ROCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

THE GIFT OF

Madison High School
The Madisonian
presented by the
Class of 1940, Madison
High School, Rochester,
New York
The play is almost over. All the characters have passed before the curtain: the students, sometimes serious and self-important, sometimes mischievous and irresponsible; the teachers, occasionally impatient, more often kindly and understanding. All the incidents have unfolded: the cheering at the last soccer game; the thrill of the senior play; the hilarity of a faculty masquerade. . . . The play is almost over. It was a good play. As you look through your souvenir program, may you see it all over again.
It would seem most fitting that we, the seniors of 1940, should dedicate this record of our lives here at Madison to Mr. Zornow... Not only for his career of able, loyal, and energetic public service do we honor him, but for the inspiration he has given to us, as individuals, by his broadminded, clear-visioned, idealistic love of humanity... We dedicate this book to you, Mr. Zornow, with keen realization of our great debt to you.

Machine shop, personality, and baseball,
Mike’s the boy who excels in all.
HARRIETTE CLANCY
386 Jay Street
Senior Annual Staff 4; Senior Play Committee 4; Madison Cheer Club 4.
To ears set a-jangle by piercing trebles,
Harriet's low, cool tones are refreshing.

MILDRED CROUCH
22 Judson Street
Bowling Club 3; Basketball Club 1, 2, 3; Tennis Club 2.
She may appear demure,
But I wouldn't be too sure.

VINCENT CONTRERAS
883 Broad Street
Science Club 4; Track 3; Cross Country 3, 4.
Rather quiet most of the time,
But as a track star he's very fine.

HARRY COLE
88 Lozier Street
Lunch Room Squad 4; Mirror Staff 3; Dramatics Club 3, 4; East of Senior Play 4; Chess Club 3.
Harry Cole, a talented soul!
Clever in art or a dramatic role.

BETTY COLLINS
4000 Chili Avenue
Library Staff 2, 3, 4; Basketball Club 2; Rural Council 2, 3, 4.
She works at the library;
She can cook and bake.
"Those 'on the know,' say, -
"She takes the cake."

KENNETH COREY
86 Hillendale Street
Lunch Room Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Track;
Home Room Basketball.
Hair so fair, eyes so blue,
A very friendly person too.

MILDRED CROUCH
22 Judson Street
Bowling Club 3; Basketball Club 1, 2, 3; Tennis Club 2.
She may appear demure,
But I wouldn't be too sure.

WILLIAM CORSETTE

To see his jovial countenance makes the day brighter;
To hear his accordion makes our hearts lighter.

CHARLES COTTER
6 Rugraff Street
Latin Honor Society 2; German Honor Society 3, 4; National Honor Society 4; Lunch Room Guard 1, 2, 3, 4; Memorial Scholarship 'Pep Talk' Committee 4; Chess Club 3.
Solving a problem in science
Is more child's play to Charles.

MARY DANISE
244 Buffalo Road
Volley Ball Club; Basketball Club;
Her agreeable smile makes a lasting impression.

EARL CRANE
181 Reynolds Street
Aviation Club; Swimming.
Very quiet, and very tall;
Earl will never ride for a fall.

WILLIAM CORSETTE
152 Troup Street
Lunch Room Guard 1, 2, 3, 4.
A cheerful grin;
A keen eye for the basketball rim.

ELISI CROUSE
705 Brown Street
Latin Honor Society 4; Senior Annual Staff 4; Life Saving 3, 4; Ping Pong Club 3; White Cap Swimming 2, 3.
Call Elsie when you're in too deep;
She'll save you.

ROBERT DAGGS
18 Danforth Street
Senior Play Committee, Chairman 4;
School Broadcasts; Chess Club; President; Social Science Forum; Vice-President; Golf Team.
Tardiness and absence habit I detest;
To get here promptly I do my best.

EVELYN DAMON
241 Jefferson Avenue
National Honor Society 4; Commercial Honor Society 3, 4; Advertising Staff, Senior Annual 4; Tri Y 4.
Office efficiency she has learned;
Boys and friskility she has spurred.
JOHN DAVIS
125 Lenox Street
French Honor Society 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Student Cabinet; Cast of Senior Play 4; Science Club 4; Alpha Hi Y 4.
In the class of the intellect, Johnnie ranks,
But one should beware of his many pranks.

PATSY J. DE GILLIS
340 Orchard Street
Senior Class Representative; Latin Honor Society 2, National Honor Society 4; German Honor Society 4; Corridor Guard 2; Lunch Room Guard 3; Science Club 4; Dante Society 3, 4.
Intelligent, handsome, romantic,
And we know where he stands.

FOLANDA DE FABIO
828 Smith Street
Dante Society.
Very neat and short of stature,
The tallest boy she'll likely capture.

ROSE F. DEL MESE
637 Smith Street
Voice 4.
A girl just naturally sweet and thin;
No wonder music is in her line.

RAYMOND A. DEL ROSSO

Her ready wit and happy smile,
Will carry her far for many a mile.

EVA DENTINO
534 Maple Street
Dante Society; Tri Y.
Large brown eyes, and skin so fair,
She likes to think and knows no care.

FRANK DE SINO
807 Broad Street
Swimming; Senior Life Saving.
A friendly nod, a winning smile,
Frank thinks cheerfulness worth-while.

MARY DESINO
587 Child Street
Since in reading Mary finds pleasure,
She has indeed a world of treasure.

GLORIA DEVERELL
5000 Chili Avenue
Library Staff 3; Mirror Staff 4; Basketball Club 1, 2; Captain Ball Club 1; Volley Ball Club 1; Badminton Club 2.
Always unselfish,
Ever true blue,
She's the type Who'll do best by you.

ALETHA DIBBLE
166 Lincoln Avenue
French Honor Society 3, 4; Latin Honor Society 2.
A good sport—That's our "Lee."

MARY DI BITETTO
100 Walnut Street
French Honor Society 4; Senior Play Committee 4; Dante Society 3, 4;

On her lips is a smile
That often breaks into laughter.

GRACE DI CESARE
14 Clifton Street
Tri Y 4; Dante Society 4; Basketball Club 3, 4; Table Tennis Club 3, 4; Volley Ball Club 3, 4.
A beauty, a flapper, a little ball,
Red cheeks, eyes flashing, one Gracie, that's all.

VYRA R. DI ETER
82 3/4 Bronson Avenue
Latin Honor Society 2, 3; German Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Play Committee 4; Alpha Tri Y 3.
A combination of sense and nonsense.
CONSTANCE DI GIACOMO
222 Adams Street
Latin Honor Society; National Honor Society 4; Dante Society.

When it comes to real hard work,
This girl is never known to shirk.

CARMELLA DI LALLA
260 Wilder Street
National Honor Society 4; Dante Society.

She’s very little,
But the child is wise;
She knows what she’s after,
We all surmise.

RAHLE DI LELLA
619 Smith Street
Tall, dark, quiet—
What a future sailor!

ANNA DI LILLO
136 Silver Street
National Honor Society 3, 4; French Honor Society 2, 3; Mirror Staff 2, 3, 4; Chess Club 4.

She’s the run, she’s brilliant
And doesn’t make much noise.

YOLANDA DI LUGLIO
65 Jefferson Terrace
Badminton Club.

A quiet miss, whose gentle ways
Made friends all through her Madison days.

NICK DI LULLO
208 Wilder Street
Dante Society 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Basketball 3, 4.

He’s our gym star,
And can hit a ‘mean paddle’!

Near, dark, athletic, and slim,
Bobbing over with pep and vim.

CARMELLA DI NICOLA
206 Bradley Avenue
Badminton Club; Volley Ball Club; Basketball Club.

In sports and nursing she has sincere heart,
But secretarial duties call loudest it seems.

SAM DI PASQUALE
292 Tremont Street
Soccer 2, 3; Volley Ball 2, 3
Quiet Sam with eyes to bright
And a disposition that’s a delight.

JACK O’DONNER
305 High Avenue
Lunch Room Guard 4; Mirror Staff 4; Forum 3, 4; Chess Club 4; Social Recreational Club 4.

Because Jack is a busy lad,
He never is forlorn or sad.

VINCENT DI GUGLIELO

Latin Honor Society 2; German Honor Society 3, 4; Science Club 3; Inter-High Science Honor Society 4; Ping Pong Club 2; Dante Society, Chairman 3, 4; Reserve Baseball 2; Track, Manager 3; Soccer, Manager 4.

Vinny, who wishes to become a surgeon,
Will find his cheerful disposition an asset.
THERESA D’ORSANEO
419 Jay Street
Ping Pong Club; Basketball Club.
Life is but a song for Terry,
Who goes around being gay and merry.

EARL DUCCI
128 Clifton Street
Reserve Basketball 1, 2; Reserve Basketball 1, 2; Reserve Soccer 1, 2; Basketball Club 3, 4.
On the basketball floor he is fast and quick,
Fair in his studies and ready in wit.

CLEMENTINE EMANUELE
115 Murray Street
Chorus; Dante Society.
With bewitching eyes and neat coiffure,
Clem’s small stature seems all allure.

JUNE ENGLISH
23 Frost Avenue
Senior Chorus 3, 4; Madichor 3, 4.
A silvery smile, a sunny way,
Velvety brown eyes that seem to pray.

MARY LOUISE ERBELDING

As an athlete, a very good one.

ELAINE FERRAIO
574 Brown Street
Dante Society 4; Volley Ball Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Leaders’ Club 2, 3, 4; Basketball Club 1, 2, 3, 4.
Gym is her hobby, games her delight;
Her only sorrow is lessons at night.

BERNARDO J. FERRARI
860 Smith Street
Chess Club 3; Science Club 3, 4; Reserve Soccer 3; Dante Society 3.
With his trusting eyes and friendly smile,
Benny is a friend worthwhile.

HELEN FERRARI
126 Romeyn Street
Table Tennis Club 4; Riding Club 4.
Although she’s short,
There’s personality in every one of her inches.

LORETTA M. FERRARI
860 Smith Street
Volley Ball Club 2, 3, 4; Basketball Club 2, 3, 4; Tennis Club 2.
She is neither shy nor bold,
Only very self-controlled.

DOMENIC FERRIOLO
74 Walnut Street
A man of action but few words.

JAMES FERRON
478 Jefferson Avenue
National Honor Society 4; Swimming Club 1, 2.
May he win acclaim
When he makes a name in electricity.
THERESA FIANNACA
207 Child Street
Basketball Club; Volley Ball Club;
Swimming Club.
You think she's shy?
Oh me! Oh me!
You just don't know her—
I'm sure that's why.

ELEANOR PIEGE
Chili-Coldwater Road
For jokes and tales, how her tongue can come
But for the teacher, words won't come.

WILLIAM FINNEIN

His quiet, cooperative manner won our respect and admiration.
ADVISERS

ADELAIDE BIESENBACH

The class of 1940 feel that they have been particularly fortunate in having Miss Adelaide Biesenbach as one of their advisers. In all of the many activities of the senior year, Miss Biesenbach has given unstintingly of time and energy that our last year at Madison might be a happy, successful finale to our school days. For her uniring efforts in our behalf, for her never-failing willingness to work with us and for us, for her excellent guidance and advice, and for her quiet patient friendliness and good humor we owe Miss Biesenbach a real debt of gratitude.

JEROME DAVIS

Long after the wide and hospitable doors of Madison have closed softly behind us, we, the senior class of 1940, will remember the happiness and success of this, our last year here. With sincere gratitude and appreciation we will think of Mr. Jerome Davis in connection with that success. Whatever we may have achieved was possible largely because of his skillful supervision of our various activities.

Asking for no credit, he remained sufficiently in the background to give us the upper hand in our plans, but when we needed advice he was ready to give it.

Interested in us not only as a class, but as individuals, he sympathetically and with understanding helped us to settle our personal problems. For this we are grateful.

Mr. Davis, the seniors of 1940 salute you!

Interludes
. . . . CURTAIN CALLS

Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow—
I put off home work, to my sorrow.

KATHRYN ALLINGTON

Sleep that knits up the raveled sleave of care
Also musses up the newly marcelled hair.

JANICE AUBURN

Out, out, intelligent scholars.
It's up to you to earn your dollars.

CARMELLA DI_LLALLA

Is this a pay check that I see before me
The name it bears my own?
Come let me clutch thee!

LORRAINE WESTFALL

WE HEREBY BEQUEATH

To Mr. Curtice and his daughter, Sally, a great big chocolate cake wrapped up in the "Law of Mass Action."

To Hedy Lamar our advice to get all she can before "Red" Rohde takes over.

To American Airlines our unsurpassed man in the air, Bill Finein.

To Mr. Trafton Boulls more front seats in which to place the good-looking girls.

To Mr. Chipp and Mrs. Frasier our apologies for the phoney excuses they so seldom put their seal of acceptance on, and our sincere thanks for the fine work they have done in guiding the lives of the young people at Madison.

GEORGE MERCIER

There's rosemary—that's for remembrance.
There's pansies—they're for thoughts.
On Regents day let's hope and pray
These flowers won't come to naught.

DOROTHY TREZISE

To you, dear freshmen, we do leave
These hallways and these stairs.
The right to make the teachers peeved
By standing round in pairs.

JEANNE DONOGHUE
STARS OF 1940 . . .

CORA PAVONE

Beautiful Cora filled with sensitive youth,
How can we help but love you and admire
The charm, the grace, the perfect sympathy
Which you, like Shakespeare’s Viola, possess!

PRISCILLA ALBER

Gifted is she with features of a queen,
Melodious tongue for sweet or grave oration.
Strong, yet feminine, beautiful of mind,
Priscilla, Portia of 1940’s class.

JOHN DAVIS

John Davis’ eyes are flashing with the thought
That sets him off from all the rest of us;
But when they fall upon his Muriel’s face
They soften with the glow of summer dawn.

AMO PICCOLI

How can a man more honored be
Than to have name linked with Rome’s great Caesar?
Ambitious, intrepid Amo is such—
Pioneer in searching, leader of men.

ALFRED GINKEL

Al Ginkel turns his open countenance
In tolerance upon bewildered hearts.
His weakness, strength—his strength beyond compare—
Enshrines a humble soul that trusts itself.
DAN CANNAN

Oh, who could miss the Romeo of our class?
Dan’s gracious face reveals his magnetism.
His eyes and smile meet in such friendly glance
That each girl feels herself a Juliet.

JEAN ALLEN

Jean Allen’s eyes are deep, dark pools of thought;
Her heart is strong and noble, loyal, true.
As Juliet’s who in the golden days
Laid down her life to be with love forever.

HARRY COLE

The mischief in his smiling, flashing eyes
Transfers itself to humorous response.
This Puck of Madison is Harry Cole.
Most impish stutterer of Growing Pains.

Graduation this year means the loss of some fine basketball talent in this school. Although no champions were crowned, the Wilson Parkers gave an exhibition of truly fine basketball in the 39-40 season. The story of Madison’s perfect passing, speedy footwork, and accurate shooting is not told in the score book. Handicapped from the start by the loss of Thygesen, Pulver, and Lyons from the all-scholastic ranks, the team displayed unexpected power. Though not champions, the Madison Cagers defeated teams considered much stronger. The scintillating efforts of Bird, Vetromile, and Carpenter gave the team the strength required to fulfill its difficult schedule.
CROSS COUNTRY

Madison's Cross Country team completed the 1939 season in grand style. They showed their heels to any and all competitors up to the last contest. A record of a perfect season was marred only by the loss of the final meet.

Every member of the team performed yeoman service, as the scores will show. The purple and gold broke the tape throughout the season.

Jim Murphy, with Dave Barber and Hugh Irwin close behind, gave the other teams in the circuit some keen competition and it will be a long time before our worthy opponents recover from the burning pace set by Madison's 39 cross country team.

GIRLS' SENIOR LIFE SAVING

Swimming is a sport in which the greatest number can participate at one time. All are not perfect swimmers; some are just novices, who need someone to watch them and help them in case they get into difficulty. At the public beaches and at supervised camps Life Guards are stationed to watch these people.

Madison's Life Saving Club is always well attended by girls who want to become Life Guards or who want Life Saving training as a precaution against drowning accidents to themselves or to others.

When these girls succeed in passing their tests, they have not only the honor of being able to save lives, but they also have accepted the responsibility which is embodied in the emblem they wear on their suits. Anyone who has passed the examination in Life Saving has accepted a duty to do to the best of her ability the task of saving the lives of others who are in danger, when called upon to do so.

The requirements of the Red Cross life saving course are the same all over the country so that the Red Cross emblem is recognized nationally as a sign that its owner has all the qualifications needed to acquire the coveted Life Saving certificate and emblem.

The present Life Saving class has received its required instruction in the following manner: on Monday, after school, the girls meet for theory; the rest of the afternoon, until 4:30, is spent in the pool putting the theory into actual practice.

In theory, the students learn what to do in case they are called upon to rescue someone. They practice the various "carries" and "breaks" which they would employ if they were rescuing a drowning person. These drills are called "land drills" and are later practiced in the pool.

Two girls work on each other, alternating as victim and rescuer, until they do everything automatically. It is absolutely essential that all their actions do become automatic, because it stands to reason that a drowning person will not say, "Now, watch out! I'm going to apply a 'double-wrist hold,,'" and then get hold of the wrist with both hands. If a drowning person does manage to get hold of the potential rescuer's wrist, immediate action is necessary to avoid a double drowning. The girls in our Life Saving Club are being trained diligently so that they will not be involved in such a tragedy.

Nida Jeanne Pittard

The Girls' Athletic Council is a standing committee made up of at least one girl from each grade level and the managers of the various clubs, who are chosen by the physical education teachers on the basis of interest in sports. This group plans play days, track meets, the banquet, and other athletic activities.

HONOR BASKETBALL

To become a member of the Girls' Honor Basketball Team is the ambition of every girl entering into basketball. When a girl joins a basketball club she not only learns how to play basketball but develops good sportsmanship, cooperation, initiative, and the ability to make friends. As the season reaches its close, the faculty members of the gym department and the members of the advanced basketball club meet and vote for the nine girls who are to comprise the Girls' Honor Basketball Team.

SCIENCE CLUB

October 1938 marked the founding of the Madison Science Club, which under the guidance of Miss Joan MacMullen and Mr. George Curtice has grown to be one of the city's leading science organizations.

Because of the wide variety of interests, the membership was divided into two branches, biological and chemical. This division brought about groups working in microscopy, plant study, fresh water biology, micro-criminology, hydrophonics, and genetics.

Since its organization, permanent slides of professional quality and workmanship have been made; a variety of protozoa have been studied, isolated, and identified; plants have been grown without soil; an eight inch reflecting telescope has been constructed; and experiments in titration, urine, and blood analysis have been conducted.

As a result of the guidance of the club counsellors and the work accomplished by the members, several students were invited to do special work at the University of Rochester under the direction of Dr. Sandholzer of the Department of Bacteriology, and a number of other students participated in weekly study classes at the University. This year the club has had the opportunity to display its work at the Science Fair which was held at Monroe High School in April.

Although the Science Club is comparatively new among Madison's extra-curricular activities, the progress made in the past two years is an assurance of even greater results in the future.

SENIOR VOICE STUDENTS

STUDENTS WRITE VARIETY OF FEATURE COLUMNS

Spread throughout each issue of the Madison Mirror are the feature columns, written by Madison students. The collection of feature columns, in addition to columns by staff members, is larger and more varied than in former years.

Old favorites and new specialties sparkle in this year's list of columns. The historically famous adviser, Aunt Jenny, was continued by its former authors, Nancy Lawler and Marianne Rohde. For the second year, Anna Di allo and Ano Fieschi gave humorous incidents in Round About Madison. Replacing his brother Bob as joke-maker, Benny Kaplow produced Gloom Cheese, and Mary Scott had over the informative Minerva's for Madisonians. Another news was handled by alumnus Jack Forntoek.

New columns include It's Your School, Mister, by Paul Hector and William Eash. And Ruth Lindsay's ingenious invention, Little Fly on the Wall, Corky Pavone and Rocky Taruntello give the students' opinions in We-The Students-Speak. Orichs and Orions are tossed by Janice Auburn and Jack Dixon. Newest columns are Feature Films and Things You Should Know, by Lorraine Scholback.

Madison Mirror Success

Result of Cooperation

Behind the scenes of each Madison Mirror news story has been a small, but efficient news staff. Each member has cooperated with the editors in their efforts to make each issue a success. Also very important, is the cooperation that the faculty, and student body gave the staff.

Directly assisting the staff are three faculty members: Miss Alice Donnelly, proof reader; Lester Wager, financial manager; and Charlton Bolles, adviser.

The editors-in-chief, Jean Fitzgerald and Alfred Ginkel, who have the responsibility of ensuring the paper's publication, were greatly assisted by veterans Jean Pavone and Shirley Mitchell. This year the editors were fortunate in being able to publish comic cartoons, donated by a western publisher, and three times they gave eight-page issues for the same price.

A newcomer to the staff, Muriel Carpenter proved very adept at writing inspiring editorials and shared this important work with Ray Williamson. Nita Jean Pittard and Ray Braseh always capably handled the sport news. The business staff, under Malcolm Barrett, should be lauded for being dependable.

YOU CAN'T BUY
NEW EYES...

New Eyes just can't be bought. So, we have to take care of the ones we now have. Abuse of eyes is common. The penalties for it are becoming quite well-known. I. E. S. Lamps are a boon to folks who really wish to take the best care of precious eyesight. Every home ought to have one or more of them.
