BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
HIGH SCHOOL

ROCHESTER, NEW YORK

be educated in any American school is a great privilege, but our own Benjamin Franklin High School in Rochester offers an exceptional opportunity. Franklin High, recognized as one of the most democratic schools in the country, has done splendid work in its task of training young people for positions in later life. Scholarship, character, and leadership have been stressed in class rooms, clubs, and sports activities. The time we have spent here has been enjoyable as well as profitable. We appreciate the opportunities that have been ours, and we are sure that the ideals and the training which we have gained here will serve us to good advantage in the venture of life that lies before us.

FOR TEN YEARS THE KEY HAS SERVED AS A RECORD OF THE PROGRESS AND GROWTH OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN HIGH SCHOOL. THIS ISSUE IS THE FIRST TO REPRESENT THE EVENTS AND ACTIVITIES OF A FULL SCHOOL YEAR. IF IN DAYS TO COME THE KEY OF 1940 BRINGS BACK POIGNANT MEMORIES OF THE HAPPY HOURS SPENT HERE, ITS PURPOSE WILL HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED.

A FRIEND OF FRANKLIN HIGH SCHOOL

Ethel Place was a born teacher. Her father and mother were teachers, too, and she later married a teacher, our own beloved Roy L. Butterfield. She loved young people and found her happiness in home and school. Graduated from Cortland Normal School at the age of eighteen, she taught for four years in the public schools of Ithaca and even after her marriage, acted as a supply teacher occasionally in emergencies.

Mrs. Butterfield's interest in schools continued as she followed the careers of her sons as pupils and her husband as principal. She was present on that September day, nearly ten years ago, when the doors of Franklin High School swung open to admit its first classes. Her older sons, Roger and Lyman, had already gone on to college, but the youngest, Alfred, belonged to Franklin.

She knew of all that happened here, became personally acquainted with many student officers and leaders, delighted in Franklin Day activities, Key teas, senior plays and banquets, graduation programs, and the teachers' social activities. Any honor or recognition shown a Franklin person gave her joy.

A musician herself, she sang often in oratorios at Cornell University as a young woman, and her fine alto voice was heard in church choirs wherever she lived. Naturally the Franklin Choir was a great source of pride to her.

It is a privilege to pay tribute in the 1940 KEY to Mrs. Roy L. Butterfield and to record her name as one of the first and best friends of Franklin High School.

At 14 years, a member of the class of 1898 at Groton High School, her favorite subjects, Latin and Greek.

HISTORY

The Benjamin Franklin High School is thoroughly American, even to the site upon which it stands. For what is more American than the old-fashioned circus? And Norton Street, corner of Hudson, was once famous as the circus stamping ground of Rochester. Big and small, learned and unlearned, serious and care free, they all came to Norton Street to feed the elephants and to see the man on the flying trapeze.

Then, lest the idea perish, though not from conscious design, our Key for January, 1938, took the circus as its theme and came out resplendent with big top and all. And surely we can't forget the James M. Cole Indoor Circus that only last fall performed on the big gymnasium floor. Barnum and Bailey have folded their tents, it is true, but they haven't moved away.

There is something about the bigness, the "busyness," the vitality, and the general appeal of the circus that is attuned to the American idea of tackling big things in the joyous spirit of adventure and of opportunity for all. We hope that this is true of Franklin. The place is a big one—one of the largest and best equipped in the country. Young Americans of many national groups, some of them not long here, work and study and play together. The Almanac, sent to prospective students during the summer before the opening of the first school year, declared that the school would be of the "cosmopolitan type." We still like the word "cosmopolitan." Sturdy old American traditions connected with Benjamin Franklin and colonial days have been sought out and perpetuated in the name of our student council, the Junto, and in the names of all school publications—the Almanac, the Key, and the Courant. Franklin is the meeting place of the old and the new, the near and the far. More than ever before, Norton Street is vibrant with American life.

But, to begin our history, the need of a "North-east High School" was recognized by the Board of Education as early as the year 1915. In 1916 the first portion of the campus was purchased, 15-3/10 acres for $10,000. In 1921 the school was asked for, at which time the cost was estimated at $1,500,000. In October, 1925, there was made a survey of school needs in this section, as a result of which two years later, December, 1927, the sum of $2,300,000 was authorized for the construction of the building.

A mile of corridors! Mr. Sabin finds the solution.

The first shovelful of earth was lifted on March 28, 1928. From that time the work went vigorously forward until the grand opening on Tuesday, September 2, 1930. We were impressively known as "The Benjamin Franklin Junior-Senior High School," with the regular junior-senior program, and carrying grades eight through twelve. The final cost, including site and equipment, was $2,922,821.10. Recently a considerable addition was made to the size of the athletic field; the campus now includes twenty-six acres.

The building was planned originally for an enrollment of 2,500, but before school began it was plain that more than this number would appear. Six class rooms left unfinished in the early plans had to be completed at once. Various devices had to be employed to divert attendance to East High and elsewhere in order that we might be able to make a start with the huge load that would be ours to carry. By the spring term 3,100 boys and girls were with us. This number steadily grew until in the spring of 1933 the maximum attendance of 3,806 was reached. Just in time to keep our walls from bursting, all high schools of the city were placed on the five year plan (grades eight through twelve), and Washington, now a regular senior high school, assumed enough of the overload to afford us substantial relief. At present, April 9, 1940, our total is 2,809.

We have said that the word "American" has found much to claim in Franklin. So also has the word "democratic," and nowhere more than in student government. During the first year the Junta and the Executive Council were organized. The real governing body is the Junta, named from a discussion group of which Benjamin Franklin was the leader, and consisting of two representatives from each homeroom in the building. Eighth graders, therefore, have equality with seniors so far as voting is concerned. To facilitate things generally, the Junta chooses representatives to the Executive Council, whose particular work is to discuss matters of importance and to present recommendations to the Junta for final action. The smaller body consists at present of six student and seven faculty members; two of the student members must be taken from grades eight and nine.

Democracy, again, is the keynote of Franklin's award system. Awards were first granted in June, 1931, and the present system is governed by recommendations adopted in the term of January-June, 1933. Thereby certificates of award are granted to such members of the graduating class as have performed meritorious service in various extra-curricular organizations—literary, dramatic, musical, service, and athletic. The plan found favor and has been continued to the present. Awards are made by the Executive Council and are based on recommendations from faculty sponsors for the various activities. It is noteworthy that Franklin does not issue letters to athletic teams. The award principle is that recognition should be given for all faithful, well done extra-curricular work, and that so far as credit is concerned, no one branch of activity should take precedence over the others. The net result of the award system unquestionably has been an increased appreciation of many services hitherto unnoticed because of the lack of glamour connected with them. And this makes for democratic, American ideals.

Undoubtedly the greatest earned honor that a Franklin student may attain is membership in the National Honor Society, organized here for the first time in the spring of 1931. Elections are made by a faculty committee and are based on scholarship, character, and general good citizenship. Probably errors have been made in these selections, but on the whole a good work has been done and a distinct effort has been made to insure equality of opportunity for all. The annual induction ceremony is one of the most impressive of the year, and membership is prized by the student body more than that in any other organization—athletic, literary, or social.

Other highly valued honor organizations are: Les Babillards (French), the Optimates (Latin), the Circolo Dante (Italian), the German Honor Society, the Commercial Honor Society, and the Craft Guild.

Robust Americanism and democracy. These words have summarized our impressions up to this point. But there is something in the air at Franklin that is more than either of these; perhaps it is the essence of both at their best. We mean the concern felt for the welfare of each boy, each girl, each young man, each young woman—personally. Mistakes have been made, and possibly they are many, because of the definitely planned effort to deal with each student as an individual. It is not so hard to govern an organization by unbroken rules. It is not easy to govern on the principle that regulations exist for the young people, and not the young people for them, but this has become the unwritten law of the school. Such is the unwritten law of good homes, and young people feel at home in Franklin. Whether it be a question as to the course of study, a matter of health, a problem at home, or a difficulty calling for the service of a trained psychologist, the Franklin guidance and advisory officers are ready to help in a personal way and with a sympathetic attitude.

Then it is Americanism, democracy, and the spirit of home. These seem to tell the story of Franklin.

BUTTERFIELD

As Franklin graduates read these lines they will think not only of their school as a whole, but they will find their minds turning again and again to one individual in connection with the characterizations here presented. They will be thinking of their principal, Roy L. Butterfield. From the day that he began to plan for the school before its opening, he has worked so whole-heartedly toward the ends we have mentioned that what has been said of Franklin seems to apply equally to him. To an unusual degree the ideals of the principal have come to be those that are first thought of as belonging to the school.

We are all proud of the fact that last fall a committee of prominent educators commissioned by the N. E. A. for the purpose of studying democracy in education, visited the Benjamin Franklin High School as one of a list of select schools chosen from the entire United States. The leadership of Mr. Butterfield we believe to be chiefly responsible for honors of this kind. His activities have been of the broadest sort and his labors Herculean. As teacher of most of the subjects originally in the curriculum, as high school principal, as president of the R. T. A., of the Central Western Zone, of the Associated Academic Principals of New York, and as member of important educational committees, his influence has become statewide and is constantly increasing. Just now he is serving on the tenure committee of the National Education Association. Mr. Butterfield's connection with our school has lent it prominence; his devotion to it and his efforts on its behalf have contributed more than any other factor to its personality.

OF VARIED INTEREST

Franklin stands high in Rochester for the work done by its ATHLETIC TEAMS. The record of their success is given in the sports section on page seventy-five. We find satisfaction in the fact that Mr. Carl Chamberlain and the health education faculty have stressed the matter of good sportsmanship more than that of winning games. The basketball score board, center of intense interest to thousands of eyes during the winter, is typical. It reads "Guests" . . . not "Opponents."

The first FRANKLIN DAY was held in May, 1932. Sports, eats, music, dramatics, and social activities in one festive salmagundi from early afternoon till late evening—all these explain why, from the first, Franklin Day has been a vast success and now is the gala occasion of the year.

One of the earliest acts at Franklin was the choice of red and white as the school colors. The ALMA MATER by Michael Golben, and the SCHOOL EMBLEM, designed by Stanley Klimaszewski and Duane Crumb, were selected during the spring term of 1931.

THE GROUND SCHOOL, opened in 1932, under the leadership of Mr. William Read, has on several occasions received newspaper publicity.

Mr. Read is an aviator of experience, one of the pioneers of commercial aviation. In his classes he aims particularly to present an introduction to the study of problems in aeroplane engineering and ship construction. For some time ours was the only ground school in the Rochester system.

Bill Read of the Ground School

THE GUILD ROOM serves as a meeting place for those pupils of the practical arts department that exemplify in their work the time honored ideals of old time craftsmanship. The furnishings of the room, patterned on the early Italian style, make it to be one of the show places of the building. The Craft Guild and the Guild Room are so far as we know the first institutions of the sort in the country.

Perhaps no student organizations have brought the name of Franklin into the spotlight more than our A CAPPELLA CHOIR and our BAND AND ORCHESTRA. In the fall term of 1935 the choir, led by Mr. Marlowe Smith, accepted an invitation to sing before the annual convocation of the University of the State of New York in Albany. From all reports, the impression made there was profound; as a result of this performance the fame of our singers spread far and wide. The band and orchestra, directed by Mr. Karl Van Hoesen, have also done what we feel to be exceptional work. For some years past, there has been held each year in our section of New York State an "Apple Blossom Festival," featuring a contest among high school bands. It has never been our custom to enter contests of this sort, but as a result of pressure from the organization in charge, our band was permitted last June (1939) to take part. We are proud of the fact that though our players were not equipped with elaborate uniforms, and had never specialized in fancy drill work, they came back with first honors.

MISS BESSIE L. AMES

After forty-three years of teaching in both elementary and secondary schools, Miss Bessie L. Ames has retired. During this time she has set an enviable record in teaching and is indeed a remarkable personage to those who know her.

Upon graduation from Batavia High School, Miss Ames continued her education at Geneseo Normal School. Later she took advanced courses at the R. B. I., Cornell University, Simmons College, Albany State College, the University of Rochester, and Cortland Normal School. Not only has she taught an amazing variety of courses at ten different schools, but she has had experience in banking, in newspaper work, and in various business establishments. She has also checked Regents papers in Albany for some years past. She has the distinction in Rochester of having organized the first chapter of the Commercial Honor Society.

Her broad scholarship, her unswerving standards of high achievement, her concern for the true welfare of her pupils, and her own sterling character have made the name of Miss Bessie L. Ames one long to be remembered in Rochester.

MR. BUTTERFIELD

The students of Benjamin Franklin High School are most fortunate in having as a principal so experienced and versatile a man as Mr. Roy L. Butterfield. Upon graduation from a New Jersey high school, he worked his way through the University of Rochester where he received the Bachelor of Arts Degree. Not only did he distinguish himself scholastically while in college, but he was prominent in athletic activities, especially track and football.

Immediately after graduation from college, Mr. Butterfield taught at a country school and later became principal of a school of the same type. Later he was appointed principal of Charlotte High School where he remained for twenty years. Ten years ago he came to Franklin High School as its organizer and first principal, since which time he has worked unceasingly to build and maintain the fine reputation we now possess.

Although he is a busy man, with responsibilities in state and national education as well as local, he has always found time to take a kindly interest in our personal problems. We realize the benefits we have received from Mr. Butterfield's wise counsel, and we shall long cherish the memory of his help and guidance.

MR. SABIN

Mr. Willard A. Sabin, our genial vice-principal, came to Franklin High two years ago. A graduate of Syracuse University, he did advanced work at Columbia and later at the University of Rochester. After teaching at Jefferson High School, he became principal of Francis Parker School, Number 23. It was from this position that he came to us. We have already learned to appreciate his ability to handle large responsibilities in educational work both within and without our organization. He has been a sincere, loyal, and devoted friend, always patient and understanding in his guidance. We know that he will continue to be the invaluable adviser to future classes that he has been to us.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the seniors of 1940, being of unsound mind and memory, do make, publish, and declare this our last WILL AND TESTAMENT, in manner following, that is to say:

First:

We direct that all our just debts and expenses be forgotten.

Second:

We bequeath our superb intelligence, magnificent energy, and stainless record to the incoming senior class of 1941.

We leave the weary Mr. Bezant, faculty adviser of the Key, our best wishes and an aspirin.

To Mr. Francis, we leave many thanks for the enjoyable seventh periods spent in his office.

We leave the stairways and halls to the many up and coming athletic enthusiasts who crave indoor sports.

To Miss Levin, we relinquish an aggregation of heterogeneous verbalisms which she may hurl at the future bodies of students grouped together pursuing equivalent studies. (My! My! did that come out of us?)

We leave our many homework assignments to ———, but then we wouldn't do that to a dog.

We leave the fervent hope that Miss Langworthy's classes, who are told that they do not come up to the standards of the other group, never discover that there is no other group.

To all bored clock watchers, we leave the many stray dogs whose roaming of the corridors provides so much entertainment.

We leave the dishes, chairs, tables, and silver of the lunchrooms, all in one piece, to a grateful Mr. Cleland.

Our gym instructor's "Pride and Joys" respectfully leave their autographed copies of "How To Become A Superman in 10 Easy Lessons" for future reference to inquisitive Franklinites.

We bequeath the wastepaper baskets to our future basketball players; they make splendid devices for improving their skill.

To all the chemistry classes from whose doors issue such delicate odors, we leave a fumigator, directions for its use, and a prayer that they will use it.

We leave Franklin High in record time—only five years.

To those old meanies, the teachers that enter 4-A classrooms eating, we leave scads of raspberries.

We leave all the study halls one year's subscription to the "Famous Funnies" so that the sleepers may have something to do.

To all those seniors who have over four subjects and more than five activities we leave a comfortable and cozy strait jacket.

FRANKLIN FRESHMAN

FINISHES FARCE

Fred Felt, Franklin freshman, finally finished a four act farce about a famous, fascinating, fat, funny, friendly, flat footed, frisky, fuzzy, frowzy, fanatic, French, farmer-fisherman from Flanders fields in Flanders. Franklin's faculty feels the farce will fare fairly as a Franklin feature. Felt's fantasy will be fostered Friday, February fourteen.

Freddie feels the frisky fable will be a fabulous favorite. We, too, feel Freddie's faith is not false.

RADIO PROPHECY

"Well, folks, here we are again with another broadcast of 'Around Rochester' with your newscaster, Jason Smith."

"The dining room of the Phil Braune Hotel was certainly crowded with the world's most noted mathematicians last night. A dinner was held to honor that world famous gentleman, Robert Gray, President of the International Mathematics Society and discoverer of the sixth dimension. At his right sat Gerald Grief, the greatest gift to analytical chemistry that the world has ever known. At his left was George Kosel, world-traveler, 'the modern Einstein.' Mr. Kosel is said to be the only person, other than Mr. Gray, who can explain Mr. Gray's 'Theory of the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Dimensions.' Other notables present were James Dox, inventor of the automobile which runs on air alone; Albert Sherman, inventor of the phrase, 'A chicken in every pot, an airplane in every home, and SHERMAN FOR PRESIDENT!' Professor Ellis Medwin, Ph.D., Phi Beta Kappa, W.P.A., author of that notable best seller, 'How to Appreciate Radio Now That Television is Here'; William Urban, prominent mechanical wizard; and that great musical director of the String Gulch Silver Cornet Band, Merlin Escott. This meeting was broadcast by the outstanding radio announcer, Raymond Buskus. Newspaper folk were plentiful, but in the crowd I spotted my rival, Dorothy Champlin; Ruth Blackman, Harold Silver's Girl Saturday; and Bernard 'Speedy' Glasser, sports authority. . . . Dropped in at the Organ Hot Dog Salon this P. M. and found Betty Cassebeer, head bookkeeper for the Charles Park 'We Gippum and Cheatem' brokerage firm, lunching with the 'Co-ed's Delight and Debutante's Thrill,' Fred Edelstein of the Cinny-Maw. . . . Passed the Phyllis Bell Memorial Home for Strays, a wonderful institution, while crossing Teple Terrace, the street dedicated to the great author whose book 'The Prunes of Temperament' caused such tumult. . . . Heard John Kneek, baritone, and Alice Groth, contralto, sing at the first night of that newly completed opera 'Memories of 1940' by Florence Jenkins. . . . Last week witnessed the most beautiful wedding of the season, when Dr. Richard Vasiey married the girl of his dreams, Miss ? ? ? . . . The Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to High School Students recently elected Emile Zwielerin president. Seen at this awe inspiring event were Ruth Hoffman, secretary at the Harold Eisele Employment Agency; Seymour Josephson, wealthy philanthropist who donated $100,000 to THE CAUSE; Robert Tice, founder of the Tice Dental Emporium; and Actresses Lorna Shaw and Jarmaine St. Peter who have just completed successful New York runs, with their manager Bernard Karp. . . . That's about all, for now, I'll be with you next week, listeners, at ten o'clock on Wednesday, April 3, 1972."

Price: Two cents a foot

And so, my children, endeth our little tale,

Newly organized swingsters. . . .
"Arnie" goes under the yoke in initiation of Optimates. . . . Lights out!
"Al" in control during assembly program. . . . "Rushing" back to class after assembly. . . .

ALMA MATER

In Franklin High we place our trust,
The source of our life's aim;
We crown with honors fair and just
Our Alma Mater's name.
Let steady foresight point the way
And care our actions lead;
Our deeds and not our words will lay
Foundations of our creed.

With loyalty to Franklin High,
With harmony in thought,
We shall with single purpose strive
For strength in honors sought.
Let hope acknowledge no defeat,
And friendship be our rule;
Let time with measured march repeat
The spirit of our school.
