ALBERT HENRY WILCOX, A. B., A. M.

Mr. Wilcox was born in Pittsfield, Mass., October 22nd, 1868. In 1878 his family moved to Western New York and his early education was obtained in the public schools of Batavia and Rochester. He first attended high school in Batavia, but the last two years he spent in the Rochester Free Academy, finishing the course in three years instead of four. In 1886 he entered the University of Rochester, graduating with the class of '90.

During his University career he was elected president of the Students' Association, president of the Sophomore Class, valedictorian, and later member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society.

His first experience as a teacher was at the West Jersey Military Academy of Bridgeton, N. J. He remained there for two years and then spent another two years in the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary at Lima. He left the latter institution in 1894 to take up a post-graduate course at the University of Chicago. On finishing his studies there he was appointed successively Classical Master and Assistant Head Master in the University School of Chicago. In 1900 he accepted the position he now holds in this school.

TO
ALBERT HENRY WILCOX, A. B., A. M.
PRINCIPAL OF THE EAST HIGH SCHOOL,
IN TOKEN OF OUR ESTEEM
AND AFFECTION,
THIS VOLUME IS DEDICATED.

In Memoriam

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has removed from our number our beloved friend and classmate;

Whereas, In the death of

Maxwell De Groff

the class of nineteen hundred and four has lost a worthy student and upright comrade;

Whereas, His bereaved parents have been deprived of the strength and comfort of a beloved son, and

Whereas, We the members, of the class of nineteen hundred and four of the East High School, mourn
the loss of an enthusiastic and loyal classmate;
be it

Resolved, That in token of respect to his memory a copy of these resolutions be placed in the class records, in the school paper, and another be forwarded with our sympathy to his bereaved parents and sister.

CLINTON WOLCOTT,
HAROLD AKERLY,
HYMEN HOCHSTEIN,
Committee, Class '04.

Preface

WE will not try to write an Interpres-Cornellian editorial. Even if we had the ability, such an effort, as a preface to the following jumble of names and pictures would look like an '04 class pin on the verdancy of a freshman back-ground. This is an apology, pure and simple.

One afternoon about six weeks ago, the glorious class of '04 took it into their heads to print an Annual. That's the way it started—with only six weeks to get it out, where a college board needs six months.

Owing to lack of time we have tried to make this more of a catalogue than a literary venture, but we hope that, '04 having made the precedent, future classes will publish Annuals of increasing merit.

FACULTY OF EAST HIGH SCHOOL.

CLASS POEM, '04.

FAREWELL, dear E. H. S., farewell,
Our high school days are o'er,
We all have loved thee long and well,
We'll love thee evermore.
With purple ribbons and with white
Our hearts are bound to thee,
To thee, a school of truth and right,
Beside the Genesee.

TO realms of math and history
We here have op'ed the door,
We here have felt the mystery
Of Greek and Latin lore.
And more than this, for here we've made
Friends that shall faithful be,
When in our after-life we've strayed
Far from the Genesee.

THROUGH echoing corridors and hall,
With pleasure most extreme,
We've heard the pupils one and all
Cry out, "The team, the team!"
As from the fields both far and near
They've brought the victory
Back to our Alma Mater dear,
Beside the Genesee.

DEPARTING from this school of ours,
Where knowledge long we've sought,
We think of all the happy hours
Our high school days have brought.
We fain would linger near this spot,
And our old pathway tread,
But duty calls us: "Tarry not,
New pathways lie ahead!"

AND so we go, dear E. H. S.,
To other fields of work,
With what we gain we forward press,
No duty would we shirk.
But backward we will often gaze
And fondly think of thee,
Where we have spent such happy days
Beside the Genesee.

Senior Class History

Palmarum qui meruerunt ferant.

To write class history and condense it into a small space so that it will be interesting to all readers, is no easy task. On this account only a few of the most significant facts will be mentioned.

On bright sunny morning in September, 1900, group of cheery-faced girls and boys stood in front of the "Old R. H. S." on Fitzhugh Street. This gathering of young people was the beginning of the Class of '04, a class that was destined by its high standards in scholastic affairs, to stimulate to a remarkable degree the activity and spirit now manifested in all the classes of the school.

One noteworthy event in the beginning of naughty-four is that it was the same year in which Albert H. Wilcox entered upon his career as Principal of the High School. Throughout four years of pleasure and grinding (?) he has been our faithful friend.

1904 has contributed some of the best athletic talent the school has ever had. During our Sophomore year an inter-class meet was held in which '04 carried off first honors. She has several particular stars, who have shone forth with brilliancy of the first magnitude. Athletics in the High School has advanced fifty per cent. in the last four years, and it is only fair to say that this increase is due in great measure to '04.

In debating, branch of education that is becoming more important every year, '04 has shown great ability. She produced the first successful debating team the school has ever had, and it defeated one of the best teams in the country, that of Masten Park. She has placed debating on such high standard that it will be beneficial for future classes to emulate it.

The class has had many gifted actors—some of whom are better than many professionals. They have proved their ability in farces, burlesques, and even in Shakespearean tragedy. All honor to our actors!

The scholarship records of our class are remarkably high. Naughty-four is proud of her scholars.

Many happy and glorious days have attended '04 during her short school life, but she has also tasted the bitter cup of sorrow. In the midst of our glories cruel death snatched from us one of our hardest workers and most scholarly members.

Besides death's sad blow, '04 has experienced another great loss. By the resignation of Mr. Frank E. Glen, the class lost one of its best and firmest friends. He was the very back-bone of school athletics, and a source of delight and pleasure to all acquainted with him.

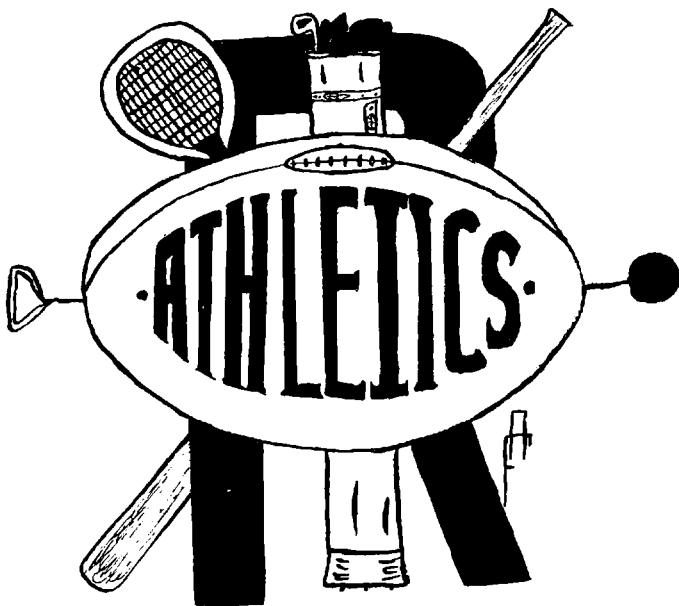

The way in which '04 has worked together is probably responsible for the good name she has left. A spirit of good fellowship between her members, and friendly feeling toward other classes has always been '04's motto.

Naughty-four will not die when her members graduate, she will live forever in the spirit of the school. Many will pass on to higher institutions of learning, many will enter upon their life work, but all will fondly turn to their Alma Mater and to '04.

Never has class had such a great number of remarkable personalities. Her athletes, of whom the school may justly be proud, have upheld the honor of their Alma Mater in a manner far beyond expectation. Her debaters have proved themselves able to cope with the strongest in the state. Her dramatic talent has shone forth upon the stage and rostrum. Her musicians have displayed unusual talent. Her school spirit has been wonderful in its effects. And last, but not least, her scholars have made a brilliant record for the school and for themselves.

Long live '04!

CURTIS D. HART, Class Historian.

*" This is no world,
To play with mammals, and to tilt with lips ,
We must have bloody noses and cracked crowns."*

FRANK E. GLEN, A. M.

For nearly thirty years, this well-known Rochesterian taught in our school, and his leaving it during our senior year marks an important event in the history of '04. As student and teacher he was the loyal supporter of everything our Alma Mater undertook and his resignation was regretted by all.

Mr. Glen was born in Rochester in 1853. He was graduated in 1870 from the old Free Academy, and from the University of Rochester in 1874. During his college career he was elected member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society and took the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts. In 1875 he was appointed teacher of Mathematics in the Delaware Literary Institute at Franklin, N. Y., but in the following year he accepted a position in his Alma Mater. During his career as an instructor in this school he taught algebra, geometry, political economy, English literature and logic, Latin, and Greek.

During thirty-two years he either taught or studied under four different principals, and in all that time was absent only three days. He was the mainstay of the athletic organizations, being president of the Students' Athletic Association for several terms, and the faculty member of the Athletic Committee on the Executive Council since its formation.

Foot-Ball Reminiscences

DOWN ON THAT FOOT-BALL FIELD

Tune—"Down Where the Wurtzberger Flows."

Down, down, down, and five yards the distance gained ;
Oh ! it's down, down, down, and we've gained it with might and main.
We'll rip up and tear up those Syracuse men,
And if they resist us we'll force it down them;
Five yards may be fine, but a touchdown for mine,
Down on that foot-ball field.

FOOT-BALL YELL

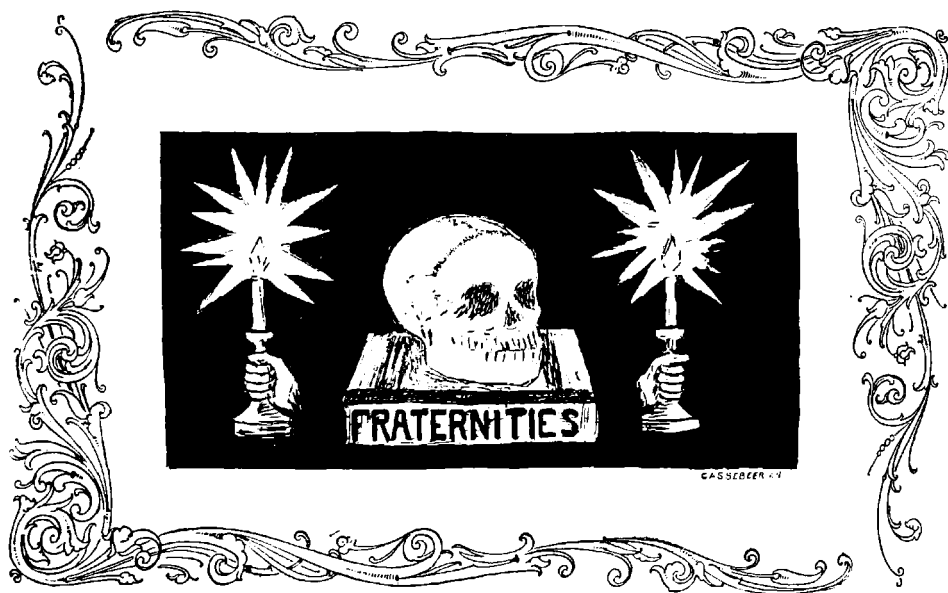

One-a-zippa, Two-a-zippa, Three-a-zippa, zam !
We play foot-ball and don't give a—(!)
Hobble-gobble, razzle-dazzle, zip, boom, zah ;
Rochester High School, Rah, Rah, Rah !

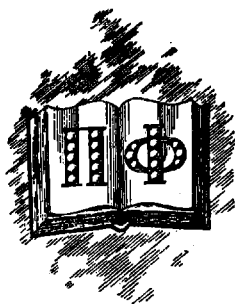

TO OUR FOOT-BALL TEAM

(Tune of Heidelberg.)

Here's to our heroes one and all,
May they e'er win the fight ;
Here's to our rooters great and small,
Here's to the Purple and White.
Oh, E. H. S., Oh, E. H. S.,
Thy sons will ne'er forget
The foot-ball team, the penant's gleam,
And all that we love best.
Those days of yore will come no more,
But through our manly years
The thought of you, so good, so true,
Will fill our eyes with tears,
The thought of you, so good, so true,
Will fill our eyes with tears.

PIPE DREAMING

The night without was chill ; the falling sleet
Muffled the noise and rumble of the street.
Within, my love and I before the fire,
Watched the bright flames leap upward and expire ;

Like youth's ambitions fain, that soar and shine,
Then faint and fail and back to gloom decline.
My love was silent but her fragrant breath
Arose about one like a mystic wreath.

Here let me say that by my love I mean
The most enchanting " Lady Nicotine,"
Who from her magic incense can unfold
A wealth of dreams, of fame and love and gold.

She brought me dreams of home and joy and cheer,
Dreams of all things in life that I hold dear,
Dreams of the past and dreams of the future bright,
Dreams of great joy to cheer the cheerless night.

Dreams, empty dreams, are all she has to give ;
Yet who a dreamless life would care to live ?
So when of cheerless wakeful life you tire,
Fill up your pipe and dream before the fire.

JOSEPH L. O'CONNOR, '04

UP AT LIMA

Tune—"Mr. Dooley."

There was a man in R. H. S.
Well known to all around;
And he went up to Lima
With intent to do the town.
A boy and horn assaulted him,
He gave the boy a crack,
And then he had to leave the town
And take the next train back.

CHORUS:

'Twas up at Lima, 'twas up at Lima,
That Glen ran up against his first defeat,
They got the copper, Glen scared for proper,
He had to beat a quick and safe retreat.

THE TEMPEST

Wildly the sea rolls,
The waves roar,
And the white foam flies ;
The storm-god speaks
In a mighty rage,
And the sea replies ;
With an angry shout
The waves surge on,
And they fight
With wrath and hate,
While the angry god
Darks all in night.
The sea rolls,
And the waves shout,
And the winds beat down
Beneath the storm-god's frown.

Wildly the sea rolls
And waves roar
And the heavens flash
With the spiteful fire,
Awakening thunders
With their awful crash.
The night sways
'Mid the changing war,
And the day breaks,
Burst from the power
Of warring Heaven.
And day wakes
To calm the sea
And slave the winds,
'Till the war cease
And the sea hath peace

ALMA MATER

Words by Bertha Scramton Poole.

Music by J. Gurnsey Curtis.

Sweet be thy memory,
High School of ours;
Fair be thy destiny,
Fadeless thy flowers.
Hearts that have loved thee
Have won in life's fight;
Names that we honor,
Thy standard hold bright.

Our Alma Mater dear,
To thee we sing :
May all thy future years
New honors bring :
May friends thy banners raise,
Thy foes grow less :
All love and praise
To our old R. H. S.

HINTS TO JUNIORS

East High holds a man named Clark,
As a teacher he is a shark,
 He's always around
 But can never be found,
Though hunted from morning till dark.

Senior Math is expounded by Betz,
Most excellent courses he setz,
 " If we don't get throu',
 We cannot blame you,"
Says each hopeful, whatever he getz.

Miss Dransfield—her front name is Mary,
Is the cream; but a word to the wary,
 Don't try to shirk,
 Or she'll give you more work,
And the work that she gives is no bary.

A very strict man is Prof. Bennett,
With dignity fit for the Sennett,
 When time comes for fun,
 He is second to none,
But don't try to break any tennett.

A good dose of Physics from Harris,
Mixed with rules set in plaster of Parris,
 To teach you to bluff,
 Is the best kind of stuff,
(Keep this out of sight of Prof. Harris.)

All hail to Miss Jennie Hanna,
Find jollier teacher you canna,
 All seem to like Jennie,
 Of friends she has mennie,
Her words will refresh you like manna.

We've been thoroughly trained by Miss Otis,
All Juniors will now please take notis,
 Don't " trot " in her class,
 If you do, why, alas!
No doubt you'll remember Miss Otis!

If you happen to look at Miss Ball,
'Tis easy to see she's not tall,
 Though English she speaks,
 She could talk with the Greeks,
And not roll 'round the subject at all.

" Our Secretary's " name is Miss Gruman,
Her smiles often seem more than human,
 Her office so small,
 Is a pleasure to all,
The Seniors are sure to Miss Gruman.

Board of Editors, "Senior Annual," 1904

There are several persons whom we wish to thank for the interest they have taken in the SENIOR ANNUAL. Mr. Chas. E. Harris, our instructor in Physics, is responsible for the fine photographs of the School, the Senior Class, and the Faculty. Mr. Clark, of the English department, was never too busy to give us his help and advice. Mr. Allan Franklin drew the cuts placed before Athletics and the Senior "Grinds," and Mr. Walter Cassebeer that heading Fraternities. Miss Ollie Braggins and Mr. Howard Cross devoted a great deal of time and energy to advertise the Annual. We wish also to thank the Clarion Board of Publishers for placing at our disposal its whole collection of half-tone plates.

“How shall I spend my leisure time during the hot summer months?”

IS A QUESTION WHICH COMES TO NEARLY EVERY MAN.

Perhaps the following cut will be suggestive of a most excellent place where canoeing, swimming, tennis, base-ball and other out door sports combined with fun may be had.

The Y. M. C. A. Club House is one of the best equipped on the banks of the beautiful Genesee River. It is situated just south of the Genesee Valley Park Athletic Field. The membership fee is $5.00 per year which includes the use of a large locker and canoe storage as well as the other privileges.
