JOHN MARSHALL HIGH SCHOOL

Rochester, N. Y.
FOREWORD

In presenting our Senior Annual we, the classes of January and June have tried to portray the activities of John Marshall High School during the year 1928-29. We are indebted for the name Polaris to the members of the Literary Club.
DEDICATION

We, the classes of January and June 1929, dedicate this, our Senior Annual, to the memory of John Marshall, First Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, for whom our school is named.

Why do lower classmen persist in their conviction that seniors are all-seeing, all-knowing individuals with a bad case of ego? Everyone seems to be of this opinion but the seniors themselves. Actually, as graduation and the future loom before us, we feel like the most insignificant and helpless of God's creatures. We are confronted accusingly with our past, like a drowning man. Have we crammed our four years of high school life with a zealous pursuit of knowledge as we have led our fond parents to believe? We repent too late of the wasted study halls and hours spent in idle dreaming. Oh, to be freshmen again with a clean page before us!

Is our history to be a shining example by which future Marshallites may profit, or will it be by our numerous mistakes that they will learn to correct theirs? Let us renew briefly the events of our short but hectic career:

As freshmen we launched many ambitious enterprises and succeeded in carrying many of them through to a successful finish. We endeavored to hold up our record during the following year with less noteworthy achievements in the social line but more notable progress in scholastics. Our junior year was marred with but one sorrow, the departure of our beloved class adviser, Miss Kolb. Our sorrow was somewhat alleviated by the fortunate acquisition of Mrs. Houlihan and Mr. Friel in her place.

So now we have arrived at the goal which, four short years ago, seemed so distant and unattainable. Let us carry over the Spirit of Marshall with us as we enter into our various fields of endeavor.

V. M. and F. B.
Class Prophecy

For the first time in his life, St. Peter was stumped. Between trying to keep order in the line, and consider the eligibility of the various applicants, he was at his wit's end. An imposing individual stepped forth from the ranks. "And who are you?" inquired St. Peter wearily. "I am Clyde Gridley." "Thank Goodness," said St. Peter, "just the man we need."

Two figures appeared from opposite directions and halted before him. Like clockwork, they raised their right arms stiffly from the elbow, their mouths opened, and the word "How!" came forth in sonorous tones. "We," said they, in perfect unison, "are Herbert Shannon and Malcolm Milne. We are here to offer our humble talents in the way of entertainment to the other residents." "Yes," spoke up Edward Lerch, who stood behind them, "I always insisted that it was a monotonous business playing a harp all day."

"I do not agree with you at all," interrupted Lois Cannon. "I find that playing a harp soothes my nerves as nothing else can. And since the institution of the five-day week by our business expert, Andrew Fleming, it surely cannot be called monotonous."

"Oh, and by the way," said Mary Rinehart archly, "where is Francis Eppinger? I haven't seen him since I arrived."

Those present paused a moment out of respect for the absent and wiped their eyes. "Come, come," said St. Peter, "No more of this. What is to be, will be." "And," added Betty Zimmerli, "Eppy always did enjoy warm weather."

Kenneth Storandt and Margaret Snyder were allowed to pass on without interrogation, having led such very sedate and exemplary lives.

"Howard Vincent," exclaimed Verna Moore, "you will have to stop playing jazz on your trumpet. It simply doesn't agree with my constitution."

"You hadn't better be criticizing anyone else," said Howard witheringly. "Remember that your insistence on taking up nursing is responsible for most of us being here."

"Now," said St. Peter, "I think we are about ready for the roll-call." Jack Roberts raised his hand. "Please," he said, "May I read the roll? I always enjoy reciting."

"Very well."

Jack stepped forward, and after unrolling the scroll pompously, called forth, "Thomas Creighton.—Thomas Creighton!—Will somebody page Thomas Creighton?"

There was a commotion on the stairs and Thomas appeared panting.

"I'm so sorry," he said. "I've been trying out my new wings by catapulting over the clouds and I was delayed by becoming entangled in the cobwebs. I wish you would see that Florence Quick sweeps off the clouds before she takes her beauty sleep after this."

"Here," interrupted John Kuppinger. "Just because it's a case of sour grapes, you needn't run others down. You simply can't understand what a strain we matinee idols are under to keep in shape."

The babble continued for a moment, suddenly ceasing as the great gate clanged shut. "Thank heaven," said St. Peter wiping his brow, "that's over. That's the most unreasonable group I've had on my hands in a long time."
Last Will and Testament

We, the Class of January 1929, John Marshall High School, apparently being of sound mind and body and feeling that our transitory existence in High School is rapidly drawing to a close, do depart and leave behind us this our last Will and Testament, thereby revoking any former Wills made by us at any time; and herein do name our benefactors:

First: To the Class of June '29 we leave the Freshmen to be guarded and held in trust until they know better.

Second: To Mr. Conroy we leave all our tattered notes passed back and forth between the hard working students of seventh period study hall.

Third: Jack Roberts bequeaths his dignity and scholarship ability to Donald Barron. (May he appreciate it!)

Fourth: To some fortunate class we leave Mrs. Houlihan and Mr. Friel who have been our mainstay and moral support throughout these years.

Fifth: To the student body in general we leave our various textbooks with all their helpful hints and suggestions.

Sixth: To Lorraine Burritt we bequeath Mary Rinehart's locker in the hopes that she will keep it looking as "neat" as Mary did.

Seventh: To all the following Senior Classes we leave the privilege we never had, that of initiating the Freshmen.

Eighth: Francis Eppinger willingly leaves his good looks and "savoir faire" to any bashful underclassman who thinks they might be useful to him.

Ninth: With the faculty we leave our report cards to be kept on file as a source of consolation to discouraged students.

Tenth: We hereby appoint all future classes the executors of this our last Will and Testament.

In witness whereof we have subscribed our names on the fourteenth day of December, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight.

THE CLASS OF JANUARY 1929
By M. E. R., Testatrix.
To Abigail Roberts and Ira M. Wilder, our class advisers we owe a debt of gratitude for the four years of sympathy and help they have so willingly given us.

Class History

Our class has done nothing except make history to astound future classes, since it entered Kodak High School in the fall of nineteen twenty-seven. We have succeeded in holding our own in all phases of student life, scholastic, athletic and social.

As Freshmen we showed the school what youngsters could do, by winning the soccer championship in the City Freshman League, thus giving Kodak the permanent possession of the cup. Not only were we able to kick, but also we were whizzes on the basketball court. We startled the sedate Seniors by winning the interclass basketball championship without losing one game. However before long the school became accustomed to our athletic records.

In our Sophomore year we decided to enter the social spotlight. Our first attempt was a very successful Halloween party. At the end of our Sophomore year we had a picnic at Durand-Eastman Park.

We were a shining light in athletics, placing four of our men on the soccer team and two on the basketball team.

Several of our members won awards in scholarship. Others were in the band, the orchestra and the glee clubs. Some of our youngsters startled the school by crashing the gates of the aristocratic Literary Club.

As aged and sage Juniors we did many outstanding things among which was our staging John Marshall’s first Junior Prom. Besides this we introduced debating to John Marshall. We proved to the astonishment of the Latin teachers that Cicero was really as bad as he seems to Juniors. One of our English classes amused itself and others by producing, privately, one act of “The Rise of Silas Lapham.” Our budding actors showed a great deal of material for the Senior play.

Ripening with old age we bettered our athletic records by placing five men of the soccer eleven and three on the basketball five.

And this, our last year, our men were well represented on the soccer team that conquered the invincible West High team. The basketball team has also drawn many of them.

Some of our talented members presented “Eether or Eyther” in an assembly. Others were in the cast of “Nerves,” a successful play, presented on Armistice day in assembly. Besides, dramatic ability we have also discovered literary talent in some of our members.

On the whole as we reminisce on the things we have accomplished in the past four years, we decide that we should be proud of our members and of our efforts to make John Marshall a better place during our years of high school life.

Class Prophecy

Class Guess—Prophecy—Prognostication or what will you have?
The last licensed and registered prophet made the acquaintance of his an­cestors some two thousand and more years ago. Nevertheless I now find myself in the somewhat embarrassing situation of prognosticating the future occupations of the members of the class of June 1929. In truth a weighty task and dull, and I fear that I do not possess sufficient optimism for it. Reason and the over-rated law of averages would make it seem that not a few of the now ambitious and hopeful youths and maidens would be failures but prudence and good taste forbid my allotting anything but success to them. So then for the sake of truth and reason I shall sacrifice myself and become the class Bum. Let my name be thus inscribed in the annals of John Marshall—"William Comery, Class Bum, the first martyr for the law of averages."

Now that I have finished with myself let us turn as it were to other topics and away! to see what fate holds for us.

And now, dear children, do not be vexed unduly if you fail to find your name among the few in the above list for I have quite run out of occupations and I already have a beastly headache so you may go to any palmist and have your future revealed for a trilling sum.

I will close with a quotation from "Something about Eve," not because it is apt or for any other good reason but I am in a quoting mood.

"Do not be vexed unduly," the Sphinx then said, "if you can find no meaning in this paragraph, for this paragraph was placed here simply because there was a vacancy which needed filling. The foolish therefore, will find in it foolishness and say 'Bother'. The wise as wisdom goes will reflect that this paragraph was placed here without its consent being asked; that no wit nor large significance was loaned it by its creator; and that it will be forgotten with the turning of the page wherein it figures unimportantly. So do you turn the page forwith in just the carefree fashion of old nodding Time as he skims over the long book of life; and do you say either 'Bother' or 'Brother!' as your wits prompt you."

Last Will and Testament

We, the Class of June 1929, being about to pass out of this sphere of education, in full possession of a crammed mind, well-trained memory, and almost superhuman understanding do make and publish this, our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all former wills or promises by us at anytime heretofore made, or mayhap, carelessly spoken, one to the other, as the thoughtless wish of some idle hour.

First: We give and bequeath to the faculty the difficult job of finding more students of such natural aptitude to fill the vacancies left by the Class of June 1929.

Second: We also give and bequeath to the faculty complete authority to use all bits of wisdom and enlightenment which we have left for the edification of future Senior Classes.

Third: We give and bequeath to the members of the Junior Class our Senior dignity. May they uphold it forever, with all seriousness and gravity, endeavoring to realize its vast importance, in spite of their natural light-mindedness and irresponsibility.

Fourth: We give and bequeath to some lucky class our beloved advisers, Miss Roberts and Mr. Wilder. May they appreciate them as much as we have.

Fifth: We will and bequeath to the President of the Class of June 1930, Burnell Farman’s ability to hold a multitude of offices at one time and his great ability as an organizer.

Sixth: We will and bequeath to some energetic girl Ruth Mix’s ability as an all-around athlete.

Seventh: We likewise will and bequeath to the Junior Class, as a student body, William Comery’s knowledge of art, literature, philosophy, science, and the universe in whole or in part. We trust the class may be able to survive it.

Eighth: We leave and bequeath to the Freshman Class that is to be—any overlooked cuds of gum we may be left adhering to the underside of desks, banisters, assembly seats, or any likely or unlikely places.

We do hereby appoint Mr. Ira Wilder sole executor of this our last will and testament.

In witness whereof, We, the Class of June 1929, the testators have to this our will set our hands and seal.

CLASS OF JUNE 1929
Per W. B. B.
The Class of January 1930

All! Seniors! At last after a long struggle we have reached the goal which, until now seemed so distant and unattainable. We have reached the peak called Seniordom. We started our high school career as all classes do as Freshmen. Poor lonely, lost, unhappy Freshmen. How we pitied ourselves and now that we are high and mighty Seniors, we look back on those first days with much laughter and a few tears. But at last we are seniors.

Our teachers are forever reminding us that we are in the fourth year of high school and should be leading sedate and industrious lives. Among the unforgettable events of our school life are our popcorn and candy sales, our Hallowe'en and Theatre parties that have been held at regular intervals throughout our three years in high school.

We must not forget that our boys have shone on the soccer and baseball field and in basketball too. The girls too have figured highly in the athletics of the school. But our main stay is our scholarship. Many of the boys and girls have won scholarship awards.

Our school days are nearly over and then we must leave our dear school and go out to seek our own way in the world with no kind, sympathetic and helpful Mrs. Baker and Mr. Foote to guide our wayward feet. But as we go may we each preserve that true and everlasting John Marshall Spirit.

'Twas in the year of '26 (a year we'll not forget)
That everyone looked down on us (even those we'd never met)
You wonder why? You'll soon find out—
It was just because we were Freshmen, no doubt.
But when the next year rolled around, we found that we had grown,
And instead of what we'd been, we were suddenly our own.
You wonder why? It's very clear.
We were Sophomores then, my dear.
And now there's come another year. (My, how these years do fly)
Our feet were on the earth, of course, but our heads were in the sky.
You wonder why? You do? You do?
Why don't you see? Then we'll be through!
I was asked to write our History, and all our happenings
But if you'll look, why you will see that I haven't done those things.
You wonder why? Why don't you see?
We haven't made any History!
Class of January 1931

We entered John Marshall High School in January 1927. At first the High School routine seemed rather strange to us, but it was not very long before we became accustomed to it. Soon, however, freshman day came around and such a time as we had! As usual we had to play goat and entertain the assembly. The first thing we had to do was to sing a song. Then several of our number gave speeches, followed by a beauty contest among the boys. My! but we were glad when that day was over. The term passed quickly and we soon found ourselves enjoying summer vacation.

In the second half of our freshman year we had a Halloween party which was a great success. But the term passed quickly, too, and we were enjoying the titles of Sophomores.

During the first half of our Sophomore year we enjoyed peace and quiet as nothing exciting happened.

In the second half of our Sophomore year we gave a party and dance which proved to be a great success because all the members of the class cooperated. The only other exciting thing that happened was Christmas vacation, thanks to Christmas. Our Sophomore year was a pleasant one and we are hoping our Junior year will be as pleasant.

Class of June 1931

Listen to our tale, O Seniors
Tale of triumphs in John Marshall
Tale of joys
Tale of sorrows
Now an open book before you
Listen to our tale, O Freshmen
Lo this tale of noble Sophomores
How, as dumb and verdant Freshmen
To these stately halls we journeyed
Came to do our best for Marshall
Came to work and play in Marshall
Then to please the mighty Seniors
Gave a play to earn their praise
Lots of hokum 'bout some lentels
Lots of bunk 'bout Queen and Clown
Then we threw our Freshman party
Packed with pleasure, full of fun.
Listen, Juniors, while we tell you
How we've held our own as athletes
How we've been the best of students
Had our fun, yet not forgetting
Our real task down here at Marshall
You have heard us, fellow students
Heard our tale of deeds accomplished
Listen now and hear our promise
Hear us promise to be faithful
Promise to uphold traditions
We, the sophomores of John Marshall

R. N.
The debate on whether or not the students of John Marshall are original is settled. The class of January '32 hereby presents to Marshall the proof that the affirmative is correct.

Just one year ago we were wide eyed freshmen, barely restraining from sucking our thumbs as we walked about gazing with awe on those mighty Olympians, the Seniors. Now, behold ye! we speak of Seniors with familiarity and of Juniors with contempt. For we have attained Sophomoredom with honor. Numerous, indeed, were our trials and triumphs, too many to enumerate. But as an example take our Hallowe'en party. At the beginning we laughed. At the end we wept copious tears of pity for those who were missing it.

Then chronicle another victory to the credit of Jan. '32. Conceive, O ye swell headed Seniors, that an unusually small freshman class originated the idea of having tea dances to raise--er--the pecuniary medium wherewithal to purchase suits to outfit the baseball team. Consider further--this group not only originated the idea, but carried it through to a howling success.

Posterity, in the form of incoming freshmen, should read of these deeds and bow their heads with shame, for surely they can not do as well.

But during that year befell the happening which brought tears to the camp of the freshmen,-to wit: The departure of our class adviser, Mr. Mulder.

The stage is set, and enter—Mr. Kircher, well mounted and well armed, prepared to rescue the helpless, blushing class lost in the maze of the Marshall Forest of Knowledge. Tears were displaced by smiles as we welcome our deliverer.

Sufficient unto a class history shall be the truth thereof. Hence, ye boastful, braggart ones. We are for modesty and honesty, wherefore we solemnly affirm that we are the finest class John Marshall has ever produced,—and further—we dare any Senior to laugh.

THE history of our class is very, very brief.

On the first day of school, September 4, 1928, a group of boys and girls entered the doors of John Marshall High School. One could tell by our shy glances cast to the left and right that we were freshmen in strange surroundings.

After a few minutes that seemed like years, we located our proper home-rooms, and under the careful guidance of our home-room teachers we soon became acquainted with the rules and regulations of our new school.

At the first meeting of the Freshman term class Mrs. Hanley and Mr. Conroy were appointed our class advisers. At that same meeting the election of officers took place and the following students were elected to represent our class; President, Charles Ellis; Vice-President Glenn Moore; Secretary, Dorothy Harness; Treasurer, Alexandria Perry.

After five weeks of extremely hard work both day and night, we received our marks from our respective subjects. Our home-room teachers put our marks on record and nothing more was thought of the matter. The first issue of the "Jo Mar," however, told us some very startling news. We, the freshmen were at the head of the list in scholarship.

We find that all our efforts are rewarded at John Marshall and at examination time we all did our level best to "get through." Most of us succeeded and are now taking our first year final subjects.

Even if we are freshmen, everything has not been hard work. We have learned to rejoice over the victories of our athletic team and almost weep over our defeats. In other words we have caught the Spirit of John Marshall and we never want to lose it.
THE goal of everyone in the class that is now the Freshman class here, was "John Marshall" as they entered the 8A at No. 41 school. Every Thursday afternoon a class meeting was held which George DeVissar presided over as president; Barbara Pryor as Secretary; and Howard Gibbons as treasurer. With the help of the officers the class meetings were a great success. At these meetings the thought of high school was always kept in mind.

After the first few meetings, the subject of a bazaar was brought up. Finally plans were made to have a bazaar on December 7, 1928. Each class had a booth at this bazaar and the 8A's proceeds were about thirty-five dollars. With this money and some more that we had made by selling candy and by having moving pictures, we found that we had enough to leave a nice present to the school as a class gift. The results of these earnings were a large bust of Charles Lindberg and the late President Wilson.

Finally the day of graduation arrived—the day that would either brighten or darken our countenance.

In the evening a banquet was given us and at this event we learned that our class was the first class in many terms to have every pupil receive a "Certificate of Graduation."

We all were frightened of the first day at John Marshall but after the hearty welcome we received on Monday morning we all feel at home at John Marshall.

JOHN MARSHALL was challenged to issue a fine school paper! It accepted the challenge and the result is—the Jo-Mar. Of course all big things must have small beginnings and the Jo-Mar was no exception.

However, experience has taught the staff most thoroughly how to make each issue of the paper better and more interesting than the last.

Criticisms were accepted and these, no doubt, helped in developing "It" to the Jo-Mar of today.

The best argument in favor of the Jo-Mar is that it represents Marshall and acts as a medium in which students may express their opinions. That alone should warrant its good qualities. This paper gives amateur writers opportunities to see their work in print, which perhaps may encourage one of literary ability who is rather bashful in reference to his work.

So it is agreed that the Jo-Mar is steadily improving in every way and with the support of every true Marshallite, will some day be a vital part of John Marshall itself.

MEMBERS of John Marshall's Literary Club feel that they have made much progress along literary lines within the past year. Not only have works of world-renowned authors been discussed at meetings, but also those lighter ones of our own authors, all under the able guardianship of the faculty adviser, Miss Richardson. There is much ability in this group and this, we hope, will someday disclose itself fully developed.

Miss Kathryn Miller, president of the U. of R. Scribblers Club, and Miss Eleanor Slater, a young poet of this city, have been present, and have led interesting discussions in which the whole group participated.

Earnest R. Clark recently spoke in an assembly, under this Club's auspices. Mr. Clark was very well received.

These are but the "high spots" in the "Lit" Club's most recent achievements. Let us hope it continues to progress with the support of the school!

THE Hi-Y this year was the most active organization it has ever been. For the first time the club had a man from our school faculty as advisor and Mr. Mathewson can be proud of the work which the club did under his tutelage. The officers for the year were: President, Thomas Creighton; Vice-President, Edward Lockwood; Secretary, Nunzio Pilarosca; Treasurer, Donald Fischer. Under their regime a new form of government was tried and proved very successful. This type of rule was to have the Executive Council, a group of seven members elected at the start of the year, responsible for all work instead of appointing individual committees for each project. It is hoped that the interest will hold over till the group meets for its 1929-1930 season.

Tri-Y

OFFICERS

JEAN GORBAM, President
CHARLOTTE SCHAUTZ, Vice-President

ETHEL GRIFFIN, Secretary
LUCILLE STONE, Treasurer

Last October the Tri-Y was formed at John Marshall. This organization is a high school club connected with the Y.W.C.A. Supper meetings are held every second Monday at the Y.W.C.A., where, after a business meeting some kind of social event usually takes place.

The Tri-Y was organized by senior girls but during the second term of school many Juniors were taken into the membership. The club is open to Juniors and Seniors and at present numbers 30 members.

During the year several joint meetings have been held with the Hi-Y, the different organizations entertaining each other in turn.

At Thanksgiving and Christmas the Tri-Y furnished holiday dinners for needy families.

Among the outstanding events of the year have been a toboggan party, a banquet in honor of the new members, and the play, a product of the joint efforts of the Tri-Y and Hi-Y.

Band and Orchestra

We are very proud to say that both orchestra and band are growing. We have had an increase of fifteen in orchestra and five or six in our band.

Last May we had our annual concert. We are very glad to say it was a big success, for the auditorium was filled to its capacity. Now we are making plans for another concert this May.

During the past year our orchestra has gone to Jefferson High School and other schools to play for their assemblies.

At a St. Patrick's assembly, March 12; the orchestra played a few Irish selections from an Irish Overture by Witt. The selections were received with great enthusiasm by all.

The orchestra tried to do its part by playing for the senior play on Friday, March 15th and Saturday, March 16th.

Our band has played at many of our assemblies also. The band is now playing Jolly Robbers by Suppe, Echos from the Metropolitan; this is a selection made up from the gems of the Operas, and Ballet music from Faust Gounod.

We feel sure that much more work would be accomplished if Donald Morton would try to arrive on time in orchestra at least once, and the same with Ralph Beecher in band. All members are wondering why Ralph forgets his instrument on band days.

The members feel that their efforts are not in vain because the student body as a whole has helped each individual feel that without the orchestra or band in assembly on assembly day, everything would surely be a failure.

Glee Club

LAST semester the Glee Club met after school on Wednesdays and it was doing fine work. This semester, however, it meets seventh period in a mixed glee club class and this allows the members to do some fine four-part singing. We are doing some heavy work and some very light. The club hopes to appear before the school and in the Civic May Festival.

Senior Play

The production of "The Youngest" by the Senior Class of 1929, under the direction of Mrs. Lura Hanley, was a milestone in dramatic achievement at John Marshall. The following cast presented the play:

- Charlotte Winslow
- Oliver Winslow
- Mark Winslow
- Martha Winslow
- Alan Martin
- Augusta Winslow Martin
- Nancy Blake
- Richard Winslow
- Katie

- Dorothy Truesdale
- Walter Byrne
- Wilbur Howard
- Charlotte Schautz
- Clifford Stevenson
- Jean Ancona
- Norma Lambert
- Francis Ballard
- Helen Michaelis

The work of Marjorie Reichart, Paul Lange, and Elwyn Van Houten in executive capacities contributed in no small measure to the success of the production.

Two other plays were produced under Mrs. Houlihan's direction, "Nerves," an aviation play, and "Eether or Eyther."

At the Easter Assembly "Mistress Mary's Garden" was presented by Mrs. Hanley, assisted by Mrs. Brown, Miss Alvord and Elizabeth Knapp.
The Escaped Convict
or What Have You?

THE other day I boarded a street car at about six o'clock. I had seen some pictures of myself so I was in a rather dreamy, the necessary mood for what was to come.

After tricking the conductor into believing that I was a mere infant of eleven years, eleven months and thirty days, I managed to get a seat. I was rather tired so I welcomed this opportunity of resting. I was just going to close my eyes for a good, old-fashioned sleep, when, by some intricate process of mental telepathy, I was aware that someone was staring at me intently.

When I looked up rather startled, I saw a woman across the aisle scowling at me. The moment I saw her I felt sure that she had been created for the express purpose of being one of the horrible witches in "Macbeth." I must confess that I was quite frightened, being on the verge of sleep, to see such a strange person.

To describe her in detail—she was wearing a severely tailored coat, buttoned tightly in a military manner at her throat; her hat was one of those queer contrivances of modern modistes that cannot be described; the corners of her mouth were turned down so far that I doubt if she could even manage more than a diabolical grin at the utmost; her eyes were deep-set, critical, stern and disapproving; all that need be said of her nose is that it was a second edition of Cyrano's.

Being, as I have said, in a dreamy mood, it took no time for my imagination to start to work. The first and most outstanding impression was that she was a man in disguise. Was she an escaped convict? Was the purpose of her hat to conceal a shaved head? My duty as a citizeness of the United States urged me to rush to the conductor and to tell him of my convictions. However her eyes held me to my seat, fascinated.

There was a little boy of about four sitting next to me. Apparently he had a cough because he coughed almost incessantly. However when my friend of the wicked eye stared at him, the child stopped immediately but soon started again, this time to whimper. Personally I didn't blame him. I wanted to give vent to my feelings also but for a person of my advanced years it was impossible. I had to repress my lamentations.

On second thought I decided that I was really dreaming and that this was the "Reign of Terror." This woman was probably a nobleman escaping. I gathered this because of the haughty air with which she or he glanced at two girls who sat next to—shall we say it. This seemed to prove to me that it disapproved of the common people and that it felt far superior to anyone on the street car.

Suddenly the conductor awoke me from my weighty meditations by calling, rather thoughtlessly I thought, the name of my street. As I got off the car I thought of all the things I might have imagined about it if the heartless conductor had only given me time. For instance it my have been a minister on a vacation trying to be bad, bold bandit (the "te" is to express the feminine gender). It might have been the Shoe-Lace Queen from—well almost any small town would do. It might even have been the manager of a wild and wooly ranch in an even wilder and woolier west.

Well as I have said, my imagination might have thought of a thousand and one things if that conductor had not interrupted it. However my opinion of conductors has never been very high.

Modern Punishment

A song of the good old days of yore,
Before the U.S. entered the War,
Is sung by my Dad in a spirit of fun,
And this the way the words do run;—
"Readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic,
Taught to the tune of a hickory stick,
You were my queen in calico,
I was your bashful barefoot beau."
How times have changed you may see by this song,
And you must admit that I'm not far wrong
When I say the day of the stick is done
As is the calico and barefoot son,
But now our punishment is most as bad—
Eighth period for laxity is now to be had.
The words of admonishment are hard to bear
"Eighth period for you" is what we hear.
"Now don't do this, and you'd better do that
Or in 111 your bound to be sat."
Now the teachers must know they get our goats
When, instead of donning our hats and coats,
We must go to learn poetry, or study our French,
And think of our punishment, on a hard wood bench.

WHEN we, (the freshmen,) first saw Marshall Castle we decided that it was well protected from all invaders because of the "keep off the grass," signs. When we entered we were ushered into the headquarters of Elmer De Bois Snyder where we were registered by Sir Burt, a scientific knight of the Knight and Ladies of the Faculty.

When we reentered the stately halls of the castle we were razzed by the Sophomore Freedmen, looked down upon by the Junior dukes, and altogether snubbed by the Senior knights and nobles, much to our discomfort. We were next sent to our home-rooms where we were commanded to fill out our schedules or we would find instant death at the point of a fountain pen. Our teachers, who were all knights and ladies of the Faculty, were nice but strict and we were often threatened with the dungeon of the eighth period, (room 111).

We soon found out that the lofty tower was the music room, which was high up and away from civilization so that the sound that came from there would not sound as vivid as they actually were. The lunch room was of Saxon origin as the knights and ladies of the faculty sat at the upper end and the people of lower rank sat wherever they could find a seat.

Along the hall were the lockers where the armor and clothing of the inhabitants of the castle were kept, and at the end of the hall was the Tournament Room or Hall of Battle where the champions of the blue and orange held their battles.

We hope that when we graduate four years from now (possibly) we will all be honorable knights and ladies of John Marshall Castle and each one of us will have an "M" the symbol of John Marshall, on the front of our armor.

Pleasant Dreams

At night even the slightest noise seems magnified and echoed ten times. The honk of an auto or the bark of a dog sounds close at hand at night, when in the daytime it would be swallowed into that maelstrom known as the "Voice of the City."

We live on a street which has very little traffic in the daytime, but which is at night a favorable spot for parking. These joy-seekers have the annoying habit of suddenly starting their cars and thus awakening me out of a sound sleep by the blare of a horn. Otherwise they are perfectly harmless. Visitors from out of town might not gain a wholly favorable impression of this otherwise (?) perfect city by the sight of so many red lights, but it is the fault of those who run the movie houses and dance halls. One cannot find a place to have a friendly little petting party except in the city parks. At least so one would judge.

There is a young man living next door who almost invariably slams the garage door at ten-thirty and whistles from there to the house. Whether to keep up his courage in the dark or not, I don't know. This same young man is also a fairly reliable calendar, believe it or not. In the spring he whistles "Little Gypsy Sweetheart," in the summer "Moonlight and Roses," in the fall "The World is waiting for the Sunrise," and in the winter "Hark the Herald Angels Sing." He has followed that program for two years now, and I am wondering how much longer he will follow it.

I used to always believe that the milkman came at an ungodly hour in the morning; around 4 or 5 o'clock, I believe was my impression, (of course excepting the winter months when he comes in the morning). Yet I did not once come home with the milkman until last fall, and that night he must have made a mistake. I got home around twelve and just as I was getting into bed I heard him rattling the bottles around.

Clocks too at night seem to strike so much louder. The grandfathers' clock on the landing, strikes every quarter hour. The ships clock on the mantelpiece above the fireplace strikes every half hour. Anyone who is not accustomed to counting time by bells instead of by hours would surely be confused to hear the ships clock strike one bell for twelve-thirty and the grandfathers' clock chime eight notes.

I have found one sure way to put myself to sleep, and it has nothing to do with sheep either. I pretend that I am either on the boat or on a train. I can almost hear the lap of the water against the sides of the ship, or on a train, the roar of the engine and the slight swaying of the cars.

Another distraction which seems to do its best to disturb my beauty sleep is the radiator. The cold seems to affect the poor thing like it would a rheumatic old man, and it rumbles and makes queer grunting noises. I regularly forget to turn the heat off and that may have something to do with its malady. It sometimes sputters and leaks, forming a nice puddle on the floor in which I invariably step when I get up in the morning to close the windows.

And oh yes, there are cats, and cats, and cats in our neighborhood. These miserable beasts caterwaul and yowl and nearly drive me to distraction. I would throw a shoe or something at them, but I could never come within ten feet of them. These wretches, I mean the cats, wake up all the dogs in miles and set them to barking. They keep this up for several hours sometimes, if the cats have not been hit in the meantime.

All in all I manage very nicely, thank you. I am hoping for a nice "beebe" gun for Christmas. But it is really not so bad as it sounds; I have become quite hardened to it by this time.

AFTER a rather mediocre start the soccer team of 1928 settled down and won five straight games to take third place in the Interscholastic Soccer league. Under our new coach, "Barney" Farnan, pre-season dope had the eleven headed for the championship. After winning the first game the team faltered and tied two and lost one of the next three. Another victory and a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo for two more wins put a little confidence into the team.

According to comparative scores West High was supposed to give us a trouncing on our field, but the Orange and Blue of Marshall took the game as easily as they had won the previous three. The only defeat for West High in two years!

An innovation, in the form of Tea Dances before the games, was a success financially and numerically. Although the team didn't win the championship the season was considered a success.

Letters were awarded to Raab, Parker, Clark, Creighton, Groth, Young, T. White, Vernarelli, Lucia, Lockwood, Wright, Pilaroscia and Cramer, Manager. Although the first six men listed will be missing next season, as will Coach Farnan, the remaining ones with plenty of reserve will form a strong team.
Reserve Soccer

THE reserve soccer team, although its league season was not as successful as it might have been, deserves credit for the way in which it stuck to its task all season. After all, the main reason for a second team is to provide men for the first team in case of emergency and to give the varsity hard workouts when they play each other. The reserves of 1928 did both of these jobs well and no matter how much out classed they were they always fought back with all that was in them. There was a great deal of interest in the past time last season, so much in fact that it was necessary to form two reserve teams in order to keep all men playing. With such enthusiasm as that carried over into the 1929 season and with the second team all back in school the outlook for the year is anything but dull.

R. Y.
Basketball

WITHOUT a doubt, our basketball season was the most successful a Marshall quintet has ever had. Not only from the standpoint of games won and lost was it a success, but also from the point of student attendance, financial results and out of town trips which included games at Brockport, Dansville, Victor, Lima and Leroy.

With Mr. Friel back to coach our team again and with Young, Clark, Lockwood, McGrath, and Parker, all veterans from last year, back we were fortunate in being able to floor a veteran team. Our team started its season with victories over Darrow and School of Commerce, but their winning streak was snapped by the Marshall Collegians after a hard fought game. Later we avenged this defeat by the collegians with two decisive victories over them. In our first league game we were forced to bow in defeat to Monroe, but we decisively trounced them on their own court, later in the season.

Our schedule this year was the hardest and longest ever played by a Marshall five. It included games with the strongest high school quints in the city and in the neighboring towns. Nevertheless, despite these hard games we won 19 out of 26, finishing in a tie for second in the interscholastic leagues and in the city league.

Our team was composed of Captain Dick Young, Clark, Kuppinger, Russell, O'Neill, Lockwood, McGrath and Parker with Mr. Friel as coach.

THE Marshall baseball team had a successful season during 1928 but it was nothing exceptional or extraordinary. Victories were won over Monroe High, Technical High, Canandaigua, Honeoye Falls, School of Commerce, and the Dewey Ave. Businessmen. Games were lost to East High, West High and the University Freshmen, Marshall tied Charlotte in the most spectacular game of the season. The game lasted twelve innings and was called on account of darkness.

Tom Creighton, left fielder, succeeded in obtaining a batting average of 430, which was the highest average among the Marshall Players. Barney Soehner, Pud Parker, Captain James McGrath, Gordon Steinfeldt, Jim O’Neill, Tom Creighton and Joe Tonkin were the main cogs that made up the team. Robert Harris was manager of the team.

Baseball

R. H.
Hockey in its second year at Marshall was a decided success. Early in the fall a call was made and a very large number of boys turned out. We secured the old boiler room and constructed two rinks. We had a few practices and then played our first game in Buffalo against Nichols Prep, losing 7-0.

We then played Tech, winning 21-1, and 2-1 at Widewaters, and defeated West 2-1 on the same rink.

On Washington's Birthday, we journeyed to Skaneateles and played the high school there and were defeated 6-1.

Hockey is a new sport in Rochester, so we consider our team the best in Rochester even if we did lose our two out of town games.

Players were, Bennett, Warder, Aponte, Maxwell, A. Flemming, R. Flemming, Purchase, Dukat. Mr. Mathewson as coach, deserves a great share of the credit for the team's success.

Marshall's 1928 Tennis Team was probably the strongest team that ever represented the school, even though it was handicapped through lack of practice. We ended the season in third place.

The featuring matches were with Tech High which was an easy walk away for Marshall, and with West High which the team won after a hard fight and should be highly commended for the fine spirit displayed throughout the game.

Wertz, our first man, represented Marshall in the New York State sectional meet and was defeated only in the Northwestern district finals.

Swimming

During its first year as an organized team of John Marshall High, swimming had a mediocre season, losing all of their three meets, but gaining experience which should prove valuable next year. The whole team composed of Juniors, who will be in school next year, is Raab, Lechner, Bissell, Rouse, Phaler, Harris, and L. White. The team was coached by Mr. Wilder and Mr. Coyer and made trips to Nichols Prep School, Buffalo and Manlius, Military School, Manlius.

The team made a better showing in the state sectional meet, than any previous team at Marshall, scoring eight points and sending Harold Raab to Colgate University, to participate in the State Championship meet.

A. M. '30

Track Team

Marshall's 1928 track team proved to be the best that ever represented our school.

Under the leadership of Captain Beverly Fogg, Manager Pilaroscia, and Coach Mathewson the team rapidly rounded into shape and easily took the Charlotte team into camp. Lima Wesleyan team was another victim. However, the team lost two hard meets to Monroe and Tech who had exceptionally strong teams.

Hoefler, Mercer, French, Fogg, Fleming, White and Robbins were the big point-getters. With such veterans as Robbins, White, Maxwell, Phaler, and Mercer around whom to build this year's team, prospects are unusually bright.

Our team also produced a sectional champion in "Al" Hoefler who tied for fourth place in the State Meet, in the high jump.

Soccer

Every Thursday afternoon on the school soccer field, the girls met to play soccer. So many girls came out for this sport, that it was necessary to organize four teams. At the end of the soccer season an Honorary Soccer Team was selected by Mrs. Brown.

This team played the Charlotte High School girls team at Charlotte. The Marshall girls were defeated, the score being 1-0. We invited them to play at Marshall. The game was scheduled but due to unfavorable weather it was postponed.

We hope that next fall we will be able to meet the Charlotte girls.

Basketball

LAST year there were no interscholastic games and this year it was decided to continue in the same manner. Basketball this year consists of two leagues; the first which plays on Thursday is the advanced league; the second league which is the beginners meets on Tuesday. About eighty girls come out for Basketball each week and they all enjoy it very much. At the beginning of the season home rooms played against each other. Home room 102, the senior home room, won the championship.

Later interclass teams were formed. The seniors are going to have a hard time this year to retain the championship as the juniors have a very good team, and the second week of the tournament defeated the seniors. The first team this year consists of Ruth Mix and Helen Michaelis, forwards; Hope Heur, center; Winifred Donohue, side center; Frances Jones and Alice Maijgren, guards. The substitutes are Mary Higgins, Helen Woehr, Dorothy Effing, Helen Paine, Ruth Legg, Betty Rife and Marion Knight. The school is anticipating with much interest the coming game between the women of the faculty and the captains team, which consists of the captain of each class team. At the close of the Basketball season last year Mrs. Brown planned a Basketball Banquet for all the girls, including those who did not participate in basketball, and their home room teachers. A good time was had by all and we are planning one for this season, and hope to accommodate a large crowd, and have as much enjoyment as we had last time.

FOR the first time in the history of John Marshall a girls' Skating Club was organized as soon as the ice was suitable for skating.

Horseback Riding

EVERY Saturday morning a class of ten or more girls rides at the Culver Road Armory. An officer, from the Armory, instructs them in posting, seat in the saddle, holding the reins, and mounting and dismounting. Mrs. Lay has charge of the class which numbers about ten regular riders: Ruth Stevenson, Elsa Vanderhoff, Mary Burroughs, Catherine Mann, Mrs. Yorke, Caroline McCall, Rita Gionfranceschi, Ruth Campbell, Grace Storandt and Helen Stevenson.

Swimming

In September '28 Mrs. Brown issued the call for swimmers, those who knew how or thought they did, and those who could only go in up to their ankles.

With the coming of the new term we welcomed several new girls into our midst. We feel sure that under Mrs. Benson's capable leadership and Mrs. Brown's cheerful supervision we shall be full-fledged swimmers by June, just in time for the Summer's fun.

Dancing

A dancing class for girls is held every Monday after school under the direction of Miss Newman and Elizabeth Knapp. The girls are taught different kinds of dancing but they are specializing in clogging.

Some of the girls entertained the students in the assembly. Ruth Yockel, Dorothy Schutte, and Jessie Horn danced an Irish jig. Marian Roda, Jean Quinn, Grace Eve, Ruth Yockel, Elizabeth Servass, and Allene Hoestery danced a clog routine.

Hiking

ON Friday a group of enthusiastic girls relieved of scholastic trials make tracks toward the wide open spaces provided that the weather man has no serious objections.

A new club has been organized which is called the "Wantonoit Club." This is not merely a club of hikers but also of naturalists. This is a national organization and to belong a girl must be able to name and point out 200 natural objects. It seems very easy to find fifty and one hundred objects but after that the objects become scarce and difficult to find. The girls have enjoyed these little outings into the country and to the parks and we hope that more of you will join us during the next season.

Girl's Gymnasium Meet

MAY 8, 1929 was the date of the first annual gymnasium meet for girls. The meet was a competitive demonstration between senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman teams. The class team earning the highest number of points was awarded the silver trophy cup for one year. This cup is kept in the trophy case in the hall of the school. The individual girls placing first in each event were awarded blue ribbons, and the girls placing second were awarded red ribbons.

It was a dark night at Aldershot, and in the gloom could be heard the sound of an approaching horse.

"Halt! Who goes there?" barked the picket.

"Regimental commander."

"Dismount, sir, and advance to be recognized."

The colonel dismounted and came over to the picket who presented arms with a snap.

"Proceed, sir!" he said.

As he laboriously got back on his horse, the colonel asked: "By the way, who posted you there?"

"Oh, nobody, sir," replied the picket. "I'm just practicing."

Answers

Bob: Whatcha been doing?

Art: Taking part in a guessing contest.

Bob: I thought you had an exam in Math.

Art: I did.

Walt: Here's my manuscript which I offered you a year ago.

Editor: But I refused it a year ago, what's the use of bringing it back now?

Walt: Well, you have had a year's experience since then.

Advice to Seniors: Don't think you're bargains because you're half off.

Mrs. Flanders (in civics class)

Do you know that we import eggs from China?

Elton: What, China eggs?

Miss Mayo: Use the Latin word "crimen" in a sentence.

Bob: "You're the crimen my coffee."

Mrs. Houlihan: William, please do not close that window.

Bill: It'll be your loss if I catch pneumonia.

Miss Paine: What may a congressman be punished for?

Cleve: Felony, treason and breach of promise.
CAESAR

The legions having found a ford, the cavalry having approached, the baggage being impeded, Caesar having a lot of Gaul, etc. the cavalry landed on the Belgae and had the situation well in hand before you could say Jupiter Pluvius. Thank thank heaven for the ponies.

CICERO

How long will you allow this jazz-mad youth to mock the consuls including me? I’m wise to you, sweet Catiline. Where were you this morning? Who was that lady—I seen you with last night? O tempora, O mores which means what’s the time you morons. Skip the parts in italics boys, you’re young yet.

VIRGIL

There was a lofty crag on the shore with head of living rock, and a heavy swell running up and down the beach, so we anchored and streached our brine-drenched weary limbs on the sand. Boy, was we soused. You can go to hell very easily, and what’s more I found it very interesting. I met all the people worth knowing there.

Barney: Who was it then?

In History Class

Mrs. Flanders, reviewing Presidents.
“Does any one know Cleveland’s dates?”
Pupil: Ask Ruth Mix.

Sister: What does your postcard say?
Brother: This is the mountain from which the ancients used to throw their defective children. Wish you were here.

Dad

Mr. Wilder: Who discovered America?
Freshman: Ohio, sir.
Mr. Wilder: You’re crazy. It was Columbus.
Frosh: I didn’t think it necessary to mention the gentleman’s first name, sir.

Barney: Let’s see, have we had any class meeting since the last one?

Wins All-American Contest as Best College Annual

The Lucky Bag is the Annual of the Regiment of Midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. The June 1928 book won the All-American contest sponsored by The Scholastic Editor as the best College Annual of the year. The vote of the following committee was unanimous:

Mr. Lewis M. Pryor of The Pryor Press
Mr. John P. Paulson of College Humor
Mr. Edward G. Johnson of J. M. Bundscho, Inc.

We quote from their letters:

"The very high quality of the Lucky Bag was achieved by having craftsmen of real ability to do the work. We, at the Pryor Press, have been very close to the school field for many years through our school poster service. From time to time we have noticed many annuals and often we have gritted our teeth at the poor printing sometimes displayed. The color work, composition, make ready—and everything else concerning the printing of the Lucky Bag—left little to be desired. Please accept the compliments of this company for your very good work."—Lewis M. Pryor.

"The 1928 Lucky Bag which won the prize as the best College Annual in America, won that prize because it was most excellently printed and planned. Our art director, Mr. Tom Burroughs and myself, went over some of these Annuals and in our estimation the Lucky Bag was the best all around Annual we had seen printed for some years. The cover was attractive, the printing was well done, and there was an excellent use of color—just the right amount. In our estimation it was a perfect engraving and printing job. You certainly ought to be congratulated for printing this Annual and also I notice that you have printed other Lucky Bags which have won prizes."—John P. Paulson.

"There never was any doubt in mind as to the position of the Lucky Bag. It was far superior in most every manner to the other books submitted. In fact, it was a treat to go through it, and note its genuine thought and careful workmanship. It stuck out against the field so that it was not a difficult pick."—Edward G. Johnson.

The DuBois Press shares this honor with the Bureau of Engraving of Minneapolis which designed and engraved the Lucky Bag and the J. F. Tapley Company of Long Island City, the binders.

In fairness to all concerned The DuBois Press feels that Midshipman Ralph K. James, the Editor, should have major recognition. His masterful work in heading up a versatile staff was outstanding. He practically created the ideas around which the book was designed and built.
