ROCHESTER HOUSE DIRECTORY

AND

FAMILY ADDRESS BOOK.

Names of residents and business houses are arranged in numerical order upon their respective streets, those upon the right side of a street appearing first, followed by those upon the left side. When there are several families in one house, the families on the lower floor are given first, followed in regular order by the families upon the floors above. The streets are arranged in alphabetical order. On streets that are not numbered ciphers are used in place of a street number.

Business places are denoted by the street number printed in heavy faced figures.

When a person's place of business and residence are at the same place, it is indicated by the use both of heavy faced figures for the street number and of the abbreviation h. at the end of the line.

ABBREVIATIONS.—Al. alley; ave. avenue; b. boards; ct. court; e. east; fr. from; h. house; n. north or near; pl. place; r. residence in rear; r. place of business in rear; rd. road; s. south; sq. square; st. street; ter. terrace; w. west; wd. ward.

Refrigeration and Its Relationship to the Good Meal

The success of every Hotel and Restaurant Manager, as well as every Club Steward, depends materially upon capability for setting up a GOOD MEAL.

Whether meals are uniformly good depends in a large measure upon refrigeration methods. The ice box method cannot produce temperatures below a certain point and certain food materials requiring a lower temperature deteriorate in an ordinary ice box and the quality of the meals into which they enter is very unsatisfactory.

Right Refrigeration Methods the Remedy

And refrigeration methods to be right must be such as to enable the operator to secure, unfailingly, the varied temperatures which varied food materials require in order that they may find greatest favor with those to whom they are served.

The refrigeration story is a long one, and a serious one, and cannot be treated fully in the space at our disposal, but, the fact that we have saved others from 20% to 40% should prompt you to

Our engineers will gladly investigate your particular refrigeration problem and their recommendations will be backed by our guarantee.
