NOTE.

The Publisher, has aimed to collect every thing, that is important to a community—and is encouraged with a hope, that, the DIRECTORY, will give general satisfaction. For a full and explicit account of Churches, Public Institutions, &c., I must refer to the excellent work published by Mr. Henry O'Reilly, entitled "Sketches of Rochester."

1838 - H - 1

EXPLANATION.

The small italic letters, n. s. e. w. standing for north, south, east, and west, are prefixed to the names of such streets as cross the Canal and Main, Buffalo, and State-streets. The small h. designates the house or residence, and the b. the place of boarding.

☞ Several names are omitted in consequence of people having taken up their residence in the city since the census was taken.
