Ridge Road, Maplewood Drive Plans Unveiled For Residents Of Area

Aroused residents of the Maplewood Drive area called on the State Engineers office for an explanation of what the consequences will be when the new Keeler Street expressway is extended across the river. They got the answer last Thursday at a meeting called by the Maplewood Neighborhood Association.

John Edinger, chief consulting engineer, told the group of about 100 who met in Ascension Church hall that Maplewood Drive will be connected to Ridge Rd. on both sides, but the pattern of traffic will be considerably changed. Maplewood Drive, south of Ridge Rd. will have access only to traffic lanes going east over Memorial Bridge. Maplewood Drive, north of Ridge Rd., will be an outlet for traffic off the bridge, but to get on the bridge from the north side, motorists will have to use the existing, but little used Park Rd. and then go under the bridge, using the ramp on Maplewood Drive on the south side to get up to the bridge level again and proceed eastward.

Net effect is a giant traffic circle at this point. It will involve elimination of about 80 trees, some ten of which, with deep tap roots, will be moved elsewhere in Maplewood Park.

The first phase of work on the bridge to support the cantilever road which will widen the bridge to eight lanes is now under way by the Higgins Construction Company which has the contract. It is concealed inside the bridge structure.

The Keeler Expressway, extending all the way from the new Irondequoit Bay Bridge, will dip under St. Paul St. following elimination of the troublesome traffic circle now leading to Memorial Bridge. This feature, accompanied by the Maplewood Drive reconstruction, is expected to alleviate the problems occasioned by the flow of traffic to and from the network of Kodak Park parking lots.

Changes in the traffic pattern at Lake and Ridge, if any, are not as yet on the planning boards. Speculation is that this is another five to ten years away.

Top Brass Honors First Ward GOP

Led by Lieut. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, all the "top brass" in the local Republican party turned out for the well attended First Ward Republican dinner dance last Wednesday. It was considered an unusual tribute to the First Warders whom State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Vincent Tofany referred to as "Hogan's Heroes", a compliment to the ward leader, John Hogan, and his committeemen.

Tofany acted as master of ceremonies and introduced a score or more of high ranking Republicans in the audience as well as the large group at the head table including County Manager Gordon Howe and county GOP leader Richard Rosenbaum. County legislators, city councilmen and judicial candidates were given individual and hearty welcomes by Tofany and by the lieutenant governor. Also coming in for praise were former First Ward executive committeeman Frank Philippone and his daughter, Theresa, present executive committeewoman.

Housing Task Force Seeks Support For Open Housing In Northwest

With its ad in this issue, the Northwest Housing Task Force, an ecumenical group in this area dedicated to "open housing for all while maintaining existing standards of the neighborhood", brings to completion its first project.

Consisting of 250 names of people who have pledged themselves to be good neighbors to people of any race, creed, or color, the ad is designed to make the Northwest Housing Task Force known and to indicate the considerable support that the idea of open housing has in this area.

Members of the Task Force, who have been pounding the pavement and ringing doorbells for several weeks, were heartened by the fact that, although many they spoke to expressed an unwillingness to let their names be used in an ad, almost without exception people were receptive to the idea of open housing, according to Thomas Shea, chairman.

As its second project, the Task Force, itself an outgrowth of the "Crisis in the Nation" seminars sponsored last spring by the Rochester Area Council of Churches, is offering another series of classes in race relations. This neighborhood seminar, made up of three meetings entitled "Race Relations - Past, Present and Future", will run Oct. 22, Oct. 29 and Nov. 5, beginning at 8 p.m. in the rectory hall of Sacred Heart Cathedral, 296 Flower City Pk. Additional information is available at 442-7939.

The next general meeting of the Northwest Housing Task Force, to which all in the area are invited, will take place Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. at Lake Ave. Baptist Church on Amrose St., just off Lake Ave.

Speaker To Discuss Social Security

A field representative of Social Security will be the featured speaker at the meeting of UNITE neighborhood association tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. The meeting is being held at the Charles Settlement House, Jay at Saxton St. and the public is invited.

John Vaccaro will be the speaker and he promises to discuss old and new benefits of Social Security and to answer questions.

Political Debates Start Next Week

A series of political debates will be presented on the last three Wednesdays of October at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, 2 Riverside St. at Lake Ave. The sponsor is the Northwest Ecumenical Ministry.

These will be noon hour meetings from 12 noon to 1 p.m. Box lunches with coffee or tea are available for $1.00.

On Wednesday, Oct. 16, State Senate candidates in the 51st district will be the speakers. These are James Powers, Gordon Howe II and Henry Vejo.

Representatives of the major political parties will discuss the platforms adopted by their conventions at the Oct. 23rd meeting and on the final Wednesday, Oct. 30, Congressional candidates will be highlighted.

Candidates Listed At 24th Dinner

The 21st annual dinner dance sponsored by the 24th Ward Republican organization at the Mapledale Party House is almost sold out, according to Michael Andolina, ward leader.

County legislator Joseph Esposto will act as toastmaster and will introduce the candidates and a number of other prominent Republicans.

The committee includes James Lescese, general chairman; Charles Albert, ticket co-chairman; Walt Dukelow and Martin LoBiondo, ad book chairmen; Emma Cervini and Nancy DiGiacco, decorations; James Zicari, booster tickets; Frank Casaceli, Mike Andolina, Cloe Albert, Robert Hoepfl, Bernard Hoepfl and Mary Vitale are the reception committee.

RED CROSS BLOOD QUIZ

DID YOU KNOW THAT. . . .
The Rochester Regional Red Cross Blood Program is the only known blood-collecting agency in the United States where need alone determines eligibility?

The blood needs of everyone who lives in the Rochester Region are met?

There is no charge for the blood itself?

There is no limit to the amount of blood you receive?

Because you reside in the Rochester region, you are eligible to receive blood anywhere in the United States or Canada?

Other areas are unable to meet their blood need through volunteers and must resort to a program where blood is bought and sold like any other commercial item? At a cost of at least $25.00 per pint plus another charge for services rendered, sometimes as much as $25.00 making a total of $50.00 for each pint received?

Besides the cost involved, there is also the danger that people who have "sold" their blood may have misrepresented their medical history or present physical condition because they needed the money, therefore, making this blood dangerous to the recipient?

If you have not joined the ranks of the "volunteer" now is the time to do it. Your bloodmobile will be at Sacred Heart Cathedral on Friday, Oct. 25, from 1 p.m. to 6:40 p.m. Call Mary Ann Riley for an appointment (254-3141). You'll be glad you did.

EXPRESSWAY DELAYED

The so-called Dutchtown Expressway is in trouble again due to lack of bidders on a second attempt by the State to let the contract for its completion. Latest reports are that a third try will be made, probably in November, to get contractors to bid. The estimated cost figure, which the contractors cannot exceed, has been raised to over $15 million.

Enrico Fermi School 17 Dedication Ceremonies Next Sunday Afternoon

The new No. 17 School, re-named for Enrico Fermi, will be formally dedicated in ceremonies next Sunday afternoon, Oct. 13, in the school auditorium known as the multi-purpose room. The public is invited to attend.

The program, starting at 2:30 will include a talk by Dr. Morton Kaplon, head of the physics department at the University of Rochester, and a dedicatory charge by Dr. Herman Goldberg, superintendent of schools. Mrs. Florence Whitaker, the school principal, will preside.

A marching band under the direction of Vincent Bruni will open the program followed by the pledge of allegiance led by the color guard of Brownies, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Msgr. Joseph Cirrincione will give the invocation and Rev. Theodore Schrader the benediction. Mayor Frank Lamb, Dr. Louis Cerulli, school board member, and Mrs. Diane Carroll, PTA president at No. 17, will bring greetings. Mich-also Roche, also a school board member, will unveil the name plaque. Musical numbers will be sung by the Seventh Grade and Kindergarten choirs.

The smart new edifice, three stories high, on Orchard St. at Campbell incorporates some of the latest advances in school building design. It was built on land immediately adjacent to the old building, now razed. Orange St. was closed to provide extra land space and the old school site will be converted into a playground.

TIP OF THE WEEK:
Add a diced tart apple and maple syrup to baked beans for a delicious taste treat.

There are so many nice things that come with a Security Trust checking account.

Leave your slippers on when you pay your bills! With a Security Trust Checking Account there's no need to leave the house. No more walking around town to pay your bills. No more standing in line.

It's a simple matter of you and the nearest mailbox.

But convenience is only part of the story. Take out. A Special Checking Account permits you to write checks for only 10¢ each. And you don't need a minimum balance. If you do keep a balance, perhaps a Regular Checking Account is the answer. With this type of account you can actually write free checks.

You also get other nice things with a checking account. Peace of mind, for instance. It's a lot safer to carry checks rather than cash. And your cancelled checks automatically give you proof of payment. No more keeping great piles of receipts. No more hunting to see whether you've paid a bill.

You get monthly statements, too, which helps keep your financial affairs organized. And up to date. Another nice thing: It takes less than 5 minutes to open an account. And it's a good bet that Security Trust has a branch less than 5 minutes away from where you live or work.

So come in! Join all these other people we're keeping off the street.

It takes just 5 minutes or less to open your account at any office.

Recess Time For You?

Home decoration is in a delightful state of flux. New concepts like inflatable furniture, "moving" wall pictures, unusual fabric prints, flooring and carpeting revolutions are all part of the current excitement. And people are having more fun decorating now because the dominant mood is "eclectic"—that is, a little bit of many styles rather than one period alone.

In lighting, too, styles change. Recessed lighting is one of the newer, more subtle and delightful ways of providing light for seeing and decoration in today's home. It can supply basic general illumination... the soft overall lighting for an entire room. It can furnish the "local" lighting needed for specific tasks. And it can provide the finishing touch of accent lighting to enhance an unusual wall treatment, a picture, a piece of sculpture.

Recessed lighting is built in, structurally installed in special fixtures above the ceiling. Only its decorative trim or diffusing element is visible in the ceiling surface. This unobtrusive lighting treatment avoids the clutter of too many wall and ceiling fixtures, floor and table lamps found in so many modern space-crammed homes.

Since recessed fixtures are installed above the ceiling, it's important to know first the available depth of installation space between the ceiling and the floor above it. Sylvania's recessed units are available in sizes from 4 to 12 inches deep, although modern home construction seldom allows for units deeper than 10 inches.

A recessed lighting plan is easy to design in the blueprint stage of a new house, and it takes only a careful check of the structural element in the case of existing homes. The results are more than worth the effort. After all, why not have the most interesting kind of illumination available to set off your favorite home decorating ideas?

Something new for fall wear.

TO THE EDITOR:

I did not want the summer to get too far behind us without taking a moment out to express my sincere thanks for the assistance you gave us during the 1968 Summer Youth Opportunity Program.

There is no doubt in my mind that news media cooperation was a key element in the success we were able to achieve.

JAMES E. MALONE
Assistant to the City Manager

TO THE EDITOR:

The recent comments of the town supervisors of Irondequoit, Brighton and Greece about the high cost of police services for their respective towns make it more obvious than ever that there is an immediate need for the creation of a metropolitan police force. This is especially true, when the contract demands upon these towns are compared to the police salary requests which have been made by city police.

There is no doubt that police deserve higher salaries, and the public must be willing to pay the price, if we are to have quality law enforcement. There is, however, a limit. There are many steps which could be taken to streamline our police services in Monroe County and thereby reduce the overall cost to all towns, villages and the city of Rochester; at the same time we could improve police services.

At Tuesday's City Council meeting I again introduced a resolution calling upon the city manager to join with the county manager in an effort to bring about a metropolitan police force. On at least two prior occasions similar resolutions of mine have met with strong opposition in the council chamber, but the advantages to a metropolitan police force far outweigh the disadvantages and the time is long overdue for the city and county to take the initiative in attempting to bring about this metropolitan police force.

There is a need for better, additional, more efficient and more economical law enforcement, and this need is becoming more urgent as time passes. Similarly the problems of duplication, overlapping services and waste could be solved by such a combined police unit.

Social Security Notes

By Joseph Tomaino, District Manager Social Security

The familiar baseball park sales pitch, "You can't tell the players without a program", could well describe the usefulness to the beneficiary of the new Medicare Handbook. Recently mailed to over 65,000 older people in the Rochester area who are eligible for Medicare benefits, the Medicare Handbook describes a number of benefits and services that the average beneficiary might not know about.

Some of these benefits and services are:

Ambulance Services: The medical insurance part of Medicare will help pay for ambulance services to a hospital when they are shown to be medically necessary to protect the health of the patient, and if the patient is taken to the nearest hospital that is equipped to take care of him (or one in the same locality). Under similar conditions, medical insurance will help pay for ambulance services from one hospital to another; from a hospital to an extended care facility; or from a hospital or extended care facility to the patient's home, but only if his home is in the same locality as the hospital or extended care facility.

Drugs: Drugs furnished by a hospital or an extended care facility while a person is an inpatient are covered by the hospital insurance program. Prescription drugs and biologicals which the beneficiary can take by himself are not covered under either part of Medicare. But the medical insurance will help pay for drugs the doctor may give you during treatment that cannot be self-administered - a penicillin shot, for example.

Blood: Medicare can pay for whole blood, but not for the first three pints of whole blood (or units of packed red blood cells) used by a patient in a benefit period under the hospital insurance or in a calendar year under the medical insurance. Older people may however be able to arrange for the replacement of those first 3 pints of blood. That way, they don't have to pay for them. A friend or relative may donate blood to make the replacement, or it may be made by a blood donor group.

While not too many older people still belong to blood replacement plans, such as those set up by some companies and unions, their children (or a son-in-law or daughter-in-law) may belong to a plan that includes them as beneficiaries. This possibility is often overlooked the Medicare Handbook points out, and notes that in almost all blood donor plans, blood replacement credit can be arranged anywhere in the United States. Older people are advised to check with their children and children-in-law about this so that they will have the information on hand if they ever need it.

Physical Therapy: This form of treatment of injury or disease is covered by medical insurance when it is furnished under the direct supervision of a doctor or when it is furnished as part of covered home health services.

Also, beginning July 1, 1968, physical therapy services are covered when they are furnished by a qualified hospital, extended care facility, rehabilitation agency, or public health agency, and they are furnished under a plan established and periodically reviewed by a physician.

Eyeglasses: Medicare does not pay for eye refractions and examinations for prescribing or fitting eyeglasses. Medical insurance, however, does help pay for corrective lenses after a cataract operation.

In this series of 5 articles on the new Medicare Handbook, I have tried to give some idea of its contents, and an idea of the useful information it contains for the Medicare beneficiary and his family. But no series of articles can take the place of the Handbook itself. The Social Security office at 107 Clinton Ave., N., has a limited number of copies of the new edition for distribution to interested members of the public. While supplies last, single copies may be obtained by getting in touch with that office. The phone number is 325-6640.

Red Cross Needs More Volunteers

Red Cross is seeking new volunteers to train for their Blood Program service. Mrs. Malvern Gross, vice chairman of Blood Program volunteers, says the expanded Red Cross Blood Program service has created a shortage of volunteers. The Red Cross Blood Center is now open two days a week to collect blood, plus there is an ever-increasing number of mobile visits being made to the different industries.

Volunteers in this service register all donors and see that they go through the various steps for donating blood. They also prepare refreshments for the donors after they have given blood.

"This is a real opportunity for women to help with a truly worthwhile and necessary project, as well as to meet and work with their volunteers," says Mrs. Gross.

'The Odd Couple'

"The Odd Couple", described as one of the most successful comedies of the decade, is being brought to the East High School Auditorium for seven performances by the Community Players. The production, which begins Friday, is sponsored by Rochester Rotary Club for the benefit of Rotary Sunshine Camp for physically handicapped children.

Written by Neil Simon, the most acclaimed author of lighthearted plays of the 1960's, this rib-tickling comedy opened on Broadway in 1965 and ran for two years and four months with a total of 965 performances to its credit.

Harriet Warren is the comedy's director assigned to apply the appropriate touch to the entertainment, and Betsy Hall lends versatility to this one-set show. This is the 36th annual Rotary Play to be staged by the Community Players. Performances will be Oct. 11, 12, 13 and Oct. 18, 19 and 20, with a matinee on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 20.

Tickets for the play are available at the Rotary Club office in the Chamber of Commerce or at the Community Playhouse, corner of Meigs St. and Clinton Ave. S.

Thanksgiving in America is 347 years old this year. But the root of our verb "to give" is older, dating back beyond the King's English to at least Viking times. Our gifts to the Catholic Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign in November will help to keep alive both the holiday and the verb.

No matter what your religion, take your used dresses, suits, shoes and bedding to the nearest Catholic church. They will be distributed by Catholic Relief Services to the needy of all races and religions in over 70 countries in Asia, Africa, and Latin America. Make it your way this year of saying "thanks" — by giving.

Building Apartment At Lake and Clay

Rising on the land formerly occupied by the Sacred Heart convent on Clay Ave. at Lake Ave. is a three story apartment house of unique construction. There will be 51 apartments of the studio and one bedroom type, according to Ben DiFiore, owner-builder.

An underground garage will provide parking for many of the tenants' cars and in addition there will be a parking lot in the rear of the building. Part of the land plot, near Lake Ave., will be seeded into lawn.

The long and narrow building with windows only in the front and back is copied after an apartment DiFiore saw in California. There will be an elevator from the basement garage to the third floor and there will be a long hall on each floor.

Tips From The Lab

By John Temmerman, Director
County Public Safety Lab.

From time to time our laboratory receives calls from residents who complain that they don't like the odor or taste of chlorine in drinking water.

They ask us if there is anything they can do to get rid of the chlorine.

There is a simple answer: Draw the water into a container and let it stand in the refrigerator. After a period of from two to three hours, the odor and taste of chlorine will have dissipated.

THE BLOODMOBILE is coming BLOOD DONORS are needed

BE A DONOR

SOMEBODY CARES!

Sometimes it seems like the world is too big and impersonal with everyone bent on getting ahead and not too much concerned about their fellow men.

At times you may wonder if anybody really cares very much about what happens to you outside of your immediate family and a few friends.

But somebody does care!

Your Red Cross solicits blood from the 12-county Rochester Region, the citizens of which require 4,500 pints of blood per month. This blood is available to YOU when and if YOU need it, as soon as YOU need it.

Can you imagine a more generous gift by people you don't even know?

Wouldn't you be proud to join this legion of generous men and women who give blood time after time, who care this much about their fellow men?

YOU CAN!

On Saturday, Oct. 26, a 47-year-old woman from Rochester will undergo open heart surgery. The Red Cross is drawing their blood supply for this operation from our Bloodmobile (1st, 9th and 10th Wards) which will be at Sacred Heart Cathedral on Flower City Park on Friday, Oct. 25, the day before the operation. It will be open from 1 p.m. until 6:40 p.m.

You can share in the deep personal satisfaction of caring - caring enough to give this priceless gift for someone who needs it so badly.

For an appointment call 254-3141. - You'll be glad you did!

"Kids" Lounge Is Proposed

Hopes for the establishment of a junior high lounge somewhere in the old Tenth Ward area were raised this week by the Northwest Ecumenical Ministry. The Maplewood planning unit of the Ministry is out looking for a place "to keep kids off the street" during the evening hours.

It is the desire of the unit to find some place other than a school or church where this can be done. The plan is to provide facilities for ping pong, cards and TV watching for boys and girls in the 7-8-9 grade levels. It further aims to provide space where kids can sit around and talk to their friends and also get acquainted with staff members.

The unit has asked this newspaper to help in the search for a possible meeting place; also to appeal for volunteer adult helpers. John Forkin, who is a representative of Sacred Heart in the Ministry, may be contacted at 458-3943, regarding the lounge.

Nixon Speaking Here Thursday

Richard M. Nixon will bring his Republican campaign for President to the Rochester Community War Memorial tomorrow (Thursday) night. Doors will be opened to the public at 5:45 and a 1 1/2 hour program of music and entertainment, featuring top celebrities and name bands, will precede a major campaign address by the presidential candidate at 7:30.

Patricia Nixon will accompany her husband during his appearance here.

New York State Republican Chairman, Charles Schoeneck, and State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz and other major political figures are expected to attend.

Thousands of Nixon supporters from the eight-county Rochester area are expected to jam the War Memorial to capacity.

Marshall Community Assn To Answer Questions

John Marshall Community Association will hold its first meeting on Monday, Oct. 21, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the school library.

The theme of the first program is "We want to know...". It is a question and answer session to be conducted by Matthew Hoffman, principal, Richard McHugh, vice-principal, and several department heads will also assist.

Mr. Hoffman has suggested this first meeting be devoted to questions from parents in hope of achieving a better understanding between the school and the home.

The following officers have been elected to serve the 1968-69 season: Mr. and Mrs. Phil Averbach, presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirchgessner, vice-presidents; Mrs. Helen O'Sullivan, secretary; Mrs. Edward Bo, treasurer.

Retired Club Meets Tuesday

The Retired Club of Dewey Ave. Presbyterian Church will hold its October meeting next Tuesday in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

A 12 o'clock noon lunch will be served, each one bringing a sandwich; coffee and dessert will be provided by the committee in charge.

A short business meeting will be held followed by a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Robert Izard. Those taking part are the Mesdames Bruce Dayton, Lowell Griffith, L. P. Moulthrop, Warren Heiligman, Joseph Miller and Stewart Wahl.

After the musicale shuffleboard will be available for the men and cards and other games for both ladies and men.

All retired members in the church are invited.

Man of The Year' Award Given Thomas P. Riley Former Minister To Speak Here

The honor of being named one of the five Outstanding Men of the Year has been accorded Thomas P. Riley of 334 Seneca Pkwy. by the New York State Jaycees. He had been previously nominated by the local Jaycees.

At the age of 30, Riley has many more credits than needed toward the "total involvement in community activities" requirement of the award. He has been active in his immediate neighborhood as well as in citywide endeavors.

He is a member of the board and finance committee of Park Ave. Hospital, president of the Catholic Youth Organization and president of the Princeton Club of Rochester. He is also secretary of the Aquinas Alumni Organization; formerly two term president of the Monroe County Pop Warner Football League as well as organizer and coach of the local entry in that league; on the board of the Health Association; district chairman of the Community Chest campaign; and vice chairman of the organization and extension committee of the Boy Scouts.

Riley has also been active in the old Tenth Ward area working on Red Cross and Mapleood Association projects.

Although he has been with Rochester Telephone Corp. only a few years he has advanced now to the position of district plant superintendent. He and his wife have three children. He is the son of Thomas F. Riley, superintendent of the County Penitentiary, and Mrs. Riley, of 232 Seneca Pkwy.

Refreshing Pineapple Pie

Great for Fall is this angel food type pie cooked on top of the stove and turned into a no-bake crumb crust. It is best served on the day it is prepared.

Pineapple Pie

- 1 no-bake (9-inch) crumb crust
- 2 tablespoons corn starch
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Dash salt
- 1 cup water
- 1 (8 3/4-ounce) can crushed pineapple, drained
- 3 egg whites
- 1/3 cup chopped nuts

Combine corn starch, sugar and salt in small saucepan. Gradually add water, stirring until smooth. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Cover with plastic film or waxed paper laid directly on surface of pudding. Cool. Stir in pineapple. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form when beater is raised. Gently fold in cooled pineapple mixture. Pile into prepared crust. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Chill. Makes one 9-inch pie.

RGE Head States Case For Utility

Francis E. Drake, Jr., chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Rochester Gas and Electric Corp., presented a statement to the Joint Legislative Committee on Consumer Protection regarding his company's operations when the committee held a hearing here last week.

Drake pointed out that over the past ten years cost of living has increased 22% in the United States, while the average cost per unit of gas and electricity to Rochester customers dropped 8% and 14% respectively. The Rochester consumer pays about 1.1% of his disposable income for electricity and .6% for gas service, which is less than the average national expenditures for either tobacco or alcoholic beverages.

In his testimony, Drake said that "RG&E has reduced gas rates twice and electric rates twice since 1959", and that it also helped to reduce the cost of gas and coal from its suppliers, with further savings to the customers. The result has been, the utility executive pointed out, that today RG&E customers are paying $6 million less for gas, electricity and steam than they would have paid under rates in effect in 1959", a significant annual saving that will continue to benefit the consumer". Francis Drake reminded the committee of the important part the seven investor-owned electric utilities in New York State have played in meeting a steadily increasing tax load which has seen the state's budget triple during the past ten years. The utilities are, he said, the state's largest taxpayers, just as Rochester Gas and Electric is the largest property taxpayer in Rochester and Monroe County.

Church Circles Change Name

The women of Dewey Ave. Presbyterian Church have some changes ahead in their church life. There will no longer be church "circles", but specific "interest groups".

The new program will begin in January and continue thru June on a trial basis. It is the result of the national meeting at Purdue held last year, and a survey made in the circle meetings last spring.

Interest groups vary widely in subject matter, from Bible Study of the Gospel of Matthew to "Understanding Our Children". (Baby-sitters are provided for a modest fee.)

Church Takes Up Biafra Offering

Dewey Avenue Presbyterian Church reached a hand half-way around the world, recently. On Worldwide Communion Sunday, there were special envelopes in the pews labeled "Special Offering for Biafra-Nigeria".

They are for a fund organized by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the USA, an emergency relief offering of $300,000.

Only in recent days has it become possible to deliver substantial amounts of food and medicines to the points of need. An airlift organized by the Scandinavian Protestant churches is moving supplies by day, and the International Red Cross by night.

Italian Dinner

The Couples Club is planning to serve an Italian dinner on Saturday, Oct. 19 in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

One need not be a member to come. Contact the church office for tickets, at 254-1140.

Wanted: Clothing

People are urged to bring good, clean clothes to the church for shipment to an area of great need. Deadline is Oct. 24, and clothes may be brought to the church any day during the week or on Sundays. The church circle groups are providing money for shipping.

Inner City Art

A stirring inner city artist, Lemuel DeBose, was the guest speaker at the Family Night supper at Dewey Avenue Church, recently. His paintings reflected life in the inner city as he saw it, and prompted much interest by the families who saw them at the church get-together.

Mr. DeBose teaches art and writing at the Montgomery Neighborhood Center. The program was sponsored by the Church and Society Committees of Dewey Ave. church.

Minister Conducting Discussion Group

Thinking of joining a church? The new minister at Dewey Ave. Presbyterian Church is holding a weekly informal discussion group at his home, 7:15 to 8:45 p.m. These gatherings he states, are offered "for genuinely open discussion about the meaning of a Christian life in our 20th century".

Those interested may call the church office 254-1140, and join for six sessions, concluding Nov. 24.

Miracle Machine

Among the recently-developed miracle machines of medicine is the so-called heart-lung machine, shown above right. It maintains the circulation of the blood while by-passing the heart, during operations in which damage to the heart is repaired by surgeons. "Priming" the machine requires 10 pints or more of blood less than 24 hours old. With increasing frequency in the past year, Red Cross regional blood centers have been supplying the blood for the delicate operations.

Save Those Leaves, Don't Burn Them

Must leaves be burned? No, free copy now from Monroe County Cooperative Extension, 249 Highland Ave., Rochester, N. Y. 14620".

advises Monroe County Cooperative Extension. Yet every fall, tons of leaves, invaluable as a source of organic matter for improving garden soils, are needlessly wasted, says the Cooperative Extension news release. They go up in smoke, rather than into compost piles. The release continues: "Burning leaves this year could lead to legal problems. For air pollution laws are now being more strictly enforced by the Monroe County Health Department. "Properly managed, a compost pile offers home gardeners an excellent method for disposing of leaves and producing organic matter valuable for mixing with garden soils to improve their texture and moisture holding capacity. Compost piles need not be unsightly nor large in size. Certainly they are no more unsightly or disagreeable than many of the smoldering leaf piles common to residential areas.

"Complete recommendations for building and maintaining compost piles are provided in Cornell Extension Bulletin 991. Order your

Comedy Coming For One Performance

The Rochester Broadway Theatre League, with the support of the New York State Council on the Arts, will open its 1968-69 season on Oct. 23, with one performance only of Robert Anderson's comedy hit "You Know I Can't Hear You When The Water's Running".

This play will be presented at the Auditorium Theatre at 8:30 p.m. It is a quartet of one-act plays written in Anderson's perceptive style. In these four plays Mr. Anderson surveys the familiar topic of sex in marriage from different angles - - from young couples to middle-aged spouses to couples past the prime of life. And always he brings good sense, sympathetic understanding, and fleeting moments of tenderness and sentimentality to the way that people think about, act on, and remember the age-old problems in the battle of the sexes. The all-star cast is headed by Imogene Coca and King Donovan.

Mall orders are being accepted now. The box office will be open tomorrow. It will be open daily from noon till 6 p.m. The box office number is 454-7743.

Forgotten, But Not Gone

Well, not completely forgotten -- but relegated to the dim past by many people, along with mustache cups, samplers, and free-lunch with a nickel glass of beer.

It would be nice if this comfy attitude toward tuberculosis were founded on fact. Unfortunately, it's wide of reality. New statistics on TB incidence and deaths bring a poignant reminder that the disease frequently written off as "obsolete" still attacks more than 45,000 people a year in the United States.

Yet those new reports, compiled by the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association on the basis of official surveys, have their brighter side. Compared to the picture as it existed a few years ago, TB has been diminishing at a fair rate. According to widespread medical opinion, this largely reflects the efficacy of drugs, the most effective tool for treatment and prevention of tuberculosis.

In 1966, the latest year for which breakdowns are available, four non-whites came down with TB for every white person in proportion to population. This unpleasant fact serves to dramatize the already well-known connection between poverty, depressed living conditions, and disease. It also points to a logical area for concentrated effort in future attempts to reduce the incidence of tuberculosis.

Public health officials and the voluntary anti-TB movement (including The Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Chapter of the Health Association of Rochester and Monroe County) are taking more seriously than ever the lesson that a really successful assault on TB must include measures for general improvement of living conditions in the urban centers. That's where the highest disease risk lies, and the weakest armor against it.

One of the most significant events in the 139-year history of Rochester Institute of Technology, is the event occurring Saturday, Oct. 19. For after years of study, consideration, designing, building and anticipating, R.I.T.'s new campus will be dedicated and officially opened.

John (Jack) Gundrum, Jr., president of the RIT Evening College Student Association will take part in the academic convocation. He will be with representatives of universities, colleges, the New York State Education Department and others in the field of education.

The Institute will confer its first honorary degree upon William S. Vaughn, chairman of the board of directors of the Eastman Kodak Company. He will be awarded the Doctor of Laws degree.

Numerous events are planned to celebrate the historic occasion.

Jack, who resides at 377 Pullman Ave. has been invited to attend the Board of Trustees dedication dinner, on Friday.

He is an Eastman Kodak employee (Kodak Park) and he received his two-year associate's degree in August. Now he is studying for a bachelor of science degree with a major in Photography.

On Saturday at 10:30 a.m. there will be a cap and gown academic convocation procession. At 2 p.m. to climax the actual dedication ceremonies and the official opening of the new campus will be the sealing of a time capsule containing significant memorabilia of R.I.T. and its times. Jack, along with seven other RIT officials, will be on the platform for this event.

Also, on Saturday, there will be campus tours, a Convocation luncheon, a soccer game and a dedication ball, completely planned by the RIT students.

Beginning at 1 p.m. on Sunday, the general public is invited to tour the new campus. All facilities will be open for inspection.

Northwest Improvements In City's Future Plans

The six-year capital improvement program of City Manager Seymour Scher contains much of interest to area residents. The gross cost is $134,633,144, with federal, state and other financial aid reducing the city's share to $70,587,182.

One of the major projects is replacement of the Edgerton branch library at a total cost of $426,300. Scher expects $25,578 of the total to be spent in the current fiscal year and $400,722 in 1969-70. In his report, he described the existing branch as the city's oldest and "badly deteriorated".

Development of a new Dorothy Avenue playground, at a cost of $156,250, calls for acquisition and development to get under way this year. Another $72,500 is slated for improvement of Maplewood playground in 1970-71.

Of interest to area residents -- and all who live in the city and the towns of Monroe County -- is the allocation of $3,224,000 to improve bridges, including Driving Park, Felix St., Emerson St., Lexington Ave., Lyell Ave., and Jay St. bridges.

Sanitary and storm water sewers for the Otis and Santee St. area will cost $300,000, and the work to be undertaken this fiscal year. The City also expects to spend $5,338,000 in the next six years to improve the Mt. Read - Emerson industrial development area, reclaiming some 200 acres. The cost in this fiscal year will be $1,287,000 and in 1969-70, $1,135,000. Sewer installations over the program life will cost $2,500,000.

The City intends also to buy police and fire equipment costing more than $1,102,900; to improve recreation facilities at a total cost of $1,074,000 and to continue installation of new and improved traffic signals for $1,837,000. Public works expenditures contemplated are $3,500,000 for motor vehicles, $5,700,000 for the resurfacing of streets, $900,000 for sidewalk reconstruction, $850,000 for new curbs, $600,000 for improved intersections and $100,000 for local improvements -- a total of $8,150,000.

SYMPATHY FLOWERS - Bring renewed appreciation of their mission. People love flowers. God made us that way. Dial 232-2255.
BLANCHARD FLORIST - 58 Lake Ave. - Adv.

Incinerator improvements will cost $240,000; sewage treatment $49,500,000 (mostly for a new plant and outfall pipe at Durand-Eastman Park; $6,510,000 for sewer work and $20,226,000 for water line and pumping and treating improvements.

10 More Days To Election

The political pot is now boiling and with only about ten days to election on Nov. 5, the candidates are in the midst of the usual last-minute all-out drive for the voters' favor.

This is a Presidential year with principal focus on the race between Humphrey, Nixon and Wallace, but State Senators and Assemblymen are also to be chosen as well as a U. S. Senator, two Supreme Court Judges, two County Court Judges and a City Court Judge. Two places on the School Board are also on the ballot.

Lists of candidates will be included in next week's election issue.

More Subscriptions Are Acknowledged

The Post-Courier acknowledges with thanks the receipt of 11 more voluntary subscriptions, including one for five years. "Just a small token for years of effort and service," wrote Joseph Hetzler, 361 Augustine St., who sent in the five year subscription. The other ten are: John Marshall Community Association; Barbara Thorne, Box 6307, Rochester, N. Y.; School No. 7 PTA; Joan Stout, 241 Driving Park Ave.; Millard Pierce, 122 Lexington Ave.

Raymond O. Ketterer, 378 Lakeview Pk.; Mrs. Thomas Connolly, 265 Driving Pk. Ave.; Mrs. Nellie Coughlan, 175 Oriole St.; Wallis Kennerson, 4203 Lake Ave.; Mrs. Carmel Burruto, 90 Lela St.

OPPORTUNITY SALE NEXT SATURDAY

An Opportunity Sale featuring clothing, appliances, toys etc. will be held Saturday, Oct. 26 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Holy Rosary School hall, 414 Lexington Ave.

Holy Rosary Guild, sponsors of the sale, announce that they will feature an auction for some of the articles.

"Forum" Sunday At Dewey Church

Many of the political candidates seeking office this year will speak at the third annual Community Political Forum, Sunday, Oct. 27 in Dewey Ave. Presbyterian Church auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Among those expected are State Senator candidates James Powers (incumbent), Gordon Howe, II and Henry Vayo; State Assembly candidates, Charles Stockmeister (incumbent) and William Steinfeldt; Congressional candidates, Barber Conable (incumbent) and Berta McKenzie.

As in the past years each speaker will be allotted time to talk, rebuttal time and questions from the floor. The public is invited to take part in these informative discussions.

"The purpose of the forum", says Gordon Skinner, who will act as moderator, "will be to give the public personal contact with the candidates and to give people an opportunity to decide for themselves who are the best men for office".

Halloween Art On Exhibition

The budding Rembrandts in the first grade at Sacred Heart School are experiencing the artist's greatest joy this week. Their work is on exhibition -- in a bake shop, no less.

For a score or more of years, the Halloween art show of the Cathedral boys and girls has been an annual attraction at Johnson's Bakery in Pullman Ave. This year some 40 youngsters in Sister Mary Rogers' grade have made and signed their colorful contributions to the Halloween scene; and all these masterpieces have been carefully hung - with scotch tape - from the rafters of the store.

The exhibit is open at no charge to the public.

Meet The Candidates

JAMES POWERS
State Senator James Powers, Democrat, running for re-election in the 51st district, was born in Chicago, but settled in Rochester after getting his B.S. degree with honors and his Master's in Labor Industrial Relations at the University of Illinois.

He spent four years in the Air Force during the Korean War and then returned to college. In 1958 he joined the faculty at East High School in Rochester.

His first political office was as Chili town councilman in 1961 and then he was elected, in 1964 and 1965, to the State Assembly. Two years ago he won the State Senate seat for which he is seeking re-election.

Senator Powers was the winner of the Rochester Rotary Club's Pan American Fellowship in 1962. He is married and has two children.

GORDON HOWE II

Gordon A. Howe II, the Republican candidate for State Senator in the 51st district, has been campaigning with the GOP since his teens. As the son of the present county manager and former chairman of the county Republican organization, young Howe (who is 30) has been exposed to government and politics all his life. This is his first run for public office.

He was born and raised in the town of Greece and was graduated from Charlotte High, Colgate University and Cornell Law School. He is a practicing attorney and has served as legislative counsel to the N.Y. State Senate Labor Committee.

In 1960 Howe served as a floor aide at the Republican national convention and in 1966 he was recognized for his "able performance" in organizing the Young Republicans of which he is currently vice president of the county group. He is a member of Greece Rotary, Barnard Exempts Club, Rochester Museum Association and Greece Chamber of Commerce.

Tips From The Lab
By John Temmerman, Director
County Public Safety Lab.

Recently our laboratory received the following report:
A boy was experimenting with his chemistry set in the basement of his home. When he finished, he ran upstairs and suddenly his clothes burst into flame. Fortunately the boys' father smothered the fire before any serious burns were inflicted.

What caused the fire?
It seems that after completing his experiments, the boy had placed a powdered mixture of ammonium nitrate and zinc in his pocket. When he ran upstairs, the agitation and friction caused these chemicals to react, setting his clothes afire.

The lesson to be learned from the incident is never to carry chemicals in pockets or any other place on your person.

Health Problem? Ask The County

The establishment of a health information and referral service by the Monroe County Department of Health was announced today by Dr. Wendell R. Ames, County Health Director.

Dr. Ames said the service is designed to help people who may not know where to turn when they have an individual or family health problem.

The service is reached by calling 442-4000 and asking for extension 2882.

Dr. Ames said the service is free of charge and all inquiries are treated confidentially. It provides a central source of information on available health programs and services in the community.

"As our community grows and becomes more complex, the availability of many existing health services is not always readily known to the public", Dr. Ames said. "Our health information and referral service helps the citizen find answers to health needs quickly and efficiently, it also helps us to see more clearly what needs are being expressed by the community".

The service is staffed by Mrs. Edna Sable, who has had 11 years experience with the Health Department in communications and information work. A brochure describing the new service is available to individuals and organizations upon request.

Finger Tips

Elbow grease has now gone out of style thanks to the increase in the number of aerosol housecleaning products sold last year. Latest surveys show that more than 183 million household products in spray form found their way into your cleaning closet and mine. Here are some hints on using sprays from the Aerosol Division, Chemical Specialties Manufacturers Association:

- 1. Cleaning Your Cleaning Closet: Empty containers take up time and space. So taking inventory is as good at home as it is in a store — it will show you what you have and what needs replacing.
- 2. Mobilize: Sounds like a troop movement, but it's really just basic organizing of cleaning products — from sprays to sponges. Put the sprays and other products used every day on the shelf easiest to reach. Others can go higher, or toward the back of the closet. (If you don't have a cleaning closet at all, try using shoe bags or empty soft drink containers with compartments in them.)
- 3. Do Your Homework: No, were not joking about housework. We mean, learn about those products you use, including aerosols. Read the label on the sprays you are about to use — and, if it's a product you don't use often, re-read the label. Find out if it's to be shaken, tilted, and about how far it should be held away from the surface to be cleaned.
- 4. Make One Product Do the Work of More: For instance, you can often clean metal with a glass cleaner, or a painted wall with some of the new all-purpose bathroom cleaners.
- 5. Make Lists: A "permanent" list of which spray cleaners you keep on hand is a handy reminder. Tack it to the inside of the door where these products are kept. It all sounds quite executive — but then who ever said that a housewife isn't an executive — at least in her own home!

Grape Dessert Wizardry

Seedless grapes have been a favorite American dessert for at least three generations — ever since a California farmer named William Thompson accidentally discovered the juicy, green berry that everyone knows today as the familiar "white" grape.

Smart menu planners are forever finding new and imaginative ways to serve this delightful fruit. Here are just a few easy-to-prepare grape desserts you may want to try:

- Mix grapes with vanilla or fruit flavored yoghurt. Serve right out of the carton or in an elegant dessert dish.
- Prepare orange gelatin and chill until it thickens slightly. Fold in stemmed Thompson seedless grapes; chill until firm. Serve with sweetened whipped cream.
- Mix stemmed grapes with sour cream. Sprinkle brown sugar and cinnamon on top. Serve icy cold.
- Melt 1/4 cup strawberry jam and spoon over grapes. Chill until ready to serve.

And for a real gourmet treat, serve your family . . .

GRAPE TIPSY PUDDING
Serves 6 to 8

2 cups stemmed and halved Thompson Seedless grapes
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 packages lady fingers
1/2 cup sherry
2 packages instant vanilla pudding
3 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
Additional halved Thompson Seedless Grapes

Cook grapes, sugar and orange juice until grapes are tender. Mix cornstarch with 1/4 cup water. Stir quickly into hot grape sauce. Cool and then chill. Arrange a layer of lady fingers in a glass bowl. Sprinkle lady fingers with some of the sherry. Prepare instant pudding according to package directions, using 3 1/2 cups milk. After pudding thickens, stir again. Spoon a layer of grape sauce over lady fingers and then a layer of vanilla pudding. Continue layering, ending with the pudding. Put halved lady fingers around the edge of the bowl. Decorate top with whipped cream, sweetened to taste if desired, and Thompson Seedless grapes.

Sacred Heart Choir Given Part In College Concert

The Cultural Affairs Commission of St. John Fisher college presents "Celebrations" a symphonic program of Rochester Premieres. The program features the Rochester premiere of William Walton's "Partita for Orchestra" and new works by David Fetter, D. Donald Cervone and William Ferris, conducted by the composers.

The Symphony Orchestra of over 50 members, drawn from the Rochester Philharmonic, will be joined by the St. John Fisher Glee Club, H. Wendell Howard, director, and the Sacred Heart Cathedral Choir of men and boys.

The concert date is Wednesday, Nov. 6 at 8:15 p.m. in the Arts Center Auditorium of Nazareth College. Admission is $2.50 and tickets are available at the box office.

William Ferris, a native of Chicago, received his formal musical education at De Paul University School of Music and the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. He studied composition privately for five years with the late Pulitzer Prize winning Leo Sowerby. In 1964 he conducted the New York Philharmonic in a performance of his "De Profundis" commissioned by Fordham University for their first John F. Kennedy Memorial Concert and in November of 1967 the Boston Symphony Orchestra with the internationally famous Berj Zankochian as soloist in his "Concert-Piece for Organ and String Orchestra."

Mr. Ferris has been music director at Sacred Heart Cathedral for the past three years and at present is also music director of Saint Bernard's Seminary. At the Celebrations concert, Rochester audiences will hear for the first time "October-November", his first symphony, and "The Angelic Salutation: Glory to God in the Highest," his setting of the Roman Gloria for chorus, organ and orchestra.

Although it is only three seasons old, the Sacred Heart Cathedral Choir has created much musical excitement. In recognition of their excellence, they were made members of the Pueri Cantores, an international organization of choirboys; the only choir in the East outside of New York City to receive that honor. They are also under recording contract to produce a two record album along with the choir of St. John the Divine, Sir Alec Wyton director.

The 50 boys, all between the ages of 8 and 13, donate at least five hours of their free time before and after school to prepare for the two hour Sunday service. Although they receive no payment for their work, they are eager to give of themselves for the sheer joy of the music that they make together. And their joy is catching-- one cannot help but be charmed by the candor and conviction of their song.

May Proposes Housing Plan

Councilman Stephen May last week urged the formulation of a master plan for Senior Citizens Housing in Rochester and Monroe County.

Addressing a meeting of South Side Seniors at South Avenue Baptist Church, May said the increasing demand for moderate-rental, independent living units for the aging makes it necessary to scrap present "hit or miss" planning procedures in favor of an orderly program, based on population projections, for all of Monroe County.

He suggested that the master plan be developed jointly by the City Planning Commission and County Planning Council, aided by interested private organizations.

The Councilman pointed out that Rochester has achieved "considerable success with pioneering projects which have provided a significant number of Senior Citizens housing units," but added that existing projects have long waiting lists and there is presently a demand for at least 3,000 additional units in the City alone. Since Rochester's 18% aging population is second highest in the country (after St. Petersburg) and there are 65,000 Senior Citizens residing in Monroe County, May said there will be "an increasingly pressing need" for additional projects for the elderly in Rochester and throughout Monroe County in the future.

May said the proposed Master Plan should be based on a scientific projection of Metropolitan population growth and needs; the desirable size and location of projects, so that residents can have the chance to live in the kind of units they want and in areas of their choice; the various State and Federal programs available to governmental and private agencies; projected Senior Citizens housing plans in Urban Renewal and Model City areas; and the availability of existing structures, such as Park Avenue Hospital, which is "ideally located, can be adapted for aged residents and will be vacated within the next few years".

Green Pennant Drive Opened

The annual Green Pennant luncheon was held at the Towne House last week. School and law enforcement officers attended the kick-off of the seventh annual Green Pennant program, and over 200 persons participated. Roger Fleming of the General Motors public relations staff, and regional coordinator of the Green Pennant program, was the speaker.

John W. Bigelow, manager of industrial and public relations at Delco Products, presided at the meeting and a few words were spoken by Carl L. Balbach, plant manager of the Rochester Operations. Mr. Balbach presented eight plaques that represented awards to 142 schools who went last year without a student related accident involving motor vehicles and bicycles. Sixty schools had a perfect record for the last six years, which is the length of time the program has been in effect.

To get a grease spot out of your tie or dress, just rub a piece of fresh white bread into the spot.

The deadline date for making application for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) qualifying examination is fast approaching. Applications must be received by the Science Research Associates on or before Nov. 15. Applicants will participate in the nationwide competitive examination on Dec. 14, the only date on which the examination will be given, as the first step toward a college education and a regular commission in the naval service.

All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 per month for not more than four years. During each summer between his college years, a midshipman participates in interesting at-sea training periods.

Beware Of Phony Fund Collectors

The Rochester Better Business Bureau reports that even the Halloween season isn't without a few extra pranksters this year. Bureau manager, Robert C. Hildreth, said his office has heard about a young, "hippie-type", male about 21 years old that has been going door-to-door this week with a glass jar containing a few dollar bills and asking for additional donations. He said his appeal was for the UNICEF campaign conducted annually during this season by the Rochester Association of the United Nations.

The RAUN and the BBB released a joint statement warning people to refrain from donating to solicitors of this type. The two agencies specified that donations should be given only to children carrying the official bright orange canister, bearing the UNICEF symbol.

Local church groups will be going door-to-door on this appeal this week and many children will be carrying the canister on "Beggar's Night" in place of a trick or treat bag.

AIRPORT

is no fun to live with!

Why has the Republican candidate remained silent on this important issue until this campaign?

Because the Republican county bosses have insisted upon expanding the airport in its present location.

Frank Lamb believes that a jet-port should be constructed in the Batavia-Bergen-Byron region and will oppose any further expansion of the existing airport.

The man for the job.

Bill Steinfeldt is the man for the job as State Assemblyman to represent the people of District 134 — northwest Rochester and Greece.

Bill Steinfeldt's concern is effective legislation to strengthen local property protection and zoning.

He urges legislation guaranteeing every parent the right to send his child to his own neighborhood school.

He urges immediate action of the state-wide pollution control program with regional commissions to coordinate all efforts.

He urges expansion of Rochester-area highway facilities; more protection for consumers from gyp-artists.

And above all, he urges replacement of the "big spender" and a return to economy in government.

Your vote for Bill Steinfeldt will help rid the State Assembly of control-by-crony — the strangle-hold that New York City Democrat bosses hold over upstate Democrat Assemblymen.

Bill Steinfeldt is the man for the job.

Vote Republican.

Campaign manager for the Republicans was Debra Casaceli and for the Democrats Jean Cimino, both 14 year old eighth graders. (Both admitted that their political persuasion was the same as their dad's).

There will be a secret ballot next Monday, climaxing the "campaign".

The man for the job.

Frank Carroll has the job — and is the man to continue his job as State Assemblyman — representing the people of District 133, west-side Rochester.

Frank Carroll is a full-time member of the New York State Assembly. He's not a part-timer. And his full-time record speaks well as your voice in Albany. He knows; he's there.

During his current term, Frank Carroll introduced more effective legislation than any other freshman Assemblyman.

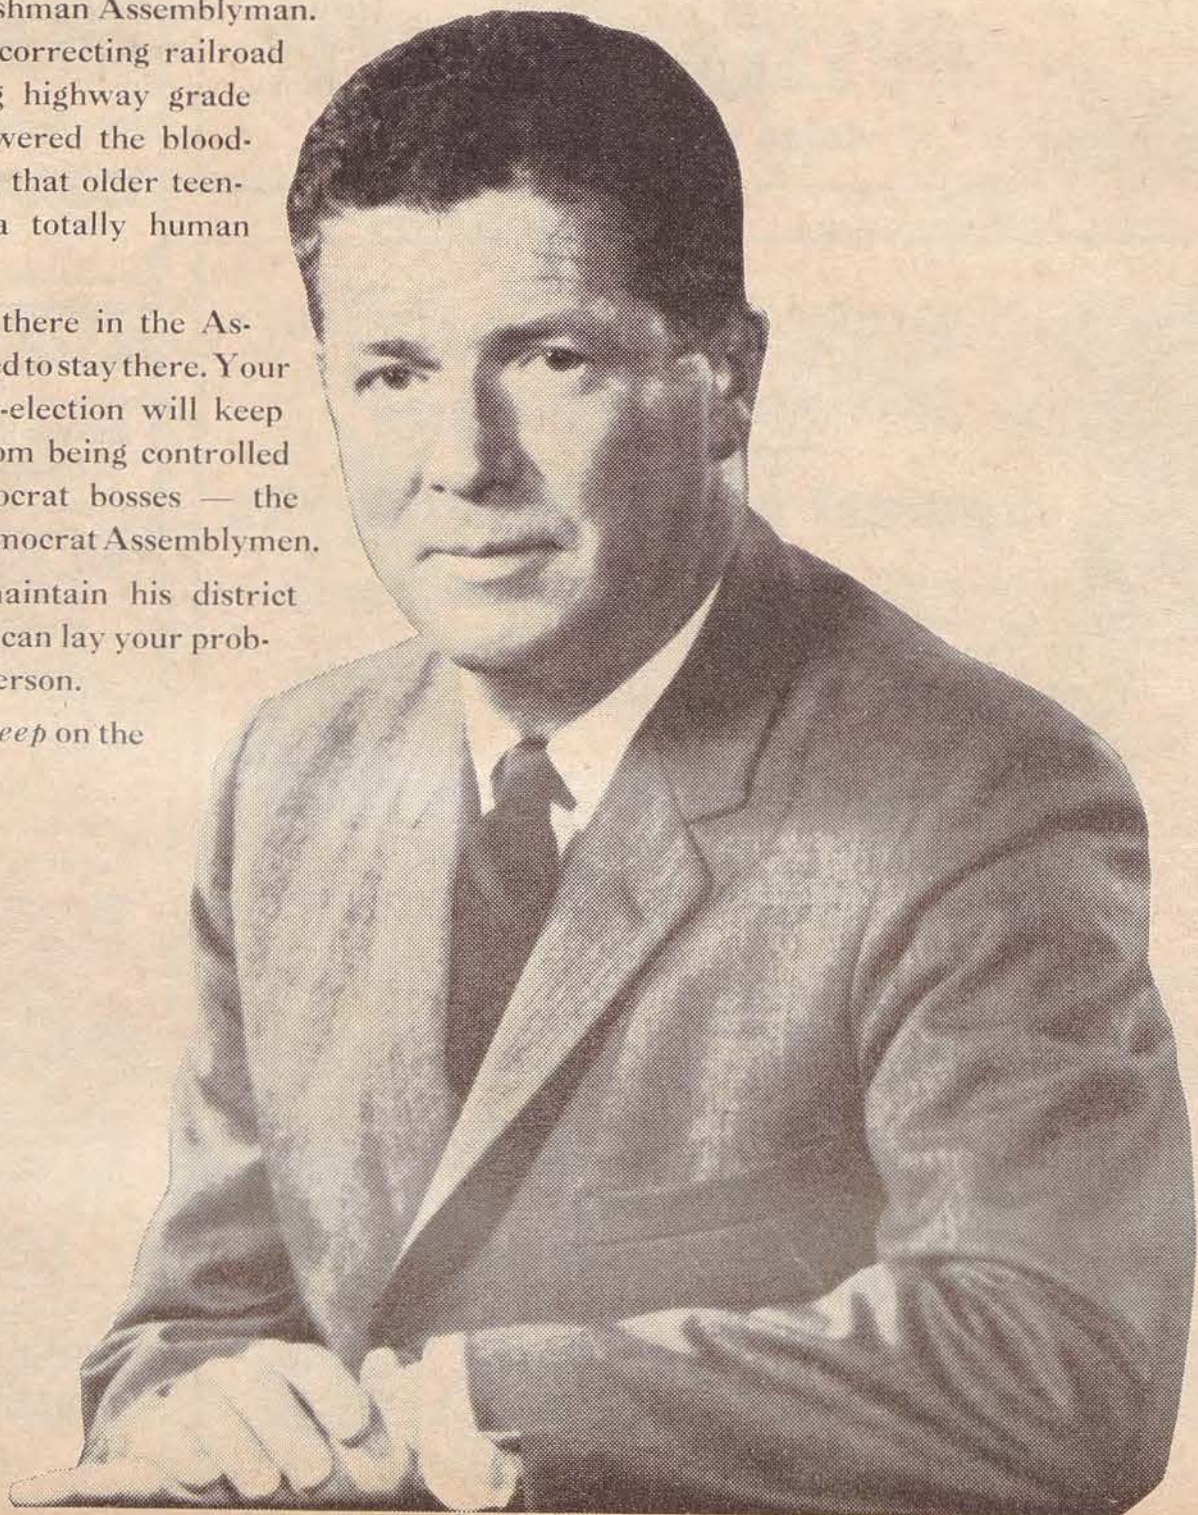

Legislation to save lives by correcting railroad grade crossings; eliminating highway grade problems. He effectively lowered the blood-donorship age to eighteen so that older teenagers could contribute to a totally human problem that knows no age.

Frank Carroll knows; he's there in the Assembly. He should be re-elected to stay there. Your vote for Frank Carroll's re-election will keep your voice and your vote from being controlled by New York City's Democrat bosses — the strangle-hold over upstate Democrat Assemblymen.

And Frank Carroll will maintain his district office open-door policy so you can lay your problems on the line to him — in person.

Frank Carroll is the man to keep on the job.

Vote Republican.
Re-elect Frank Carroll

Old Tom Passes

A familiar face is missing around the Dewey and Lexington corners, Tom Kelly, whom everybody knew as "Old Tom", was quietly laid to rest a couple of weeks ago. Although he was a friend to many, he had no living relatives. After 30 years of service with the Baldwin Locomotive Company, he had tended bar at Mickies' Bar for many years. Despite his 88 years he was seen around the corner up until shortly before his death. His home was at 715 Dewey Ave.

LETTER

TO THE EDITOR:
 Wilmer J. Patlow, the present City Clerk, asked me to serve as his campaign manager in his bid for Judge of the City Court.

Knowing of his many contributions to the community betterment, the extremely high regard he is held in by members of the legal profession, his exceptional educational background, his heritage, his character, his maturity, I felt honored and humbly accepted this assignment.

Wilmer is a native Rochesterian educated locally through Monroe High. He graduated from Cornell with honors and finished his formal education at Harvard University Law School, again with honors. He has pursued the profession of law successfully and continuously since 1955, the year he graduated from Harvard.

As in the past, I have urged my friends, neighbors and acquaintances to elect Judge Joseph Fritsch, I now request them to vote for Wilmer J. Patlow to the City Court bench. Both Joe and Will have all the fine qualities necessary to serve our community with honor, distinction and integrity.

Lake Ave. Zone Decision Held

City Council will not take any action on the proposed rezoning of a portion of Lake Ave. in the vicinity of Birr St., says Councilman William J. Malley.

"Informational hearings and discussions with area residents indicate that the people in this area would like more information about any proposed changes", he states. "The City Council has expressed the view that neighborhood residents should have a say in their future. Therefore, a series of meetings will be held with area residents to discuss the future development of this portion of Lake Ave."

Cross To Be Consecrated

An altar cross designed by Hans Christensen of the R.I.T. faculty will be consecrated on Sunday, Dec. 15, at the 10:45 a.m. service in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. It is given in memory of Emma Manner Storandt (Mrs. William Storandt) by her family.

POST-COURIER SCHEDULE

The Post-Courier schedule of publication includes a Tenth Ward Courier next Wednesday, Dec. 18, and then a Vicinity Post on Monday, Dec. 23 and a Courier on Monday, Dec. 30. Closing date for copy on the Monday editions will be the preceding Thursday.

EDITORIAL

Hats Off To Bob

We join with police officials and civic groups who have expressed their thanks publicly to 26 year old Bob Capitan of 218 Birr St. for "getting involved".

Bob did a very brave thing when he tackled a bank holdup suspect and foiled a $2100 robbery at the Portland office of Lincoln Rochester Trust Co. He did not know that the gun involved was a toy - until later. It was indeed a courageous act and the public welfare is very much indebted to Bob.

Y's Men Selling Christmas Trees

Maplewood Y's Men's Club will once again sell Christmas trees at the Maplewood Branch as their annual money raising project to finance their youth work, according to Club President Richard Hughes.

Trees will be sold at the rear of the YMCA, 25 Driving Park Ave. beginning Dec. 14, from 4 to 9:30 p.m.

Potluck Supper For No. 17 PTA

School No. 17 PTA is holding a potluck supper and Christmas program on Dec. 17 at 6:30 in the multi-purpose room. Members are asked to bring their favorite dish to pass, casserole, salad, dessert or bread.

Reservations are required by Dec. 13 to Diane Carroll, 436-7617 or Diane Courtney, 328-4371.

A few surprise guests are expected and children of the school will present a singing program.

FIRST WARD REPUBLICAN PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

The Christmas party of First Ward Republicans next Saturday night at Schukart's Restaurant will start with dinner at 6:30. Following dinner Santa will appear and distribute gifts. Each person attending is to bring a $1.00 gift to add to the Christmas spirit. Mrs. Charles Ward is chairman with Mrs. Edward Charbonneau as co-chairman.

Play To Honor Church Pastor

As their Christmas tribute to Father Sebastian Contegiacomo, the children of Most Precious Blood School are staging an original dramatic presentation and will light up the school auditorium for two nights this weekend, Sunday and Monday. The public is invited. Tickets will be sold at the door, 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children.

The show is entitled "What the Old Man Does is Always Right" and the boys and girls of the school some 160 of them, have responsibility for production, direction, bamboo dancing, folk dancing and singing, all part of the "plot". Only adult involved is Mrs. Richard Triano, the director.

Father Sebastian, as he is affectionately referred to, is the pastor of Most Precious Blood Church. Curtain time is 7 p.m. The school hall is at Lexington Ave. and Stenson St.

Seeking Tutors For School No. 5

Area Youth Ministry is seeking volunteers to tutor children in the fifth and sixth grades at No. 5 School. Urgently needed, according to Mike Losinger who is in charge of the program, are people interested in helping children read better. The work requires 1 1/2 to 2 hours a week and will be done under supervision of a teacher.

No teaching certificate or college degree is required.

There will be a 2-hour training session at No. 5 School, sponsored by the dropout committee of the Area Youth Ministry. Joanne Ocella is chairman, assisted by Wayne Brigman, social worker and consultant, Mrs. Frances Thirtle and Marcia Smith.

"This is an opportunity for anyone who feels concerned to help where help is needed", says Miss Ocella. "We are anxious to get started".

Volunteers can contact Mrs. Thirtle at 225-9620; Mrs. Anabel Smith at 865-3358, or Losinger at 254-6018.

The Chris Guerard family of 115 Sunset St., all six of them, came to Schmanke's Shoe Store to pick up a 15 volume Encyclopedia Britannica Jr. set (worth $149.50) which they had won in a Buster Brown shoe promotion. The father, mother, Kimmie, Penny and Cindy looked on as J. Ottman Schmanke (at right) presented the books to Terry Guerard.

When did you last have your eyes examined?

You know, of course, that your eyes change. Sometimes rapidly . . . sometimes so gradually you are not conscious of the difference. A yearly professional examination is the only way to make sure your eyes are properly protected. Competent eye care is more than a hurried fitting and ordinary glasses. Your vision is much too precious to entrust to any but experts at the highest professional level . . . or to take a chance on any but the best in ophthalmic materials.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1968

Local Voters Favored Humphrey, But Supported Many Winners

President-elect Richard M. Nixon was fortunate he did not have to depend on the six wards which comprise the Northwest section of Rochester for his victory. Even the normally Republican wards here gave Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey a plurality. The First, Ninth, Tenth, 15th, 20th and 24th all favored Humphrey, but in other contests did a lot of ticket splitting, exhibiting a measure of unprecedented independence. George Wallace got a surprisingly small vote.

County Court Judge John A. Mastrella and Assemblyman Frank Carroll on the Republican side and State Senator James Powers for the Democrats were among the winners that did well here. Among the losers, Judge Alphonse L. Cassetti was a standout in all six wards, ranking tops in the First, 15th and 24th and finishing a close second behind Judge Mastrella in the Ninth, Tenth and 20th.

Senator Powers won by a good margin in all six wards over Gordon Howe II and Assemblyman Carroll did the same over Mayor Frank Lamb in the three Northwest wards in which he was running the 15th, 20th, and 24th.

Assemblyman Charles F. Stockmeister carried all five wards in which he was running over William A. Steinfeldt. (The 20th Ward was not in this district.)

Congressman Barber Conable, Jr. won handily over Norman W. Gerhard, comfortably ahead in all six wards. U. S. Senator Jacob K. Javits had pluralities in the Ninth and Tenth, but Paul O'Dwyer outpolled him in the First, 15th, 20th and 24th.

Wilmer J. Patlow, who won the City Judge post from Harold L. Galloway, took the First, 15th and 20th and Galloway captured the rest.

The two winning School Board members, Laplois Ashford and Dorothy B. Phillips, were winners in the Ninth, Tenth and 20th. Ashford also had the distinction of being favored in all six wards. Francis X. Abate would have been elected if the First, 15th and 24th had their way.

Tax Hike Problem

The proposed county tax hike is viewed with disfavor by many prominent Republicans in the Northwest area, as well as by just about all Democrats and a vast majority of the taxpayers. The increase is one of the biggest ever in the history of local government. The four County Legislators from this area, all Republicans, are faced with one of the toughest decisions of their career when the County budget comes up for a vote later this month.

Bloodmobile Gets 93 Pints Here

The recent visit of the Bloodmobile to the First, Ninth and Tenth Ward units at Sacred Heart school hall scored another success. A total of 111 volunteered to give blood and 93 pints were taken. A significant development was that 25 "walk-ins", people who had not signed up in advance, came to the school hall during the afternoon. It was a most welcome bonus for the blood program.

Cornerstone Laid At No. 7 School

Cornerstone laying ceremonies were held on Tuesday, Nov. 5 at the new Virgil I. Grissom School No. 7 with both school officials and pupils taking part.

Superintendent of Schools Herman Goldberg and Principal Ben Richardson addressed the group in attendance before articles were placed in the time capsule for posterity. Creative mementoes made by the school children in accordance with the theme "Impressions - Old and New" were included. Each article made by the various classes was brought outside by a child from the grade and was placed in the box.

Among those present were Eugene Conant, assistant superintendent of schools; Margaret Kenney, administrative director of the Elementary Schools; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Becks, No. 7 PTA co-presidents; and Virginia Copeland, the youngest pupil in the school, a 4 year old Kindergarten child.

Guests along with Brian Lingard, school standard bearer and Kyle Hoover, guardian of the flag, cemented the cornerstone in place while a representative from each class watched.

NEWS BRIEFS

MR. AND MRS. JOHN HERMANN of Curlew St., have been informed that they must pay the hospital bills for treatment given their 9 year old daughter Catherine, as the result of an accident at No. 30 School. The City School District does not carry insurance because it is too expensive.

Seek Donations For Servicemen

"Operation Morale", an organization of volunteers who are sending mail as well as food packages to GIs in Vietnam, is making an appeal to people in this neighborhood for donations. Christmas packages are now being collected to be sent to a mailing list compiled by friends and relatives of men now serving overseas.

Three local women are on the volunteer committee and receive donations at their homes. They are Mrs. Hedley Herbert, 505 Lexington Ave.; Mrs. Arthur Ace, 575 Augustine St.; and Mrs. Thomas Aleo, 607 Birr St. Items for the packages may also be left at Most Precious Blood Church in Stenson St., where packing will be done.

Such things as candy, gum, razor blades, canned goods and similar non-perishables are welcome; also money donations to cover mailing costs. All should be sent within the next week.

Names of soldiers and sailors from this area are also being taken by the volunteers for shipment of packages and Christmas mail.

Mothers Seek Items For Operation Morale

Charles House Mothers Club will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at the Charles House in Jay St. This meeting will be devoted to packing boxes of hope for "Operation Morale". To insure a complete success, many more items are needed, say the ladies.

The call is out for clean lightweight clothing for all ages, both male and female; children's shoes, tongs, clean sneakers, linens, toilet articles, infant needs, diapers, pins, plastic bottles, nipples, canned formula, dry milk, toys, school items and non-perishable foods. These items are for the orphanages, schools and refugees, for the servicemen to pass out.

Occasionally special requests are made for specific items that are urgently needed. At this time, small size crutches are in great demand.

All donations can be dropped off at 215 Campbell St. or 425 Jay St. or arrangements can be made for pickup by calling 436-7617.

Mail, either letters or cards are also a great morale booster. Anyone interested in writing to our men overseas may obtain a list of names by calling the Mothers Club president Diane Carroll at 436-7617 or Diane Courtney at 328-4371.

Roast Beef Dinner At Wesley Church

A roast beef dinner will be served in the Fellowship Hall at Wesley United Methodist Church, 2009 Dewey Ave. on Saturday, Nov. 23 from 5-7 p.m. Tickets: Adults - $2.00; Children - $1.25; Toddlers - 25¢.

Tickets are on sale this week. Reservations can be called into Mrs. John Bennett, 225-6250 or Mrs. Walter Richardson, 865-3430 or church office 865-3816.

Hurried Home, Won Prizes

Teen age winners of the City Recreation Bureau sponsored "Hurry Home" contest on Halloween received gift certificates at downtown department stores. The names were selected at random from among those registered at 26 playground programs. The selected youth were then telephoned one half hour after the scheduled activity closing.

Northwest area winners include: Linda Tackett, 28 Saratoga Ave.; Bob D'Ettore, 151 Burrows St.; Bill Brown, 691 Emerson St.; Jim Bracker, 117 Ridgeway Ave.; Elisa Gaudino, 1393 Jay St.

Also winners in the Recreation Bureau's Halloween promotion program were two young artists who took prizes for safety posters. Susan Vargo, 392 Augustine St., took second honors and Tracy Mayer, 20 Seneca Pkwy., special award in the Grade 5-8 contest. Both are 11 and pupils at No. 7 School.

Dies of Leukemia

KATHRYN GALLIGAN BLOWERS would have celebrated her 27th birthday on Nov. 7, 1968. She died, however, on Oct. 12 of acute leukemia, in Highland Hospital, where she had trained and worked for a short time as a registered nurse.

She is survived her husband, Malcolm Blowers, a professor at Roberts Wesleyan College; two sons, Mark 3 years and Todd 7 months. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hinton and sister Pamela are Tenth Ward residents.

Katie attended No. 41 school and graduated from John Marshall. She was a member of area Girl Scouts and was active at Dewey Presbyterian Church. She and her husband lived in Illinois for several years, before returning to Rochester last June.

HAIR CARE POINTERS AID BEAUTY PROGRAM

If your crowning glory isn't as glorious as it could be, improper hair care may be at the root of the problem. These tips may help you improve the looks of your locks.

A well-balanced diet is essential to healthy hair. If it's thin, try gentle massage, plus a diet rich in Vitamin C.

Cleanliness is the most important requirement for good-looking hair. How often you wash depends on your hair type, the climate, and the condition of the air where you live. Don't use extremely hot water when washing.

Too frequent or improper bleaching or coloring can damage hair. So can over-exposure to sun, salt water, sand or heavily chlorinated pool water.

Damaged hair is a common complaint. If your hair tends to become dry or unmanageable, try a non-alcoholic shampoo like the new Halo, which has just added glycerin to help keep hair silken healthy.

When you brush your hair, brush it back from your face gently, not harshly - and always brush up and away from the neck, never down.

Celli Seeking Bridge Repair

An ordinance authorizing a $200,000 repair job on the Driving Park Ave. bridge was introduced at yesterday's City Council meeting by Councilman Andrew G. Celli. The bridge, although rated as safe by a New York consulting firm of engineers, is now open for passenger vehicles only. It has an eight-ton load limit.

The possibility of a new bridge, connecting Emerson St. and Clifford Ave., also was advanced by Celli. This long-discussed river crossing would take the place of the Driving Park bridge at some time in the future. Celli says he hopes the state and county will undertake the financing of such a bridge, since more than Rochester residents use the bridges across the Genesee.

In the meantime, Celli's bill would authorize the repairs to the Driving Park bridge and assure at least five more years of usefulness. The nature of the repairs is not disclosed, but it is emphasized that the bridge is perfectly safe to use at the present time.

Library Now Loaning Films

The Reynolds Audio-Visual Department of the Rochester Public Library is now loaning 16 millimeter sound motion pictures to individuals for exclusive home use. Until recently the library, whose collection of 5,000 films is the largest in any public library in the world, has loaned 16mm films only to organized groups, although last year it inaugurated loaning 8 millimeter silent films to card holders.

Whereas 8 mm films are loaned to persons registered with any library in the five-county Pioneer Library System (Monroe, Wayne, Livingston, Wyoming, and Ontario Counties), 16mm films will be loaned only to individuals who register directly with the Reynolds Audio-Visual Department in the Rundel Memorial Bldg. There is an annual $2 insurance fee covering possible film damage. Borrowers will be limited to approximately one hour's film running time for a three day loan period but will not be restricted by the number of such loans made within the year.

Films, many in color and on a great variety of subjects, may be reserved for future loan in person or by telephone, 546-2260, Extension 33.

GREECE LICENSE BUREAU
DOES BIG BUSINESS

The number of transactions at the new Greece branch of the Monroe County Auto License Bureau rival those at the main office at Broad and Exchange.

Monroe County Clerk F. Ross Zornow reports that there were 9,240 registrations, renewals and other transactions at the branch office in the Greece Town Mall during the month of September.

Meanwhile, there were 10,638 transactions at the main downtown office, 4,944 at the Henrietta office and 6,038 at the Penfield office. A fourth branch office is expected to open soon in Irondequoit in a shopping plaza at Ridge Rd., E. and Hudson Ave. to serve that suburban town and the northeast section of the city of Rochester.

Family Workshop

At Grace Church

The Tenth anniversary workshop of the WSCS of Grace United Methodist Church is coming up on Nov. 16th and promises to be a "really big shop." Last year over 900 people poured into the church, at 121 Driving Park Ave., to attend the workshops, browse and buy at the many booths, and enjoy lunch and songs by the Junior Choir.

This year, as before, there will be nurse care for the very young, movies and easy workshops for the grade-schoolers (and they can have their picture taken for Dad or Grandmas in between) and plenty to keep the adults busy and happy all day - from 10 to 4:30. Donation is 50¢ for adults, free for children under 14.

Handmade and imported goodies will include a bake shop, cheese shop, candy shop, cotton shop, (aprons, towels, etc) attic shop (someone else's white elephant, perhaps your treasure?) children's shop (used toys, gifts, and clothes at bargains that children's budgets can afford) and a new-this-year Christmas Boutique

TAPE A MESSAGE TO YOUR SERVICEMAN

The local Red Cross chapter invites wives and families of servicemen, stationed in this country or abroad, to make tape recordings for Christmas. Tapes and taping facilities will be provided by Red Cross.

The dates for taping will be Mondays through Fridays, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. beginning on Nov. 18 and ending on Dec. 6, by appointment. Interested persons may make appointments by calling the Red Cross Service to Military Families, 454-2400.

which will include Hummel Angels imported from Munich as well as handmade gifts, decorations, centerpieces, corsages, etc. for early Christmas thoughts.

Two new features will be a silent auction of a 32" gold choir girl made by Mrs. William Gay and a sale of cook books made up of the favorite recipes of the ladies of the church.

The workshop classes will be in indoor - outdoor decorations, "The Kissing Ball," decorative candles, paper flowers, package decorations and Della Robbia. Children 4-12 will have special classes for the things they can do.

Christmas Bazaar At Holy Family

Holy Family Rosary Society will hold its regular meeting tonight (Wednesday) at 8:15 in the Pine Room. Services in church at 7:45 for deceased members will precede the meeting.

Following the business meeting a Christmas bazaar will be held, after which there will be the usual lunch and games with Mrs. John Will as hostess.

Donations for the variety booth will be accepted and may be brought to the meeting. Members are also asked to bring their grocery donations for the St. Martin De Porres Center.

MAKE YOUR CHILD'S PARTY "CHILD'S PLAY"!

Holiday or birthday — no matter what the occasion — you'll be game to throw a party for the youngsters if you heed some of these parent-saving tips from the people at the Milton Bradley Company who spend their days thinking up ways to entertain children.

1. Let the kids do the work!
Decorating is half the fun. Get the kids to paint posters, make baskets, and blow up balloons. A clown's face, drawn on a sheet of butcher paper and fastened to the side of a large cardboard box, with a hole cut in the clown's mouth makes an excellent target at which the kids can toss ping pong balls or jelly beans for prizes.
2. Tire them out and they won't throw cake!
Stocking feet games — in which kids can kick off their shoes and kick up a fuss at the same time — channels their boundless energy and saves you supervision time. Animal Twister (a pint-sized version of the popular "Twister" game for the older set), Feeley-Meeley and Fang-Bang and Slap Stick are all action games that can be played indoors.

3. You must expect the noise!
Din means they're having fun! You can't expect the kids to have fun without lots of happy healthy noise. With a new game like Slap Stick, kids sit around a large, colorful vinyl game sheet. One player calls out a number and color, then using paddle stick, the others try to flip their numbered cards over the stake on the called color. The action is fast and furious, as anything goes to prevent a player from succeeding! The fun the kids have and the excitement is a great outlet say the child psychologists.

4. Time!
Be sure to break up the activity when you feel the kids have "had enough". Being over-tired can ruin the day for you as well as the youngsters. Psychologists say the secret of a party for children is to tailor the time, guest list, activities and the refreshments to the age group. As a rule, the younger the guests, the shorter the party.
With these rules of the games, you're ready, set, go to give the kiddies a treat!

Young Artist In Limelight

A highly complimentary article on the artistic ability of 18 year old Jim Liccione of Smith St. appeared in the form of a two-page illustrated spread in last Friday's Times-Union.

Jim does drawings, painting and sculpturing so well that he is winning laurels wherever he turns, according to the article. His art teacher, Dick Haun of Jefferson High School, rates him as a talented A-plus student with a brilliant future. He is now studying at R.I.T.

The article reveals that Jim has been to Italy this summer with his father for four weeks. His older brother, Alex, also a talented art student made the trip too, and is now studying abroad on a scholarship.

Jim comes from a family of nine children. His father is a mail carrier working out of Dewey Station.

(Post-Courier readers will remember the Liccione's, since many readers contributed to a fund which brought young Jim's grandparents here from Italy two years ago on a visit.)

Tips From The Lab
By John Temmerman, Director
County Public Safety Lab.

Now is the time when many children scramble to collect catches of the ever-alluring horsechestnut.

While this shiny fruit has captivated youngsters through the ages parents should inform their children that horsechestnuts -- as well as their cousins, the buckeyes -- are poisonous.

Children may string chestnuts into beads, carve them, fashion them into designs, but should never eat them. Ingestion of any parts of the nuts may cause severe illness, even death.

70,000 Against Disease

Seventy thousand Americans have joined hands to help write a page of medical history that can vitally affect future treatment of an ancient disease.

The 70,000 are scattered over thousands of miles, in places as diverse as Alaska and Puerto Rico. In years they span the spectrum from childhood to old age. All are contributing their bit to a long-range study aimed at determining the best use of a most effective drug -- isoniazid -- in preventing and ultimately wiping out tuberculosis in this country.

In remote subarctic settlements, Appalachian villages, Puerto Rican towns and mainland cities, individuals and whole families threatened directly or indirectly by TB have patiently taken isoniazid pills week after week for a year or longer, and subjected themselves to scrutiny for more than ten years. They have been cooperating with doctors, nurses and clinic workers to record the effectiveness of the drug.

The results observed so far, as reported by Mrs. Shirley H. Ferebee of the U.S. Public Health Service, are fascinating and highly encouraging. Writing in the October issue of the Bulletin of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, Mrs. Ferebee disclosed among other facts that the number who developed TB is about two-and-a-half times smaller in the group receiving isoniazid medication than in the group not receiving it.

With such information to go on, TB fighters in official and voluntary agencies are placing more emphasis on prevention through drugs while seeking to improve treatment for those already affected.

For more information on today's methods of fighting a disease that strikes nearly 45,000 Americans each year, ask the TB - RD Chapter of the Health Association of Rochester and Monroe County.

OBESITY CURE DIETING?
Has dieting had its day? Are curtains in the offing for all those Summer Slimdown Seminars, One Day Wonder Diets and Five Minute Fasts for Fat Folks that were guaranteed to retread the American silhouette into something more eye pleasing?

The answer to that somber question tends toward the affirmative as science amasses more data on the causes and correctional possibilities of the great American malady known as overweight.

Late dispatches from the human inflation front include a report in "Science" weekly by a forward patrol of investigators led by Dr. Stanley Schachter, a Columbia University psychologist.

Dr. Schachter and his colleagues express grave doubt that dieting can do the job. For a while, perhaps; for the long pull, no. The regularity with which slenderized persons regain their poundage suggests to them that the problem of obesity isn't physical, but mainly psychological.

Overeating, Dr. Schachter maintains, isn't caused by inner hunger but by outside stimuli. The stimuli are various: they could be strong emotions or the ravishing aroma of fresh baked apple pie or a glimpse of the promising portals of a pizza palace. Such hazards can make good diet resolves vanish like pizza and apple pie.

Study of a group of obese people has shown that they can be more indifferent to food than persons of normal weight in normal situations. It isn't overeating at meals that does the damage; it's responding to those outer stimuli.

Can an obese person change from an outer-motivated to an inner-directed eater? Therein lies the only hope, according to the investigators. Yet they doubt whether such a change is possible. Meanwhile, as they continue to explore, dieting remains the best available answer to the obesity problem.

Scouting Program To Be Outlined

The evening of Wednesday, Nov. 20 will be of great interest to boys and parents who would like to know more about scouting.

"School Night For Scouting" has been planned to present active programs and crafts to the public in the area schools. A total of 125 county schools will be open on this night at 7 o'clock.

Blackhawk district will present programs at No. 7 School - Howard Wahl, chairman; No. 30 School - Ross Rider, chairman; No. 34 School - Carl Dellefave, chairman; No. 41 School - Bob Cunningham, chairman; No. 43 School - John Lingl, chairman; and Raymond Guentner - District School Night Chairman.

"With at least six units in each school there will be many phases of scouting to see", say the leaders. "So plan now to attend and enroll your boy in a program which builds men out of boys who will be the leaders of tomorrow".

Light Out!

Nothing so fair as a sunshiny day? Yes... but! One of the nastiest headaches for homemakers when it faces the sun... particularly to the glowing new colors that just have to look young to look beautiful.

Colors that fade and streak, fabrics that actually shred and rot... they're all familiar problems in rooms that let light in. The villain? Ultraviolet—that part of the sun spectrum that's no respecter of people or property.

One way to beat the problem, of course, is to seal all your windows on the world with a coat of black paint—but who wants to live in an underground cave? I much prefer to have all the fun of letting light flood contemporary colors—cutting off the ultraviolet at the window.

What I use is draperies with a Roc-lon lining—the familiar insulated lining fabric (it comes in self-lined fabric form, too) that's done so much for decorators during the last few years. But what I didn't realize before is that the process also protects the decorative face fabric of the drapery from sun rot—and if the drapery is protected, it, in turn, can shield the rest of the room from constant ultraviolet exposure. Not to mention what a difference it makes in how long draperies last. With old-fashioned cotton sateen on the window-side, I used to have to go to all the expense of re-lining my draperies every two years... and I couldn't be happier to add that job to the discard list.

After all, keeping a home happy and beautiful is a big enough job without worrying about what's going on on the wrong side of your draperies. Isn't it?

DEAR MRS. JP: Sibley's food department carries frozen pea pods. Happy eating! Alice.

DEAR ALICE: Our church youth group is planning a party. Where can we buy a large quantity (200) balloons for our decorations and games? Also, we would like some real long ones. Thank you, Mrs. RL.

OFFERS REWARD FOR RETURN OF TOOLS

Carpenter tools which he had owned for 40 years were contained in two tool kits stolen last week from the garage of Lloyd Richardson of 527 Augustine St. For sentimental reasons, as well as for the fact that he still works part time at his trade and needs the tools, Mr. Richardson is anxious to get them back. He is offering a reward for any information leading to their recovery.

Bank Introduces Computer-Fed System

Security Trust Company is now using a new computer-fed Cathode Ray Inquiry System. The elaborate new method greatly speeds report of a number of customer transactions, and is virtually alone in its usage by Upstate New York banking institutions.

Essential elements of the new system include the Honeywell 2200 Computer, a "Random Access Disc File" (or information storage bin) keyboard, and cathode ray tube--resembling a portable television screen--upon which complete account data may be flashed in seconds.

It all works like this: A teller, branch manager, or other banking official telephones the "Inquiry Room" at the Bank's Electronic Data Processing Center at Security West. The call is answered by one of three operators who then translates this into code by use of the keyboard. This triggers a "response" from the Random Access Disc File which on its 64 rapidly spinning recording surfaces is capable of storing in excess of 150 million characters of information. Almost instantly customer information relating to the call is flashed back on the screen.

Information capable of such reportage ranges from checking and savings account balances to personal loans, consumer credit, and mortgage payments. Concerning the latter, the screen will show a complete "printout" of the current status of the account including the customer's name; remaining amount of the loan; amount in escrow; name, address, and location of property, and, payment due date... again, all processed within the matter of a second or less.

Voluntary Classes At Sacred Heart

Problems of teaching discipline and student morale, discussed at a meeting of Sacred Heart Parent-Teachers, has resulted in the start of a Friday voluntary program of classes for students, starting this week, Nov. 22 at 1 p.m.

Numerous adult members of the Cathedral have volunteered their services as well as others from the community, from St. John Fisher College and from the Area Youth Ministry.

The program was formulated as the result of an enthusiastic meeting between parents and the principal, Sister St. Peter and eighth grade teachers Sister Florence Louise, Sister St. Thomas, Miss Bernice Vieau and James Erdle. The eighth has an enrollment of 111 pupils and more than 100 sets of parents were present.

One of the prime needs of the groups is the loan of a sewing machine for one of its numerous projects. Sister Florence Louise at 254-5048 or Miss Vieau at 458-4063 would appreciate a call.

Among those assisting at the Friday sessions will be John Gould, Mrs. Albert Spaziano, Mrs. William Erwin, Mrs. Edward Carroll, Mrs. Jerry Clifford, Mike Britton, Mrs. Walter O'Neill, Mrs. Bernard Walk, Mike Lassingier, Mrs. Nell Zwierlein, Rick Kenna, Mrs. William McKenna, Mrs. F. Monrone and Mrs. James Kraft.

(More details on the program will be outlined in the Post-Courier issue out next Monday.)

LUTHERAN REDEEMER

Infant baptism will be held at both the 9 and 10:45 a.m. Sunday services. Sunday Church School is also at 9 and 10:45. A new high school class meets in the church parlor at 10:45 with discussions led by William LeCook and Roger Beiswenger.

Thursday, 6:30 p.m., Brotherhood supper. The speaker will be Leonard Bertolami showing film highlights of "Baseball's Incredible Year".

Tuesday, Nov. 26, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Lutheran Church Women's Retreat; 8 p.m. Rebekah Circle, Mrs. William Wallace, hostess.

HE WAS THERE

ARTHUR E. DUNN (above) son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dunn of Lapham St., had a tale of unusual adventure to tell when he was home on leave last week from the Navy. He was the only Rochesterian aboard the U. S. carrier Essex when it picked up the Astronauts from their recent Apollo mission.

Young Dunn, who has the rating of SFM/FN, got a real closeup of the three Astronauts and their flight capsule which he described as surprisingly small, only about eight feet in diameter. He was close enough to get several good snapshots which he and his family will long treasure.

Dunn is now on a cruise to Bermuda on the Essex, training new pilots in carrier landing procedures.

He is a graduate of John Marshall High. His parents are the proprietors of Max the Florist in Pullman Ave.

SLIMNASTIC CLASS

STARTED AT MARSHALL

A ladies' slimnastic program started last week at John Marshall High gym and will continue every Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. The first hour is given over to exercise and the second hour to organized games such as volleyball, basketball and badminton.

The same program is also being given on Thursday nights at Charlotte High School from 7 to 9.

Organized by Mary Day, the classes are under sponsorship of the city's Recreation Bureau.

Folk Masses Started Here

Sacred Heart Cathedral is now holding weekly Youth Folk Masses for area young adults at 5 p.m. in the Cathedral, 296 Flower City Pk.

Miss Barbara Hall, president of the sponsoring group, has announced that all young people interested in an "experience in creative worship" are invited to attend. Adults are also welcome, she says.

The Masses feature a youth oriented program with such innovations as folk and popular music, panel discussion sermons, "The Forum" (featuring guest speakers on youth topics), and a weekly Youth Mass bulletin. There will also be nursery service for children 1-5 years in the rectory during Mass. Refreshments will be available following each service in the rectory basement hall.

Father Philip Billotte is moderator. Other officers are: Peggy Martini, 350 Magee Ave., secretary-treasurer; Christopher Klepper, 93 Flower City Pk., liturgy; Jay Mancarella, 83 Clay Ave., music; Ellen Carroll, 1325 Lake Ave., arts; and Marie Thomas, 404 Ridgeway Ave., social.

Fall Festival At Cathedral

The school hall at Sacred Heart Cathedral will be the scene of a "fall festival" Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 22 and 23 from 6 p.m. to closing. Games, turkey booths and other attractions will follow a spaghetti dinner served from 5:30 to 8 in the rectory hall. The dinner price is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children. Tickets are being sold in advance at the rectory and will also be sold at the door.

The committee in charge is headed by Bill Mahaney and includes Eugene Zimmer, Tony and Gloria Zinone and Mrs. Frank Reber.

ROAST BEEF DINNER

A roast beef dinner will be served at Wesley United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall on Saturday, Nov. 23 from 5 to 7 p.m. Tickets are adults $2.00; children to age 10, $1.25; 25 cents for toddlers. Mrs. Walter Richardson at 865-3430 or Mrs. John Bennett at 225-6250 are taking reservations.

RETIRED CLUB LISTS

SOCIAL SECURITY TALK

The Retired Club of Dewey Ave. Presbyterian Church meets Tuesday for lunch at 12 noon. Each one to bring a sandwich and dessert will be provided by the committee in charge.

A short business meeting will be conducted after which a talk will be given by Charles Brewer, field representative of the Rochester Social Security office. He will talk on new rules governing Medicare and Social Security. A question and answer period will follow.

Cards and shuffleboard will follow the talk. All retired members of the church are invited to attend.

NEXT ISSUE MONDAY

A combined Post-Courier will be coming in the mails next Monday. It will be the annual Thanksgiving issue. Closing day for copy is tomorrow (Thursday).

Holiday Decorations Is PTA Theme

The P.T.A. of Kodak Park School No. 41 will sponsor an evening of Christmas decorations on Wednesday, Dec. 4 at 8 p.m. The program "Plans for the Holly Days", presented by Mrs. Gerard E. Brodzinski, will feature decorations for the door, wall, hall, table and gifts. Mrs. Brodzinski will demonstrate the techniques and materials used in making over 50 decorations, including wreaths, Della Robbia and centerpieces.

Following the demonstration, a sale of materials used in making the decorations will take place. The public is invited. A donation of $1.00 will benefit the P.T.A.

Mrs. Brodzinski has lectured and conducted classes in flower arranging and seasonal decorations to scores of groups. She will offer some of her decorations as prizes.

"Twenty-Eight" TOPICS
 By John J. Romano
 28th District County Legislator

Believe me, I appreciate the genuine concern of people in my district over the rising cost of government. And it is my intention to carry out the mandate which is quite evident from my conversations with many of you that something must be done to drastically trim the budget which the County Legislature now has before it.

We all know that the county is performing many services for city residents, for us right here in the 28th District, and as a consequence there has to be some increase in county taxes - which incidentally should take some of the pressure off the city administration and should result in a more favorable city tax bill for us next year.

We all know that there are other mandated increases and expenses that cannot be avoided.

But, we all know, too, that there are proposed appropriations that can and must be eliminated, no matter whose toes are stepped on.

The burdens of all these programs on real estate, on the backs of the home owners - and renters, too, is getting unbearable.

Now I am only one of 29 Legislators engaged in this agonizing business of trying to hold down taxes. But I intend to exert every influence I can to trim this budget.

And I sincerely hope that people of my district will come out to the public hearing Saturday and express themselves publicly as they are doing to me privately.

Cathedral Students Find Learning Can Be Fun

The problem of getting young teen-agers actively involved in learning and enjoying the experience is being approached in a unique way at Sacred Heart School.

Interest of the eighth grade students was captured when their teachers presented them with a list of new subjects and activities. They were asked to choose the one they would most like to know more about. From these choices a curriculum of 11 new subjects which would be offered to them on Friday afternoons was developed.

A search for volunteers to teach met with outstanding success as interested parishioners, people from St. John Fisher College and the "Area Youth Ministry" offered their services. It was decided that the program would be divided into two 12 week semesters.

The new volunteer classes began last Friday as enthusiastic students were introduced to course in Anthropology, Criminology, Knitting, Ceramics, Dramatics, Cooking, Psychology, Art, Guidance Counseling, Gym and Sewing. The Sacred Heart rectory and hall kitchen and meeting rooms are being utilized for classrooms as well as the school hall and convent kitchen. The unconventional surroundings add to the pleasure and novelty of the project.

Expenses for the program are being kept at a minimum. A small fee is paid by the participating eighth graders and much of the necessary equipment has been donated. A number of sewing machines are still needed, however. If anyone has one in working order that is no longer needed or would be willing to loan one on a temporary basis a call to Sister Florence Louise at 254-5048 or Miss B. Veau at 458-4063 would be much appreciated.

Meanwhile, Sacred Heart is on its way to prove that learning can be fun!

Recognition of Neighborhood Assn. Is Urged By City Councilman

Complaints aired at the last meeting of the Edgerton Neighborhood Association were carried to City Manager Seymour Scher in a letter from Councilman Robert Wood. He also suggested that the City "not make any plans or take any action in the Edgerton Park area without first making every effort to involve the residents of the area in the planning and decision-making".

The Councilman was present and spoke at the well-attended meeting along with Councilman Stephen May and Andrew Celli and Joseph Caverly, City Recreation Department director. The essential purpose of the meeting was to inquire as what was going to happen to an abandoned RIT building on Backus St., near Edgerton Park.

The prevailing opinion seemed to be that the building should be torn down and the available land used for recreational purposes, rather than housing.

In his letter to Scher, Wood also asked where the new Edgerton Library is to be located. He stated that the people were entitled to know and should be consulted on such a decision. The neighborhood association, specifically, should be involved, wrote Wood.

Other items mentioned in the letter were the intended use of a vacant lot opposite 232 Emerson St. (Wood suggested possible off-street parking); DPW trucks carrying excessive amounts of garbage and debris to the landfill are uncovered and spill the refuse on Emerson St. and Dewey Ave.

At the meeting Councilman Celli had promised to work for "total recreation" in the park and stated that the old RIT building would be demolished, possibly even before Christmas. Caverly endorsed the initiative of the people present and asked that they set up a steering committee that would sit down with his department "and make known the will of the people". Councilman May praised the work and goal of the Edgerton group as filling the need for "participatory democracy".

Celli Seeking Sewer Relief

Councilman Andrew Celli has received a report from the State Department of Health in response to his request for an investigation of the flooding in the Northwest area during rain storms this fall. The report notes the problem, points out that the department has no staff to carry out a remedial project and infers that the City is principally responsible for the millions of dollars involved in correction of the difficulty.

A statement issued by the Councilman, reads as follows:
"It would seem from an examination of the report, that the great increase in industry and residence development in the Northwest district over the past decades has raised a serious question as to whether or not the condition of the existing sewers can accept the flow of waters which come as a result of the rain storms.

"I have asked that the State of New York give a similar report to the appropriate officials of the City of Rochester to be used in the implementation and of a study now being made by Black & Veatch of Kansas City with regard to the problem of sewerage facilities in the City of Rochester as a whole. I strongly urge that this report be forthcoming at the earliest possible time and that a priority be given to the correction of the deficiencies which are evident in the sewerage system of the City of Rochester, and more particularly in the Northwest district which have come by reason of the tremendous growth in those areas from the time of the original installation of the sewers, some of which were installed before the turn of the century.

"I am cognizant of the increased cost which will be entailed in the correction of the deficiency and am hopeful that the State of New York can in some way, through some emergency fund in the budget, contribute monies which will necessarily be needed to bring the system up to a point where it will adequately service the areas of the City both industrial and residential".

ALBANY REPORT

By Senator
James E. Powers

TO TAX OR NOT TO TAX

The recent request of the County Manager for an increase in County taxes in excess of $12 per $1,000 assessed evaluation was received with something less than warm hearted joy. As your State Senator, I fear that the prediction made by Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges that the state would not pass new taxes this coming year may not prove correct.

On Sept. 19, State Comptroller Levitt estimated that there will be a $700 million gap between assumed tax revenues and assumed expenditures. To quote the report: "What is the reason for the existence of a gap of this magnitude? Some historic data may provide an enlightening perspective. In the last four years, expenditures have increased at the average rate of 17.4% per year, while revenues have increased at the average rate of 14.5% per year, indicating a continually widening gap. Last year this gap was $904 million. It was closed by the imposition of $340 million in new taxes and the use of $564 million in bond proceeds."

It would be unfair of me to make predictions at this moment because the Governor's budget and tax requests have not yet been made. I can only assure you that as in the past, I will strive for reducing expenditures wherever feasible, while at the same time meeting obligations which must be discharged.

State Senate Opponents Exchange Compliments

TO THE EDITOR:

I wish to thank the many people who supported me during the last campaign. I will always endeavor to honor this vote of confidence by giving the dedication that you the voter deserves from your elected representative.

I also want to take this opportunity to congratulate my opponent of the past campaign, Gordon Howe II, for waging an aggressive yet constructive and ethical campaign.

I have always looked upon a campaign as serving two purposes: 1, an opportunity to meet your constituents and put forth your platform for their approval or rejection, and 2, it affords your constituents an opportunity to meet their representatives personally. I hope that this personal meeting will encourage you to write or phone me in regards to legislation which you support or oppose.

JAMES E. POWERS
Member of Senate

The Rochester District of the United Methodist Church announces a district missionary rally and workshop for missions at Grace United Methodist Church, 121 Driving Park Ave., Dec. 8 at 5:30 p.m.

The speaker will be Dr. Harold Neel, executive secretary, Section on Education Joint Committee on Education and Cultivation of the United Methodist Board of Missions. Dr. Neel has traveled extensively. He made a four and a half month tour visiting British Columbia, Canada, Hawaii, Japan, China, Philippines, Malaya, Ceylon, India, Egypt, Greece, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Belgium, Holland, France and England; at another time, visited eight countries in Europe during a good will tour with a group of 15 district missionary secretaries.

Dr. Neel was elected in 1964 to his present position as one of the principal executives of The United Methodist Board of Missions in the field of Missionary Education and Interpretation. In his work he is responsible for the training of nearly 700 conference and district missionary secretaries and of about 34,000 chairmen of the commissions on missions in local churches.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

A reminder to the Rochester area's elderly people who are covered under Medicare comes from Joseph Tomaino, District Manager of the Social Security Administration.

His reminder has to do with the time limit for claiming benefits under the Medical Insurance Program. Anyone who has had medical services in the period from Oct. 1, 1966, through Sept. 30, 1967, must file his claim for payment by Dec. 31, 1968.

Ordinarily, there are two ways to collect medical insurance benefits under Medicare, Tomaino said. One is to let the doctor, if he agrees, collect directly from Medicare. The second way is for one to apply for the payment. All one has to do is get an itemized bill and send it in together with his Request for Medicare Payment, Form SSA-1490, to the Social Security office.

Tomaino added that detailed instructions appear on pages 22-26 of the red, white, and blue "Your Medicare Handbook" which was mailed to every elderly person covered under Medicare. If one needs more information or assistance, he is urged to get in touch with the local Social Security office at 107 Clinton Ave., N. The office is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and until 9 every Thursday evening. The telephone number is 325-6640.

SECOND CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

The traditional Thanksgiving Day service in Second Church of Christ, Scientist, on Thursday, will include a period of testimonies of gratitude to God from individuals in the congregation. The service is at 10:30 a.m. The church is located at 1 Seneca Pkwy.

The soloist, David A. Stuart, will sing "Song of Thanksgiving", music by Richard L. A. Wallbridge and words by John Randall Dunn, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Margaret Morrow. Also, the congregation will join in singing several hymns.

"Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift" (II Corinthians 9:15), the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon, states the opening theme of the service.

Aquinas Mothers Organize Drive For Basilian Home Furnishings

Some of the Aquinas mothers took a tour through the Basilian Fathers home on Augustine St. recently and reported that they could hardly believe what they saw. Many of the rooms are without drapes, others without bedspreads and rugs.

The priests have never complained about this, say the ladies, nor do they ask for any help. But the mothers thought it would be a good idea to appeal to anyone who might be getting new drapes for Christmas, to launder their old ones, and if they are still serviceable, to send them to the Basilian Fathers.

They can also use rugs, mirrors, bedspreads, blankets, desks and bookcases, as well as kitchen equipment -- china cabinets, large bowls, a mixer, a blender, stainless steel knives, forks & spoons, glasses for water and juice, and pot holders.

There are 45 bedrooms, so they can use most anything that is serviceable. The suggestion was also made that interested persons could donate books of TV and Green Stamps to help supply some of the needed items.

The group of mothers said that they appreciate all the effort these priests expend in helping their boys, and the time that they devote to extra-curricular activities, especially the sports programs; and they would like to help repay them in some little way by making their living quarters a little more pleasant.

DEADLINE for news and want ads FRIDAY preceding date of issue.

Celli Promises Action To ENA

Action on several problems discussed at the recent meeting of the Edgerton Neighborhood Association has been promised by Councilman Andrew G. Celli. In a letter to Alan K. Brumber, association president, Celli wrote as follows:

"Thank you for the privilege of appearing before the Edgerton Neighborhood Association. I found the meeting very informative and hope that I was of help to those members who were concerned about the future of Edgerton Park.

"There were several questions raised that evening that could not be answered immediately. One had to do with locating the library once the RIT building is removed. At present, we are negotiating a lease on Al's Party House, on Bloss Street, so that we can use that structure as a temporary site to which the library can be moved immediately. Permanent relocation of the library will have to wait until studies are made on the feeder pattern for a new library and until an adequate location for a new building can be found. We will, of course, consult with your group as these efforts progress.

"Another question that went unanswered at the meeting had to do with debris falling off trucks on their way to the Emerson Landfill. Experience has indicated that it is not always possible to use mesh coverings on bulk debris trucks, because covering the trucks cuts down considerably on the amount of bulk refuse the trucks can carry. At the present time a training program is underway with DPW personnel; the program covers the proper loading and stacking of trucks; proper level of load; proper wetting down of debris; responsibility for retrieving fallen material, etc. I believe there has been considerable improvement in this area, and that the situation will continue to improve. If you continue to get complaints about these trucks, I would appreciate your letting us know about it.

"I hope you are going ahead with plans to form a Recreation Committee to meet with Mr. Caverly. Edgerton Park is potentially the best recreation area in the City. The cooperation of your association can assure achievement of the park's potential."

Concert To Mark Diocese Centennial

A concert commemorating the centennial of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester and the Diamond Jubilee of St. Bernard's Seminary will be held December 10 at Nazareth College Arts Center.

Featuring two new compositions - "Gloria" done in jazz version by Chuck Mangione and a cantata by Dr. Wayne Barlow, the program is designed to picture the sweep of Catholic music - liturgical and concert - throughout the centuries.

Dr. Barlow, associate dean for graduate research studies at the Eastman School of Music, was commissioned to write the cantata for the 100th anniversary of the Diocese by the Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, bishop of the Rochester Diocese.

Chuck Mangione, well known for his jazz recordings of contemporary music, is on the faculty of the Eastman School of Music and Hochstein Music School.

The first part of the concert includes samples of Gregorian chant, sung by the choir of St. Bernard's Seminary; samples of classical polyphony sung by the choir of Holy Rosary Church, under the direction of Donald C. Meminger, choir director, and a folk Mass. Mangione's arrangement of the Gloria and the (concert) Mass of St. Bernard's follows.

The concluding number to the first part, "Act of Contrition" has been set to music by Joe Mooney, national figure in the jazz world -- singer, organist and accordionist. Mooney lives in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. Chuck Mangione will conduct both the Joe Mooney arrangement and the Gloria. Gap Mangione, brother of Chuck and popular jazz performer, has arranged the Joe Mooney work for chorus and orchestra.

The second part of the concert is devoted to the cantata. The singers will be the combined choirs of St. Bernard's Seminary and Nazareth College.

Planning the event are: Rev. Benedict Ehmann, pastor of St. Michael's Church Rochester, and chairman of the music commission of the Diocese of Rochester. Also Father John Frega, O.F.M. Cap., St. Bernard's Seminary, former jazz musician.

Light Up The Holidays

One of the nicest ways to accent and glamorize the festive holiday time is via lighting magic. And holiday lights mean much more than just the pretty colored ones most families string up on the Christmas tree.

Consider, for example, a new way to call attention to a pretty mantel decoration. By mounting two small reflector lamps on each side of the mantel and aiming the beams so they cross directly above the display, you can highlight an ornate wreath, a rustic creche made by your children, a holiday flower arrangement. Another interesting lighting idea is to hang a snowflake mobile grouping in a corner and shine a floodlight for unusual shadows cast on the wall.

Decorating a doorway at holiday time is a delightful way of saying "Welcome" to friends and relatives. If you have a bunch of pine boughs, an oversize styrofoam candy cone or gay Santa Claus, use a Sylvania PAR-38 lamp in a weatherized socket to accent the doorway.

Try a 100-watt mercury vapor light on your evergreen trees—the blue spruce in particular—and see the beautiful silvery results. No other lamp can achieve this effect. Colorful life-size cut-outs of carolers or smiling Santa and reindeer on your front lawn will look really charming and stand out brightly with a pair of Sylvania PAR lamps concealed in the shrubbery or with evergreen branches—and will also throw interesting shadows on the house front.

Holiday time is traditionally the season of lights and warmth—from the glowing brightness of an open fire, to the brilliantly sparkling colored lights of the tree.

Mother Of The Bride

This year, the bridal season finds me in the same boat with thousands of other women playing the role of the Mother of the Bride. Many women look forward to this event but somehow seem to cast themselves in the Leading Part; I feel this is one time when it's best to be happy with the role of Supporting Player.

While the bridesmaids' dresses are generally co-ordinated in color and follow the bride's preference, the Mother of the Bride's outfit is usually left to her own choosing. I think that she should select the subtlest, most inconspicuous outfit—something simple and elegant. The over-grown flowered chapeau, or wide-brimmed organdy concoction only call attention to the Mother's desire for attention—and should be avoided. The thing to remember is—it's Her day—and not yours.

One of my daughters wanted a simple wedding in the judge's chambers, and the event for another of my children was just the opposite—a large affair with all the trimmings. Each bride chooses her own style—and I think it's Mother's place to go along with her daughter's desires.

To me, a wedding is always a champagne affair whatever its simplicity or elaborateness. And for this one-in-a-lifetime occasion, get the best kind you can afford. Remember too, that children like to feel grown-up, so for ring-bearers, flower girls and all the young fry, you should provide ice bucketed, napkin-wrapped bottles of Pepsi-Cola, and have them poured in champagne glasses with maraschino cherries floating in them. It's a nice way to let the little ones "toast" the bride and groom.

Drive Opens For Martin dePorres

Thomas H. Brenna of Lake Ave. is general chairman and several others from this area are on the 200-member committee for the St. Martin dePorres Center Development Fund campaign now under way throughout the county.

A minimum goal of $100,000 in cash and pledges is being sought for purchase or construction of a larger building and for operating costs for the "inner city" center, which services hundreds of poor Whites, Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the 7th Ward neighborhood.

THE WORLD AROUND US... by THOMPSON OF THE 82 MILLION ACRES OF INLAND FISHING WATERS IN THE U.S., MICHIGAN POSSESSES MORE THAN ANY OTHER STATE!

TO PRODUCE THE TREMENDOUS NUMBERS OF FISH NEEDED TO KEEP THE LAKES AND STREAMS STOCKED REQUIRES SOME 60 DIFFERENT PESTICIDE CHEMICALS. THESE ARE USED TO IMPROVE THE AQUATIC HABITAT, TO PERIODICALLY REMOVE TRASH FISH, AND TO CONTROL DISEASE.

WITHOUT THE ASSISTANCE OF THESE CHEMICALS, SPORTS FISHING IN MICHIGAN (WHICH PUT OVER 100 MILLION DOLLARS INTO THE POCKETS OF MICHIGANERS) WOULD BE IN SERIOUS TROUBLE! -AND IN OTHER STATES TOO.

DEAR MOTHER
Have you considered your daughter's future? It would be a most practical of Christmas gifts if you invested in gleaming, stainless steel waterless cookware for her hope chest. A gift to last her a lifetime, that will always be cherished and be a constant reminder of Mother.
Do your Christmas shopping in the privacy of your own home. For a personal appointment, call Victor Foti or Evan Smith, 377-5713.

Where the Sports are!

California leads the way — with New York close behind — when it comes to the wonderful world of sports, says the National Sporting Goods Association.

According to a recent tally of sporting goods sales in 1968, California and New York, along with Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Texas, Michigan, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Florida, accounted for 59.22% of the total United States sports market!

The study also showed that America's "top ten" sports activities are (in order): boating, bowling, fishing, billiards, ice skating, camping, hunting, golf, water skiing and archery.

Put on a Christmas Face

Santa Claus has a happy face! Be a merry gift giver when it comes to filling the Christmas stockings and include a jar of facial washing cream in each of the stockings hung by a modern miss. She'll love to have a face as happy as Santa's without the worry of drying soaps and winter winds. Greasy creams will be a thing of the past as she shows to the world a face that's thoroughly cleaned and romantically soft — without soap or cream.

NAZARETH UNAFFECTED BY ZONING CHANGES

The speculation that a proposed zoning change on Lake Ave. will effect the status of Nazareth Academy is completely inaccurate, says Councilman William Malley. "The future of Nazareth, as a school where the young women in our community will continue to receive a fine education is assured," says Malley. "And will not be affected by any zoning change being considered by the City Council.

"The only intention of the proposed change of zoning on Lake Ave. is to make land in the Lake Ave. and Blir St. vicinity available for apartment construction."

CONTACT LENSES AND YOU
by GEORGE THOMPSON

TWENTY MILLION EYES HAVE IT

New York (NAPS)—"Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the fairest one of all?" Snow White's wicked queen asked the question, and today nearly ten million people say they have the answer. For that many claim they look and see better with contact lenses and nobody knows they wear "glasses."

November is National Contact Lens Month, time to take a look into the tiny vision aids and why so many people use them.

For one thing, the lens has come a long way since Leonardo Da Vinci sketched the idea in 1508. The lens finally came to us 100 years ago, made of glass and the size of half an eggshell. Now it's aspirin-size, paper-thin and made of plastic.

According to Barnes-Hind Ophthalmic Products, makers of solutions and accessories for the care of contact lenses, a century of research allows the contact to be used in many ways. They can be optically ground as bifocals, sunglasses, monacles (when only one eye needs correction), and as pairs. Unlike eyeglasses, contacts float on the eye's tear layer and cover only the cornea, the part of the eye out of which we see. Capillary attraction keeps them in place. That's what makes a wet coin cling to a table top.

Women, chiefly for cosmetic reasons, make up 75% of all adult users of contacts. Teens and pre-teens add up to about 25% of the total picture. Most adapted to their lenses (achieved day-long wear) in 2 to 6 weeks.

Professional people make dramatic use of lenses. Models are naturals and, of course, so are professional athletes. The late Cecil B. DeMille had many of his stars outfitted with them, notably Charlton Heston, Esther Williams, Nina Foch and others. Even President Johnson is said to have worn them for speech-making.

Near- and far-sightedness are the chief vision problems corrected with contact lenses. Astigmatism (wavy, distorted vision) is another one. The image one sees through a contact comes closer to 20/20 (normal) vision than that offered by any vision correction device known.

Barnes-Hind says some 120 million Americans need a vision correction of some kind. A large percentage are contact lens candidates. But, the company advises, only an eye specialist can decide. There are some 20,000 contact lens practitioners in the country.

DAVID L. WALL, 16, a junior at John Marshall High, has been named an Eagle Scout, the highest honor in the Boy Scouts. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wall, 540 Birr St.

Santa May Be Hard To Find This Year

Don't be too quick to promise your youngsters a visit to Santa Claus at the nearest department store. He may not be there.

A company that specializes in hiring temporary help, Manpower, Inc., says there is a serious shortage of Christmas Santas . . . and the demand is up.

There are so many easier jobs available before Christmas that fewer men each year want to take on an assignment that puts them into a hot costume, flowing beard and close contact with the younger set and their mothers.

In 475 cities throughout the nation, the company's offices bend every effort to filling hundreds of orders for the jolly old elf.

This year, with employment figures at their highest level, it is expected an unprecedented number of merchants will turn to temporary help firms for assistance in finding Santas and other employees to help out during the annual shopping spree.

Throughout the country Manpower offices report many unusual jobs that provide fun and profit for temporary workers. A Los Angeles department store hired a magician in full attire, complete with cape, to demonstrate a new magic set. He was trained for the assignment by a professional magician.

Ladies dressed in costumes varying from Santa's brownies to bunnies are in demand for company Christmas parties. And, as good Santas become harder to find, demands increase for Mrs. Santa Clauses.

Mayor Urges Better Facilities, Proclaims Week For Handicapped

Mayor Frank Lamb has issued an official proclamation to proclaim this week as "Architectural Barriers Week." Receiving the proclamation is Miss Joann Keyser of Augustine St, who has just returned from Israel where she competed in the paraolympics.

The purpose of "Architectural Barriers Week" is to call to public attention the need for making public facilities available to the handicapped -- to show what has been done and what remains to be done.

It is estimated that in the Rochester area alone over 50,000 people cannot lead a complete life of involvement and activity in the community simply because they cannot use the physical facilities.

Just two years ago, the city of Rochester adopted legislation requiring all new buildings to be designed to include features for use by the handicapped, Rochester is a pioneer with this legislation and is serving as an example to many other cities.

A continuing campaign to bring about changes in existing structures and to pass legislation on the State and Federal levels has been conducted by the Architectural Barriers Committee of the Easter Seal Society.

The committee also announced the establishment of an information center at the Al Sigl Building where persons may call to find out about the accessibility of over 200 buildings surveyed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Few people realize the magnitude of this program. In observing "Architectural Barriers Week" the Easter Seal Society hopes that more people will become aware of the need to plan for everyone in buildings, sidewalks and public transportation.

Band Discovery
Contest Dec. 14

The Rochester Recreation Bureau announces it will stage a giant Teenage Band Discovery Contest, Amateur teenage talent (14-18 years) including both boys and girls may enter. Incentive prizes and awards include scheduled public performances, trophies, and valuable musical equipment, donated by area music shops.

Auditions are scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 14 at the Edgerton Park Stardust Room, from 10 to 7. Twenty semi-finalists will be chosen for the grand finals.

Interested groups should contact their nearest city playground leader or band contest director Art Zazzaro at Maplewood Recreation Center, 254-9723.

Ask Alice

Address requests to: ALICE, Post-Courier Office, 495 Emerson St., Rochester, N.Y. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope if personal reply is requested.

DEAR ALICE: Recently I saw some round sandwiches on pastel colored bread. Do you know how the bread was colored? Mrs. P., Pullman Ave.

DEAR MRS. P.: Sure do! It's done at the bakery and you're lucky to have Johnson's Bakery so close. Just call and they will color and slice the loaves as you wish. Great for pinwheel sandwiches. Alice.

* * * *

DEAR ALICE: What colors the water in those decorative jars? I have a jar I would like to use but I don't know what to put in it. Mrs. WC.

DEAR MRS. WC: Would you believe food coloring! Yup, as simple as that, Alice.

ALICE SAYS

Pinwheel sandwiches are fun. Have your loaves of colored or white bread cut lengthwise. Remove the crusts and save for other recipes. Put one long slice on your counter and spread with filling, roll widthwise, wrap in damp towel and chill.

Cut the sandwiches just before guests arrive and cover plate with piece of waxed paper then damp towel until ready to serve.

If you roll your sandwiches in the morning, there is less to do at the critical time before guests arrive. The following are some filling suggestions; these are easy and so good!

Use cream cheese as your base, then - -

Moisten with a small amount of milk, add chopped cherries, nice on pink bread.

Add drained crushed pineapple, nice on green bread.

Add chopped black or green olives, nice on yellow bread.

- OR -

Spread with seasoned butter, then - -

Place a row of cherries along first edge to be rolled, roll and chill, then slice. Each pinwheel will have a slice of cherry in the middle.

Also can be done with small pickles (remove ends), olives or radishes, etc.

New Man's Fragrance Named For Bacchus

The American male with a flair for fun could well be a direct descendant of the great god Bacchus — at least in spirit, says a press release to the Courier, from New York City. The blurb goes on: "Bacchus, the Roman god of wine, women and song, was one of the world's great party givers. His festivals of fun, called Bacchanals, are unrivalled throughout history. The most beautiful women, romantic music and cups running over with nectar of the gods were standard equipment when Bacchus played host.

"Now, a fragrance for modern day gods recalls his glories. The new fragrance — Bacchus, is dedicated to the principle of livening things up — just as the Roman god of revelry would like it.

"In the search for a scent that typifies the spirit of Bacchus, a variety of fragrance formulas were tested by bachelors from coast to coast. Their overwhelming choice was a straightforward scent with rugged overtones that proved to have a very winning way with women (to be perfectly honest, it didn't have much effect on wine and song).

"Bacchus is available in cologne and after shave and in sets of after shave with either cologne or deodorant. Available at drug and department stores, the fragrance comes in man-sized carafes packaged in royal Bacchus green and gold." —Adv.

"Project Opportunity" Plans Job Interviews

Representatives from some 55 local and area businesses and organizations, both large and small will conduct recruitment interviews with area college students during Rochester's third annual "Project Opportunity," to be held at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday, December 27 and Monday, December 30.

Sponsored by the Rochester-Monroe County Area Development Council of the Chamber, the two-day program aims to acquaint college students who are graduating next June and who live in this area with the wide variety of job opportunities open to them.

Co-chairmen of this year's College Recruitment Committee are Richard F. Delmonte of St. John Fisher College and Irving VanSlyke, Jr., of Rochester Institute of Technology. They stated that the main purpose of Project Opportunity is to keep Rochester talent in the Rochester area by providing students with a quick and easy interviewing method - offering interviews with 55 area organizations under one roof at one time. The sessions also are a convenient means for area employers to interview qualified college degree candidates. The local program is one of several "Community Career Opportunity Conferences" held throughout the country.

Several thousand folders listing the participating companies and career opportunities have already been distributed to students and placement directors at nearly 200 colleges, universities, and "college-level" schools throughout New York State and surrounding areas. All college seniors, candidates for advanced or associate degrees, and eligible servicemen are invited to participate.

Career openings in more than 50 categories from accounting to warehousing are being offered by the participating firms, with a number of job opportunities in the popular fields of engineering, marketing, sales, and business administration. Among the other career fields listed by Project Opportunity are hydraulics, finance, teaching, secretarial, investment analysis, data processing, research, and library work.

For students not already registered for Project Opportunity through their colleges, registration cards are available at the Chamber of Commerce. Advertisements to appear during December in local and campus newspapers will also carry registration forms. There is no fee for registration.

Assisting Richard Delmonte and Irving VanSlyke on this year's Project Opportunity program are subcommittee chairmen Robert S. Hanford, Michael Vadala, Michael DeNicola, Hyman Goldstein, Kathleen McKeown, Albert S. Kavanaugh, and William K. Lyman.

Local placement directors serving as advisors include: James Allan of the State University College at Geneseo, Mr. Delmonte of St. John Fisher College, John Kenney of the University of Rochester, Charles Lang of the State University College at Brockport, Kathleen McKeown of Nazareth College, Nicholas Proia of Monroe Community College, David Shafer of Roberts Wesleyan College, and Mr. VanSlyke of Rochester Institute of Technology.

Most everyone takes us for granted.

(and we're working to keep it that way)

Reliability of electric service is something that most Americans do take for granted . . . and we intend to keep it that way.

To further improve reliability and efficiency RG&E and the 19 other interconnected electric utilities in New York, New England and the Province of Ontario, which make up The Northeast Power Coordinating Council, have established master control centers in Albany, Springfield, Mass., and Toronto.

The Albany center which is being built by RG&E and other New York State utility companies is now under construction. The other centers will follow shortly.

In addition RG&E and the 19 inter-connected utilities have modified operating practices and installed automatic equipment to guard against cascading system collapse and make sure that the effect of equipment failure can be localized.

These are but a few of the steps which have been taken by the electric industry to keep your electric supply reliable and free from interruptions.

Off To New York To Meet Relative Who Won Italian Prize Contest

A party of 18 Rochesterians, many of them from this neighborhood, are flying to New York tomorrow (Thursday) morning to greet a 61 year old relative who is arriving by ship from Italy as the result of winning a contest sponsored by a newspaper in Bologna.

Giacomo Zazzara of Pescara, Italy, won the prize with a letter expressing his desire to come to America to see the family he had not seen since childhood. Most of his brothers and sisters had gone to America when he was one year old. Some of the brothers and sisters are making the trip to New York, including Gene Zaz-zara of Santee St. and Mrs. Connie DeSanctis of Myrtle Hill Pk. Also in the party are some of his nieces and nephews.

It is not known whether Giacomo will have time to come to Rochester, but it is hoped he can. He is on an excursion which has taken him through the Caribbean, to the Bahamas and Florida and from there to New York.

Arrangements for this all-expense paid reunion, on the Rochester end, have been made through the courtesy of Il Progresso Italo Americana newspaper and its Rochester correspondent, Joseph Capogreco. Mr. Capogreco, who is director of the Italian Carousel and teacher of Italian at Jefferson High School, was contacted by his New York editor.

NEXT ISSUE MONDAY

The Christmas issue of the Post-Courier is being published next week, to reach the homes on Monday, Dec. 23. All copy for this issue must be submitted no later than tomorrow (Thursday).

DEADLINE for news and want ads FRIDAY preceding date of issue.

Dec. 31 Deadline For S.S. Forms

A reminder to the Rochester area's elderly people who are covered under Medicare comes from Joseph Tomaino, District Manager of the Social Security Administration.

His reminder has to do with the time limit for claiming benefits under the Medical Insurance Program. Anyone who had had medical services in the period from October 1, 1966, through September 30, 1967, must file his claim for payment by Dec. 31.

Ordinarily, there are two ways to collect medical insurance benefits under Medicare, Tomaino said. One is to let the doctor, if he agrees, collect directly from Medicare. The second way is for one to apply for the payment. All one has to do is get an itemized bill and send it in together with his Request for Medicare Payment, Form SSA-1490, to the Social Security office.

Tomaino added that detailed instructions appear on pages 22-26 of the red, white and blue "Your Medicare Handbook" which was mailed to every elderly person covered under Medicare. If one needs more information or assistance, he is urged to get in touch with the local Social Security office at 107 Clinton Ave., N. The office is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and until 9 every Thursday evening. The telephone number is 325-6640.

Ask Alice

Address requests to: ALICE,
Post-Courier Office, 495 Emerson
St., Rochester, N.Y. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope if personal reply is requested.

DEAR ALICE: I too would like directions on the Mung Beans.
Could you please tell me where Flatt Street is located? Mrs. MF,
Lakeview Pk.

DEAR MRS. LF: The Mung Bean directions were sent to you in your enclosed envelope. Flatt Street is off of W. Henrietta Rd, near the Brighton Henrietta Rd, Alice.

DEAR ALICE: I have a solution instead of a problem. Here it is:
The next time you must shorten a hemline and you don't have the proper shade thread, take the thread out of the present hem all in one piece and roll it onto the stub of a candle. Voila! You have twice as much thread as you need since hand hemming uses less. Draw the thread over the candle and the waxed thread will draw easier through the material. Mrs. JC, Steko Ave.

DEAR ALICE: Do you know of a store in Rochester where I can purchase elderberries? Thank you.
Mrs. RR.

DEAR MRS. RR: Ontario, N. Y.
is the closest I can get. Boukhout Farms at 212 Old Ridge Rd, carries elderberries. They are packed in 28 pound cans at a cost of $10.00.
These are frozen straight pack, no sugar. Better pick them up right away because the supply is very limited. You can call them at 1-315-524-4041 for more information. They are open from 9 to 5, Alice.

DEAR MRS. H. LaR: Watch this space! I think I have a line on your pattern, Alice.

Desserts—Plain Or Fancy?
The thing that homemakers like most about desserts is that they can often save a less than stupendous meal; when the last licks are marvelous—who remembers the first one?

Of course it's easy to make a fantastic dessert if you spend a fantastic amount of time at it. The trick is in preparing a dish that looks like you really logged in the time—but really took only a short span. For example, fruit gelatin desserts are quickies, but if you fold in one cup of ripe mashed bananas just when its starting to thicken slightly, then the result looks and tastes much more elaborate. Even fancier, is folding in a half cup of whipped cream and then filling parfait glasses with the mixture plus four ripe bananas and garnishing with a few slices of the tasty yellow fruit. A dessert like "Banana Ambrosia" is simple too. In a bowl merely combine two sliced Chiquita Brand bananas with two peeled and sectioned oranges, sprinkle with sugar and top with flaked coconut. After the refrigerator "cools it" then it's ready to make its refreshing appearance at the end of your meal.

An all-time all-American favorite is smooth, divinely delicious Banana Cream Pie. A quickie way to make it is by using a pre-baked pie shell, filling it with pudding or pie filling mix and when it's cooled off ten minutes, garnish with prettily placed little slices of Chiquita Brand bananas and top with sweetened whipped cream. Everyone can make just desserts. But the really envied homemaker is the one who can add a little dash of ingenuity and come up with an almost wholly new food idea. Golden, sweet bananas are one of the most versatile ingredients in turning the ordinary dessert into the extraordinary one.

BBB Warns Against Carved Chest Fraud

The Better Business Bureau reports that a California company, known as Imperial Trading Co., Ltd., apparently makes it their business to follow the obituary columns and send the following notice to a recently deceased individual:

"We cannot ship carved chest until receipt of $9.82 covering handling and miscellaneous charges".

Survivors usually have no knowledge of such an order having been placed. One Rochester resident said she was sure her deceased father had not ordered the chest.

The Los Angeles BBB has notified the local Bureau that they have received other complaints in the last two weeks against this company and that they have been turned over to the Postal Inspectors for their investigation.

Bureau manager Robert C. Hildreth states that families of a recently deceased person can expect to receive all types of solicitations of this nature during the first two or three weeks following the death. He said that in cases of this type they should insist that the company provide proof that the deceased person placed an order.

The Snared Runner

A Rochester made motion picture depicting the frustrations and hopes and eventual return to active life of a man who has suffered a stroke is being presented on all four Rochester television channels during this month and next.

Sponsored by the Genesee Valley Heart Association, the film shows how a planned and intensive rehabilitation program can enable a patient to recover many of the functions that are lost due to the brain damage caused by a stroke.

The film which was produced by Ann Rogers, Inc. explains how physical and occupational therapy and other services are coordinated to give the stroke victim the maximum chance of becoming a productive member of society again.

Dr. Joseph Pecora, president of the local heart chapter, pointed out that the film should be of equal value to area physicians, nurses, therapists and others who treat stroke patients, the patients themselves and their families, since it describes the many interrelated agencies and professional services that are available for stroke rehabilitation in the area.

The film will be aired on Saturday, Dec. 21, at 7 p.m. over WROC, Channel 8; on Sunday, Dec. 29, at 5 p.m. over WHEC, Channel 10, and Monday, Jan. 27 at 7 p.m. over Channel 21 (UHF).

Russer Market
Closes Doors

Saturday, Dec. 14 was a sad day for many residents of the old Dutchtown area. It marked the closing of the Russer Market which for several generations has been catering to the food needs of the neighborhood.

The closing, which apparently is final, was one of a series of misfortunes for the Russer enterprises. What is described as a "financial bind" caused the recently completed modern, million dollar sausage making plant in Fairport to close its doors and the local meat market, which was being run mostly as a service to loyal employees - as well as to the community, also had to go.

Sky-rocketing construction costs, the unexpected expense of a water treatment plant, late deliveries of materials and malfunction of a key machine are some of the headaches which brought on the trouble, according to Max Russer, who is hopeful that new financing can be arranged so that the company can resume operation in the near future. For the past six months, since the new plant got into operation, there had been a sizeable profit, says Russer, and in a period of time the initial losses would have been overcome.

Christ Presbyterian Services Set In New Edifice Christmas Eve

Christ Presbyterian Church will hold its first services in its new edifice at Fulton and Locust Sts. tomorrow (Tuesday) night. The workmen will be in the building almost up to the final hour, but the long anticipated privilege of holding Christmas Eve services in the new church's chapel is about to be realized.

Numerous delays and problems have set back the original schedule of construction, but in the words of Frank Valenza, new building chairman, "it will be worth waiting for".

The traditional Christmas Eve communion service is planned to start at 11 p.m. with the pastor, Rev. Robert Booher in the pulpit. The first Sunday service is set for Jan. 5, the date for the monthly celebration and three hour service, starting at 10 a.m. and concluding with a communion meal.

Next Sunday the morning service will be held as usual in the St. Anthony's meeting hall in Costar St.

Laying of the cornerstone and dedication of the new church is planned for Sunday, Jan. 19.

When did you last have your eyes examined?

You know, of course, that your eyes change. Sometimes rapidly . . . sometimes so gradually you are not conscious of the difference. A yearly professional examination is the only way to make sure your eyes are properly protected. Competent eye care is more than a hurried fitting and ordinary glasses. Your vision is much too precious to entrust to any but experts at the highest professional level . . . or to take a chance on any but the best in ophthalmic materials.

Ask Alice

Address requests to: ALICE, Post-Courier Office, 495 Emerson St., Rochester, N.Y. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope if personal reply is requested.

DEAR ALICE: I've looked all over for the Medi-Guard bracelets and necklaces that can be engraved with the facts about a person's allergies. Mrs. JG, Keeler St.

DEAR MRS. JG: These can be purchased at Northside Apothecary at 1299 Portland Ave. The engraving takes about two weeks. Alice.

DEAR ALICE: I love to send away for things advertised in the magazines; but quite often I have had problems of one sort or another and been disappointed. What can you suggest to make my ordering easier. Mrs. LC.

DEAR MRS. LC: Let's clear up your biggest problem - order at home and you'll have fewer problems. Remember, your local merchant's best selling tool is his good reputation. You'll be surprised to find that almost all the things advertised in magazines can be bought right here in Rochester. If you have trouble finding something ASK ALICE, that's what I'm here for, Alice.

P.S.: You'll save on postage, too.

DEAR ALICE: I need a plumber. Can you find a good one for me? Mrs. OL.

DEAR MRS. OL: Sorry, that's one of the few things we don't do. Remember to be sure your plumber is properly licensed; the homeowner is responsible for the work done and the quality of material used in his home, Alice.

A GRAND INSTRUMENT

Tunnel of Love? No, they are rims of baby and concert grand pianos.

What takes 12,000 parts and around a year to make? "A grand piano!" answers John Steinway whose family has been making them for 114 years. In an age of assembly lines, a fine piano is unique in that it remains a product of handcraftsmanship.

The first piano was made by an Italian, Bartolomeo di Francesco Cristofori in about 1709. Although the basic principle of the instrument has remained the same, there have been many refinements since that first 18th century piano. Steinway has received more than 100 U.S. patents for many of these developments.

The heart of the piano consists, chiefly, of such unglamorous materials as wood, wire, steel, iron and felt. During the opulent days of the Victorian era, however, people of wealth ordered very glamorous trappings on the outside of their pianos. Custom-built cases were decorated with gold, mother-of-pearl, ivory and silver. One luxury grand, complete with a hand painting on the lid, took five years to complete and cost $40,000, an astronomical figure in the 1880's. Today, we tend to let the beauty of the piano speak for itself in terms of tone and quality.

New Service

Announcement of a new inexpensive record-keeping service for business and professional men has been made by J. Wallace Ely, Security Trust Company president. Known as Record-O-Chek, the new system was developed by the bank's operations department to make maximum use of the Security Trust computer center.

Designed to be used by any customer having a regular checking account, the new system provides a concise record of all income and expense transactions during the month plus totals and percentages for the current month and year to date. In addition there is a dollar and percentage comparison with the previous year. It is expected that Record-O-Chek will appeal primarily to physicians, dentists, attorneys, farmers and owners of virtually any kind of small business. But the bank emphasized, the plan is available to all regular checking account customers.

How To Handle Hong Kong Flu

Dr. Wendell R. Ames, director of the Monroe County Department of Health, has issued the following recommendations and comments regarding the outbreak of Hong Kong flu in the community:

1-- For the average person, the illness is relatively mild and is characterized by fever, muscle aches, and abdominal and respiratory upsets.

2-- Bed rest, fluids, and aspirin are advisable for the relief of symptoms. Antibiotics have no effect on influenza.

3-- If fever persists for more than three days or if complications occur, such as a sore throat, a physician should be consulted.

4-- A vaccine for protection against Hong Kong flu is in short supply, and should be reserved for use among high risk groups, such as the elderly and those with chronic heart-lung diseases.

New Christ Church To Be Dedicated As Northwest Ecumenical Center

The new Christ Presbyterian about to be dedicated and put into practical use at Fulton Ave. and Locust St. will be much more than just a neighborhood church, says the pastor, Rev. Robert Booher. It is also intended to be the ecumenical center for this part of the city and half of its program will be non-church related, according to present plans.

The morning worship and Sunday School services of the unique new church will be held there next Sunday for the first time. Cornerstone laying is scheduled at 11:30 a.m. on Sunday, Jan. 12 and dedication exercises on Jan. 19. (All services have been at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Costar St. and offices have been at Dewey and Locust during the construction period.)

The church edifice is a one story building of distinctive, but util-

Market Still Has Old Fashioned Cuts

Time marches on and the old fashioned meat market is nearly a thing of the past. One of the few exceptions in this area is Arrow Market at 837 Dewey Ave.

For instance how many markets can come up with pork plunks, (heart, lungs, liver, etc.) lamb plunks, tripe, pigs tails, pork rind, etc., etc. Look no further. Arrow Market still carries them.

These rarities were looked upon almost as delicacies by the older generation, particularly those who were born in the old country. However they mean very little to the younger generation who depend more and more upon packaged and prepared foods.

"Don't give people the impression that we're old fashioned", said Frank Casaceli, Arrow Market partner, when interviewed about the old fashioned cuts. "We do have the things the old folks want, but we also run a modern first class market, with a showcase full of cut meats. And be sure to mention that they are not pre-packaged and that we cut our meats to order."

Assisting Search For R.I.T. Prexy

John Gundrum of Pullman Ave. is one of a small committee named to find a successor to Dr. Mark Ellington, president of Rochester Institute of Technology. The committee is given a year to make its recommendations and will review possible candidates on a national basis.

The five-member advisory committee, in addition to Gundrum, includes Dr. Leo Smith, vice president of Academics at R.I.T.; Ralph Gray, representing the faculty; Harris Rusitsky, president of the Alumni Association; and Grey Evans, president of the Day Students Association. The selection of the new president will be the responsibility of the Board of Trustees, but the committee's recommendations will also be considered, according to Arthur L. Stern, board chairman.

Gundrum, who is president of the R.I.T. evening school student association, also participated in the dedication ceremony at the new R.I.T. campus recently, assisting board chairman Stern in burying the dedication capsule in front of the College Alumni Union.

Gundrum is employed at Kodak Park and attends evening school classes at R.I.T.

Priest In Italy On Holiday Visit

Father Sebastian Contegiacomo is in Italy for the holidays, spending some time with relatives in his hometown, Bari. It is his first visit home in 58 years.

Funds for the trip came largely from a two day dramatic presentation at Most Precious Blood hall which pupils of the school staged in tribute to their pastor.

Father Sebastian, who in addition to his priestly and administrative duties at Most Precious Blood, drives the school bus daily and also does the parish bookkeeping among other things. He has been pastor since the church was founded 38 years ago.

In honor of the event, Desmond Stone, Democrat and Chronicle editor, devoted an entire column to Father Sebastian. Stone wrote that in presenting the play "What The Old Man Does Is Always Right", the parish was saying in effect that nothing is too good for a man as holy and devoted as Father Sebastian.

The article continued: "The school play had another dimension - the undecided future of Most Precious Blood School. It was to have been closed because of its small size, but the parish protested and the school is now halfway through a year of grace and re-evaluation prior to a final decision".

Richard Barnard Dies In Vietnam

Death of another serviceman with local connections was reported on Christmas Day. Mrs. Cyril Kane, 6 Archer St., was informed by Western Union that her son, Sgt. Richard Barnard, had been killed in Vietnam in a transport plane that was shot down about 100 miles northeast of Saigon.

The sergeant, a career man in the Army had seen service in Korea, Japan and Germany. He joined the service in 1955 at the age of 17. He leaves a wife and five brothers and sisters, in addition to his mother. He had made his home in Louisiana. He will be buried in Alabama.

Christ Presbyterian

tarian design created by architect Bart Valvano. Its exterior is faced with cut stone salvaged from the old church torn down to make way for the new one. Its compactly laid-out interior includes the sanctuary offices for the ministers and staff, a multi-purpose room and a kitchen. There are to be no pews, only folding chairs; and the altar will be moveable to various parts of the chancel. All existing equipment has been used.

Christ Church is the successor to North Presbyterian Church and the oldest pulpit from the North Church era is being re-furbished and will be used. Another gesture to the past will be the use of an imported Italian marble baptismal font and two windows which belonged to the Church of the Evangel (with which North Church merged in 1957).

Daniel Valenza, a wood artisan, has designed and is making a cross and communion table to represent the contemporary ministry.

The building is "in no sense just Christ Presbyterian Church", says Rev. Booher. "It is intended as a meeting place for any and all neighborhood groups, will be dedicated to help the cause of peace and justice. It is our hope to fill this place with all kinds of activity, a truly ecumenical church center."

Christ Church is already headquarters for three other groups, the Edgerton Neighborhood Association, the Area Youth Ministry and the Northwest Ecumenical Ministry - and these community services should be expanded, says Rev. Booher.

The ministerial staff of Christ Church, headed by Rev. Booher, includes Rev. Lawrence Graves, associate pastor, and Stanley Skinner, assistant pastor, who is a working priest with a full time secular job in addition to his church duties where he specializes in community organization.

Frank Valenza, a retired R.G. & E. engineer, is chairman of the new building committee and in that capacity has been working as a volunteer about 40 hours a week. The Session, ruling board of the church, has also contributed heavily to the planning for the new church, meeting almost every night. The building contractor is John DiMarco.

The congregation will have its first Sunday in the new building next Sunday, Jan. 5, and a three hour service is planned starting at 10 a.m. and concluding with a communion meal.

The dedication service, set for Jan. 19 at 3 p.m. will be in the hands of laymen, with no preachers. Representatives of the Board of National Missions and the Presbytery, as well as delegates from neighborhood churches are expected. The dedication will be the focal point of ecumenical services that week.

LETTER

TO THE EDITOR:
At the close of this year, 1968, we would like to express our appreciation and thanks to you for your fine cooperation in interpreting our services and program needs to your readers. We know, through the response of people, that you command the attention of your subscribers.

We hope that you will continue your excellent public service on our behalf during 1969. The move into our new chapter headquarters in April will add the necessary space that we need for expansion of service programs. Thus, we will call upon you to help us informing the people in your area of the ways they may serve through Red Cross and of how Red Cross can serve them. We believe that you will be most interested in the progress which will result.

Ask Alice

Address requests to: ALICE, Post-Courier Office, 495 Emerson St., Rochester, N.Y. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope if personal reply is requested.

DEAR ALICE: I have a recipe that calls for sour milk; but I never have any. Mrs. EM.

DEAR MRS. EM: Just add a tablespoon of vinegar to a cup of sweet milk and you'll have sour milk for your recipe. Alice.

* * * *

DEAR ALICE: Where can I buy taco shells? I want to use my own filling. I've looked everywhere and I don't think there are any in Rochester. Miss KR.

DEAR MISS KR: The Blue Sombrero has 6 inch corn tortillas for your tacos. These are 8¢ a piece. The complete taco is 65¢. Alice.

* * * *

DEAR ALICE: I would appreciate some help in finding the dough for making Baklavah, which is a Turkish dessert. A strudel dough is used, but it must be sliced very thin in preparation for the dessert. I have the recipe for the dessert, but I know of nowhere to buy the dough. Can you help? Mrs. JL, Eileen Dr. N.

PS: Your column is most interesting; I hope you will be able to find this item for us as easily as you seem to be able to help others. Thank you for your help.

DEAR READERS: Would you believe after those kind remarks I can't locate this dough. Can anyone assist me? Alice.

* * * *

DEAR ALICE: I would like to buy a roll of 6¢ stamps because I never have a stamp when I need one but I'm afraid they would get all messy before I used them up. Do you buy yours this way and what do you do? Mrs. LW.

DEAR MRS. LW: Yes, I buy my stamps this way. The Post Office sells a dispenser for the roll stamps for 5¢. It is made of plastic and fits nicely into your purse or desk drawer. Alice.
