 1; tennis 3; track 3; Witan 4.

Donald D. Marvin

232 Stonewood Ave. Mechanics Inst.
"I stood like a man at a mark with a whole army shooting at me."

Basketball 4; chemistry club (president) 4; Hi-Y 4; senior play 4; soccer 4; track 4.

Vera M. MacMullen No. 38 School 4329 Lake Avenue Business

"There is no power in the tongue of man to alter me."

Basketball 3; candy committee 4; girls' athletic association 3, 4; glee club 2, 3, 4; operetta 2; senior day committee 4; senior play 4; tennis 2; Tri-Y 3, 4.

Edna Dorothy Michel East High 101 LeRoy Street Geneseo Normal Teddy has not been with us long, But her life at Charlotte has been a song.

Assembly committee 3, 4; baseball 4; basketball 4; French honor society 4; girls' athletic association 4; glee club 3, 4; soccer 4; student council (secretary) 4; tap dancing 4; tennis 4; Tri-Y 4; Witan 4.

Marjorie E. Milne West High School 234 Windsor Rd. Roch. Gen. Hospital She is cheerful, and thinks well of each thing.

Baseball 2, 3, 4; candy committee (chairman) 4; French honor society 4; girls' athletic association 2, 3, 4; Tri-Y 3, 4.

Mary Mitchell No. 38 School 2649 Ridge Road West Business

"Virtue was sufficient of herself for happiness."

Basketball 2; chemistry club 3; girls' athletic association 2; girls' chorus 3; glee club 2, 3, 4; hiking 2; operetta 3; senior day committee 4; student council 1, (secretary) 4; swimming 2; Tri-Y (secretary) 3, 4; Witan 3.

Anona Lucretia Page J. J. H. S. 86 Elmtree Road Eastman School

"Deep violets, you liken to the Kindest eyes that look on you, Without a thought disloyal."

Candy committee 4; class president 4; class secretary 3; French honor society (secretary) 4, (president) 4; girls' athletic association 3, 4; girls' chorus 3; glee club 2, 3, 4; operetta 2, 3; Tri-Y 3, 4; Witan 4.

Carl Pearson No. 38 School 34 Florence Avenue Undecided

"Here comes a man of comfort."

Assembly committee 3, 4; basketball 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y 3, (president) 4; school party committee 3; cross country 3; senior play 4; student council (vice-president) 4; track 2, 3.

Alma Lillian Raysor No. 38 School 117 Duffern Drive R. B. I.

"We like your silence, it the more shows off your wonder: but yet speak!"

Baseball 2, 3; basketball 2, (manager) 3, 4; candy committee 4; class secretary 4; girls' athletic association 1, 2, 3, 4; hiking 1; operetta 2; riding 2, 3; Tri-Y 3, 4.

Donald Ryan
51 Wendhurst Drive

No. 38 School
Undecided

"A primrose by the river's brim, A yellow primrose was to him,— And it was nothing more."

Track 4.

John G. Shenton No. 38 School 18 Bloss Street Business

"He is a great observer, and looks quite through the deeds of men."

Assembly committee 4; baseball 1; basketball 1; Hi-Y 3, (treasurer) 4; publicity committee 4; safety and order committee 2; soccer 1; Witan 4; wrestling (manager) 4.

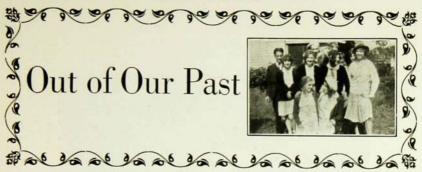

Esther E. Smith
38 Fair Place
"Then heigh-ho the holly, this life is most jolly."

Baseball 1; basketball 2,

Helen Archer White No. 38 School Latta Road U. of R.

Helen, whose manner is very jolly, Has kept us happy with her folly. Assembly committee 4; baseball 2, 3; basketball (manager) 2, (captain) 3,

Assembly committee 4, baseball 2, 3, basketball (manager) 2, (captain) 3, 4; candy committee 4; class president 3; French honor society 4; girls' athletic association 1, 2, 3, 4; glee club 1; hiking 1; operetta 2; publicity committee 3; riding 2, 3; senior play (business manager) 4; student council 3; tennis 2; Tri-Y 3, 4; Witan 2, 4.

In nineteen-eighteen, that was the year When our June and Laurie did somehow appear In the room we now call one hundred nine, To start their schooling with vigor so fine.

"Marg" Jackson, too, was also a member Of the same kindergarten, as I can remember. Then Helen and Dorothy made their debut, The first in a year and the second in two.

Now Carol, "Marg" Kirby and Alma we know Entered our class in the fourth grade or so; While Vera and John had joined us too, Thus making our class number twenty-two.

When we were graduated in twenty-six, We found that our class had somehow been mixed, But our only new members who are with us yet Were Susanne and Esther whom we'll not forget.

As freshmen we found ourselves much afraid, For fear that our teachers would us upbraid, So we heeded them well and studied real hard And "Sue" and "Dot" each had A's on her card.

Now this was the year when new friends did come; They were Marjorie, Frances and Carl Pearson, Charles Borgus, "Don" Ryan and Marvin, I guess; They've all added to spirit and class success.

Anona, we find, according to record, Came down from "Jeff" in rather cold weather. "Bob" Hartman, too, did the very same thing, But he fell behind, to be graduated next Spring.

Now here is a secret: When we were III-1, We hiked over to Sea Breeze and had lots of fun; Our dear friend and adviser, who accompanied us, Was as enthusiastic about it as the rest of us.

'Twas during this year that Edna appeared And took up her duties. We need not have feared That she could not accustom herself to our school, For as student secretary she's calm and cool.

In January, 1927

THE WITAN OUT OF OUR PAST

What could we have done without our "Dave"? The he always studies, he's not study's slave. To the post of standard bearer he has risen And of his services has freely given.

In the fourth year friends joined us, their names
I will tell;
They are Mary, Frank Fuhrman and Paul Lascell.
So last but not least, we surely must say
That we're truly happy they came our way.

And to on-coming classes we leave their share
Of the seniors' hurry and scurry and care.

Dorothy Collett,

Class Historian

Class Motto:

Campon" Back

Class Colors: Orchid and Yellow

Class Flower: Yellow Tea Rose

front of a large gray building.

"I'll call you when I am ready, find out!" Donald," he said to his chauffeur, as and the children."

Entering the apartment house, the ambassador was escorted into a mag- a famous novelist! floor by a trim little maid whom he man, publishers. greeted familiarly.

"Alma, my dear, is His Honor, Judge Benham, in?"

"Most assuredly, ambassador," answered Alma Raysor, the maid, smil- become a well known actress. ing prettily. you lately."

Soon, an extremely tall, slim man, about thirty-eight years of age, with that she has made a success, but I'm steel-gray hair and silver-rimmed sorry that she is ill." glasses, came into the room and hurriedly grasped the hand of the visitor, new play next week, so it really isn't shaking it vigorously. isn't my old friend and classmate!"

pretty well!"

to be one of the most successfully son." written this year. That setting is so it remind you of the good old days his pupil."

A late model of the 1950 Limozine, when we were going to Charlotte High carrying Ambassador John G. Shenton School together? The publishers are to his destination, glided smoothly Kilmer, Borgus and Fuhrman, and the over the wide, beautiful streets of author's pen name is Withington. Do Washington, and finally stopped in you know, I'm anxious to know who that author really is, and I'm going to

"Don't trouble yourself. I became he got out of the car. "And Donald, curious also, since the publishers' I think that you may have time to names seemed so familiar, so I wrote take Mrs. Marvin for a little ride be- to them, and they informed me that fore I need you. Give my love to her Susanne Bogorad is the author's own name. You remember her, don't you?"

"Heavenly day! Susanne Bogorad, And 'Red' Kilnificently furnished room on the first mer, Charles Borgus and Frank Fuhr-Does it all seem possible?"

> "But how is June-you know, that pretty little blonde, Susanne's chum?"

"Oh, haven't you heard? She has How-"Come right into the ever, recently she had a nervous breakdrawing room. He will be glad to down, caused by over-work, and she see you. He has been inquiring about is now convalescing. Margaret Kirby is her nurse."

"That's too bad. I'm glad to hear

"She will be well enough to open a "Well, if it very serious. Have a cigar, David?"

"Thanks. By the way, let's turn on "Greetings, old pal. How are you?" the radio; there are some very good "Oh, I'm feeling fine. You look as programs on about this time," he anthough the world were treating you swered, as he walked over to the radio and began to turn the dials.. Sud-"Oh yes. As a matter of fact, I do denly he stopped and listened as a feel much better since I've had my voice coming over the radio said, "The glasses changed___. 'Hometown Days' artist you have just heard was Anona ___so you're reading this book, too, Page, singing a French folk song. I have read it several times. It has This is station WHAM at Rochester. been judged by authorities on novels Your announcer has been Carl Pear-

"Anona Page a staff artist! familiar that it puzzles me. Doesn't wager Mr. Marsh would be proud of "That reminds me of something that at the hospital where she was train-I was going to tell you. Donald Ryan ing. Esther Smith is her social secis a mechanical engineer now. He was retary. working on a construction job down by the court house the other day and tire senior class, doesn't it?" I happened to see him. He looks the same as ever. persists in falling over his eyes, and High School, directly across the street he reads a book during his spare time." from where we attended, and I found Gray's stories. Don certainly had a teaching staff. Dorothy Collett is at warm spot in his heart for them."

but it was some other western novel. Mary Mitchell teaches commercial Don told me that Paul Lascell made a subjects, and Carol Schmidt, our class very successful parachute jump at secretary, is now secretary to Mr. West Roosevelt Field recently when the con- and is very competent in her position." trols on his plane went out of order."

"By the way, do you know what MacMullen?"

Marjorie Milne is doing?"

pital in the Bronx, in New York, She very hard now to perfect a new painseems to be very much interested in less drill that she wishes to have pather work."

minds me that I met Helen White Edna Michel, she is a very well recogabout a year ago in New York. She nized figure in politics in Rochester. had just returned from an eight years' Everyone feels sure that she will be stay in Africa. You know she is a elected congresswoman to represent missionary and is very enthusiastic her district at the next election." about her African converts. Margaret Jackson was at the boat to meet eers of all of_____ Helen and I learned that her last name is no longer Jackson. Margaret mar- the pert little maid, who had just enried a millionaire factory owner whose tered. life she saved while he was a patient

"That almost accounts for our en-

"Oh, no! The last time I was in His black hair still Rochester I visited the new Charlotte "I hope he has advanced from Zane several of our classmates on the the head of the Mathematics Depart-'No, it wasn't a Zane Gray story, ment, Frances Earl teaches Latin,

"What about Edna Michel and Vera

"Didn't you hear about Vera? "Marjorie is on the staff of a hos- is a dentist's assistant and is working ented. I wouldn't be surprised if she "Speaking of former classmates, re- received world renown for it. As for

"Isn't it amazing the way the car-

"Tea is served, your Honor," said

Frances Earl, Class Prophet.

Miss W.: "Edward, give me the principal parts of that verb, if you the Jay Treaty?" can."

Edward: "Ifyoucan, ifyoucanare,ifyoucanavi, ifyoucanatus."

Miss Goff: "Who was the author of

C. P.: "I don't know."

Miss Goff: "Then who was the author of Gray's Elegy?"

Someone was heard to whisper, "Goldsmith."

Miss Goff: "Who invented the locomotive?"

Pupil: "Cooper."

Miss Goff: "Which Cooper?"

Pupil (brightly): "James Fenimore."

Mr. C.: What do you lack, Don?" D. M.: "Nothin', except brains."

Miss D: "Look up that construction in the appendix of your Latin book."

A. G. (examining tattered book): "Oh, my appendix are out."

M. R. in studyhall, where she was powdering her nose.

Miss B.: "This is a studyhall, not an exterior decorating room."

a 20 10 20 10 20 10 20 Our Last Will and Testament 16 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6

Charlotte High School, being of sound to Dona Armstrong. and disposing mind and memory, declare this to be our last Will and Testament:

 To Mrs. Denise we leave a quiet History class six years from now. home room group, but for fear there will be some need for a megaphone and a gavel, we leave these in addition.

To Mr. Enright we leave a sen-II. ior play cast that will do exactly as they are told.

III. To Mrs. Ward we leave three or four very choice apples to eat during class.

Baby Grand step ladder so that she will not have to take lessons in conshe may open the library windows.

V. To Mr. West we leave a beautiful picture of the new school, which may be hung over his desk in his office.

VI. To Miss Brown a sack of peanuts so that she may indulge in her pet hobby more often.

VII. We leave to Miss Sharer a pair of ball bearing roller skates so that she may make her connections between the two assemblies more easily. Also, we leave her an overgrown brief case to carry her numerous papers and knick-knacks around in.

As personal bequests we leave:

VIII. "Marg" Kirby's permanent wave to "Vi" Rentschler to relieve "Vi" of continually worrying about how horrid her hair looks.

IX. "Don" Marvin's height to Ray Grant for the sake of many of his feminine admirers.

X. "Tiny" White's "excess baggage" to Eleanor Rowe.

XI. The rats whose domicile may thirty. be found in Mr. Omans' room and who have been under the motherly care of

We, the class of January, 1931, "Ma" Jackson and "Ma" MacMullen

XII. "Dave" Benham's "drag" with Miss Goff to Charles Peters in the hopes that he will not be in the III-1

XIII. June Estes' "drag" with Miss Sharer to Jenne Marvin who, we think, needs it quite badly.

XIV. "Sue" Bogorad's elusive smile to those unfortunate students who have a hard time making their alibis "go over."

XV. To Carl Halbleib we leave Carl

Pearson's athletic physique.

XVI. To Christopher Tiernan we IV. To Miss Cashman we leave a leave "Don" Ryan's innocent eloquence.

XVII. To Burtis Dougherty we tortion and in acrobatics in order that leave Lawrence Kilmer's winning way with the girls.

XVIII. To Rosemary Kaercher. who, we hear, is quite often late, we leave Marjorie Milne's punctuality to school.

XIX. To Adreen Kirby, we leave Dorothy Collett's mathematical skill.

Now a few suggestions: XX.

That balconies be constructed at some of the various windows to aid some of Charlotte's numerous "Romeos" in their courtships.

That the wall space in the locker room be converted into mirrors.

That a bust of Richard Halliburton be placed in the library so that "a certain young lady" may be inspired to do her lessons better.

We hereby appoint the present IV-1 class executors of this our last Will and Testament.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name, the first day of December, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and

We, in the presence of each other, (Continued on page 63)

I EXECUTIVES

JUST THE BOYS

"PALS"

JUST THE GIRLS

THEOLOGY

- Listen child: the world was made in seven days and on the eve of the seventh day there was born in the heart of China's forest, Moji, a great white elephant, the king of all beasts. And Moji grew till he was the largest and most powerful creature that stalked the jungles of China. He went about eating what he pleased, befriending other animals and enjoying the greatest freedom ever given to living beings. He was worshipped by all creatures dwelling upon the earth; he was to rule eternally. And because of this he was made wisest of all beings.
- Listen child: when the world was a thousand years old Moji was in the prime of his youth. He had lived when sages had passed away; he had ruled on when prophets died in shame and poverty. But there came a time when one of these determined to solve the mystery of Moji's eternal life. This creature was an elephant gray of hue, not the pure color of Moji's hide, but a color between the black of the common herd and the imperial white; he was blessed by a minor god in hope of earthly victory. So he challenged Moji to fight on the shore of the Lake of Peace and they fought, the gray one fighting hard to ward off the fatal blows of his huge opponent and the white one fighting harder than necessary but with a skill only to be given by the gods, themselves. Moji conquered swiftly and the little gray creature died valiantly.
- Listen child: 'twas then that Moji discovered his great strength and might; never before had he realized this gift. And now he stood on the shore of the lake in the cooling wind and lifted his head to the heavens and blared forth a call of defiance; he was challenging the god who made him and all the lesser gods. Up above a bright star suddenly shone out midst the myriad of other asterisks. Down below a little black stone blew into Moji's eye and blinded him. The great beast was terrified and he ran about wildly, trampling on everything that happened to be in his path. But soon a huge tree blocked his mad rush; he struck it mightily and fell dead at its base. The king of beasts was king no more.
- Listen child: even now when the full moon shines in the sky, shedding its white light, white as Moji's hide, upon the earth, it is warning you to remember the lesson Moji learned.

Ray Dudley, '33

THE CLOCK STRIKES

"Get up, sleepyhead; it's seven o'- comes Mr. Woodman. clock!" What a sweet sound falling will you please stop pulling my hair? upon my ear all on a frosty morning. Okay, Dan, I'll tell Pauline. Harring-I put my arms outside the quilt to ton, this is rich. Jerry wants some stretch, but back they go in a twinkl- more love advice. Guess I'll have to come and shut my windows!" dear, won't they ever come? here comes Dad.

"Hey, Pop, what time is it?

I'll have to step on the gas."

"Say, do I have any clean stockings, mind the alibis now; it's too late. These are dirty. Did anybody see my shoe? Never mind; here it is 246; write Ex. I, III and V. Wonder under the bed. Mother, will you turn what Ray and Jimmie are talking the iron on? I want to press my dress."

you move over? Got a lease on the and there goes the bell. I'll answer sink or something? What's that fun- it in English, Snooky. ny noise? Huh-Oh, the new alarm clock. I thought it sounded like the Race you to the lunch room! Yummy, baby."

the twenty of eight whistle. meal again; can't we have something this is hot! Now look at that clock. Who's been monkeyin' with it? Can't the bell rings. be late as that already.

give me some money, and a hanky, too, Mother.

"Well, good-bye, folks; there goes the car. Oh dear (puff) well, I can't be as late as I thot, 'cause here comes Jerry."

Schaads; we'll get a ride down. Stop it, Dick, or I'll slap your wrist!"

"Thanks, loads, Mr. Schaad. Here we are in the halls of learning just as my shin. There! I made a goal. (The

the clock strikes 8:30."

"Ho hum, Latin sure is slow. Here is a sentence I know. Why, she actually called on me! Well, Carolyn, do your stuff. Sure glad that's over. to voice. Will that ever get around to passing I'll try! But I really do enjoy it imtime. Wonder if she saw me throw mensely." There goes the bell." that one?

a test today. Gosh, I forgot all about yet. I must do my home work and it. What will I ever do? Oh, here then dress for the concert.

start a column and call it 'I'm Con-"Br-r-r, it's cold! Hey, somebody fessing' or 'Advice to the Love Lorn Oh, by Fairfacts'. Goodness! the period Oh- can't be up already.

> "Oh, there's Pom. Hey, Pom, how Well, is my kitty? He ran away! weren't you more careful? Never

"French-more darn fun! Carolyn, conjugate 'avoir' in about. the imperfait! Why does she always "Bill, for the love of Mike, can't pick on Renee? Oh, here's a note, Hurray! Judy has the locker open. this sure tastes good. Judith, let's go "Guess I'll have to hurry; there goes to the library after lunch. I want to Oat finish that article about Floyd Gibbons. Say, (whisper) do you know different once in a while? Boy, but why she keeps it so quiet in here? It's sickening. The clock strikes-I mean

"Good-bye, English. Let's make "Got to go, I guess; don't forget to Jack read his essay. Wow, that was Jimmie, Chuck, and so on. funny! Think I will turn poetic and say that time flies on swift white wings.

"Why does a person have to take gym anyway? And going outside at that; I shall certainly freeze. What "Step on it, you, here comes the I mean freeze! We are going to play speedball at that; I calls it adding insult to injury. Geraldine, will you please be more careful? You kicked winning touchdown). This game isn't so bad after all, and there goes the whistle. Now to run for it.

> "Look at my hair, and I have to go 'Sing something simple'.

I heave a sigh of relief as I grab "Bernice, did you get the 8th prob- my coat and books and dash for the Neither did I. We are having door. However, the rush is not over strikes? Carolyn Carroll, '32.

THE STOWAWAY

Jack stirred uneasily in the heavy and almost suffocating bag. Piles of clothing, tins of food and some steel emergency appliances were surrounding him, and seemed to absorb the air that was rightfully his.

He heard voices, then footsteps. The footsteps passed and the voices died away. Others approached and died away. Jack fell into a doze and was awakened when the bag was lifted and dropped with a thud into something small and stuffy: He heard one voice.

"Seems sorta heavy. Shall we open

"Naw, don't bother," answered another, "these fliers probably know their stuff."

"Maybe a stowaway." Jack caught his breath, but was reassured by the as the men performed several tasks about the ship, and caught his breath whenever their careless hands passed her. over the bag. Then, suddenly, he made him feel dizzy and he sank into ation. a deep sleep.

lessly about, with a dim, half-forgot- "swish." and bright and clear. A faint hum of voices broke the monotony and he stirring. heard men say in unpleasantly suggestive tones:

ly felt very faint and disgusted with fashion. She roused herself, seeming himself, longing to get away from to shake off a drowsy insensibility. this land of falling things. Something happened. The bag opened an da rush must go on! I can't stop now! On, of light almost blinded him, while a on, go on!" man's strong, greasy hand clutched

So be it. Another day! How many his neck. Fearfully Jack glanced up will there be before the last clock at him, watching the man's lips move, and hearing words of a strange The man laughed unpleastongue. antly and said in the same tone, "Stowaway?"

Jack nodded, too frightened to

"Trial flight," the man explained, with difficulty and frequent interruptions in that unfamiliar language. "We land in dark. You go. I not tell my master."

Jack began to express his gratitude in a hurried jumble of words. man nodded. Then, grateful to be back, Jack felt the plane land. little crowd welcomed it, walked around it, inspecting the wings and propellers. Jack slunk gratefully away into the darkness.

E. Donoghue, '32.

PUSSY IN THE WELL

Margot stole out of bed, crept down other's laugh. He listened for a while the stairs, slipped the bolt, opened the back door, and disappeared into the gloom, the door slowly shutting after

The reeds in the marsh grew tall. heard a great roar, felt a trembling six or seven feet, and they were so go over the plane, and finally felt it thick, the place resembled a forest. rise into the air, making the piles of Fleet-footed and sure, Margot sped clothing and tins of food fall all through this growth, finally arriving around him. The motion of the ship at what was, apparently, her destin-

Blackness surrounded the place, but He was wandering somewhere where in one particular spot the blackness piles of clothing drifted about and tins was less impenetrable than elsewhere. of food dropped everywhere. He had A gurgling, sighing sound could be no goal in mind, but wandered aim- heard, with, now and then, a gentle It was here that Margot ten memory of a place that was firm stopped. She stood gazing into this murmuring well of darkness without

"O wonder-do you suppose he's in there? No, he couldn't be!" "Maybe a stowaway." He sudden- mumbled on for a few moments in this

"Oh, why am I waiting here?

She circled wildly about the pool and went running on. Hysterical sobs his family out for a joy ride), roll it, shook her.

"Where is he? He isn't gone for it in the attic for the winter. good! No, no, not for good! Are you, Peter? You're coming back, You must, Peter; you aren't you? must!" Faster and faster Margot ran. Her haste had produced a maniacal frenzy

"Back, I must go back! He's at the 'Devil's Hole'. I know he is! Oh.

Peter, I'm coming!"

Her flying feet soon brought her back to the whispering well. leaned over the edge. As she clutched frantically for an object that eluded her grasp, she slipped, and sank from sight. The elusive object "meowed" faintly, and then, this sound too ceased. Elinore Raymond, '32.

"THESE AUSTINS!"

The North wind doth blow and we shall have snow and what will the Austin do then, poor thing? If it had a couple of wings to hide under, I wouldn't worry so about it. But as it is, I do worry!

Every time I think of what might befall the Austins this winter, I shudred! What if a snowflake happened to fall on one, covering it completely? Then, again, what if one happened to fall into a rut made by the wheels of some other car? Oh, what a sad fate for the poor Austin, who never did a bit of harm (for what chance would an Austin have against the mice in Father's barn?) The poor Austin's fate is something like the little boy (I forgot his name) who stuck his thumb in a pie and pulled out a plum; both due for a life of disappointments.

We could put the Austins on our sleds and pull them around, or else a pocket is a very good place to carry such articles. I imagine though, that these methods would become quite monotonous after a while.

be to wrap the Austin up in a box warm, cozy, raccoon coat, which is to (making sure to sprinkle plenty of be the radiator for the owner in the pepper on it so Mr. Moth won't take future."

pat it and mark it with "B" and put

Martha Watt, '33.

THE ART OF PUBLIC SPEAKING

To make a speech, three things are essential: nervousness, no knowledge of the subject, and occasional blushes. When you begin, use this entrance: "Unaccustomed as I am in making public speeches______, then stop and sputter around for something else. This will keep your listeners in suspense, and also help to hold their at-Next, tell them how glad tention you are to see them (although vou're not). They'll feel the same way, so what's the difference. After you've unsuccessfully tried to explain what you're talking about, forget all about it and start on something new. (This will keep them wondering). Finally, make a dignified dash for your seat, and if someone starts throwing eggs. tomatoes and other delectable articles at you, you're a born speaker and a success. Anna Sprague, '32.

DOING THE RACCOON!

Wasn't that the name of a song which was once popular ages and ages ago? Yes, I believe it was. But now I have changed its meaning altogether,

The newest meaning is not found in Webster's, but I soon hope to have it put there for the special benefit of those who do not know the meaning of such words and phrases.

The explanation, which will appear in the next edition of that well loved book, the dictionary, is as follows: "Doing the Raccoon is the process of begging every day, for 3 years, for at I guess the best thing to do would least three hours a day for a huge, E. Lascell, '32.

TRY IT, IF YOU LIKE

Every so often the honorable Mater gets an idea to try another experiment on us kids. Her latest is Cod Liver Oil. I guess she heard from some respectable source, probably the little bird, that said oil will fatten and help towards the prevention of colds during the winter. Therefore, the well meaning parent brings a bottle of Olafsen's best and purest. Cod Liver Oil as her everlasting, eternal, grievance is that not I (Heavens no), but my two kid sisters are too skinny, in other words, thin.

Well, on one certain day in my diurnal quest for chocolate, peanuts, raisins and marshmallows, I come across the bottle of Pure Extract of Cod Liver Oil. Being naturally curious and hoping that the cold prevention power (not the fattening one) will work on me. I remove the bottle from the shelf on which it rests and measure out a teaspoonful, as I have decided to be moderate with unknown matter, especially when it is to enter the solar plexus.

I swallow the ingredient and lick

my chops-Blank

I will not say I did not like it. Nor will I try to dissuade anyone else from taking it. Oh, no! Far be it from me to discourage any healthful or beneficial remedies for anything!

I will only say that I was disappointed.

OF SHOES AND SAILS AND SEALING WAX

same as it is today. Walruses were to read the paper. playing sea tag and snails were slowly creeping their slimy, silvery, slen- him where he found the paper. He der trail to anywhere. George Wash- laconically informs you it was on the ington was not yet the father of his front porch. He was right there when country and the ocean water was full the paper landed and he brought it of salt. still using his thumb to fish up him) and then proceeded to read it in dumpling out of the boiling caldron peace. In peace, until you came in of South American revolutions, and and spoiled it all. Columbus had just purchased his first complete set of real false teeth.

It was at this time that dear old Lindy made his appearance in a daring solo cross country run for Charlotte. At any rate, Napoleon lost the batle of Salamis and Turkey was saved, etc, etc, and etc. And so in concluding, gentlemen of the jury, I wish to say that this essay may fool some of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, but this essay cannot fool all of the people all of the time. Therefore, base your decisions upon that.

Gordon LeRoy, '32.

ONE'S DAILY DOZEN

When the evening paper is thrown crazily upon your porch by a newsboy who is liable to leave it anywhere within the region of the porch, on the roof, or on the street, you must rush through the house, regardless of the destruction of all furniture, rugs, and pottery, so as to reach the porch before anyone else.

Upon arriving at the end of your perilous journey, nothing but a bare porch confronts you. You go down the steps and look behind all the available shrubbery; proceed out to the street and back, keeping your eyes open for vision of white peeping from any imaginable place.

If all this proves to no avail, you go back into the house, question your mother, who really knows nothing about it, and then wander into the living room, concentrating upon the extraordinary disappearance of paper. A slight rustling attracts your attention. There, sprawled out Four score and sixty years ago the on the floor, is your young brother, world was going around the very indulging in the luxury of being first

> You portray amazement and ask Little Tommy Tucker was in the side door (so you wouldn't see

You choke down the inclination to wring his neck, count ten, and go over to him. When you see your chance, ing on the heroine and the hero is igyou swoop down and pull part of the norant of her dilemma, I am wonderpaper out from under what he's reac- ing what preparation she uses to ing.

you wanted.

MOVIE FAKES

heroine, a sweet girl with white pow- would have a larger attendance. dered curls, was dumped from a cov- Many people have reason enough to ered wagon and sat up amidst the readily see where the movies "slip up" debris without a hair out of place, and it lowers their opinion of the pic-Brave, capable girl! How I wish I ture. Really, who can blame the pubcould keep my hair straight when I lie if they read a book instead of atsit by a window—say nothing of a tending a motion picture theatre? runaway!

to the movies is that those little dis- since many people have a greater crepancies divert my attention. When power of concentration, I suppose the I should be in a thrill of feverish ex- movies are in no great danger. citement because the Indians are gain-keep her hair in place. I believe a We're hoping you'll get the part good many people share my opinion. Elinor Raymond, '32. Who sees our hero run through underbrush and slide down mountainsides without wondering what tailor put that lasting crease in his pants?

I think that, if the movie companies At the last movie I went to, the paid more attention to details, they Their imaginations can construct a One reason I am not so anxious to go scene without these faults. Still,

Judith Pownall, '33.

8A Group

Officers: President, Phyllis Line; Vice-president, Mary Donaldson; Secretary, Zenobia Luckhurst. Total membership 55.

OLD THINGS

I know a little shop where one can find Such quaint old-fashioned things That are truly a century old: Frail spinnet desks and ladder-back chairs,

Tall, stately, old grandfather clocks, And quaint mirrors of black and gold.

Hair-cloth sofas and bright Paisley shawls,

Bedspreads of homespun blue Lie under film of cobweb lace; Rare old highboys and four-poster

Hooked rugs in gay patterns are there In this dear little antique place.

When I browse among the old musty books

With covers warped and worn, Whose every vital page still rings With masterpieces of long ago, 'Tis there, amid the cobwebs and dust, I fell in the presence of kings. Alma Hubbell, June '31.

LITTLE BOY AND MOUTH ORGAN

He draws from this old battered thing Music that hath to him a ring Of angels' voices when they sing, Of angels' voices, sweet and clear, And real unto his boyish ear.

And other old, forgotten tunes Of slow South seas and tropic moons, Of wild sea chanteys, loud and bold, And pirates' songs of hidden gold.

And others, old and rare away, Of other sunny summer days, And other boys in memory dim him.

E. Donoghue, '32.

SNOW

Falling from the skies above, Softly as a feather, Tiny snowflakes, pure and clear, Clustered all together.

Falling on the barren earth, Covering all with white, Making us a blanket soft, So feathery, still and light.

Glistening brightly on the ground, Sparkling in the light, Making earth a fairyland, So clean and soft and bright.

Now the misty curtain lifts, The snowflakes cease to fall; The earth is left in perfect peace, A coverlet o'er all.

THE FATE OF A SNOWFLAKE

Tiny little snowflake, so white, so light, Dancing and laughing, not caring a slight

For what might happen when the ground they meet,

And not thinking of being crushed by the many feet.

The flakes come from God knows where,

For the winds to play with, and they dare

To blow the tiny, unprotected things Around and 'round, as if they had wings.

They glide softly down and land Ever so lightly on someone's hand. Some fall to the ground and melt; Played soft, sweet melodies, just like That is how the fate of the flake is dealt.

Rosamund Heath, '32.

A WINTER EVENING

As I sit in my window this evening, I behold a number of things, The twinkling of lights thru the treetops

And the snowbirds with fluttering Dawnwings.

The snowflakes are whirling and sailing Toward the blanketed earth, And inside the fire is roaring,

In the distance a tinkle of sleigh-bells Evening-Comes nearer and nearer in sound, And sleep. And I press my nose to the window To see if St. Nick' is around.

Into view comes a sleigh full of chil-

All happy and carefree and gay; 'Tis a wonderful winter's evening And the end of a perfect day.
I. L. Diehl, '31.

SANTA CLAUS

Here is my pen, And here is a pause, And who shall I write to But Santa Claus?

He's a jolly old man, With whiskers of white, And toys on his back For those who do right. Betty Black, 7A-1.

INCONSISTENCY

They remember Two thousand years ago An eastern star's clear glow, A destined babe, crying low, And dawn,

They remember A cross against the sky, A woman's moaning cry, A man about to die, And darkness.

Yet, they forget, And in a foreign land Would murder hand to hand To perish, a helpless band In pain.

Ray Dudley, '33.

CONTRAST

The rise of a jeweled king, A thundering army over the hilltop, The roar of a thousand guns, Gone oblivion, now stark reality. And life.

A princely babe in his cradle, The distant echo of death in a quiet vale, Fleeting souls to the land beyond, With the kitten asleep on the hearth. Again peace, a misty duskiness per-

Ray Dudley, '33.

THE FOG

It came with the morning's birth, Its denseness cloaking the earth, Its darkness every space would clog, And whistles on boats blew warning of fog.

Before me loomed a house; then a tree, But, looking behind, all was lost to me. A spreading elm outlined in the gray, 'Twas lost again as I went on my way.

It seemed as the I might be blind, For all was blurred in front, behind. When all around would seem to close, An outlined house the fog would disclose.

Then, as the sun climbed higher in the skv.

Things were seen more clear by human eye;

And as the graying clouds by winds were shifted,

The sun shone through; behold! the fog had lifted. Marion DuVal, '34.

CHRISTMAS DAY

Christmas is a jolly day, For all the children are at play, With candy, nuts, toys and sleds Santa left them while still in bed. It comes around but once a year, That's why to us it is so dear. Elizabeth Jeffers, 7A-2.

FUTILITY

Peace? They cease to care, And try to dare To be brave.

On earth? They would wait For gods and fate To descend.

And good will? They shall not worry, But hate and hurry To the end.

Unto men? When machines are here, They should not fear A God.

But I remember The significance Of December.

R. K. D.

MY DADDY

I took my first uncertain steps to daddy, "My daddy" were the first words that

I said;

I climbed upon his knee to hear a story,

His shoulder was a pillow for my head.

And when I bumped my head or broke my dolly,

He'd kiss the hurt and hold me on his

And, no matter how busy or how weary,

Daddy always has had time to spend with me.

We've read and walked, sung and laughed together,

And oh, what jolly times we've always

He's been a pal so true and understanding,

I always know I can depend on Dad. Alma Hubbell, June '31.

SOUTHERN BEAUTY

Shades of night are falling O'er the waters deep, Southern palms are calling, The sun just fell asleep. Moonbeams scatter here and there O'er the moonlit bay, Birds fly silent to their nests At the break of day.

Now the day is dawning O'er the southern skies, We must work and toil E'er the sunlight dies. How the waters glitter With the new born day! Orange blossoms scented In their new array.

The beauty of the southland Is a wond'rous sight to see, With golden sun and palm trees A-beckoning to me.

Dolores Kohlmetz, 8B-1.

THIS BIT O' SOMETHING

Love is like a candle, It may kindle at one moment And die the next-Not by a doubled force.

Love is also like a flower, Growing with all the bloom of life, And then to fade as does the sun; Real love is not planned!

Out of pure sunshine it comes, Unexpected, and yet welcomed. Love is a pure and holy shrine And does what is willed.

Ruth Murphy, '32.

SNOW

The snow is so white; It makes things seem bright Throughout the long night As the snow and wind fight.

CHRISTMAS DAY

The wind whirls fast on Christmas Day,

It sends the snow in clouds of spray, It helps bring Santa on his sleigh And makes for us a white Christmas Day.

Henry Minster and Harold Bubel, 7A-1

WINTER'S SNOW

Winter's heavy snows are here, For this is near the end of the year; The snow is whiter than the clouds above,

Or even whiter than a white dove.

The warm snow-blanket covers the earth

And always has done so since its birth. Yet every year it will not stay,

But always melts and runs away. Mildred Lee, 8B-2

CHRISTMAS TIME

Christmas time has come again, Everyone is happy, For then we know that tummies grow From eating fruits and candy.

The bells are tinkling merrily And many hearts are gay, For then come all the presents And surprises, Christmas Day.

Listen to the sleighbells! I think Santa Claus is here. Let us hurry! Get in bed Before he comes too near.

Oh, watch him fill our stockings! Look under the Christmas tree! My, Santa must be very rich; I'm glad we stayed to see. Grace Van Dam, 7A-2

CHRISTMAS

Snow has come again this year, Soft, and white, and cold; That means Santa must be near With his reindeer bold.

Down the chimney he will come, Leaving toys and candy; Maybe he will leave some gum, Wouldn't that be dandy? Janet Otto, 7A-2.

THE SNOW

The snow is falling fast, now slow, It covers the world with a downy glow; It covers everything; And all the children are happy and gay It covers all the grass and shrubs To see the snow that has fallen today. And makes the snowbirds sing. Mae Henry, 7B-1

THE MANGER BABE

In a stable rough and crude Upon a Christmas morn, The long-looked-for Savior, Christ, A little babe, was born.

Three Wise Men saw in the sky A star so clear and bright That led them to the little babe With its clear and brilliant light.

Far away, in a distant land, Some shepherds tending sheep Heard the angels' joyful song Which awoke them from their sleep.

And glory, glory be to God, Who sent upon this Christmas morn This little babe, who was the Christ, In Bethlehem to be born.

AUTUMN

I'm sorry that the roses fade And die, when summer is over, And sorry too that Autumn takes Each happy, laughing flower.

I miss them so when nights are cool And a summer moon no longer shines; 'Tis sad that we shall hear no more The songs of birds upon the vines.

It's sad to see an empty park, Where lovers used to sit; It seems too bad the courting's o'er And they've no need for it.

I'm sorry when the grasses fade And when all the trees are bare, For on the grasses children played When days were long and fair.

And yet I welcome Autumn days, They too, bring happiness; And the I'll miss the summer days, I love the Autumn best.

Marian DuVal, '34.

SNOW

The snow is on the roof tops, The snow is on the trees, The snow is on the frozen ground Rustling among the leaves. The snow is like a blanket, Clayton King, 7A-1

BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS NIGHT

'Tis wonderful on Christmas Night To be thinking of the Christ Child, The sky as blue as ocean waves, Housetops striped with Jack Frost's For the wintry snow is covering the work and play.

We're glad of all these things, But being glad of all these things Should never make us forget That Christ first came On such a night as this.

Eileen Guyett, 7B-2

FALLING SNOW

The soft white snow is falling fast, Another Autumn now is past, When the ground's covered with snow, And the merry children are playing around, ground.

The blue skies above are cool and clear;

We know that Spring is not even near. The soft white clouds are cold and bright,

They travel far in the stormy night. Alberta Lee, 7B-2

THE NIGHT

The night comes creeping slowly, Slowly, with shadowy wings, And spreads itself everywhere, lowly, The night now holds full swing.

The night comes stealing softly, Softly, so none may hear, May know of its arrival 'Til all is cold and drear.

The night's commands are heeded. The world in silence lies, But only the sun's rays are needed To frighten the night away. Janet Barry, '33,

MY MOTHER'S GARDEN

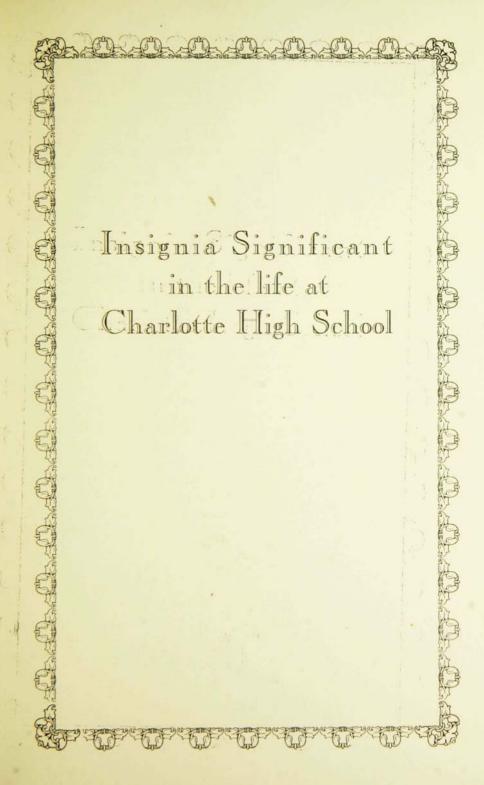

In my mother's garden Are flowers sweet and rare, Their lovely fragrance intermingled Seems to fill the air.

The dahlias and the lilies, The sunflowers tall and fair, The marigolds and daffodils Rejoice in her tender care.

It doesn't seem quite fair to me That when the summer's past, My mother's lovely flowers should fade And wither like the rest.

THE FARM

I'm going on the farm today, I'm going in the barnyard and play; The horse and the cow are my good friends, But the bull I hate, for his horns have sharp ends. I like the sheep and the little lamb, But of course I hate the ugly ram; I like the mare and her little colt, But its dad I hate, 'cause he's tough as a bolt. I like the lady who owns the farm, I like her hubby, for he won't do no harm; They're not like the animals in the barnyard dark, They're a good old couple and live like larks. The lady can cook like you don't know, She feeds 'em to me and don't charge no dough, Cookies "mmm" bread are plenty nice, But they "ain't" no good when in comes the mice. Kenneth Callaghan, 7A-1

The American Flag

The State law requires that the American flag shall be displayed, weather permitting, on a flag staff outside of the building on each day during the school session. To the public in general, then, our flag, so displayed, says "This school is open today."

Scholarship Shield

The Excalibur Scholarship Shield was left in this school by the class of June 1927. On the large shield in the center is engraved Excalibur (taken from the class legend) and the class motto, "Take thou and strike! the time to cast away is yet far-off."

On each small shield is engraved the name of the student of each of nine succeeding classes, who has attained the highest scholastic standing. The name of Dorothy Collett will be inscribed on the small January 1931 shie'd. Space still remains for the name fo the honor student of the class of June 1931. This shield now hangs back of Miss Stowell's desk in Room 101.

The button of the Junior Safety Council means the wearer is an officer of the Junior Safety Council of Rochester. These officers protect our pupils and enforce the rules of the traffic committee.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society Key is the emblem of the National Honor Society. In the form of a keystone upon which is superimposed a flaming torch, it symbolizes education. The letters at the base of the torch stand for Scholarship, Service, Leadership and Character, the development of which constitutes the four-fold purpose of the society. Our standard, made by the boys in the Charlotte craft shop is used in part of our graduation formalities. At other times it belongs Room 101.

The National Honor Society

I BELIEVE in the joy of study, the delight of acquaintance with books, the discipline of diligent learning and the re-discovery of nature and of men through the open mind.

I BELIEVE in character as essentail to the highest type of scholar-ship. I hold that no intellectual achievement, however keen or clever, is worthy of deep respect unless it goes hand in hand with a curacy, reliability, honor, humility, tolerance and truth.

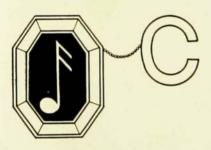

I BELIEVE in service, that it is the privilege and responsibility of the enlightened member of any society to minister with kindness and understanding to the needs of the less fortunate in talent or in opportunity.

I REJOICE in the burden of leadership which scholarship, character and service lay upon me, for I believe that my torch should light others to lives of greater beauty, richer joy, and fuller service.

French Honor Society

The emblem of the French Honor Society, in the form of a shield, represents the nobility of the purpose of the society, that is, a determination to learn and to speak French. The capital "B" is the initial of the name of the society "Les Babillards" which means "The Chatterboxes." The cock signifies the courage to develop the cause of the society. Although each school has a large shield made up in its own colors, the pin of the society is bronze in all cases. Our large shield hangs in room 208 on the east wall, above the map of France.

Glee Club

Charlotte High School's glee club pin stands for the music at Charlotte, the note for musical talent and the C for Charlotte. It was originated in September, 1928 during the presidency of Robert Trayhern.

G. A. A.

This is the emblem of the Girl's Athletic Association and is presented to all girls who have had satisfactory attendance and participation in the after school sports.

The School Emblem

This C. H. S. emblem is a general school emblem. It was originally designed to represent the Alumni in the Alumni Issue of the Witan but it has since been used as a general symbol, on programs, Witan, folders, etc.

Hi-Y

The triangular emblem of the HI-Y club suggests the three principles for which the club stands: a sound body, an intelligent mind and a sacrificial spirit.

The cross apparent within the triangle challenges each member to unselfish service to Christ and organized religion.

The name indicates the fact that the organization is sponsored by both the Y. M. C. A. and the high school.

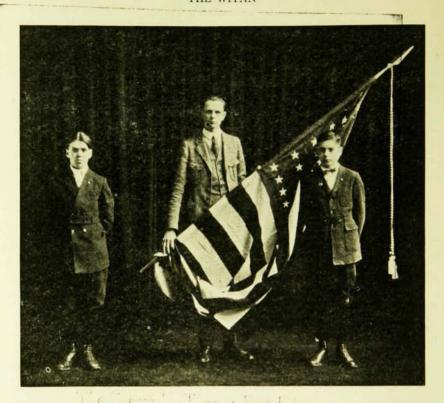

The lighthouses on the rings and pins of Charlotte High School depict the lighthouses on the pier at Charlotte Harbor. They symbolize the historical fact, fast becoming tradition, that Charlotte was the home of many sea-going men. They are emblematic also of education. Used at the head of our editorial page the lighthouses symbolize the light of public opinion.

T T WTAN
THE WITAN

The George H. Thomas Post Flag,

Altho Charlotte High School was annexed to the city of Rochester in January 1916, it was not until February 1924 that the George H. Thomas post of the Grand Army of the Republic presented us a separate flag. Prior to that time the flag which had been awarded in 1916 to Number Thirty-eight School, then an integral part of our organization, was considered sufficient for both schools.

At the annual ceremony of Transfer of Flags in 1924, however, our flag was received by Robert Critchell, he honor student of the class of June 1294, from the hand of Colonel Samuel C. Pierce, the officiating member of the post. This picture, taken after the ceremony, shows, center—Robert Critchell, our first high school standard-bearer; Walter Malcolm, standard-bearer of January 1924 of School No. 38 and Wilbert Charity standard bearer of June 1924. This flag is transferred each year at our June graduation to the boy having the highest scholastic standing in the senior term class, and in February, at the annual Transfer of Flags ceremony at the Eastman theater.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY!

be copying the new one-man street every school game and, as likely as cars. There should be a sign on the not, he will buy one to get rid of the door for the benefit of freshmen, read- salesman. leave!" The only difference between ready full to the brim. the street cars and the school is that one starts paying during all of the four years with a lump sum at the end of the aisle, while in a street car one pays but once.

The first day of high school life, the freshman arrives with empty brief case and full pocket-book. At the end of the first day, he leaves school with a full brief case and an empty pocketbook. Thus he remains for the next Never again does that four years. pocket-book remain full long enough to tell about it. He needs a fountain pen to use in classes when friend teacher firmly but kindly declares that no work will be accepted unless it is in ink. For the same reason, he requires reams of notebook paper. Then, too, pencils, erasers and scrap pads are an important essential to every brief case along with the many necessary books. Of course, he is sometimes lucky enough to be able to save books for a younger brother or sister, but more often they are "passe" before the year is out.

The first day he attends an assembly, he hears a "high-powered" speaker make an appeal for students to buy tickets to all games. In a burst of school spirit he gives to a thankful committee his hard earned fifteen cents and never again will he be left unmolested. After that he is

The modern high school seems to bound to be asked to buy a ticket for Here is another drop in ing, in large, red letters, "Pay as you the bucket of high school expenses al-

> Next comes the school and class parties. Everyone expects him to support them and he usually feels honor bound to do so. Thus it goes on: Books, parties, games! parties, books!

> But he "hasn't seen anything yet." His senior year is on him before he realizes it. Then come expenses, expenses and more expenses. He feels that he must have more than one suit of clothes and his girl classmates feel that they must have four or five dresses at least. support the senior Candy Committee (not a chance of going on a diet, either for physical or economical reasons). He now eats at least one bar of candy a day. The school photographer charges for the pictures he takes of the senior, too, and counting up all the uncles, aunts and cousins and other miscellaneous relatives, he usually sells about a dozen to each student. Around Christmas, the senior annual comes out and the poor student must draw upon his meager savings for fifty cents to put toward this worthy cause. Then, in quick succession, follow senior day social expenses and who doesn't want to go with the rest of the class for dinner and theater party?-and then commencement with its new clothes and flowers, announcements and stamps.

"Pay as you leave!"

DANCING?

with measured step to the measures the radio and turned to a station of a tune." Therefore, when, after where some "squeaky" soprano was eating lunch, we go to the assembly laboriously trilling Shubert's "Serenhall to dance, we expect to do just ade." No sooner did the teacher go that. But alas, can we?

use the radio during the noon hour, sters began to push chairs across the The piano could not be heard very dance floor. Countless corns were well and we made repeated requests bumped, many shins were scratched, for the privilege of having the radio, and the number of knees that were This term, when we found that we bruised were beyond count. ward with great joy to many pleasant pandemonium existed now! the Junior High School. Consequent- up and down the corridor and beckor should I say attempted to?

until, at last, a dance program was with a deep sigh of relief. found. With smiles of enjoyment, the There are many of us who enjoy a dancing began. But now the fun quiet noon hour of dancing. started! Several of the younger boys, can't the younger pupils (especially thinking that in the assembly hall all the boys) be segregated and assigned the rules of the class room did not to another room, where they can have apply, immediately put little pieces of a good time "slaughtering" themthem to see which one of them could teacher be put in charge of the as-of the radio and tried to stop the dition it is now in!

Dancing is supposed to be "moving boys, two of them "sneaked up" to back to her former place and change Last year we were not allowed to the station than several of the young-would be permitted to, we looked for- If confusion had reigned before, lunch periods. But we did not anti- teacher again left the radio and began cipate the influx of younger pupils in to admonish the little culprits who ran ly, our dismay was great when we be- oned to be chased. A few of them gan to "move with measured rythm" turned the volume on the radio until it fairly "shrieked." At this moment The teacher in charge of the as- the bell rang, and, breathing heavily, sembly twisted and turned the dials we went to our respective classes paper in rubber bands and snapped selves? Or else, why can't another hit the greatest number of dancers. sembly and assist the present one? At once, confusion reigned. Cries One instructor certainly cannot curb of "ouch, who hit me?" "those abom- the younger boys and see that order inable imps," and "the little snips" prevails alone. It would be very emrose above the strains of the music, barrassing if a visitor entered the as-As the teacher left her place in front sembly hall at noon and saw the con-

WHAT'S WRONG WITH OUR CHARLOTTED

What's wrong with our Charlotte? do that? No! They must laugh We can't see anything wrong with it. alone! Perhaps we don't have a swimming We have a perfectly good excuse to for our boys' teams, and perhaps we other schools have not.

walls so that if one class gets a good We have wiggly bleachers on our pool, a nice assembly, a good gymna- show off our new winter coat if the sium, enough money to purchase suits furnace and stoves happen to go out.

We have a marvelous excuse to addon't have good heat and light, but mire our new Freshman, Mr. Enright. we have a number of things that seeing that he leads assembly in room 105. While other schools must see For instance, we have holes in the their hero only in class or in the halls.

laugh, we all do. Can other schools athletic field so that if Charlotte makes a score we can show our appre- the mirror to survey their lovely reby swaying, while other flections. schools must sit quietly.

so that we may sit and share our ink excused. with our closest chum.

too. How many other schools have Charlotte for another school. that? I wonder!

light is poor, which gives the vain they in the same boat? I wonder! girls a good excuse to lean closer to

We haven't always soap and towels, We have only a few ink wells in 105 so we can go with a dirty face and be

After all, I wonder just how much We have a piano in our study hall, fun we would have if we were to quit many from those other schools who Down in the girls' locker room the laugh at us could laugh with us, were cessful soccer season. Successful, not season. that we have won every game, but game when they played the Lakesid- games. Out of ten games, they have ers. won four. score was twenty-eight goals, while Gray, valuable left inside, graduates they scored a total of twenty-eight in June. The boys, having profited by pointers, too.

Marion Du Val, '34.

SOCCER SEASON

A great deal of enthusiasm and edly be much better next season. support has been given to the team by hope the interest will not subside.

Coach Tichenor and Mr. West are by Mr. Tichenor at his home,

Charlotte has finished another suc- both satisfied with the results of the

Charlotte has placed one regular that we have gone through a season man on the All-Scholastic Team. exhibiting fine sportsmanship and fair Harold Smith's playing, both offensplay. All teams played their hardest ive and defensive, at the fullback staand knew they had been in a soccer tion has been the feature of many

Next year there will be ten soccer Their opponents' total regulars left in school, as George this year's experience, will undoubt-

The soccer team has been well the students. Record crowds have at- feted: first, a wonderful sausage roast tended all the home games. Let's all at Mr. West's cottage at Canandaigua Lake, and then a fine reception given

THE STORY CONTEST

Stories that are submitted for the "For the Honor of the School," by short story contest should contain about 800 words and not more than 1000 words. We cannot give too much space to one story and therefore will not be able to print any which exceed Alma Hubbell's story, this length. "Honor Among Thieves," won the first place in the story contest for this issue, but, due to the length, it could not be printed. There were four other stories submitted, "Onward," and "Faithful Stray," by Bertha Shannon;

Janet Ferguson, and "Poor George Brown," by Harrington Chase. staff takes this opportunity to thank these pupils for their contribution, for, although they did not win, their stories showed hard work and a great improvement in plot and treatment over the October contributions. We especially want to thank Janet Ferguson, a freshman, and we hope that she will be a regular contributor to the Witan.

ing in penmanship.

A communication from Miss Ashe graph accompanying the letter indito Charlotte High School calls atten- cates that our classes had the highest tion to the very excellent work which percentage of the Junior High Schools Miss Caragher's classes have been do- during the last term. We are proud A proficiency of this record.

Deputy Superintendent of Buildings criticism. of the Board of Education of Roches-

On November 26, a committee from ter. The committee made a report to the Chamber of Commerce made a the Chamber of Commerce, which covthorough inspection of our building, ered many items, but one that should This committee consisted of Mr. Ro- interest our students in particular was bert B. Wicks, of the Abstract Guar- a criticism of the way in which paper antee Company; Mr. George E. Fran- and trash is thrown around the buildcis, President and Treasurer of the ing. It is unfortunate that we should American Glass and Construction make a poor impression upon visitors Company; Mr. Alfred Gates, of the at any time, but we are particularly Bureau of Municipal Research; Mr. sorry to have the business men of Hazen C. Pratt; Mr. Clarence P. Rochester think that we are poor Crowell, of the Rochester Germicide housekeepers. Let us each try in the Company, and Mr. Francis R. Scherer, future to help the school avoid this

The invitation extended by John able to attend. Aeneas" given by the third and neighboring Rochester schools. ly appreciated by all of our pupils, it mildly. even though only about thirty were

This inter-high Marshall High School to our pupils to School activity provides an excellent attend the performance of "Dido and basis for friendship between two fourth year classes of that school on say that those that attended enjoyed Saturday, November 10, was thorough- the performance very much is to put come to room 110 some night after on it. school, about ten days before you buy

If you think the Witan is expensive, yours, and see all the work that is put have colds, you will know it is be- ment. cause of our beautiful new building

If any of the Practice House girls which includes a housekeeping depart-

The Senior Class wishes to take this the Witan cover. We appreciate it opportunity to thank Sam De Moto for very much, Sam. his very hard but successful work on Elizabeth Sweeting, considered the seven certificates in one and one-half third best writer of the 7A-1 Grade, years. In 1927 she received an Imhas attended Fulton Street School at provement Certificate and in 1930 a Auburn, N. Y., and there earned her Final Certificate of the Palmer Method.

is doing for you. It is giving you all better issue of the Witan. It makes you work with all your 1 6 0

Witan, Witan,-Think what the Witan might to get out a better and then a the news of the school. It gives you Witan, Think! Next issue let's have a chance to write a story or a poem. your name under a poem or a story.

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY

The French Honor Society, "Les gram, in which each school participat-Babillards," a short account of which ed, presenting a play, an anecdote, a was given in the preceding issue of the short skit or a song. Witan, has added ten new members to its number. dolph Wendt, Marian Wright and members were inducted into the so-Margaret Kirby.

in Rochester were invited by Alpha chapter of Monroe High School to a Hallowe'en soiree held at the Second and the Benjamin Franklin Congregational Church. dents of John Marshall, Irondequoit, Charlotte and Benjamin Franklin (a Practice House and will be entirely chapter to be) addressed the gather- in charge of the new members. At ing and all joined in singing French this time a play written by Elizabeth songs under the direction of Susanne Donoghue will be presented. Bogorad. After the supper (a very good one indeed), we adjourned to the at the home of Miss Emerson, our social room for a very interesting pro- faculty adviser.

A reception to new members was They are: Geraldine held Friday, November 21, at the Bishop, Elizabeth Donoghue, Donald Practice House. The president gave Dow, Walter Gunkler, Gordon LeRoy, an address of welcome, the secretary Frederick Martoni, Frank Smith, Ru- read the constitution and the new ciety. Following the meeting, a short A short while ago all the chapters program was presented and tea was served.

> On December 16, a dinner was held The presi- School chapter was inducted.

Our next meeting will be held at the

The following meeting will be held

Lecon d'arithmetique

LE MAITRE s'efforce d'inculquer a ses eleves les premieres regles de la soustraction:

-Si d'un nombre entier je retire un quart, et cela quatre fois de suite, que reste-t-il?

-Personne ne repond. ficile a faire entrer: il faut expliquer par un exemple:

-Voyons, je prends une peche, je la coupe en quatre parts. Vous les you come home intoxicated, you start mangez toutee quatre, que reste-t-il using bad language." de la peche?

Tous les enfants en choeur: -Le noyau, m'sieu, le noyau!

Wife (at 2 a. m.): "If I only knew C'est dif- where you'd been!"

Husband: "Honi soit qui mal y pense."

Wife: "There you go. Whenever

-London Opinion.

One of the numerous duties of the library committee is that of preparing Homer's Odyssey tedious ebration of "Book Week" has proved Homer." Cashman, with the aid of several used in the classroom. members of the committee, arranged a students.

"The Book of Airplanes," by Iseman, proved that many of our students are going to be future Lindberghs and Byrds. This book seemed the most popular, according to Miss Cashman. As it is one of the latest books out about airplanes, it will be worth while reading for anyone interested in aeronautics.

collectors should enjoy is "An Outline of Philately Stamps," by Steles.

Any freshman who is finding new books for use, and the recent cel- should examine the new "Odyssey of With its large print and an excellent time for introducing some beautiful colored illustrations, it cerof these books to the pupils. Miss tainly doesn't resemble the stiff copies

For those who are planning to go very attractive and artistic table in to college, Halles' "Which College" the library with a few of the new should certainly be of interest. In it books on display and here tells which the author compares the advantages ones were most interesting to the and disadvantages of various colleges and tells which types of college are the best.

> Some of the other books which were examined with great interest by the boys and girls are: "Journey's End," by Sheriff; "Pere Marquette," by Repplier; "Count Luckner, the Sea Devil," by Lowell Thomas; and "Lions 'n' Tigers 'n' Everything," a book about the circus by Cooper.

Now that the cold of winter is upon Another popular book which stamp us, why not try one of these new books? N. Ivanson, a class gift to our school a camera and the equipment for developing pictures. This extremely thoughtful gift was prompted by the experience of the members of the class who had worked on the Witan staff and discovered the difficulty of finding, at the end of the year, snapshots representative of the school activities in general.

Chairman of the Library Comm.

Mr. Erenstone, whose hobby has long been amateur photography, made the actual purchase of the equipment, and his interest in it has been unceasing. Taking and developing the pictures requires long hours of work and unlimited patience. Mr. Erenstone has been most cooperative with every group in the school which has desired his services. between periods, indoors, outdoors, in Erenstone their most hearty thanks.

The class of January 1930 gave as fact under all circumstances, he has faithfully carried his camera and tripod to the scene of action. The three pages of excellent snapshots in this issue tell the story of his interest and loyalty to the cause.

> It is his earnest desire that a group of pupils interested in amateur photography might be found who would wish to form a photography club and who would not be engaged in too many other activities at the same He would be glad to act as teacher adviser to such a group, and it is quite obvious that a club of this kind would meet a very real need in this school.

The senior class and the Witan staff After school, take this occasion to extend to Mr.

ASSEMBLIES

CARRYING ON!

AE.F.

LE MÉDICIN MYSTIFIÉ

A GUEST SPEAKER

LITERARY-CLUB

EAST MEETS WEST

PORT ARMS!

TRAFFIC

SQUAD

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

"BATTLE OF THE BOOKS"

"KNAVE OF HEARTS"

THE WITAN TO SELECTE SE SE SE SE

Musical Notes

sad sad sad sad sad sall sall sad sad

GLEE CLUB

Do you like to sing? Do you like have conflicts in after-school activto be in on school affairs? vou like to go on a free trip to De- assembles for chorus; it also has sotroit? Would you like to participate cial activities too. The annual glee in a Chorus Festival together with all club party will be held sometime near the other High School glee clubs on the first of the year. If it is possible, January 10? Get into school affairs and festivals!

at sa at sa at sa

even added a special rehearsal on Michel, Vice-president; Gertrude Alt-Thursday, sixth period, to the regular peter, Secretary; Martha Watt, Treas-Wednesday and Thursday rehearsals, urer. for the benefit of those pupils who Would ities. Don't think that the club only Join the glee club! join the glee club now!

The officers of the club are as fol-Mr. Marsh, our able supervisor, has lows: Avery Lockner, President; Edna

IUNIOR HIGH GLEE CLUB

Junior High to come through also. the glee club. now; then perhaps when the junior Friday at 3:00, directly after school.

We also have a flourishing Junior club becomes a senior one, there will High glee club, which boasts of thirty be a bigger, better and more exper-members. Here is a chance for the ienced high school representation in Don't forget! Let's have a rally in the Junior High Junior High glee club meets every entering and leaving the assembly hall The orchestra practices every Tueseach Thursday? The orchestra, of day, directly after school, and if you course!

THE ORCHESTRA

us? If you have any musical ability about joining.

Who peps up the student body when whatever, join the orchestra, now!

are not in any other activity, come Wouldn't you also like to play with out next Tuesday or see Mr. Marsh

VOICE CLASSES

Here is another chance for the ality plus," heed ye! singer. Why not join a voice class and develop not only your singing ability, but your speaking and diction?

who yearn for that famous "person- knocks once." So, hear ye, well!!

Herein con-Join a voice cealed is the secret. class! Develop "p. p!" As has been And now, you sheiks and shebas, wisely said before: "opportunity only

TRAFFIC PATROL

Rochester senior high school to adopt partment, Elmer K. Smith, health edthe Junior Traffic Patrol system of protecting students at street intersections near the school. The accompanying photograph of the squad was taken recently when they were installed before three assembly groups of students. Guests at the assembly patrol officers are: Traffic Captain this page.

Charlotte High School was the first William R. Miller of the Police Deucation supervisor for the Board of Education, and Fremont Chester, secretary of the Safety Council of the Chamber, which finances the safety work in Rochester schools.

We are indebted to the Chamber of shown in the photograph with the Commerce for the cut at the top of

THE SCHOOL PARTY

The outstanding social event of the to the lamentation of the rest of us. term was held at 42 school November Later in the evening, Lawrence Kil-26. The sophomores, juniors and seniors danced to the music of Wayne Barlow's orchestra, which was aided on several occasions by Joe Stendardo. At nine-thirty, the boys on the basketball team left for home and bed, as they were to meet Canandaigua on the following day. They sang "Bye-Bye dance floor until eleven o'clock, when, Blues," and made their exits, much pop! the whole thing was over.

mer sang several popular selections and Betty Knapp did a few tap dances. At 10:30, refreshments, which consisted of fruit punch, were served. After that, principal, teachers, pupils, alumni and friends again appeared on the party! How we'd love to be able to dancers. About thirty of the latest have just one more! The assembly dance records, played over the radio, hall was most beautifully decorated served as music. Punch and cookies in the class colors, yellow and orchid. were served at ten o'clock and at Brightly colored balloons hung from eleven o'clock, exactly, all laughter the ceiling and "bangs" were continually heard throughout the evening. Many of the dancers became entangled in the numerous streamers thrown were roughly taken down. Our last about the hall. Frances Jackson gave class party.

THE SENIOR PARTY

Well, seniors, that was our last class several tap numbers to rest the weary The place soon and gaiety ceased. became deserted and the trimmings everyone participated, Charles Onderdonk and Janet Ferguson were given prizes for the best costumes. Dancing and games constituted the proing consisted of a tap dance by Irene tired but happy.

THE FRESHMAN PARTY

On Friday, November 7, 1930, the Stowell and Jessie Lancaster, a high-Freshman Class held their Hallowe'en land tap dance by Mary Savage, and Party. After a grand march, in which a mouth-organ selection by Ray Wagner. Near the end of the evening, a small lunch of cider, doughnuts, candy and peanuts was served and, after a gram. The entertainment of the even- few more dances, everyone went home,

The Witan Party

THE WITAN PARTY

we entered Sharer came forward to greet us with in-chief, who acted as toastmistress, a happy smile on her face and a look Louise Teetsel welcomed Mrs. West: in her eyes that seemed to show us She that a good time was in store. showed us where to leave our wraps and then left us to greet the next arrival. Passing the doors leading into the dining room, we could catch glimpses of white and yellow, and appetizing odors tempted us as we all sat talking. Soon after Mr. and Mrs. West arrived, Mr. West, with a twinkle in his eye and a knowing smile on his lips, was hiding something behind his back. Then we all entered the dining room and there we had to stop to admire the picture before us. It certainly looked beautiful and showed the hard work that had been done to obtain such results. The tables were arranged in the form of a U. At each place was an attractive place-card and a program, made by Mr. Lee and the print shop boys. There were candles and flowers on the table and beautiful palms made a very pretty background. After the fun of finding our places was over, we sang songs and got acquainted with our next-door neighbor. Mr. West even became so informal that he began calling people by their first names. Mobody seemed to mind. Thanks to Miss Childs and her homemaking class, the platters were all licked clean, and then Mr. Rowe, commanding us to put on our prettiest smiles, took our picture.

The formal program was under the

the door, Miss direction of Susanne Bogorad, editor-Harold Smith explained the meaning of our title; Miss Emerson one of the faculty judges of the prize story contest, discussed the type of material which the students had been submitting in their stories, and Paul Lascell discussed sales problems. The IV-1 girls put on a stunt. June Estes sang a solo and Mr. Lee played a 'cello solo accompanied by Esther Ferguson. Lois Speares and Gordon Howe, former members of the staff, discussed what the Witan means to the alumni, and pointed out some of the ways in which the Witan had developed since their day. Miss Julia M. Traver, educational editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. and Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel G. West were guests of the evening.

The home-making girls who served the dinner were: Alma Raysor, Helen Lannigan, Mae Marthage, Esther Smith, Eleanor Rowe, Vera MacMullen, Marietta Lambert and Lillian Durrans.

The following girls, under the supervision of Miss Brown, made the place-cards: Kathryn Trayhern, Natalya Ivanson, Alice Shrader and Rosemary Kaercher.

Mr. West disclosed his secret, which was a large architect's drawing of the new Charlotte High School,

In the games that followed a lot of school scandal was exposed and

(Continued on Page 61)

PRACTICE HOUSE NEWS

THE MARCH OF PROGRESS

In the history of the Practice House, which is a unit of the present Charlotte High School system, I can see the march of progress.

When I was very small, this building was an old-fashioned, squareroofed farm house. There were, just back of the house, a barn, corn-crib and all the various buildings found on On the ground, just other farms. north of the Practice House, facing Lake Avenue, I have seen a large field of oats planted and harvested, and the rest of the farm under cultivation.

Later, Mrs. Clark, an old woman, was left with this large mansion. She had the house built over into a twofamily apartment. Her son and his family lived in the upper flat and she lived alone in the lower one and rented the land for farming. After a few years, the old lady died, leaving cumstances. the farm to her heirs.

modeled it into what is now the Prac- and to our property.

tice House and made the land into a playground.

For the past two years, the Practice House has been used during the summer as a Health Center, where many children have received examinations, medical attention, and even had tonsil and minor operations.

Soon we will see the old house torn down to make way for one of Rochester's most beautiful schools.

To the older residents of this part of the city, the passing of this old landmark will be observed with a touch of sadness, but to the younger generation it is just the march of progress. Margaret Jackson.

Dona Armstrong, one of our homemaking girls, induced her father to come and talk to us on safety in the home, October 9. He especially emphasized the point that cleaning with gasoline is not safe under any cir-

After listening to his interesting The Board of Education, seeing that and instructive talk, we should follow it would be a splendid place for a fu- his advice and send our soiled clothing ture school, purchased the entire es- to a dry cleaning place, thus avoiding tate. They took the house and re- possible fatal damages to ourselves

TYPICAL HOME IN PANAMA

On Monday, October 20, Miss Sharer, one of our English teachers, who has recently returned from a trip to Panama, gave the homemaking class an interesting, illustrated talk on home life in Panama.

Miss Sharer told the girls that in Panama many different languages are spoken, but that the Spanish language predominates.

Because a very rainy season floods the streets, the curbing in some places is built twice as high as in our country. The houses are built on a terrace or high above the ground, to obtain all the air possible. She described the home of the family with whom she stayed.

Through the center of the residence runs a hall from which the rooms branch. The furniture is wicker; the floors are covered by small rugs or oriental rugs. Large rugs are uncommon, except linoleum. The plan of the house is somewhat similar to ours, but the furniture is very plain. In the parlor, the furniture is arranged in a circle. In the dining room, tables, chairs, buffet and a side table are of heavy mahogany.

The shops are open, so that you can look in and see all of a merchant's wares. The dresses are made for each Dec. 16-Unusual sandwiches and individual, not ready-made as they are in our shops.

WITAN BANQUET

The sixth annual banquet of the Witan staff was held at the Practice House, November 19.

term for the Homemaking girls. They started Wednesday morning on the dinner and right up to ten-thirty Friday night, when the last dish was put away, every girl worked hard. was their chance to show how worthwhile the Homemaking course is. Like real good housewives, many worked Monday and Tuesday, washing and ironing and putting the whole house in order.

have received Homemakers compliments.

Thursday morning, October 30, Miss Jessie A. Winchell and Miss Ruth J. Young, from the Board of Education, visited the Practice House.

They took a trip around the apartment and learned many new ideas from several of the girls for future plans to be included in their Homemaking Course.

The Homemaking girls also took part in the luncheon given to the Lions Club, who were guests of the school Tuesday noon, November 11.

The Home Economics girls made salads and set the tables. The following girls helped with the luncheon: Vera MacMullen, Ida Diehl, Lillian Durrans, Helen Lanagan and Doris Reagon.

Miss Morrow, supervisor of Home Economics in the Elementary Schools, is presenting the following food demonstrations to Eighth Grade and Senior High Homemaking classes:

Oct. 30-Home entertaining.

Dec. 1—Cake decorations.

Dec. 10-Fancy garnishes.

menus for bridge parties and informal occasions.

FIELD TRIPS

Friday, November 21, Miss Childs It was the greatest event of the took the class to visit MacKenzie Brothers' Dairy.

Other trips planned for us will be:

To Monroe High School, to visit a Nursery School for children of preschool age in connection with the Home Economics department.

To the Fannie Farmer Candy studio, where we will see their products in the making.

After Christmas, Mr. Stowell will As a reward, Miss Childs and the give the class a demonstration of meat many cutting, to teach the location and the value of the different cuts of meat.

Fair today; probably showers tomorrow

VOX ROMAE

III Mumma

Rome: Italy

Ides of December, LXIII B. C.

CATALINE EXPOSED BY CICERO

Cicero Reveals Cataline As Plotter Against State

MANY SENATORS INVOLVED

Catalines' True Character Revealed in Great Oration.

Rome, Italy (By Roman Press): Marcus Julius Cicero, the eminent orator, yesterday, in the senate house, exposed Cataline and his accomplices as the participants in a plot to overthrow the Republic. The entire Senate was present, even Cataline himself and the Senators implicated in the conspiracy.

With wonderful oratory, Cicerc brought out the true character of Cataline as a schemer, a criminal, a traitor and a degenerate. His guilt was proven by written evidence from the Gauls and the Allobroges. Cicerc advocated capital punishment for all the conspirators.

The plot was uncovered when the wife of one of the conspirators informed Cicero of the impending danger to the state and he in turn made it known to the Senate.

All Rome is shocked at this sensational news, and it is the main topic of discussion, for the moment, by everyone. Developments in the case are awaited with extreme interest.

WANT ADS

PAEDAGOGUS WANTED to conduct young boy to and from school. Must be honest and upright. References required. Apply XLV Augustus Dr.

WANTED—IV oven to work on Appia Via construction. Must be strong and well fed. See Eeta Lotta Grassus for information; LXXVII Marius Dr. Reward.

MAN RUN DOWN BY CHARIOT

Hit and Run Driver Sought. Thought Victim Will Survive.

Hoptoadius Sonyrius, XLVII years old, of XXIV East Appia Via, was struck by a chariot as he was crossing the road in front of his home. He sustained a double compound semi-annual fracture of the left elbow and severe lacerations. After his injuries were dressed by a physician, he was removed to his home.

The charioteer, who fled from the scene of the accident, is being sought by the authorities.

RESOLUTION FOR EXTENSION OF APPIA VIA ADOPTED

An Assembly of the citizens was held last night at the Basilica Semprona to take action on the proposed extension of the Appia Via. The resolution was unanimously adopted by those present. Alluisus Costalotus presided over the meeting and reported that construction on the road will begin soon.

According to Marcus Cato, Quaestor of Rome, the job will cost about thirty-five hundred sesterces, but the quality of the road will be such that it will undoubtedly last for centuries.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Important scroll, in Forum, valuable only to owner. Large reward. Call at Senator Lotta Bunkus' villa at Quintus Road.

LOST—In vicinity of Senate house, a fasces belonging to Senator Legis Latus. Please return to Senate House. Reward.

VOX ROMAE

SATURNALIA CELEBRATION TO BE GIVEN BY HORTENSIUS

On December 17, Aedile Hortensius will hold a celebration of the Saturnalia at the Circus Maximus. games will start promptly at the IIId hour. It is rumored that about LM sesterces have been spent in preparation for the Ludi and that D slaves and gladiators will participate. Champions and victors will be awarded an extra floral head wreath. In all, the Ludi Saturnaliae promise to afford an abundance of amusement and entertainment.

SOCIETY NEWS

Tuber Closus and his wife, Calpurnia, have recently returned from a week-end chariot trip to Ostia.

Publius Lucullus has been spending a few days with his parents, the Luculli. He will soon return to Rhodes, where he is studying Philosophy, Rhetoric and Greek,

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD

Miss Cashman say, "Excellent"? Mr. Enright say, "Good enuf"?

Miss Doehler say, "How was the Palace ?"

there, nor yonder"?

Mrs. Denise say, "Nothing personal"? Mr. West say, "Now, seriously"?

adequate"?

Mr. Courtney say, "S'posin' "?

Miss Emerson say, "Dites-quelque chose"?

Mr. Bird say, "Extree"?

Tichenor say, "Nonsense" "That's baaad!"?

Mrs. Ward say, "F'rinstance"?

Miss Sage say, "Any time"? Mr. Omans say, "I see your point"?

Mr. Tracy say, "You wouldn't fool me, would you?"

Miss Booth say, "Right about face; one, two"?

Miss Goff say, "Do you agree?" Mr. Lee say, "Just this"?

The Marcelli will entertain in honor of their daughter, Helena, next Friday evening at the Triumphus Club on West Sacra Via.

For Sale

New twelve room villa, with all modern conveniences, beautiful peristyle; beautiful surroundings on Nova Via; easy terms. Inquire XXXVII Appia Via.

New and used chariots of latest design; guaranteed for IV years. Free driving instruction given with each purchase. CXLIX Claudius Dr.

Latest style togas and praetexti for sale; all sizes and designs. See Cutum N. Sowum, tailor.

Visit our shop on East Appia Via, where we have finest quality baked goods. Cooki Bros., Confectioners.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Helen White writing legibly?

Lawrence Kilmer playing football? Alma Raysor not noticeable? Paul Lascell without Marjorie? Miss Sharer say, "This is neither here, David Benham short and fat? Margaret Jackson feeding rats? Susanne Bogorad quiet? John Shenton dumb in history? Miss O'Neil say, "Your work is not Frank Fuhrman without a wise-crack? Anona Page isolated? Edna Michel on time? Charles Borgus noisy? Donald Marvin wearing knickers? Dorothy Collett being the only girl in "Solid"?

Frances Earl swearing? Carl Pearson without that smile? Don Ryan playing a mouth organ? Carol Schmidt with black hair? Vera MacMullen without a temper? Marjorie Milne without candy? Esther Smith writing right handed? June Estes without "Cam"? Mary Mitchell making a lot of noise? Marg Kirby with straight, black hair?

SOCCER

Marshall 2-Charlotte 0

Perhaps Charlotte's hardest battle of the year was played on Marshall's wet and muddy field. Several times the ball landed in a large puddle and it was just a matter of who was the best water dog. There was a great deal of discussion about one play; the Charlotte team claimed the ball went through the goalposts, while the Marshallites said that their goalie stopped the ball right on the line. From where the referee was wading, the play was not totally visible and so he was unable to make a decision.

The scoring efforts of the Green and White were many times thwarted by the Marshall backs. In the second half, the Lakesiders seemed to be just getting their stride and had it all over For a while it their opponents. seemed that Charlotte was going to rally and take the lead, but the forward line lacked the final punch and drive to boot the ball through the goalposts.

the academy boys, thru some slip in a Charlotte play, gained possession of the ball and sent it through the uprights, gaining a hard fought victory.

East 4-Charlotte 1

In less than 60 seconds after the game had started, East perfected a lucky play and sent the pigskin sailing into the net. Then Charlotte, after a close fight, put that round, elusive article through East's gateposts for its only score. In the last quarter, the green and white fought hard to break through East's defense, and perhaps, if there had been a few more quarters left to play, Charlotte would have brought home the bacon. Quite often, Charlotte waits until the game is almost over before they swing into real action. Although the game was a close one, many said that our team out-played East, even though we did not score the most points.

Canandaigua 5-Charlotte 4

When the half time whistle blew. punch thru a winning goal. Finally, sportsmanship.

West 4-Charlotte 0

After a bitter upset from Canan-Charlotte had piled up a leading 2-1 daigua, West was fighting hard to score and was going strong, but for beat Charlotte and to win the pennant. some unknown reason, they slowed The occidents performed very much down, and the Cans went right thru like a championship team, although them in the unlucky third quarter. Charlotte gave them a hard battle. Oh what a fight that last section was! West High is always welcome at Char-Each team was doing its darndest to lotte, for they exhibit, at all times, fine

Monroe 0-Charlotte 4

Ah, victory once more rests within the portals of Charlotte High, and how good it seems! Our team found very little trouble in taking Monroe into camp, although the Monroe gang put up a good fight. Charlotte's goals gation from Franklin High, witnessed were evenly apportioned, one in each the hard fought battle between the looked as though Monroe was going Charlottians. The contest was start-to score, but Greer, fullback, took a ed when Mr. West kicked the ball to hard heavy swing at the ball and sent Mr. Butterfield, who dribbled the it flying high, wide, and handsome, in- leather down the field and vainly atto the opponents' territory. hope that our team has started a real Coach Tichenor's machine started off winning streak and comes through perfectly and tallied two goals in the somewhere at the top. This victory first half. The Franklin eleven, howraises Charlotte to fifth place.

Tech 3-Charlotte 1

at its belt, the Charlotte eleven was Franklin scored 5 points to Charlotte's determined to whip the shopsters. 2. Captain Harold Smith scored three They were quite lost on the huge Ed- of Charlotte's goals, an unusual record gerton field, however, and neither team for a fullback.

was playing in its best form. Charlotte just didn't get the breaks, and Tech did.

Franklin 7-Charlotte 4

A crowd of 600, including a dele-Once during the game it Norton Street aggregation and the Let's tempted to score for his own school. ever, amazed at the unexpected opposition, commenced fighting for victory and tied the score in the third quarter. The heavy rain in the last quarter With Irondequoit's scalp dangling seemed to cool Charlotte's spirit, for

Reserve Soccer

ADVENTURE AHOY!

A weary caravan of seven automobiles slowly crawled along a dark, dismal trail through the acres and acres of sweet smelling grape vines. Finally, after almost giving up in despair, the occupants of the first car sighted, on the lower right, a spot that truly resembled a heavenly oasis. After everyone had realized that the goal was won and the fearful trip was done, the air was rent asunder by thunderous cheers and toot, toots, of auto horns.

Mr. Tichenor and Mr. West had come ahead to get the cooking started and, oh boy, how good those mellowed moonbeams (hot dogs) smelt.

After the smoke had passed away, we could see Mr. West bent over a fire coaxing the sausages along. Soon the eats were ready and it certainly was fun to see the fellows go after them. There were fried sweet potatoes (a la Tichenor), jugs of sweet cider and doughnuts, besides the hot dogs and accessories.

devoured, very mysteriously out of ambitious guests.

After everybody was about as full as a stuffed turkey, it was just a case of one joke after another. were cheers for the cooks and all sorts of amusing occurences.

"Let's go in swimming!" cried some misled person. And soon, a half dozen fellows were seen standing ankle-deep in the cold, black waters of Canandaigua Lake. At last, one brave person totally submerged (I really think he accidentally slipped), and the rest The swimmers soon followed suit. must have remembered that they had appointments with the dentist, for they hurriedly emerged from the cool, refreshing water. And was it funny to see those slightly dampened but otherwise hot-headed boys looking for their clothes? There was something rancid in Copenhagen, for their wearing apparel had been tampered with. It was one grand hilarious scramble. The result was that one of the practical jokers paid for his amusement with a primitive ducking in the lake, minus the Chair.

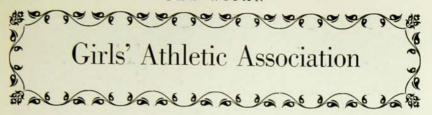

A group of boys formed an exploration party and set out in search of some luscious, red grapes. A monstrous success was experienced by all: a grand total of six grapes was collected.

After the return of the famous grape expedition, Mr. West looked so sleepy and most of the boys appeared 50 worn out, that it was decided to break up camp and begin the crusade for Charlotte.

"Au Revior," (or maybe it was "So Long"), said we departing ones to beautiful Miss West Point, as we hit the trail for home.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team has been fur-When almost everything had been nished with twelve beautiful new suits. This will improve the outward apthe darkness came the inspiring strains pearance of Charlotte's representation of Charlotte High's Alma Mater, fol- and undoubtedly will arouse the inlowed by a carful of Charlotte boys, terest of candidates. With the sup-There were a few lone dogs left, which port of the school, the team is bound were taken care of by the unexpected, to win several games and finish the season way up in the league.

The fall season for girls' after- cooked something, having either a school sports has been completed and sausage or a marshmallow roast. it was very successful. The tennis Beatrice Marvin, who had perfect atsingles tournament was played and tendance, and Natalya Ivanson, Hazel Adreen Kirby, the winner, will receive Lemcke and Beatrice Knab, who the letter "C". second place, will receive her num- credit toward their G. A. A. emblems. erals.

divided into a Green and a White Stubbs, and Leora Young. team, which contested against each Rose Ella Ames, Mary Savage, Inez other for two out of three games, girls had only one absence and five not think it fair to award just the will receive their O. K.'s for credit towinning team, an honor team was ward the G. A. A. emblem. chosen from both sides. This was composed of the following: Margaret day at Monroe Junior-Senior High Kirby, Grace Eve, Eleanor Ivanson, School. Beatrice Killip, Dorothy Nicol, Jeanne Florence Gordon had the best record Marvin, Blanche Gauthier, Gehring for attendance, having missed only Cooper, Angelina Roman, Margaret once. In the Senior High, Ruth Lis-Reimer, and Jean White. These girls sow missed only one time and Mae will be given their "C's" in speedball Marthage, Anona Page, June Ryan and twenty-one girls will receive and Mildred Vollmer had two absences. credit toward their G. A. A. emblems. Thirteen girls will receive credit in Of these, Jean Frattare, Ruth Greg- this sport. erson, Eleanor Ivanson, Jeanne Marvia, Dorothy Nicol, Angelina Roman now, and with very good results. We and Helen Thomas had perfect attend- have swimming on Monday, basketball ance.

In horseback riding, a considerable dancing on Friday. amount of interest was shown. The ginners, freshmen and sophomores, girls who came out for this became have registered for basketball on quite proficient in performing such Tuesdays and thirty-one juniors and feats as jumping over logs, brooks and seniors have been listed for Wedneslike obstacles which might confront days. This is a very good record, and one on a cross-country ride. phine Bemish, Betty Le Clare and throughout the term. Elizabeth Donoghue will receive credit toward their G. A. A. emblems with Bernadine Barthelman, Evelyn Fricke, this, as they had only one absence.

season. The girls were in charge of Zenobia Luckhurst and Lois Mateson Mrs. Clary and met every Thursday. had only one absence. However, this On all of their various hikes they

Margaret Reimer, missed only one week, will be given

And, of course, tap-dancing! In speedball, after seven weeks of following ten girls had perfect attendpractice, the girls who participated ance: Lois Koster, Mae Marthage, Ella in the majority of the practices were Reagon, Carol Schmidt, Marion Kemp, However, as the G. A. A. Council did had only two. These twenty-two girls

We also had swimming every Mon-Of the Junior High girls.

Our winter season is well started on Tuesday and Wednesday, and tap-Fifty-seven be-Jose- we hope to be able to maintain it

In the Junior High in tap-dancing, Freda King and Louise King had per-Hiking was also outstanding this fect attendance, and Goldie Bacon,

THE HI-Y

It was unfortunate that we were unable to find a satisfactory time for the taking of the Hi-Y picture and, as a result, many of the members were not able to be present. Those who are absent are: George Gray, Edward Bush, Woodrow Waterhouse, Spencer Bishop, Frank Martoni, Pomroy Cass, Frank Forman, Jack Reid, John Shenton, Leon Bonfield, Edwin Roberts, adviser in the person of Mr. Enright. Robert Dorgan and Bruce Bergener. The club has been active this year holding its regular meetings every Tuesday at the Maplewood Y and having supper meetings every two weeks.

A combined Tri-Y and Hi-Y Dinner Dance was held December 13 at the Maplewood Y. M. C. A. Supper was served by the well known Gus Bonesteel and the process of digestion was aided by a familiar amusement known as dancing.

The Hi-Y is enjoying a new faculty

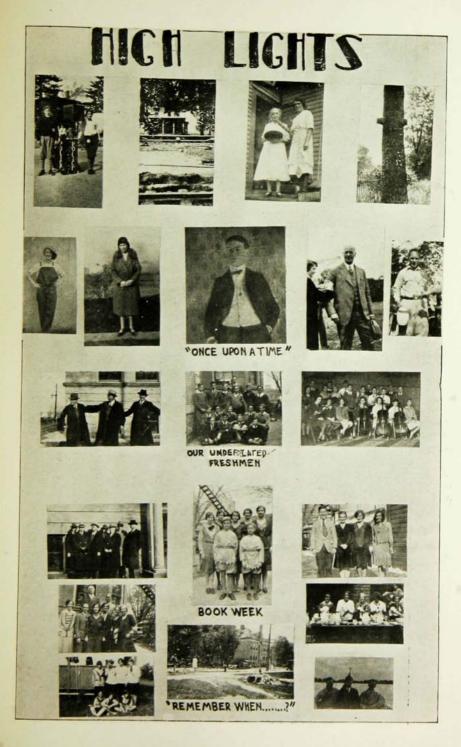

Officers of the Hi-Y are: President, Carl Pearson; Vice President, Paul Lascell; Secretary, Frank Campbell; Treasurer, Percy Andrews: Sgt. at Arms, Sam DeMato.

(Continued from Page 55)

does not give them G. A. A. credit, as the Girls' Athletic Association is a Senior High organization.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION tendance in Girls' Club: Margaret Ames, Mae Henry, Elizabeth Sweeting, Thelma Schnurr, Janet Otto, Marion Kemp, Freda King, Louise King, Zenobia Luckhurst, Selma Michel. Roslyn Miller, Jean Hanse and Grace

The following girls had perfect at- Van Dam.

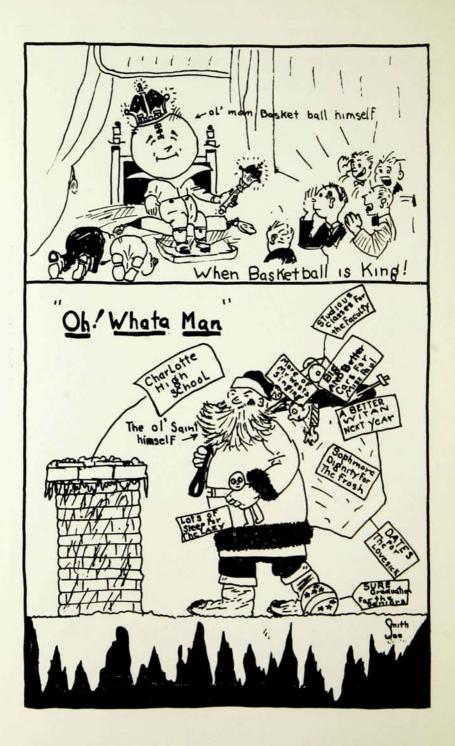

Senior Play

The Faculty. Absent: Mr. Bird, Mr. Enright, Mrs. Mahoney, Mr. Omans, Mrs. Ward, Mr. Westburg

SANTA

Do you believe in Santa, Who from the Northland comes And brings nice toys To girls and boys Who've been good all year long?

Who have willingly helped their mothers,

Not teased their sisters nor brothers. Well, I think you'd better believe in

Or on some early Christmas morn Yoy will find your stockings hanging empty,

All in tatters and sadly torn.

THE WITAN PARTY

(Continued from Page 47)

later the teachers all entered merrily into an informal "lap" party. walls of the practice house rang with the merriment and it certainly was "one good party."

During the evening, a lot of interesting material leaked out, a sample of which is the following:

When Jim Smith met Julia Van Dam in the kitchen, he said to her, "Evaporate."

She answered, "I'd love to."

General comment was that this is getting serious. The consequences Ruth Thomas, 8B-2 were that he lost all his money.

WITAN STAFF

(Continued from page 7)

(Continued from page 1)
Margaret Jackson	Practice House
Joseph Smith Edmund Campbell	Cartoonists
Anona Page	Exchange Editor
Frances Earl William Farress Sam Bogorad John Shenton	Business Managers
Paul Lascell Raymond Grant Grace Eve Billy Petroske (7 A-2) David Bishop (8 A-1)	Circulation Managers
Miss Emerson Miss Cashman Miss O'Neill	Story Contest Judges
Mrs. Mahoney Miss Sharer Mr. Lee	Faculty Advisers

Kulzer Brothers

GAS STATION

Accessories — Tires — Tubes

Brunswick Tire Agency

Stone and Stonewood

Phone Char. 667

THE GRUEN WATCH $25.00 to $50.00

CHAS. P. COSTER

1519 LAKE AVENUE

ROCHESTER, : : NEW YORK

I. B. LAZARUS

MAGAZINES

NEWSPAPERS

CANDY—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

1 Corinthian Street

Phone Main 7304

TROOP 39, BOY SCOUTS

Under the Scoutmastership of a Mr. Gould, the boys in this troop have been making steady progress. Most of the boys in Troop 39 are students in Charlotte High School.

Friday night, November 21, 1930, the troop had a Court of Honor. Mr. Raymond Grant presided over the meeting. Mr. Clarence Robinson, an important official in scouting, was present, and presented the merit badges and awards to the Scouts. Quite a large number of parents were present, but still, not so many as there should have been.

Those badges which were presented are as follows:

Life Scout-Ray Grant.

Star Scouts - Burtis Francis Dougherty, Robert Rowen, tioned. Lawrence Van Dam, Willard Dudley, Lawrence Kilmer, Robert Hoppe and Ray Grant.

Badges-Agriculture, Eric Carol Schmidt, Stevens; Bird Study, Willard Dudley;

Civics, Ray Grant; Conservation, Eric Stevens; Cooking, David Bishop; First Aid, Lawrence Van Dam, Willard Dudley, Earl Freckleton; Handicraft, Willard Dudley, Richard Kemp, Lawrence Van Dam; Pioneering, Earl Freckleton, Robert Hoppe, Ellsworth Kehoe.

Second Class-Albert Dickson. Tenderfoot-Gus Jougles, LeRoy Johnson, Lloyd Clark, Albert Wood.

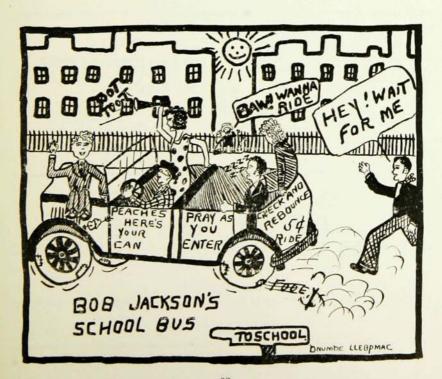

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

(Continued from Page 22)

have hereunto subscribed our names Dougherty, as witnesses on the day above men-

> Anona L. Page, Class Testator. Class President.

Class Secretary.

Theodore Roosevelt said:

"Extravagance rots character; train youth away from it. On the other hand, the habit of saving money, while it stiffens the will, also brightens the energies. If you would be sure that you are right, Save."

Bank Every Monday. Be sure you are right. Follow the advice contained in this quotation.

Rochester Savings Bank

Two Offices

47 Main St. West

40 Franklin St.

Char. 1466

Glen 1808-W Glen, 6264

1687 Dewey Ave.

Madeline Beauty Shoppe

4425 Lake Ave. (Upstairs) Rochester, N. Y.

Leon Oil Permanent $7,50

Special Dec. 1-Jan, 1

D and C SERVICE STATION

WHERE

SERVICE DOMINATES

Tuckey & Chanoweth, Props.

W. N. KINTZ

ONE STOP SERVICE

BATTERIES

ALEMITING GAS and OIL

VULCANIZING

TWO STATIONS

CORNER LAKE AVENUE AND DENISE ROAD

4401 LAKE AVENUE

Phone Charlotte 601

CHAMPION KNITWEAR MILLS, Inc. ANDREWS AND N. WATER STREETS

Rochester, N. Y.

Main 1995

Lake Avenue Filling Station

GAS, OILS AND ACCESSORIES

3345 Lake Ave., Corner Stone Road

Phone Charlotte 489

ARTCRAFT PORTRAITS

With our beautiful soft lightings, all the beauty and character is portrayed. Our oil paintings are unsurpassed.

ARTCRAFT STUDIO

37 Stonewood Ave.

Char, 1630

WITTIE'S DRUG STORE Candy When You Think of Insurance Think of

Drugs

GILBERT H. KIRBY

Complete Line of School Supplies

ALL LINES OF INSURANCE

Char. 640

3319 Lake Avenue, Cor. Stonewood Representing the Aetna Companies Main 2623 Char, 1240

FOR GOOD HEAT

PHONE CHAR. 80

GUARANTEED COAL AND COKE

Peoples Coal and Lumber Co.

4585 Lake Avenue

Rochester, N. Y.

The Frank M. Decker Store

LADIES' CHILDREN'S AND MEN'S WEAR

4415 Lake Avenue

Official Branch Office of Rochester Gas & Electric Corporation

NOTIONS

NOVELTIES LUNCHES

CONFECTIONERY

MARY'S BEAUTY SHOPPE

Hair Cutting Marcelling Manicuring Facials Eyebrows Arched

Corner Driving Park & Lake Ave.

Prices Reasonable

4468 Lake Ave.

Char. 1690 MAGAZINES SCHOOL SUPPLIES

CHARLES T. EYER, JR.

HERMAN KLEIN

FLORIST

Harborview Terrace Charlotte, N. Y.

EASY WASHER ONLY $79.50

FERGUSON'S HARDWARE AND ELECTRIC, Inc. 4421 Lake Ave.

SUGGESTIONS for CHRISTMAS

FOR HIM

$1.00 to $6.50 Box Tobacco 75c to $1.50 (1/2 lb. and 1 lb. Humidors) Thermos Bottles and Lunch Kits $1.00 to $7.50 Flashlights_____65c to $4.50 Fountain Pens_____$1.00 to $6.50 Safety Razors _____$1.00 to $5.00 Shaving Brushes _____50c to $2.50 FOR HER

----$2.00 to $25.00 Kodaks____ Manicure Sets_____$1.00 to $8.50 Toilet Sets_____$2.25 to $10.00 Perfume Atomizers___50c to $8.25 Bottle Perfume and Toilet Water 25c to $3.00 Stationery _____50c to $3.25

Box Candy_____50c to $3.00

Complete Line of

GREETING CARDS, BOOKLETS, TAGS, SEALS, RIBBONZENE TISSUE PAPER, TINSEL CORD, ETC.

The Cole Pharmacy

Char. 94 and Char. 3

Denise Barber and Beauty Shoppe

3894 Lake Ave., Cor. Denise Char. 1198-J

DAVENPORT'S GYPSY PLAYERS

Spectacular Dance Orchestra

Music That Thrills

Complete Equipment Including Canopy Pit Monroe 6892-W

WM. H. JACKSON

JEWELER

325 Driving Park Ave. Glen. 5668

Rochester

Glenwood 4001-W

H. J. MITCHELL

BALL BRAND FEED OUR SPECIALTY

BASKETS SEEDS LADDERS FARM IMPLEMENTS

Ridge Road

Greece, N. Y.

Congratulations

To the Class of January 1931, we offer congratulations upon the successful completion of your High School Studies.

To you and to the rest of the student body we wish a very

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

J. E. Cooper & Co.

Printers and Publishers

HILTON, N. Y.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County · Yearbook Collection

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County · Yearbook Collection

3 9077 04049149 3