CLASS HISTORY

Our arrival at John Marshall was uneventful to anyone but ourselves. But soon the then mighty Seniors took notice of us. We early established reputations for ourselves as scholars and athletes. We also became prominent socially, holding renowned theater parties, candy sales, and dances. Members of our class were the first to receive school awards under the new award system.

Believing that being late is a form of etiquette practiced by the greatest social celebrities, we delayed our Junior Prom until our Senior year. This was one of the highlights of our high school career; the other being the talent displayed in the first mystery play ever to be presented at Marshall, the thrilling, nerve-racking, highly entertaining "Cat o' Nine Tails."

On Senior Day, the traditional dignity of the Seniors was cast aside as we frolicked joyously at the Marigold and afterward at a theatre party.

A good time was had by all until graduation when the best of friends had to part.

CLASS PROPHECY

M. Dieu presents "Life," a tragi-comedy that has been running for years in the biggest cities and smallest towns all over the world. Here is romance that will transport you into realms of delight. Drama with a world-sweep, colossal, sublime. Thrills that grip every fibre of your being; you will shake with laughs one moment, and with sobs the next. Watch the big stars live in "Life." You'll love with them, hate with them, curse with them, laugh with them and weep with them. An all-star cast—the members of the class of January 1930. Here they are as they appear in "Life," the greatest drama ever staged.

CAST

Harold Robbins, Satirist and Critic; Earnest Lucitte, Confetti Salesman; Peggy Dusenberry, "Dumb Waitress"; Lois Baratt, Mrs. Thompson White; Ralph Beecher, Auctioneer; Helen Lockman, Eileen Finnigan, Juanita Border, Co-stars in latest version of "The Three Musketeers"; Eleanor Gibson, Colonel's Lady; Nunzio Pilaroscia, Dancing Teacher; Beatrice LaNier, Big Game Hunter; Phyllis Campbell, Piano Tuner; James O'Neil, Chief of Police; Dorothy Mountcastle, Leader of a gang of desperadoes; Dorothy Sanford, Chief Lieutenant of the gang; Guy Cady, Gentleman of the Cloth; Douglas Post, Tobacco Dealer; Hugh Bastian, Book Agent; Arthur Marsielje, Barber; Harold Smith, Farmer; Marian Wood, Detective; Betty Rife, Child Actress—"Little Eva" her greatest success; Irene Verhurst, Parisienne Modiste; Jane Riddell, Aviatrix; Edna Burnham, Ornithologist; Mildred Patterson, Cartoonist; Frances Wellington, Collector of rare handkerchiefs; Dorothy Benham, Leading Woman Surgeon in U. S.; Tina Bauda, Advocate of free verse; Sadie Cramer, Owner of Cramer Chain Drug Co.; Charles Ashton, Motion Picture Director; Beverly Fogg, Secretary and Companion to Prince of Wales; Lloyd Smith, Haberdasher (specializing in derbys).

Portions of scenes taken from "Life."

I. Scene—(Drizzly November twilight at the station in Biggsville.)

Colonel's Lady (to the three Musketeers)—My dears, I was caught in the rain on that lonely road, when the car stalled, no less, and this kind Mr. Smith brought me here in his buggy.

Farmer Smith—Wal naow, twan't nothin' atall. Glad tew dew it.

Athos, nee Lockman—Oh, my!

Porthos, nee Finnigan—What.

Aramus, nee Borer—Luck!

[Of a sudden, a shot is heard in the growing dusk. A desperate band of desperadoes striving to make a quick getaway has been stopped in mid-flight. The sharp little tacks placed on the station platform by zealous Detective Wood have found a resting place in the tires of the desperadoes' Ford. The Chief of the gang, D. Mountcastle, and her trusty Chief Lieutenant, D. Sanford, with quick presence of mind hold our friends up.]

Colonel's Lady—Ohhh! I'm going to faint!

Athos nee Lockman—Oh, catch her!

Porthos nee Finnigan—She's going

Aramus nee Borer—to faint!

2. Scene—Interior of the Quick-Shave Barber Shop, New York City.

[As a rather short man enters carrying a suitcase, Mr. Marsielje, the barber, is in the process of giving a shave and a haircut to whom we would recognize as the distinguished Dr. Robbins if we could see him under the white lather.]

Mr. Lucitti—Er, excuse me, gentlemen, but could I interest you in buying some confetti? Perhaps you are going to a wedding, or you might like to take some home to the children?

WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of January 1930, being absolutely sound of mind and body, and realizing the great loss John Marshall must needs sustain on losing us, her fairest offspring, do make and publish this last will and testament, hoping thereby to offer some consolation to the faculty and student body by the bequests herein named, hereby revoking any former wills made by us at any time:

First: To some lucky class we leave Mrs. Baker who has been our inspiration and patient guide through four long years of high school life.

Second: Arthur Marsielje leaves his ability as a ham actor to any one who feels he could use it.

Third: To the incoming Freshman Class we bequeath the Tuesday afternoon concerts. May they survive them!

Fourth: The girls of the class cheerfully leave any hairpins or hobby pins lost during the process of "letting their hair grow" to any other girls engaged in the same process.

Fifth: Guy Cady leaves a small portion of his gentlemanly conduct and quiet demeanor to Donald Barron. (We realize he wouldn't know what to do with all of it.)

Sixth: Harold Smith and Nunzio Pilaroscia, after safely graduating, will leave Miss Paine a sense of relief. No longer will she need gently to admonish and threaten with 8th period the two who jabbered so consistently in Civics.

Seventh: To the faculty we leave new-found happiness on having us off their hands.

Eighth: We leave to the Junior Class the difficult task of filling our places and of keeping our high standard in scholarship, athletics, and activities. We hope (with great anxiety and doubt, however) that they will perform this duty with becoming seriousness.

We appoint Mr. Elmer W. Snyder executor of this our last Will and Testament.

In witness whereof we have subscribed our names on January 1, 1930.

CLASS HISTORY

In the year 1926 A.D. we entered the "spacious" halls of the "new" John Marshall High School. We were not so meek and humble as freshmen should be as the school was a novelty to everyone. Nevertheless we were soon put in our place! But for every freshman who is so humiliated there is always one consolation—someday he will be a sophomore. The year rolled by and September 1927 found us sophomores. This year our number was greatly increased when the class from Jefferson arrived.

Do you wonder that our class has produced so many athletes? Just think of the miles we have walked (and often run) right here in school to and from classes. Many were the times when we were late to class because we were obliged to dash from the gym on Lake Avenue to French class on Dewey Avenue.

All the inter-class and inter-homeroom sports, such as soccer, baseball, basketball and tennis etc. enjoyed the enthusiastic support of the boys and girls alike. Many of the girls have won the reward for perseverance and achievement in athletics namely, the Major M. Last year as juniors the girls' basketball team captured the school championship. The boys of our class have formed the backbone of many of our school teams and have helped to place the school on the map in city athletics.

We have also delved deeply into the wells of knowledge and not without reward. We will never forget how much credit is due our teachers for their unfailing interest and tireless efforts.

Do you remember the "Cat-O'-Nine-Tails" our Senior play, or rather will you ever forget it? It caused many a chill to run up and down the spine and aroused many a terrified scream. It was a success, without a doubt.

Although we did not sponsor a Junior Prom we have enjoyed ourselves immensely at other small class parties.

And now as our high school life draws to a close we are reluctant to say good-bye. It is but fitting to pause and look over this chapter in our Book of Life. We have been very happy and have always been treated fairly. We realize that our hard work was not done in vain, and that the training we have received here will help us to more confidently face the future.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of June 1930 of John Marshall High School, City of Rochester, County of Monroe, State of New York, and United States of America, believing we are of fairly sound mind and reason, do hereby publish and declare this our last Will and Testament, as follows:

First—We order that all debts incurred during our high school career be paid.

Second—We leave our helpful advisers, Miss Margaret Lamb and Mr. Borden Booth, to the class of 1940 believing that they will have recovered by that time from mental torture and anguish which we unjustly inflicted.

Third—We leave our vacated seats in the Assembly to those desiring such.

Fourth—Mary Church leaves her vocal ability to Dorothy Fitzgerald.

Fifth—We request that Miss O'Reilley be given a peaceful homeroom. May she never have another class like ours.

Sixth—We leave our old books and notes to those boys and girls pursuing in our footsteps. Handle with care!

Seventh—Many thanks to the janitorial and lunch room staffs who have made life more pleasant.

Eighth—We dedicate the notebooks with the "ne'er stay in" clasps to Mr. Wilder in the hope that he can make better use of them.

Ninth—All the leaky lockers are left to the janitor for an obvious reason.

Tenth—We bequeath Frances Jones' athletic ability to Sylvia Bach.

We appoint the JO-MAR Staff executor of our desires.

In witness whereof, we subscribe our names and seal.

CLASS PROPHECY

JUNE 1930

In the spring of the year 1930 the giant motorless airplane, controlled by radio and invented by Robert Wilcox, was launched at Thomas Doucette's airport near New York City. Joseph Cramer was captain and associate owner. There were many notables there for the event: Mayor John Bissell of New York, with his personal secretary, Robert Fleming; the noted author, Ernest Aponte; Charles Gillan, a great scientist and inventor; prima donna Norma Latosky; the renowned tight rope walker, Cora Curtis (she sings her own accompaniment) with Betty Hall, violinist and Mary Church, elocutionist; and Ellamae Ross, a famous lecturer on "School Work." Professor Irving Rouse was there for a few minutes but he had to leave to teach his botany class. Gladys Peterson, Marion Knight, Virginia Pearson, Frances Jones, and Agnes Low expressed their regret at not being able to attend but they had a pressing engagement with Frederick Kern and Sherwood Quick, managers of a large theater who were booking them for vaudeville. Fred had told them the day before that Norman Willsey was writing short subjects for a newspaper and Claude Tuckey was just appointed new guardian at Auburn prison.

After about half an hours delay, waiting for Marcia Milne, who planned to do sketches on the trip, and Dorothea Yust, who had gone back to get some readings she had promised to give us, we started off. Inside the ship we found more old friends—Ann Finnegan, who thought she would take the trip before starting her new dancing class; Virginia Lyon, an authoress; Beryl Brahm, a doctor; Ruth Brewer, an artist; Robert Harris, a lawyer; Lorne Bennett, a photographer; William Becker and Tom Gorham, undertakers; and Ruth Dutcher, an auto-saleswoman.

When we went on an inspection tour of the ship we saw Roy Bibby, head mechanic; Robert Frear, chef; Clinton Benhlman, and Edward Lockwood, engineers; Helen Rhodes, Marjorie Parks, and Esther Whitman, hostesses; Helen Heckel, Mary VanDyne, Helen Wigg and Louise Stephens, our waitresses; and Rose Darcy and Wilhelmina VanTassel, superintendents of all the work.

Anna Lipsky, Bernadette Murphy, Irene Lewis, and Dorothy Meyn told us they were mannequins. Irene had heard that Elizabeth Servoss and Gertrude Reitz were getting along well with their missionary work in India and that Philip Porcari had discovered traces of pre-historic man there. Ruth Silcox, skilled pianist, and her orchestra composed of Marjorie Seely, violinist, Gertrude Jones, saxophone player, and Olga Troughton, soloist, furnished the travelers with music. Allene Hoesterey did a specialty dance number from her new show and Nelson Weighill and Leo Sawyko sang several of their new songs.

We stopped in Paris for about an hour—just long enough to hear Eleanor Doell's new opera, and to see Bina Decker, Ruth Cerquone, Ruth Smalley, Emice Hawley and Geraldine Harrington, ladies of leisure, on their way to an all-American tennis match between Harold Garnham, world tennis champion, and Robert Hadley. Harold Raab and Robert Turner played a short match before the big game. Bina informed us that she had seen Ruth Carroll and Gertrude Hoepfl a few days before at their flower shop on Rue de la Paix, and received a letter from Bernice Taylor, who was principal of a girls' school in England. Bernice had told her that Ardagh Paget and Gladys Frederick were teachers there. Marion Cardiff and Jane Bromley had been in Paris for several months studying conditions of the poor.

THE COMING STORM

The sighing winds so soft and low
Breathe out their tale of earthly woe
And pine trees with their measured sway
Seem to regret the passing day.

As gathering shades of night impart
Fear to each timid quiv'ring heart
The dying day in falling leaves
A chastened earth which gently grieves.

The last faint gleam of graying light
Now fades into the gloom of night
While o'er the lea in mad array
The gods of storm leap up . . . away.

THE NATIONAL HONOR FRATERNITY

In April 1930, the nine-hundred-thirty-first chapter of the National Honor Fraternity was organized at John Marshall High. This fraternity corresponds in the high school to Phi Beta Kappa in the college or university. Election to the fraternity is based on scholarship. Also the character, service, and leadership of the candidate are considered. Members are elected from the IV-2, IV-1, and III-2 classes, and must be of the first fourth of their classes to be eligible.

The names of the members of the John Marshall chapter of the National Honor Fraternity follow: IV-2, Irving Rouse, Joseph Cramer, Robert Harris, Bernice Taylor, Gertrude Jones, Ruth Carroll, Leo Sawyko, Dorothea Yust, Agnes Low, Marjorie Seely, Gertrude Hoepfl, Alice Majjgren, Frances Jones, and Sherwood Quick.

IV-1, Charles Miller, Evelyn Anderson, Walter Phaler, and Caroline McCall,

III-1, Ruth Nadel, Betsy Pryor, Gertrude Wilmot, and Jean Quinn.

Our class entered upon its high school career in January, 1927. We were soon made to feel at home in our new surroundings and settled down industriously to our Freshman year during which we held a gay Hallowe'en party at the school. This year passed very quickly and it was not long before we found that we were Sophomores.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year we were joined by a large group of boys and girls from Jefferson who were welcomed to our ranks. The year passed uneventful except for a party and dance which was held with great success.

During our Junior year we succeeded in placing some of our boys on the various school teams. Our third year passed very quickly and we are now looking forward to another year—our last which we hope will be the finest and best of all.

It is the year 25,000. At least, it is in our little drammer. The scene opens with the Honorable Percival Z. Beerandpretzel, the noted archeologist, poking among some broken bottles, decrepit erasers, chalk, etc. His face is grave. His monocle falls out but he does not notice it. We realize that he is looking for something.

His face lights up. He reaches down and draws out a paper. He scrutinizes it closely. It is what he has been looking for. It is the History of the Junior Class of 1931 of John Marshall.

The next time we see Percy, he is standing before a roomful of men. His chest is covered with medals. He is reading a paper:

"... We were no dumber than the usual Freshmen. No one could be.

Our successes in the dramatic line were startling. In our Freshman year we gave a play which was greatly enjoyed by the Seniors. Our Junior play, The Patsy, carried off the dramatic honors of the year. We held our own both in scholarship and athletics . . ."

The Honorable Percy stops reading and speaks, "Great Class!"

January, 1932 views with alarm—pardon me—points with pride to its record during its sojourn in Marshall. The activities of previous years have been tediously recorded elsewhere. How can we tell anything new about ourselves? Are we not already famed in song and story?

Nevertheless, I must proceed. Marshall has some of the best athletic teams in the city. But would those teams be as good if there were no enterprising members of the 111-1 class on them? We emphatically deny such a possibility, let the jeers fall where they may.

In the social world we hold our own. Outstanding events were two Hallowe'en parties. We held, during our Freshman year, a Hallowe'en party which was a howling success (we mean that literally). We held, during our Sophomore year, another Hallowe'en party which was a—Oh, whatever the most superlative adjective there is applicable to enjoyable parties.

Our scholastic achievements—er—well, maybe we shouldn't have mentioned it. We pause to dry our glycerine tears.

But now we are Juniors. Oh, we shall—will—settle down and work. We shall—will—be serious, superlatively so. No more childish stunts, no more “losing” homework, no more making teachers become grey-haired. (Pst, Algernon, please pass me a rubber band to shoot paper wads. And let's have a stick of Wrigley's gum.)

CLASS OF JUNE, 1932

GLEN MOORE	President

We entered John Marshall on September 4, 1928, a band of happy-go-lucky Freshmen. Our cheery greetings to the upper classmen were generally snubbed. We consoled ourselves, however, with the knowledge that under the new ruling, we would not be initiated by our Seniors. Soon becoming accustomed to the set regime we began to look forward to assemblies as eagerly as the other Marshallites. We arrived at the assembly doors one day only to discover that we as Freshmen were to be allowed to sit on the bleachers on the platform and be admired (?) by the upper classmen.

At the end of the first month the unprecedented happened. We lowly Freshmen headed the list in scholarship.

When our Sophomore year began, our class adviser announced in the Jo-Mar that the class would continue to be as active as they had been in the past. This statement was only fully appreciated by the class itself which had been dead as far as class activities went.

We held a successful masquerade Hallowe'en party during the first Sophomore term. Now as Sophomore-finals we have staged another successful party. This time it was the wearin' o' green in a St. Patrick's Day party.

With our confidence established by our various activities the class looks forward to the approaching Junior year. Here's to an active and progressive Junior year!

We entered John Marshall January, 1929 with the idea that we were "grown up" because we were in high school; but we soon changed that idea. At the end of the first day here we were made to understand that we were just lowly freshmen and cursers to school and the Universe. Of course, this was not the real spirit; it was explained to us that "razzing" was just an old Spanish custom and we were really welcome here. After a few weeks we felt entirely at home in John Marshall and we were fully accustomed to the daily routine. The teachers were not the growling bears that we expected them to be; they were very human and actually knew how to laugh.

In the first term the girls made a good showing in athletics by placing third and overscoring the Sophomores in the girl's indoor gym meet. The boys played the 1-2 class in baseball a few times but usually were defeated.

The September term was rather uneventful although the Freshman Basketball team played, won, and lost some very interesting games. Mr. Coyer gave us permission to sell candy at the Soccer and Basketball games and we made about fifteen dollars.

January, 1930 brought a great many Sophomores from Jefferson. Those who had been at Marshall during the preceding year did their best to make the newcomers at home.

The first meeting of the class of June 1933 was held in the assembly hall, with Mr. Clippinger, our class adviser in charge. At the close of the election our new president was called upon for a speech. He spoke about the great things our class was to accomplish in the future.

So far, the Freshman class has been fairly high in scholarship, and as good in athletics; and while we haven't startled the school with our brilliance, we hope we are living up to the standards and ideals of John Marshall.

Upon entering high school life we had an entirely different view of our coming education in Marshall than we had pictured in our thoughts. Our class consisted namely of pupils from Forty and Forty-one Schools. Some, of course, were disappointed when they first arrived but they soon overcame that feeling and now speak of Marshall with unexcelled praise.

To our intense satisfaction, Miss Jane Mutschler and Mr. Daniel Houseman were chosen as our class advisors.

We have not had any social gatherings as yet but expect to in the near future.

We are continuing high school with higher ideals which may be successful with the co-operation and good will of every class member.

HOME ROOM REPRESENTATIVES

In each home room at John Marshall one girl or boy, as the case may be, is appointed to take charge of campaigns conducted during the school year. In the fall the home room representatives have charge of the membership campaign of the Students' Association. At other times during the year they sell tickets, literary magazines, and Jo-Mars. At the time of the campaign for the Polaris, our Senior Annual, the home room representatives again show their school spirit.

The Literary Club which meets every two weeks is composed of juniors and seniors; the juniors who are interested in literary work being eligible now. Many fields of literature are covered including essays, novels, short stories, drama, and poetry. The members are endeavoring to become acquainted with the different authors and their works; especially with the contemporary writers.

On some occasions, the members become writers themselves, and hold an Author's Night. Everyone writes an article, any subject or kind of literature he wishes, which is read and discussed. In this way they learn what a really big proposition it is to write, and in what line their talents lie.

All juniors or seniors who feel they would enjoy this work are invited to the Thursday evening meetings held in homes of the respective members.

Under the guidance of Tom White and Harry Campbell, presidents, the club enjoyed many joint meetings with Tri-Y, held two dances and had the pleasure of hearing several speakers at their supper meetings.

Mr. Hubert Coyer of the John Marshall faculty was club adviser with Everett Gardner of the Y.M.C.A. staff also in an advisory capacity.

The Tri-Y of John Marshall has had a very eventful year. Outstanding among its activities was a surprise shower given in November, in honor of our adviser, Mrs. George Mason. At Christmas time the Tri-Y gave a dance with the Hi-Y. Later the girls had a roller skating party. Also there was held a banquet for the new members. At a joint meeting of the Tri-Y and Hi-Y at the Y. W. C. A., several of the girls presented an amusing play.

The Tri-Y sent two representatives to the Y. W. C. A. conference held at Buffalo recently. This conference proved to be a great success.

During the year the Tri-Y and Hi-Y held several joint meetings, each club entertaining the other in its turn.

During the past semesters, both orchestra and band received much commendation for their performances. We are proud to say that although having achieved much success we are not high-hat, as yet, and are still on the upward trend. We hope to break all records of previous years.

Last May and the year before we did our part by giving a concert in our auditorium. The organizations planned a like concert this May and achieved a bigger success than ever.

Although both orchestra and band are small organizations, the student body as a whole, will agree with the musicians that they certainly deserve much more praise than some larger organization.

Under the efficient guidance of their director, Mr. Keith, the members feel that their honest and sincere work is not in vain.

Here is hoping all good work is kept up.

GLEE CLUB AND CHORUS

During the past year an Acappella chorus has been formed under the direction of O. Mathew Lyders, who came to us in September. This chorus has made remarkable progress and has appeared several times in assemblies and has been very well received.

There have also been organized under Mr. Lyder's tutelage a Girl's Chorus and a Mixed Chorus.

Sunday evening, March 2, the Glee Club sang at the Lake Avenue Baptist Church on one of the series of Annual High School Glee Club programs. This program was much enjoyed and the Glee Club, as well as the other musical organizations, is to be congratulated on its work.

SENIOR PLAY

The Senior Classes of January and June, 1930, presented a mystery, "Cat o' Nine Tails," December 6 and 7. The cast included Mr. Gordon, Robert Wilcox; Mrs. Gordon, Eleanor Gibson; Jimmie Gordon, Ralph Beecher; Betty Webber, Norma LaTosky; Jacob Webber, Harold Smith; Miss Smith, Jane Bromley; Fox, Clinton Buehlman; Henry, Arthur Marsielje; Theodora, Mary Church; Bridget, Margaret Dusenberry; Peggy, Betty Rife.

The play opened in the living room of the "Gordon Lodge" near the Canadian line in Maine . . . the clock struck twelve, the zero hour for ghosts and such like. Act Two—same setting—next night—and the villain appeared. Act Three—an underground room of the lodge, a few minutes later—and the mystery was solved.

JUNIOR PLAY

On April 11, the Junior Class play, "The Patsy," a three-act comedy by Barry Connors, was presented under the direction of Mrs. Bryant Hanley.

Kathryn Kehr played the part of Patsy Harrington. The parts of Mr. and Mrs. Harrington were taken by Gerard Purchase and Gladys Ward, respectively. Others in the cast were Grace Harrington, Katherine Hayes; Sadie Buchanan, Jean Quinn; Billy Caldwell, Edwin Renner; Tony Anderson, Donald Southworth.

"The Patsy" presented the eternal triangle with Grace's lovers furnishing the romantic element. Of course, everything turned out all right as true love does, or is supposed to.

BASKETBALL 1929-30

The past basketball season was one intermingled with both success and failure. The team, with only two veterans, started off with a bang. Lockwood, all city guard, had been elected captain and had only Walt Russell from the year before upon whom to depend; however, Coach Friel assisted by Mr. Coyer, developed the new material into a capable combination.

The team took its first game against the Collegiates by the close score of 31-27. After this they won six more starts in a row until they met their match at Batavia and succumbed to the town team by the score 29-19. Another non-league loss followed to the School of Commerce but the team recovered sufficiently to defeat East High 11-9 on the Orient's court. It was the first time a Rochester team had been victorious over East High in four years and it was some game. After two more wins a losing streak was again encountered, this time four games including two league tussles with Monroe and West. After this Tech was beaten and then they entered into the second East game, with a win needed to tie for the Championship. They defeated East High on our own Court by the score of 26-16.

When the season thus ended in a tie for first place it was expected that there would be a play-off. But after letters were exchanged between the principals of East and Marshall and a meeting of all the Rochester principals was held, it was decided that there was to be no play-off but that John Marshall was to be Rochester's representative in the sectional tournament.

In the preliminary round of the tournament Marshall reached the heights of its season, defeating Corning, the tourney favorites 18-16. But due to a technical violation Marshall was forced to forfeit the game so admirably won.

Besides Lockwood and Russell the members of the team were Steinfeldt, Vernarelli, Dunneagan, Kinsella, Mountain, and Manager Cramer.

T H E P O L A R I S

SOCCER, 1929

John Marshall's 1929 soccer team under the leadership of Coach Coyer, Captain Raab, and Manager Reddick enjoyed without doubt the most successful season ever gone through by a Marshall team. The highlights of the season were the West-Marshall game for the championship of the league, and games with Syracuse and Cornell University Freshmen teams.

Starting out with an impressive win over a strong alumni team, the Marshallites went through the scholastic schedule with five wins, one tie, and one loss. At the close of the season Marshall found itself tied for first place with West High. In the playoff for the championship, Marshall lost a tough game. This was the first defeat suffered by a Marshall team on the home field in three years. Besides the league visitors the Marshallites garnered wins over the Syracuse University Freshmen and Nickols Prep School Buffalo of Buffalo. The final record for the season was 8 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. The losses were suffered at the hands of West High, Monroe High, and Cornell Freshmen.

The regulars on the team who won major recognition were Bennett, goalie; Stienfeldt, fullback; Christman, halfback; Turner, fullback; Hoefler, fullback; L. White, halfback; Raab, halfback; Purchase, forward; Vernerelli, forward; Pilaroscia, forward; Lockwood, forward; and Maxwell, forward. This season marked the passing from Marshall Soccer history of the veterans Bennett, Stienfeldt, Raab, Vernerelli, Pilaroscia, and Lockwood. The loss of these veterans will be keenly felt, although, there is plenty of rescue material on hand with which to rebuild.

BASEBALL 1929

The Marshall Baseball Team had a comparatively successful season last year. It had the highest batting average of all the teams in the league but dropped three close games to West, East, and Monroe. In the East game Marshall got eleven hits to East High's four, yet Marshall lost 4-3. Many veterans were back for the 1929 season.

Batting averages were seconded during the season and those who headed the list were: McGrath, Captain Creighton, Lockwood, and Russell.

Trips were taken to Lima and Canandaigua. Marshall lost to Genesee Wesleyan, at Lima 7-6, in eleven innings and then won from Canandaigua High 21-1. Overwhelming victories were won over Tech, Charlotte, and Irondequoit.

Members of the team were as follows: Creighton, Lockwood, Russell, Pilaroscia, McGrath, O'Neil, Bennett, Fischer, Lowden, DeWitt, and Williams. Robert Harris was manager of the team.

T H E P O L A R I S

SKATING

Our skating hopes this year were blasted in the combined interscholastic and sectional meets. In spite of the able coaching of "Bobby" McLean, former world's champion skater, Mr. Coyer and Claude Tuckey, the team was only able to place third, thus losing the perpetual cup. Lack of veteran material and lack of practice were the handicaps.

HOCKEY

The Hockey Team enjoyed a very successful season. There was only one slight mar on its record, this being a scoreless tie with West High. Only five games were played, due to the inconsistent winter season. Games included those with East, West, Monroe High Schools, and Charlotte. The team regretted that no outside games were played.

Undoubtedly this year's team was the smoothest working sextette that has ever represented this school. Being led by Coach Tuckey and Captain Bennett, the team surely displayed a fine example of the kind of teamwork that should predominate in all team sports.

NINETEEN - THIRTY

OTHER SPORTS

T H E P O L A R I S

CROSS COUNTRY

Under the leadership of Coach Jenkins and Manager Parker Marshall's Cross Country team turned in a fine record of three victories and one loss. Their victories coming at the expense of Charlotte and Bergen, whom they met twice. Prospects for next year's team are very bright because none of the runners will leave by graduation. Point leaders were Wilson and Worboys.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

When the first call was issued for basketball, a large number responded. Coach Soehner tried out several basketball combinations to find out one that would properly represent the school in the reserve schedule. The season's summary is four games won and five lost. Some of the players proved themselves capable of being on Marshall's future first teams.

TRACK

Marshall's track team had an unsatisfactory season, losing every meet. Meets were held with West High, East Rochester, Monroe, U. of R. Freshmen, East High, Lima, and Tech High.

Tech High, the runner-up to West High for the city championship, defeated Marshall by only one point.

The team was coached by Franklin Mathewson, and managed by Irving Rouse.

BOXING

Boxing has been kept alive by many enthusiastic Marshallites with coaching by William Hogan. Four captains were picked to head the teams of the separate classes. These are, Salvator Isabella, Edward Hoefler, William Leckner, and Victor Tanney. The big tournament, which was held March 20, was won by the Sophomores. Mr. Hogan, Manager David Clement, and team captains, have helped greatly in bringing boxing to the fore.

FROSH BASKETBALL

Our newly organized Freshman team did not finish a very successful basketball season. Charles Loth, coach, and Jack Hellaby, manager, worked with the new material to find a winning quint. The team succumbed to the smooth working outfits of East, West, and Tech high schools. Two games were won with Charlotte and Scout Troop No. 12.

GOLF

The golf team practised this year under the excellent coaching of William Hogan, a professional golfer. The team made great strides over all previous teams, placing second in the city match.

Golfers were David Harris, Raymond Marlin, John Trenaman, and Daniel Caudle.

SOCCKER

There were no inter-school games in Soccer this year. The girls did not play with Charlotte, as they hoped to, but a great deal of fun was had on the soccer field. The girls seem to get a bigger kick out of soccer than ever before.

There have been comparatively few calamities considering the enthusiasm shown in the scramble for the ball. A large crowd have shown up each week, and four teams were organized with "extras" on each team.

At the end of the season an Honor Team was chosen, consisting of Marian Knight, Helen Woehr, Agnes Jones, Florence Rosenberg, Betty Rife, Agnes Low, Ruth Yockel, Bette Wagner and Frances Jones.

HIKING

An odd assortment of sweaters, jackets, and caps may be seen each Friday at 2:20. You're right—the hiking club is about to start on its weekly journey.

This group, organized under the leadership of Miss Beatrice Poulton has had many a long tramp out the Ridge Road, half way to Charlotte, to Brewer's Dock, and many other distant spots.

At the end of the hiking season a house party is held for those who have not been absent more than three times during the year.

NINETEEN - THIRTY

BASKETBALL

"Basketball with no baskets." Who could imagine such a thing? Yet this was the situation facing the basketball fans of John Marshall. When the baskets did come there was great rejoicing among all who intended to participate.

Since their erection, basketball has proceeded briskly. The advanced girls played on Tuesday and Wednesday, and the beginners on Thursday. Class teams were organized under the leadership of Miss Foster, our new "gym" teacher. Many hard battles were fought, and the tournament was won by the IV-2 class, composed of Marian Knight, Gladys Peterson, Helen Woehr, Rose Darcy, Bernice Taylor, and Frances Jones. This is the second consecutive year that the championship has been held by the June '30 Class.

The girls of the different schools in Rochester held a "Play-Day" at Madison High, March 21, at which Marshall was represented by thirty girls. The girls of the different schools were divided into teams, five games being played at one time.

A very important game occurred a short time ago as everyone will remember. The faculty team composed of Caro FitzSimons, Jane Mutschler, Doris Foster, Margaret Abrahamer, Alice Cleary, Margaret Thurston, and Agnes Peterson played against the Senior girls. It was a very remarkable and funny game, and many spectators think that the downfall of the faculty was due to the various costumes which hampered their playing. We are sorry to say that the girls' team won the game with a score of 30 to 12. The game was refereed by Martha Morgan.

HORSEBACK RIDING

This year horseback riding has been the finest ever. There were 24 girls registered in the advanced group, and 23 beginners. A great interest has been shown by all those participating in this sport, and especially in the advanced group.

SWIMMING

Eighty girls signed up in September, and although the number decreased to a certain extent a large number of girls were always ready to go in swimming and diving.

On Wednesday there are three groups; the "sharks," who swim at the deep end of the pool and try their luck on the diving board; the "goldfish," who swim a little but cannot dive; and the "minnows," who are the beginners are taught floating and swimming from the first stages on. Friday is given over to special instruction in Life Saving. Mrs. Benson, as last year, was the instructor in swimming and Marian Knight, the manager.

DANCING

The dancing club which meets on Monday has progressed very rapidly under the fine instruction given by Miss Elizabeth Knapp, a former Marshall student. About 60 girls participate in this activity. They are taught mainly tap dancing. There are three classes for the dancers; the advanced class, the intermediate class and the beginning class.

Some of the girls from this class went to Iola just before the Christmas vacation and helped to entertain there. They were Dorothy Schutte, Ruth Yockel, Katherine Kehr, Hilda Holtz, Leora Young, Katherine Mortimer, Virginia Hutchins, Alice Donahue, and Virginia Karnes.

TENNIS

The tennis season opened successfully under the able supervision of Miss Richardson. As there was such a rush for the Kodak courts a system was developed, whereby, if a girl played two hours outside of school she received credit for it. This method has given the beginners a better opportunity to receive instruction.

There were no tournaments to allow the girls to show their ability and skill as they did last year, but they enjoyed themselves, and we know they are just as proficient as in past years.

BASEBALL

Each year the baseball season is very successful, due to the fact that every girl has some knowledge of the sport, and that there is a great deal of interest. This was especially true of the season of 1929.

In good weather there was a large group out on the baseball field. The regular days for the sport were Tuesday and Thursday. There were several exciting games during the season, and much cheering when a girl made a home run.

At the close of the year a team was chosen to be known as the "Honor Baseball Team." For 1929, this team was made up of Madeline Buckley, Winifred Donahue, Dorothy Eling, Agnes Jones, Frances Jones, Marian Knight, Betty Rife, Florence Rosenberg, and Ruth Yockel.

OUR STATISTICAL DEPARTMENT ISSUES ITS ANNUAL REPORT

After several weeks of concentrated work and study our corps of statisticians had completed the necessary research work and is now ready to issue its annual report. Many interesting facts formerly unknown to the students at large are now revealed.

Nine hundred and ninety-five per cent (9.95%) of the Students' Association uses Pepsodent toothpaste. (Influence of Amos and Andy.)

The estimated amount of ink wasted during exams is six and nine-tenths (6.9) gallons.

There were thirty-four (34) members of the January graduating class.

Defois Siegfried wears shoes size eleven (11).

Mr. Tennity reports that this year's contents of pencil sharpeners exceeds last year's by eighty-nine (89) pounds.

"Chuck" Gillan is the only boy in the first period French III-2 class. Oh, yes, he enjoys it!

All the men faculty but two insure themselves against no sox appeal by wearing . . . ?

Certain January graduates have used up at least three (3) horsepower of energy in winding their graduation wrist watches.

Approximately one (1) cubic inch of shoe leather is worn out on a hike by each hiker in the Hiking Club (if they go far enough).

The reason for the enthusiasm over horsebacking is that the girls hope in that way to get in good standing and then Mrs. Lay has started the fad of riding off and on. A chance for the horse laugh.

John Marshall pupils have established a record for broken windows.

If one can go by pictures Gordon Steinfeldt was quite angelic at the age of six. There are fifty-seven (57) varieties of red hair within this building.

TENNIS

Although handicapped by the loss of several players through graduation, the tennis team, with the able coaching of Mr. Loth enjoyed a successful season last spring.

The team took part in the "Round Robin" tournament under the auspices of the Maplewood "Y" courts while matches with outside teams were played at the Kodak courts.

Walt Byrne was captain, Art Marsielje, manager, and Don Southworth, assistant manager.

2nd RESERVE BASKETBALL

The second reserve basketball team of 1929-1930 organized to practice with the first and reserve teams, had a very successful season, winning from the strong Jefferson Junior High quint, from Grace Methodist, and from the first reserve team. Borden Booth, coach, turned out a smooth working combination.

SWIMMING

The swimming team, under the coaching of Cleveland Grinnell, a former Marshallite, has completed a fair season. In the inter-scholastic swimming meet only one Marshall swimmer placed, that one being Irving Rouse who finished fourth in the breast-stroke race.

A heavy swimming program was planned by Mr. Coyer. It consisted of beginner and advanced swimming classes, life-saving and general swimming.

OLD LADY TO NEWSBOY—"You don't chew tobacco do you?"

NEWSIE—"Sorry, but I kin give you a cigarette."

MISS ROBERTS—"What does 'voleur' mean?"

P. P.—"Bird."

MISS R.—"What?"

P. P.—"That is—er—jail bird."

STEINFELDT (passing the candy to a sweet young thing)—"Sweets for the sweet, you know."

S. Y. T.—"Oh, thank you; may I pass you the nuts?"

ABIE—"Mine little boy is sick this evening."

FRIEND—"Is he?"

ABIE—"No, Ikey."

D. Y.—"Let me take your Virgil, will you?"

C. T.—"Sure, but why all the formality?"

D. Y.—"I couldn't find it."

MR. LOTR—"What supports the sun in the sky?"

DOUGLAS POST—"Its beams, of course."

"I can't remember the name of the car I want, but I think it starts with T."

"Madam, all our cars start with gasoline."

MISS O'REILLY—"What can you tell me about nitrates?"

JERRY HARRINGTON—"Well—er—they're a lot cheaper than day rates."

M. MILNE—"Will you call me a taxi, please?"

C. GILLAN—"All right. You're a taxi."

MISS LAMB—"An anonymous person is one who does not wish to be known—who's that laughing in the class?"

ELEANOR DOELL—"An anonymous person, teacher."

"Help your wife," says a domestic expert. "When she mops up the floor, mop up the floor with her."

"What is the most outstanding contribution that chemistry has given to the world?"

"Blondes."

"That is a skyscraper," announced the guide.

OLD LADY—"Oh, my! I'd love to see it work."

Mr. Ashton (to his friend, Mr. Fogg)—Yes, Miss Rife is a rare find. She plays child parts better than Mary Pickford. I must sign her up for Paramount. And say, Bev, I wish you'd speak to the Prince of Wales again about entering the movies. I'm sure you have a lot of influence with him.

Mr. Fogg—No use, old top. He simply doesn't like the idea. Say, this tea is almost as good as we have in England.

Mr. Ashton (as a tall, prosperous-looking gentleman enters)—Well, if it isn't Smith! The man with the derby! How are you, anyway?

Lloyd Smith—Fine and dandy! By the way have you seen the Evening Sun? Miss Patterson, the woman cartoonist, has an interesting cartoon of Reverend Cady in it. She'll make a mark for herself if she doesn't get the ill-will of such prominent gentlemen. Say, waiter, this tea is terrible.

Peggy (with a toss of her head)—Well, if you don't like it, you can lump it. There's the sugar!

4. Scene—Breakfast porch of the Thompson White's summer home where a house party is in progress.

Miss Wellington (delicately smothering a yawn with a Costa Rican handkerchief)—Oh, I wish I were a man! It must be wonderful to smoke a pipe, Mr. Post.

Mrs. White—Good morning, Miss Lanier. Did you hunt lions in your dreams last night?

Mr. Bastian—Good morning. Is the lady of the house—

Phyllis Campbell—I don't know where the lady of the house is. I don't even know if there is one. I'm the piano tuner and I really answered the bell because the maid didn't and I couldn't work with that ringing going on.

Mr. Bastian (smilingly)—Well, perhaps I could interest you in—

Phyllis Campbell—Well, perhaps you could, but I doubt it.

[Slams door. He walks away, dejected, crosses street absent-mindedly, and is hit by a red automobile—several moments elapse.]

Chief O'Neill (to the crowd that has gathered)—My dear fellow citizens, I reiterate firmly that this young man only is culpable for this accident.

His name is musical, too, Beecher. It would fit in well. Then Jane Riddell. She's as great an aviator as Lindbergh was. When planning your Annual...

AS each new Staff undertakes the planning of a Year Book it is confronted with the same old problems which have perplexed the workers of previous years.

And yet, to each new Staff these planning and production problems are all new and ordinarily must be solved without the benefit of the experience of those who have solved the same problems in the past.

Much of this grief is avoided when the Staff works with The Du Bois Press. Out of our wealth of experience in building Year Books we have formulated certain well defined standards of procedure for the guidance of each new Staff.

To enjoy the full benefit of our Creative Service we recommend a preliminary conference between the members of the Staff and the Manager of our Year Book Department. This preliminary conference should be arranged at as early a date as possible and does not incur any obligation. . . . Our "idea" or planning department has created many out-standing and prize-winning Year Books. . . . May we be of service to you?
