ALMA M. COX

"Runt"

394 Columbia Avenue

Her method of answering in history
Was to most of us quite a mystery.

CHARLOTTE J. BURROUGHS

"Char"

127 Warwick Avenue

Life for her will never be slow,
For, whenever we see her,
She's on the go.

JUSTINE CONWAY

"Jus"

201 Depew Street

Quietly and shyly from day to day,
She attracts us by her friendly way.

Tennis 3; Bowling 3, 4; Banquet Committee 4.

WINIFRED COURTNEY

"Winnie"

He's a quiet fellow, always the same,
Who thoroughly enjoys a snappy game.
Homeroom Basketball 2, 3; Honor
Roll 2, 3; Reserve Baseball 3; French
Honor Society 3, 4.

ANNA DE ROSE
"Ann"

62 Waverly Place
She's a mouse of a person,
So quiet and small.
But when she's with friends,
She out-talks them all.
Dante Society 4; Business English
Club 4.

ALICE DE CARLIS
273 Brown Street

With courage and perseverance to
lead the way,
Success will crown her efforts one
day.

From the tip of his toes to his wavy
hair,
He shows what the well-dressed
man should wear.

RICHARD PUGSLEY
"Dick"

735 Chili Avenue

Because the future becomes the present, and the present slips
away,
Why should I fret and worry? I'll just live from day to day.

DOROTHY E. REEDHEAD
"Dot"

5 Wheeler Place

In the bookstore she handles the supplies and cash
With speed and courtesy, accuracy and dash.

MADISON STUDENT CABINET

|----------------------|----------------|
| Robert Wolfe | President |
| Thomas Affleck | Vice-President |
| Betsy McMillan | Secretary |
| Arthur Jones | Cheer-Leader |

The Student Cabinet is organized to supervise all student activities, to elect managers of the school teams, and to consider all recommendations submitted to it by the Student Council. The officers of the Student Union also serve in the Cabinet, which includes eleven representatives elected by the Student Council and other specially designated persons.

Since its organization, the cabinet has considered several recommendations submitted by the Student Council. Some of these have received faculty approval and are now school rulings. This term, for instance, the Cabinet successfully urged the adoption of a shorter day on Wednesday. The Cabinet also aids in the annual memorial scholarship drive.

Standing: Donald Tatlock, M. M. Anderson, Robert Shaw, Edith Moody, Joseph Howell, Thelma Morris, Gordon Tubbs, Monica Kelly, Albert Serenati. Seated: Pauline Watson, Evelyn Gilewe, Betsy McMillan, Robert Wolfe, Thomas Affleck, Margaret Griffith, Winifred Courtney.

The business staff was composed of Merton Evans, stage manager; Robert Smiley, assistant; and Fred Zimbrich, publicity manager.

"Jerry of Jericho Road," a musical comedy, was presented on April 5 and 6, 1935. Its preparation was a great undertaking, for the cast was large, and there were numerous solos, dances, and songs by the chorus. The comedy was directed by Mrs. Margaret Carson with the assistance of Mr. J. Alfred Casad and Mr. Alvah Beecher. Madison's senior orchestra, directed by Mr. Robert Moore, furnished the accompaniment. The colorful western stage setting was made under the supervision of Mr. Joseph Vials.

The technical staff was composed of Jacob Gaudino, business manager; Jacob Eygabroat and Fred Waterman, publicity; Jacob Freda, tickets; Mary Margaret Anderson and Elwyn Brown, programs; Audrey Short, costumes; Sarsfield Kelly, scenery; Margaret Miller, properties; Betsy McMillan, ushers; Russell Garrison, Robert Cook, and Charles Pier, electricians; Evelyn Hopper, prompter; Robert Smiley and Joseph Purcell, stage managers.

"Big Hearted Herbert," directed by Miss Margaret McCarty, was presented December 6 and 7, 1935. This most amusing comedy proved highly entertaining. The two performances, given on successive evenings, were well received by appreciative audiences.

CHORUS

During the past year, Madison's senior chorus has risen to a prominent place among the extra-curricular activities. Increasing student interest is shown by the fact that the enrollment has grown from 84 in 1935, to 120 in 1936. Then, too, 118 of its members now meet regularly five days a week, instead of two days.

The chorus is directed by Mr. Alfred Casad with Miss Hermine Luebbert as accompanist. The business and social affairs of the choir are managed by student officers. These consist of Jacob Freda, president; Irene Nerantzakis, girls' manager; Salvatore De Palma, boys' manager; and Howard Davey and William Connors, librarians. Working with special committees, this group has planned several parties which proved highly successful.

The choir has appeared in several concerts during the past year. On the evening of January 11, 1935, a choral concert was presented in the school auditorium. On June 7, 1935, the choir appeared at the Eastman Theatre to sing in the annual spring concert of all Rochester high schools. The group was praised for its singing on this occasion. A second choral concert was presented in the school auditorium January 17, 1936, which was even more acclaimed than the first. In addition, the choir appeared on the program for Open House Night.

From the chorus a selected group of twenty-three, known as the Madichor, has also represented the school on several occasions. Since the group is especially chosen, it attempts music which is more difficult than that used in the regular chorus. The group represented Madison in a broadcast for a Youth Program, and was praised for its work.

This term fifteen members of the chorus belong to the Inter-High Choir. They are Irene Nerantzakis, Fern Reichold, Audrey Short, Grace Beard, Jacob Freda, Salvatore De Palma, Herman Burne, Frank Stagnitto, Jerry Tabbaco, Robert Bartholomew, Robert Shaw, Walter Washington, Alfred Izzo, Howard Davey, and Angelo Galasso. On April 2, 1936 they participated in the concert given at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

It has generally come to be realized that chorus work, besides being a welcome diversion from studies, offers distinct benefits of its own. By stimulating an interest in music and in other arts, it broadens and enriches the school curriculum.

LATIN HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the Latin Honor Society is to foster a greater interest in the Latin language, the Roman people and their customs. The society, known as the Delta Optimates, is composed of all students who have at least a B average at the close of Latin II-1 and who maintain this honor grade throughout the Latin course. The officers are John Brady and Eleanor Wilde, consuls; Edward Trautman, scriba; Verna Leo, quaestor; Catherine Korth, nuntius; and Betty Schoen, aedile.

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY

The corresponding organization for French students is Les Babilliards, whose members are required to meet similar qualifications. The members for 1935-36 are: F. Merchant, R. Palermo, R. Rothfus, J. Gaudino, R. Shaw, G. Connell, R. Smiley, R. Frazer, C. H. Miller, H. Burne, W. Smith, G. Lewis, V. Ditrinco, F. Malone, W. Ginkel, E. De Palma, M. D'Amico, E. Wardell, A. De Carlis, M. Achen, F. GERMAN CLUB

Ably supervised by Miss Biesenbach, the German Club, composed of third year students, flourishes under John Cioffi, president and Ruth Haass, secretary. Once every other week this group converts the classroom into a playground for the purpose of playing German games or German adaptations of English games. German script, German spelling bees, and the singing of songs in German all help to further knowledge of this language. Once every term the nominal dues of the club are changed into some form of outside entertainment.

COMMERCIAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Commercial Honor Society gives recognition to pupils who have shown outstanding ability in the commercial course. The present members of this society are Ruth Hebing, Mary Agnes Harold, Helen Kleisley, Fern Rodda, Bernadine Carr, Jean Lo Russo, Rose Lavilla, Betty Mountain, Virginia Dugan, and William Ferron. The officers for last term were E. Johnson, president; G. Phelps, vice-president; F. Rodda, secretary; R. Hebing, treasurer; Miss Davis, Miss Goddard, Mr. Skully, sponsors. The officers for the present term are M. Harold, president; W. Ferron, vice-president; B. Carr, secretary; B. Mountain, treasurer; Miss Davis, Miss Steinberg, Mr. Newcomb, sponsors.

ORCHESTRA

ALPHA HI-Y

The purposes of the Alpha Chapter of the Hi-Y are to promote good fellowship and to discuss current topics and school problems. Paul Stone is president; Elwyn Nichols, vice-president; Charles H. Miller, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. Chipp, faculty adviser. The members are George Connell, William Smith, Robert Bartholomew, Robert Smiley, George Kelley, Albert Bitetti, George Clapp, Arthur Mirkin, Harry Bartholomew, Joseph Purcell, Jacob Freda, Clarence Allen, Arlie Hazzard, Richard Bidwell.

TRI-Y

The Tri-Y assists girls to develop their philosophy of life through giving their best to whatever activities they attempt. The members are Coletta Fishley, Monica Kelly, Alta Powell, Eleanor Wild, Mary Nealon, Annie Currie, Ruth Le Walter, Clydine Palmer, Jane Steckel, Thelma Burne, Evelyn Boone, Elaine Simpson, Mary Louise Laybourne, Dorothy McEvoy, Agnes McAllister, Helen Ferkanin, Ruth Hoehn, Marie Kohl, Candida Colaprete, Alice Wilson, Erma Travaglina, Margaret Zimmerman, Mary Bates, Arline Bates, Helen Traico, Marjorie Hill, Beatrice Foote, Evelyn Blum, Stella Newton, Alberta Brasch, Mary Klumb, Ann Calder, June Budd, Eva Paixo, Bernice Bregmen, Josephine Chiarenza.

CINEMA COUNCIL

The Cinema Council, directed by Mrs. Carson, is a students' guide to better appreciation of moving pictures. It was organized in 1934 for the purpose of educating Madison students in their choice of screen productions. Its members are Robert Shaw, Mary Rose, George Connell, Winifred Courtney, Audrey Short, Herbert Wallace, Margaret Miller, Gordon Brewster, Ruth Hebing, Mary Ann Taddeo, Fern Reichold.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Girls' Athletic Council enables the girls to voice their opinion in the management of their athletic affairs. This council assists in the direction of three important events: first, the annual basketball and volley ball play days sponsored for girls of Madison and those from other schools, at which the standing committee of the council acts as hostess; second, an athletic banquet to which all girls who have earned at least fifteen points toward their Madison "M" are invited; and third, the regular track meet.

BASKETBALL

Madison's basketball squad surprised the dopesters by sweeping through the city play-offs to gain the city title for the second consecutive year, and by advancing to the finals in the Sectional Tournament at the University of Rochester.

Greatly weakened in the early part of the season by the loss of George Reisinger, the only veteran back from last year, the team worked as a unit in its drive to another championship. To retain the title won by Madison last year was a hard task for the youngsters who comprised the team. In their first encounter they were forced to play two overtime periods before defeating West High's veteran aggregation. Monroe's team, the jinx for the Mur-raymen during the season, was defeated in the game which decided the second place play-off position in the Southern Division.

On the eve of the tilt with West High, which was to decide the city championship, the loss of Bernard O'Brien, star center, seemed to dash all the hopes that Madison had of retaining the title. Briggs was shifted from a guard to the center post, and played an outstanding game. In spite of West High's best efforts, Coach Murray's clever strategy proved successful, and the team downed the Genesee Streeters, to take the second consecutive city basketball championship.

In the play-offs at the Palestra, Madison made a gallant bid for the sectional championship by defeating Geneva, but went down in the finals before the veteran Corning team.

Madison vs. West

William O'Connell, James Minges, Gordon Tarbox, Robert Wise

GOLF

The golf team finished in third place in the Interscholastic League, West and Monroe finishing first and second respectively.

Three of the team's members—Minges, Wise, and O'Connell—are still in school and should form a strong combination this spring. During two years in league competition the Madison golfers placed third twice. In the individual tournament held every year at Lake Shore, Madison has compiled an enviable record. In the three tournaments O'Connell placed second the first year; Stelljes won first place the second year; and O'Connell finished first the third year. O'Connell was also a member of the Rochester team that won the Western New York Championship.

BOWLING

After a poor start, the bowling team worked up toward the championship and then fell back to third place. Franklin and West took first and second.

As in the preceding year, Madison was handicapped by the loss of a man, Reusch, just when the going was the hardest. That there were no individual stars is shown by the following averages: Graham 143, Schneider 153, Minges 154, Reusch 153, and O'Connell 159. Jack Ehrhart, who took the place of Reusch, averaged 146. Joe Allen, unavailable almost all year, was present for the last two weeks and averaged 195. The team had a high game of more than 850 while Schneider, Minges, and O'Connell went over 200 a few times.

James Minges, Burt Graham, Jack Ehrhart, William O'Connell, Kenneth Schneider

Standing: Robert Hudson, Frank Merchant, Judson Carpenter, Roy Mulligan. Seated: Robert Baker, Mnester McKay.

CROSS COUNTRY

Although Madison's Cross Country harriers finished only in fourth place in the Interscholastic Cross Country League, our school received honorary recognition by capturing first place in the individual meet at the close of the season. Diminutive Mnester McKay annexed the individual title by putting on a real Madison finish to overtake Frank Stolte of Marshall, who had been leading all the way. Without any veterans, the team made a good showing and were a great credit to their coach, Mr. Conyne.

BASEBALL

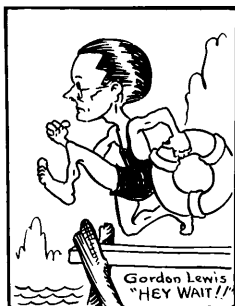

Monroe broke Madison's winning streak in the last game of the 1935 season by defeating the future titleholders. This put Madison in a first-place tie with Edison Tech. Madison was then chosen to represent Rochester in the first Sectional Baseball Tournament at the Red Wing Stadium. Argento's hurling was the feature of the series. In the three games, he allowed but two hits. A no-hit, no-run game gave Madison the honor of gaining the first Section V Baseball Championship.

GOOD LIGHTING is a Harmonious Force

There is a harmonious relation between color and harmony. Some persons are keenly sensitive to this. Specific musical notes suggest to them definite colors. The color organ is a material adaptation of this idea.

LIGHTING is an excellent medium in the production of definite, harmonious impressions. Through its proper use, display indows, stores, buildings and homes may be made to create definite, constructive and pleasing effects upon people.

Without cost to you let us make suggestions toward the more harmonious use of LIGHT in your business or home.

STEPPING STONES

When spaced stepping stones mark the way across the stream of Preparation to the land of Business Careers, it is best to take each step rather than to leap—and possibly miss.

Which, being translated, means: High School, then R. B. I., then a position in business. That's better than jumping right for a job and losing out through lack of a drill in business fundamentals and practice.

Make your high school education mean more to you. Top off with a helpful R. B. I. Day School Course.
