THE CLASS OF NINETEEN SIXTEEN
OF THE WEST HIGH SCHOOL, IN
EXPRESSION OF THEIR APPRECI-
ATION, OF HIS BROAD INTERESTS,
WISE COUNSEL, AND CONSE-
CRATED ENDEAVOR, DEDICATE
THIS BOOK TO JAMES A. ROURKE.

James A. Rourke

Alma Mater

Sweet be thy memory, High School of ours,
Fair be thy destiny, fadeless thy flowers.
Hearts that have loved thee have won in life's fight,
Names that we honor thy standard holds bright.

Our Alma Mater dear, to thee we sing,
May all thy future years new honors bring,
May friends thy banners raise, thy foes grow less,
All love and praise to our old R. H. S.

West High Alma Mater

Proudly waves old West High's emblem, black and orange fair,
Floats triumphant in the breezes, no dishonor there.
Student days have fondest memories, comrades here we stand,
As our troth to Alma Mater pledge we hand in hand.

From thy halls, dear Alma Mater, we at length must part,
But thy memory shall not perish from one student's heart;
Far away on life's broad highway, all shall fortune try,
Still our loving hearts shall cherish thoughts of thee, West High.

To Mr. Bennett

What so far reaching as a word from him?
 At his command a thousand people sway!
 How many lax at tasks, the price did pay
 By blushing hot, from shame felt deep within,
 When counsel, fatherly, made plain the sin,
 In words so couched one could not say him nay,
 But promise, bright to mend the erring way,
 And be a student firm, to fight and win!
 That West High's honor and that West High's power
 May manifest themselves with growing zest
 He strives unceasingly—His words endure
 Because they point the task of every hour—
 With such a leader West High is secure.

In June

Ah, 'tis June again, 'tis June,
When all that hath voice is in tune,
When silvery brooklets, swelling,
O'er mossy stones come welling,
And birds their sweetest notes do trill,
To tell the whole wide world, a-thrill,
To wake, rejoice and cry "'Tis June!"

But, June, thou bring'st one sorrow
To our hearts, for we part to-morrow
From thee, our own dear mother,
To fill whose place we find no other,
To guide and cheer us on our way
As thou hast done for many a day,
Till now we come to part—in June.

But let us not give way to tears—
We've done our best through four long years
To hold thy shining standards high
And raise thy praises to the sky.
Now, though our ways divergent be,
Sweet memories in our thoughts to thee
Shall turn, our own West High,—in June.

MARGARET WILLIAMSON.

Class History—June, 1916

After four years of ceaseless toil, the great and glorious class of June 1916, about to leave these portals for the freedom of the world, recognizes no class as superior and few as equal.

While we have well taken care of the usual activities of the class such as the Sophomore Party, Junior "Prom," Junior Play and Senior Dance, we have excelled in various undertakings. Among the unusual social events are the Hallo-we'en Social, St. Patrick's Party, Senior Play, "The Piper" and Mr. Bayne's lecture on, "Wild Animals I Have Known and Trained."

Never before in the history of the school has any class endeavored and succeeded in paying a debt of $100, incurred by the former Senior Annual, by one social event. Although the January class aided us in this event the plan originated in the June class. The school was resplendent in orange and black. Anyone who viewed the remains of the Pumpkin family while his friend, the school skeleton, stood nearby in the dark, can never forget this impression.

A most unusual event occurred on St. Patrick's day, when amid decorations of green and white, the June class entertained the January class. Passers-by saw green light reflected on the snow and heard the hum of happy voices; this was not a formal affair but a jolly good time.

The Senior Play, "The Piper," given by the Senior classes, ranks among the great plays given in West High School. In this play unusual talent was shown by Harriett Remington, who took the part of the Piper, and there were many other fine actors.

The girls of the Senior class are very enthusiastic about commencement and wish to make the expenses of that time as light as possible for their parents. With this object in view they invited Mr. Baynes here to give his lecture, and although the time before his coming was very short, the girls were so enthusiastic that they not only paid expenses but gained.

In this illustrious class we have students who help to maintain our glory by ceaseless toil but we do not rank highest or lowest in scholarship. Although our Honor Roll is short, no Virgil term class under any Latin teacher ever held such a conspicuous place as ours. What we accomplished and what happened was a subject of wonder throughout the school.

During our four years we have held many championships, both the boys and girls. The boys have held the class championship in basketball twice and soccer three times. They are well represented by Jack Pope in basketball, Caselman Hess and Charles Mühl in soccer, Griffin Little in baseball, John Shirley in track, Warren Kennell in debating and Wallace Church in chess. In athletics the girls seem to have outstripped the boys for they have won the class championship in basketball and baseball for three years. The following girls have been prominent in W. H. S. activities: Harriett Ziegler, Helen Yerger, Katharine Kernan, Leda Wilson and Ruth Bentley. Twice the class of 1916 has won the greatest number of points in the annual gym meet and now, in our last year, a member of the June 1916 class, a Senior, holds the cup for the first time in the history of the school.

The memory of W. H. S. will always be among our sweetest recollections and we shall watch with interest the struggle of the little children we are leaving to reach the high standard this class has instituted, and we hope their efforts may bring honor and glory to our Alma Mater.

The Council in 1916

The members ask that the student body study with care the treasurer's report, noting that West High Day brought in more than at any previous time within three years, and that our financial condition is good! The council is a grave and reverend body and all classes are urged to choose as members those who possess some judicial characteristics and a "high-minded seriousness."

ARTHUR THOMPSON

January, 1917 and June, 1917

The Class of January, 1917, organized the second term after its entrance, according to custom. Elmer Way was chosen President and re-elected for that office until September, 1915, when Sanford Slocum was chosen.

In our second year a party and sleigh-ride were well supported by the members of the class and their friends. The two crowning events were in the third year when the Junior Prom and Junior Play were given with the help of the June 1917 class. Instead of the usual Junior Farce, Shakespeare's "As You Like It" was presented. This play was chosen in place of a farce because of the celebration of the tercentenary of Shakespeare's death. The play was well attended and much enjoyed.

The Class of June 1917 has joined with the January Class in all its activities this year. They held joint class meetings each time.

Vice-President—Constance Pratt.

Secretary—Muriel Hamilton.

Treasurer—Donald McGhee.

The Class of 1917

The Class of January, 1918

The noteworthy class of January, 1918 has progressed to its Junior year and last term held its first social function, "The Soph Party." It was a huge success, owing to the splendid management of Roswell Marshall, (at that time class president), Alfred Sproat, Arthur Odell and Douglas Donald. In spite of the handicap of not being able to charge any fixed amount the class made it a paying proposition and, with no exception, was anyone displeased in any way.

That the gentler members of the class can study as well as dance is shown in the cases of Ruth Patrick, Hannah Spencer, Ruth Loomis and Doris Logan, while the boys are able to study when it is absolutely necessary which is shown by the report cards of Alfred Sproat, Roswell Marshall, Donald Houghton and Donald McKie.

Curtis Beardsley, the representative of West High School in the Hamilton College Contest, is a member of this illustrious class of January, 1918.

Michael Crino, who took the part of "Charles" in the Junior play, is one of us and furnished a prime attraction of the play.

ALLISON GILLETTE,*
President.

President—Allison Gillette.
Vice-President—Alfred Sproat.
Secretary—Lillian Tegg.
Treasurer—Doris Logan.

June, 1918

The chief event of the year for this class was the Sophomore Party, held on January seventh. It was very successful and marks our first attempt to bring the class together in a social affair.

The Classes of 1918

January, 1919

At a meeting of the class of January, 1919, the following officers were elected:

President—Frederick Webb.
Vice-President—Anabelle Taylor.
Secretary—Walter Taylor.
Treasurer—Kenneth Steeves.

During the ensuing term Theodore Barstow was elected chairman of the Class Pin Committee. The pins were purchased by many members of the class, for the design is most attractive in dull and polished gold.

At a class meeting in February the following representatives were elected for the Executive Council: Walter Taylor, Oliver Page and Marion Craft.

In school activities we are well represented—in track by Harry Wignall, Walter Taylor and Frederick Webb, and in golf by Henry Steinkamp. We are also represented in baseball, tennis, swimming, debating and chess. We have also many of musical talent, being represented in the orchestra by Harry Rosenthal and Charles Broumowski and in the glee clubs by Walter Bennett, Evelyn Thompson, Harry Wignall and Frederick Webb.

In the class are several scholastic wonders whose report card are covered with "A's" and who provoke us by telling us how easy such and such a lesson is.

As a class we are very proud of what we have accomplished during the past year and a half, and we hope to do still better things for West High in the following years of our High School career.

FREDERICK WEBB,
President.

June, 1919

President—Leroy Beers.
Vice-President—Francis Smith.
Secretary—Dorothy Fisher.
Treasurer—Brenda Glass.

During the leap year month of 1916, a goodly number of the class of June, 1919 were gathered together in Room 55, and elected officers. Mr. Kennell was chosen adult advisor before the president had time to hammer the bell twice and adjust himself in his new chair. We owe much to Mr. Kennell and the committee for the way in which they handled the class pin proposition. Howard Brown, chairman, Donald Norton and Madelyn Sullivan procured the money in great shape, receipts were given out in exchange and the class pins handed them later on presentation of same.

We have some bright and promising material in the class, which bodes fair for the support of the various activities in the future years of West High School. Henry Rohrer has been used occasionally as pitcher for the first team in baseball games. He has a left-hand throw, which will develop in speed as the years go by, and a promising battery is expected. Ralph Allen, a track man, who really made the first team but was dropped on account of his 1919 stamp, is a coming winner and much is expected of him. In the track meet at the Armory, Allen breasted the tape and had time to tie his shoe lace before his nearest adversary arrived. That we have a first-class squad of swimmers is proved when we relate the winning of the "Big Four" swimming contest recently.

They came to us a year ago
Foolish, as is the rule,
But now they save their pennies well,
To help support the school.

Glee Clubs

Would you like to hear something about the work of our Glee Clubs during this past year, in which so many students have taken part, and yet of which a great number know far too little?

Once upon a time, last Fall, the Glee Clubs began to practice and this they did faithfully for several months. Then the time came for their first concert and wild were the flutterings in many hearts, as the performers mounted the stage for the first time. We say 'first' because the clubs are composed mostly of new members this year. However, when they were assured later that the concert had been well rendered and greatly enjoyed by the audience, Miss Hogan and her warriors took courage and went through the concert season with flying colors.

But long before the season was over, the idea of the Home Concert began to grow and take form in the minds of those who were interested in music, and out of this idea was developed a concert program which may indeed be classed among the finest that the West High Glee Clubs have ever offered, consisting mainly of Shakespeare music, together with other music of the Sixteenth Century. "Down in a Flow'ry Vale," one of the latter type, was composed in 1514 and is used as an illustration of the Madrigal.

We should find it difficult to discuss the separate numbers. As a whole they are most interesting, in that they give us an excellent idea of the music of an earlier age, and, moreover, each is so different from the others that the program is full of various styles of composition which it is a privilege as well as a pleasure for us to observe. Surely the Home Concert of June, 1916 is one to be long remembered.

Girls' Glee Club

The Orchestra

Although the orchestra has been smaller in size during this past season, than it has been during some other years, the quality has not been lessened.

Throughout the year we have had our regular rehearsals on Mondays, and this practice proved its worth when the annual Home Concert of the orchestra was held. No admission was charged and the following program was listened to by the unusually large and appreciative audience:

PROGRAM

- 1 Overture, Merry Wives of Windsor.....O. Nicolai
In Celebration of Shaksperian Tercentenary
- 2 First Symphony.....L. V. Beethoven
(a) Andante Cantabile con moto
(b) Menuetto
- 3 Tenor Solo
"Under the Greenwood Tree".....Arne
Mr. Charles Hedley
- 4 Selection, "The Blue Paradise".....Eysler and Romberg
- 5 Violin Solo, "Slavonic Dance".....Dvorak-Kreisler
Mr. George Kroha
- 6 A Day in Venice.....E. Nevin
(a) Venetian Love Song
(b) Gondoliers
(c) Good Night
- 7 Selection, "What Shall He Have That Killed the Deer".....Bishop
Boys' Octette
- 8 March, New York Hippodrome.....Sousa

Both of the soloists proved to be very popular, as was the Boys' Octette. Mr. Hedley sang Cadmon's "I Hear a Thrush at Eve" as an encore. In response to the generous applause given him, Mr. Kroha played the "Melody in D" by Busch.

The orchestra has played several times in the school assemblies and has also given pleasing concerts at various public schools.

An evening of music and fun was spent by the orchestra at the home of the orchestra manager, Eugene Curtis.

The members of the orchestra are:

CONDUCTOR.....MR. L. SCHENCK
CONCERT MEISTER.....GEORGE KROHA
MANAGER.....EUGENE CURTIS

PIANO—Grace Howell, Harry Sullivan.

VIOLINS—George Kroha, Mortimer Adams, Charles Brommowski, Katherine Sullivan, Grace Horner, James Waring.

SECOND VIOLINS—Paul Lyddon, Herbert Hausen, Harold Palmer, Edwin Miller, Neal Clement, Ray Campbell, Homer Crusier.

CLARINETS—Madeline Walsh, Eugene Curtis.

CORNETS—Frances Pettrick, Herbert Messinger, Marshall Fox, Arthur Fox.

TROMBONE—Charles Vincent.

DRUMS—Dominic Roncone.

A more capable man for the position which Mr. Schenck holds could not be found. The orchestra fully appreciates its privilege in having him, and realizes how well he has done the work of rehearsing and training them.

Plans are now afoot for enlarging and further improving the orchestra next year. Any person playing a musical instrument, which is suitable for an orchestra is invited to join.

Debate

COACH—JAMES M. SPINNING.

On Thursday, February 3rd, 1916, thirty-four boys, who had recently passed the preliminary debate try-outs, were anxiously awaiting the judge's decision. This had been a new experience to most of them, as only a very few had had any previous experience in the art of debate. However, after what seemed to them an age, Mr. Spinning posted the following list:

Lafayette Team—Thurlow Southwick, Horace Thomas, Edmund Flack, Robert Lohges.

East High Team—Paul MacGhee, Harvey Hunt, Warren Kennell, Dewitt Reed.

I am sure, however, that you want to know something more about them than merely their names. The first is our friend,

THURLOW SOUTHWICK,

familiarly called "Southend." His presence and rooting made W. H. S. shine in the snappy encounter with Lafayette. Allow me to introduce you to

HORACE THOMAS.

Horace is interested not only in debate, but also in the general welfare of the school. We were fortunate to have this man representing us because we know that it is always the persons who have the most to do, who do their work most efficiently. Yes, here comes

EDMUND FLACK.

My goodness! You needn't look like that. He is not nearly so solemn as his face would indicate. He is, on the contrary, just the opposite. Edmund certainly worked hard on his debate, and we feel as though he would be hard to do without. The last member of this team is

ROBERT LOHGES.

He went at his work with a will and unparalleled enthusiasm.

Honorable Judges, allow me to introduce

PAUL MACGHEE,

whom we all know as "Strange Woman." Paul is well versed in the art of convincing judges, as may be readily seen from his constant grin.

We must not forget

HARVEY HUNT.

This man is in every branch of school activity and one who succeeds in everything he undertakes. For this reason this team was favored with one of the school's main stand-bys.

WARREN KENNEL

needs no introduction to either the faculty or the students of the West High School. We might say that he is near the last of the long line of Kennells. Great things have been expected from this man as he had previous experience in debating.

Our friend,

DEWITT REED,

is known not only by his success in debate, but also by his work in the class room, and that is what really counts, you know. As this is only his Junior year, we look forward to his help in our next year's debates.

The Debating Team

The Occident

The Occident has just completed a very successful season. The school, students and faculty have supported the paper to even a greater extent than in former years. Several artists have been developed and their work has lent an air of distinction to the covers of the Occident. The writers have contributed liberally and their work has shown talent throughout. The advertising end of the paper has been nobly upheld by the manager. New advertisements have been secured and advertisements have been on time. Verily, the advertising managers have done surprising well. The business staff has inaugurated many new features, chief among which is a new method of selling the Occidents. So with the knowledge of work well done, the Staff turns from a successful season to an even more bright future.

The Press Club

While this association differs from others in that its foundation is apparently a business one, yet its opportunity to serve the school goes far beyond that of most school organizations. In their hands they hold our name and upon their justice and loyalty and skill depend our rating in the city. On every member of the club rests a real and heavy responsibility, and to all who wisely and conscientiously bear this the school gladly pays the heartiest tribute.

Senior Class Prophecy

"What searching eye shall pierce the mists
That veil its onward course
And read the future destiny of man"?

During my Easter vacation, I took a boat trip to New Orleans, that gay and festive city. While there I visited a famous Amusement Hall, where my attention was attracted to a large crowd of people, gathered around what I afterward learned was a huge revolving wheel called by some "The Wheel of Destiny" and by others "The Wheel of Fortune."

When there was a lull I stepped up to the proprietor to learn more about the workings of this device. When he had told me many of the details concerning it, I informed him that I was Class Prophet of the Class of June 1916, W. H. S., Rochester, N. Y., and asked him if he could help me read the futures of my classmates with his wonderful wheel. He proved to be most gracious and upon learning the number in the class and the condition of my pocketbook, he offered to read the futures of all for the insignificant sum of $50, providing I would guarantee him one-half the net proceeds of all the functions of the Freshman class. I readily agreed, for I knew that the class of 1920 would not want to stand in the way of this "Great Opportunity." The terms having been agreed upon, I was told to report at 7:30 the following morning. I did, and from the revolutions of the wheel I obtained the following revelations:

"1925."

George Acker has taken Clara Argus for his "lawfully wedded wife," and they are now living in a state of matrimonial bliss. Dominic Roncone performed the ceremony and lives in luxury from the fees obtained in this way.

Beatrice Bryant is in the "West Webster Jail for Militants." She was caught "red-handed" in the act of putting a tack on the chair of Ethelyn Neer, the famous "Anti." Beatrice's warden is the handsome, charming, and graceful Mr. Seth Widener—so popular in W. H. S. Seth had obtained this elevated position by apprenticing for five years in a padded cell, so that he might know all the necessary requirements.

The next members of the class of whom I was to learn were Marion Barbour and Emily Gleason. They were wrestling for the "Heavyweight Championship." The timekeeper was Warren Kennell, who looked as dapper as usual in a pair of overalls.

Stuart Hyland has departed for Scotland where he expects to teach the natives the delightful game of "Leap Frog." Claude Stumpf, whose grace and poise we can never forget, is Stuart's assistant and right hand man.

Harvey Putnam, that enterprising young man, astonished all his friends and admirers by eloping with a damsel whose hair had a reddish tinge, but this event, though astounding in reality, has been expected no less than ten years.

Clara Louise Beasley is the singing mistress in Tuskegee Institute, and is the inspiration of many opera singers.

Henry Zickgraf is a successful business man in Chicago, and is said to have financed many great schemes of Roy Duncan, the great mining engineer of the West, who has lately taken into partnership Jasper Wilsea, who in despair gave up the stage because he could only bring a laugh from the house when endeavoring to play "Romeo."

Gerald Mathews is the famous connoisseur of choice French perfumes; it is said that he was arrested at Whittle's, after devouring six chocolate sodas, for being a menace to Public Safety. However, Franklin Enos, the Evangelist, has turned "Hoch" aside from his wicked ways and has said concerning him, "That while there was life there was hope."

Grace Elwell, Dorothy Fuller and Marion Nagle have joined "Buffalo Bill" in his "Last Tour." Grace is the best tight rope walker in the country, while Dorothy and Marion do an acrobatic stunt which is truly marvelous.

Wallace Peshine Church, the famous chess player, succeeded in getting a game with the world-champion, only to lose by default, because a vaudeville show proved so alluring that he didn't go.

Alice Tuxill and Gladys Thompson have a fashionable hair-dressing establishment and have designed a heretofore unheard of thing, a stylish coiffure for bald-headed men.

Dorothy, assistant "gym" teacher at West High, finds it difficult to keep the girls out of the locker-room, for you know, "We must powder our noses."

Willis Gillette, the Safety Razor Magnate, has sold out his business and is seen walking up and down Main Street in "neat but nifty attire." However, when he turns on his back we perceive a placard which reads: "Get Your Clothes at Mahoney's and Look Abreast of the Times"!!!

Mildred Gay is known as the Grey-eyed Sister. She spends her time doing deeds of charity and has won her way into the hearts of rich and poor alike.

Charles Mühl and Arthur Lannin have started a matrimonial agency which has, although still in its infancy, accomplished great results. Through this bureau Mary Courtney met John Shirley—and now "they are two minds with but a single thought." (?)

At the head of a large and prosperous Undertaking Establishment are Arthur Munson and Harry Whitmore. Arthur has been under the care of Dr. Andrew O'Keef and his charming nurse, Vera Smith—and I believe that Vera is the attraction for Arthur certainly looks as "hale and hearty" as ever.

We next come to the "Marvelous Mildreds." In front of their establishment on East Avenue hangs a beautiful symbol of financial aid, Three Golden Balls. The members of the firm are: Mildred Chamberlain, Mildred Scholls, Mildred Long and Mildred Clark. We trust that they are doing a good business.

Baird Robinson, the leading chemist of his day, has consented to leave the cares of his large business and join a Traveling Vaudeville Troupe in the company of Wendell-Tompkins and Griffin Little. The public is always greatly attracted when they are billed as "The Flying Mermaids." We expect them in Rochester at the Victoria during the week of November 25, 1925.

Loretta Swift is the chief cook in "Swift's Potted Ham" works. She will not intrust her secret processes to another and so makes all the "Potted Ham" put up by the company.

Jack Pope, although he has completed his course in college, has not been forgotten by those attending his Alma Mater—for he is Pope the football star, whose trophies are so numerous that he has to keep Seward Olmsted and Harold Ets of the detective force as special guards of his treasures.

Edith Keyes, Alma Haessig and Marion Martin are intensely interested in a Fresh Air School for boys between the ages of seventeen (17) and twenty-eight (28). The only requirements other than that of age is that they must be "good looking." Willard Pnnnett, John Ferner and Frederick Fox are as yet the only eligible applicants, although many at the sight of these fair damsels, immediately feel a strog and urgent need of out-of-door schooling.

Jessie McIntyre is starring in a melo-drama entitled "The Diabolical Grin." Her co-stars are Lola Stanton and Margaret Williamson, and the leading male role is taken by William Cushman, a "foot-light favorite."

Arthur Thompson is "tester" in a large "Hammock Factory." His chief duty is to test the hammocks by reclining in them.

A Charity Bazaar is to be given and the chief attraction offered is an exquisitely executed "anaesthetic" dance by Maxine Dillingham. The booths will be very artistically arranged under the espionage of Doris Fuller and Ruth Bentley, the leading decorators in Rochester.

Ellwood Snider and Harold Johnson are prominent lawyers. Their clientele is chiefly made up of charming young ladies, who in many cases are suing for "breach of promise," one of whom is Lois Wilson, otherwise known as "Lois, the Heart-breaker."

Gertrude Sutherland has taken Beatrice Fairfax's place on the New York Evening Journal. She makes a great success in this line of work. Her advice to the "lovelorn" is worth heeding.

Raymond Ackerman is the persistent suitor of Katherine Kies, but her interests are so numerous that as yet she has not been able to decide which "interest" she prefers.

Katherine Kerwan is an understudy of Pavlowa and at any moment she expects to step into fame for she is extremely clever in the art of dancing.

Lillian Bemish and Ruth Bader have founded a "Pink Powder Factory" and are doing a flourishing business inasmuch as they guarantee their ammunition not to blow off.

In the same town there is a large "Sour Pickle Factory." At the head of it are Francis Pethick and Hedley Wilcox, while Robert Morrison, their widely-traveled agent, is endeavoring to get a monopoly on the largest sour pickle grown.

Margaret Crowley, the charming young school teacher, now wears a diamond ring, but she has not yet announced her engagement formally. We dare not divulge the lucky man's name. It is sufficient to say that he is almost worthy of Margaret.

Of the "Reform School-on-the-Ontario" Victor Congdon is principal. He has turned many wayward boys into great men through his ability to bang out the best in even the "Most Depraved." Erle Remington, the "Great Architect," is a sample of what Victor can do in this line! !

In the ——— hangs a picture of Hulda Mathews, leader of the "first set" in New York. This beautifully executed portrait was painted by Casselman Hess, who is considered the best "comic artist" in the world.

Gladys Miller has taken to high and fancy diving. She will stop in Rochester on her way to the North Pole from which she expects to dive—into space.

Our old friend, Hazel Jeffe is a scientific farmer, whose chief delight is in riding on a "Palm Beach Plow," recently invented by Ina Lilleystone and Viola Duncan for lady-farmers. It is a great success.

I turned to my friend, the proprietor, and thanked him for being such a "help in time of trouble."

"But," said he, "have you not forgotten two members of your class?"

In a flash it came to me I had not asked about Neva and George. I laughed aloud and said: "Oh, yes! but we do not think of them as two. I did not ask you for I am sure that they can be in naught but a state of "wedded bliss."

He gave the wheel a vigorous spin. When it had stopped he turned to me smilingly and said, "And now we will see what your future is." Before I could stop him he had started the wheel. When it at last came to a halt I gazed at the future which it revealed to me. "Merciful Heavens, me for the river if that wheel told the truth!"

HARRIET REMINGTON.

The Cruel Schoolmaster

An indignant mother wrote this to Mr. Bennett:

Dear Sir:—

My son tells me that he has to study too hard. He says he has to translate fifty hexameters of Latin a day. I looked "hexameter" up in the dictionary and find it is a poetic verse of six feet. Now that makes three hundred feet or one hundred yards of poetry for my poor son to translate each day. I think about half a hexameter, or six inches, of this Latin is enough for a boy of his age.

Yours truly,

MRS. Q. T. SNYDER.

SHAKESPEARE

The Year's Dramatics

It is an unalloyed pleasure to review the accomplishments of the school in 1916 on our little stage. The character of the plays given has been far, far above what the average high school attempts and while we have not equalled Edith Wynne Matthewson and Julia Marlowe our actors have taken difficult rôles with surprising understanding and spirit.

Though "The Piper" is not a Shakesperian play it has at least a Stratford flavor for it was first presented there as the prize winning drama in the jubilee of 19—. It is unique in its way for while it has the charm and fairy-fascination of the folk story its meaning is deep and beautiful—love is power, and conquers avarice, spite and indifference alike. The Piper himself is so whimsical, so complex, so fantastic a character it was hardly to be expected that a student could comprehend it, yet Hariette Remington was able to do that and more. She put into her part a fine abandon and unconsciousness which drew her audience as the magic of the pipe drew the children. Miss Cowles as 'Veronica,' the mother, showed talent and the music of her voice, with its haunting pathos, will be long remembered. The play was crowded with other excellent performers—Miss Hulda Matthews as "Barbara," Mr. Jaspar Willsea as "Michael," Mr. Charles Martin as "Cheat-the-Devil,"—upon whom the credit of the play rests equally. In all, there were nearly forty in the cast, including a most delightful group of children. The staging was complex and varied but most excellently well done, especially the street scene in Hamelin town. One bit of stage property captivated the fancy especially—the ark. Another element in the success was the large financial return—over one hundred dollars. A helping factor was the elimination of nearly all complimentary tickets.

The Piper of Hamelin Town

Senior Play Cast

No recognition of Mrs. Ellis' training in this play can be too high.

Again in "As You Like It," her success was pronounced. Those who know and care for Shakespeare, alone can realize what a good performance of one of his plays means to cast and director. The management was unusual and greatly facilitated the smooth production which a large audience highly commended.

Collectively the cast was excellent and individually Rosalind excelled. All four loving couples in fact were notable, while the Curtises as Touchstone and Audrey took the popular fancy especially. The Mistress of the Robes, Miss Mary Fillmore, surely was highly successful, and there is hope that from a beginning now made, a wardrobe belonging to the Students' Association may be developed, a great help and saving to future actors. Various theatres loaned scenery most generously.

Neither play could not have been the success it was had it not been for the remarkably efficient assistance of Mr. LeBounty and Miss Murray, who are both gifted in this way. Gratitude is also due to Miss Tripp for generous help.

The Shakesperian music in "As You Like It" was delightful to the audience, and to Miss Hogan the credit is due.

Mr. Stowell: "I am surprised at you, Murphy, that you cannot tell me when Christopher Columbus discovered America. What does the chapter heading of the week's lesson read?"

Murphy: "Columbus—1492."

Mr. Stowell: "Well, isn't that plain enough? Did you never see it before?"

Murphy: "Yes, sir, but I always thought it was his telephone number."

Mr. Stowell's class had been having a lesson in English history and King Charles had been the subject. Wishing to see how much the children were taking in the instructor put the following question:

"Can anyone tell me who was the monarch who had long, black, curly hair?"

No response.

"Come, come, children. His name begins with a C."

Then up went one little hand. "I know, sir. It's Charlie Chaplin."

Ten Standard Excuses

- 1—I studied the wrong lesson.
- 2—I didn't have time to copy it.
- 3—I worked all my problems and left them at home.
- 4—I wrote my theme, had it in my book and then loaned the book to Mary and she didn't give it back to me.
- 5—I got 'em,—all but the last seven.
- 6—I wrote it out and lost it.
- 7—I was studying my lesson in the car, and my theme was in the seat and it blew out of the window.
- 8—I locked it in my locker and couldn't open it.
- 9—Some one "hooked" my book.
- 10—I forgot my book.

ATHLETICS

Five years old! In that time, soccer has advanced from a minor to a major sport. In that time West High has held three championships, lost one, and tied one.

Speaking in general terms of the past season there is nothing to regret. Although all games were not won, that does not detract from success in the final estimation, for an athletic contest is, in a larger sense, more than just beating the other fellow.

Athletic relations between West High and Geneseo Normal were established. This being their first year of soccer, they were defeated twice. Our friends at Lima were tied on their home grounds and defeated on our field. With East High two games were lost and two won, when bad weather and other circumstances put a stop to the series.

Financially, there was a deficit. This was due to the fact that a large part of the equipment had to be renewed.

So, considering it pro and con, the season for 1915 can be considered successful. The school has every reason to be proud of the men who represented it. Throughout the season they showed the qualities which go to the making of true sportsmanship and aggressiveness of the right sort in fighting for their Alma Mater.

Soccer Team

The 1915-1916 season of basketball was indeed a success. We had a very evenly balanced team and it co-operated perfectly in games. We were very strong in the defense this year with Captain Yawger and Jack Pope at the guard positions, and with Irving Brooks and John Shirley at the forward position the offense made a good showing. With Harold Bartlett at the center position we always got the tip-off and thus started many a play which ended with a goal. With Erle Remington as utility man the team was complete.

The season was more successful than any season in years both in winning games and financially. A great deal of credit for the success of the team this year is due Coach Gray, who encouraged us to fight harder when we lost and praised us for our good work when we won. We want a good bunch out next year when the call for candidates comes.

Tennis

The activity of tennis is gradually growing from a minor to a major sport in West High School. Large tournaments and successful teams have put the game high in the minds of the student body. West High's last year's team came through the season without a lost match, winning the Interscholastic Championship of the city. With the loss of three members of last year's team West High will have a hard row to hoe if they keep up the good work.

Manager McNamee has arranged the most pretentious schedule that a West High tennis team has ever tackled. The usual games with East High will be played. Lafayette and Nichols High of Buffalo will be played for the first time in five years. The big tennis event of the season will be the Park Club Tournament held in Buffalo, which determines the Interscholastic Championship of Central and Western New York. We wish West High success in this tournament.

The team is composed of Donald McKee, Harold McNamee, Henry Dutcher and Harvey Hunt, captain.

MANAGER—HAROLD R. MCNAMEE,

Hockey

The Hockey Team of 1915-1916 was as good a team as the school has ever produced. They went through the entire season without a manager, but although they practiced hard and developed well, the weather called a halt nearly every time a game was to be played. Games were scheduled with Lafayette, Nichols and Hutchinson Central Schools of Buffalo, and the teams of East High, but only the East High games were played.

The team played East High two games, losing the first by the score 2-1, and the second score, 2-0. The games were the best put up by a West High team in many years, being both fast and exciting, considering the fact that East High defeated all the Buffalo teams.

The members of the team were:

George Kingdon	Goal
Walter Metcalf	Point
Paul Lyddon	Cover Point
Arthur Thompson	Right Wing
John Stevens	Center
Ralph Wilbur	Left Wing
Leo Simmons	Rover

The team this year is very promising as it has men who can deliver the goods. We have a few new men such as Milligan and Allan who have shown their ability to good advantage. With these men and a few veterans such as Shirely and Hale there is no reason why the season will not end up with flying colors for West High.

Chess

This year chess started out with a great boom as more students had learned to play and were playing the game than has been the case in past years. The credit for this we give mainly to Mr. A. J. Wile, who exerted himself exceedingly in the interests of the world-wide game. But unfortunately for us, Mr. Wile left our school to be secretary of the J. Y. M. A., and thereby virtually left us without any faculty member interested in chess, and of course this was a great blow to the activity.

Our tournament with East High this year has come to a deadlock, as East High differed from us on a technicality, and Mr. Nelson Spencer, of the Rochester Chess Club, who has heretofore been our referee, was unable to continue as such any farther. And as we could not agree on a new referee, or on the technicality in question, we were forced to a deadlock.

We have attempted to secure games with Buffalo, but have failed owing to the fact that the Buffalo teams are as yet unorganized.

Of course we still hold the large Scrantom-Wetmore Junior Chess League Cup, which we won from East High and the J. Y. M. A. last year. We have just received a challenge from East High for this cup, but we are confident of winning it again this year.

Girls' Gymnasium—1915-1916

"Here's to Miss Manchester,
Our coach and our friend."

This year has been very good as far as activities in the south wing of our building go. Gym classes were well organized as September neared its close and soon after the sound of basketballs could be heard if one chanced by about two-thirty in the afternoon.

Exciting times followed the fall practice for the basketball finals. The Senior girls wore hopeful countenances for a while but soon they realized that with June 1918 they would "meet their Waterloo." The final game was played between June 1918 and January 1919 with June '18 victorious. Hardly was this excitement over when volunteers for the Gym meet were called for. Wonders will never cease. A freshman class walked off with victory! A five-cent admission was charged and the gymnasium was well filled. The audience had their money's worth almost immediately for the freshmen aren't slow and when Ruth Bentley of 1916 added her contributions, their pleasure was complete.

An important factor of this year's work was the formation of four Girls' Clubs, the Senior and Junior, the Sophomore and Freshman Final, and the Freshman Term. Regulation business meetings were held each week and after business came play. Picnics have been planned and successfully carried out. The girls thoroughly enjoy this new attraction and, while a new thing, it has worked remarkably well.

The Gym work closes this year with a bright outlook for the future, and although June 1916 will be missed, the younger classes bid fair to be their equal.

1916 Class Activities in the Gym since 1912

The Senior girls have been very active in athletics since their Freshman year. This has been so marked that it has been deemed wise to give record of their accomplishments.

The seasons of 1913 and 1914 in basketball saw them the victorious champions. The games were full of snap and good team work. When Katherine Kernan or Harriet Ziegler captured the ball there was sure to be a point gained. There is no doubt as to the important place "Midget" Bentley played, as side center and, with the many good guards which 1916 sent out, results are hardly to be wondered at.

In the spring of 1915, the gymnasium rang with applause as the girls of the class put forth their best efforts in the meet and came out winners. The representation of Seniors for 1916 dwindled down to one, but still the honors of the class did not fade, for the silver cup was awarded to the lone 1916 star, Ruth Bentley, who gained the highest number of individual points.

The boys had their baseball teams and the girls, too, had not entirely lost themselves in their books for nothing daunted them. Baseball demanded their attention and in 1913 and 1915, a team, representative of the class, won the laurels of victory.

To the final activity of each year we turn—tennis. Here we find but two of our class, Katherine Kernan and Ruth Bentley. However, for the last three years, they have kept the class well above water and many interesting sets have been played off.

Following are the names of those winning monograms and numerals during the past four years:

MONOGRAMS—R. Bentley, K. Kernan, H. Ziegler.

NUMERALS—M. Barbour, R. Bentley, G. Elwell, K. Kernan, D. Marks, J. McIntyre, G. Miller, L. Stanton, L. Swift, H. Ziegler.

Who's Who in the Freshman Class

Wilma Klein	"Billy" is so cute!
Gertrude Bailey	Don't make so much noise.
Marjory Bryan	She ought to be a clip at Latin.
Helen Baladergroene	"Dutch."
Beatrice Ballinger	"Beatrice Fairfax."
Doris Smith	"An' she had a house on a hill an' ten cats."
Hazel Frazier	"Curly."
Gladys Graves	And she could argue, too.
John Matthews	He's like "Mary's little lamb."
Lucius Smith	"Mamma's little darlin'."
William Charles	"Sleepy Sid."
Edward Jones	"Little children should be seen and not heard."
Rufus Fullreader	Take your time, Rufus.
Malcom Keith	We have great hopes for Malcom's voice.
Wendell Haines	Six feet even in his stocking feet.
Earl Merce	"Sister Susy sewing shirts for soldiers."
Ruth Barbour	Vera's steady.
Thelma Beebe	Her curls do require so much care!
Marion Reed	"Where is my purse?"
Della Caffery	Oh, ye silks and satins!
Florence Walz	An "Olga Petrova."

"A Poor Frosh"

I stood before Prof. Bennett
And explained to him the cause
Of all my earthly troubles
Using many hems and haws.

Said I to Mr. Bennett
"Now in math I'd never flunk
But in my German classes
I certainly am punk."

Then Mr. Bennett said to me,
When I my time had spent
"My boy if you drop German
You surely will repent."

So I have stuck to German
But Deutsch hasn't stuck to me
Now here it is the month of June
And I'm going to get a "C".

Miss Manchester: "Why is grippe so prevalent this year?"

H. Plass: "The girls get it wearing furs."

Miss Manchester: "How do the boys get it?"

H. Plass: "From the girls."

There once was a student at our school
At our school he did dwell,
He loved his lessons truly,
But a maiden twice as well.

His teachers warned him once or twice,
And added he'd best beware;
But his thoughts were not upon his books
But upon the maiden fair.

At last the finals came around;
They filled him with dismay;
And when the maiden heard he'd flunked
She ditched him right away.

Freshman's Wonder Book

I wonder if we shall ever be as bright as the Sophomores?
I wonder how often the elevators run?
I wonder why they don't sell suckers at the lunch-counter?
I wonder if the Sophomores are as small as they look?
I wonder if the first no-school day was made on purpose to rest the Freshmen?
I wonder why the Seniors are so much better looking than the other classes?
I wonder if the lessons are always as long as they are the first week?

Scene: A whispering boy in a German class.

Miss Zw --: You know an empty barrel makes the most noise.

George Kin --: Oh, I just had my dinner.

Miss H.: "Why does Dominic Roncone close his eyes when he sings?"

C. Hedley: "He hates to see anyone suffer." (How thoughtful of him).

Beatrice B.: "How can I prevent chappy cheeks?"

Gertrude S.: "Stay away from cheeky chaps."

Arthur Munson in Latin class: "Hercules set sail in a new vessel—"

Mr. Holmes: "Barque."

'Bow-wow-wow," replied Arthur.

The Freshman stood on the burning deck,
But as far as I could learn
He stood with perfect safety,
For he was too green to burn.
Some Freshmen think they are so wise
But Seniors think them otherwise.

Student: "I'm doing my best to get ahead."

Teacher: "Goodness knows, you need one."

A ship without a rudder,
An oyster without a pearl,
But the funniest thing I've seen,
Is George without a girl.

Little Brother—Oh Pop, I peeped thru the keyhole last night, when sis had her beau.

Pop—What did you find out?

Little Brother—The light, sir.

"What is your name?"

"Jule, sir."

"You should say Julius, my boy."

"Now, what is your name," turning to the next boy.

"Billious," answered the trembling youth.

Mr. Holmes: "What is the most nervous thing beside a girl?"

V. Congdon: "Me beside a girl."

Lost, Strayed or Stolen

FOR SALE—Baby carriage, slightly used. Going out of business.

WANTED—A furnished room for a gentleman looking both ways and well ventilated.

WANTED—A young high school student to take care of mules of Christian disposition.

LOST—A dog by a man with a pug nose and trimmed ears.

Oh, woman, she was made to please
And bag men's trousers at the knees,
But man, poor man, was made, alack,
To button woman up the back.

Wise Church: "What kind of lights did Noah use?"

Wiser Mühl: "Arc-lights."

Mr. Boutwell to Freshman: "You're not fit for decent company. Come up here with me."

Mr. Carpenter: "Miss Clark, how many sides does a cube have?"

Miss Clark: "Two, inside and outside."

Franklin Enos (11:55): "I think it's time for me to go."

Bessie: "Yes, never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day."
