Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R.

Only all Rail Route to the Thousand Islands.

Stubborn Facts for the Consideration of St. Lawrence River Passengers.

The public is respectfully informed that by taking the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad to Clayton, (to which point solid trains are run from Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Suspension Bridge, Rochester and Charlotte) from four to twelve hours in time, and from ten to fifty miles in distance may be saved en route to St. Lawrence River points, the White Mountains, Sea-coast resorts of Maine and Canada. These solid trains carry elegant Vestibuled Coaches and new Vestibuled Buffet Drawing-room Cars; also Vestibuled Cafe Library and Smoking-room Cars on day trains, and new Vestibuled Sleeping Cars on night trains: they run direct to steamboat dock at Clayton, and make immediate connections with palace steamer "St. Lawrence," the queen of the fleet of seven steam boats running in connection with the R. W. & O. R. R., and the largest, swiftest, costliest and the most comfortable boat on the St. Lawrence River, for Round Island, Thousand Island Park, Alexandria Bay, Westminster Park and all resorts among the Thousand Islands. The "St. Lawrence" is now equipped with a new and powerful electric search light, which dispels the darkness of night, making it clear and bright as noon-day. Electric light excursions have been arranged for every night during the summer. First-class meals are furnished on the steamer at price of 50 cents each. Connection is also made at steamboat dock at Clayton, without transfer, with powerful steamers of the Richelieu & Ontario Nav. Co. (Royal Mail Line Steamers) for Montreal, Quebec, the River Saguenay, and lower St. Lawrence, passing all the Thousand Islands and Rapids of the River St. Lawrence by daylight. We wish to emphasize the fact that the steamboats running in connection with the R. W. & O. R. R. are staunch, safe boats, built expressly for and adapted to the waters they navigate; that they are not old boats remodeled, nor boats brought from calm and smooth river waters, and therefore unfit for navigation on such a large body of water as Lake Ontario, liable to sudden and violent storms.

By taking the R. W. & O. R. R. to Clayton, the traveler avoids the unpleasant and monotonous trip over Lake Ontario, with its inevitable "mal de mer" when the lake is rough, and also the liability to delays and detentions when the lake steamers haul off from their regular trips and refuse to leave their moorings at Charlotte or Oswego, on account of squalls on the lake or tempestuous weather. The fast trains of the R. W. & O. R. R. run every day, unhindered by squalls or stormy weather, and passengers are always certain of making connections. These trains are run to Clayton expressly to avoid the lake trip and to enable tourists and pleasure seekers to enjoy among the Thousand Islands, the loveliest river resort in the world, the time thus gained, and which otherwise would be consumed in an uncertain and uninteresting lake passage.

The track has been relaid with steel rails, the road-bed newly ballasted with gravel and stone, and the train service has been argued and improved by the introduction of new, heavy and powerful locomotives, especially designed to haul heavy passenger trains at a high rate of speed.

In former years, before the construction of through rail lines to the River St. Lawrence, this business was compelled to go via lake ports, but the R. W. & O. R. R. realizing the great dissatisfaction occasioned by people being obliged to take the lake route, extended its rail line to Clayton, and established there the central point of the St. Lawrence River Steamboat System. Clayton at once became the great objective point for all travel destined to the St. Lawrence River, and the perfect train service, with its steamboat connections, maintained by the R. W. & O. R. R., meets the exacting requirements of all classes of travel. St. Lawrence River and Thousand Island passengers will find it to their interest and comfort to take the R. W. & O. R. R. at Niagara Falls, Suspension Bridge, Rochester or Charlotte.

Facts are Stubborn Things.

FACT 1st.—Gargling Oil is the oldest liniment in the market, having been first prepared in 1833 and continuously ever since. This is history.

FACT 2nd.—Gargling Oil is the best liniment in the market. An uninterrupted service of over half a century without claim or protest against its efficacy, but with thousands of endorsements in its favor, abundantly justifies this statement, based as it is on our guarantee.

FACT 3rd.—Gargling Oil is the safest liniment in the market. No case of injury or detriment has ever yet been reported from its external or internal use. This is an important requisite in a household article.

FACT 4th.—Gargling Oil is always prepared from the same formula that was first employed, and the difference, if any, is always in favor of its better condition and appearance, because of improved machinery and improved methods of purifying the materials entering into its composition. It is, therefore, undeviatingly accurate and efficacious.

FACT 5th.—Gargling Oil is always prepared under the personal supervision of the same responsible authority—the Secretary of the Company, which insures uniformity of appearance, effect and satisfaction.

FACT 6th.—Gargling Oil is always made strictly on honor. The purest and best materials alone enter into its composition, and an "off" quality or "poor" material is certain to be promptly rejected.

As a household remedy Gargling Oil has no equal. Although we do not claim wonders or miracles for it, we have thousands of testimonials settling forth some remarkable cures, and all such testimonials from reliable parties.

Try a bottle.

Extract from a letter from F. L. Davis, Delaware, O., Nov. 14, 1882.—Having used your Gargling Oil for sprains and bruises, I can cheerfully recommend it to my friends and the public at large.

Extract from a letter from G. W. Hagland, Port Jervis, N. Y.—A dollar bottle of your Gargling Oil cured my horse in three days of a badly sprained leg, being swollen to the hip, looking more like the leg of an elephant. I cheerfully recommend this reliable and excellent Oil.

Extract from a letter from Converse Ward, Athol, Mass., Feb. 25, 1882.—I have sold Merchant's Gargling Oil for years, and candidly recommend it as the best liniment in the market either for man or beast.

Extract from a letter from C. P. Craig, Cambridge, Md., March 6, 1882.—I sell a great deal of your Merchant's Gargling Oil upon the strength of my own knowledge of its virtues as a first-class liniment, having used it upon horses when farming in Illinois, where I first heard of it. I believe I was the first to introduce it in this section.

Extract from a letter from M. B. Ryan, Davison's Mill, Neb., Oct. 12, 1881.—I sell more of your Gargling Oil than I do of all the other liniments put together.

Extract from a letter from I. S. Town, Montpelier, Vt., Aug. 17, 1881.—The 11th of last January I fell from the steps of the postoffice in Montpelier, owing to their being covered with ice. I sustained such severe injuries to my right leg at the knee that I was laid up for about two months, when I was compelled to go on crutches. I used five bottles of other liniment without receiving any benefit, when I heard of Merchant's Gargling Oil, and the first bottle relieved me. I have used three bottles of the Oil and am comparatively well. I consider it a wonderful liniment.

CURES RINGBONE, SPAVINS, Etc., Etc.,

Buck Bruce, Winchester, Va. I am a horse trainer of 25 years' experience, and have yet to find a liniment equal to Merchant's GARGLING OIL.

Jos. E. Ashby, of Bliss, Va., assures us that he has employed GARGLING OIL for Ringbone with the most satisfactory results.

Garget and Swollen Udder and Caked Bag.

These are serious ailments and demand prompt attention. Gargling Oil is the remedy. First thoroughly sponge the bag and udder with water of mild temperature (about 75° to 80°) continuing it long enough to open pores. Then bathe them well with Gargling Oil. Do this twice a day.

Cures Garget in Cows.

Cures Roop in Poultry.

Will F. Wright, of Colsher & Wright, Breeders and Shippers of fancy poultry, Noblesville, Ind., says: After trying almost everything recommended for Chicken Cholera I tried your Gargling Oil, and after about five years' experience with it in my yards and several others I have found it to be a cure in most cases. It will break up the disease in a yard promptly. I know Gargling Oil cures Cholera.

A sheep having genuine Foot Rot never recovers without having thorough medical and surgical care. There is a disgusting smell about the foot-rot which is never present in "fouls," an enables the shepherd to distinguish the two instantly. Merchant's Gargling Oil Liniment is one of the best known remedies for this very common disease, having been used successfully in many cases.

Cures Footrot in Sheep.

Cures Mange in Dogs.
