The Class of June 1925

East High School
Rochester
New York
Alma Mater

Sweet be thy memory, High School of ours;
Fair be thy destiny, fadeless thy flowers;
Hearts that have loved thee have won in life's fight;
Names that we honor thy standard hold bright.

Our Alma Mater dear, to thee we sing,
May all thy future years new honors bring;
May friends thy banners raise, thy foes grow less;
All love and praise to our old E. H. S.
It has been said that joys and sorrows shared make true friends; therefore we can with justification call Miss Van Alstyne, girls' class advisor during our third and fourth years, and Mr. McGhee, boys' class advisor, our true friends.

Our only hope is that some other class may sometime have the same wonderful experience in knowing and having as advisors Miss Van Alstyne and Mr. McGhee, to whom we owe such a great debt that it never can be repaid in mere words.
Miss Van Ness, who was girls' class first advisor for two years, had to give up the advisor-ship in our third year when the major part of her classes were in Monroe Junior High School. Although since then she has had no official connection with the class, she has been a real friend and has taken a great interest in our activities.

Mr. Eddy as principal of the Goodman Street Annex welcomed the three hundred timid little Freshmen in September, 1921, and has since given us constant encouragement and material help.

THE CLASS of JUNE TWO-FIVE

Words and Music by JACK PRENNER

Since we were small freshmen, four years ago, We've learned to love East High.

And hate to go. Now we must start onward, In the great world, With East High's flag unfurled.

The Class of June Two-Five are we, We Sing our parting song.

We're leaving our dear

dors. Our stay has not seemed long.

'er we be. For what goal we may strive, Remember us in joy and. The Class of June Two-Five.

Class Poem

Here is an end and a beginning;
Here our careless childhood paths
Meet the great world’s highway.

We go: some with eagle wings to soar
To sunwashed cliffs rising above
The sea of common things;

Some with simple, homely gifts to make
The common things more lovely,
Thus we come to the world.

And we shall build as lofty and as fine
On these four cornerstones
As God and our hearts will.

With memory grown sweeter with the years
Of friends and hopes and happenings
That were to us East High.

THE ORIENT

1921-22:

The Freshmen at the Goodman Street Annex had their first assembly. Mr. Clark spoke, and Mr. McGhee read the three poems which were in "Pirate's Gold," the little book awarded to members of the class for memorization of poetry.

1922-23:

The girls' 2nd year class had a meeting and elected Rose Lerner, President; Sadie Wildofsky, Vice-President; and the Pope twins, Secretary and Treasurer.

The boys' class also had an election. Donald Zoll was elected President; Pike Meade, Vice-President; Edward Hoffman, Secretary; and Frederick Fouquet, Treasurer.

The girls enjoyed themselves immensely at their first party held in the girls' gym.

1924-1925:

Seniors at last! and (sensible being synonymous with Senior) we again elected Donald Zoll President of the Class. Edward Hoffman, Vice-President; Dorothy Forster, Secretary; and Grace Rutherford, Treasurer. The Clarion decided it could not function without Donald so he was elected business manager. The Clarion again decided another member of the class was indispensable, so Vera Bradley was elected Editor-in-Chief.

At a big class meeting in February, Mildred Kahse was elected Editor of the Orient and Paul Reed, Business Manager—signs of real Seniority when the Orient appears on the horizon!

THE ORIENT
Poems Submitted in Contest for Class Poet

Away far from the rising sun,
The Spirit of Orient decades ago,
Flew through the purple air of dawn,
Came through the dawn on a silver trail,
To land on a green, young lawn.

There in the pale misty half-light of crescent day,
She scattered the seeds she had brought;
While chanting the song of her happy work,
She tossed the seeds, near and away,
"On soil more rich and pure I know not,
With all of chance and urge to grow,
Take all the good from what I give you,
This grow, until a thousand blossoms blow
And I return.

You will not all grow up together
Some will have gone, when others come;
But at the last you all will bloom together,
When I return.

Then on a few, who used whatever could
Be found for fuller, richer, greater life;
On those who lived, and above all, created,
A silver crown, full glorious, will be placed."

Time passed; thus on one quiet, starlit night,
The Spirit of Orient came again, bearing the silver crests,
She passed among the purple flowers, sweeping her lilac robes
She came, and went again—toward the rising sun.

And lo!

Above the flower that grew in twenty-five,
Shone a gleaming silver crest!
June '25 had stood the test.

Ymske Tyssen.

The curtain slowly descended; the play had come to a close.
Scene two of Act four had ended; the audience slowly arose.
June twenty-five had played its part on the stage of High School Life;
Loath were the actors now to depart into the din and the strife.

Yes! We of that class remember; the rest of the world may not.
So much like a glowing ember, still warm though never more hot,
Is the gleam of those days gone by. We are left lonely it seems
With memories money can't buy, and our iridescent dreams.

William O. Nichols.

As four short years have passed us by,
It's time to leave you now, East High;
You who have sheltered us always,
Wherein we've spent such happy days;
We give ourselves, with praise, to thee,
To hold within thy memory;
And if as each one goes his way,
He has the power to do or say
Some small or even mighty thing,
Which you can find some comfort in;
If we can do a thing or two
To bring the slightest joy to you,
Or honor, praise, or more renown,
If when we lay our own tasks down,
We may have just repaid in part
What you have left in each one's heart,
Then we will know our goal is past,
And we can be content at least.

Elizabeth F. Pope.

Four long years we have spent here,
Dreaming of the time that has come
When we would leave these walls so dear.
But, now it seems to make us frown
At the sad thought, now so clear.
We must depart to earn our crown,
Which life gives us for the asking.
We may wander far from this city,
But thought will set us thinking
Of a life that seemed Eternity
To us then in the shadows of East High.
We thank all those that laid for us,
The foundation of our future.
May we from our efforts procure
A fame that will honor East High
And the class of June twenty-five.

The Term in Dramatics

"The Intimate Strangers," "The Man on the Box," and "Merton of the Movies" owe their notable success largely to the sympathetic and enthusiastic direction of Miss Katherine J. Burns. With Miss Burns it is not dramatics for dramatic's sake, but dramatics for the sake of poise, clear thinking. Dramatics under her direction are of as real value as any other course offered in East High School.

The year 1925 saw also the organization of the Dramatic Society, whose future in East High School is assured. Two plays were presented by the society, "The Lord's Prayer" by Coupe and Booth Tarkington's "The Trysting Place."

"The Lord's Prayer" was also presented before the school and in innovation for assembly programs.

The Term in Publications

Both editorially and financially The Clarion has been most successful this term. The business board records a good average of circulation for each issue. Of the two special issues, St. Patrick and Easter, the largest number of Clarions was sold.

Many innovations, mostly at the suggestion of George S. Carhart, the Clarion’s advisor, have been tried and approved as successful. The most outstanding of these are: the improvement in appearance by careful attention to head-lines and balance, the enlarging of the Literary department and the establishing of an Exchange Mirror, which presents genuine criticism of other school papers.

A new publication has made its appearance in East High School this term. It is the Ann-X-Ray, conceived and executed by the Junior final class of the Goodman Street Annex. Published for the purpose of presenting the Annexites with that news which the Clarion from its very nature cannot give them, the Ann-X-Ray has become a well established bi-weekly, four-page newspaper. The Ann-X-Ray is unique in being entirely a school project. The copy is written, set up and printed by pupils. Richard Van Atta has the distinction of being its first editor.

The Executive Council

For some unknown reason a barrier seems to exist between many of the pupils of the school and what is probably the most important of all East High School organizations, the Executive Council. Many look upon the Council as a body having charge of matters which relate to the school but which have no connection with the students.

This is not true. The Executive Council is the laboring head of the Students' Association, and has charge of the business of that organization which it has been found inadvisable, if not impossible, to refer to the whole school. The Executive Council controls the activities of the school which are connected with the Student's Association, in which every pupil is a member.

The Council consists of seven members of the Faculty, including the Principal and five others whom he shall choose; five members from the fourth year final class and four members from the fourth year term class; three members from each of the third year classes; one member from each of the second year classes; one first year final member; and one member of the Hold Over and Post Graduate class without a vote.

The Officers of the Council comprise the Principal of the School, who shall be the Honorary President and shall exercise general supervision over all the interests under the control of the Council, a President who shall call and preside at all meetings of the Council, a Secretary who shall keep a correct record of all meetings of the Council, and a Faculty Treasurer, who shall receive and take charge of all money obtained for the benefit of the Student's Association. The Treasurer also shall keep an accurate account of all expenditures of the Association, but no money is to be paid out except by appropriation of the Council.

Managers of the athletic teams and student organizations are nominated by the Committee which has supervision of that activity, but elected by the Council. Each manager is to submit to the Council a schedule of all his proposed engagements together with an estimate of expenses to be approved by the Council. Insignias will be awarded by the Council upon recommendation from the manager.

The Executive Council has performed its work efficiently and smoothly this semester and deserves credit for the manner in which it has upheld the spirit of the school.

The Musical Year

This term, music was a part of every assembly program. One or more of the musical organizations of the school appeared on each program.

As a result of these weekly concerts, a new musical department, which had never been heard from before, came into prominence. Members of Miss Hogan’s theory and harmony classes, played original compositions at various times throughout the semester.

The Orchestra and Band, under the direction of Mr. Mattern, have given many successful concerts both inside and outside the city, beside their annual home concert, and their appearances on the assembly programs. The Band has played at the games and has added greatly to the enjoyment of the fans.

Under the direction of Mr. Hinga, who has filled Mr. Ward’s place so well, the Glee Clubs gave many enjoyable programs on assembly mornings. The clubs have appeared in concert in many places outside of the school, accompanied at the piano by Miss Elsie Millrea. The annual home concert of the Glee Clubs was one of the most successful concerts ever given. The Boys’ and Girls’ Quartettes also played prominent parts in many programs.
SPORTS
Basketball

Captain—Gregg Swarthout—Guard

“Heinie” Swarthout has been one of the most spectacular and high-scoring guards that East High has turned out in several years. He not only proved to be an excellent running guard, but finished well near the top of the scholastic scoring list. “Heinie” won the captaincy of the mythical all-scholastic team this season by virtue of his unusual brand of basketball. His absence next year will cause quite a gap in the team.

Simon Shapiro—Forward

“Chick” Shapiro’s remarkable shooting ability and clever floor work have helped put more than one game on ice for East High. In spite of his light weight, he has been a big factor in the Oriental offense. A forward berth on the season’s all-scholastic team is what “Chick” has won for himself. He should become the mainstay of next year’s team.

Eli Bensky—Guard

“Eel” Bensky for several seasons has featured the East High team with his experienced playing and close guarding. The sports writers for some time have labelled the Bensky-Swarthout combination as the “best in the state.” Because of his steady performance this year, Bensky came near to winning a guard position on the first all-scholastic team. He will be greatly missed next year.

Morris Carr—Center

“Horse” Carr has been an excellent pivot man for the East High offense this year. Although not as tall as the average center, “Horse” makes up with his speed and cleverness on the court. He was elected captain of the team for next season, and should help the team off to a good start.

Harold Anderson—Forward

“Whitie” Anderson has speed and aggressiveness to the “nth” degree, as his playing this season proved. He has developed into a first-class forward, and next year he probably will be a high scorer in scholastic circles.
ALAN METZ—Center

"Metz" began the season as center on the reserve squad, but he soon advanced himself because of his fine shooting ability and speed. He and Carr had to divide honors all season, but Metz certainly deserves his share. His loss to team will be felt to no small degree.

SAMUEL KREPACK—Guard

"Kreps" Krepack, whom "Doc" Fowle appropriated from the wrestling team, has developed into a consistently close guard on the basketball team. "Kreps" could be counted on for a basket or two at most games. He will not be back next year.

MORRIS STRASSBURG—Forward

"Morrie" Strassburg began the season on the reserve team, but he soon became a substitute forward on the "big team." Although forced to warm the bench a great deal, Morrie proved to be an able forward every time he had a chance to play. He will be lost to the team next year.

The reserve team this year lost first place in the city reserve team league to West High, after a close battle all season. "Doc" Fowle used several of the squad on his first team, which greatly weakened the scrubs. However, we should be proud of our little-vaunted reserve basketteers.

*Out-of-town games.

The baseball team has opened the season with an easy win over Brockport Normal, 12-5. The team has Shapiro, Swarthout, Anderson, Deming and Lehr on the line-up, and these veterans form the nucleus of this season's squad. Manager Teresi has arranged an extensive schedule for the team. The race for first place in the Rochester and Vicinity League should prove very close.
This year's track team should enjoy another successful season judging from the ease with which they copped first place in the City Indoor Inter-Scholastic Meet early in the spring. The team is formed largely of veterans. An extensive schedule has been arranged by Manager Dworski, including the University of Syracuse Meet, City Outdoor Inter-Scholastic Meet, Cornell University State Championship Meet, and meets with the University of Rochester Freshmen, Geneseo High School, and Nichols Prep of Buffalo.
East High’s relay team lately has achieved unusual success, and has aroused more interest than the track team itself. The team won the City Relay Championship by forfeit, and on April 25, ran away to win first place in its class at the University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival. The mile relay at the University of Syracuse meet should prove an interesting event for our relay team. The team will probably be broken up somewhat by graduation this June.
The Girls' Basketball Team has had a very successful season. In spite of the added competition of Kodak and Charlotte High Schools, our girls have captured the City Championship for the third season in succession. The first two games were overwhelming victories for East High, and the last and hardest game was won by a wide margin.

The East High Wrestling team finished in second place in the interscholastic league after some of the closest competition that has been offered in several years. Tech High, West High and East High all were forced to arrange extra meets to decide the city league winner, which proved to be Tech High. Wrestling has been steadily increasing in popularity owing to the pep Coach McKay has put into the teams each year.

Sickness and ineligibility cost the East High Swimmers several teammates this season. However, the team took the city championship in easy fashion, and not only won and lost a meet with Buffalo Hutchinson High, but came close to winning over the Lafayette High swimmers of Buffalo. At the state championship meet this year, Bryan copped the back stroke event in fast time. In all, we can well be proud of our East High “tish.”
Cheering in East High School has reached a new, high level under the leadership of “Red” Barker. He made the most of his opportunities when he taught us the yells in assemblies. And at the games, “Red” never failed to draw forth our support. Barker, moreover, has been cheerleader for two semesters.
James H. Fowle, or better, "Doc," the mentor of many a strong basketball team, and the coach of consistently good track squads, means more to East High School than merely a coach who develops champion teams. "Doc" represents the East High spirit. He drills fair-play, loyalty, and grit into the teams. At the games, we get excited, razz the referee on a close decision; but "Doc," experienced to basketball thrills, seems always calm. He is a vital part of East High School.

Robert B. McKay—"Pete," as we know him, is as able an assistant to "Doc" Fowle as might be hoped for. "Pete," usually turns out excellent squads. Baseball, soccer, and wrestling are the sports which "Pete" coaches.

Miss Lillian I. Wangman has for several seasons turned out winning girls' basketball teams. The East High girls have maintained a good record, in spite of their comparatively small schedules. Perhaps girls' basketball, under Miss Wangman's direction, will soon become a far more extensive and popular sport than it has been previous to the past few years.
